Dear Francois,

The Mustang has been put up for auction. There's currently a bid of approximately, $17,000. Once the costs permitted pursuant to the order are deducted it is hoped that the amount to be provided to RBC will be approximately $14,000. In order for my client to be able to provide the vehicle to highest bidder, my client requires the RBC lien to be removed from the vehicle. Can you please remove the RBC lien and provide me with confirmation that it has been removed, as soon as possible?

Hello Stephen,

I finally got the answer!

We will not be seizing the unit or have any bailiff involve even for an appraisal.
You can proceed with the sale of the unit, we'll await the remaining sale proceeds and review the file at that point.

Please contact me if you require anything,

have a great day, and thanks again!

Dear Francois,

Further to our telephone conversation of this week, my client's very rough estimate of the possible auction sale price in the vehicle's current state is $12,000 - $15,000. This is a very rough estimate and is not the work of an appraiser.

Dear Mr. Brisebois,

I believe we traded voicemails pertaining to the aforementioned file. The Director has commenced an action against the aforementioned vehicle. The information we have is that RBC has a PPSR charge against the aforementioned vehicle.

I don't believe you have retained counsel for the aforementioned file. In the event that I'm incorrect about that I'm happy to direct my correspondence to your counsel.

I'm wondering if you are able to confirm the current balance owing against the aforementioned vehicle. Further, I believe the defendants may be prepared to sign a consent order forfeiting the vehicle to the Director with the Director having conduct of sale. I'm unclear as to how much s.22 owes against the aforementioned vehicle; however, I believe my client may be prepared to agree to take on sale as long as the Director's storage costs are paid out from the sale proceeds and the remaining proceeds would be payable to RBC toward the outstanding debt against the vehicle. I can also confirm that the vehicle sustained damage during the period that it was in s.22 possession. Are you prepared to sign an order on those terms?

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
