MINISTRY OF EDUCATION PROFILE

Education Transformation

The world has changed significantly since B.C.'s education system was designed and while B.C. continues to have a very strong system, bold changes are needed to support teachers and ensure that every student receives an education that reflects their unique needs, interests and passions.

BC's Education Plan provides the vision for how the Ministry of Education and its partners are working together to transform the education system and improve students' ability to find success in school and life.

Education transformation is a shared responsibility and BC's Education Plan was inspired by innovative change already taking place in classrooms across B.C. To build on this success, a province-wide public engagement effort is in progress, including online tools, face-to-face dialogue, meetings, presentations and more to reach out to teachers, administrators, parents, students and the public. Working collaboratively with its partners, the Ministry is helping to build an even stronger education system that better meets the needs of the 21st century and will ensure that B.C.'s children are prepared for the workforce of today, and in the future.

For more information on BC's Education Plan and education transformation, refer to documents under Tab 3 in this binder.

Ministry Mandate

The Ministry of Education provides leadership and support to the K–12 education system through governance, legislation, policy, and standards, and it is accountable to the public through the monitoring of student performance and reporting results. The Ministry also has responsibility for literacy, early learning, and public libraries.

Clients

The K–12 system serves approximately 580,000 public school students, 73,385 (as at September 30, 2011) independent school students, and 2,098 home-schooled children independent and public school students (as at September 30, 2011). More than 65,000 Aboriginal students are included in these numbers, as are more than 4,450 students enrolled in Conseil scolaire francophone de la Colombie-Britannique, exercising their right to a Francophone education.

Partners

The Ministry of Education co-governs K–12 education with boards of education and independent school authorities. Education services are delivered locally through boards of education, public schools, and independent schools.

The Libraries and Literacy Branch provides leadership and support to public libraries. Across B.C., there are 243 public library branches operating under the governance of 71 library boards, and six library federations. Together, these public libraries serve nearly 99 per cent of British Columbians.

Literacy services are delivered in partnership with public libraries, communities, school districts, and schools. School districts report to the Libraries and Literacy Branch on community literacy initiatives on an annual basis through the legislated District Literacy Plans. These plans are submitted to the Ministry in July by all school districts. The Ministry partners with Decoda Literacy Solutions to support the Literacy Outreach Coordinator network (literacy network). Literacy planning, throughout the literacy network, is happening in over 400 B.C. communities.

Preschoolers and their families benefit from Ministry initiatives such as StrongStart BC early learning centres, which help B.C. children develop the skills they need to succeed in school and life.

The Ministry funds adults completing secondary school or upgrading their skills, and it requires the board of education in each school district to coordinate community literacy initiatives.

The Ministry's education partners include boards of education and independent school authorities, professional education organizations, First Nations representatives, community literacy organizations, and public libraries.

Legislation

The Ministry's work relates to responsibilities established under the School Act, Independent School Act, and Teachers Act

School Act

The School Act establishes the governance model for the public education system. The provincial government, through the Minister of Education, is responsible for setting standards and overall direction for the school system and for allocating funding to boards of education. Locally elected boards of education are responsible for the operation and management of schools in their districts and for providing educational programs to students. They are the employers of teachers and administrators, and have broad authority to set local policy for their districts.

The School Act also sets out the rights and responsibilities of students, parents, teachers, school principals, and school district officials.

Independent School Act

The Independent School Act establishes the regulatory framework for independent schools in BC. It establishes the office of Inspector of Independent Schools, an employee of the Ministry of Education. To operate in BC, independent schools must hold a certificate of group classification from the Inspector.

Non-profit independent schools that meet provincial educational standards qualify for specified levels of provincial funding for students provided that the majority of their students are BC residents.

Teachers Act

The Teachers Act, enacted in January 2012, repealed the Teaching Profession Act and dissolved the BC College of Teachers. It established a new professional regulation model for the teaching profession in which responsibility is shared between government and the sector. Under the new model, the Teacher Regulation Branch of Ministry of Education is responsible for teacher certification in BC.

Ministry Support to the Minister's Office

The Ministry of Education provides support to the Minister's Office primarily through the Deputy Minister's and Assistant Deputy Ministers' offices.

Deputy Minister (DM)

The Ministry of Education is led by the Deputy Minister. The DM reports to the Deputy Minister to the Premier and Cabinet Secretary. The DM's role is to:

- manage the internal operations of the Ministry;
- support and participate in the collective management responsibilities of government;
- provide the Minister and the government with objective policy advice to meet the political objectives of the government; and
- carry out specific statutory authorities (as appropriate).

Assistant Deputy Ministers (ADMs) and Superintendents

The Ministry of Education currently has five Assistant Deputy Ministers and five Superintendents (the ADM of the Learning Division is also a Superintendent). The ADMs and Superintendents are accountable for a discrete area of responsibility within the Ministry. The ADMs ensure that their area of responsibility is coordinated with the objectives and outcomes of the Ministry as a whole and therefore work closely with the Deputy Minister.

Policy advice and managing Ministerial correspondence are two of the most common services that are provided to the Minister's Office:

Briefings

In addition to working closely with the DM, the Minister will regularly call on ADMs and Superintendents to provide scheduled and unscheduled briefings and assist with issues being dealt with through the Minister's Office.

The Minister is provided briefing materials such as briefing notes for the issues and topics being discussed during briefings. Briefing notes are developed in the various Ministry divisions and are signed off by the appropriate ADM and then DM before they are sent to the Minister's Office for approval.

The scheduling of meetings and transmission of briefing materials is carried out by Minister's Office, DM and ADM staff. The DM, appropriate ADM, executive financial officer (EFO), Government Communications and Public Engagement director, and Superintendent Liaison are typically present at Minister's briefings.

Ministerial Correspondence

The Ministry Correspondence Office manages correspondence (i.e., emails and letters) on behalf of the Minister and Deputy Minister, including tracking and meeting service standards for response. There is a routing process for action based on a signing matrix which is approved by the Minister's Office. This process ensures approvals are made by ADMs and the DM prior to forwarding the response to the Minister for signature.

ROD ALLEN

ASSISTANT DEPUTY MINISTER AND SUPERINTENDENT

LEARNING DIVISION

The Learning Division within the Ministry of Education is responsible for providing leadership and support to school districts in the areas of Aboriginal Education, Curriculum and Assessment, Diversity and Equity, French Programs and International Languages, the Early Years and E-Learning. With all of these areas working together in an aligned, coherent manner we are well placed to provide each learner in B.C. with an excellent educational experience allowing them to succeed at the highest levels. Through a series of transformation initiatives in areas such as reading, special education, and assessment, the Learning Division promotes personalized learning based on strong basic skills and competencies, choice and flexibility, and student engagement.

Rod Allen is Superintendent of Learning, a position he was appointed to in January 2008. In May 2011 he assumed an Assistant Deputy Minister position, and is responsible for leading the Learning Division and has a central role in British Columbia's transformation to personalized learning. Rod is actively involved in the Global Education Leadership Program, along with 15 other international jurisdictions. Prior to this he was Superintendent of Schools in British Columbia's School District 54 (Bulkley Valley). Rod has taught at most grade levels in British Columbia, where he advanced through school and district leadership positions.

He received his undergraduate degree, teaching qualification, and master's degree in education administration from the University of Victoria.

EXECUTIVE MEMBER BIOGRAPHY

RICK DAVIS

SUPERINTENDENT OF ACHIEVEMENT

Rick Davis was appointed Superintendent of Achievement in July 2007. In this position, Rick is responsible for monitoring the levels of student achievement in the school districts, including reviewing district achievement contracts and superintendent's reports on student achievement. When a district needs assistance, Rick provides advice, recommends a direction, and builds connections and networks to improve the district's capacity to improve student success. On request, Rick provides reports to the Minister regarding student achievement in a specific school district.

Rick is also engaged in supporting the personalized learning work of the Ministry, principally through promoting strategies to improve teacher quality and considering changes to organizational structures that provide barriers to personalized learning. Rick provides advice to the minister and deputy minister on labour relations matters in the public education sector.

He began teaching in S. 22 in Camrose, Alberta, where he taught Grade 1 and Grade 7. Two years later, he moved to Nelson, British Columbia, as a senior science and math teacher at a small rural high school. He has taught at all grade levels as he advanced through school and school district administrative positions in Dawson Creek, Vanderhoof and Vernon. From S. 22 Rick worked with the British Columbia Public School Employers' Association in Vancouver as a superintendent representative and bargaining spokesperson. In July 2002, Rick joined the Ministry of Education as a Superintendent in the Liaison Division, where he worked until his current appointment. In addition, since July 2006, Rick has served as president of the British Columbia Education Leadership Council, a not-for-profit society established and funded by the Government of British Columbia to develop leadership capacity in public education.

SHERRI MOHORUK

SUPERINTENDENT, LIAISON

Sherri Mohoruk was appointed Superintendent, Liaison in 2007. In this position, she provides a link between the Minister of Education, the Ministry, and the province's school districts and education partners. She advises the Deputy Minister and senior Ministry staff on educational issues that affect student learning. She is responsible for implementing the ERASE Bullying (Expect Respect And a Safe Education) 10 point comprehensive prevention and intervention strategy.

She also facilitates connections between Ministry divisions, school districts and partner organizations to improve implementation of Ministry policy, initiatives and directions. She plays a key role in helping districts and school personnel resolve emerging issues and respond to critical incidents. She is proactive in seeking information and maintaining effective communication.

Sherri began her teaching career in S. 22 in Edmonton, Alberta, where she taught kindergarten. Two years later, she moved to Vernon, British Columbia, as a kindergarten teacher. In S. 22 Sherri moved to Escondido, California, as an exchange teacher. She remained in the United States for an additional five years on an extended professional visa. From S. 22, Sherri taught primary and intermediate grades, English as a second language, and learning assistance. She also served as an interim principal for a state preschool and as a principal of an elementary school. She moved to Surrey, British Columbia, in S. 22. Sherri served in several school and district administrative positions, including Principal, Director for Student Services, Director for Curriculum and Instruction, and Assistant Superintendent. She joined the Ministry as a Superintendent in the Liaison Division in August 2005.

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT DIVISION

ADM Responsible: Keith Miller

Division Description:

The Resource Management Division provides operational and capital funding for school districts and monitors financial accountability and compliance of boards of education. The Division also provides a wide range of financial and administrative support services to the Ministry.

The Division is comprised of several branches and program areas:

The Capital Management Branch assists boards of education with the development of their long-term capital plans and allocates funding for improving or expanding B.C.'s public schools. The branch also manages government's Seismic Mitigation Program.

The Funding and Compliance Branch develops and maintains an equitable funding formula for the public Kindergarten to Grade 12 education system. This branch develops and conducts annual compliance audits of school districts to ensure that public education funds are being used for their intended purposes.

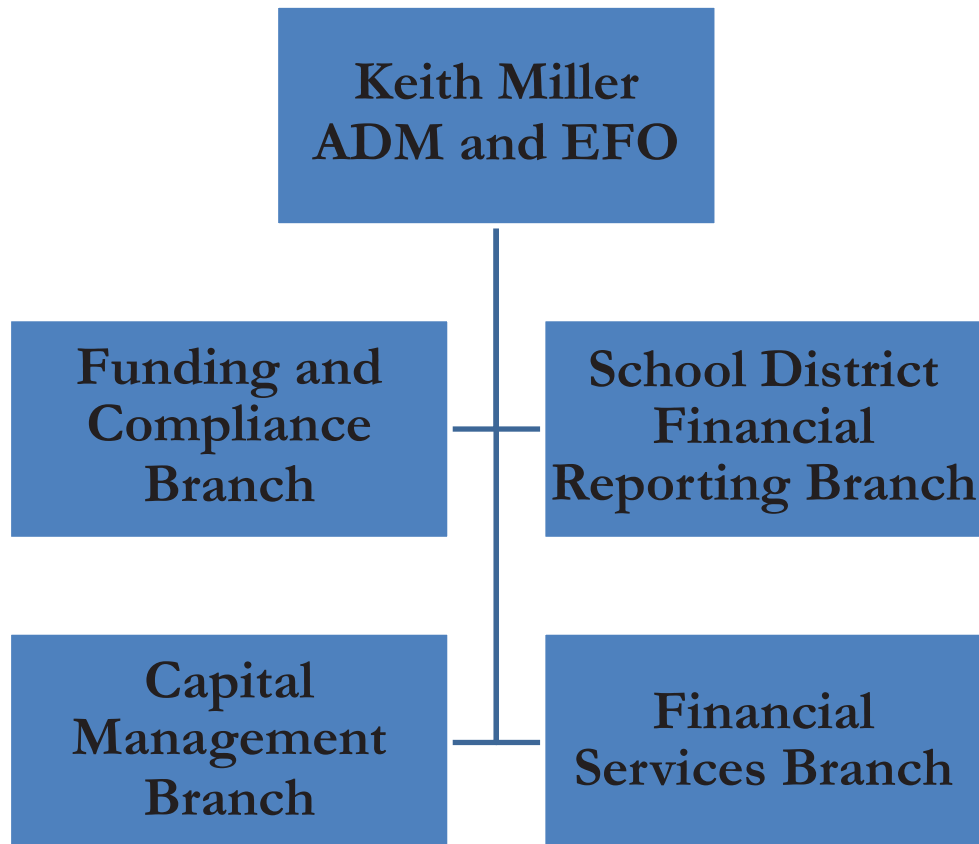

The School District Financial Reporting Branch works with school districts to monitor how their funding allocation is budgeted and spent.

The Financial Services Branch provides the financial support functions that enable the Ministry of Education to operate its programs and achieve its business objectives. This includes budgets, accounting, reporting, transaction processing, systems, procurement, contract management, policy, and decision support.

LEARNING DIVISION

Superintendent (ADM) Responsible:

Rod Allen

Division Description:

The Learning Division is responsible for providing leadership and support to school districts in the areas of Aboriginal Education, Curriculum and Assessment, Diversity and Equity, the Early Years, French Programs and International Languages, and e-Learning. With all of these areas working together in an aligned, coherent manner we are well placed to provide each learner in B.C. with an excellent educational experience allowing them to succeed at the highest levels.

Through focus on personalized learning, the Learning Division promotes choice and flexibility, student engagement, and strong basic skills and competencies.

Within the Division, the goal of the Aboriginal Education team is to provide expertise and informed practice across government, within the Ministry and to the school system, for increasing student success for all Aboriginal students. It manages the Ministry's initiatives, policies and procedures related to the education of Aboriginal students, including:

- integrating Aboriginal content into the provincial curriculum
- facilitating development and implementation of Aboriginal Education Enhancement Agreements
- collaborating with Aboriginal organizations, bands, tribal councils, First Nations, Métis and the federal government on matters concerning the education of Aboriginal students

The Curriculum and Assessment team is responsible for what B.C. students learn and how their success is measured. The Ministry's prescribed learning outcomes – what each student is expected to know about any particular subject by the end of each grade level – are the heart of the provincial curriculum.

The team is also responsible for developing provincial examinations and a range of provincial, national and international assessments that gather evidence of what students know and what their learning needs are.

The Diversity and Equity team provides expertise across government, within the Ministry and to the school system to support students with special gifts and special needs, and to ensure they have access to the services needed to help them succeed.

In addition to responsibility for services for students with special needs, the team is also concerned with policy, standards and other issues related to:

- supporting children and youth in Alternate Education Programs, allowing them to participate fully and succeed in all aspects of society
- students who are being held in care under a continuing custody order
- English language development programs & services for students needing ESL support
- maintaining safe, caring and orderly schools

The Early Years team is responsible for the BC Early Learning Framework, helps schools provide early years programs, including StrongStart BC programs and Ready Set Learn, and supports the development and application of curriculum and resources for children up to age eight.

The French Programs and International Languages team is responsible for policy and curriculum designed for francophone students, learners of French as a second language and students of other languages.

The team is also responsible for federal funding support under the Official Languages in Education Protocol, provincial coordination of the national Explore and Odyssey programs, and the BC/Quebec Six-Month Exchange Program, French Teacher Bursaries and Student Fellowships.

The e-Learning team monitors existing and emerging educational technologies and works with stakeholders to promote and support their integration into K-12 teaching practices.

The team also supports distributed learning (DL) in the province by managing the development of DL policies and standards, reviewing DL schools and their programs for quality practice, and using data to report on student achievement.

The Graduation team is responsible for graduation requirements and policies for school-aged and adult students in British Columbia, including Career programs and Trades training. The team coordinates its graduation work with the Student Certification Branch in the Business, Technology, and Online Services Division. Career and Trades activities are shared responsibilities with the Ministry of Advanced Education and the Ministry of Jobs, Tourism, and Innovation.

BRIEFING NOTE

Independent School Teaching Certificate Standards Committee

Legislative Authority: Section 5 of the Independent School Act (ISA)

Mandate:

The Independent School Teaching Certificate Standards Committee (ISTCSC) establishes the standards that must be met for a person to be issued, and maintain, an independent school teaching certificate. It also determines the standards that must be met for each type of independent school teaching certificate.

Background

Until the Teachers Act was brought into force in January 2012, this committee made recommendations to the Inspector of Independent Schools about the issuance, suspension, or revocation of independent school teaching certificates.

Under the Teachers Act the Director of Certification, Teacher Regulation Branch, is now responsible for issuing all teaching credentials in BC, including independent school teaching certificates. The Director of Certification must consult with the Inspector of Independent Schools prior to issuing an independent school teaching certificate. The responsibility for suspension or cancellation of an independent school teaching certificate now falls to the Disciplinary and Professional Conduct Board and the Commissioner, Teacher Regulation.

Historically committee members have been appointed by the Minister of Education on the mutual recommendation of the Inspector of Independent Schools and the Federation of Independent School Authorities.

Structure

The Committee is composed of members appointed by the Minister of Education. There is no fixed number of members or length of term specified in legislation. Committee members are drawn from various sectors of the independent school community.

BRIEFING NOTE

Disciplinary and Professional Conduct Board

Legislative Authority: Teachers Act, s. 26, s. 57, s. 73.

Mandate:

Members of the Disciplinary and Professional Conduct Board (DPCB) hear and decide matters related to discipline, professional conduct and certification appeals.

Background

The Teachers Act sets teacher discipline processes and creates a system where reports and complaints about teacher conduct or competence can be resolved. The Commissioner, Teacher Regulation is responsible for receiving reports and complaints about teacher conduct and competence and determining if further action is required.

If, through the course of the review process, the Commissioner determines that a hearing is required, he or she establishes 3 person hearing panels from amongst the DPCB members and the public pool of adjudicators available for the Commissioner to appoint to hearing panels. Panels cannot have more than one BCTF member.

Panel members consider evidence and interpret and apply the professional standards. If a panel finds the teacher failed to meet the standards, it must fairly determine appropriate consequences, which can include suspension, cancellation or imposition of terms on a teacher's certificate.

Structure

The DPCB is made up of nine members of the BC Teachers' Council:

- five DPCB members must be selected from those BCTC members who were nominated by education partners;
- four must be certificate holders selected from the BCTF members; and
- one must have substantial knowledge of and experience in the independent school system.

The Commissioner may also select a person from the public pool of adjudicators to sit on a disciplinary and professional conduct panel or certification appeal panel.

BRIEFING NOTE

Board of Examiners

Legislative Authority: School Act, section 174

Mandate:

The Board of Examiners provides professional advice to the ministry concerning the administration and procedures related to provincial examinations.

Background

The Lieutenant Governor in Council has authority to appoint members to the Board of Examiners under s. 174 of the School Act.

The Board is not currently meeting

Structure

Legislation requires that the board includes at least one representative from the Ministry of Education and one representative from B.C.'s universities.

Current Appointees:

| Current Members   |   |                    |                    |
|-------------------|---|--------------------|--------------------|

| James, F. Colin   | Educational ConsultantUniversity Representative | September 30, 2010 | September 30, 2013 |

Appointments required:

- No appointments are required. The term of one appointment expires on September 30, 2012 but will not be filled.
- The Ministry is meeting its legislative requirements by maintaining the two remaining appointees on the Board. Given that the role of this board is in flux, no further appointments will be made at this time.

Issue(s):

- Since its inception, the Board of Examiners has evolved both in membership and mandate. The original intent of the Board was to provide assessment expertise to the Ministry during the implementation of the provincial exam program in 1984. The Board provided assessment expertise that the Ministry did not have in house at the time, and it gave credibility to the provincial examinations program. The original Board of Examiners met after every exam session to corroborate the standards and approve the release of results.
- As the provincial exam program evolved from three paper based sessions per year to seven primarily electronic sessions, as provincial exams were more fully implemented in the field, and as assessment expertise was attained in house, the Board changed from a hands on panel of experts to a committee acting in an advisory capacity.
- The Board is not actively meeting at this time.
- The Learning Division is considering options for the future role of this board, particularly in the context of personalized learning.

BC Teachers' Council

Legislative Authority: Teachers Act, s. 9.

Mandate:

The BC Teachers' Council (BCTC) sets teacher education and conduct and competence standards, as well as approves teacher education programs for certification purposes.

Background

On January 9, 2012 the Teachers Act came into force, repealing the Teaching Profession Act and dissolving the BC College of Teachers. It brought in a new system of certification, regulation, and discipline of teachers that is administered by the Ministry of Education's Teacher Regulation Branch, with advice from education partners.

The BC Teachers' Council is part of this new regulatory framework.

Structure

The BCTC is made up of the following members:

- 5 members elected by teachers
- 1 non voting senior government appointee who reports on activities of the BCTC
- 3 BC Teachers' Federation (BCTF) nominees appointed by the Minister
- 7 other education partner nominees appointed by the Minister

Highlights

1. The increase from 2011/12 of $67M is due to four budget lifts:

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Learning Improvement Fund (LIF) | $30M |
|--|--------------|

Funding provided to address class organization issues in public schools related to Bill 28.

|                              |              |
|------------------------------|--------------|
| Full-day kindergarten | $22M |

FDK was 50% implemented in Sept 2010 and 100% in the school year that began in Sept 2011. The $22M completes FDK implementation and covers April to June 2012.

|                         |              |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| Public Libraries | $14M |

This does not represent additional funding to public libraries. Instead, libraries' $14M grants for calendar 2013 will be paid in March 2013 (FY 12/13) rather than summer 2013 (FY 13/14).

|                    |             |
|--------------------|-------------|
| Advertising | $1M |
|--------------------|-------------|

Funding lift as directed by the Government Communications and Public Engagement Office. Reallocated from other ministries.

|  |              |
|--|--------------|
| Total increase in 2012/13 compared to 2011/12 | $67M |

2. Teachers Act Special Account

The BC College of Teachers was dissolved and the Teacher Regulation Branch was created within the Ministry. This program is operated as a fully cost recovered Special Account. Revenues and expenses are each budgeted to be $6.2M.

