Dear Ms. Komatsu:

I am writing to inform you that I will be leading a trade mission to China, Korea and Japan between November 21 and December 3, 2013. Trade missions are a critical part of British Columbia's strategy to diversify its international trading partners and secure new investment, propelling economic activity and job creation throughout the province.

As you and your company play a role in shaping the future economy of British Columbia, I would welcome your participation and advice to advance our province's trade relations internationally. I would ask that you be a special advisor to me in developing my mission itinerary in Japan.

In each market, the mission will strengthen bilateral relations with government partners; promote British Columbia's competitive advantages during corporate meetings with key investors in LNG and other priority sectors; and, capitalize on British Columbia's cultural bridge across the Pacific with networking events built around British Columbia's many familial, economic and educational connections to Asia.

I look forward to your support in the delivery of a successful mission.

Sincerely,
