OK Christy

You got the job done. For now.

I must say, I wasn't quite sure it would happen, or even that I had the faith you could do it.

Really I was not sure who to vote for... so, you know what???

I voted Green.....Thought that was just as good as spoiling my ballot..

At the end of the day I was not happy with anybody's platform or your glad-handling of the public.

You must know by now, that you won by pure Politics and NOT by what you truly believe in your own heart.

Same goes for the Honourable Mr Dix.

This email is only to let you know that both yourself and Mr Dix have inspired me to enter the ring of politics because there is nobody else left to vote for.

You know what?? Who knows where this could lead....but if you have any ideas...Don't hesitate to call me.

BTW

My name is S22

I live in Kimberley BC

My political involvement Is pretty much coffee table

Although I believe in your stance on the Economy,

I really do believe there is a better way .

Thank you for your Efforts

Lets make BC the best Place on Earth..... For Real

Premier Clark

I am a retired nurse and consider myself liberally minded. I find many in your party much further to the right regarding social issues than I can tolerate. Your successful candidate in Chilliwack is a good example of this. I find it embarrassing in the extreme to read in the local newspaper that his response to the majority government was, "Did we kick some left-wing socialist butt tonight or what?" I have observed John Martin's hatred to those less advantaged than him through newspaper columns and sincerely hope that you are able to moderate his extreme views. I respect that you were able to indicate that you were elected as Premier for all the people of BC, not just those who voted Liberal. I would hope that the same thing would be expected of Mr. Martin. A word to the wise, he's a loose cannon who will create trouble for your party. Keep him deep on the back bench.

I am not sure if you will even bother to read this but I believe in being pro active.

While I am sure you are pleased that your party has been re-elected I think you are on the wrong track when you say that the majority of the public in BC want you to govern the province of BC. The majority of voters did not even go out to vote - that's 52% of the eligible voters who did not want you, or granted, any one political party, enough to exercise their right to vote. And yes, it is success for the Liberals as a whole to win the election, but you personally did not generate enough support in your own riding to win a seat but to be able to act as premier you are going to have to oust a successful individual who did win the right to represent his riding. The media has their focus for the post election stories all wrong. A much bigger concern than whether the polls were correct or not, is that the majority of voters are apathetic. The real question on what went wrong should be looking at what can be done to enable people to realize that their vote does matter. That not all politicians and governments are corrupt, or liars, or whatever else the belief is out there. Something is wrong with a system that can result in such apathy, we need to solve this situation. The second big story being ignored, is that while the majority of the minority who voted did vote Liberal, they did not vote for Christy Clark. Perhaps the Liberal party should be looking for a new leader.

I'm also very concerned for our environment because I believe that you will sell out the province to the pipeline and oil and gas companies in exchange for money. But remember, an oil spill cleanup will be disasterous for the province. I'm sure you are aware that US governments are being bankrupted by the multi billion dollar clean ups they have had to undertake as a result of spills in their area. Yes, we might make short term gain monetarily if the Enbridge pipeline is allowed to go ahead, but it will bankrupt the province financially and environmentally when the spill happens and happen it will. Please bear this in mind when you are glad handing these corporations and the Alberta government.

This election is wrong. How can the citizen with one X on the ballot make a sound choice when negative ads and funding from special interest groups from other provinces overwhelm the process for sober thought by the voter.

Obviously the constituents in your riding had enough of your tactics, because they knew you wouldn't support them if your interests lie with Alberta crude.

Democracy is dead. And you are leading the way.

Subject: 22% is a "mandate"?

Dear Premier,

According to a report published by Democracy Watch -- a national non-profit that advocates for democratic reform and government accountability -- the BC Liberals won Tuesday's election with the support of just 22 per cent of eligible voters.

The number proves one thing for Tyler Sommers, Democracy Watch coordinator: the system is broken. In his opinion, low voter turnout is the direct effect of a loss of faith in the political system.

He figures that people don't vote because they feel no matter what, the winner will be dishonest. If they're assured the winner will be honest, platforms will matter again, he added.

His suggestions? End negative campaigns, and make it easier for voters to file complaints to the Integrity Commissioner -- although voters should first be informed about what constitutes a violation on behalf of representatives, he added.

Sommers also proposes changing the current democratic system to a model that ensures the number of MLAs each party receives matches the popular vote percentages more closely. He suggests a mixed member system -- in which voters cast two votes, one for the party and one for their constituency representative -- and the Best Loser System. That system is used in Mauritius to ensure minorities have representation in congress, but Sommers says it could be applied to B.C. by reserving additional seats for the runner-ups with the highest percentage of votes. In the past, B.C. has unsuccessfully attempted to switch to the single transferable vote system twice -- once in a 2005 referendum and again in 2009.

Single transferable vote is a system where voters rank candidates in order of preference. The candidates that get the most support are elected and the ones with least support are eliminated so that the second preferences of voters can be taken into account. This system guarantees more parties can receive seats, but it can also make it harder for a single party to obtain a majority. More recently, Votes BC conducted a study with support from the University of British Columbia in which participants were asked to use three different systems to cast their vote for a simulated provincial election.

The three systems in the study were single transferable vote, first-past-the-post (B.C. and Canada's current system), and proportional representation. Results for this study have not been released, but researchers expect the different systems to have an impact on the results of the simulation.

While another attempt to change B.C.'s electoral system isn't on the horizon yet, one new solution Sommers' organization would like to see is a "none of the above" option on ballots. That would encourage voters to participate in the voting process, while still making their distaste for the available options known, he said.

Subject: letter to Premier Clark

Dear Premier Clark,

Although I realize you may not lay eyes on this letter, I feel compelled to write it. I am not a letter writer by tradition, but feel the need to communicate as a voter and BC citizen.

First, congratulations on your win.

I was born and raised in East Van in a traditionally NDP riding and my philosophy is very much in line with more left middle. I am very concerned with the environment and leaving something for the next generations. We cannot rely on fossil fuels and it will take real vision to realize that. Our global environment is pretty well at the "tipping point" (you may want to familiarize yourself with this term if you have not done so already). It will take a brave and creative government to not sell out the environment for short-term business interests. The pipeline will be new and presumably safe; however, the tanker traffic is not.

Honestly, my first thought last night was "oh my goodness how could people elect Dan Ashton" – a man that who has successfully bankrupt Penticton and will not have to face the electorate now. Please, please do not put this man into cabinet for all our sakes. My second thought was "oh no another four years of getting farther behind".

Let me introduce you to my family. My husband and I S22 and have done so for S22 We moved S22 when my children were young to give them a chance to grow up in a smaller less stressed environment. When my children were young, we made sacrifices for me to stay at home and raise our children S22 S22 It would have cost more for daycare to pay for someone else to raise my own children. Fast forward a few years and S22 S22 This I did for a few years until I secured a job at S22 I think it is so important for parents to be able to raise their children by staying home – maybe you could work at that.

Further, my husband S22 We are a S22 "typical" middle class family. Our children are now S22

S22 All are upstanding citizens and hard workers. All were/are involved in the community and sports. All have jobs. However, we are still further behind now, as the children cost more as they age (you will see this as your son grows). The sports/arts credit should go until they are 18 rather than 16. Do we not want to keep encouraging youth sports until at least grade 12? (just an aside).

S22
S22 He is a hard worker and S22
actually does more than most S22 S22 As you can tell I am proud of him. However, that does not mean things are easy.

S22
thankfully. This brings me to another aside. S22
This is fine; however, S22
S22 Not ideal as I work full-time, have my family duties, organize S22 here, and so on. There are now three oral medications with fewer side effects which have been approved, but not covered under medical at this time. Although, my extended health does cover part of the cost S22 and MSP does pick it up under Fair Pharmacare eventually, it is another financial drain. (Airmiles is a definite plus and to lose those reward points would be annoying). (one more aside thought).

S22 I was lucky enough to have a very supportive family and work family which allowed me to work right through S22

My purpose of introducing you to my family is to show you a typically atypical family. We are farther behind now than we were when the liberals took office with Gordon Campbell. He is a man who, in my opinion, gave the liberals a very bad name. His cronies (such as Rich Coleman – who I would love to see ousted from cabinet) and the like of the “old boy” group do nothing for families and everything to sell off our province to businesses big and small. I belong to a union, and feel they have their place, but get frustrated when hard working people work alongside “system abusers”. There is much waste in government and in the public and private sectors as well.

I honestly think you are genuine and I may have actually even voted liberal if we had a different candidate here. I would really love to see you clean house and be able to rebuild your party caucus and cabinet with some of the new and insightful MLAs at your disposal. I hope you have the “kahunas” that I think you do. I believe that you are an honest politician (which is kind of an oxymoron most times). People, for instance, like Rich Coleman, have been here too long and are viewed as sows at the trough politicians. I hope that you are just as much substance as talk, which I do think you are.

FINALLY, if you need a riding – think Penticton. Dan should go, it is a ‘safe’ riding and I think you would do a great job here as well.

Again, congratulations.

S22
Regular citizen.

Subject: Recent Elections:

I certainly offer the fullest congratulations on the recent elections, we were all filled with the dread of what might happen should the Liberals not prevail, thanks again for the efforts of all who participated in the windfall.

However – I must state – this is the first time ever, that I have voted for someone I did not want to see elected, I voted for the party, not the individual. We live in Langley, and have done for the past 12 years, we are burdened with two of the most non productive ministers in your party. I am not alone, at a luncheon with neighbors and friends, unanimously the feelings were the same – we were afraid of the NDP, and voted for those we did not want to see return to represent us. Mary Pollack and Rich Coleman, received our votes as we had no choice but to vote for a party majority.

Once again we are in for 4 more years, of total misrepresentation, people who do not respond to either mail or phone calls, people who say they will meet, and never show up, people who when you ask for assistance or information to current events, never answer, and two members who we believe, have forgotten just who put them in the position they are in.

They believe by their attitudes, they are totally above the populus they so a frivolously vow to serve. They do not deserve all of the perks they receive, for the little effort they return to their respective riding. But we had no choice.

We do not look forward to the coming 4 years of representation these two individuals, you got the support you needed, we got the party we needed to run our great province, all we need now is for you to return both Mary Pollack and Rich Coleman to the back of the bench where they belong, better still, if you have to pick a member to give up their seat for the allowance to remain as Premier, pick either one – Please!

Thanks for reading.

Greetings:

Let me take this time to congratulate you for a majority win.

At the outset let me say that I hope this note does not stop at your press secretaries desk but also finds it's way to your desk.

.For the next four years you have your work cut out for you and it would be my wish that you keep a close ear tuned to your constituents.

We know that the pipeline to Kitimat will be built but will it stop at a B.C. built refinery, or will the need to bow to off shore money be too overpowering. We can thank Mr. Trudeau for getting Canada into the oil cartel. That may well have been the right thing to do at the time but not today. We don't need Alaska, Texas, Venezuela or middle East oil. We Have enough of our own. What we need is strong government that will say, "let us employee B.C. workers and put this province back on the map like it once was".and sell us back our own oil at a decent price.