3. Sub-Vote Changes

- The Public Libraries sub-vote has been rolled into the Education Programs sub-vote
- The Learning Improvement Fund sub-vote is new for 12/13

4. Reallocation to LIF

Subsequent to Budget 2012, Treasury Board approved the reallocation of $30M from public schools operating grants to LIF. This was in response to the payroll savings resulting from the teachers' strike of March 2012.

<sup>1</sup> Amounts have been restated, for comparative purposes only, to be consistent with Schedule A of 2012/13 Estimates.

2012/13 capital spending is expected to be $436 million which includes:

- $61 million for new priority projects to address increased enrolment in growing districts
- $70 for routine maintenance
- $305 million for projects that are currently underway or expected to begin in 2011/12

- The increasing trend of funding for public schools since 2005/06 is due to wage settlements and the introduction of full day kindergarten.
- The dip in funding in 2009/10 resulted from the reduction in Annual Facilities Grants and other school renewal grants.

Funding to Independent Schools has increased each year due to increases in:

- Enrolment in classrooms, but more so distributed learning
- The rate paid per student, and
- Special needs rates.

Budget vs Actuals

The numbers in the chart are the Independent Schools component of the Estimates. The actual expenditures have typically been greater due to the factors listed above.

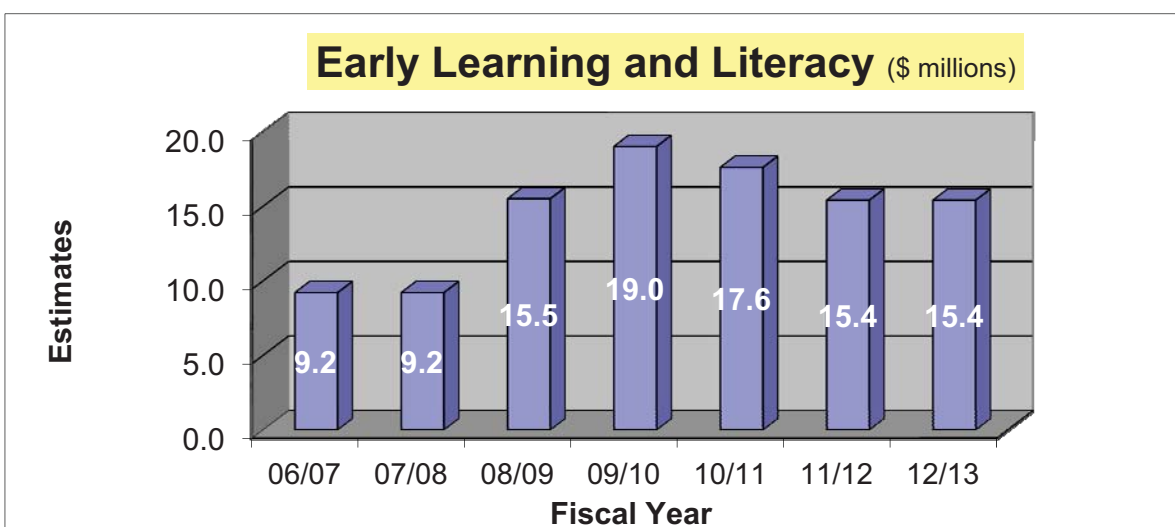

The actual projected 12/13 cost may be as high as $293M. The $26M shortfall will be funded from ministry budget reallocations. The components of the pressure are:

- Special Needs enrolment increase $12M;
- Group 1 and 2 price increase $1M;
- Distributed Learning price and enrolment increase $13M.

- Budget 2012 includes $42M for public libraries over the next three fiscal years;
- Libraries, federations and associations will receive their operating and targeted grants of $14M in each of their fiscal years (calendar year) over this period;
- Grants will be paid in the summer of 2012 ($14M), the early spring of 2013 ($14M), early spring 2014 ($4M) and summer of 2014 ($10M).

- The main grants in this budget component are StrongStart Programs, Ready Set Learn, and District Literacy Planning.
- The funding was greatest in 2009/10 because that was the year with the third and most significant stage of StrongStart Program openings.

- The increase from 06/07 to 07/08 is due to greater costs for information systems and contracts.
- The decrease from 08/09 and 09/10 is mainly due to TB directed reductions which were managed through administrative efficiencies.

Vision for BC's Education System:

British Columbians enjoy a world class education system that.....

- responds to the uniqueness of every learner with flexibility in where, when, and how learning takes place;
- provides students with opportunities to explore their passions and interests and take more ownership of their learning;
- provides parents with real choice and opportunity to be engaged in their child's learning;
- views teachers as facilitators of learning who are supported by: a world class teacher training program, high standards of certification and professional development opportunities tailored to the individual needs of teachers;
- offers all learners technology to connect them to learning opportunities around the world;
- ensures teachers have the technological tools and training to best engage students and parents in innovative ways;
- focuses on greater efficiencies through shared functions such as payroll, human resources, financial and student information that will allow savings to be re directed to student learning.

Why Transformation?

- BC has a high performing education system, but student achievement has plateaued, and relative to other jurisdictions, is declining.
- Post secondary institutions, employers, and students report that our successful graduates are leaving school without the skills, knowledge and competencies they need to thrive in the 21st Century.
- Learning science research (how children learn) is more advanced allowing us to know more about learning and calling for changes in teaching practice.
- The knowledge economy, globalization, and technology, combined with a more diverse and complex society compels us to rethink schools and learning.
- BC will not remain a leader – or even remain competitive – unless it can transform to meet the needs of the changing world. China, Singapore, the United States, South Korea and Japan – all major economic competitors – have begun education reforms to increase creativity and innovation.

Better Alignment Needed:

- There is a growing disconnect between the reality of young people's lives and their learning experiences.
- Engagement is foundational to achievement and it's declining for both students and teachers.
- Teachers have the greatest effect on student learning – we need to ensure we have the best teachers to provide a world class education system.
- Leading school districts are pleading for systemic transformation.

How We Are Doing?

- BC continues to have among the best results in the world on international assessments.
- There are also other jurisdictions – cities, provinces, states, regions, countries – that consistently outperform BC and others that have recently surpassed BC's results.
- Alberta, Ontario, Quebec, Finland, Korea, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore – all frequently outperform BC in reading, math and science according to PISA results.

Another Perspective:

- 70% of grade 4 students meeting FSA reading expectations – 2011/12 results.
- 64% of grade 7 students meeting FSA reading expectations – 2011/12 results.
- 81% of students complete high school within 6 years of entering grade 8 – 2010/11 results.
- 54% of Aboriginal students complete high school within 6 years of entering grade 8 2010/11 results.
- 67% of grade 12 students said they did not feel that school adequately prepared them for a job in the future. (2010/11 student satisfaction survey)
- 53% of grade 12 students said they did not feel that school adequately prepared them for post secondary education. (2010/11 student satisfaction survey)

Personalized Learning:

- Recognizing that each student has unique learning needs, interests and passions, personalized learning requires the system to adapt to the needs of the learner.
- Personalized learning plans are required and are jointly developed by students, parents and teachers, especially in the upper grades.
- Attention to the foundational skills is maintained throughout the child's program. Personalized learning demands a high degree of accountability from students, teachers and parents.
- Core to this option is the recognition that students must be actively engaged in their learning and not just passive recipients.

Personalized learning is central to BC's education system transformation. Several districts are already implementing elements of personalized learning. The challenge is these efforts are not evenly distributed across the province. Deeper understanding, co constructed with all educational partners, as well as ideas for "scaling up" are needed if personalized learning is to become a reality for all our learners and if we are going to move our education system from good to great.

Great Consensus on Need for Education System Transformation:

- Prevailing view is that education systems need to empower learners to thrive in the 21st century and better meet the needs of students, business and society.
- Learning how to find information, how to synthesize it, leverage it, communicate it, collaborate with it, and problem solve with it... are the learning requirements of the 21st century.
- Agreement that foundation skills reading, writing, and numeracy have never been more important.
- Leading educational jurisdictions like Finland are embracing an innovation agenda along with provincial counterparts in New Brunswick, Ontario and Alberta.
- Leading school districts are pleading for systemic transformation – 10 districts have invited the ministry to participate in community discussions on personalized learning and this number is expanding. Others are already implementing elements of transformation and innovation.
- BC School Trustees Association (BCSTA) is solidly behind education sector transformation efforts, recognizing the need for contextualizing within each district. The association is "eager to continue the important dialogue on Personalized Learning for the 21st Century...." (excerpt from Oct. 2010 press release). Further, "working with boards of education, the Ministry and education partners to develop a vision and strategies for Personalized Learning for the 21st Century is identified at a strategic priority for 2010 – 11."

- BC School Superintendents' Association (BCSSA) focussed their Fall 2010 Conference – its key leadership development opportunity with more than 800 delegates – on engaging students in 21st Century learning, including personalized learning. 21st century learning was also a focus of the summer conference with presentations by the Deputy Minister and Superintendent of Achievement. Jeff Hopkins – superintendent for School District No. 64 (Gulf islands) – has been one of the province's leaders in personalized learning, following his passion for the creation of individualized but systemized learning opportunities for children and for professional colleagues alike.
- BC Principals Vice Principals Association (BCPVPA) continues to engage in the many opportunities for discussions on personalized learning, including the Education Advisory Council (EAC) fall meeting, BCSSA Fall Conference and others. The Association's November issue of its monthly newsletter indicated that each district would be continuing to work to support this direction and the October conference will focus on 21st Century learning.
- BC Teachers' Federation (BCTF) is openly welcoming the opportunity to collaborate with government on the transition to twenty first century learning initiatives, indicating that government is "well behind many BC public school teachers, whose twenty first century initiatives have been either thwarted by government policies or consistently ignored by government and ministers." (21st Century Learning – Widening the Frame of Focus and Debate: A BCTF Research Discussion paper authored by Charlie Naylor).
- Teachers – separate from their union association – are embracing the opportunity for these changes.
- BC Confederation of Parent Advisory Councils (BCCPAC) is very supportive of the provinces' transformation efforts and is engaging in regional discussions focussed on 21st Century learning.
- Universities – Vancouver Island University, University of Victoria, University of British Columbia Okanagan and Thompson Rivers University have all expressed interest in working with government to support transformation efforts.
- Independent schools are also supportive having engaged with ministry officials in the summer of 2010 on 21st century learning issues and with a follow up session scheduled for March 2011.

There is great support within the education sector for reform as captured above, however, the public are insufficiently informed about educational issues to be meaningfully involved in the education system or to be able to understand the context for transformation. A multi pronged public engagement strategy is necessary to condition the environment for transformation and to gain support for the necessary changes.

What Needs to Change?

Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting:

Need to align the ministry's requirements to:

- Embed 21st century competencies (e.g. critical thinking, problem solving, communication and digital literacy, creativity innovation, ...) in the curriculum and design to foster an interdisciplinary approach.
- Implement an integrated assessment framework that includes mandatory large scale assessment of student progress in foundational skills to provide system accountability linked to formative assessments (focussed on future learning) and assessments adapted to students' needs and abilities.
- Provide more meaningful and authentic information to parents and students regarding the student's progress. Implement performance standards as the basis of student reporting on competencies and foundational skills through performance based report cards.

Technology:

Need to make strategic investments that support technology enabled learning environments. This includes:

- Providing every school with sufficient bandwidth and wireless capacity to support learning, voice and video needs, and planned growth in shared administrative systems and services. Complemented by mobile devices for students and teachers to adopt anytime, anywhere learning. Key goal is to provide every learner and teacher in BC with improved access, choice and flexibility whether they are in remote, rural or urban areas to extend their reach to learning opportunities and resources around the world.
- Providing ongoing professional development for teachers to effectively work in technology enabled learning environments.
- Providing students and teachers digital learning resources to support a more complete and connected learning experience includes e learning resources, assessment and feedback capabilities.
- Providing analytical, reporting and administrative tools for ministry, district and school leadership to provide the right information at the right time for the right decisions, and to provide administrative efficiencies so that resources can be directed towards improving student learning.

Funding:

Need to make changes to funding the delivery of education by boards, such as providing more equitable funding to rural and urban schools recognizing the challenges facing boards in operating rural and remote schools in small communities – along with options for funding student learning plans and outcomes versus student enrolment in courses.

Curriculum, assessment, reporting, technology and funding are all internal ministry policy levers. Parents, teachers and administration – the bigger levers of reform – are for the most part not available to government in the existing structure.

Parents:

- Research indicates that parents play a critical role in their children’s education and have a positive impact when they take a more active role in their child’s learning.
- Providing parents both with increased choice (where and when their children go to school, what they learn and how their school runs) – clearly articulated and enshrined in legislation by way of a “guarantee of parental rights and responsibilities” – and tools to be more effectively engaged in their child’s learning and in the education system is central to strengthening the necessary partnership between students, parents and teachers.

Teachers:

- Research is clear – teachers are the most important factor in student achievement – several times as important as the school, principal, socio economic status, ethnicity, class size, school organization or family background.
- There are five levers that can be used to improve teacher quality: training; certification; hiring; professional development; and compensation – government needs to assert an interest in each of these areas; however, the ability to do so is limited by the current governance structure.

Administration:

- Currently government and the Minister have limited authority to intervene in how boards manage their districts.
- Administrative efficiencies through shared services are needed and will ensure that more education funding will go directly towards supporting students and their individual needs.

Legislative Changes Needed To Support System Transformation:

In order to implement the changes contemplated above, legislative changes are required. Necessary legislative changes range from modest to substantive dependent on the strategy employed.

Transforming BC's Education System – September 2012

Students:

- The School Act and the Regulations speak to administrative structures but say little about what happens in classrooms. The legislation needs to enable education tailored to an individual student's needs. Pedagogy changes in curriculum, assessment, instructional time are all areas that need to be addressed in regulation.

Parents:

- The School Act will be amended to further enable “parental rights and responsibilities”, neighbourhood learning centres, pre kindergarten and parent led schools.
- The regulations will be revised to enhance parental choice and tools to be connected to their child's learning. Example: enable reporting on student activities and achievement through new technology (continuous reporting, rather than 3 reports cards per year).

Teachers:

- Changes to the teachers' collective agreement should be driven by education policy that is directed by government. Where there are barriers to system transformation in the collective agreement, they must first be addressed at the bargaining table.
- Legislation related to the collective agreement is a last resort, to be enacted only after parties have raised concerns at the bargaining table and have tried to reach agreement.

Administration

- To achieve greater efficiency and effective use of public funds, boards will be required to explore areas of shared service for administrative functions.
- The way education is funded across the system (both public and independent) will need to be revised and reflected in legislation. If learning is tailored to individual students, and learning can happen any time, anyway, there are likely changes necessary to the funding provisions.

Disclaimer

This document contains a synthesis of the top themes from the BC's Education Plan discussion forum from October 2011 – July 2012. These themes represent the views and opinions of the people who have contributed to the Plan. Every effort has been made to categorize and synthesize these comments in a neutral and impartial manner.

The views expressed by respondents in this report should not necessarily be considered to be representative of the views of the majority of British Columbians; rather, they are a reflection of the opinions of those people who have commented on the BC's Education Plan discussion forum so far.

Introduction

On October 28, 2011, the Ministry of Education officially launched BC's Education Plan.

This marked the beginning of an ambitious effort to engage British Columbians in an important conversation on education change. Since that day, people from all parts of the province and all walks of life have weighed in on how we might make our already great education system even better.

This report contains a list of the major themes and ideas that have emerged from the online portion of that conversation. We've received nearly 5000 comments on our discussion forum so far, and we've read and analyzed every one of them.

Above all else, these comments confirm how passionate educators, students, parents, government and others are about K-12 education in B.C. Clearly, we're all committed to keeping our education system among the best in the world.

The past nine months of this engagement process have been an amazing and eye-opening experience for us. We know that discussing a vision for the future of our education system in the middle of a strained labour situation was challenging. Despite the timing, it was important to hear your voices.

BC's Education Plan is a vision for what the future of education should look like in B.C., and your invitation has been to help shape it with specific examples and to share ideas on how to make the plan real - to take it from ideas to action. We also know this is just a start. We've heard from some of you and would like to hear more.

How this report is organized

We've organized all the comments into themes and topics, and then provided a syntheses of the comments.

Themes

All of the comments that have been approved and posted to our website fit in one of these themes:

- Curriculum
- Quality Teaching and Learning
- Parents, Communities, and Schools
- Technology in Schools
- Administrative Issues

Topics

Approved comments are categorized under specific topics related to the themes. Many comments fit in more than one topic but we've categorized them under the topic where they fit best.

Syntheses of comments

Under each topic you will find a bulleted list. These are our unfiltered summaries, or syntheses, of what you've told us in your comments about that topic.

Percentage of commenters that mention each topic

We invite you to read this report to see for yourself what the people of British Columbia have had to say about K-12 education transformation in B.C. We also encourage you to tell your friends, family and networks about BC's Education Plan and to invite them to submit their own comments. The more people we can engage in a conversation about the future of K-12 education in B.C. the better our system will be.

- The BC's Education Plan Team

Theme 1: Curriculum

1. Curriculum outcomes

- Reduce the number of curriculum outcomes per subject to a more manageable number. This will:

- o allow teachers to cover the most important content and teach the most important skills in greater depth than they have time to do now.
- o give teachers more time to address specific deficiencies in student learning.
- o ensure students have more time in the curriculum to pursue their individual interests and passions.

- adopt a more holistic approach to curriculum. Rather than identifying learning outcomes that are to be achieved in each course, identify what is to be achieved across all subjects in an entire grade.

2. Basic skills vs. new competencies

- Teach the competencies students will need in order to succeed in a rapidly changing world.

These competencies include:

- |                                     |                              |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| o Social responsibility             | o Collaboration and teamwork |
| o Global and cultural understanding | o Creativity                 |
| o Environmental stewardship         | o Innovation                 |
| o Healthy living                    | o Critical thinking          |
| o Ethics                            | o Problem solving            |
| o Civic responsibility              | o Digital literacy           |
- Ensure that the teaching of these competencies doesn't come at the expense of important foundational skills. i.e., reading, writing and numeracy.

3. Flexibility and choice in learning

- Provide students with greater say in what, where, when, and how they learn. This will:
  - o increase student motivation, as students can choose topics, assignment presentation methods, etc. that are more interesting and meaningful to them.
  - o increase student motivation to learn.
  - o build independence and decision making skills.
  - o give students the ability to choose courses and course work that prepares them for possible career paths.
  - o improve student achievement rates.
- Introduce choice gradually, as students don't automatically have the wisdom, maturity or foresight to make good choices about what to learn.
- Provide: (a) more planning time; and/or (b) more teacher assistants; and/or (c) smaller class sizes to make personalized learning truly possible.
- Recognize that not all parents are equally involved in their children's education or are committed to flexibility and choice.
- Recognize that some schools are unable to support flexibility and choice to the same degree as others (i.e., unequal access to facilities, experts in community to help teach, etc.). Provide additional resources to those schools so the teachers and students have the same opportunities as teachers and students in other schools.
- Reconcile personalized learning with standardized testing. Balance the push to provide students with flexibility and choice in their learning with the need to compare them against each other for post-secondary entrance.

“Offering students a personalized approach to learning will allow students the chance to pursue their individual interests and passions. If a student is motivated and engaged in their learning, they are much more likely to succeed.” - Ms. E., student

4. Transition to post secondary and/or work

- Work with other ministries and with employers to determine what skills students need when they enter the workforce. Revise curricula to ensure students have a head start on those skills when they leave school.

- Provide more trades-related programs and courses in schools (e.g., apprenticeships and work co-ops) to allow students to explore areas of career interest. These courses and programs will also reduce the time needed at post secondary level to get ready for the workforce. Skilled workers are needed now, so the sooner we can prepare them the better.
- Stream students into academic or vocational career paths at the secondary level. As part of this, allow students to focus on courses that are applicable to their career aspirations and to skip others. Ensure a balance needs to be struck so students don't miss out on key skills that may force them to go back for additional courses if they change career paths.
- Make certain that trades teachers at the high school level are qualified experts in their field. Oftentimes they're not or their training is out of date.
- Address the stigma associated with the trades. Many people still view these professions as less worthy than white collar vocations like medicine and law.
- Provide incentives to industry to take on work experience students (e.g., tax breaks, grants).

5. Scholarships

- Award scholarships based on students' results on mandatory Grade 12 provincial exams.
- Continue to award scholarships based on a mixture of academic success and community involvement.

Theme 2: Quality Teaching and Learning

1. Professional development

- Continue to support the ongoing training and professional development of teachers and teaching assistants.
- Grant teachers more autonomy to choose their professional development experiences.
- Group all the Pro-D days together at one time, perhaps mid or late summer, to minimize the inconvenience for parents of having the days spread out through the year. (Many teachers, though, prefer the current system.)
- Provide more release time for staff (especially whole departments) to work together to plan and develop lesson materials.
- Provide teachers with paid time away from the classroom to observe teachers in other classrooms (perhaps even in other schools) in order to learn new teaching techniques and styles.
- Introduce an apprenticeship model where teachers in training are paired with a master teacher for a year or more. This will allow the new teacher time to gradually adopt a full teaching load.
- Provide mentorship opportunities for new teachers to learn from master teachers. Grant master teachers more release time in order to help out.

“Only individual teachers know what development they currently need, and only they should decide how their professional development days should be used.” - Kim, teacher

2. Teacher evaluations

- Evaluate teachers on a regular basis to ensure they meet the high standards of the profession. Allow exemplary “master” teachers to perform these evaluations, as they’re likely to be more qualified to evaluate their peers than administrators are.

- Base the frequency of evaluations on the teacher's performance. The better the evaluation, the longer the interval before the next one.
- Allow parents to formally evaluate their children's teachers at year's end.
- Create a standard method of teacher evaluation for all schools and districts.
- Ensure that administrators are evaluated as well. They, too, need to be accountable for their performance.

3. Teacher assistants

- Hire more teaching assistants, as they play a valuable role in the classroom.
- Ensure a standard level of training exists for all teaching assistants.
- Provide teachers and teaching assistants with more time outside the classroom to collaborate and plan lessons.
- Ensure teaching assistants are deployed effectively in the schools. Sometimes they follow the same student(s) throughout the day but sometimes they don't, and that can be a problem.
- Provide more money to hire additional teachers (particularly specialists) and not just teaching assistants. Professionally trained teachers are best prepared to help students.

4. Support for special needs students

- Place more emphasis on special needs instruction in teacher training programs. Many new teachers are poorly trained in helping students with challenges.
- Reduce class sizes so special needs students get the support they need. Reduce the number of special needs students per class as well.
- Re-evaluate whether special needs students should be integrated into the regular classroom. Many parents and teachers have suggested that special needs students aren't getting the attention and support they need in mainstream classes, and neither are the other students. Perhaps it's time that separate special needs classes be re-introduced, or streaming by ability, need, or learning style be considered.
- Reduce the wait times for getting student assessments and/or diagnoses. Ideally these will take place before students enter the K-12 system.

