Holding People Accountable involves setting high standards of performance and holding team members, other government jurisdictions, outside contractors, industry agencies, etc., accountable for results and actions.

Developing Others involves a genuine intent to foster the long-term learning or development of others through coaching, managing performance and mentoring. Its focus is on developmental intent and effect rather than on a formal role of training. For this competency to be considered, the individual's actions should be driven by a genuine desire to develop others, rather than by a need to transfer adequate skills to complete tasks.

Leadership implies a desire and ability to lead others, including diverse teams. Leadership is generally, but not always, demonstrated from a position of formal authority. The "team" here should be understood broadly as any group with which the person interacts regularly.

Organizational Commitment is the ability and willingness to align one's own behaviour with the needs, priorities and goals of the organization, and to promote organizational goals to meet organizational needs. It also includes acting in accordance with organizational decisions and behaving with integrity.

Results Orientation is a concern for surpassing a standard of excellence. The standard may be one's own past performance (striving for improvement); an objective measure (achievement orientation); challenging goals that one has set; or even improving or surpassing what has already been done (continuous improvement). Thus, a unique accomplishment also indicates a Results Orientation.

Empowerment is the ability to share responsibility with individuals and groups so that they have a deep sense of commitment and ownership. People who practice empowerment participate and contribute at high levels, are creative and innovative, take sound risks, are willing to be held accountable and demonstrate leadership. They also foster teamwork among employees, across government and with colleagues, and, as appropriate, facilitate the effective use of teams. Empowerment is conveying confidence in employees' ability to be successful and sharing responsibility to encourage commitment and ownership.

ARTICLE 1 - PREAMBLE

1.1 Purpose of Agreement

(a) The purpose of this agreement is to establish and maintain orderly collective bargaining procedures between the Employer and the Union.

(b) The parties to this agreement share a desire to improve the quality of the Public Service of British Columbia. Accordingly, they are determined to establish, within the framework provided by the law, an effective working relationship at all levels of the Public Service in which members of the bargaining unit are employed.

1.2 Future Legislation

In the event that any future legislation renders null and void or materially alters any provision of this agreement, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect for the term of the Agreement, and the parties hereto shall negotiate a mutually agreeable provision to be substituted for the provision so rendered null and void or materially altered.

1.3 Conflict With Regulations

In the event that there is a conflict between the contents of this agreement and any regulation made by the Employer, or on behalf of the Employer, this agreement shall take precedence over the said regulation.

1.4 Notice of Legislative Change

The BC Public Service Agency agrees that no proposal to amend, repeal, or revise the Public Service Labour Relations Act, the Public Service Act, or regulations made pursuant thereto, which would affect the terms and conditions of employment of employees covered by this agreement shall be put forward without first notifying the Union in writing of the nature of the proposal.

1.5 Master/Component Agreement

(a) The Master Agreement will be the principal agreement under which all negotiable items are bargained, unless delegated to the Components by mutual agreement between the master bargaining agents.

(b) The Component Agreement shall be subject to the provisions of the Master Agreement and shall not contradict, nullify, or alter any term contained in the Master Agreement.

(c) Whenever the term "component agreement" is used, it shall be deemed synonymous to the term "Subsidiary Agreement" as used in the Public Service Labour Relations Act.

(d) The expiry date of a component agreement shall not be prior to the expiry date of the Master Agreement.

(e) The master bargaining agents shall have the sole prerogative to determine which items are negotiable in component agreements.

(f) Any item not specified by the master bargaining agents as negotiable by the Components shall be deemed as negotiable in the Master Agreement until so delegated to the Component.

(g) The parties agree that items in component agreements signed by the parties shall be deemed to be negotiable in component agreements and such provisions shall be in full force and effect.

1.6 Singular and Plural

Wherever the singular is used in this agreement the same shall be construed as meaning the plural if the context requires unless otherwise specifically stated.

1.7 Human Rights Code

The parties hereto subscribe to the principles of the Human Rights Code of British Columbia.