You say, "we will balance the budget in 15 years" are you assuming that the Liberals will stay in power that long? Before any householder can bring in a balanced budget any existing debt must first be eliminated. You did not inherit all of the debt B.C. has but you seem to be adding to it by allowing the outsourcing of our home grown talent and bringing in outsiders to do the work we should be doing. Put an emphasis on the apprenticeship program and encourage employers to hire them. Most employers tell the job seeker,"we need skilled workers" I'm fine with that, but where do the skills come from if I can't find a job.

You say, "We have created 30,000 jobs", in what sector of the economy were they created ? I know personally numbers of young men and women scrambling for work and there is none for reasons that need not be discussed at this time, but I'm sure you are able to read between the lines.

Trans link received suggestions years ago on how to curb the abuse of not paying for the tickets. Did they listen, NO, they said. "oh too expensive", so the ridership suffered hikes in fares that helped contribute to further abuse.

The Port Man bridge is part of the Trans Canada Highway system yet we are made to pay a toll. Please explain to you constituents the logic behind that one.

Premier Clark, I could go on and on but until yours, and any other government are prepared to sit down with the rank and file of this province and sus out obvious answers to many of our on going problems, 4 years from now you just might be saying, " where did we go wrong" .

Again I say congratulations and all the best in the coming months.

Dear Ms. Clarke,

First of all congratulations on your party's win in yesterday's election. However I must add how disappointed I was in tone of the campaign. The negative personal attack ads are, I feel, a disgrace to politics. I believe this is a big reason why so many people no longer vote. I know I have heard a number of people express this and I think it is very sad that politics and politicians have sunk to this level over the decades. How is this going to bring the young voters to the polls? A 52% turnout is disgraceful.

Hopefully in spite of all this you will serve the people of BC well.

Madam Unelected Premier

SO the electorate have made their choice. They want to keep the liberal government but they dont want CHristy Clark. Her performance while in office has been so appalling that she failed to get the support of her own riding. They favored the NDP over Ms Clark and that is a telling result. Christy Clark was NOT ELECTED by the people of BC and she should not sit in the premiers chair. THE people of BC have spoken and they dont want her. I suggest that if the liberal party decides to keep her as their leader they are going to have trouble down the road just as with Gordy Scambull. MS Calrk needs to resign as leader she is not supported by the voters and they have made that clear. IF the liberal party of BC want the support of the voters going forward and it seems the voters want to support the liberals then they need to choose a leader that the people want to support and not just fudge CHristy in some other random riding just to keep her leadership. Her leadership was so poor that she failed to get elected in her own local riding and thats shocking. She is as much a failure as Adrian Dix was but Adrian at least won his own seat in the house.

I dont want to give her another chance. SHE had her chance and she failed and we deserve better leadership than she is offering. Obviously her politics did not resonate with the electorate and that needs to be considered going forward. Im urging the liberals to elect another leader from among the ranks of those who won their seats. I dont believe just because the liberals won the majority that that includes CHristy Clark. The voters obviously dont support her. Her resignation will be applauded.

On behalf of our communities and citizens please accept our heartfelt congratulations for your leadership and remarkable achievement in winning a majority government against all of the predicted odds. What a wonderful new day for British Columbia.

Your focus on the economy and on marketing BC's enormous shale gas reserves resonated not only in the north, but Province wide. As the riding with most of BC's shale gas reserves, you have secured for us and the entire Province a wonderful new economic future.

It goes without saying that voter support in Northeast BC for you and our MLA Pat Pimm was overwhelming with 60% of the popular vote versus 43% in the last election. What a tremendous endorsement for you as Premier and for our excellent MLA, Pat Pimm, of whom we are particularly proud. Our riding has indeed delivered.

MLA Pat Pimm is without doubt the caucus member with the most extensive oil and gas experience which he showcased during his term as Parliamentary Secretary for Natural Gas.

We strongly believe that our MLA Pat Pimm is uniquely suited and qualified for a portfolio in your new cabinet. Pat Pimm offers the ability to contribute strong representation on the intricacies and challenges of the expansion of our natural gas and LNG industries will present to the Province.

Honourable Premier of BC

Could you or anyone from your Office explain to me how you can be the Premier of this province when the people in the riding you ran in this last election voted for somebody else . They rejected you ! Shouldn't you pack your bag and go home like any other person who lost his or her seat on May 14th ? To carry on as Premier as if you had been the winner in this last election in your riding boggles my mind. The honourable thing for you to do would be to let someone who actually won his or her seat to be the Premier of the Province of BC. Maybe that would restore some thrust in people in our electoral system and bring them out to the polls in greater numbers. I'm anxious to hear your explanation.

Sincerely Yours

Premier Clark:

I am proud to be a Canadian and especially a British Columbian!

The one thing that I have always been especially proud of with Canadian politics, is that we have kept them quite clean and did not lower ourselves to imitate the Americans with their dirty political smear campaigns. This year was definitely an exception for BC. The Liberal party spent more time smearing the other parties than they did with honest campaigning. This was especially true of your treatment of the NDP, obviously because they were felt to be the greatest threat. Canada (especially western Canada) has more pride than to lower themselves to this level, or at least I had always believed they did. Obviously I was wrong as far as the liberals were concerned.

I have, at times in the past, voted for the Liberal party because I felt at that time that they were the "best fit" for BC, but after the shameful campaign your party has carried on this year, I will never vote Liberal again, no matter what the circumstances. How could you degrade yourself and your party with this type of dirty campaign? I have never been so disgusted with the behaviour of another Canadian politician, and I am definitely not alone in this feeling. In speaking to friends, fellow workers, and neighbours, I have personally had conversation with more than two dozen other Liberal voters who have now dropped your party to vote for someone else. This does not bode well for your party now or for the future. My question is, why did you feel you had to stoop to something this low? Did you feel that you could not win on the merit of your political history and present reputation? This is a sad, sad day for the Liberal party and for western Canada's "clean politics" reputation.

Smart people!

I was thinking of sending an e-mail to Claire Trevena, our local NDP winner (should be spelled "whiner") and suggesting that if she was really sincere about change, she should jump the NDP sinking ship and join the Liberals.

It would probably be the only way she might ever have a chance of being on the majority side of the government.

Just a thought, and probably not politically correct, but after seeing her post election comments in our local paper I feel like poking her with a sharp stick.
Happy thoughts for the day!

Prompted by the letters of Susan Price and Patricia Murphy in the Times Colonist of 2012/05/21, I'm resending this missive [please excuse the mistakes within the header, Google sucks] with the direct question to the outgoing Premier -- whom we have little doubt will find accommodation within her party (taxpayer expense notwithstanding) as incoming Premier:

Ms. Clark, do you think it appropriate that the Liberal Party of B.C., in securing the support of approximately that of only 23 percent of the eligible vote ($.52 \times .44 = .2288$) should be rewarded with a controlling majority of the B.C. Legislature's seats?

[And for the folks with Fair Vote Canada, please note that the attached proposal (originally submitted to the "Citizens Assembly" in B.C.) seems not to be one of those most that fit neatly into the three, noted categories of 'list', 'mmp' and 'stv' -- having approached the subject from the direction of what's wrong with each of the "systems".]

Note also the addition of the Time Colonist and Fair Vote Canada to the recipients list.

Good evening Premier CHRISTY CLARK!

At the moment elections are not final... but it sounds as if you will win the election ...
SWEEEEEEET! , and congratulations.

But really, the whole point of this message has been coming for a little bit. Actually, a delayed reaction... as i have not had time to send this message... forgot, or been busy with my kids. So... here it goes...

I was kind of bummed that i missed you at S22 when you were here. Partly because i just HAD to say... You HAVE TO make it back into power. You have to win in the elections. One, because of what your party has been doing for the last bunch of years...
yes, hard decisions, but i feel, and it seems many other feel the same.. that they were hard decisions that helped keep BC strong.

But ALSO because, you NEED to keep this Mining and Industry thing going. There is SOOOO much opportunity that these industries provide. Like ME! for example. S22 S22 ! Then i decided i didn't want to do that anymore ... S22 . So i decided, its time for a change ... long story short... i ended up working S22 .. found it really interesting, and S22

S22
NOW!.. (just imagine.. i S22) ... now i can S22
S22 you'd most likely seen on your visit to S22 These industies bring SO much opportunity to B.C. For me to have learnt what cost SOOO many thousands of dollaers to learn through schools and/or courses. Courses we would have never been able to afford, or afford to take a chance on. Like for instance... i tell S22

S22 "Check into mining, ... they will teach you everything! Put you through any schooling necessary, plus its hands on experience. They'll train you in everything. And the wage is Steller!"

Now! a guy, that not long ago S22 , is being told by Millwrights, that an apprenticeship position may come up and that he should apply for it, has such opportunities?!
These industries are exciting and interesting. And the money they provide to communities ...
AND! the money WE make, that supports communities! its amazing ... S22

S22 I can quite understand the importance of this.

SO! My thought, and i wish i had been able to say this in person. Keep this (these) industries alive. Keep them going. Kill all the So called Red tape... or at least make it shorter tape. This stuff is vital, and a great pportunity for communities AND the people (especially young and up and coming work force) around BC. And great for business.

Thats pretty much it, i'll leave it at that, as you guys have plenty more e-mails to read through, i'm sure. Keep this Mining industry alive, and open it just a bit more. It creates GREAT jobs and opportunities alike. You have no idea how good it feels to provide for my kids properly... FINALLY (no regrets), but its still nice to have such an income. (To bad everything is so expensive ... hee hee hee, as i say... "FINALLY! i'm making REALLY good money, and now EVERYTHING is too expensive!!! hee hee hee)

Thanks

S22

Ps. Did i also mention!.... I also think your a babe! hee hee ... No! seriously... i think so... i say it out loud to! Usually catches folks by surprise... (how can you say that about our Premiere!?)... but its true! hee hee Seeya! Good luck, and take care.

Dear Premier Clark,

Although I am not a resident of BC. I do wish to congratulate you on your majority win. As a non-resident of B.C. perhaps I should not be commenting on what is BC's business. However, there is little doubt concerning the increase of CO2 emissions in Canada, according to a report issued by leading scientists. Both spills and heavy equipment use effect the environment. While I know that dependence on fossil fuels will remain a major factor for some time to come this does not prevent more being done to combat the emissions of CO2 by gradually introducing alternate sources, Hydro, Wind and Solar. There is likely to be significant investment in the UK following a pilot project to extract CO2 from the air and combining it with Hydrogen obtained from water (possibly cleansed waste water). The fuel produced is said to be a substitute for gasoline and diesel fuels and that this can be done at competitive prices. You may feel that this process might be worth pursuing. Unfortunately here in N.S. we have an NDP Government, whom, similar to the Federal Government, seem to have little discernible concern for the environment. I am aware of your five conditions for pipelines in your territory. There is little doubt, based on present and past history that pipelines have caused environmental damage in Canada and the USA and over a ten year period. 2000-2010 approximately half of the amount of crude oil leaked from the Exxon Valdes super tanker in Alaska has been leaked from pipelines, particularly Enbridge if the reports are accurate.

Best wishes

Subject: URGENT (Please respond) Attn: Premier Christy Clark - Politics in BC needs to change!