- Reduce the amount of paperwork that teachers and families must fill out in order to apply for special needs assessment.
- Reconsider the requirements for claiming special needs funding, getting the appropriate resources and support workers, and maintaining Individual Education Plans.
- Provide more funding for K-12 special education so school districts can deliver the resources and/or services that are needed.
- Ensure that students who present with learning disabilities (such as ADHD, LD, SLD, etc.) are identified and provided the supports and services that will enable them to succeed in their educational program and achieve their potential.

5. Class size

- Reduce class sizes so:
  - o teachers can better personalize learning for every student.
  - o students get the attention they need and deserve.
  - o teachers' workloads remain manageable.
  - o students aren't overwhelmed by noise and other distractions.

6. Assessment and reporting

- Provide parents with more frequent and in-progress (formative) assessment of their children's progress at school. Finding out at report card time how their kids are doing is often too late to intervene if assistance would help. (While a good idea, many teachers have suggested that this may not be practical. Teachers are already extremely busy, so more reporting would be a burden.)
- Introduce or make greater use of online portfolios and/or class websites to showcase student work on an ongoing basis. (As above, though, many teachers are worried that this will add to their already heavy workloads.)
- Develop marking schemes and rubrics that allow teachers to accurately and consistently compare and assess a wide variety of student presentations.
- Look closely at standardized testing to see if it makes sense as we move more towards a personalized learning model.

Theme 3: Parents, Communities, and Schools

1. Parent engagement

- Help parents better understand the move to personalized learning and what role they can play in helping co-construct or support their children's learning experiences. Many parents recognize that this is a new way to teach and learn and that they must play a role in supporting this change.
- Recognize that the more flexible the learning environment and the more choices the child is provided, the more important the parent's role becomes.
- Invite parents into the school and classroom on a regular basis. Let them know they're welcome.
- Find other times and ways for parents and teachers to meet. More accommodation needs to be made for work schedules and other commitments.
- Provide parents with more information at the start of the year about what their children will be learning. Continue this information sharing throughout the year.
- Provide parents with clear measures of what their children are supposed to know and be able to do, and report frequently on how they're doing against those measures.

"The knowledge that parents bring to the table needs to be valued, listened to and enacted on if need be. Parents need to have as many opportunities as possible to share their thoughts and feelings, to provide input, to have a voice in decisions which impact their children."

- Lori, parent

"There needs to be a stronger community integrated approach to education, drawing from a wider pool of expertise that can work with teachers on a continuous basis – to inform, collaborate and problem solve. With so little support, teachers are forced to solve difficult issues including student diversity, alone. This is not fair to the teacher, the child or the community." - Christina, student

2. School-community connections

- Provide more opportunities for students to go into the community to learn hands on skills, gain work experience, and earn wages.
- Encourage community members, such as retirees and experts from various fields, to come into the schools to teach and/or mentor students using more “real world” experiences.
- Make greater use of the services and expertise offered at community libraries. Invite community librarians into the schools to give book talks, explain how to use library databases, etc., and take field trips to these libraries to learn more.

3. School choice

- Reduce or eliminate funding for independent schools, because:
  - o every dollar the provincial government spends on them is one less dollar available for already underfunded public schools.
  - o independent schools often select their students rather than accepting anyone who would like to attend.
- Maintain funding for independent schools, because:
  - o they save us money, as they must cover their own capital costs (i.e., money for things like the construction of new facilities). If the independent school system was disbanded and these students were moved to the public school system a lot of money would have to be spent on new schools, equipment, etc. to accommodate them.
  - o they allow parents to send their children to schools that reflect their belief and value systems and the expertise of the faculty.
- Continue to allow students to choose where they will take their schooling – bricks and mortar schools, online distributed learning programs, or a combination of both. Allow students to take courses from more than one institution.

Theme 4: Digital Technologies in Schools

- Ensure schools teach students important technology skills, such as digital literacy, critical analysis of online content, and digital citizenship.
- Balance the teaching of digital technologies with the teaching of the 3 R's.
- Invest more money in updating Internet connections, computer systems, software, and other digital technologies in schools.
- Ensure all students have equal access to digital technologies at school. If a “Bring Your Own Device” policy is introduced then it’s up to the government to provide money and/or create a system for lower -income families to rent/borrow/lease old tablets/laptops/phones, etc.
- Minimize the use of digital technologies in school, as they:
  - o de-value the important role played by teachers.
  - o isolate students from each other and from their teachers.
  - o lead to decreased physical, emotional and mental health.
- Improve the quality of distributed learning courses and programs. There is concern that they are inferior to classroom offerings and that student achievement and completion rates are unacceptably low.
- Provide teachers with more training in the use and teaching of digital technologies.
- Replace the BC Electronic Student Information System (BCeSIS) with a new, more suitable tool. BCeSIS is out of date and has been plagued by technical glitches.

“Children can and do learn through technology but the learning needs to be carefully mediated and cannot be at the expense of real interactions with real people – both adults and peers.” - Gayle, teacher

Theme 5: Administrative Issues

1. School district functions and services

- Reduce the number of school districts in B.C. in order to:
  - o save money on administration.
  - o reduce bureaucracy and duplication of services.
  - o provide students and staff in smaller, more rural, districts with more opportunities and resources.

Perhaps school district boundaries need to be redrawn such that we have fewer but larger school districts, all about the same size in terms of number of students so that students across B.C. have comparable learning opportunities, school districts have comparable efficiencies of scale, school districts can attract comparable human resources, etc. Fewer, but larger and equally sized school districts, would save us money on administration too...
- Richard, teacher

2. Calendars and timetables

- Start school later in the day to correspond with the schedules and sleeping patterns of students.
- Stagger the start times of schools so parents can drop each of their children off on time then make it to work on time.
- Stick with the traditional calendar (i.e., two month summer break) because:
  - o summer time is fun time. The weather is good and people want to enjoy some time off.
  - o businesses (e.g., summer camps, tourist destinations) rely on the long summer break for most of their customers.
  - o secondary students rely on summer breaks to earn money for their post secondary education.
- Switch to a year-round school calendar to:
  - o reduce the summer learning loss often experienced by disadvantaged students.
  - o spread families' childcare needs more evenly throughout the year.
  - o give families more time to take vacations in the traditional off seasons, when it's cheaper.
- Ensure that school holiday periods are harmonized across B.C.
- Don't make any changes to school timetables and calendars until after the public has been consulted extensively. Make changes only if the majority of the people consulted agree with them.

Next Steps

In this report we've done our best to capture the key themes and suggestions you've made on our online discussion forum.

We recognize that transforming our education system involves more than just giving you a space to talk and then writing fancy reports. We must also act on what you've told us. And we're doing that. We're busy doing the work to make important education change a reality. For example, many of you have told us that you'd like to see fewer curriculum outcomes per subject and sets of outcomes that span different subjects. Our new Curriculum and Assessment Framework addresses ideas like these. You've also told us that reading success begins in the early grades and must be better supported. A Superintendent of Reading has been appointed to lead work, with educators and ministry staff, in this important area.

Many other initiatives that align with your comments are beginning to take place. In the next few weeks and months expect to hear more from us on how your comments are influencing our work. In the meantime, please see our Actions pages for details on the work we're doing on BC's Education Plan.

As a new school year approaches, opportunities to help shape our education system will continue. A lot of new things are in the works. For starters, we're rebuilding BC's Education Plan website based on feedback from you. We will provide you with more opportunities to contribute content and ideas. You've asked for space to have your own conversations, and we're working on that as well.

We will also be stepping up our efforts to connect with as many people as possible. Admittedly, we haven't heard from nearly enough people yet. We need more input, not only in sheer numbers of people but across a broader section of our provincial population.

We'll be working even harder than before to get the invitation out to as many people as possible. Engaging with us is much more than just contributing to our online discussion forum. In the coming months, look for more opportunities to meet with us in person at different venues, to speak by phone, and to connect with each other to share your findings and ideas. Check out our face-to-face toolkits, EdCafe and EdChats, to host your own conversations. We will also be expanding our social media reach to include a Facebook page so we can highlight engagement opportunities and share the great stories we are hearing about.

It's important to remember that BC's Education Plan is a vision for education transformation in BC. It is not a prescriptive document or set of requirements for teachers and schools. As we move ahead with our engagement we will continue to emphasize this is a genuine forum to contribute, to share, and to shape the Plan. Our role is to provide you with the space to engage and to help make BC's K-12 education system even better.

We invite everyone to take part.

Minister's Message

This is an exciting time of change for education in British Columbia.

We're starting from a strong position: motivated and talented students, outstanding teachers, committed parents, skilled administrators and dedicated education partners. We are also fortunate to live in a province that values education and gives young people opportunities to excel.

And yet our education system is based on a model of learning from an earlier century. To change that, we need to put students at the centre of their own education. We need to make a better link between what kids learn at school and what they experience and learn in their everyday lives. We need to create new learning environments for students that allow them to discover, embrace, and fulfill their passions. We need to set the stage for parents, teachers, administrators and other partners to prepare our children for success not only in today's world, but in a world that few of us can yet imagine.

Inspired by innovative change already taking place in B.C. communities and developed through many months of consultation with educators, students, parents and other British Columbians, BC's Education Plan responds to the realities and demands of a world that has already changed dramatically and continues to change.

Before us lies a tremendous opportunity. We know more now than we've ever known about how children learn. It is time to use that knowledge to change what we do so students can realize their full potential.

As both a parent and grandparent, I want an education system that gives all children the best opportunities to be successful in whatever career they pursue. I'm sure every British Columbian feels the same way. By working together, we

it's what BC's Education Plan is all about.

George Abbott

The Challenge: Education In A Fast-Changing World

Most people agree that British Columbia's education system is a good one. Teachers are skilled, facilities are sound and students succeed.

Yet an education system designed in the very different circumstances of an earlier century can't possibly always meet the challenges students face – both now and in the future. In the social, economic and technological environment of the past, change was much more gradual than it is today. Many of the opportunities and jobs we're preparing our students for don't even exist today. So while we enjoy a strong and stable system, we need a more nimble and flexible one that can adapt more quickly to better meet the needs of 21st century learners.

We've all got a stake in preparing our young people for success in a changing world. Our challenge is clear. The world has changed and it will continue to change, so the way we educate students needs to continually adapt.

The Opportunity

Children are natural born learners, and teachers are passionate about teaching. We have a unique opportunity to forge that common ground toward a more innovative education system that meets the needs of B.C. families today and in the future, to keep our young people achieving and thriving in a dynamic, rapidly evolving world.

We need to build on the many strengths of our existing education system while modernizing education so it can adapt and respond to students' needs. And we need to involve British Columbians more directly in discussions and decisions about education.

We can make education more flexible so students and families benefit from the exciting knowledge economy we're part of. To do that, students must be at the centre of a more personalized approach to learning. They will still learn basic core skills, but they will also have more freedom to pursue their individual interests and passions within a particular topic. Teachers are fundamental to student success. Teachers must be supported to work with students in a variety of roles: guide, mentor, coach, content expert. Our schools must be more adaptable in responding to student needs.

We must continue to work with Aboriginal communities, through partnerships like Aboriginal Education Enhancement Agreements with school districts to focus on the needs of Aboriginal students and improve learning outcomes.

We must make better use of technology in education so our young people will be equipped to use it effectively and ethically.

We need more responsive and effective interventions for students who are struggling.

Parents must also be involved in planning their child's education and then helping them to achieve success. In partnership with their children's teacher and their child, parents will play an important role in supporting their child's learning.

Building on Our Strengths

BC's Education Plan will build on the strengths of our existing system while moving to adaptable education for the world of today and tomorrow. New legislation will be required for some of these changes, while others can be made through collaboration and engagement with all education partners.

STAYING SOLID ON THE BASICS

For all students, reading, writing and math skills will still be emphasized and students will still be required to meet core learning outcomes. B.C. students have a strong track record of success in international measures of these skills and BC's Education Plan will build on that success.

MORE REAL-WORLD SKILLS

While a solid knowledge base in the basic skills will be maintained, to better prepare students for the future there will be more emphasis on key competencies like self-reliance, critical thinking, inquiry, creativity, problem solving, innovation, teamwork and collaboration, cross-cultural understanding, and technological literacy. We can also connect students more directly with the world outside of school, with increased focus on learning these skills across topic areas.

IMPROVED STUDENT ASSESSMENT AND REPORTING

Students' progress will continue to be monitored through rigorous province-wide assessments. Effective classroom assessment practices are key to student success and will be even more vital in a more personalized learning environment. Educators will have more ability to decide how and when each student is assessed. New tools will be developed to provide greater access, richer information, and more consistency across the province on student progress. Regular reporting to parents both formally and informally will remain key.

IMPORTANCE OF TEACHERS

A great teacher has always been the key to creating outstanding educational experiences. Under BC's Education Plan, this will continue. To help students succeed in a rapidly-changing world, teachers will be empowered to shift from being the primary source of content to focus on helping students learn how to learn.

This Plan will make it easier for teachers to use their professional knowledge and discretion to guide students toward the skills and knowledge that will help them thrive in later life. By having the curriculum built around fewer but higher level outcomes, this plan gives teachers and students more time and flexibility to explore student's interests and passions.

EFFECTIVE TEACHING

Students, parents and teachers all need the teaching profession to be administered in a way that ensures high standards and puts the public interest first. To achieve these goals, this Plan will address widely-shared concerns about how our province's teaching profession has been regulated. It will make sure teacher regulation protects both students and the public interest. It will also ensure teachers get regular, meaningful feedback to inform how they teach.

This Plan opens the door for new ways of learning – not just for students, but for teachers as well.

GREATER FLEXIBILITY

Under BC's Education Plan schools will gain new flexibility to design programs that really work for all students. There will be more flexibility and choice regarding how, when and where learning takes place, and there will be more flexibility about how students are organized for learning. Public and independent schools, including speciality programs like traditional schools and academies, will continue to be options for parents and students.

FREEDOM TO ADAPT

This Plan will give students, families and educators more say on how, where, when and what students will learn. In many cases, the way classes and schools look might change. School calendars may change if boards of education see that as benefitting students. Almost certainly, more learning will take place outside of the school setting.

British Columbia's Response: Flexible, Adaptable, Excellence In Education

BC's Education Plan is based on a simple principle: every learner will realize their full potential and contribute to the well-being of our province.

To move our education system from good to great, the Plan has five key elements:

- 1) Personalized learning for every student
- 2) Quality teaching and learning
- 3) Flexibility and choice
- 4) High standards
- 5) Learning empowered by technology

1 Personalized Learning for Every Student

Under the Plan, teachers, students and parents will work together to make sure every student's needs are met, passions are explored and goals are achieved. This means student-centered learning that's focused on the needs, strengths and aspirations of each individual young person. Students will play an active role in designing their own education and will be increasingly accountable for their own learning success. It's all about putting students at the centre of education. That means giving teachers and schools the flexibility to make sure each student is well served by their educational program. Each student is unique and our education system will support each student's interests and ways of learning.

ACTION STEPS

- We will work with our education partners to identify the attributes of an educated citizen and how that will be articulated throughout the education program culminating in graduation.
- Curriculum will be redesigned to reflect the core competencies, skills, and knowledge that students need to succeed in the 21st century.
- A curriculum with fewer but higher level outcomes will create time to allow deeper learning and understanding.
- Increased flexibility will be key to making sure that student's passions and interests are realized, as well as their different and individual ways of learning.

2 Quality Teaching and Learning ✓

BC's Education Plan acknowledges the complexity of the teacher's role. Teachers will receive support as they continue to adjust their roles to match what students need, moment by moment, to design personalized education that opens the door to educational success for British Columbia's young people. Professional standards will be high, and we will bring in a new system to regulate the teaching profession.

ACTION STEPS

- We will work with our education partners to make sure that Professional Development days are used to enhance educators' knowledge base and professional expertise. It is important that teachers are able to refresh and develop new practices throughout their careers by participating in professional learning opportunities. On Pro D days, parents make alternative arrangements for their children and they need to be assured that these days are used as intended.
- We will work with universities to ensure teacher preparation programs give new teachers the knowledge and skills they require to support student learning.

- We believe mentoring is key to supporting teachers' professional learning, both in their formative years and throughout their careers. Teachers will have increased access to learning opportunities by working with teacher mentors and each other.
- We will work collaboratively with educators, to increase transparency and accountability and to ensure that the interests of children are protected. New legislation will create a teacher regulation system that puts the public interest first. The goal is to raise the stature of the teaching profession and increase public confidence in the profession's disciplinary processes.
- Working British Columbians in most professions participate in performance evaluation sessions with their employer. Principals will be doing the same with teachers. Regular feedback to teachers will help focus their professional development opportunities.

3 Flexibility and Choice ↗

BC's Education Plan will mean more choice for students and families with respect to how, when and where learning takes place. Boards of education will also have more flexibility to organize classes and other learning experiences so they can better direct resources to support student learning. Districts will also have more flexibility to vary the school calendar to better meet their student needs. Students will continue to create blended learning opportunities through online learning and class-based environments. Enrolment in online courses has grown by more than 500% in the last five years.

ACTION STEPS

- Boards of education will be able to set their own school calendars to better meet the needs of their community.

- Parents and students will still have choice and opportunity to decide which school their child attends within the public and independent school systems.
- We will create better opportunities for parents to engage in their child's learning with more flexibility and choice with respect to what, how, when and where their child learns.
- We will expand our current learning credential program to better recognize learning that takes place outside of the classroom – like arts, sports, science and leadership programs – so that students are fairly acknowledged for this work.

4 High Standards ★★

What students know and what they are expected to learn with respect to knowledge and competencies is reflected in a strong core curriculum. Student performance with respect to provincial standards will be key to moving forward. Student progress will be reported to parents in a more meaningful, effective and consistent manner across the province, enabling parents to play a key role in shaping their children's education.

ACTION STEPS

- We will ensure our standards remain relevant and robust so that every graduate has every advantage to succeed in life.
- We will build on basic core curriculum skills but also make sure that students are well-versed in the competencies they need to succeed, like critical thinking and teamwork.
- All assessment activities, whether province-wide or classroom-based, will support ongoing student learning. Our provincial assessment programs will be reviewed to ensure they focus on key competencies and critical skills and knowledge. Classroom assessment tools, including performance standards and other assessment support material, will be developed with educators.
- Effective intervention strategies and supports will be available to teachers, students and parents to more quickly identify students who are struggling and to address their specific needs.

5 Learning Empowered by Technology

B.C. leads the country on internet connectivity – 85% of British Columbians use the internet on a regular basis.

BC's Education Plan will encourage smart use of technology in schools, better preparing students to thrive in an increasingly digital world. Students will have more opportunity to develop the competencies needed to use current and emerging technologies effectively, both in school and in life. Educators will be given the supports needed to use technology to empower the learning process, and to connect with each other, parents, and communities. Schools will have increased Internet connectivity to support learners and educators.

ACTION STEPS

- Learners, educators and families will have improved access to digital tools and resources that support both face-to-face and online learning.
- The Province will promote the use of technology for both students and educators.
- The Province's new agreement with TELUS to provide all telecommunications services for government will allow for improved access to the Internet in B.C. schools.
- An improved provincial student information and reporting system will help teachers plan a more personalized learning experience with students and their parents.

Taking The Next Steps

Under BC's Education Plan, ours will be an education system that's more flexible, dynamic and adaptable, to better prepare students for a bright future. We're not alone in recognizing the need for change. Jurisdictions around the world are re-examining how their education systems are designed and they are working to make them more responsive to the kind of learning children need now, and what they will need in the future.

The way to get from good to great is through personalized learning, supporting teachers, creating more flexibility and choice for families, maintaining high standards and embracing technology. It is an opportunity for every child, every student, every learner to do their very best in education.

Working with our education partners, and in consultation with the public, we will get from good to great as we bring personalized learning into classrooms. And we invite all British Columbians to get involved in this exciting transformation.

We are engaging students, parents, teachers, educators and community groups to help shape this new blueprint for education. We are bringing all education partners and the public into this dialogue to fully realize BC's Education Plan.

| 15 | Budget 2010   | Community ConnectionsWe will work with partners in municipal governments, school districts and community organizations to turn more of BC's schools into Neighbourhood Learning Centres, where people of all ages can access learning opportunities and other services under the same roof. With declining enrolment, many of our schools now have under-utilized space, and we are working with them to put that space to use for the benefit of whole communities. | Ongoing     | Neighbourhood Learning Centres. All new schools approved for construction include Ministry-funded space to house NLCs.- 29 NLC capital projects exist or are under construction in BC- 3 completed NLC capital projects are successfully operating- 26 capital NLC projects have been initiated since September 2008- An additional 13 capital projects were announced in October, 2011 and are in various stages of project planning which may include the potential for NLC space.   |
| 16 | Platform 2011 | CurriculumEnhance curricula relating to critical thinking skills in subjects such as math, language arts, social studies and science, so our students are better able to analyze large amounts of info.  | In Progress | A draft curriculum prototype and definitions of cross-curricular competencies were shared with the educational community through regional working sessions. Curriculum redesign is underway.   |
| 17 | Platform 2011 | CurriculumIncrease the number of schools offering language immersion in French, Mandarin and Punjabi.  | Ongoing     | School Districts' decision to offer programs of choice.School Districts would need provincial funding to support the offering of Mandarin and/or Punjabi immersion programs. The Ministry would have to develop Mandarin and Punjabi K-12 curriculum documents. Teacher recruitment might be difficult.  |
| 18 | Platform 2011 | CurriculumInclude First Nations in our school curriculum and we should work to ensure new Canadians and their histories are equally included.  | Ongoing     | The Ministry of Education is in the midst of redesigning a new and more effective curriculum that will 1) reduce the volume and prescriptive nature of the current curricula while still ensuring a consistent focus on the essential elements of learning and 2) focus less on imparting facts and the information-based details of what needs to be learned and more on the "big ideas" or concepts that students need to master to succeed in their education and their lives.Subjects such as math, science, language arts and social studies will remain at the heart of every student's education. But with the improved curriculum students will be able to develop a deeper understanding of those subjects and their fundamental concepts. For example, in social studies students will continue to learn about and explore historical events |

The British Columbia Teachers' Federation (BCTF), established in 1917, is the union of professionals representing 41,000 public school teachers in the province of British Columbia, Canada. All public school teachers belong to the BCTF and their local teachers' association.

The BCTF was incorporated as a benevolent society in 1919 and achieved full collective bargaining rights in 1987.

The BCTF is committed to communicating with members and the general public on issues of importance to teachers, students, parents, and the broader community.

Current issues include funding for school libraries, class size and composition, the Foundation Skills Assessment (FSA), and teacher salaries (current contract expires June 30, 2011).

BCPSEA is the employers' association and accredited bargaining agent for the province's 60 public boards of education.

