We would like to speak with the minister about the state of affairs in the Boundary Grand Forks region. on Monday .. what next steps the government will look at taking to assess what has happened and what the government may be doing for next steps for those folks.

This is of course a flood that clearly has reach a historic context and we would very much like to speak to the minister who heads public safety.

Day of the Honey Bee 11:00 am - 1:00pm -- Front Lawn of the Leg

Tuesday, May 29th – Day of the Honey Bee – Promo toolkit

On Tuesday May 29, the Ministry of Agriculture will officially proclaim the Day of the Honey Bee on the front lawn of the B.C. Legislature. Honey bees and other native pollinators play an important role in B.C. agriculture, pollinating many of our field and greenhouse crops. Their work is vital to our quality of life as British Columbians, so let's celebrate them and raise awareness about helping honey bees and other pollinators thrive.

Here are some ideas to get the conversation started on your social channels this weekend:

Tuesday

- Visit a local apiary in your community, take a selfie and share it on your social channels with #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee
- Find a bee-related product at your community farmers' market, such as local honey, or beeswax candles, take a picture and share it on your social channels with #BuyBC #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee
- Snap a photo of a hard-working bee pollinating a flower this weekend (it's not hard to find them; they're everywhere this time of year!). Tag where it was taken (ie: a local park or gardens) and share through your social channels with #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee

You can share these photos leading up to #DayoftheHoneyBee, or save them and engage in the digital conversation on May 29.

Facts:

- Bees play a major role in agriculture as pollinators of crops, contributing an estimated $550M to the economy in British Columbia, and over $2B in Canada.
- Honeybees are involved in the production of over $250M worth of fruit and field crops, while bumblebees are used in the greenhouse industry representing a value of near $300M per year.
- The B.C. government's apiculture program has provided free support services to B.C.'s beekeepers for over 50 years, including apiary inspections, advice and materials, and laboratory services for the diagnosis of bee diseases.
- B.C. has one of Canada's foremost apiary specialists on staff and assigned bee inspectors in 6 regions that provide free support services to BC's beekeepers.
- Recently, two new bee inspectors have been appointed to the northwest region of the province. Based on the distribution of beekeepers in that area, one is assigned to the McBride-Prince George-Vanderhoof region, and the other to the Telkwa-Smithers-Terrace region.
- The B.C. government's response to bee health issues has not changed. If there are any indications of a disease outbreak – anywhere on the Island or in B.C. – services are offered to the beekeeper.
- The B.C. government supports the Commercial Beekeeping Program at Kwantlen Polytechnic University <http://www.kpu.ca/cps/commercial-beekeeping>
- Information about all facets of beekeeping management is at <http://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/industry/agriculture-seafood/animals-and-crops/animal-production/bees/beekeeping-bulletins>