Hello Premier Clark,

Congratulations on your party's win last night in BC's election. I'm sure many were surprised at the outcome, myself included. However, I noticed that you lost your seat in Vancouver-Point Grey. I hope that this whole election experience gave you an indication that the BC government will NOT get a free pass from its citizens to do whatever, wherever, whenever, without considering the wishes of the public at large.

Whether you agree with Adrian Dix's politics or not and I'm sure you don't, things do need to change in BC. I'm sure you noticed that despite the Liberal win, along the Central and North Coast of BC, those ridings all went NDP. That should serve as an indication that coastal residents don't trust this government to ensure that they will protect the environment across this region. This government needs to engage more with our First Nations peoples, when it comes to resource development and other important issues. Remember, they were here before we were! The vast majority of First Nations are still very much opposed to Enbridge's Northern Gateway pipeline. I hope this government will strongly consider that. Enbridge has done nothing to show that they can responsibly and safely manage a pipeline across to BC's coast. I'm sure you're aware of a recent report that stated that about 117 of 125 of Enbridge's safety pumps were not up to par, when it comes to safety. Don't let us become the next Kalamazoo!

Also, politics in BC has become far too polarized, sadly much like it has in Ottawa. There needs to be give and take on both sides of the aisle. I ask that this government please listen to the NDP, along with newly elected Green MLA Andrew Weaver on issues concerning the environment and First Nations engagement.

We have heard the Liberals hammer home the point about the economy. Yes, the economy is crucial to the health of any political jurisdiction. However, the environment is equally as important. If you don't have a healthy and thriving environment, you have nothing! Just remember, you can't drink oil! The government has made clear their 5 conditions regarding Enbridge. I would ask them to go one step further and do what the NDP said they would do and that is opt out of the agreement with Ottawa that gave the federal government the final say on major resource projects. BC would take on the brunt of the risk and get very little reward. We deserve to be in control of major decisions like this in our own province, not have Harper and company dictate the fate of BC. Also, when talking about the economy, we need to decide what type of economy we have, looking to the future. Are we going to continue expanding our use of dirty fossil fuels, or are we going to finally get serious about addressing climate change and invest more in renewable forms of energy: wind, solar, tidal, geothermal, etc.? Are we going to make it easier for people to purchase fuel-efficient cars? I am 35 years old, Premier Clark. I plan to be alive on this earth for another 50-60 years and I'd like to see the planet still in decent shape by then!

To gain the trust of people is one thing. To prove to those people that you are worthy and deserving of that trust is another thing, entirely!

So, what's it going to be Premier Clark?

I'd greatly appreciate a response from you personally, on this matter at your earliest possible opportunity.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

S22

Premier of British Columbia

Good Morning,

I am happy to be sending you this e-mail to congratulate you on the Liberal Party victory in yesterday's election. I rarely watch election coverage, but from the outset when the polls closed, this was interesting. I am sorry you will have to run in a by-election, but I have faith that you will win.

I do hope the Liberal party will try to find ways that will get, not just the youth vote out, but all the voters out to use the democratic right that is so important. 48% of the population voting is a disgrace.

Once again, congratulations on the victory.

Dear Madam Christy Clark:
Greetings to you!

I am writing to you for the second time via this email, the first one was on your first running. I started to know your advocacy by accidental tuning to your talk show on CKNW News; I always loved to listen on a AM band; that's why whenever I am doing something else, (applying for a job during those time that I've got my permanent residence) I always listen to your program.

I am not a voter yet (permanent residence) but my support and how I admired your goals and aspiration for British Columbian's are hardly to count on all your efforts.

For me without any doubt, you will be our re-elected premier once again!

Although I can't vote you yet, but my campaign thru my friends and family will supporting you and only be you!

Thank you for reading this short email and good luck for all your untiring endeavor for your territory!

Growth has always been our goal for our country!

God bless you and keep you safe at all time!

I wanted to congratulate you on the stunning victory in last nights election.

The only solace I can take from it is that you lost your seat.

Since the speculation is rampant that Ms. Ried will come down with health issues and step down for you to run in her seat. A cushy job no doubt in her future, to say nothing if that big, fat pension with her name on it.

If you have ever wondered why people are disengaged from the political process, this cynical move to get yourself into the Legislature, might be a good example.

Since Richmond-East is my riding, I will be looking forward to the election again. Since I am not expecting to see you anywhere except in tightly controlled photo-ops, I will have to work as hard as I can to defeat you a second time.

Good morning Ms. Clark,

Just a note to offer my sincere congratulations on your re-election as Premier of BC.

I am sure you will continue to do a superb job, as you have been doing in the past years to make BC such a wonderful place to live.

I am really sorry you did not win in your own riding, but people must realize that you are doing two jobs, firstly as Premier of the whole Province of BC, and also as representative in your own riding, and that it is impossible for you to be in two places at one time.

I have a suggestion for future elections - that the leader of the party not be tied to one particular riding, but have an automatic seat in Parliament as party leader representing the whole Province. That would seem more fair to the leader who has to travel all over the Province to support the Party, while other elected representatives represent only their own riding. Maybe this could be tabled for discussion at some time in the future?

With very best regards,

Good morning Premier Clark,

Congratulations on your parties outstanding win last night!

I'm sorry to hear that you did not win in your riding. I was wondering if it is in fact possible for the Premier to be 100% effective in their riding, when the majority of their time must be taken up by the office of the Premier.

Perhaps this structure is something that needs to be addressed in the future. I for one, do not think it would be unreasonable for the leader of the elected party to be assigned a seat in the legislature, rather than having to win a riding.

Congratulations to your party again!

If you need a riding (and I am traditionally not liberal), come to Penticton.

Dan Ashton should not have got the nod here. He has virtually bankrupt the city of Penticton and should answer to the citizens here. Not too mention it is a safe seat and I do think you are genuine and will do a good job for the province if you have the gumption to restructure your cabinet and get rid of the Campbell old boy crew.

Congratulations on your win. I have to say that you are the first liberal leader in MANY years that I have any hope in.

Hi Christy;

Throughout the campaign the pollsters, and political commentators, seemed to thoroughly enjoy predicting the demise of the Liberal government and a "sweep" by the NDP. Needless to say I was thrilled by the results and the fact that the NDP, under the leadership of that pompous Dix, lost seats. So much for polls and the "political experts".

You are a great leader and I am so happy that you will lead this province through difficult times. Congratulations!!!! Yipeeee!!!

Hi Christy:

Congrats to you and your team on your win last night. Unlike the pollsters, I had confidently predicted a Liberal win. My confidence was because I knew the people of British Columbia wanted a government that would balance economic growth with environmental protection. The Liberals were lucky to have your charismatic leadership. In the end, I think that tipped the undecided voters.

My wife and I are also very proud of the significant contribution made by Mike McDonald and his team- including S22 as you might guess.

Best Wishes,

Hi Christy,

Congrats on the re- election. I voted for you today and was very happy to see the results.

S22

I was shocked when I moved here at the difference in the provinces. For such a short drive it often seems like worlds apart. No one seems to want a deficit free government. There is a brutal sense of entitlement. They want everything to be paid for. But not understand / or care about the financial implications . Or if they do, their words say they do and their actions contradict. I was truly shocked at the HST debacle - mainly about how much it cost the province - to implement then rescind.

I voted for you tonight because I value what you stand for. Fiscal responsibility. Responsible Government. Family values. Run the government like a business. A great business. Pay off debt and invest in the future. Stop wasting money. I recognize that it was Campbell's govt that incurred heavy debt (along with the NDP hangover), Campbell's govt that made the very bad HST decision and that it was former govts who made other very very bad decisions.

It's your time now. Time to show BC what a truly responsible govt is - and what a great leader is! Stand up for BC but to be the tough parent when you need to and say " thanks for that, but that is a bad financial decision". Or sorry thats just not great for our long term vision / strategy.

I am very happy you won, and I am confident in my decision to vote for you. Now is your time to show us what you and your party can really do. Ditch Campbell's legacy and make your own. Be the leader BC desperately needs. Make us proud!

Congratulations again.

All the best,

As much as I disagree with the majority of those that voted, and those that didn't, a fair decision of the people of BC has been reached, and the Liberals can thank Christy Clark for that.

A party that was full of Pariahs of the 8:01 ilk was resurrected in the eyes of B.C. electors and she truly deserves the right to be Premier.

The irony is she lost her own seat, but to give her credit she contested a riding she knew would be tough as she stumped the province.

It remains to be seen if the corporate honchos and far right appreciate that.

First...Congratulations!!

Second...consider replacing Pat Pimm of Peace River North.

Why? This area is vital to all of B.C. The energy and resources up there are enormous. It would be a great opportunity for you to showcase your expertise as a leader and your concern for protecting the environment. The people of this community want one thing and one thing only...policies that provide fair treatment and an opportunity to compete. My sense is that they would vote overwhelmingly for you should you choose to run a by-election in this riding!

I grew up near Fort St. John and still have family in the area. From the conversations I've had with my cousins, brothers and sister-in-laws the majority of residents were very apprehensive of having the NDP come back into power. Most privately owned companies in the gas and oil sector would have had to shut down and move to Alberta to survive had the election gone differently. This is the reality for the Northern part of this province. They were decimated economically when the NDP were in power before and they knew it might happen again.

Again...congrats and all the best!!

Dear Madam Premier:

My wife, S22 and I congratulate you on the well deserved victory of the BC Liberal Party, won under your able leadership, in the May 2013 election. You confounded the pollsters and newspaper pundits. It was a delightful to read the admission of Vaughan Palmer in today's Vancouver Sun: "Everyone was wrong except for the Liberals and the voters."

Your strong leadership and commitment to a five point program to ensure the economic well being of British Columbians was the message voters wanted to hear. With you at the helm we are confident BC's economy will continue on an even keel, and that the oil and gas pipelines will be built with the requisite environmental safeguards. We need strong leadership in BC, we have it in you.

We live in the West Vancouver - Capilano Riding which has been ably represented by Ralph Sultan for several terms. Ralph won his seat by the largest majority of any candidate in BC...this attests to his popularity. We are disappointed that Ralph has not been given a senior cabinet post. We hope this cerebral and talented MLA, who in addition to his political career is also a member of academia and a Professional Engineer, will be given a position of importance in your cabinet.

We wish you and your team success. Look after your health. You are needed to serve BC and Canada for many more years to come.

Once again congratulations and our best wishes to you and your family.

Dear Premier,

Many congratulations on your historic and record setting election victory yesterday. You may have stated that "well that was easy" but we all know it was not. As with many business people there was concern that people's memories of the NDP years would be forgotten and that the success and robustness that we have experienced in the BC economy since 2001 would be an afterthought. Fortunately the people of BC understand that a strong economy managed with fiscal prudence is the way to a strong future for ourselves and our children. I am so happy today to be a British Columbian and a BC liberal. Thank you and I like so many of my fellow British Columbians look forward to four and a half years of continued growth and prosperity in this Province that we all love.

If there is ever anything you need from a member of the BC business community please do not hesitate to ask.

Congratulations on a huge job well done - you faced up to the ney-sayers and got the job done and I think all of B.C. has a lot more respect for you today. You sacrificed your own constituency win to help all the Liberal candidates work in their own areas. You showed incredible strength and tenacity in the face of huge odds and you won the day! All the volunteers in the candidates office in Maple Ridge - Mission were ecstatic last night as the polls came in, and we thank you for your hard work on behalf of our constituency. We know that under your leadership the province will prosper. THANK YOU!