Representatives from the 60 school boards elect nine school trustees to the Board of Directors, including the Chair and the Vice Chair; they are joined by four government representatives and a non voting representative each from the BC School Superintendents' Association and the BC School District Secretary Treasurers' Association. As the employers' association, we have responsibility for:

- Promoting effective and cooperative human resources practices in the public school system that contribute to the betterment of public education.
- Coordinating benefits administration among the various school districts in order to maximize coverage in the most cost effective manner.
- Coordinating compensation for employees who are not subject to collective agreements—usually the administrative and management staff in school districts.
- Providing labour relations advice and services to boards of education, including contract interpretation and grievance/arbitration case management.
- Determining collective bargaining objectives for the public education sector.
- Negotiating provincially with the British Columbia Teachers' Federation (the teachers' union) for a provincial teachers' collective agreement covering the 60 public boards of education and their employees, for coordinating local bargaining between the school boards and their local teachers' associations.
- Providing assistance, resources and coordination for support staff collective bargaining in our capacity as the accredited bargaining agent for all 60 public boards of education. While bargaining is done at the local board of education level, approval of the negotiated compensation provisions is required by our association.
- Leading the K 12 public education sector in the development and implementation of strategies and resources to address labour market trends and demands to ensure the maintenance of a sustainable, qualified workforce.
- Facilitating the development and implementation of public policy through advice to government and services to school districts. Provide insight and advice on the human resource implications of legislative and policy initiatives.

BCCPAC is a charitable organization registered under the Society Act of BC and committed to enhancing the parental voice in public education in BC.

BCCPAC's purposes are:

- To advance the public school education and well being of children in the province of BC.
- To carry on activities to promote and enhance meaningful parent participation in an advisory role at the school, school district and provincial levels.

We are:

- Governed by a volunteer board of nine directors elected annually by the membership.
- Managed by a committed full time staff.
- Assisted by contract workers and volunteers.

About us:

- BCCPAC represents a membership of over 1,000 Parent Advisory Councils and District Parent Advisory Councils from every school district in the province.
- Collectively, we represent the parents of hundreds of thousands of children in BC.
- We receive funding from the Ministry of Education, membership fees, conference registration fees, sales of resources, advertising, sponsorship, and project funding.
- We ensure that parents have a voice in their children's education.
- We ensure that the BC public education system remains focused on the needs of children.
- We support parents as they navigate the education system and exercise their and their children's rights in education.
- We hold two annual conferences for members
  - Fall Conference
  - Spring Conference and Annual General Meeting
- We assist members with a wide range of services, including the BCCPAC Advocacy Project and Member Services, and we produce many valuable resources.

The members of the BCSSA are the superintendents, assistant superintendents, directors of instruction and other senior executives of BC's 60 school districts. Prior to their district level appointments, our members served for many years as teachers and principals. They each hold a valid BC Teacher's Certificate and bring highly developed skills and a lifelong passion for teaching and learning to their district positions. BCSSA members are the province's educational leaders, uniquely qualified to ensure the success of students and school district operations.

There are currently more than 250 BCSSA members, including some members who have been seconded to the Ministry of Education. Additionally, there are more than 200 senior active (retired from school district) members who participate in association activities.

The key work of the BC School Superintendents Association is to enable our members to be visionary leaders of public education by supporting their individual professional development and by representing their collective wisdom and interests.

To support them in fulfilling their leadership roles, we create professional development (Pro D) events to address emerging issues, the changing needs of school district administrators and the development and effective use of advanced educational and administrative approaches and technologies. These events not only help our members enhance their leadership skills, but also present opportunities for them to network with colleagues throughout the province who share similar job responsibilities and interests.

The BC School Trustees Association (BCSTA) is a non profit, voluntary organization dedicated to assisting boards of education in their key work: improving student achievement through community engagement. The key work concept, which BCSTA introduced in 1998, explains in straightforward terms what it is that school trustees are elected to do, and how they do it.

Boards of education are elected to improve student achievement. They do it by engaging their communities in building and maintaining a school system that reflects local priorities, values and expectations. School trustees listen to their communities, guide the work of their school district, setting a plan, policy and the annual budget—and report back to the public on how our students are doing.

BC's 60 boards of education are all members of BCSTA. Our school trustees and their boards look to their association to serve as a strong provincial voice and to influence government by representing the membership on matters affecting public education.

The mission of the BCSTA is to support and advocate for effective public boards of education and quality public education in British Columbia. The key work of school boards is improving student achievement through community engagement.

Effective February 1, 2008, the BC School District Secretary Treasurers' Association (BCSDSTA) officially became the BC Association of School Business Officials (BCASBO).

The BC Association of School Business Officials is the professional association of the business officials working in school districts. The membership includes Secretary Treasurers, Assistant Secretary Treasurers, Comptrollers, Payroll and Benefits Supervisors, Managers of Human Resources, Accountants, Information Systems Managers.

The Association provides its members with professional development opportunities and a forum to share ideas, new initiatives, and concerns. It provides an important communication vehicle to ensure that each individual school district is able to learn solutions from others.

The Executive of the Association meets quarterly with officials of the Ministry of Education to ensure the Ministry is aware of concerns and issues as well as to provide the Ministry with valuable advice on their work.

Our members participate on many advisory committees such as the Accounting Advisory Committee, Funding Review Committee, Risk Management Advisory Committee and the Education Advisory Council.

BC Principals' and Vice Principals' Association (BCPVPA) works to ensure that the views of principals and vice principals are heard in all education matters. Although the BCPVPA has been an autonomous professional association since January 1988, the organization's history dates back another 30 years as a Provincial Specialist Association (PSA) of the BC Teachers' Federation.

The BCPVPA is governed by an elected Board of Directors (President, either President Elect or Past President, and 10 directors). Three times per year, representatives from all BCPVPA Chapters convene at Chapter Council to provide guidance and direction to the Board; to prepare and receive reports; and to carry out activities assigned to it by the Board or by members at an AGM. The day to day business of the Association is directed by the executive director with five managers and six support staff.

Today, the Association's strategic priorities are:

- The BCPVPA will strive to ensure its members have the skills to be effective educational leaders;
- The BCPVPA will advocate for its members to have the time, resources and support to be effective educational leaders;
- The BCPVPA will work cooperatively with education partners to sustain and improve public education;
- The BCPVPA will proactively monitor emerging issues to inform and advise members; and
- The BCPVPA will be recognized as an innovative, inclusive and vigorous community of educational leaders
- The BCPVPA will maintain a strong efficient and effective organization.

The First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) is an independent society that is committed to improving education for all First Nations learners in British Columbia. FNESC is led by representatives of First Nations across the province.

FNESC was established in May 1992 by participants at a Provincial First Nations Education Conference held at the Vancouver Friendship Centre. Generally, FNESC works as a collective organization to facilitate First Nations support for one another in the area of education, and to communicate with both the federal and provincial governments to ensure that First Nations concerns are being addressed.

FNESC also works to provide relevant and up to date information to First Nations about federal and provincial government policies and programs, to undertake research to support effective First Nations education, and to facilitate communication amongst First Nations and with other education organizations.

FNESC also provides administrative services for the First Nations Schools Association, the Indigenous Adult and Higher Learning Association (IAHLA) and other partner organizations.

Description from Website: (www.bcafn.ca)

The BC Assembly of First Nations (BCAFN) is a Political Territorial Organization (PTO) that represents the 203 First Nations in British Columbia. The BCAFN is inclusive in its representation including First Nations involved in the treaty process and those that have chosen not to engage. In addition, we also represent the modern and historic treaty First Nations of BC, which include the Nisga'a Nation, and the Douglas and Treaty 8 First Nations. An elected Regional Chief provides the political leadership and activities for the BCAFN, and this role is a three year term, elected by the Chiefs of the First Nations of BC.

The BCAFN is a regional arm of the National Assembly of First Nations (AFN), which makes the Regional Chief an Executive Member of the AFN Executive Committee. The Regional Chief represents the regional concerns of the BCAFN constituents on the Executive Committee to ensure that regional perspectives are included in National political discussions and decision making. The Regional Chief also holds specific portfolios that deal with national policy issues and concerns.

The Regional Chief hosts regional assemblies that allow for the First Nations leadership of BC to engage in open socio political discussion in order to provide direction and mandates to the Regional Chief that are community driven. The Regional Chief then ensures that these mandates are represented and advocated at both the regional and federal level, creating linkages between the two processes. It is the role of the BCAFN to ensure that these activities continue to be communicated and represented at the community level.

The BCAFN is working towards creating new and better memories for First Nations that include meaningful participatory relationships with the provincial and federal governments as well as with industry, and which close the socio economic gap that exists for First Nations.

The new relationship with the BC Provincial Government and the recently signed made in BC tripartite Transformative Change Agreement will allow all parties to work towards reconciliation of Aboriginal rights and title with the Crown and to establish new relationships built on mutual respect and recognition. These principles and agreements will allow for First Nations, governments, industry, and other stakeholders to work together, inquire, and establish new forms of interaction that will respect and acknowledge First Nations title and rights.

The British Columbia Federation of Labour represents more than half a million workers through affiliated unions in more than 800 locals, working in every aspect of the BC economy.

Established in 1956, the BCFed, as it is most commonly known, has a long and proud history of fighting for the rights of all working people. The goals of the Federation are best exemplified by its slogan: "What we desire for ourselves, we wish for all."

The B.C. Federation of Labour brings together the majority of unions in BC to provide a single voice on workers' rights. As well, the Federation provides support to affiliated unions during labour disputes and co ordinates cross union campaigns from health and safety to political action and women's rights.

The Federation is a member of the Canadian Labour Congress (CLC) and works with it to further the interests of working people across the country.

The ABCDE also promotes the exchange of ideas and discussion about enhancing educational opportunities for B.C.'s children.

The mission of the Association of British Columbia Deans of Education (ABCDE) is to promote cooperation and collaboration between and among British Columbia's Faculties of Education, as well as among their education partners. Such cooperation and collaboration is for the purposes of:

- supporting commitment to lifelong learning;
- providing innovative, resourceful, responsive, and inclusive undergraduate and graduate programs for the preparation and growth of teachers and others concerned with learning in both school and non school settings;
- building collaboration among, and partnership with, other educational stakeholders;
- encouraging and sharing pertinent scholarship and research;
- promoting the free and open exchange of ideas, analyses, and views of educational issues;
- enhancing learning opportunities for British Columbians; and
- exploring synergies and initiatives around shared priorities.

The Conseil scolaire francophone de la Colombie Britannique (also known as Francophone Education Authority or School District No. 93) is the French language school board for all French schools located in British Columbia. Unlike the other school boards in British Columbia, this school board does not cover a specific geographic area, but instead takes ownership of schools based solely on language.

The board of education for School District No. 93 helps ensure those with constitutional rights to minority language education under section 23 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms receive it.

Since its creation in 1995, the Conseil scolaire francophone de la Colombie Britannique offers educational programs and services geared towards the growth and cultural promotion of the province's Francophone learners. An active partner in the development of British Columbia's Francophone community, the Conseil has presently in its system, and distributed across 78 communities in the province, over 4,350 students and 38 schools, which includes 23 homogeneous schools.

Who are we?

Students leading with one voice in co-operation with educators through mutual respect and support.

Our history

In 1990, a group of dedicated students and educators saw a need for enhancing student leadership in British Columbia. The B.C. Principals' & Vice-Principals' Association, with the support of the Ministry of Education, assisted the group in launching a concept called BC Student Voice. Since then, the Voice has grown to represent all regions across the province. BC Student Voice has placed representatives on provincial Ministry of Education committees and represented student opinion at regional and provincial meetings. BC Student Voice has developed its own vision, mission and goals. Supported by adult advisors, students meet regularly to review provincial education directions, gather support for their various regional initiatives and facilitate developments of school and district student voices.

Goals

- To increase the awareness of BC Student Voice throughout the province.
- To establish broad representation of students for the provincial BC Student Voice by creating a regional representative network throughout the province.
- To communicate information about BC Student Voice with all partners in education.
- To encourage all members of BC Student Voice to meet with their principals and vice-principals to discuss further involvement of students and methods of networking with other schools.
- To increase awareness and understanding, and to facilitate positive change in social issues.

Decoda brings together Literacy BC and the literacy department of 2010 Legacies Now.

-For 20 years, Literacy BC offered training, tools and support to those who work in adult literacy. In partnership with the federal and provincial government, it raised awareness, developed policy, promoted innovation in practice, built an extensive library, and supported adult learners.

-For 10 years, the literacy department of 2010 Legacies Now partnered with the Province of British Columbia to support literacy development in more than 400 communities and neighbourhoods across BC.

Mission, Vision and Values

Our Vision

A culture of community-based learning and literacy in British Columbia.

Our Mission

To address and support the full continuum of literacy and learning priorities identified by communities across BC so that people can better participate in society and the communities themselves become even more resilient.

Our Primary Beneficiaries

Our primary beneficiary is the literacy network, which is the main vehicle for meeting literacy needs within BC.

Our Essential Stakeholders

- Communities
- Literacy Practitioners
- School Districts, Post-Secondary Institutions and Libraries
- Federal and Provincial Governments

- Business & Industry

Our Values

- Collaboration: We believe diverse ideas and contributions create impactful literacy and learning solutions.
- Courage: We embrace innovation and take action.
- Kindness: We treat colleagues and others as we wish to be treated, with care, respect and appreciation.
- Accountability: We demonstrate, measure and share results.

Distinctive Excellence

- Literacy Expertise: We are recognized leaders in literacy and community development.
- Community Leverage: We're able to mobilize a province-wide network of resources and expertise to leverage investments in literacy.
- Co-Creating Solutions: We bring together public policy makers, business and industry, individual philanthropists, and communities to work together to meet our collective literacy priorities, goals and interests.

Strategic Goals

- Community Focus: Actively support the literacy and learning needs of all who live and work in communities across BC.
- Capacity Building: Increase literacy expertise and capacity within British Columbia.
- Leadership: Provide thought leadership and promote expertise in practice.
- Workforce Development: Improve the competencies of the current and future workforce.
- Financial Viability: Build sustainable funding for community literacy and coordination.
- Organizational Effectiveness: Ensure Decoda Literacy Solutions is operationally aligned to meet its business objectives.

Our Services

Decoda will work with any group that is committed to community-based literacy and learning.

We support all types of literacy, including adult, family, early childhood, and workplace. As well, we support new areas of interest, such as health and financial literacy. We offer professional development, funding, resources, and evaluation tools. We research new ideas and best practices, and we raise public awareness of literacy as a solution to many social issues.

We respond to community needs, as well as emerging trends and government priorities.

About BCLA

Our Mission

The purposes of the Association are to encourage library organization and development throughout British Columbia, to coordinate library services in various parts of the province, to create friendly and helpful cooperation between libraries, to maintain contact with similar organizations throughout Canada and elsewhere, and to advance by education, research, friendly association and through cooperative effort the mutual interest of all libraries and library personnel.

Who We Are

The British Columbia Library Association is a nonprofit, independent, voluntary association. Our more than 700 members include librarians, library personnel, library trustees and other interested individuals; corporate, government, school and academic libraries; publishers and library supply companies.

An elected Board of Directors governs the Association. The Association has two sections (YAACS and ALPS), in addition to several committees and interest groups that plan and implement ongoing programs and special projects.

What We Do

- Initiate and coordinate projects to improve library services and information access in B.C.
- Encourage continuing education for library staff through workshops, seminars and conferences.
- Prepare briefs to government on issues of concern to library personnel and others.
- Publish the BCLA Browser, a quarterly online open-access newsletter of library news and information from around the province.
- Organize the annual BC Library Conference, which serves as a major forum for the province's library community.
- Sponsor scholarships and awards in library education.

Description from Website: <http://www.bclta.org>

The BCLTA, which was founded in 1977, represents the boards and trustees that govern local public libraries in British Columbia. We represent over 65 library boards and more than 650 library trustees who volunteer their time on library boards throughout the province. Our mission is “To support and represent trustees in advancing public libraries.” Therefore, we strive to provide a range of services to trustees and boards to make them leaders in BC’s library community. The products and services we offer include an annual conference for trustees, training workshops, trustee awards, bulletins, newsletters, and more.

BCLTA also fills an important strategic role, providing organized representation to the provincial government for library trustees, and undertaking advocacy work on behalf of trustees and public libraries with various levels of government and the public. Our ongoing advocacy work includes:

- Regular meetings with the Director of the Public Library Services Branch to discuss library issues from a trustee perspective, and to advocate for positive changes in provincial support for libraries;
- An annual meeting with the Minister responsible for libraries;
- Meetings with other provincial government ministers and staff as the need arises;
- Participation at the annual Union of BC Municipalities Convention;
- Regular meetings with other provincial library associations, such as the BC Library Association (BCLA) and the Association of BC Public Library Directors (ABCPLD);
- Monitoring government legislation that directly or indirectly affects libraries; and
- Collaborating with the Canadian Library Trustees Association on national issues.

BCLTA is governed by a Board of nine and the work of the Board is supported by an Administrative Assistant.

Membership in BCLTA is based on an institutional membership for the library board, which includes membership privileges for each individual board member.

Mandates

The BCAAFC has an over-riding philosophy and as a registered Society within the Province of BC, our constitution reads:

"The purposes of the BC Association of Aboriginal Friendship Centres are:

1. To promote the betterment of Aboriginal Friendship Centres in the Province of British Columbia.
2. To establish and maintain communications between Aboriginal Friendship Centres and other Provincial Associations and the National Association of Friendship Centres.

3. To act as a unifying body for Aboriginal Friendship Centres. To provide an Association for Government Agencies to communicate through and obtain information from. This, in no way takes away a centre's right to negotiate directly with any agency.
4. To advise the Government, when requested by the collective centres, on how and what programs may assist Aboriginal Friendship Centres, in the development programs to better the lives of Aboriginal Native people in British Columbia."

BCAAFC Goals for Aboriginal Family Literacy

Important Notice: This initiative is not currently funded. Please check back for updates.

The Aboriginal Family Literacy Initiative is a project developed by the BCAAFC which aims to contribute to increased literacy among Aboriginal families in BC through the creation of a movement which will promote, support, and empower Aboriginal Family Literacy.

1. Support Aboriginal family literacy programming among literacy and Aboriginal social service providers in BC
  - Strengthen the networking and collaboration between organizations providing literacy services to Aboriginal people in BC
  - Literacy service providers are empowered to implement culturally appropriate Aboriginal family literacy initiatives
2. Increase access to Aboriginal-focused literacy approaches and resources for both literacy practitioners and Aboriginal families in BC
  - Resources and materials related to Aboriginal family literacy are easily accessible
  - Aboriginal families in BC feel that their needs for culturally relevant reading materials are met
  - Aboriginal families have a culturally-friendly, welcoming place to come read together
  - Gaps and areas for further development of Aboriginal literacy resources are identified
3. Promote Aboriginal family literacy in BC through emphasizing the positive connection between literacy and Aboriginal culture
  - Aboriginal families have a greater awareness of the importance of literacy

- Aboriginal families have a better understanding of family and Aboriginal approaches to literacy, and of the importance of reading at home
- Aboriginal families view literacy as supportive of Aboriginal culture
- Literacy service providers have a strengthened awareness of Aboriginal approaches to family literacy and the importance of employing Aboriginal pedagogy.

Description from Website: <http://www.cmecc.ca/11/About/index.html>

The Council of Ministers of Education, Canada (CMEC) is an intergovernmental body founded in 1967 by ministers of education to serve as:

- a forum to discuss policy issues;
- a mechanism through which to undertake activities, projects, and initiatives in areas of mutual interest;
- a means by which to consult and cooperate with national education organizations and the federal government; and
- an instrument to represent the education interests of the provinces and territories internationally.

CMEC provides leadership in education at the pan-Canadian and international levels and contributes to the exercise of the exclusive jurisdiction of provinces and territories over education.

CMEC is governed by an Agreed Memorandum approved by all members. A Chair is elected every two years based on rotation among the provinces. The current Chair is the Honourable Ramona Jennex of the Department of Education for Nova Scotia. All 13 provinces and territories are members.

What does CMEC do?

Ministers of education work through CMEC on a wide variety of activities, projects, and initiatives. For example, CMEC

- represents provinces and territories on education-related international bodies and participates in their activities;
- contributes to the fulfilment of Canada's international treaty obligations;
- provides a national clearing house and referral service to support the recognition and portability of educational and occupational qualifications;
- assesses the skills and competencies of Canadian students;
- develops and reports on education indicators;
- sponsors research in education-related statistics;
- administers Canada's national official-languages programs; and
- consults and acts on a variety of issues in elementary, secondary, and postsecondary education.

Among other work, CMEC is also currently involved in priority activities related to Aboriginal education, literacy, and postsecondary capacity.

In April 2008, CMEC released Learn Canada 2020, a joint ministerial statement that underscores provincial and territorial responsibility for the four pillars of lifelong learning – early childhood learning and development, elementary and secondary schooling, postsecondary education, and adult learning and skills development – and proposes working collaboratively with key partners and stakeholders to ensure that all Canadians benefit from the strength and diversity of provincial and territorial education systems.

Literacy

Literacy is more than words. Literacy is the key to opportunity for individuals, families, and communities across Canada.

While Canada's youth rank among the top in the world for literacy skills such as prose and numeracy, about nine million adult Canadians struggle with low literacy skills, including more than five million who lack the skills necessary to read a newspaper or fill out a job application.

That's why CMEC has created a literacy action plan to raise literacy levels from coast to coast to coast. Activity areas outlined in the plan include literacy policies, practices, research, assessment, and stakeholder engagement.

Action Schools! BC is a best practices model designed to assist schools in creating individualized action plans to promote healthy living.

ACTION SCHOOLS! BC:

- contributes to the health of children by integrating physical activity and healthy eating messages into the fabric of the school community, with the goal of providing children with a foundation for life-long healthy living.
- provides a framework for action, building on best practices and existing resources within the school community, targeting six Action Zones.
- promotes the creation of inclusive and diverse physical activity and healthy eating opportunities throughout the school day, and supports school initiatives to make healthy choices the easy choices for children.
- is a source of inspiration and practical resources including action ideas, program recommendations, success stories, downloadable resources and program information, and links to healthy living resources from British Columbia and across Canada.
- utilizes existing relationships and generates new partnerships among teachers, school administrators, families, and community practitioners.
- is based on a comprehensive evidenced-based health outcome evaluation that proved the model was effective at increasing the physical activity level of students, and contributed to improvements in their bone health, heart health, dietary requirement awareness, and academic performance (McKay, H.A., 2004).
- Healthy Eating pilot demonstrated that the initiative was effective at changing the pattern of vegetable and fruit consumption of school children in Grades 4 to 7 (Day, Strange, & Naylor, 2007).

