Strategic Planning + A Surprise -- Security Concern

What better way to end the work week and head into the May long weekend than gathering together to discuss Strategic Planning!

As part of Goal 4: Strategic Coordination we have identified an initiative to improve corporate contract management. I have been asked to develop a shared list of outlook contacts which each of us can access via our mobile devices. As many of you may know, developing and managing a centralized contact list is perilous and fraught with danger, or at the very least challenging to get people to accept and actually participate in.

I would like to have a group discussion to gather people's views on what sort of centralized contact list options they would find useful so that we can build something that adds value to our work without creating additional burdensome processes. As an incentive to attend the meeting (for those of you who are available), there will be a surprise to start your long weekend off on the right path.
