Dear Premier Clark:

Deep Sea Oil/Gas Drilling.

Be it resolved that under no circumstances will deep sea oil or gas drilling be permitted to take place on the West Coast of Vancouver Island and Mainland British Columbia.

I am a member of the British Columbia Women's Institute, which has prepared and endorsed the above resolution calling for the protection of British Columbia's beautiful coastline from the possibility of deep sea oil and/or gas drilling. Now I am writing to ask you what progress has been made on this most important issue.

We in British Columbia watched with horror as the 2010 oil well blow out in the Gulf of Mexico polluted the surrounding beaches for hundreds of miles, caused residents to lose their livelihoods, and damaged the land, air and water wildlife for years to come. We do not want this to happen to our beautiful coastline or the human and wildlife populations who live there.

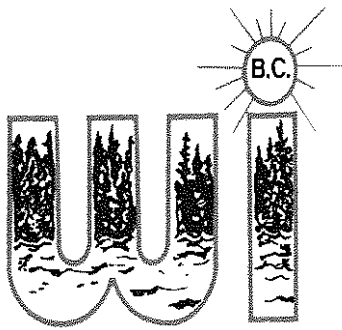

Please advise me as to what is being done to eliminate the threat of off-shore oil and gas drilling off British Columbia's west coast.

Yours For Home and Country,

P.S. I, personally am not totally opposed to offshore drilling but I certainly want there to be research and safety regulations in place.