The Directorate of Agencies for School Health (DASH) BC is committed to making a significant contribution toward positively influencing the health and learning capacity of students in British Columbia. DASH BC helps inspire school communities to adopt a comprehensive school health approach. This approach offers a practical framework for teachers, students, families, schools and communities to work together to create plans that will enhance student health and learning. It encourages children and youth to make healthy choices about their lifestyle, schools and the communities in which they live.

DASH BC exemplifies trusted leaderships in the field of school health through its successful work with cross sector partners. DASH BC has facilitated share learning, advocacy, development of promising practices and delivery of leading school health programs.

DASH BC uses its deep understanding of comprehensive school health and its network of leaders to deliver and facilitate innovative school health initiatives to directly benefit the health of students and school communities. It also creates meeting opportunities for those who care about school health to connect, share knowledge, and learn with and from each other. The Mission of DASH is to work with partners to improve the health and learning of students in BC by promoting, supporting and facilitating a healthy schools approach.

Vision

That student participation in a healthy school community is the norm, not the exception.

Programs

DASH BC is responsible for:

- Provincial coordination of Healthy Schools BC initiative on behalf of ministries of Education and Health, including management of Healthy Schools BC web portal.
- Implementation of Action Schools! BC
- Administering and supporting the Healthy Schools Network

Breakfast for Learning (BFL) is the leading, national non-profit organization solely dedicated to child nutrition programs in Canada. As the nation's lead advocate for quality nutrition in schools, we provide:

- nutrition grants that allow programs to obtain food, equipment and staff required to meet the needs of their school community;
- child nutrition education resources and tools to help raise awareness and educate communities about proper nutrition;
- research to support the vital link between child nutrition and learning; and
- a strong voice for child nutrition that advocates for national meal program in Canada and quality nutrition in schools.

Since our inception over 19 years ago, BFL has helped to nourish over 2.5 million children from coast to coast to coast. With a network of over 30,000 volunteers, BFL has helped start and sustain over 2,380 nutrition programs, serving millions of healthy breakfasts, lunches and snacks to more than 259,300 children and youth across the country in the 2010-2011 school year.

When a child is hungry, it's hard to learn. Together, we can help ensure children have the nutrition they need to grow and thrive with a world of opportunity in front of them.

Our Mission

- Breakfast for Learning is a national charity that educates and empowers communities to deliver school based nutrition programs, helping children and youth realize their full potential in life.

Our Vision

- To ensure all kids in Canada attend school well nourished, improving their ability to learn, giving them the best chance of success in life.

Our Mission

Breakfast Clubs of Canada is a national not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing services and funding to school breakfast programs. We do this with the help of individual and corporate partners, all committed to the cause of feeding our children's future.

Our History

Launched in 2005, Breakfast Clubs of Canada builds on 15 years of success and experience of the Club des petits déjeuners du Québec (Quebec Breakfast Club), which serves more than 2.5 million breakfasts to Quebec schoolchildren annually. The Quebec Breakfast Club program was recognized by the United Nations World Food Programme. It is the model Breakfast Clubs of Canada promotes for other programs elsewhere in Canada.

Breakfast Clubs of Canada saw the need for school breakfast programs all across Canada. We are currently developing breakfast programs around the country. We are also present in First Nations, Métis and Inuit communities.

Last year, Breakfast Clubs of Canada helped serve over 16 million breakfasts and over 106,000 children in hundreds of school breakfast programs across Canada.

Our vision is to create, advance and apply knowledge through interdisciplinary research to help children thrive.

HELP will make a unique international research contribution to understanding the biological, psychological, and societal factors influencing children's health and development. In pursuit of this mission, HELP uses the following strategies.

- Highlight the importance of the early years on health & development.
- Utilize a longitudinal, life-course perspective.
- Facilitate cell-to-society research collaborations and discourse.
- Foster inter-disciplinary, inter-institutional, inter-cultural and inter-sectoral partnerships.
- Facilitate knowledge exchange capable of transforming lives and communities.

HELP is a research consortium of six major B.C. universities: UBC, UVic, SFU, UNBC, TRU, and UBCO.

The earliest years of life (0 to 6) have a significant impact on an individual's health, well-being and competence later in life. As such, HELP seeks to influence the following broad outcomes/goals for all children:

- To improve nurturant environments for children so that all children will thrive.
- To reduce inequities in patterns of all children's development and educational outcomes.
- To increase universal access to environments that support families and promote healthy development of all children.
- To enhance understanding of the social determinants of child health & development across family, neighbourhood and society.
- To influence structural advances that improve the health and well-being of children and families in BC and beyond.
- To increase awareness that all aspects of a child's development – emotional, social, cognitive, physical and language – are interdependent and of equal importance.
- To increase inter-sectoral, multi-level commitment and investment for the development and expansion of effective ECD policies and programs for all children.

The BC Association of Family Resource Programs (FRP-BC) is a not-for profit provincial organization dedicated to raising the awareness of the importance of community-based Family Resource Programs.

A Family Resource Program is a parent participation drop-in welcoming all families in the community with children aged 0-6 (the early years). The Drop-in is a program model found in the Family Place down the street, the Neighbourhood House around the corner and the Parent Place drop-in at your community / family centre.

Community Action Programs for Children (CAPC) that include a drop-in component are Family Resource Programs. Aboriginal Head Start Programs (AHSP) are very similar to the FRP Model. StrongStart BC Early Learning Programs resemble some components of a Family Resource Program.

The Model is Simple

Parent/child interactive drop-in for families with children 0-6, that are guided by program delivery where;

- Everyone in the community with children 0-6 is welcome
- Parents attend with their children
- Drop-in is free or low cost
- Offers five core areas of service
- Additional resources, programs and services are offered

The British Columbia Healthy Child Development Alliance (BCHDA) is a coalition of health, social, education, research and community organizations sharing a common interest in supporting the healthy development of all children in BC.

The Alliance grew out of the 2004 Healthy Child BC Forum in part from the identification of health child development as a core public health function. Participants at the 2004 Forum outlined a number of key areas and recommendations for action in early childhood development.

The Alliance recognizes that:

- "Health is a state of complete physical, mental and social wellbeing" (WHO Constitution, 1948);
- Child development is a determinant of health lifelong health and well being;
- Healthy child development is determined by broad environmental, social, economic and cultural conditions, and human biology.
- Healthy pregnancy is an important determinant of healthy infant and child development;
- There is a strong correlation between early childhood experiences and adult health status and social well-being, including intellectual development and lifelong learning. Health promotion, prevention and early interventions are critical to ensuring healthy child development and healthy adulthood.

Purpose

The purpose of the Alliance is to provide leadership in encouraging and supporting the development and implementation of policies and strategies that are essential to ensuring healthy child development of all children in BC.

The Joint Consortium for School Health (JCSH) was established by provincial, territorial and federal governments to facilitate and initiate cooperation across the health and education sectors. The focus is on providing information and support to member governments, building system capacity for promoting health through school based and school linked programs and being a catalyst for collaborative activities and actions.

The members of the Consortium interpret “health” in the broadest sense of the word, so a wide variety of health, social and developmental issues are addressed. Member governments pursue a number of approaches and priorities in school health promotion, so there is no one model or strategy that the Consortium promotes over any other.

The Consortium reflects the declared commitment made by First Ministers in the 2004 Health Care Accord to work across sectors through healthy schools. The councils representing education and health ministers endorsed the initiative a few months later.

The JCSH Board of Directors is comprised of one deputy minister from each jurisdiction. The Management Committee is comprised of ADMs and other senior officials. Each province and territory has named a School Health Coordinator. The Public Health Agency of Canada acts as the lead contact for the federal government.

BACKGROUND

In response to the Healthy Living Strategy being developed by Canada’s Health Ministers, the Council of Ministers of Education, Canada approached the health sector to explore the possibility of forming an intergovernmental partnership and action plan to address a variety of health, social and learning related problems of school aged children and youth. Based on the recommendations of a joint working group of deputy ministers, the education and health ministers endorsed the formation of the Joint Consortium for School Health.

The UBCM was formed in 1905 to provide a common voice for local government and this role is as important today as it was more than 100 years ago. The UBCM reflects the truth in the old adages "strength in numbers" and "united we stand    divided we fall".

Convention continues to be the main forum for UBCM policy making. It provides an opportunity for local governments of all sizes and from all areas of the province to come together, share their experiences and take a united position.

Positions developed by members are carried to other orders of government and other organizations involved in local affairs. Policy implementation activities have expanded from annual presentations to Cabinet to UBCM involvement in intergovernmental committees, regular meetings with Ministers and contact on a daily basis with senior government.

In today's ever changing world, where shifts in senior government policies, or in economic, social or political conditions, can have an immediate effect on local government, UBCM stands as a "listening post". UBCM initiates, monitors, interprets and reacts where such changes could have an effect on local governments and the communities they serve.

The result is improved local government and BC's communities are the real winners. Through the UBCM, local government has achieved much, and the potential is always there to achieve even more.

The Council of Ministers of Education, Canada (CMEC) is an intergovernmental body founded in 1967 by ministers of education to serve as:

- a forum to discuss policy issues
- a mechanism through which to undertake activities, projects, and initiatives in areas of mutual interest
- a means by which to consult and cooperate with national education organizations and the federal government
- an instrument to represent the education interests of the provinces and territories internationally

CMEC provides leadership in education at the pan Canadian and international levels and contributes to the fulfilment of the constitutional responsibility for education conferred on provinces and territories. CMEC is governed by an Agreed Memorandum approved by all members. A Chair is elected every two years based on rotation among the provinces. All 13 provinces and territories are members.

Ministers of education work through CMEC on a wide variety of activities, projects, and initiatives. For example, CMEC

- represents provinces and territories on education related international bodies and participates in their activities
- contributes to the fulfilment of Canada's international treaty obligations
- provides a national clearing house and referral service to support the recognition and portability of educational and occupational qualifications
- assesses the skills and competencies of Canadian students
- develops and reports on education indicators
- sponsors research in education related statistics
- administers Canada's national official languages programs
- consults and acts on a variety of issues in elementary, secondary, and postsecondary education

Among other work, CMEC is also currently involved in priority activities related to Aboriginal education, literacy, and postsecondary capacity.

Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development Canada (AANDC) supports Aboriginal people (First Nations, Inuit and Métis) and Northerners in their efforts to:

- improve social well being and economic prosperity
- develop healthier, more sustainable communities
- participate more fully in Canada's political, social and economic development to the benefit of all Canadians

AANDC is one of the federal government departments responsible for meeting the Government of Canada's obligations and commitments to First Nations, Inuit and Métis, and for fulfilling the federal government's constitutional responsibilities in the North. AANDC's responsibilities are largely determined by numerous statutes, negotiated agreements and relevant legal decisions. Most of the Department's programs, representing a majority of its spending are delivered through partnerships with Aboriginal communities and federal provincial or federal territorial agreements. AANDC also works with urban Aboriginal people, Métis and Non Status Indians (many of whom live in rural areas) through the Office of the Federal Interlocutor.

AANDC's mandate, responsibilities and key priorities are shaped by centuries of history, and unique demographic and geographic challenges. AANDC is one of 34 federal departments and agencies involved in Aboriginal and northern programs and services.

CH delivers policies and programs related to broadcasting and interactive media, arts and cultural industries, heritage objects and spaces, official languages, citizenship participation and identity, human rights, Aboriginal Peoples, youth and sport initiatives, as well as national ceremonies and symbols.

The Canadian Heritage Portfolio includes the Department, five departmental agencies, ten Crown corporations and one administrative tribunal. The Department is organized to ensure a place for Canadian voices and perspectives, to support excellence, and to reach Canadians from all walks of life. It is administered by a Deputy Minister and an Associate Deputy Minister. The Department is composed of four sectors, each headed by an Assistant Deputy Minister, and seven Corporate Services. To reach Canadians and to ensure equitable access to the Department's programs and services, CH has regional offices located in Moncton, Montréal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver as well as a number of access points across the country, for a total of 21 points of service.

Statistics Canada produces statistics that help Canadians better understand their country—its population, resources, economy, society and culture.

In Canada, providing statistics is a federal responsibility. As Canada's central statistical agency, Statistics Canada is legislated to serve this function for the whole of Canada and each of the provinces.

Objective statistical information is vital to an open and democratic society. It provides a solid foundation for informed decisions by elected representatives, businesses, unions and non profit organizations, as well as individual Canadians.

In addition to conducting a Census every five years, there are about 350 active surveys on virtually all aspects of Canadian life.

The Council of the Federation was created by Premiers because they believe it is important for provinces and territories to play a leadership role in revitalizing the Canadian federation and building a more constructive and cooperative federal system.

The Council of the Federation's objectives are to:

- Promote interprovincial territorial cooperation and closer ties between members of the Council, to ultimately strengthen Canada
- Foster meaningful relations between governments based on respect for the Constitution and recognition of the diversity within the federation
- Show leadership on issues important to all Canadians

Message from the Minister and Accountability Statement

Our Government remains committed to ensuring every family in British Columbia has access to high quality education so their children can reach their full potential. The world has changed significantly since our education system was designed and while we continue to have a very strong system, we must make bold changes to support our teachers and ensure that every student receives an education that reflects their unique needs, interests and passions.

That's why we've introduced BC's Education Plan – a vision for the future of education in British Columbia. The Plan consists of five key elements: personalized learning for every student; quality teaching and learning; flexibility and choice; high standards; and learning empowered by technology.

Education transformation is a shared responsibility and BC's Education Plan was inspired by innovative change already taking place in classrooms across British Columbia. To build on this success, we've launched a province-wide public engagement effort which includes online tools, face-to-face dialogue, meetings, presentations and more to reach out to teachers, administrators, parents, students and the public. Together we will build an even stronger education system for our province – one that better meets the needs of the 21st century and will ensure that our children are prepared for the workforce of today, and in the future.

We have also made significant changes to the way the teaching profession is regulated. The Province recently introduced the Teachers Act, which dissolved the BC College of Teachers and replaced it with a 15-member British Columbia Teachers' Council. This has created a more accountable and transparent teacher regulation system, to better protect children and put the public interest first.

Government has recognized that some school districts have experienced tremendous student growth over the past few years, and are experiencing enrolment pressures that need to be addressed. That is why we have committed over $300 million<sup>1</sup> towards new or expanded schools in seven of the fastest growing districts. This is an investment in our children's education and will support students for years to come, while also easing some of the immediate enrolment pressures.

We have also celebrated the opening of seven new and replacement schools in B.C., including the $39.9 million state-of-the-art Revelstoke Secondary school, featuring one of the province's first Neighbourhood Learning Centres – and I look forward to celebrating the opening of many more incredible projects in the near future.

Government continues to invest in early learning initiatives. This fall we successfully completed the implementation of full-day kindergarten for all eligible children in the province, which was supported by an additional $144.5 million investment to re-purpose existing school spaces and create new classrooms. In addition, we invested $520,000 to add 10 new StrongStart BC programs in communities across the province, bringing the total number of funded StrongStart BC programs to 326, supporting 385 communities throughout the province.

<sup>1</sup> The start and end dates of capital projects will occur during and beyond the three-year scope of this Service Plan. The Ministry expects that the actual expenditures within the scope of this Service Plan will total in the range of $125 million.

Lastly, government has made important changes to the education funding formula to increase support for vulnerable students through the CommunityLINK supplement and provide more funding for rural and remote elementary schools and small school districts.

I look forward to continuing to work with all of our education partners as we build a strong education system that meets the needs of all British Columbians.

The Ministry of Education 2012/13 – 2014/15 Service Plan was prepared under my direction in accordance with the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act. I am accountable for the basis on which the plan has been prepared, and for achieving the plan's specific objectives.

Purpose of the Ministry

The education system is complex, but at its core, it's a learning partnership between the student, the family and teachers. This partnership supported by the Ministry is ultimately responsible for ensuring that every learner receives a high quality education. A high quality education enables learners to realize their full potential and contribute to the well being of our society by developing the foundational skills of reading, writing, and math, as well as other essentials necessary in the 21st century, such as self-reliance, communication, critical thinking, inquiry, creativity, problem solving, innovation, teamwork and collaboration, cross-cultural understanding, and digital and information literacy.<sup>2</sup>

Inspired by innovative change already taking place in B.C. communities and developed through many months of consultation with educators, students, parents and other British Columbians, BC's Education Plan responds to the realities and demands of a world that has already changed dramatically and continues to change. With BC's Education Plan as the vision of education transformation, this Service Plan outlines the work the Ministry will undertake to modernize education in B.C. and achieve its vision. In the spirit of collaboration, the Ministry has also approached its external partners to seek input on the goals and objectives of this Service Plan as a first step to enhancing the service planning process.

Co-governed by the Ministry of Education and boards of education, the British Columbia education system is a network of partners, including independent school authorities, professional education organizations, community literacy organizations, public libraries, First Nations representatives, provincial ministries and agencies, and the private sector. As we modernize how education is delivered, each of these partners will have a specific role to play while working collaboratively to support the learning partnership and striving to provide every learner with a high quality education.

The Ministry is supporting the education transformation in all stages of the system, working closely with education stakeholders in early learning programs, the K-12 school system and life-long literacy initiatives. Beyond K-12, the Ministry works with the Ministry of Advanced Education to ensure students transition smoothly to post-secondary opportunities and supports the connection with communities through Neighbourhood Learning Centres and through fostering development in public libraries. This collaborative approach includes everyone in the transformation.

Preschoolers and their families benefit from Ministry initiatives such as StrongStart BC early learning programs, which help children develop skills they need to succeed in school and life. Full-day kindergarten for five-year-olds, which is now fully implemented, will also help young people begin their journeys toward personal fulfillment and contribution to the province and world. Through our early learning efforts, the Ministry also regularly consults with the Ministry of Children and Family Development.

The K-12 system serves approximately 580,000 public school students, 70,000 independent school students, and 2,200 home-schooled children. More than 65,000 Aboriginal students are included in these numbers, as are more than 4,450 students enrolled in Conseil scolaire francophone de la Colombie-Britannique, exercising their right to a Francophone education.

Although independent schools form part of the education system in B.C. and deliver the provincial curriculum, they maintain a level of autonomy with respect to governance, program delivery and staffing.

Through governance, legislation, policy, and standards, the Ministry provides leadership and funding to the K-12 education system and public libraries. It also monitors performance through superintendents of achievement, who support districts to improve student achievement and develop leadership at the district level. Under the new Teachers Act, a new system has been established to certify, regulate and discipline teachers through shared responsibility between the Ministry and the education sector.

Roles and responsibilities are set out under the School Act, the Independent School Act, the Teachers Act, the Library Act, the First Nations Education Act, the Community Care and Assisted Living Act, the Special Accounts Appropriation and Control Act, and accompanying regulations.

Strategic Context

The Economic Forecast Council estimates that British Columbia's real GDP grew by 2.2 per cent in 2011 and projects that the rate of real GDP growth will remain at 2.2 per cent in 2012, before increasing to 2.5 per cent in 2013. Risks to British Columbia's economic outlook include a return to recession in the US; the European sovereign debt crisis threatening the stability of global financial markets; slower than anticipated economic growth in Asia dampening demand for B.C. exports; and a weakening of the US dollar disrupting the financial markets and raising the cost of B.C. exports abroad.

The Plan to Realize Savings for Reinvestment into Public Education

The K-12 public school sector annually spends approximately $840 million on district administration, operations and maintenance, and transportation services. In managing these costs, the sector is working toward shared service approaches to enable more effective use of funds to support student learning.

With shared arrangements, there is an opportunity for the 17 school districts in the lower mainland to more efficiently deliver $400 million of "outside the classroom" services. Potential savings could range from 3 to 8 percent.

Province-wide progress is being made with:

- Joint tendering and purchasing of transportation services across regions and provincially;
- Reduced rates charged for voice services under the Provincially negotiated TELUS agreement; and
- Centralized WorkSafeBC claims management.

The Need for Education Transformation

- We are entering a world of accelerating change: a time of thinking globally and acting quickly, when it is not what you know but how you use that knowledge that matters.
- B.C. already has one of the best education systems in the world, but not all students graduate and not all those who do graduate have the critical thought and collaboration skills it will take to thrive in the future.<sup>3</sup>
- Many of today's career opportunities did not even exist a decade ago. Students need to have the skills to adapt in a rapidly changing world.
- With an aging population and shrinking workforce, British Columbia will face skills shortages in its labour market, particularly in high-skill occupations and high-growth industries,<sup>4</sup> putting added pressure on B.C. graduates.

- Increased competition in the global economy makes improving the productivity of B.C.'s workforce a necessary and urgent priority.
- Other education systems are overtaking ours in their ability to prepare students with critical skills and knowledge.<sup>5</sup>
- Students are growing up in a world that is increasingly connected and reliant on technology. Communication is instantaneous and information is available from anywhere at any time.
- Our education system was designed in an earlier century and cannot meet the challenges students are facing now, or those that they will face in the future.
- Government continues to build relationships with Asia-Pacific nations through transportation links, cultural exchanges, and educational partnerships.
- B.C.'s unemployment rate of around 6.9 per cent is below the national average of 7.6 per cent, but well above levels seen prior to the 2008-09 global recession. A good education, economic growth and job creation are critical to the economic well-being of B.C. families and communities.<sup>6</sup>

BC's Education Plan

- BC's Education Plan provides the vision for how the Ministry and its partners will transform the education system and improve students' ability to find success in school and life. The plan is built on a few key ideas:
  - Children are born learners;
  - Teachers are passionate about teaching;
  - Every student has his or her own unique learning style, as well as individual motivations and interests. Education which brings out the best in each student must take into account diverse learning; and
  - An effective education system collaborates and communicates well between its partners, whether students, families, teachers, schools, districts, Government, or the public.

Five Key Elements to Support Transformation:

- Personalized Learning: creating student-centered learning that's focused on the needs, strengths and aspirations of each individual student, or group of students sharing a common culture, history or language, and giving teachers and schools the flexibility to make sure all students are well served by their educational program.
- Quality Teaching and Learning: building better support for teachers as they continue to adjust their roles to match what students need. With strong professional standards and increased flexibility, teachers will design personalized education that opens the door to educational success for British Columbia's young people. By also recognizing parents as informal teachers and engaging them more proactively in their child's learning, students will be better supported both at school and at home.
  - Flexibility and Choice: increasing choice for students and families with respect to how, when and where learning takes place. Boards of education will also have more flexibility to organize classes and other learning experiences so they can better direct resources to support student learning.
  - High Standards: ensuring the education system provides strong core skills, abilities and knowledge for all students by improving accountability, effective measurement of progress and the quick identification of student challenges.
  - Learning Empowered by Technology: encouraging smart use of technology in schools, giving students and teachers the tools they need to help improve student success, as well as better preparing students to thrive in an increasingly digital world.

The Ministry is aligning its Service Plan with BC's Education Plan and also with several key strategic shifts of Government: the BC Jobs Plan; the Citizens @ the Centre: BC Government 2.0 strategy; and Government's priorities of Open Data and Open Information. Implementation of BC's Education Plan will be accomplished within the Ministry's existing budget.