Christy, just a note of thanks for the effort you and your team put in to win what many had argued was an election that the NDP had in the bag. Your confident belief that the people of BC would look at the economy first was proven yesterday to be bang on.

Congrats again and all the best as you move forward in building the platform that will see an economic environment that will not bury our kids and grandkids.

Good morning Ms. Clark,

Just a note to offer my sincere congratulations on your re-election as Premier of BC.

I am sure you will continue to do a superb job, as you have been doing in the past years to make BC such a wonderful place to live.

I am really sorry you did not win in your own riding, but people must realize that you are doing two jobs, firstly as Premier of the whole Province of BC, and also as representative in your own riding, and that it is impossible for you to be in two places at one time.

I have a suggestion for future elections - that the leader of the party not be tied to one particular riding, but have an automatic seat in Parliament as party leader representing the whole Province. That would seem more fair to the leader who has to travel all over the Province to support the Party, while other elected representatives represent only their own riding. Maybe this could be tabled for discussion at some time in the future?

With very best regards,

S22

Dear Premier Clark:

I am writing on behalf of the Ktunaxa Nation Council to offer our congratulations on your reelection as Premier of the Province of British Columbia.

We heard your message about the importance of a strong economy in British Columbia. This cannot occur without the involvement of First Nations across the Province. There must be a concerted effort to address the myriad of issues affecting First Nations not the least of which is dealing with the long outstanding land question. This is critical to building the economy.

We look forward to continuing with the various joint efforts between the Ktunaxa Nation and your government. This includes the renegotiation/renewal of our Strategic Engagement Agreement (SEA), implementation of our revenue sharing agreement and ongoing tripartite Treaty Negotiations.

Once again, congratulations on your successful campaign. In closing, we extend an invitation to visit Ktunaxa territory as early as your schedule allows.

Yours truly,

Hi Christy

First of all I would like to say CONGRATULATIONS!!!
Exceptional job on winning the election with a majority government. I was sure we would be under a NDP government today May 15, 2013. As the polls were not showing in your favor, I agree we have to give 99% of the credit to you as a leader.

I watched the leaders debate on TV and was very impressed with your performance you were the clear winner of the debate.

I could not believe the difference in your delivery of the information and the strong leadership you showed during that debate, we had not seen that from you in a very long time, you were extremely clear on your issues and relayed it well.

Watching you over the past year I could not believe it was the same person. Prior to that debate, I was very disappointed in your leadership when questioned on issues you did not come across as a strong decisive leader, you came across as a very ill prepared or uncaring.

Hopefully in the next 4 years we will see more of the Christy Clarke who won the debate and delivered a strong well-spoken platform to the citizens of BC during the campaign. This is the Christy Clarke we hoped would win the leadership race to replace Gordon Campbell as at that time you seemed very confident / strong and showed great leadership skills. In my opinion this diminished enormously over the past year.

One thing my husband's remembers about one of your speeches was at a Spectra site where a new gas plant was opening. The location of the plant was just outside of Dawson Creek. In your speech you referred to the area as Taylor BC, you were corrected on this and your answer was oh well close enough (this gave the impression that you did not care where you were or that it even mattered- It matters).

I am very happy you were able to get the Liberals re-elected and am looking forward to a new improved Christie Clarke – or the old Christie Clarke depending on which way you look at it (when you first became Premier). You showed over the past month what kind of a leader / speaker you can be - the people of BC need to see more of this person, that is the person I always thought you were.

AGAIN CONGRATULATIONS – FOR A JOB WELL DONE – BC WILL BE A BETTER PROVINCE – YOU WILL BE AN EXCELLENT LEADER

Sincerely

Premier Clark, Congratulations !! A job well done. On wards and upwards. I am S22 retired professional, moved to S22 I am obviously not an NDP supporter. This may not be the time to inundate you with emails, as I know you are going to be extremely busy. Never the less, may I offer you some observations and suggestions.

Vancouver Island is an undeveloped jewel that has so much potential, yet it is floundering. Without destroying it's natural beauty it could become a huge contributor to the BC economy. Tourism has replaced logging ,mining and fishing. Which brings me to a couple of observations.It is getting to the point that it is too expensive to visit Vancouver Island .It's reasonably priced if your a foot passenger, but many tourist will drive, or bring their RV or tow a boat.It used to be a nice reasonably priced holiday for a family, it is NOT anymore.(I will send my suggestions for BC Ferries only if requested. US voters DO know something).Second observation is that SPORT FISHING will attract tourism at almost any cost. Sport Fishing is a very common thread through out the island .For many living on Vancouver Island it is their heritage, their holidays and their sport and business. The wild salmon are dieing and I think it has been proven that the fish farms are the cause. Will you encourage fish farms to be land based? Putting fish farms on land would do two things. One , it would allow the wild salmon to flourish again, secondly (believe me the wild salmon and sport fishing is that important to many many VI residents) the many NDP supporters would definitely have a more favorable opinion of the BC Liberals if you were to " encourage " fish farms to get out of our oceans. A seed would be planted for the next election.

You may be asking yourself , what is my motivation for taking the time to write you. I want to see the wild salmon stocks come back to the levels I knew in the past. Our wild salmon are unique to the world, we must protect them. I want to see some of the potential of Vancouver Island realized so that the younger people of this island can have good jobs and a vibrant economy, so that they can live here. Many must move away. Allowing the wild salmon to flourish won't solve everything ,but it will go a long to helping the overall economy. Please give them a chance by ensuring the fish farms aren't interfering with their survival. Thank you

Dear Premier Clark,

I am ecstatic you won the election. I was very concerned about Mr. Dix's anti-job platform winning. I appreciate the fact you know what is needed for British Columbia. I just have one question, I remember your trip to Asia and you promoting more business for B.C. You had been pushing for more streamlining of the mining permit process. Will you be continuing these efforts, so more mines can get started and hiring people at good wages?

I don't understand why a mining company must wait up to a year to get a mining permit after spending millions of dollars on preparing the application and developing contingencies for every possible environmental problem. Makes no sense, the technology is there to prevent these problems.

Thank you for all your hard work to win reelection. Seems to me you have even more support now to bring in more good paying jobs. I feel certain you have what it takes to improve the quality of life in B.C.

Dear Christy & Don:

Please accept my warmest congratulations on your well deserved wins last night!

I would like you to know that I fully support your LNG initiatives. I see these initiatives as:

- a way of achieving financial benefits for BC
- a way of reducing world wide pollution by reducing or in some cases even replacing oil
- minimizing the potential for environmental damage resulting from a pipeline incident
- minimizing the potential for damage to our coastline in the event of a shipping incident

I would ask that you do not permit the construction of a bitumen pipeline across our province and to our coastline. Two main reasons:

- the impact of a bitumen spill on our coastline would be so very destructive and long lasting. If we have an incident, there would be no "going back" or saying "I'm sorry".
- as world citizens, we know selling bitumen instead of LNG to Asia would exasperate our climate change problems.

Further benefits from saying "no" to Northern Gateway might include:

- increased sales of (BC) LNG to Asia as (Alberta) oil is now more difficult and expensive for them to obtain. Natural gas might replace oil.
- Enbridge might ship the bitumen to eastern Canada or even process it into oil and then pump it to eastern Canada. This in turn could;
 - o increase jobs and wealth back east. Another way BC can contribute to Confederation.
 - o allow Canada to stop buying expensive oil from an unstable region of the world and become energy self-sufficient. This has obvious, beneficial outcomes.

I would like you to know that I am not "anti everything". I am very much in favour of development and the resulting prosperity. I do believe that BC needs the right projects and that they need to be well managed.

I know you appreciate the importance of these decisions and like you, look forward to the best outcomes today and in the future.

Once again, my warmest congratulations on your success yesterday! I am looking forward to the next four years and beyond.

Subject: Plans for the future of British Columbia.

Dear Christy Clark,

With the recent Liberal win, it has been brought to my immediate attention that our beautiful British Columbian coastline may be in jeopardy from the proposed Enbridge oil pipeline. With no direct comment stating an opinion on the pipeline, many people are anxiously awaiting an answer on whether this is a likelihood or not.

I am a 17 year old student, currently attending a secondary school in Victoria. Seeing as my age restricted me to vote in this years election, I have decided it is my job to voice my opinion anyway I can. One year ago I found out about Enbridge's plans to build a pipeline on BC's coast, through a documentary I had watched called "SPOIL: a feature documentary". From then on I have made the decision to do whatever I can to help my fellow British Columbian's stop this from happening. I noticed in your campaigns you said many comments about bettering British Columbia for future generations, and I applaud that, as I am included in those future generations. However, it would be wise to not only think of bettering our economy, but to think of keeping what "Beautiful British Columbia" is all about; our environment. I know on behalf of my peers and many students younger and older than myself, that this pipeline is a huge issue we are facing. My generation has been brought up with enough information that it has given us the foresight to see the damaging impact this pipeline would have on the environment. This is not to say that most adults are not aware or care about the pipeline issues, but it is that they have been brought up in a time where the environment was not an issue because of the lack of knowledge they had about it. If this pipeline goes through, it is not if, but when irreparable damage will occur to our coastline.

To truly make a impact on British Columbia for future generations, would not only be to strengthen our economy, but to oppose Enbridge and Kinder Morgan's pipeline plans. By doing this you would forever be looked up upon as a strong leader, who made the best decision for future generations. I am sure that your children and their children would be forever grateful that they would still be able to swim in fresh, clean BC water and take a walk through the lush and green costal rainforest we have been blessed with.

I know you will be tremendously busy, but if you could spare half an hour to watch this documentary I'm sure it will change your mind, as it has changed mine.

Thank you for listening and congratulations on becoming the new Premier, I know you will make the right decision and I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject: Northern Gateway Pipeline

May 15, 2013.

Dear Ms. Clark,

Congratulations on your unexpected and overwhelming win in the provincial election. Truly it was an election that I will remember for many years to come.

I am writing you about my extreme concern regarding the proposed northern Gateway pipeline. I have been doing a lot of research on pipelines that already exist and I am very troubled about the amount of leaks they tend to have. The bitumen that will run through the proposed pipeline further concerns me, extremely sandy this material is and it would actually be eroding the pipeline from within at a great rate with the pressures and grit present. Further research shows that the company Enbridge actually has had leaks at one point or another in all of their pipelines. This seems a very risky chance to take with our pristine eco system. These contaminants, should they leak into our stream our ground water actually emit toxic gasses, and as you know stream water runs through our communities.

It is said the tailing ponds (the size of large lakes) of the tar sands are so toxic from processing extracting this bitumen that gun shots are emitted at regular intervals to scare geese away from landing on the water because they would become poisoned from the substances sitting in the lakes. This is what Alberta has chosen to do with their precious land. I understand in exchange they are receiving some of the lowest oil royalties of any country in the world, this in exchange for vast poison lakes that can leak into waterways, use of huge quantities of their fresh water. In exchange for pipelines running through their beautiful parks, such as Jasper.