In accordance with Clause 7.5, the parties will continue to review methods of extending knowledge of the Human Rights Code within the Public Service and for extending knowledge relating to the Human Rights Code to all employees.

The Government of British Columbia, in cooperation with the Union, will promote a work environment that is free from discrimination where all employees are treated with respect and dignity.

Discrimination relates to any of the prohibited grounds contained in the BC Human Rights Code. Prohibited conduct may be verbal, non-verbal, physical, deliberate or unintended, unsolicited or unwelcome, as determined by a reasonable person. It may be one incident or a series of incidents depending on the context.

Employees have the right to employment without discrimination because of race, colour, ancestry, place of origin, religion, family status, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, sex, age, sexual orientation, political beliefs, and criminal or summary offense unrelated to their employment.

Discrimination does not include actions occasioned through exercising in good faith the Employer's managerial/supervisory rights and responsibilities.

Protection against discrimination extends to incidents occurring at or away from the workplace during or outside working hours provided the acts are committed within the course of the employment relationship.

This clause does not preclude an employee from filing a complaint under Section 13 of the BC Human Rights Code, however, an employee shall not be entitled to duplication of process. An employee making a complaint of discrimination must choose to direct a complaint to either the BC Council of Human Rights or to the process specified in Clause 1.9. In either event a complaint of discrimination, if included as an element of a grievance, shall not be pursued through the process identified in Clause 1.9.

An employee who files a written complaint which would be seen by a reasonable person to be frivolous, vindictive or vexatious may be subject to disciplinary action. Disciplinary action taken may be grieved pursuant to Article 8—Grievances.

1.8 Sexual Harassment

The Government of British Columbia, in cooperation with the Union, will promote a work environment that is free from sexual harassment where all employees are treated with respect and dignity.

Sexual harassment is one form of discrimination and is defined as any unwelcome comment or conduct of a sexual nature that may detrimentally affect the work environment or lead to adverse job-related consequences for the victim of the harassment. Prohibited conduct may be verbal, non-verbal, physical, deliberate or unintended, unsolicited or unwelcome, as determined by a reasonable person. It may be one incident or a series of incidents depending on the context.

Sexual harassment does not include actions occasioned through exercising in good faith the Employer's managerial/supervisory rights and responsibilities.

Protection against harassment extends to incidents occurring at or away from the workplace during or outside working hours provided the acts are committed within the course of the employment relationship.

This clause does not preclude an employee from filing a complaint under Section 13 of the BC Human Rights Code, however, an employee shall not be entitled to duplication of process. An employee making a complaint of sexual harassment must choose to direct a complaint to either the BC Council of Human Rights or to the process specified in Clause 1.9. In either event a complaint of sexual harassment, if included as an element of a grievance shall not be pursued through the process identified in Clause 1.9.

An employee who files a written complaint which would be seen by a reasonable person to be frivolous, vindictive or vexatious may be subject to disciplinary action. Disciplinary action taken may be grieved pursuant to Article 8—Grievances.

Examples of sexual harassment include but are not limited to:

- a person in authority asking an employee for sexual favours in return for being hired or receiving promotions or other employment benefits;
- sexual advances with actual or implied work related consequences;
- unwelcome remarks, questions, jokes or innuendo of a sexual nature; including sexist comments or sexual invitations;
- verbal abuse, intimidation, or threats of a sexual nature;
- leering, staring or making sexual gestures;
- display of pornographic or other sexual materials;
- offensive pictures, graffiti, cartoons or sayings;
- unwanted physical contact such as touching, patting, pinching, hugging;
- physical assault of a sexual nature.

This definition of sexual harassment is not meant to inhibit interactions or relationships based on mutual consent or normal social contact between employees.

1.9 Discrimination and Sexual Harassment Complaint Procedures

(a) All persons involved in the handling of a discrimination or sexual harassment complaint under Clause 1.7 or 1.8 shall hold in the strictest confidence all information of which they become aware; however, it is recognized that various officials of the constituent group(s) and the Employer will be made aware of all or part of the proceedings on a "need to know" basis.