Goals, Objectives, Strategies and Performance Measures

The Ministry of Education has three main goals:

- Personalized, flexible education that enables students to be successful;
- Effective support for teachers; and
- An effective, accountable and responsive education system

The Ministry is working with our education partners to create a high quality, flexible and personalized education system that supports students in their challenges and encourages their natural strengths and motivations. We are committed to an education system that is more open and accountable to students, families, communities and the public, and better connected and responsive to their needs. Through the combined efforts of all partners in the education system to remove obstacles and provide guidance, our students will become responsible, well-educated citizens, who pursue their dreams, strengthen their communities, and contribute to a more prosperous British Columbia.

BC's Education Plan is leading the transformation of education to improve students' ability to find success in school and life. The goals, objectives and strategies in this Service Plan align with BC's Education Plan's five key elements of: Personalized Learning, Quality Teaching and Learning, Flexibility and Choice, High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology.

The Ministry is also supporting implementation of the provincial climate change Adaptation Strategy, which calls on government agencies to consider climate change and its impact, where relevant, in planning, projects, policies, legislation, regulations, and approvals. Adaptation is a vital part of Government's climate change plan. It means taking action now to prepare for a changing climate and the resulting effect on ecosystems, resources, businesses, communities, and people. The Ministry supports the provincial Climate Change Adaptation Strategy both through the education of students and the building of schools across the province (see page 29).

Goal 1: Personalized, flexible education that enables students to be successful.

The Ministry is committed to ensuring students in British Columbia reach their potential. Rich, play-based, early learning experiences benefit children, academically and socially, increasing the likelihood that they will be reading, writing, and doing math at grade level by Grade 4, and that they will continue to succeed in school and life. A more personalized, student-centred approach to learning is important to allow learners more freedom to pursue their individual interests and passions within a particular topic, while still learning the foundational skills of reading, writing and math.

For more information, please refer to BC's Education Plan Personalized Learning, Flexibility and Choice, High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology elements.

Objective 1.1: A personalized learning system that takes into account the learning motivations, needs and styles of individual students.

While a solid knowledge base in the foundational skills is critical and will be maintained, in order to better prepare students for the future there will be more emphasis on key competencies like self-reliance, communication, critical thinking, inquiry, creativity, problem solving, innovation, teamwork and collaboration, cross-cultural understanding, and digital and information literacy. Students also need to be connected more directly with the world outside of school, with increased focus on learning these skills across topic areas.

Strategies

- Changing our current curriculum and assessment methods, to make them more responsive to individual students (Personalized Learning for Every Student and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Creating an inclusive education system that recognizes and supports the needs of Aboriginal, French-language, English Language Learning (ELL), international and rural students, as well as students with special needs (Personalized Learning for Every Student and Flexibility and Choice); and
- Understanding, with our education partners, the technology students need to support success in personalized learning, and how we can facilitate access to that technology together (Learning Empowered by Technology and High Standards).

International Education

The Ministry of Education collaborates with provincial ministries, including the Ministry of Advanced Education, the BC International Education Project Council, the Council of Ministers of Education, Canada (CMEC) and other agencies to ensure alignment of BC's International Education agenda both onshore and offshore.

This involves promoting British Columbia in key target markets to increase the number of international students in our schools – where we have capacity.

The Ministry is also working to create an inclusive, safe and globalized environment for international students through personalized learning and anti-bullying programs. These efforts will facilitate student transitions from the K-12 system to post-secondary and to the labour market. For more information, please visit the BC Jobs Plan website.

Objective 1.2: A flexible education system, that provides families, students and teachers choices in how, when and where education is delivered.

Students and families deserve choice with respect to how, when and where learning takes place and how students are organized for learning.

The Ministry and its partners need to be flexible and respond to students as they explore and eventually discover their passions. Many students decide on goals that require academic post-secondary study. Others find success with options created to help them realize their dreams even sooner, such as a career in the trades. Still other students are interested in athletics and the arts. Whatever their path, students will continue to create blended learning opportunities through distributed, or online, learning and classroom-based environments.

Strategies

- Increasing access to learning opportunities for students by recognizing a variety of options, including traditional classrooms, distributed learning, independent schools, learning in the community, including public libraries, and group learning options (Flexibility and Choice and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Creating more flexibility within the funding system for education to support flexible and personalized learning (Flexibility and Choice and Personalized Learning for Every Student); and
- Supporting the development of Neighbourhood Learning Centres through guidance and sharing of promising practices (Flexibility and Choice and Personalized Learning for Every Student).

Public Libraries –The Community Learning and Gathering Place

British Columbians of all ages can access information, resources, and learning opportunities, both in person and online, via their public libraries across the province. Through established programming, collections, services and open hours that meet community needs, libraries continue to provide an accessible destination for learners of all ages to pursue their individual interests.

Libraries continually expand their virtual presence through eBook lending, access to databases, and online assistance through chat and email. Libraries are available 24/7 – when and where they are needed.

In addition to resources, programming and expertise, public libraries offer a range of services specifically to K-12 students including study space, group study/meeting spaces, wireless network access homework help and exam proctoring services.

Public libraries serve their local communities as part of a broader provincial network of libraries supported by federations, shared technological systems, and BC OneCard. Public libraries are collaborating with schools, literacy organizations, community partners and each other to provide seamless access to library service in rural and urban areas across the province.

Libraries are an integral element of British Columbia’s “informal” education system, and support the vision set out in the BC Education Plan to the personalized learning transformation by allowing for greater flexibility on when and where lifelong learning takes place, for everyone.

Objective 1.3: An education system that is focused on student success.

The Ministry and its partners in the education system have a unique opportunity to facilitate the development of learners who finish school ready to contribute to strengthening our society. We have to work together to determine how we define success in school, how we measure it, how we identify and support students with learning challenges and how we anchor students' learning in the real world.

Families also need to be involved in planning their child's education and then helping them to achieve success. In partnership with their children's teacher and their child, parents play an important role in supporting their child's learning.

Distributed Learning

Distributed learning provides both rural and urban students in B.C. improved access, more choice, and the flexibility to learn outside of classroom schedules.

Over 40 percent of all graduating students have participated in at least one distributed learning course, taking advantage of a high-quality and engaging environment that reflects the Ministry's commitment to personalized learning and the principles of supporting the individual needs and interests of each learner.

"This choice has provided me with the foundation to direct and edit my life. I have had the ability to pursue personal interests, take part in unique opportunities, and contribute to society more than if I had stayed in a traditional learning environment."

Strategies

- Creating a positive educational environment that allows students to discover their strengths and provides students with opportunities to overcome challenges and learn to succeed (Personalized Learning for Every Student and High Standards);
- Working with the Ministry of Advanced Education to develop a joint strategy to increase the number of K-12 students entering post-secondary education and training and to facilitate transitions to the workplace (Flexibility and Choice and High Standards); and
- Aligning assessment practices with personalized learning (High Standards, Personalized Learning for Every Student).

Performance Measure 1: Grade to grade transition rates

| Performance Measure      | 2010/11Baseline | 2011/12Forecast | 2012/13Target | 2013/14Target | 2014/15Target |

Data Source: Grade to grade transition rates are based on data collected by the Ministry of Education.

Discussion

How students move from one grade to the next gives us a clear idea of whether they are succeeding. The more students transition from one grade to the next, the greater the likelihood they will graduate and the better prepared they are to move into the workplace or continue their education.

This measure represents the percentage of students who in a given year successfully complete the grade level they are at and transition to the next grade level the following year. Between 2006/07 and 2011/12, secondary grade-to-grade transitions have continued to climb.

Performance Measure 2: Completion rate

|--|---------------------|---------------------|-------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| The percentage of students who complete school within six years of first starting Grade 8            | 81.0%               | ≥81%                | ≥82%              | ≥82%              | ≥82%              |
| The percentage of Aboriginal students who complete school within six years of first starting Grade 8 | 53.7%               | 55%                 | 56%               | 57%               | 58%               |

Data Source: Completion rates are based on data collected by the Ministry of Education.

Discussion

Completion rates are determined by calculating the percentage of students who successfully complete provincial graduation requirements and obtain a Dogwood Diploma within six years of starting Grade 8 for the first time in a B.C. public or independent school.

Completion rates have long been a performance measure because young adults are better positioned to transition to post-secondary studies or the workplace if they complete B.C.'s graduation requirements and receive a secondary school graduation diploma.<sup>7</sup>

To further increase B.C.'s completion rate, Government has supported new measures to increase student engagement through personalized learning. Provincial superintendents of achievement are helping school districts examine student outcomes<sup>8</sup> by providing districts with data on students at risk of not completing school, and by developing mechanisms that districts can apply to monitor those students' progress. LearnNow BC, the Province's virtual learning support service, is providing students around B.C. with more choices and first-rate tutoring.

In addition, Aboriginal students are best served by improvements designed specifically to engage them, and to enrich their school experience. The Ministry is working with school districts and Aboriginal communities throughout the province to establish Aboriginal education enhancement agreements. These agreements establish collaborative partnerships between Aboriginal communities and school districts that involve shared decision making and specific goal-setting to meet the educational needs and interests of Aboriginal students. This provides for local control of strategies and approaches to improve Aboriginal student success. Fifty-three out of 60 school districts have signed agreements.

School Completion Demographics — Aboriginal

The Province, its education partners, and Aboriginal communities are working together to empower Aboriginal students to succeed in school and life.

Completion rates for Aboriginal students continue to improve. Below is the percentage of Aboriginal students who completed school within six years of first starting Grade 8.

| Aboriginal Students | 2010/11 | Change from Previous Year |
|---------------------|---------|---------------------------|
| Overall             | 53.7%   | +3.3%                     |
| — Female            | 55.9%   | +0.2%                     |
| — Male              | 51.5%   | +6.3%                     |

<sup>7</sup> For more information about past and present completion rates and complementary facts in the Ministry's most recent Summary of Key Information, please visit www.bced.gov.bc.ca/reporting/.

<sup>8</sup> Completion rates require an estimate of migration from British Columbia. Rates are calculated for each district, but migration precludes accurate rates for individual schools.

Finally, based in part on input from School Districts, and as part of our ongoing goal to have every student achieve their full potential the Ministry is reviewing the completion rate and exploring the creation of a more comprehensive measure of student success. Personalized learning for every student will require new ways of accounting for every student and their successes.

Performance Measure 3: Transition rate of high school students to public post-secondary education

| Performance Measure   | 2010/11 Baseline <sup>1</sup> | 2011/12 Forecast | 2012/13 Target | 2013/14 Target | 2014/15 Target |
|---|-------------------------------|------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|

Discussion

The transition rate of high school students to public post-secondary education gives insights into what proportion of high school students are accessing the public post-secondary system.

The Student Transitions Project was created to better understand the transition of students from high school to public post-secondary education.

Immediately after graduating from high school, about half (51%) of the high school graduates in B.C. enrol in post-secondary education. A significant group (11%) transition into post-secondary education after a “gap” year. After three years, two-thirds (67%) of high school graduates have enrolled in post-secondary education. Although these results pertain to the 2005/06 graduating cohort, the results are consistent for other cohorts.

Expectations are high for graduating students applying to post-secondary institutions. Colleges and universities are looking for students who can already think creatively and communicate effectively. The rate of transition to post-secondary education is a good indicator of how well the K 12 education system is preparing students for the 21st century. Research indicates that individuals with post-secondary education tend to have higher rates of employment, higher earnings, and a greater overall quality of life.

For more information on transitions to post-secondary, please visit www.bced.gov.bc.ca/reporting/.

Goal 2: Effective support for teachers.

At the heart of an outstanding education experience are great teachers who embrace the role of guiding students not only in what to learn but how to learn. We need to continue supporting B.C. teachers in this role so they can continue helping our students succeed in a rapidly changing world. At the same time, the teaching profession needs to be administered in a way that respects teachers by ensuring high standards put student success and the public interest first.

For more information, please refer to BC's Education Plan Quality Teaching and Learning, Personalized Learning for Every Student, High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology elements.

Objective 2.1: Improved communication with teachers.

Teachers already communicate, share information and learn from each other. We can support and enhance the potential of that collaboration by helping to expand communication with other teachers, administrators, districts and the Ministry. Doing so will create increasingly valuable opportunities for teachers and school districts to improve classroom practice and also to inform Ministry actions in the future.

Strategies

- Engaging with teachers to learn what they need to improve classroom practice and to feel effectively supported (Quality Teaching and Learning); and
- Finding new ways to share teachers' knowledge of effective teaching practices across the education system (Personalized Learning for Every Student, Quality Teaching and Learning and Learning Empowered by Technology).

Objective 2.2: Improved support for teachers.

The Ministry is working to support teachers in improving student outcomes through helping them develop their classroom practice, improve their school culture, and attain their career goals.

Strategies

- Improving educational opportunities for teachers in training before they begin their teaching careers (Quality Teaching and Learning);
- Improving teachers' ongoing professional development opportunities (Quality Teaching and Learning, High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Connecting new teachers with experienced teacher mentors (Quality Teaching and Learning and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Supporting teachers who want to take leadership roles in schools (Quality Teaching and Learning); and
- Working with districts and teachers to ensure teachers have access to effective technology to support student success (Quality Teaching and Learning and Learning Empowered by Technology).

Goal 3: An effective, accountable and responsive education system.

With the education system's operating budget surpassing $4.7 billion in 2011/12, we all need to know that students are receiving an education that gives them the best chances in life. An effective, accountable and responsive education system is clearly focused on student success and consists of people who collaborate and understand their roles in facilitating that success. This education system learns from its past experiences and reports clearly on its progress, achievements and challenges.

For more information, please refer to BC's Education Plan High Standards, Quality Teaching and Learning for Every Student, Personalized Learning and Learning Empowered by Technology elements.

Objective 3.1: High standards for individual students.

Student progress will continue to be monitored through rigorous province-wide assessments. Effective classroom assessment practices are essential to student success and will be even more vital in a more personalized learning environment. Educators will have more ability to decide how and when each student is assessed. New tools will be developed to provide greater access, richer information, and more consistency across the province on student progress. Regular reporting to parents both formally and informally will remain a priority.

Superintendents of Achievement

The Ministry monitors student achievement in school districts through the Office of the Superintendent of Achievement.

The superintendents of achievement help school districts interpret provincial evidence and prepare annual achievement contracts to focus attention and resources on improving the achievement of all students. Each unique contract considers the needs of local students, details specific student-achievement goals, and describes strategies to realize those gains.

When a district does not meet its targets, it is expected to outline how it will adjust the following year. For more information, please visit www.bced.gov.bc.ca/schools/sdinfo/acc\_contracts/

Strategies

- Building a better understanding of how to support and measure student success from the early years to graduation in a way that supports learning and aligns with targets (High Standards, Quality Teaching and Learning and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Creating a new set of graduation standards, based on the knowledge, skills, and core competencies that students will need to compete in today's global workforce (High Standards and Personalized Learning for Every Student); and
- Creating a reporting system that supports student learning and enhances the ongoing connection between families and teachers (Personalized Learning for Every Student, High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology).

Performance Measure 4: School readiness

Discussion

By understanding how young children are doing in the province, communities and government ministries are able to provide better supports and services for families and young children.

The Early Development Instrument<sup>9</sup> collects information through kindergarten teachers in all 60 B.C. school districts and measures five key areas of a child's development: physical health and well-being; social competence; emotional maturity; language and cognitive development; and communication skills and general knowledge. The information gathered is then examined to reveal any population trends in the development of children that could lead to better early learning education policies and practices.

Though sponsored in full by the Province, the Early Development Instrument is administered by the Human Early Learning Partnership at The University of British Columbia.

The Ministry is also exploring districts' classroom assessment processes that would provide greater understanding of children's development early in the school year. These processes complement the Ministry's new personalized learning approach as early assessments provide teachers with meaningful information to plan instruction that meet the needs of each child.

Full-Day Kindergarten

Research shows that a high-quality, play-based early learning program has long-term benefits for children's academic and social skills. Across the province, the implementation of full-day kindergarten has been successful.

| The percentage of students in Grade 7 who meet reading expectations              | 66%                 | 70%                 | ≥73%              | ≥73%              | ≥73%              |

Data Source: Foundation Skills Assessment data, Ministry of Education.

<sup>1</sup> The number of students meeting or exceeding expectations is divided by all students in the province. If the students who did not write the assessment are removed from the calculation, the percentage meeting or exceeding expectations in the performance measure changes. For comparison, if the Ministry recalculated scores without these absent students, the number of Grade 4 students meeting or exceeding expectations in reading is 80 per cent.

<sup>2</sup> This should be the first performance measure to reflect the effect of full-day kindergarten on student achievement; however, that positive influence will not be evident until at least 2015/16 when students now entering kindergarten reach Grade 4.

Discussion

The Foundation Skills Assessment<sup>10</sup> (FSA) measures the percentage of public and independent school students in grades 4 and 7 who meet or exceed grade-level expectations in reading, writing, and numeracy. These skills form the foundation for other learning, including 21st-century skills such as critical thinking and creative problem solving. The assessment is administered to all students at those grade levels. Standards set by the Ministry are based on the recommendations of B.C. teachers.

With 10 consecutive years of information, the FSA is one of the strongest collections of knowledge on student achievement in North America. The Ministry uses reading as an example of the basic skills necessary for success because years of FSA testing show a clear correlation between students' reading scores and the likelihood that they will complete school. This knowledge allows educators and parents to develop appropriate interventions to assist individual students. Government is committed to ensuring that all B.C. students are reading, writing, and doing math at grade level by Grade 4.

How We Measure Basic Skills

Around the world, different school systems measure the basic skills of reading, writing, and math in different ways. In British Columbia, school districts use classroom assessments by teachers, district-wide literacy and numeracy assessment, and the provincial Foundation Skills Assessment to determine if students are learning basic skills effectively and to target help to children who may be slipping behind their classmates.

It is also clear that school districts, such as Revelstoke, that assess frequently and act quickly during students' early years, have some of the highest literacy rates in the province.

Discussion

The Grade 10 language arts exam requires students to read and comprehend text, think critically about literature, and write clearly. It offers another opportunity to identify and better serve students struggling in school.

The Grade 12 language arts exam provides a clear indication of whether the exam writer has sufficient reading comprehension and writing skills to successfully pursue career opportunities or post-secondary education after graduation.

Grade 10 and 12 exams also serve the Ministry and education system as useful performance indicators. For more information on Grade 10 and 12 language arts and other required exams, please visit www.bced.gov.bc.ca/reporting/.

Objective 3.2: High standards for the education system.

Students, families and teachers all need the teaching profession to be administered in a way that ensures high standards and puts the public interest first. Families need to feel safe sending their children to school and children need to feel safe while at school.

Creating an education system that can respond to students' personal learning needs requires the accurate collection and understanding of information about students: who they are, how they are doing and what their personal learning needs are.

Strategies

- Improving oversight for the teaching profession, including performance management and incentives (High Standards and Quality Teaching and Learning); and
- Improving the accountability framework that guides the education sector toward improving student achievement (High Standards).

Objective 3.3: A transparent and responsive education system that works with families, business and communities to position students for success in post-secondary education and in the workplace.

The Ministry is working to reach out to families, the public and others, enlisting their aid in our goal to improve outcomes for all students. We are starting by making information and data sets public, except those which may hold legally sensitive or personal information. With more information available to students, teachers, parents, interest groups, researchers or members of the public, anyone can use it to find new ways of looking at education, contribute new ideas and help improve student success.

We are also working toward learning more about the needs of those connected with education, whether students, parents, teachers or members of the public. Everyone is invited to join the interactive conversation on education by reading or posting comments on the engagement portion of BC's Education Plan website. With better information feeding different perspectives from a broad range of sources, we hope to foster a collaborative system that continuously improves its support of student learning.

Strategies

- Creating a system to engage citizens in the way we transform education, including an enhanced web presence and public dialogue around education transformation (High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology);
- Creating ways for families to engage in their student's learning and in the process of education transformation (High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology); and
- Making the data and information of the education system transparent and accessible to students, parents, teachers, administrators and those working to improve education in B.C. (High Standards and Learning Empowered by Technology).

Major Capital Projects

Ministries must report building projects expected to cost over $50 million and be up front about risks, which always include changes to scope, schedule, and budget, due in part to any shortages of skilled labour and/or project management expertise, and the potential for unforeseen issues with the site.

For the Ministry of Education, relevant projects include a number of new schools, school replacements or renovations, and the collective capital works to accommodate the Province's full-day kindergarten initiative.

Full-Day Kindergarten Space

Full-day Kindergarten was previously available to over half of B.C.'s eligible Kindergarten students. As of September 2011, full-day Kindergarten is available to all Kindergarten students across the province.

An approved budget of $144.5 million in capital funding has provided for 712 new Kindergarten classrooms. The plan includes a variety of strategies:

- converted 441 existing surplus grades 1-7 classrooms for Kindergarten use;
- fabricated, delivered, and installed 143 modular classrooms to 99 school sites spread throughout 27 school districts;
- constructed 92 new classrooms through additions to 21 existing schools in nine school districts;
- building a new elementary school in the Willoughby area of Langley (providing space for full-day Kindergarten but also addressing a number of capacity issues in the area);
- developed new high school space in the Enerplex facility in Fort St. John, which freed up elementary classrooms for Kindergarten;
- re-opened Anne McClymont Primary in Kelowna; and
- provided for renovations at Cataline Elementary in Williams Lake for two new classrooms.

Risks associated with implementation, including scope (additional space may be required in some areas), schedule (September 2011 deadline), and cost, have been mitigated with ongoing communications and coordination with school districts.

Greening Our Schools

In schools, teachers work on climate change lesson plans to engage students in thinking about provincial and local adaptation strategies that might be required due to climate change. They also work with school action projects (often led by student environmental groups), such as reducing water use or the planting of native species that require less water.

Since 2007, all Ministry capital project planning has included upgrading building standards for schools to ensure sufficient energy and operating efficiency. The cost of designing and building new schools to meet LEED® Gold or equivalent standards has been built into the capital framework.

The new school in Langley will not be available until September 2012. The school district has developed plans to accommodate Kindergarten students until the new space is ready.

Alberni District Secondary School

School District No. 70 (Alberni) is replacing its existing 1,300-student-capacity school with a 1,000-student-capacity school on a new site in Port Alberni.

The new school includes a Neighbourhood Learning Centre with the following features:

- First Nations' programs, including a meeting space for First Nations' elders, parents, and students, since approximately 30 per cent of the school's students are Aboriginal;
- child and youth support programs, including services relating to guidance, health, and welfare for students and families;
- community support programs, including a multi-use space for education, community support services, fitness; and
- a new community theatre.

The new facility will not only be safer in the event of an earthquake, the environmentally friendly secondary school will lower operating and maintenance costs for the Board, provide a better learning environment for students, and, with a new neighbourhood learning centre, become an even more integral part of the community.