I am not a politician, nor am I a scientist. I am a concerned mother. I have 2 sons that I want to grow up and have wonderful lives, hopefully in British Columbia. This would mean that the land was clean and safe. As you said in your speech at the conclusion of yesterdays election "we must leave this province better than we received it", a quote I love. I hope Ms. Clark, that when you say you want to improve the province, that it is not to strengthen the economy at all costs-- these oil companies have bought and paid for many people and lands before, and we are not so sophisticated that we can outsmart corporations that have dealt with much stronger powers than us and have left them high and dry. For example a relatively small pipeline rupture in Arkansas, look it up if you get a chance. It was very recent with lots of off-gassing, the officials cleared the area quite quickly and stated it was ready re-habituate. Later the company and officials admitted to there being levels of toxic gas in the area.

Today I looked up the effects of the Gulf of Mexico oil spill. It affected thousands of species of birds, fish, and plants. Some of the species exist only in the areas that were affected. In essence, human error or incompetence may actually make species extinct with our need to provide oil to needy nations.

At this point in our history we are able to observe the follies of the last 40 years and we can see the wasteland we have created. Canada now rated one of the most dirty countries in the world environmentally now. When I was young we were rated one of the cleanest countries in the world. We, ourselves, with conservation can produce most of our energy cleanly due to hydroelectric. Our natural gas is to be used for overseas and for the extraction of bitumen, this is vast amounts of resource that could provide warmth to millions of homes in our country instead of selling to outside interests.

There are more and more viable forms of renewable energy, and these will become more and more a part of our culture in the next few years. Maybe looking into these innovative and exciting industries would be a better use of our time and energy than building a pipeline that threatens our land, sea, and health. Please Ms. Clark, use your influence to make sure that my sons never have to clean up my generation's mess. Please think about the long term for our environment.

Thank you for taking the time to read my concerns.

Sincerely,

To The Honourable Christy Clark

Congratulations on your party's excellent win yesterday. I am so relieved that we have another Liberal Government.

I have been listening to the radio (I don't have cable) and am a little concerned by the comments that this was a "brown Voter" result.

It is my belief that following the Liberal re election, the pipeline, is not an automatic reality. I think that the Liberals have more sense than to just go ahead for the 'quick fix' that option gives us. And the ultimate damage it would cause to the Province and your party.

Others do not agree with me. However, As Premier, you have the power to get out there and tell the people exactly what you do and do not plan to do in this area.

The popularity of this government could be greatly enhanced if the electorate receives honest reassurance that the Liberal Government does not just plan to sell us down the river.

Once again Congratulation for a race well run, under very trying circumstances!!

Be it the Kinder Morgan Pipeline, the Gateway project, LNG or First Nations issues, have the necessary unbiased studies completed and make your best judgment about what is best for BC – all of BC, not just for individual groups within it. Some may not like the decisions that are made, but if there is a strong commitment to what is best for the Province, a legacy will be built. Dear Premier Clark: Over the last while(since HST) I have been one of the Liberal Governments loudest critics but you are now the "elected" Premier of B.C. and so we are starting anew. This is a clean slate for this Liberal Government and it is my responsibility to be fair. So here is where I am. My greatest fears are Gateway North, Kinder Morgan, and the continuing waste in the Medical System. I am going to trust that you will do what you have promised to protect B.C. from environmental disaster expense/restoration and in the event Gateway North goes through, making sure Alison Redford steps up and compensates us for that risk. Yes this is a huge turn around for me, but constituents fighting the B.C. Liberals as well as Stephen Harper and Alison Redford makes no sense at all, so I will be with you on our Provinces side.

And please can you eliminate double billing. S22 who has to see specialists once a year for preventative care. I DO NOT NEED A REFERRAL. MY DOCTOR IS VERY BUSY IN S22 HE DOES NOT NEED TO SEE ME TO WRITE A LETTER. JUST ON ME ALONE YOUR GOVERNMENT COULD SAVE $900 A YEAR BY ALLOWING ME ONE NON REFERRED SPECIALIST APPOINTMENT AT EACH OF MY ANNUAL CHECK UPS. Have the referrals for the hypochondriacs or those with a brand new condition but not for those who are working prevention. S22
S22 I chose to care for my health S22
S22 BUT THIS SYSTEM HAS SPENT UP TO $1800 PLUS MY SPECIALIST FEE JUST ON S22 APPOINTMENT ALONE in those years. And I am just one person! DOUBLE THAT WHEN ADDING MY S22 ONE LITTLE CHANGE AND THIS MONEY COULD BE GOING WHERE IT IS REALLY NEEDED. I know my Specialists would be overjoyed if this part was revised. They would definitely co operate with the Ministry. Please revamp this part of the Medical system and save money. It's just common sense. PLEASE REFER THIS TO YOUR HEALTH MINISTER AND ASK HIM/HER TO REPLY TO ME once things settle down.

I wish you well in the next four years. One piece of advice from S22 - keep your finger on the pulse of the people and do not let your government become arrogant. You catch more flies with honey than you do with vinegar. Wait...I lied! I have two! Work something out so that when your MLA's are responding to correspondence/emails they give a real human answer and not some party line that is coming out of your office. It really ticked me off when Premier Campbell, Minister Hansen and Minister Penner ALL sent me the same response. It was just patronizing and yes....arrogant! Can we please humanize communication between Ministers and Constituents?

Question for Mr. Throness: Gwen O'Mahoney had an office in Hope so that we could voice our concerns and talk with her on specific days when she was here. Are you going to maintain an office here and allot time for us to meet with you? Please reply to my email address once you know the answer. I for one would like that very much so that we could get to know you better.

Please congratulate everyone on their win for me . I wish you well. You have a lot of very complex issues to deal with. And thank you to the staff who are condensing this email and passing my concerns to the appropriate persons.

Sincerely,

S22

message: I see you won a Majority last night! Congratulations. I didn't vote for you, but I am happy to see you're putting our Environment into consideration while deciding on the pipeline projects. I would like to share my reservations about the Northern Gateway project. S22

S22

S22 These two facts put us in a unique position regarding this issue. On one hand, we represent the typical working family who wishes to see more prosperity in the Province. On the other hand we're painfully aware of the perils in the Hecate straits, and cannot support a project which promises 388 mega tankers a year through that narrow, dangerous inlet. Christie? You are the only Premier in Canada who stood up to Alberta. This give me hope for your party, despite all the misgivings I have about FIPA and the Gateway and trade with China under its current contract. So I'm going out on a limb here to offer my opinion. I hope you hear me.

I am only one person,I know, but right is right. And I know I'm right. Kitimat will surely be a death warrant to our West Coast. When the spill happens in the fourth most dangerous inlet in the World, that oil will leak all the way to Bella Coola.

I ask you: Why not Prince Rupert? We wouldn't have said boo about this project had the pipeline followed the gas lines and went to the major, well maintained port just North of Kitimat...the one which goes out into the open ocean: Prince Rupert. However, as the plans stand now, I will remain vehemently against this project, Environmental assessment or not,we know the inlet CANNOT support even a few mega tankers a year, let alone more than one a day. That begs for a spill. That being said, why is our tax money being spent upgrading a port which was neglected for good reason? Did the oil companies already buy the land? It is this kind of hubris, and blatant lack of respect for our environment which makes me weep for the future of humanity. I know that sounds hyperbolic, but I feel the tone of that statement fits the extreme nature of this issue. The choice to send the tankers out of Kitimat is crazy. To me, that is the biggest issue. I will end by saying this: I support prosp! erity for BC. What I don't support is the sacrifice of BC for the prosperity of the elite. Please, I beg you....look into the harbor itself and consider forcing a change of the route. Or deny the project outright. Thank you.

Hi ...

Proudly I say WE did it WE are in for the good of this great province of British Columbia.

Now we need a riding for You, our leader. You are the leader of the BC government. Why don't you take a riding in Central or Northern BC to show the people who voted for our party that the north is represented by the Liberals ?

Having a small riding to stand in is just as good as a big lower mainland riding BUT the impact of you being represented in the north of BC would go way farther for all of us in the north. We are always 'left out' except during the campaigning. It is not the number of people in a riding but the strength and loyalty within that party to the Liberals and We, the people of the north, support resource development because it is the resources that support us. Without resource development there is no future for us in the north.

Look to the north and you will see success.

I'm not sure that you will ever see this email but here goes...

I was chatting with several people at an off leash dog park today, I was the only one of five adults that had voted on Tuesday. The discussion involved the frustrations of most of us. "Politicians are dishonest and are only concerned with their own agenda." When we elected Gordon Campbell several years ago we needed to get rid of the NDP and we all expected positive change and transparent government. He transformed into a politician, he embarrassed us with a DUI and he stayed in office when he should have resigned.

Now what's the point of this email you say? Please please please do what you say you will do, be true to yourself and the charismatic woman we see on TV. Don't become a cheating underhanded politician looking for your name in the history books. Treat the province like your household and when we can't afford to do something "Don't do it!"

The folks in the dog park didn't vote as they felt there wasn't anyone worthy of their vote. We need to modify our system so that politicians stand for something other than smear campaigns and negative advertising. A politician cannot serve so many masters, sometimes they are going to have to annoy a few for the sake of the many. I don't always agree with political decisions, but if the decision is sound and is for the good of the province then so be it.

Congrats on the "win." Now do a good job and don't embarrass us.

Dear Christy,

Congratulations on an AMAZING WIN!

You have worked so incredibly hard, and really supported your team of candidates. As a board member and campaign worker for Simon Gibson in Abbotsford, I was fortunate to meet you when you were here a while back, and I appreciated your warmth, as well as your sense of vision. You really deserve every bit of credit for weathering the storms of the past two years, building a new team in the face of numerous departures, and working as hard as you did to visit every part of this province with your message.

Throughout this campaign I was concerned that you were working so hard for the province that the back door would be left unguarded . . . your own riding.

I felt so upset and frustrated for you with the outcome of your constituency vote. I can only imagine how frustrating and disappointing that must have been for you as well.

Despite that, it's historic that we now have the first female elected Premier! That's a victory for all women in BC!

If the advance polls do not confirm a win for you, my hope is that you will be able to give yourself as fully to a by-election as you did to serving the province at the expense of your own riding. And that many, many Liberal supporters will come to your aid – put out the call!

Warmest congratulations,

Congrats to a great Premier! I haven't been involved in politics long (volunteered for Suzanne Anton and Gurjit Dhillon), but I realized during the campaign that the Premier single handedly won the election for the BC Liberals? How? Sheer hard work which did not go unnoticed - it must have been a exhausting campaign but the Premier with energy abundance pulled it off.

I felt sorry for Sukhminder Virk who we all thought had it in the bag, but somehow, there was some 'tactical voting' going on in Surrey in which he was a victim.

On a sad note, I want to apologize on behalf of some 'drunken' Indo-Canadians who showed lack of respect to our respected Premier by showing immaturity in over exuberant hugging - which was embarrassing. Every community has idiots and we certainly have our fair share.

Beloved Premier, good luck in the next 4 years, we are all behind you.

Dear Premier Clark:

On behalf of the ISAC Board of Directors and myself, it is our pleasure to congratulate you on your success in leading the BC Liberals to a victory with a majority government. It is without doubt that your leadership, hard work and determination has significantly raised the profile of your party during the past two years, making BC Liberals the party of choice for British Columbians.

