Brief Description i.e. 2-3 sentences

Contract to provide radiological consultation services for the imaging clinic at FRCC.

Contract is for a supervised specialized residential placement for a young offender under an Intensive Rehabilitative Custody and Supervision (IRCS) Court Order while under the supervision of Adult Community Corrections.

The collection, analysis and interpretation of human remains for the purposes of: cataloguing skeletal injuries; determining the cause of death, and; producing court-admissible documentation by way of a formal forensic anthropology report.

A considerable amount of discussion has taken place around the Justice Reform Agenda, and this is documented in a number of reports, papers, and other documents. The Ministry is looking for assistance in consolidating this material into a comprehensive view, so as to facilitate consensus and buy-in to the desired future state. This consolidation of material will also assist in arriving at a definition of an overall performance-focused governance approach to support developing, communicating and executing the actions required to achieve the desired future state.

DA Rationale	Supplier Name
The contract was awarded based on a thorough search for a radiologist interested in this opportunity and qualified to meet the required standards.	HUNTER, NATALIE, DR
The contractor was selected due to their previous working relationship with the offender. Other direct award considerations; confidentiality of a young offender, urgency of placement to stabilize the client, contract costs are 100% recovered from the Government of Canada.	THE JOHN HOWARD SOCIETY OF VICTORIA
The BC Coroners Service does not believe, but cannot strictly prove there is more than one qualified contractor capable of providing the services required. An NOI was posted and there were no objections.	BOZA-ARLOTTI, ANA MARIA
Contract is addressing an urgent requirement for which there is no in-house qualified employee, and the cost incurred in running a competition would not be justified for such a small amount. The proponent is uniquely qualified with internationally acclaimed expertise and is located in Victoria.	THORP NETWORK INC, THE