Construction is underway and completion is expected in 2012.

Burnaby Central Secondary School

Burnaby Central Secondary School is being replaced with a 1,300 student capacity school on the existing grounds in School District No. 41 (Burnaby). The new school opened to students in September 2011 however gymnasium demolition and new construction is still underway with expected completion in the spring of 2012.

The new, environmentally-friendly facility will be safer in the event of an earthquake, will lower operating and maintenance costs for the board and provide a better learning environment for students.

Oak Bay High School

School District No. 61 (Greater Victoria) is replacing this existing 1,500-student-capacity school with a 1,300-student-capacity school on the current site in Victoria. This includes district-funded space for 100 international students.

The new school will include a Neighbourhood Learning Centre, partnering with Oak Bay Parks and Recreation, with the following proposed features:

- Day Care space
- After School Care
- Activity Rooms
- Teen Centre;

In addition to these features, the District of Oak Bay has pledged $1,000,000 to the development of a performing arts theatre that will be converted from an existing gymnasium.

The new facility will be safer in the event of an earthquake, built to the strictest environmental standards that will lower operating and maintenance costs for the Board, and will maximize the use of wood in the construction.

Kitsilano Secondary School

School District No. 39 (Vancouver) is replacing and renovating the existing 1,500-student-capacity school to the same capacity on the current site. The three-stage project will include a new wing and renovation of the old heritage wing/façade.

The new school will include a Neighbourhood Learning Centre, with the following proposed features:

- Theatre
- Gymnasium space
- Weight/Fitness Facility

The new facility will be safer in the event of an earthquake, built to the strictest environmental standards that will lower operating and maintenance costs for the Board, and will maximize the use of wood in the construction.

Revelstoke Elementary and Secondary schools

Revelstoke Secondary School has been replaced with a 500-student capacity school on the existing grounds in School District No. 19 (Revelstoke). The new facility includes a new 275-seat Performing Arts Centre as part of the Neighbourhood Learning Centre initiative.

Revelstoke Elementary School is being replaced with a new school with space for 250 students and 80 Kindergarten students on the existing grounds of the secondary site. Construction is underway; completion is expected in time for the start of school in September 2012.

The new facility will include an Early Learning Hub, Acrobat and Youth Support Programs as part of the Neighbourhood Learning Centre initiative.

Chilliwack Secondary School

Chilliwack Secondary School is growing from a 900 student capacity school to a 1,200 student capacity school on the existing grounds in School District No. 33 (Chilliwack). Construction is underway; completion is expected in 2012.

The new facility will not only be safer in the event of an earthquake, the environmentally friendly secondary school will lower operating costs for the board and provide a better learning environment for a larger number of students.

The Neighbourhood Learning Center at this school will provide space for community and Aboriginal services that will benefit the entire district of Chilliwack.

A unique seismic risk for this project is poor soil condition issues and the need to increase the height of the foundation due to the site's location on a floodplain.

Message from the Minister and Accountability Statement

I am pleased to present the Ministry of Education 2011/2012 Annual Service Plan Report, outlining achievements during the fiscal year ending March 31, 2012. This report reflects our progress over the past year, including the launch of BC's Education Plan, the expansion of StrongStart BC early learning programs, the full implementation of full day kindergarten, new funding to support students with special needs as well as our most vulnerable students and investments in Neighbourhood Learning Centres, school upgrades and new schools.

Recently, we launched BC's Education Plan. Inspired by the innovative change already taking place in classrooms across British Columbia, the Plan aims to provide students with a dynamic, rigorous and personalized education so they can pursue their interests and passions and continue to thrive as our world continues to change.

Changing our education system to make this possible requires innovation and ideas from everyone involved. We have started a major engagement exercise and already tens of thousands of suggestions have been posted on the BC's Education Plan website.

StrongStart BC early learning programs offer high quality play-based learning opportunities for young learners and their parents. Parents are a child's first and best teacher and we know that students whose parents are actively involved in their education have a much greater chance for success. With the addition of 10 new StrongStart programs this year, we now have 326 programs in 385 communities across British Columbia.

As Minister of Education, I am especially proud of the significant accomplishment of bringing full day kindergarten to all students in British Columbia. Through effective collaboration with our educational partners, we have succeeded in providing a highly effective, play-based kindergarten program that will have lasting benefits for all students as they progress through school. Many of our schools have also seen upgrades and improvements to their kindergarten classrooms in order to better accommodate and support students as they enter schools for the first time. With full day kindergarten, students will have a strong foundation for success throughout their school experience.

We have an excellent education system in British Columbia but one area where I think we can improve is supporting students with special needs and vulnerable students. That's why, this year, we implemented a new $195 million Learning Improvement Fund to assist teachers in meeting complex needs in their classrooms and a new Vulnerable Student Supplement to provide additional resources for breakfast and lunch programs, community youth workers and other supports for our most vulnerable students.

Government continues to invest in facilities and technology across the province to provide students with modern learning environments. We want students to connect with the world outside their classrooms and we want schools to be at the centre of our communities. New Neighbourhood Learning Centres in many of our schools allow families to access a wide range of programs and activities such as daycare, fitness programs and theatre.

The Ministry of Education 2011/12 Annual Service Plan Report compares the actual results to the expected results identified in the Ministry's Revised 2011/12 - 2013/14 Service Plan. I am accountable for those results as reported.

I look forward to continuing to work together with all of our education partners to move forward with these important initiatives and provide all students with the best education possible.

Honourable George Abbott

Purpose of Ministry

A high quality education enables learners to realize their full potential and contribute to the well being of our society by developing the foundational skills of reading, writing, and math, as well as other essentials necessary in the 21st century, such as self-reliance, communication, critical thinking, inquiry, creativity, problem solving, innovation, teamwork and collaboration, cross-cultural understanding, and digital and information literacy.<sup>1</sup>

That is why the Government of British Columbia is enhancing its already world-class education system and engaging students in deeper learning that builds on their individual needs, interests, and passions.

The Ministry of Education is leading this transformation in all stages of the system, working closely with education stakeholders in early learning programs, the K-12 school system, and life-long literacy initiatives, including Neighbourhood Learning Centres and public libraries. This personalized approach includes students, parents, and teachers as partners in the learning experience.

Young learners and their families benefit from Ministry initiatives such as Ready, Set, Learn and StrongStart BC early learning programs, which help children develop the knowledge, skills and dispositions they need to succeed in school and life. Full day kindergarten for five-year-olds, which was fully implemented in September 2011, is another step towards building a strong foundation for lifelong learning, in a nurturing, play-based environment.

The K-12 system serves approximately 570,000 public school students, 72,000 independent school students, and 2,100 home-schooled children. More than 65,000 Aboriginal students are included in these numbers, as are more than 4,600 students enrolled in Conseil scolaire francophone de la Colombie-Britannique, exercising their right to a Francophone education.

Recognizing that learning doesn't just take place in the classroom or end when students turn eighteen, the Ministry continues to support public libraries and Neighbourhood Learning Centres and the many services and resources they offer to community members of all ages. In addition, the Ministry supports adults interested in completing secondary school or upgrading their skills to be competitive in the 21st century.

Through governance, legislation, policy, and standards, the Ministry provides leadership and funding to the K-12 education system and public libraries. It also monitors performance through superintendents of achievement, who support districts to improve student achievement and develop leadership at the district level.

Roles and responsibilities are set out under the School Act, the Independent School Act, the Teachers Act, the Library Act, the First Nations Education Act, the Community Care and Assisted Living Act, the Special Accounts Appropriation and Control Act, and accompanying regulations. Under the new Teachers Act, a new system has been established to certify, regulate and discipline teachers through shared responsibility between the Ministry and the education sector. The new Education Improvement Act suspends teachers' strike action, establishes a "cooling off" period and appoints a mediator to work with the parties toward a negotiated agreement, and also implements a new Learning Improvement Fund to help school districts and teachers address complex classroom composition issues.

Strategic Context

Our education system needs to change to better meet the economic and workforce demands of the future:

Economic Outlook

British Columbia's real GDP increased by 2.9 per cent in 2011 (according to preliminary GDP by industry data from Statistics Canada), following growth of 3.0 per cent in 2010. Overall in 2011, most indicators of British Columbia's economic performance showed improvement compared to the previous year. Gains in the domestic economy were observed in employment and consumer spending, while external gains were made in exports and shipments of manufactured goods. However, several risks to British Columbia's economy remain, including the European sovereign debt crisis, ongoing weakness in the US economy, exchange rate volatility, and slower than anticipated Asian demand for B.C. products.

The Need for Education Transformation

- We live in a world of accelerating change: a time of thinking globally and acting quickly, when it is not what you know but how you use that knowledge that matters.
- B.C. already has one of the best education systems in the world, but not all students graduate and not all those who do graduate have the critical thought and collaboration skills it will take to thrive in the future.<sup>2</sup>
- Many of today's career opportunities did not even exist a decade ago. Students need to have the skills to adapt in a rapidly changing world.
- With an aging population and shrinking workforce, British Columbia will face skills shortages in its labour market, particularly in high-skill occupations and high-growth industries, putting added pressure on B.C. graduates.<sup>3</sup>
- Increased competition in the global economy makes improving the productivity of B.C.'s workforce a necessary and urgent priority.
- Other education systems are overtaking ours in their ability to prepare students with critical skills and knowledge.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>4</sup> Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) of 15-year-old's reading, math and science skills.

- Students are growing up in a world that is increasingly connected and reliant on technology. Communication is instantaneous and information is available from anywhere at any time.
- Our education system was designed in an earlier century and cannot meet the challenges students are facing now, or those that they will face in the future.
- Government continues to build relationships with Asia-Pacific nations through transportation links, cultural exchanges, and educational partnerships.
- Government is implementing B.C.'s newly released International Education Strategy which identifies goals and actions in three areas: a globally-oriented education system; quality learning and life experiences for students; and maximizing benefits for B.C. communities, families and businesses.
- B.C.'s unemployment rate of around 7.0 per cent is below the national average of 7.2 per cent, but well above levels seen prior to the 2008-09 global recession. A good education, economic growth and job creation are critical to the economic well-being of B.C. families and communities.<sup>5</sup>

Five Key Elements to Support Transformation:

- Personalized Learning: creating student-centered learning that's focused on the needs, strengths and aspirations of each individual student, or group of students sharing a common culture, history or language, and giving teachers and schools the flexibility to make sure all students are well served by their educational program.

- Quality Teaching and Learning: building better support for teachers as they continue to adjust their roles to match what students need. With strong professional standards and increased flexibility, teachers will design personalized education that opens the door to educational success for British Columbia's young people. By also recognizing parents as informal teachers and engaging parents more proactively in their child's learning, students will be better supported both at school and at home.

- Flexibility and Choice: increasing choice for students and families with respect to how, when and where learning takes place. Boards of education will also have more flexibility to organize classes and other learning experiences so they can better direct resources to support student learning.
- High Standards: ensuring the education system provides strong core skills, abilities and knowledge for all students by improving accountability, effective measurement of progress and the quick identification of student challenges.
- Learning Empowered by Technology: encouraging smart use of technology in schools, giving students and teachers the tools they need to help improve student success, as well as better preparing students to thrive in an increasingly digital world.

The Plan to Realize Savings for Reinvestment into Public Education

The K-12 public school sector annually spends approximately $840 million on district administration, operations and maintenance, and transportation services. In managing these costs, the sector is working toward shared service approaches to enable more effective use of funds to support student learning.

With shared arrangements, there is an opportunity for the 17 school districts in the lower mainland to more efficiently deliver $400 million of “outside the classroom” services. Potential savings could range from 3 to 8 percent.

Province-wide progress is being made with:

- Joint tendering and purchasing of transportation services across regions and provincially;
- Reduced rates charged for voice services under the Provincially negotiated TELUS agreement; and
- Centralized WorkSafeBC claims management.

BC’s Education Plan

- BC’s Education Plan provides the vision for how the Ministry and its partners will transform the education system and improve students’ ability to find success in school and life. The plan is built on a few key ideas:
  - Children are born learners;
  - Teachers are passionate about teaching;
  - Every student has his or her own unique learning style, as well as individual motivations and interests. Education which brings out the best in each student must take into account diverse learning; and
  - An effective education system collaborates and communicates well between its partners, whether students, families, teachers, schools, districts, Government, or the public.

BC Jobs Plan

The Ministry is supporting the BC Jobs Plan by engaging collaboratively with other ministries, including the ministries of Jobs, Tourism and Innovation and Advanced Education on initiatives in key areas of focus, including international education, Aboriginal education, trades training and career preparation and Regional Workforce Tables.

Realizing that B.C. will need to harness outside capacity to fill the jobs of tomorrow, the Ministry plans to increase the international student presence in the Kindergarten to Grade 12 system by 50 per cent by 2015/16. Currently, there are 12,000 international students enrolled in B.C. schools. These students bring a global perspective, enriching schools and communities. The target is to increase the number of international students by 6,000, for a total enrolment of 18,000. Ideally, these students will transition into B.C. post-secondary institutions upon graduation from the K-12 system and then help fill the demand for jobs.

The BC Jobs Plan recognizes the need to improve First Nations educational outcomes as part of the strategy to prepare for the opportunities of tomorrow. Comprehensive data collection ensures that students who may be at risk are quickly identified and informs timely, appropriate intervention strategies. As of March 2012, 53 of 60 school districts had Aboriginal Education Enhancement Agreements in place. These Agreements are partnerships between the Ministry, school district and local Aboriginal communities to work together to improve the success of all Aboriginal students.

As part of personalized learning, the Ministry will support multiple pathways, including trades and technology options, to increase enrolment in career programs and reduce overall time to obtain trades certification. Implementation will require collaborative work with partner agencies and other ministries, including the ministries of Advanced Education and Jobs, Tourism and Innovation.

The Ministry will also coordinate with its partners in the field to ensure school district participation at Regional Workforce Tables where educators, industry, employers, local chambers of commerce, First Nations, labour and others will plan training program alignment to meet regional needs.

Families and Education

The Ministry has made significant progress with measures to support B.C. families in relation to education. Early learning initiatives continue to be a focus with the completed implementation of full day kindergarten in September 2011 and the ongoing expansion of StrongStart BC. StrongStart BC early learning programs provide early learning services for young children and their parents or caregivers at school facilities.

The Ministry is planning to re-shape education for students with special needs. With the input of key stakeholders, the Ministry is considering a range of new initiatives, including the “early intervention” practices model, a window at the beginning of schooling when students with special needs may enrol for a period of time to focus on preparing for a successful entry into school, and the Learning Improvement Fund, which will assist teachers in meeting complex needs in their classrooms. The Fund may be used, for example, to hire additional teachers and education assistants, provide additional teaching time and support professional development and training.

In collaboration with the Ministry of Health, the Ministry is consolidating existing school-based healthy living programs and resources into one integrated, coordinated and consistently implemented province-wide initiative Healthy Families BC Schools.

At the provincial level, the newly announced province-wide 10-point anti-bullying strategy, ERASE, will help ensure every child feels safe, accepted and respected, regardless of their gender, race, culture, religion, or sexual orientation.

Through the Neighbourhood Learning Centres approach, the Ministry is working to co-locate services and community resources to make services more accessible to families.

The Ministry has aligned its 2012/13-2014/15 Service Plan with BC's Education Plan and also with several key strategic shifts of Government: the BC Jobs Plan; the Citizens @ the Centre: BC Government 2.0 strategy; and Government's priorities of Open Data and Open Information. The implementation of BC's Education Plan will be accomplished within the Ministry's existing budget.

Report on Performance

This annual service plan report provides data and discusses the results related to the measures in the Ministry of Education 2011/12 – 2013/14 Service Plan. Through this report, the Ministry models accountability and communicates both successes and lessons learned. However, the Province's fiscal year does not parallel the school year; therefore, some data is unavailable at this time. That information will be made public at a later date or as it becomes available.

Goals, Objectives, Strategies and Performance Results

With the Province and its partners giving the very young the best possible start in school and life, responding to the individual needs of those students throughout school, and supporting adults who need or want to learn more, all British Columbians will have the opportunity to develop essential skills for success in the 21st century. Our citizens can then pursue their dreams, strengthen their communities, and contribute to a better, more prosperous British Columbia.

The Ministry of Education, together with its partners, has three main goals:

- ensuring B.C.'s young children benefit from high-quality early learning experiences;
- extending the success of B.C.'s K–12 system by responding to the unique needs of every student; and
- helping all learners improve their lives through life-long learning and literacy opportunities.

Goal 1: High-quality early learning

High-quality early learning programs are important to ensure young children are given the best start possible. The Ministry and its partners are working to build a variety of learning options that suit the unique needs of families.

Objective 1.1: Increase the number of children ready for success in kindergarten

Rich, play-based, early learning experiences benefit children, academically and socially, in school and life.

Strategies

- Completed the implementation of full day kindergarten for five-year-olds in September 2011.<sup>6</sup>
- Work with education partners, including Aboriginal partners, to determine how best to carry out early childhood assessment.
- Reach most areas of the province with StrongStart BC<sup>7</sup> early learning centres and outreach programs.

Data Source: The Human Early Learning Partnership (University of British Columbia, funded by the ministries of Children and Family Development, Education, and Health). For more information see www.earlylearning.ubc.ca/

Discussion of Results

The tool chosen to gauge children's readiness for school is the Early Development Instrument, administered by the Human Early Learning Partnership at the University of British Columbia. Kindergarten teachers in B.C. began to collect data using the Early Development Instrument in 1999/00, and, since March 2004, all 60 school districts submit data using this tool.

The Early Development Instrument assembles data in five key areas of children's development: physical health and well-being, social competence, emotional maturity, language and cognitive development, and communication skills and general knowledge. This information is then examined to teach us more about how different groups of children are developing and understand why different groups develop differently.

Prior to 2008/09, data was collected in waves over three-year intervals by the Human Early Learning Partnership. In 2008/09, data was collected for the whole province. Starting with 2009/10, data for the whole province is being collected over a two-year period.

Ministry Response

The Ministry has made major investments in B.C.'s education system to benefit early learners. The most prominent examples, StrongStart BC early learning programs for children birth to age 5 and full day kindergarten for five-year-olds, will support learning and development among children and lead to increased student achievement.

StrongStart BC early learning programs and full day kindergarten highlights during the 2011/12 fiscal year included:

- additional StrongStart BC early learning programs, bringing the total to 326, up from 316 in 2010/11;
- Full day kindergarten for more than 30,000 children across British Columbia;
- two early learning webcasts on the topics of self-regulation and project-based learning for educators and StrongStart BC facilitators;
- a full day kindergarten video series for educators to support quality programs; and
- $145M in capital funding for approximately 700 new and converted kindergarten classrooms to meet the demand for new spaces across the province for September 2011.

Lastly, to determine how best to carry out early childhood assessment, the Ministry held conference calls with all 60 school districts, to identify current early assessment practices and share what is working well. Ministry and district staff discussed ways to ensure that each Kindergarten child is assessed early in the school year, using developmentally appropriate tools and practices.

Goal 2: Responsive K–12 education

Choice, excellence, and accountability can inspire higher levels of student literacy and achievement. The Ministry is committed to ensuring that students have opportunities to follow their passions, and all of B.C.'s education partners, including government, boards of education, superintendents, principals, and teachers, must continually respond to the varying needs of students, especially those who might be struggling.

Objective 2.1: Build a school system with personalized learning approaches and flexible choices

Strategies

- Develop new forms of schooling to support the unique needs and interests of students.
- Revise and streamline curriculum to better accommodate the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in the 21st century, and to offer more personalized programming and instruction tailored to students' interests.
- Continue to support schools and districts in the creation of Neighbourhood Learning Centres to accommodate a wider range of programs and services for students, parents, families, and the community, both during and outside of school hours.
- Expand the integration of Aboriginal content and knowledge into B.C.'s curriculum.
- Assist the revitalization of indigenous languages in schools, through the Ministry's Second Language Template, in collaboration with teachers, school districts, and First Nations communities.
- Support school districts and Aboriginal communities to facilitate authentic and meaningful personalized learning for students, such as receiving credit towards graduation for contributing to the health of a community.
- Design and enable programs that support project-based learning leading to graduation, enabling all students to pursue their passions while contributing to their community.
- Support French immersion as a program of choice in the province.
- Provide, through the Distributed Learning Strategy, high-quality distributed learning choices, including online education, which can be combined with classroom instruction.
- Continue to support family choice through independent schools and home schooling options.

Personalized Learning, Curriculum and Assessment

In October 2011, the Ministry published BC's Education Plan to initiate a system-wide transformation to better address the unique needs and interests of learners. Discussions with education partners were also begun in the interest of developing increased flexibility and choice in where, when, and how students learn.

At the same time, the Ministry has supported the concept of project-based learning leading to graduation by consulting with educational experts and partners toward developing a new curriculum and assessment framework that will emphasize big ideas from within disciplines and cross-curricular competencies, accommodating innovative learning experiences. Through the engagement portion of BC's Education Plan website, input was solicited from education partners and the citizens of B.C. on how BC's graduation program could be improved to enhance student success and to enable all students to pursue their passions. To read the feedback the Ministry has received, visit the summary page for Question 18: Creating a New Graduation Program.

On a similar note, through consultation with a Curriculum and Assessment Framework Advisory group, a new curriculum prototype has been developed to reflect competencies and key concepts. Cross-curricular competency development and curriculum revision will follow in 2012/13.

Meanwhile, the LearnNow BC portal provides learners, teachers, and parents more online services, including, in 2011, 321,409 tutoring sessions in 23 subjects. The Ministry has gathered examples of blended learning (in school and online) from across the province to help provide insights for other schools. Electronic resources, lesson plans, and units of study created by many B.C. distributed learning schools have also been made available to the wider educational community.

Aboriginal Education

The Ministry has promoted a shift in the education system from Aboriginal education for Aboriginal students to Aboriginal education for everyone, which necessitates working with education partners to ensure teachers are prepared to respectfully address Aboriginal-Canadian relations and history. The Ministry has also continued to advocate for Aboriginal worldviews, knowledge, and history to inform any new curriculum and assessment framework.

To assist the revitalization of indigenous languages in schools, a number of school districts and communities have been supported in developing curriculum documents for their local First Nations language. Conversations with school district Aboriginal education contacts and community members were held to explore the challenges and opportunities for indigenous language curriculum development. The Ministry also participated in discussions at the First Nations Education Steering Committee (FNESC) Language Roundtable as well as those in the FNESC Language and Culture Curriculum team meetings.

Aboriginal community experts were invited to join conversations initiating a move toward an education system characterized by personalized learning. As a first step, school districts have been connected to spread innovative programs that support Aboriginal students, such as the Aboriginal Academy in school district 58 and the Ravens program in school district 71.

To bring added focus and expertise, an Aboriginal Superintendent of Achievement (SOA) has been appointed. This SOA will work with Aboriginal partners like FNESC, as well as with school districts and educational partners in B.C. to identify priorities that can best support improvements to Aboriginal achievement.