Your commitment to British Columbia through job creation and growth amidst the global economic crisis is greatly appreciated and we are confident that you and your cabinet will continue to strive for excellence.

As the voice of British Columbia's ship-owners we would also like to thank you for working close with our group through the BC Jobs and Investment board in an attempt to develop a strong shipping industry in British Columbia and Canada as whole. Furthermore, your efforts to strengthen the Asia Pacific Gateway for the prosperity of British Columbians' fully align with our vision to make British Columbia a world-class maritime centre.

In closing, we wish you all the best, for another successful term and we look forward to working together and assisting your government in the years ahead.

Throughout the campaign the pollsters, and political commentators, seemed to thoroughly enjoy predicting the demise of the Liberal government and a "sweep" by the NDP. Needless to say I was thrilled by the results and the fact that the NDP, under the leadership of that pompous ass Dix, lost seats. So much for polls and the "political experts".

Dear Premier-designate Clark:

Re: Mandate to Form Government

On behalf of the Board of the Provincial Health Services Authority (PHSA), I wish to offer my warmest congratulations on the outstanding results achieved by your party in the provincial election May 14th. And, of course, to you personally, on your mandate as Premier-elect.

Your campaign's focus on securing the economy resonated strongly with us at PHSA, where one of our core values is "Best Value". We are committed to controlling healthcare spending and helping to create a strong, sustainable system that will serve coming generations of British Columbians.

We are also well aligned with your "Families First" agenda through our corresponding key value, "Patients First". As the province-wide health authority for BC, we share your commitment to focusing on ways in which we can improve the social determinants of health, leading to healthier families.

We wish to thank you for all that your government has done to further health and wellness across BC during its previous term and look forward to aligning PHSA even more closely with your vision going forward.

Again, congratulations! I wish you every success over the next four years.

Sincerely,

S22 What a glorious day for British Columbia!

Although we were unable to crack the stronghold in New Westminster, the net results are positive. There is more work to be done in our New Westminster riding but we are making progress and the provincial win is a great building block to leverage. Thank you for giving us hope!

Your majority government is a direct testament to your tenacity and truly genuine personality! We could not have done it without your leadership at the helm, your ability to maintain the strong messaging and most of all, your ability "finish" the job! Today is a day for you to hold your head high! Bravo!

We want you to know how much we all appreciate your hard work and dedication. Today is a proud day for all British Columbian Liberals!

Our family looks forward to working with you over the upcoming four years, and beyond! Together, let's continue to build! Please let us know if there is anything we can ever do to help. We are there for you!

Thank you so much for your personal sacrifices! We love you so much!

Congradulations on your win. I have just been watching the documentarty "Freedom". It was quite enlightening.

I hope you have seen it or watch it. After viewing it, it seems obvious that BC should be producing ethanol for our cars and buses and trucks. We can even sell it to South America and the USA. Let Alberta have the oil and sell it to the USA. We can use the ethanol that we produce. Please keep it produced by the province so that the province can make money. Hydro should be bought back also. When the province owned its own businesses, we were rich. We want to be a self-sustaining province. The young people would really like this too.

However, I think that there has to be something in it for BC assuming part of the risk.

Kinder-Morgan Line - Although I do not think the pipeline itself is much of a concern, I am concerned about the impact of an oil spill in Burrard Inlet and Gulf Islands. It could be devastating for the local area. S22

Dear Ms. Clarke,

Let me start by saying Wow! That was awesome! I am inspired by the victory and I have a renewed sense of optimism in BC. It's a little disappointing that you didn't carry Vancouver-PG but it was a great tactical move to lose the battle in order to win the war.

Now for my two cents since I hope to have your attention. As S22 with a strong interest in health economics, I am concerned about the unsustainability of the healthcare system in BC. Specifically, I really disagree with the model where we sacrifice quality for quantity. This really stems from a fragmentation of budgets under the auspices of PHSA. This model really limits the adoption and implementation of novel treatments for cancer - as an example. S22

S22 and how decision makers only look at prolonging life and don't factor quality of life into their decisions on whether to add a medication to the formulary. This results in a cost containment strategy that does not serve the best interest of patients. There is clearly an opportunity for improvement and an opportunity for BC to lead the way by making decisions available that will best serve the interests of patients while increasing the efficiency of the healthcare system. If you're interested, I'd be happy to present my findings and possible solutions to this and other issues in the BC healthcare system.

Best wishes,

Subject: what about BC's long term future?

Hi Christy,

Congratulations on your Victory! It is truly a victory for the majority of the people of BC.

I know that 90% of your efforts going forward will be devoted to the careful, but politically charged, sheparding of the province on a short term perspective. Life happens today for all of us!

But, I am most interested in your feelings about long term planning.

S22 I wonder about your views about the longer term future for this great province. It's what my Grand-kids and your kids will inherit. I grew up S22

S22

Right now of course alberta is in the limelight. They are the most immediate help to most greatest number of people in Canada for the shorter term. To think anything else would be counter-productive. And of course the level of arrogance has risen a lot there in the last 15 years. Most of them don't see it yet, but they are within 20 years or so of their peak as the so called engine of the Canadian economy. What most of them have done is forgotten that the wealth that they are currently enjoying is based solely on the fact of their geological position--sitting on billions of barrels of oil.

People who will look further ahead by no more than one or at most two generations can see that BC will be the next province to enjoy the limelight! We must do better than they have done!

The need for the resources in our BC mountains will become increasing important as time passes. We need to start to think about how we can set the right things in motion to make the most of it, and preserve our province at the same time. Industry will of course only be as careful with the Earth as they are forced to be. It's not that hard to understand the fact that preservation costs money which affects the bottom line.

If we follow the long term vision of our province in a way similar to the late Premier Lougheed we can have the best of both worlds. He understood the need to dampen market forces with the need to create a more sustainable balanced growth for longer term security. This is what I hope you mean when you you say you want to leave BC a better place for our kids!

We have a province that is over 90% mountainous. It has untold riches within it. Consider for example that we had a long term plan that would for a relatively small percentage of our total land base to be mined at any one time. For arguments sake let's say that 5% of it could be in use at any one time. Before more could be brought into use some of the others would have to be released.

It's a figure that from the province's perspective could be managed and controlled successfully--controlled growth was Premier Lougheed's view of developing the tar sands. It's something that most British Columbians could see as a concrete plan to help ensure that the environment is protected. At the same time, most British Columbians see the need for good jobs and the security that they bring.

Next, imagine this. Whether it's 3,5 or 6% of our land base, it would mean that we could support dozens of new mines. The security of thousands of families would be greatly enhanced. We could manage the resources successfully and preserve BC as well!

Look at Alberta. Bowing totally to market forces has caused them much grief. They are continually dealing with the problems of "industry policing themselves" in areas like the tar sands. Their market driven expansion has exploded to the point where they are overwhelmed when it comes to things like health care--the average wait time in their ERs is over 10 hours in Calgary and Edmonton. Even the Executives of the oil companies in Calgary didn't have the sense to slow the pace! They are now paying a 2 billion dollar per month penalty on their sales of crude oil in Cushing Oklahoma. The pipe line capacity to transport their product to markets was neglected.

It's actually hard to believe that they are paying 2 billion per month in lost revenue because of their lack of foresight. The Northern Gateway pipeline, or a new one to Churchill Manitoba for that matter, are around 6 or 7 billion dollars apiece in the current economy! That they can afford to take 24 billion a year in lost revenue because of the tremendous risk of a 5 or 6 billion dollar pipeline is economics that I can't buy into. Enbridge's brag about spending 500 million extra for the "best technology" is practically insulting!

Finally, I hope that you are able to read this rambling letter and make some sense of it! Watching you on TV on election night gave me the feeling that you are someone who will think a generation ahead.

Let me firstly congratulate you on a solid majority Liberal government win. I am thrilled to have you and you Liberal team continue the running of this province and deny the NDP power to screw it up. Thank you!!

Please can you get the police forces of BC to enforce two items of concern.

1) impeding traffic in the left lane. ICBC is doing a big campaign on it but the police forces are not enforcing the law on the motor vehicle act about impeding traffic while driving slow in left lane.

2) the littering of cigarettes from cars. Not only are the police forces not enforcing the littering laws and ticketing offenders I have seen too many police officers as of late offending by discarding their cigarette bits out of their patrol car windows lately.

One of our greatest resources in BC are our amazing renewable forests and these are so easily destroyed by careless smokers. Plus the millions of dollars to fight these forest fires every year could go to many other project to make BC. an even better place.

I would encourage you to look seriously at these issues.
And again let me congratulate you on your election win.

Subject: Why I decided to vote for you - Congratulations on the Election Win

Dear Ms. Clark,

First and foremost, I would like to congratulate you on the election win that has managed to shock so many voters. I am writing to you because I am categorized as a young voter, a demographic which has been observed to lack participation in elections. I would like to share how you inspired me to vote in the 2013 Elections. To be honest, my first time voting was when I was 18 and at that time I cast my ballot not because I saw it as a responsibility, but because I wanted to exercise a right that I was not entitled to as a minor. I am now 20 and initially I had no intentions of voting because I did not know much about the candidates running. On one of my long bus rides home from Simon Fraser University to Richmond, I noticed an NDP flier that was in front of me. It was a chart which outlined what Adrian Dix plans to do and what you have done as a Premier. He touched on issues pertaining to health care, education, taxes, and jobs. This enticed me to follow politics because it was at that moment that I realized that these issues do affect me and that I should vote. I had planned to vote for the NDP for this reason, but changed my mind after speaking to a friend regarding politics.

He reminded me of some of the things that you did that have benefitted me. First and foremost, you family day. Although I was out of town and was unable to celebrate Family Day this year, the idea of it sounds great. There is Mother's Day and Father's Day, but Family Day is a day that children can celebrate as well. For students, any day off especially at a time right before midterm/exam week is beneficial. Secondly, you increased minimum wage. As a student paying for my education and leisure activities, a part time job is not enough to keep up with the high costs of living in Vancouver. Working has changed my perspective on my lifestyle. For example, a $20 shirt used to be relatively cheap for me. However, when I got my first job I realized that a $20 shirt is at least two hours of work. A minimum wage of $10.25 has definitely helped me. Lastly, I saw that you attended SFU and was involved in the SFSS. Having met other SFU alumni, there is something about having the commonality of belonging to the same school. It makes me feel like I have known the alumni for a long time, even though I probably just met him or her. I wanted to support you because you started your career from the same place that I am about to start mine. My first industry-related job that I obtained was a S22
S22 I worked as S22 that the Liberal government initiated. I was fortunate enough to have the opportunity to see and appreciate what 23 communities in British Columbia had to offer, meet people of various work experience, and gain hands on skills that I would need once I graduate. It was then that I realized that if it weren't for your actions, I would not have gained relevant Communications/Public Relations experience and I would have been struggling to finance my education by earning $8.75 per hour.

