This year we are pleased to present three awards - two posthumous and one adult. The honourees are Murray Boal, Shirley Cotter and Betsy Van Halderen. Please join us in celebrating these outstanding members of our community.

Register for Canada Day Parade
Thank you all for joining us for the North Shore Canada Day parade yesterday.
From all accounts it was a big success – with a few glitches that we will try to fix for next year.
Police usually estimate we get around 25,000 spectators lining the streets and the feeling is we topped 30,000 this year. Not bad exposure for the business entries!
It's a fun day for participants, volunteers and spectators and we hope to see many of you next year (we'll work on lowering the temperature a few degrees).
Some photos will be posted to the web site in a few days – taking a day or three off.
Remember to watch the site for next year's registration opening, usually mid-February.
Many thanks,

Peter, Ron and Marcel,

Subject: URGENT - Minister Oakes Video Message

Hi Shantel,

Thanks for the chat. Just wanted to confirm logistics for Minister Oakes' video Monday.

I understand that Justin Schneider will be arriving at the s.15 s.15 for the video shoot at 9:30am Monday, February 15. He's likely going to arrive a little early to set things up, Derek and Yarko (copied) can assist him with that on site. We will require a teleprompter for the 90 second video script we're drafting for Minister Oakes (we'll send that to you early tomorrow).

We'll need the video edited ASAP once the shoot is complete, so that we can load to YouTube and include the URL in the news release, which is scheduled for distribution at 1:15pm that day.

Thank you for being so flexible with this last minute request!

Site C Job Fair Coming to Quesnel on February 23

QUESNEL – BC Hydro and its contractors are hosting a job fair in Quesnel on February 23rd for workers interested in the Site C project. Construction on the Site C project is ramping up and workers at all skill levels are required.

"The Site C project will provide economic benefits for the whole province," said Hon. Coralee Oakes, MLA, Cariboo North. "These job fairs provide a great opportunity to connect people looking for work with the companies awarded contracts to build the project." [Not Approved]

"The main civil works contractor is preparing to mobilize and some of the positions they are hiring for include machine operators, labourers, mechanics and concrete workers," said Diane McSherry, Vice-President and Project Director, Site C. "Approximately 1,500 people will be working on the Site C dam at peak construction, and 600 workers are needed by this spring." [Not Approved]

BC Hydro's contractors will be available to answer questions regarding the types of jobs available, their hiring process and any additional questions job seekers may have. Representatives from employment and skills training organizations will also attend.

If you are interested in working on the Site C project, please attend the upcoming job fair in Quesnel and bring copies of your resume. Advance registration is not required.