Objective 2.2: Support individual learners as they pursue their interests and reach for their goals

Strategies

- Offer learners at all levels an education program suited to their talents and interests.
- Allow learners the opportunity to explore career options tailored to their developmental level and interests.
- Provide opportunities for learners to explore occupation-specific training, such as the Work Experience 12 and apprenticeship courses.
- Continue to support the Distributed Learning Strategy, which provides online education opportunities.
- Ensure that all learners are prepared to enter the workforce or continue their education after graduation.
- Build comprehensive school health capacity in B.C. with the expansion of the Healthy Schools Network and implementation in B.C. schools of the Healthy Living Performance Standards.
- Reinforce the importance of healthy living through the Daily Physical Activity<sup>8</sup> requirements and the Guidelines for Food and Beverages Sales in BC Schools.<sup>9</sup>

Distributed Learning

In 2011/12, distributed learning enrolment is expected to exceed 80,000 students, up from 17,000 in 2005/06. Meanwhile, 36 per cent of students in grades 10–12 have participated in a distributed learning course, giving BC the highest rate in North America.

Over 43% of the students who graduated in 2011 took a distributed learning course as part of their school experience. Provincial exam results show that distributed learning students are achieving as well as students in bricks-and-mortar schools.

The Ministry has continued to work with district and school officials to enhance the quality of instruction at BC's 55 public and 18 independent distributed learning schools.

Workforce Preparation

The Ministry has continued to support school and district initiatives, such as dual credit programs, that prepare students for a successful transition to life after K-12, while tracking student enrolments in post-secondary training, including trades, after graduation.

The Ministry has also embarked on a new journey, in partnership with parents, educators, and other stakeholders, to create an education system focused on every learner's individual aptitudes and skills, which should ensure that all learners are prepared for life after graduation.

Objective 2.3: Identify and better serve students who need extra help

Success in school is one of the cornerstones of a better life and a B.C. graduation certificate is proof of the skills and knowledge needed to compete with the best in the world. But it is clear that almost one in five students don't succeed, either by not graduating or graduating without critical skills. All of B.C.'s education partners have to do a better job of finding students who are struggling, identifying their challenges, and intervening earlier.

Strategies

- Ensure that every student with special needs is entitled to an individualized education plan has a current, fully implemented plan, developed in consultation with his or her parents.
- Expect all school districts and schools to address the needs of under-performing students in achievement contracts and annual school plans.
- Increase the effectiveness of interventions designed to help under-performing students through the work of the Ministry's superintendents of achievement and district superintendents.
- Provide targeted supplemental funding for instruction tailored to Aboriginal students, including bringing Aboriginal content into the classroom.
- Provide funding to support immigrant or refugee students learning English or French as an additional language.

Ministry Response

In addition to the following actions, please refer to the Strategic Context section on page 11 of this report for more information on actions taken in response to strategies relating to Aboriginal, Special and international education.

Special Education

With the input of key stakeholders, the Ministry is considering a range of new initiatives for students with special needs. One example is the “early intervention” practices model, a window at the beginning of schooling when students with special needs may enrol for a period of time to focus on preparing for a successful entry into school.

The new Education Improvement Act implements the Learning Improvement Fund, which will assist teachers in meeting complex needs in their classrooms. The Fund may be used, for example, to hire additional teachers and education assistants, provide additional teaching time and support professional development and training.

Lastly, the Ministry reviewed Special Education Services and created a Manual of Policies and Procedures, which explains the circumstances in which individual education plans are required and notes that parents must be given an opportunity to consult on their child’s plan. Annual student reporting checklists were prepared for each category of special need to remind boards of the need to provide documentation, including evidence that parents were given the opportunity to consult on their child’s individual education plan.

Funding

In 2011/12, the Ministry invested $63 million – $1,160 per student who self-identified Aboriginal ancestry – into Aboriginal education. To ensure clarity, notes were added in the policy and corresponding instructions, all highlighting that the targeted funds are to support Aboriginal language and culture programs, Aboriginal support service programs, and other locally developed Aboriginal education programs.

The Ministry provided funding for students taking English Language Learning or Francisation Langue seconde for up to five years. Meanwhile, in collaboration with Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Innovation programs, approximately $9 million in funding was provided to support immigrant and refugee students in 2011/12.

Data Source: Foundation Skills Assessment data, Ministry of Education.

<sup>1</sup> The total numbers of eligible students is reflected in the performance results, including those who did not take the assessment.

Discussion of Results

The Foundation Skills Assessment (FSA) is used to measure the percentage of public and independent school students in Grades 4 and 7 who meet or exceed grade level expectations in three key areas of student learning: reading, writing, and numeracy. The FSA is administered to all students at those grade levels and focuses on the skills that form the foundation for other learning. Approximately 90,000 students are expected to write the FSA each year. Overall participation rates have remained at about the same level (84 per cent) since 2009. Standards set by the Ministry are based on the recommendations of B.C. teachers.

Ministry Response

The FSA was chosen as a measure because it can provide information on students' performance over time in key areas of learning. This measure provides all education partners with information to evaluate how well students are learning basic skills and the opportunity to plan more effectively to improve student achievement.

As we work toward educational transformation in B.C., provincial assessments will be revised to reflect new directions and will include measures of cross-curricular competencies. The Province remains committed to high standards, and foundational skills will continue to play an important part of any future assessment system.

It does not include students who started or dropped the course during the year, students who moved out of the province or students who left the school system.

Discussion of Results

The Grade 10 language arts exams require students to read and comprehend text, think critically about literature, and write clearly. These exams offer another opportunity to identify and better serve students struggling in school.

The Grade 12 language arts exams provide a clear indication of whether the exam writer has sufficient reading comprehension and writing skills to successfully pursue career opportunities or post-secondary education after graduation.

Grade 10 and Grade 12 exams also serve the Ministry and education system as useful performance indicators.

Ministry Response

Students in British Columbia are achieving high results on the Grades 10 and 12 language arts provincial exams, with targets met or nearly met. Language arts examinations are key performance measures and the targets have been established to highlight their importance as a fundamental component for success.

The implementation of courses in English 10, 11 and 12 First Peoples has provided greater curricular relevance and opportunities for learners as they work towards success in meeting their language arts requirements. Similarly, a move to personalized learning will offer students and educators greater choice, flexibility, and increasingly relevant approaches to teaching and learning. These initiatives are part of long-term and ongoing measures to improve student performance in language arts and communication skills.

Objective 2.4: Use achievement statistics to improve education delivery

Even after students leave the K-12 education system, data regarding their achievement outcomes and experiences should be analyzed for the benefit of future students.

Strategies

- Assist school districts in making better use of information and evidence arising from provincial and district achievement data to better serve all students, with additional attention on Aboriginal students, students with special needs, and students in care.
- Support the development of networks among school districts, schools, and teachers to build capacity in teaching and share promising practices throughout the province.
- Work with individual districts to develop strategies for improving student learning outcomes.

Ministry Response

Data collected by the Ministry is now publicly available, through Phase 1 of Open Data Education, in an open, standardized and usable format. Phase 2 will focus not only on making the data available, but making the data accessible and understandable to a broad public audience. Publishing relevant data online will increase transparency of government processes and performance.

The Ministry is working with school districts to understand and use the data to effect change in improving student learning. This includes exploring how school district data can also be made public.

In support of Aboriginal education, the Ministry provided Aboriginal student performance results and local context to Superintendents of Achievement set to visit select school districts and sent Aboriginal education team members to most school districts to review their student data and provide additional analysis. The link between program delivery and student performance results was highlighted in feedback on Aboriginal Education Enhancement Agreement Annual Reports.

Finally, to better position the Ministry to provide supports and services for children in care, the Ministry entered into an information sharing agreement with the Ministry of Children and Family Development.

Performance Results

Discussion of Results

Completion rates are determined by calculating the percentage of students who graduate with a Dogwood Diploma within six years of starting Grade 8 for the first time in a B.C. public or independent school.<sup>10</sup>

Young adults have a greater chance of making a successful transition to post-secondary studies or the workplace if they complete B.C.'s graduation requirements and receive a secondary school graduation diploma.

Results continue to show that B.C.'s world-class education system is meeting the needs of most students but new strategies are needed if students are to surpass the existing plateaus in achievement.

Ministry Response

While B.C. currently enjoys a reputation as one of the top jurisdictions internationally in education, to maintain that position well into the future, the Province must embrace change. A personalized learning model has the flexibility to build on the strengths, interests, and passions of individual students.

The provincial Superintendents of Achievement (SOA) discuss student achievement reports with each district superintendent and executive team to identify individual students who may be vulnerable. School districts then manage interventions to assist these students. SOAs also canvass school districts for strategies that are improving student achievement. These strategies are shared with other districts that have similar challenges. The Ministry has recently appointed two new SOAs. One will focus on working with school districts, Aboriginal and educational partners in B.C. to identify priorities that can best support improvements to Aboriginal achievement. The other will focus on improving reading outcomes for all students.

The Ministry is also continuing to work with Aboriginal communities and school districts to make tangible plans to engage Aboriginal students. There are now 51 Aboriginal education enhancement agreements to improve the success and educational experience of Aboriginal students in British Columbia. At the same time, the Ministry has introduced English First Peoples 10 and 11, in addition to providing English 12 First Peoples.

Discussion of Results

The rate of transition to post-secondary programs is a good indicator of how well the K 12 education system is preparing students for future life choices. Research indicates that individuals with post-secondary education tend to have higher rates of employment, higher earnings, and a greater overall quality of life.

Data collected over time shows that the majority of young adults who pursue post-secondary education will make the transition within two years of completing school. The transition rate to post-secondary education declines at a steady and predictable rate after two years.<sup>11</sup>

Ministry Response

Students should be encouraged to discover their individual passions and pursue their interests. A personalized approach to the delivery of educational services enables students to leverage their strengths and pursue developmental opportunities specific to their needs. This may result in students engaging in various post-secondary programs, and include further academic pursuits, skills training, athletics, and the arts. A personalized learning model motivates students by providing flexibility and choice. Through educational experiences like Planning 10, all students explore a wide range of post-secondary program options that can lead to a variety of career opportunities.

Goal 3: Life-long learning and literacy

The ability to read is a critical skill for individuals to function and thrive in society. Today's many technologies don't replace reading – they put additional demands on an individual's literacy. Lifelong learning helps those in the workforce develop new skills and remain competitive in a global economy.

Literacy is the foundation of lifelong learning. Higher levels of literacy contribute to better social and economic outcomes for individuals and society. Recognizing this, in January 2007 Government launched ReadNow BC, the provincial literacy action plan, to raise awareness and enable coordination of literacy programs and services in communities. In partnership with B.C.'s provincial literacy organization Decoda Literacy Solutions, the Ministry continues to support literacy through the community literacy planning process and initiatives such as the annual Raise-a-Reader campaign.

As a result of this collaborative approach, the profile of literacy in B.C. has increased significantly. For many British Columbians, it is now the key to lifelong learning. Please see ReadNow BC's Final Report for a summary of the provincial literacy action plan.

Boards of education, libraries, communities, and others are working together to ensure that all British Columbians are literate, and to increase access for learners wanting to further their education and upgrade their skills for the 21st century.

Objective 3.1: Guarantee adult learners the basic skills for success

A good education, including strong reading skills, allows individuals to adapt to changes in the world. The Ministry of Education is working, in cooperation with other ministries and organizations, to ensure that adults in the province have the skills they need to succeed.

Strategies

- Offer K 12 education in essential courses, such as Literacy Foundations and Math 11, to all adult students who want to upgrade their skills or who require further study to meet key entry requirements for post-secondary institutions and trades programs.
- Continue to support the Ministry-approved literacy foundations curriculum to better serve all learners with a focus on reading skills. This curriculum can help adults with low levels of literacy transition into post-secondary education or the workforce.
- Continue to support Neighbourhood Learning Centres that function as community hubs, drawing in adults and inspiring them to take advantage of opportunities for life-long learning.

- Improve, through the collaborative efforts of various ministries and stakeholder groups, the literacy skills of British Columbians, including the ability to access and understand information about their health.
- As a part of the Healthy Families BC Schools initiative, working with the Ministry of Health and Directorate of Agencies for School Health (DASH) BC to design a youth engagement strategy which aims to increase students' understanding of health issues.
- The new Healthy Schools BC portal has been developed and serves as an online “one stop” directory of school health programs/resources for health and education stakeholders.
- Action Schools! BC is also updating and expanding its workshops to address a broader range of health topics (e.g. fruit and vegetable consumption, physical activity, screen time, sugar-sweetened beverages).

Ministry Response

The Ministry has focused its Education Guarantee to cover specific courses in the literacy foundations curriculum and academic courses most often taken for upgrading.

Healthy Schools

As a part of the Healthy Families BC Schools initiative, which is based on the Comprehensive School Health approach, the Ministry has worked with the Ministry of Health to create a strategy that will build the capacity of all B.C. schools to effectively implement healthy schools initiatives, including Healthy Living Performance Standards.

Objective 3.2: Increase the focus on reading in communities

The Ministry works with boards of education, community organizations, literacy stakeholders, libraries, post-secondary institutions, Aboriginal groups, businesses, and community members to improve reading skills for B.C. families and communities.

Strategies

- Work to build greater connection and mutual support between public, K 12 and post-secondary library systems.
- Continue to support strong early and family literacy programs through public libraries.
- Ensure District Literacy Plans<sup>12</sup> address all local learners through literacy goals on which boards of education and their communities can collaborate.
- Continue to support the development of Neighbourhood Learning Centres as welcoming places where people of all ages and cultures can access education, health care, recreation, and other services that ultimately help promote the well-being of children, youth, families and the whole community.

Ministry Response

Schools and Communities

Schools and school districts have been supported in creating Neighbourhood Learning Centres to accommodate a wider range of programs and services for students, parents, families, and the community, both during and outside of school hours, through the completion of extensive consultation with the field and co-creation of website resources.

Public Libraries

British Columbians of all ages can access information, resources, and learning opportunities, both in person and online, via their public libraries across the province. Through established programming, collections, services and open hours that meet community needs, libraries continue to provide an accessible destination for learners of all ages to pursue their individual interests.

Libraries continually expand their virtual presence through eBook lending, access to databases, and online assistance through chat and email. Libraries are available 24/7 – when and where they are needed.

In addition to resources, programming and expertise, public libraries offer a range of services specifically to K-12 students including study space, group study/meeting spaces, wireless network access homework help and exam proctoring services.

Public libraries serve their local communities as part of a broader provincial network of libraries supported by federations, shared technological systems, and BC OneCard. Public libraries are collaborating with schools, literacy organizations, community partners and each other to provide seamless access to library service in rural and urban areas across the province.

Libraries are an integral element of British Columbia's "informal" education system, and support the vision set out in the BC Education Plan to the personalized learning transformation by allowing for greater flexibility on when and where lifelong learning takes place, for everyone.

<sup>1</sup> This combined income statement includes estimates from 60 school districts. Numbers do not include the eliminating entries required to consolidate these agencies with the government reporting entity. The above variance is due to a difference in revenue recognition timing between the sector and the Province and will be largely eliminated upon consolidation.

Ministry of Education

2011/12 SUMMARY OF KEY INFORMATION

April 2012
Research and Data Analysis

---

PLEASE NOTE:

The Ministry of Education makes small and continuous improvements to the quality of its data.

Sometimes these changes result in differences from previously published reports.

The data in this report are the most accurate data available at time of publication.

Notes:

(1) An Aboriginal student is a student who has self-identified as being of Aboriginal ancestry (see glossary). Beginning in the 2003/04 school year a student is considered Aboriginal if s/he has self-declared any time in the year 2003/04 forward. Before 2003/04, students were considered Aboriginal in any given year only if they self-declared in the September 30th enrolment in that year.

Notes:

(1) The number of English as a Second Language (ESL) students dropped between 1998/99 and 1999/00 because of a change in funding policy. Starting in 1999/00, public school ESL students were funded in the supplemental ESL funding category up to a maximum of 5 years. Previous to this, there was no maximum. Funding for ESL services for independent school students is included in the regular operation grants issued to independent schools.

Notes:

- 1) Reflects enrolment at September 30th, including only those students who are taking most of their educational program by distributed learning (the DL program is considered the school of authority).
- 2) The numbers reported exclude cross-enrolment. (In 2006/07, changes in distributed learning legislation permitted cross-enrolment in Grades 10, 11 and 12.)
- 3) As students can enrol in DL courses at any time, this will under-represent the actual number of students taking courses by distributed learning in a year. The annual total DL enrolment was 33,022 for 2006/07 and 48,491 for 2007/08. The projected enrolment for 2008/09 is 56,000.

Notes:

- (1) Children may be taught at home without the supervision of a certified teacher. Homeschool programs are not funded or accredited by the Ministry because parents choose the curriculum and learning resources.
- (2) Parents must provide each school-aged child with an "educational program". No official report is required.
- (3) Parents must register their homeschooled child(ren) by September 30th of each year with a public, francophone, distributed learning, or independent school.
- (4) % of All Students calculated with the total number of students from page 1 as the denominator, which excludes registered homeschooled children.

Notes:

(1) School Facility - defined as "a school building used for purposes of providing an educational program for students".

(2) School Program - defined as "an organization having at least one teacher and administrator, which provides an educational program to students".

(3) School Facility data provided by Resource Management Division.

(4) School Program data based on September 30th collection, Form 1601.

(5) Recent change in practice is expected to reduce the number of reported program closures. New guidelines adopted in 2005 result in new mincodes being issued only when a program changes, but not when it relocates.

Notes:

- (1) Operating Grants represent the majority of funds provided by the Ministry of Education to School Boards to provide educational programs and operate schools.
- (2) Since 2002/03, provincial funding for Provincial Learning Network (PLNet) and Provincial Learning Resources is provided through grants outside of the Operating Grant amount. Leases were outside of the Operating Grant amount for 2002/03 and 2003/04.
- (3) Data provided by Ministry of Education, Resource Management Department.
- (4) The provincial total includes reallocated funds which are not included in the district figures.

Notes:

(1) The six-year completion rate is the portion of students who graduate, with a Certificate of Graduation, within six years from the time they enrol in Grade 8. The rate is adjusted for migration in and out of British Columbia.

(2) For purposes of this report the cut-off date for schools to identify students that have graduated is in the third week of September.

Notes:

(1) The six-year completion rate is the portion of students who graduate, with a Certificate of Graduation, within six years from the time they enrol in Grade 8. The rate is adjusted for migration in and out of British Columbia.

(2) For purposes of this report the cut-off date for schools to identify students that have graduated is in the third week of September.

Notes:

(1) Results are based on the questions:

"Are you satisfied with what you are learning at school?" for students and

"Are you satisfied with what your child is learning at school?" for parents, and

"Are you satisfied with the academic performance of the student?" for staff.

(2) Includes standard public schools only.

Notes:

(1) Results are based on the questions:

"At school, do you get exercise (for example, physical activity or sports)?" for students, and

"At school, does your child get exercise (for example, physical activity or sports)?" for parents.

No physical activity question was asked for staff.

(2) Includes standard public schools only.

Notes:

(1) Includes standard public schools only.

(2) A participation rate for staff is not included as the Ministry only collects data on teaching staff and the survey is open to all school employees. It is therefore not appropriate to calculate a school staff participation rate.

Notes:

- (1) PISA is administered every three years and assesses the skills of 15-year-old students.
- (2) In 2006, Science was the major domain and Reading and Mathematics were minor domains.
- (3) Fifty-seven countries and all ten Canadian provinces participated in 2006.
- (4) In BC, 1,884 students from 73 schools participated.

PISA 2006 Levels of Science Proficiency

|        | Not reaching Level 1 | Level 1 | Level 2 | Level 3 | Level 4 | Level 5 | Level 6 |
|--------|----------------------|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| BC     | 1.9                  | 7.1     | 18.5    | 28.1    | 28.3    | 13.7    | 2.3     |
| Canada | 2.2                  | 7.8     | 19.0    | 28.8    | 27.8    | 12.1    | 2.4     |
| OECD   | 5.2                  | 14.0    | 24.0    | 27.4    | 20.4    | 7.7     | 1.3     |

Proficiency levels:

Level 1: Students have a very limited store of scientific knowledge.

Level 2: Students have adequate scientific knowledge to provide possible explanations and draw conclusions in familiar contexts.

Level 3: Students can identify clearly described scientific issues in a range of contexts. They can select knowledge to explain phenomena and apply simple models or inquiry strategies.

Level 4: Students can select and integrate explanations from different disciplines of science or technology and link those explanations to aspects of life situations. They can reflect on their actions and communicate decisions using scientific knowledge and evidence.

Level 5: Students can identify the scientific components of many complex life situations. They can compare, select and evaluate appropriate scientific evidence for responding to life situations.

Level 6: Students can consistently identify, explain and apply scientific knowledge to a variety of complex life situations. They clearly and consistently demonstrate advanced scientific thinking and reasoning. They can use scientific knowledge to develop arguments in support of decisions that centre on personal, social, or global situations.

Notes:

(1) PISA is administered every three years and assesses the skills of 15-year-old students.

(2) In 2006, Science was the major domain and Reading and Mathematics were minor domains.

(3) The OECD average was established with the data weighted so that each OECD country contributed equally.

(4) Students were assigned to a level of science proficiency based on their probability of correctly answering the majority of the questions in that range of difficulty.

(5) Proficiency level 2 has been identified as the 'baseline proficiency' level or the level of achievement at which students begin to demonstrate the scientific competencies that will enable full participation in life situations related to science and technology.

PIRLS 2006 International Benchmarks of Reading Achievement

|               | Not reachingLow | Low | Intermediate | High | Advanced |
|---------------|---------------------|-----|--------------|------|----------|
| BC            | 2                   | 10  | 32           | 40   | 16       |
| International | 6                   | 18  | 35           | 34   | 7        |

International Benchmarks:

Low: Students can recognize explicitly stated information and make straightforward inferences clearly suggested by the text.

Intermediate: Students can identify relevant information, make straightforward inferences, and begin to make connections across parts of the text.

High: Students can use a variety of organizational features to locate and distinguish relevant information, make inferences based on embedded or abstract information, recognize the use of some textual features (e.g., figurative language), and compare and evaluate parts of a text to give a preference and a reason for it.

Advanced: Students can distinguish and interpret complex information from different parts of a text, understand functional and organizational features, interpret figurative language, and fully justify preferences.

Notes:

(1) PIRLS is administered every five years and assesses the reading skills of grade 4 students.

(2) The international results represent international medians (i.e. for each of the International Benchmarks, half of the countries performed above that level and the other half performed below that level).

(3) Students were assigned to an International Benchmark based on their likelihood of correctly answering the questions at that benchmark and their likelihood of not being able to answer the majority of the questions at higher International Benchmarks.