I know I shared many personal anecdotes, but the message I wanted to communicate to you is that young voters are willing to vote. Often we simply do not realize the importance of doing so. It is only when decisions that will have an effect on our lives are made, that we will see the importance in voting. I hope I have provided you with some insight on my demographic and some of the issues that appeal to us. I would like to end this e-mail by sharing a link that I read less than a week before the elections: <http://www2.macleans.ca/2013/05/09/10-reasons-christy-clark-could-actually-win-the-b-c-election/>. The poll surveys and pundits may have been wrong with the outcome of the elections, but some had faith in you. Congratulations again on winning the elections and I hope you have a great term in office. All the best!

Christie,

Thank you, in October I bet $50 on the Liberals winning the election. I believed the small C conservatives would move your way and that people were very much underestimating your ability to campaign. I will ask my friend who has a small L on his heart to donate the money to the Liberal Party.

What history will remember most is that you were the first female elected Premier in this Province. I know from many of my conversations beyond your style, beyond your centralist policy positions, your gender was a leading reason in scoring so low in the Small C camp. Sad but true. Canadian have this enviable ability to lie often enough to ourselves to believe what we are saying. Canadian's have been and still are not as open minded as they would pretend to be. This my mother drilled into my ahead when I was young. So good for you, if this is all that you are remembered for in 100 years, it is more than enough!

I listen to your acceptance speech, which is the first time I had listen to you for more than 30 seconds (you see I confess back in October I too was not one of your keener supporters, just a believer) and although my mother voted NDP her entire life you could have made her proud. My mom often quoted my grandfather, " If a man is willing to go work and he should be able to cloth, feed and put a roof over his family!" In your acceptance speech you reminded me of that, thank you! Perhaps if I can conclude my Mother could have voted for you, then you must be okay.

Every year I develop a motto for the year, here are some samples:

"Find those 3 or 4 key lies you need to tell yourself every morning to get out of bed and take on the day!"

"Being in business is not easy, thank goodness it is not easy, than everybody could succeed at it!"

"Be glad our employee's make mistakes, if they didn't I would not need to hire Supervisors and Managers!"

"Change! You want change? I think I have 3 quarters, 2 dimes and a nickel!"

And so in 2013 my motto is simple, and I think very appropriate for you:

“Be good, do good, and the rest will take care of itself!”

Keep smiling!

Dear Christy,

S22 and I were so relieved that you led the Liberals to victory. It was a huge effort and a credit to the populous for remembering the 90s. And we are proud that Andrew Wilkinson won in our riding of Quilchena. We're sorry our neighbours in Point Grey weren't quite so intelligent!

I hope you now have strong backing to move forward on the big infrastructure and energy projects that will make BC stronger and benefit all our children in the decades to come. I support your efforts to achieve a fair deal for BC on the pipelines, and we know how difficult that path is, but success would be very good for the province and the country. I particularly support Site C and a reduction of focus on run-of-river and wind projects.

Again, congratulations and all the best in moving forward with a balanced agenda on environmental, social, and economic policies.

On behalf of the World Sikh Organization of Canada (WSO), I am writing to congratulate you on your election as Premier of British Columbia.

As you know, British Columbia has a vibrant and growing Sikh community which is actively engaged with all facets of life in the province. Our organization has had the opportunity to cooperate with your government on several endeavors in the past, most recently with the accommodation of the kirpan in BC courthouses, and we look forward to continue working with you and your government on issues of mutual concern in the future.

Once again, on behalf of WSO I would like to congratulate you on your victory and wish you all the best as you begin another term as Premier of British Columbia.

Yours truly,

Prem Singh Vinning
President
World Sikh Organization of Canada

Dear Madam Premier,

On the occasion of your re-election as the Premier of the province of British Columbia, I am writing to express my warmest congratulations.

In recent years, your province has been playing a vital role in this vibrant relationship of all round cooperation between China and Canada. Of course, this would have not been possible without your personal commitment and devotion.

As you would gather from you numerous conversations with leaders from China both at national and local levels, China does value its multi-faceted relationship with your province featuring thriving economic, trade and investment cooperation, and strong people to people links.

I look forward to working still closer with you for a better future of our fruitful relationship, and wish you every success in the days to come.

Sincerely yours,

Zhang Junsu

Congratulations on your party's re-election. A definite tribute to your leadership. We lived in BC from S22 and have lived in Alberta since. Having been through NDP rule while we lived in BC I am relieved with the result even though we are only a neighbour in Alberta. I am confident with the Liberal government in power we will continue to see both provinces benefit and prosper as we pursue our common interests.

Best wishes for continued success.

Dear premier,

Congratulations on your election win. I was elated with your win both for the party and you as leader.

You won a hard fought battle. As a long time Liberal supporter and after talking with many people before the election I think the reason the Liberals won was because the alternative was unacceptable. Everyone I spoke to expressed frustration at the litany of mistakes that were made by the party over the last few years. The BC Rail scandal, the HST fiasco and the sheer arrogance displayed. The voters did however vote strategically. I doubt that the NDP messages or positioning were all that bad but the thought of replacing one party with one much worse was just too much.

It is my personal belief that the Liberal win is not a vindication of the past. You must do better to instill confidence in the electorate that is still very dubious about the transparency and the way decisions are made. I still strongly believe that the BC Rail decision making needs to be made public. I do not believe that this will go away. True leadership would be to clear the air and to apologize if mistakes were made. This would go a long way to restoring public trust.

Dear The Right Hon Ms Christy Clark Premier of BC

Congratulation from the bottom of my heart for an exiting victory in the recently concluded polls in BC defying all Opinion Polls. You have certain inherent traits as a leader which should be capitalised for a broader canvas. Entire Canada should gain by your Charisma and Leadership style.

Therefore my humble suggestion to raise your bar and aspire to be the next candidate for the post of Canadian Prime Minister. I know that Liberals only have 36 seats and it is an uphill task. You have always taken up major Challenges in your life.

I believe with the qualities of a natural leader that you possess, you are not doing justice to yourself. (You can not get these qualities by going to a B school or a college.)

Dear Premier Clark,

Re: Pleasure meeting with you

My sincerest congratulations on your success in the election. I am confident that British Columbia is poised for significant progress and growth under your visionary leadership.

It is a matter of great pride and privilege for The Times of India group to be a part of this momentous journey with The Times of India Film Awards being recently hosted in Vancouver.

TOIFA was a rewarding, enriching and memorable experience for everyone involved- celebrities, dignitaries, guests and the people of British Columbia and I commend your vision and conviction in making this possible.

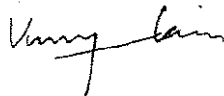

It takes courage and conviction to step out, take chances and go beyond the ordinary. We thank you and your team for having faith in our ability and commend you for your vision, trust and collaboration in making this landmark possible.

TOIFA marks the beginning of a long term relationship between British Columbia and India. British Columbia shall continue to see long term benefits of TOIFA which has served as a potent marketing vehicle to position British Columbia as a tourism, trade and investment destination in minds of consumers- not just in India but also globally.

The Times of India group is excited and buoyant about the plethora of opportunities and potential that exists and assure you of our continual association and leveraging this partnership.

Once again, I extend my gratitude and best wishes.

Dear Premier Clark,

Please accept this letter of congratulations on the 2013 BC election. Our post-secondary institutions look forward to working with you and your team to build on the excellent post-secondary education system in B.C.

The BC Association of Institutes and Universities represents the interests of eight educational organizations in British Columbia, who account for over 40 percent of the students attending public post-secondary institutions in the Province. Our member institutions are BCIT, Emily Carr University of Art + Design, Vancouver Island University, University of the Fraser Valley, Capilano University, Kwantlen Polytechnic University, Nicola Valley Institute of Technology and the Justice Institute. We know that we have an important role to play in creating a workforce with the skills, knowledge and competence essential in developing a more economically and socially prosperous society.

Our member organizations provide a wide range of academic, developmental, vocational and continuing education programs, through graduate degrees. We believe that focusing on increasing post-secondary participation is key, leading to a more educated population which will embrace economic performance and develop resilient, engaged citizens. The B.C. post-secondary system is the envy of many, with broad geographic distribution to enable many learners to get a good start without going far from home. We are well positioned as public post-secondary institutions because we offer small classes, engagement in research, applied learning experiences and the skills and training students need, not only for today's job market but for the job markets of the future.

Your responsibilities are many and complex - the way you address them will be your legacy. More than that, your political actions will impact British Columbia, the Pacific Northwest, North America and our world for decades to come.

This is why, Premier Clark, with all due respect, that we urge you to employ the precautionary principle, especially with your actions that could adversely impact British Columbia's remaining wild natural resources.

As an international organization that strives to conserve wild game fish, it concerns us deeply that Canada and the United States of America, with their once abundant, God-given, wild natural resources continues to blatantly disrespect these gifts as our governments seek short term, greed driven gains at the expense of our natural blessings.

Once our wild natural resources are gone, they will be gone forever, Premier Clark. Will this be your legacy?

You, as an important, elected leader in our region must act wisely to conserve this region's wild natural resources for this and future generations.

Wild Game Fish Conservation International respectfully suggests that one action that you take immediately is to remove open pen salmon feedlots from British Columbia's uniquely productive wild Pacific salmon migration routes. The salmon feedlot industry is devastating BC's iconic wild Pacific salmon and all that rely on these life giving creatures.

Removing open pen salmon feedlots from British Columbia will certainly be a positive ! action that you and BC could take immense pride in, Premier Clark.

Your leadership will be required to make this happen.

Thank you, Premier Clark.

Sincerely,

Subject: Your win and future of Wild Salmon

Dear Honourable Christy Clark,

Congratulations on your win for the Premier's office of B.C. I am sure you will work with environmentalists towards a sustainable province.

I am most concerned with the salmon farms off the coast of BC. They are posing a great risk of infecting our wild salmon with sea lice. The salmon who swim by these farms are substantially fewer and weaker than those who swim by other free areas. Please get rid of the salmon farms altogether that are contaminating our wild salmon. If you could do one thing for us to show your concern for the environment, this is what I would ask. We want our Province to be beautiful and plentiful, for our children and grandchildren. I know you will agree.

Thanks for taking the time to consider this.

We are very pleased that the Liberals won the election last week. I'm sure you have heard this many times before – we voted for you because you are our best hope for a better economy. During our school and university days we studied a very simple hypothesis put forward by Abraham Maslow that suggested that people need to take care of physical needs before focusing on lofty self actualization fulfilment. In other words we have to take care of our food and shelter needs before we focus on a “nice-to-have” pristine environment. We'd love to have a wonderful environment but food & shelter has to come first.

We immigrated to Canada from S22 and have watched the S22 economy flourish while we debate over pipelines and tankers in BC; missing opportunities to supply resources to Asia. It's time that we got our resource engine fired up and prosper from resource sales to Asia – this will buy food and shelter – then we can focus on the “nice-to-haves”.

Congratulations Christy, we know you can help make this province prosper.

Congratulations Ms Clark. We dodged a bullit. Lets get some things addressed that will help set the scene (no punintended) for the next go around. We have to assist the film industry befor it leaves completely. But that is not the subject for this note.

I am sure you are aware of this recent article in the Times. Last time Rich Colman was on the Bill Good show he waffled off the hook. I am a liberal supporter but can find no reason for this fiscal stupidity. Who are these people and why are they being paid off at our expence.

RE: Please Make BC Parks a Priority!

Dear Premier Clark,

Congratulations on your recent win. I hope that you will use this opportunity to ensure adequate funding for BC Parks. It is shameful that we have not increased the funding commensurate with the area of parks. We need to make sure that these spaces are truly protected. We have the legislative protection but now we need the protection from staff maintaining and patrolling the parks. Please double the funding, implement the Auditor General's recommendations, reinstate the interpretive programs and increase the number of rangers. This will ensure that the parks can fulfill their role of preserving the ecosystems as well as the educational and recreational roles for families.

We have seen what a lack of funding has done to our local park, Garibaldi, and to me this indicates the level of neglect that our parks have faced.

I look forward to your positive actions on this file.

Sincerely,

there is an excellent opportunity for gov't to become involved in a river stewardship numerous rivers that require and qualify for this type of program. There are lots of Biology graduates looking for this type of employment as well as including first nations. The cost of such a program could be re-couped thru private sector funds / donations / lumber companies and other

Dear Premier Clark;

I write today to ask you to reconsider the maintenance budget for Provincial Parks.

These protected lands should continue to be just that....protected. Reducing the number of park rangers and ignoring park maintenance in not productive.

The Auditor General recommends protection of the ecological integrity of our park system. Listen to what he has to say.

In my opinion, the subsidies paid to oil and gas Corporations should be reduced in order to continue to protect the lands that are designated for parks. Certainly a way to win favor with the large portion of the BC population that is disenchanted by the prospect of pipelines and fracking.

Congratulations on your win in the recent election. Please put your mandate to good use by considering all of British Columbia in your decision making.

Dear Premier, Congratulations on your recent win. As the government plans for the next 4 years, I would like to encourage you give serious consideration to our provincial parks. In the past decade, a decline in their budget has resulted in lack of regular upkeep and a reduction in park services and programs. Our parks are truly a treasure. They are a key reason why many foreign visitors travel to BC. They serve as a great playground for all residents. Your campaign on the importance of family, please ensure they are adequately funded so important naturalist programs are available and sufficient warden staff are on hand to protect their fragile environments. RE: Please Make BC Parks a Priority!

Dear Christy and BC Liberals,

Congratulations on your recent success in the election - it is exciting for BC to have their first elected female premier!!

I know you have a lot on your plate as you start your 4-year mandate, and I have a lot on mine with a full-time job and a very busy family life with three children 13 and under, but I feel strongly enough that I think we both need to take the time to stop and consider why our licence plates say "Beautiful BC" and that with this privilege also comes a responsibility - that of maintaining our natural heritage, and especially making sure it stays accessible to all British Columbians. I am therefore writing to urge you to make improving the BC Park system a top priority.

S22

S22 - and all of that is possible because those that went before us made it a priority to protect and make available these amazing natural areas right in Vancouver's very own backyard.

Sadly, in recent years service has been cut significantly, and so signs of wear and tear, neglect and abandon are showing up more and more. If we truly value what makes BC beautiful, we are going to need to invest - please double BC Park's operational budget as recommended by the government-appointed Park Legacy Panel and fully implement the Auditor General's recommendations to protect the ecological integrity of our park system - its the least we can do to ensure that what we enjoyed as children will still be enjoyed by our children and their children!

Kind regards,

S22 I think that it is self-explanatory. With respect to the win by the Liberal Party, yesterday, it is suggested that too much of the analysis is placed on the predictions by the pollsters. In fact, the credit for the win must go directly to the masterful performance of/by Christy Clark. She successfully painted her main opponent, Adrian Dix and his NDP Party, as "socialist hordes". Moreover and more importantly, Ms. Clark convinced the electorate. I hope that she is able to be elected in the byelection. Her presence is warranted. In closing, I wonder if arrangements can be made to forward my e-mail to Miss Clark by way of your network? Dear Christy

Many congratulations for a thoroughly deserved election win, I am extremely relieved not to be currently under a NDP administration.

My family and I moved to BC from the UK in S22 and was (made) well aware of the issues through the 90's of the last NDP government, over spending and union militancy and public sector strike action . Having been through the strife of the Labour years in the UK in the late 1970's and particularly "the winter of discontent" I was and am determined never to live through a similar situation again.

I joined the BC Liberal Party at the beginning of March this year to support what I believe is the party most able to steer the economy in the right direction and what turned out to be the deciding factor in the outcome of the election. I could never trust the NDP to be fiscally responsible. I have been a Liberal supporter since we arrived in BC but just never felt the need to become more actively engaged until just recently.

I have never been traditionally actively involved in politics and have never affiliated myself formally with any political party although I always exercise my democratic right to vote. This time round I felt I had to DO something to recognise the degree of angst I was feeling on the thought of Adrian Dix being Premier, and that just couldnt be allowed to happen so I happily signed up to support the cause.

I am so pleased, knowing we have another term to continue to grow the BC economy and generate jobs and blessed we live in the best place in the world for my family to live and prosper.

Best regards

I voted for your party because I believe your party is the only one that will allow the economy to continue to prosper.

It is essential to the economy of BC and Canada that we build pipelines to transport our gas and oil to whatever markets will pay the best price.

I am writing this because today's Sun Section S headlines "Pipeline foes hope to sway Liberals"

I would guess that the pipeline foes did not vote for your party and now seek to influence you against pipelines.

I voted for your party and I want the pipelines to go ahead to ensure our prosperity.

We recognize that the positive outcome in the election for the Liberal party was achieved through hard work, long hours and a clear dedication to serving the people of BC.

This was demonstrated most recently by our joint efforts to bring back a Marketing organization for the tourism industry, Destination BC.

We are confident that through continued strong leaderships, effective collaboration and open and honest communications, such as demonstrated by you Madame Premier, we can all be successful.

We look forward to working with your new cabinet and your new Minister of Tourism in the next four years, creating opportunities that will result in jobs, economic growth and continue to have BC recognized as a great place to visit.

The only thing that saddens me is that only 52% of the eligible voters actually voted. Perhaps you should look into making voting compulsory.

Dear Premier Clark,

Congratulations on your party being re-elected as the government of British Columbia.

All of us at the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation are pleased to have had the opportunity to work with the BC government, Minister and Ministry of Health, PHSA including the BC Cancer Agency and the Provincial Breast Health Strategy Steering Committee, the Screening Mammography Program and other partners. We have collaborated on numerous initiatives that will improve breast cancer prevention, screening and diagnosis for all women in BC.

We look forward to continuing to work with your government in order to seek solutions and enable positive change through promotion of the new breast screening guidelines and the complete digital conversion of the province; priorities that will need our immediate attention. We'll be in touch.

Until then, all the best in re-establishing your government and we look forward to a very bright and healthy future for all British Columbians.

Dear Premier:

On behalf of the 450 plus members of the BC Lodging and Campgrounds Association (BCLCA), let me be one of the many to congratulate you on winning the provincial election in a stunning and unexpected manner.

Over the past few weeks I have been reviewing your party platform and policy announcements as they relate to the tourism industry. I really appreciate that you have kept your promise to create Destination BC and your platforms recognition that Tourism is one of the key economic areas for British Columbia. I would further ask for recognition from you when you announce your new cabinet, that a Ministry will proudly include the Tourism name in the portfolio.

Of interest to our membership is a promise in the BC Liberal platform to modernize the Tourism Accommodation (Assessment Relief) Act to reflect increased property values. This is a much needed change aimed at addressing the continuing decline of rural resorts in British Columbia. Please be assured that we are ready and willing to work with your government towards implementing this much needed assessment relief.

My colleagues and I look forward to working with you as Premier to grow tourism and to provide an improved business environment that will benefit the smaller accommodations and the BC economy as a whole.

Sincerely

Premier Christy Clark

The members of the BC Road Builders and Heavy Construction Association wish to congratulate you and your team on your stunning election victory.

We look forward to continuing our work with members of the Christy Clark government to address important economic issues such as British Columbia's competitiveness, productivity and the need for increased investment in transportation infrastructure to support a growing economy.

The BC Liberal win will reinforce the important role the economy plays in the day to day lives of all British Columbians. A strong economy allows government to deliver important services such as healthcare, education and social services. Strategic investment in core infrastructure supports a growing economy by making BC businesses more competitive; when companies are successful they create jobs and prosperity.

The BC Road Builders will continue to embrace a balanced and principled approach to growing the BC economy. We wish the renewed BC Liberal government success as they work to balance social, environmental and debt issues to BC's full potential and keep it the best place on earth to live, work and play.

BC Road Builders have built a strong working relationship with Mary Polak and believe that the province of BC would be best served if she were to be reappointed Minister of Transportation and Infrastructure. A strong Minister in this portfolio can develop a strategic infrastructure program that will support a growing economy.

Again congratulations and thank you for considering reappointing of Minister Polak.

Subject: POLL RESULTS

CONGRATULATIONS!! Your stunning victory is one we are still relishing and will for some time to come.

I respectfully suggest the media be encouraged to put more effort into uncovering the real issues affecting us in or respective ridings and leave the poll results until election day. I have noticed that there seems to be more emphasis on polls than providing to us the real facts of the issues in our respective ridings. Are these POLL results being used to influence our voting decisions? Too much dependence on the media and not enough "town Hall type meetings"

I have a lot of ideas on how these ideas can be implemented. I wish you continued success and good health as you work on our behalf. Remember, your son is priority #1!! Godspeed.

Congratulations Madam. Job well done.

Thank you for replying for my letter. Kindly be noted by the following.

Since the Election date was announced, I have been praying to Hindu Supreme Goddess that she should pave the way for you to form the Government. She is very powerful and answers my prayers. On 13th early morning, in my dream, she indicated to me that you will form the Government.

So, on 13th morning, I called the Liberal Head Quarters (Provincial) and talked to one "Luvala" and mentioned to her that you're certainly forming the Government on the next day and try to get me a direct phone number in order to congratulate you on the next day. She said that she will get back to me with a number before end of the day. Since she didn't call me back, the next Day (14th), after voting for your party, I called her, and she gave your Point Grey office number.

Since they were all busy, I left a message into one "GORDON"s voice mail as follows. To tell you that you are forming the Government and to relax & be happy. Hope he would have related the same to you on time (morning of 14th). I think I spoke to one "Merilyn", too. Do you remember that in my first letter, I mentioned not to worry about the Polls? However, if you would have followed the simple steps, you would have won all 85 seats, and made history.

You would be CANADA's Prime Minister one day. Please believe me. There will be another Federal Liberal Party Leadership race in couple of years. Please jump in.

An ordinary person like me can't see you. However, my prayers will be there for you. I wish you all the best for good Governance.

Take care Madam.

Dear Premier Clark

Many congratulations to you and all your colleagues on a remarkable election victory. I have of course been watching events with great interest, particularly because it was my first election in British Columbia (having arrived here in July last year). Democracy is a remarkable thing to witness in action.

Dear Premier Clark,

On behalf of the Fédération des francophones de la Colombie-Britannique, we congratulate you on your re-election as Premier of our province. We value the relationship we have developed with the BC Government in the past years, and we look forward to furthering our collaboration with your new team. In particular, we hope that you and your Cabinet will remain committed to the francophone community of British-Columbia and to a policy of French-language services for our province, an essential part of Canada.