(b) Before proceeding to the formal complaint mechanism an employee who believes he or she has a complaint of harassment or discrimination may approach their supervisory personnel, union steward, or other contact person to discuss potential means of resolving a complaint and to request assistance in resolving the matter. If the matter is resolved to the complainant's satisfaction the matter is deemed to be resolved.

(c) If the matter is not resolved to the employee's satisfaction, then the employee will approach the first excluded level of management not involved in the matter, for assistance in resolving the issue within six months of the alleged occurrence. The manager will investigate the allegation and take steps to resolve the concern as appropriate within 30 days of the issue being raised by the employee. The manager will discuss the proposed resolution with the employee. The employee may have a union representative present during these discussions. Where the first excluded level of management is the respondent, the employee shall approach the respondent's supervisor.

(d) If the proposed resolution is not acceptable, the employee may refer the matter through the Union in writing to the Deputy Minister or their designate within 30 days of receiving the manager's response or when the response was due.

A written complaint shall specify the details of the allegation(s) including:

- name, title and ministry of the respondent;
- a description of the action(s), conduct, events or circumstances involved in the complaint;
- the specific remedy sought to satisfy the complaint;

- date(s) of incidents;
- name(s) of witnesses (if any);
- prior attempts to resolve (if any).

(e) The Deputy Minister or their designate will acknowledge, in writing, receipt of the Union's notice and will have the matter investigated and will take such steps as may be required to resolve the matter. The Union and the employees involved shall be advised in writing of the proposed resolution within 30 days of providing notice to the Deputy Minister or such later date as may be mutually agreed by the ministry and the Union.

(f) Where the matter is not resolved pursuant to (e), the Union may refer the matter to adjudication in accordance with the agreed upon Discrimination and Harassment In The Workplace Policies and Procedures.

(g) Any action taken by the Employer, including discipline, which is consistent with the findings of fact of the Adjudicator shall be considered by all parties to be determinative of the complaint and shall not form the basis of a grievance.

(h) If the Adjudicator determines that discrimination and/or harassment has occurred, the Employer must document the personnel file of the respondent accordingly.

(i) Pending the determination of the complaint, the Deputy Minister(s) may take interim measures to separate the employees concerned, if deemed necessary. Any such action taken under this section will not be deemed disciplinary in nature, or seen as presumption of guilt or innocence.

(j) The complainant will not be relocated without their agreement.

2.1 Bargaining Unit Defined

(a) The bargaining unit shall comprise all employees included in the Public Service Bargaining Unit as defined in this agreement except those employees in positions mutually agreed to between the parties as managerial and (or) confidential exclusions. copy of the organization chart for the immediate branch or program where the position is located, a copy of the position's job description and a copy of the job description for the position which supervises the applied for position.

(2) The parties will then commence discussions with a view to reaching a mutually agreeable resolution to the exclusion status of the position.

(i) Such discussions shall include an interview with the incumbent and their immediate supervisor. Where the position is vacant, the supervisor shall be interviewed. These interviews may be waived by mutual agreement.

(ii) Where the position is classified at ML6 or higher, the incumbent and their immediate supervisor may be interviewed by mutual agreement.

(3) If no agreement is reached or if no response is received from the Union within 90 days of the date of notification in (1) above, the Employer may refer the matter to arbitration and have it heard by an arbitrator from a mutually agreeable list of arbitrators.

(2) provide the employee with a receipt stating the date on which the grievance was received.

8.5 Time Limit to Reply at Step 2

(a) Within 21 days of receiving the grievance at Step 2, the representative designated by the Employer to handle grievances at Step 2 and the designated union representative shall meet to examine the facts, the nature of the grievance and attempt to resolve the dispute. This meeting may be waived by mutual agreement.

(b) The representative designated by the Employer to handle grievances at Step 2 shall reply in writing to an employee's grievance within 30 days of receiving the grievance at Step 2.

(c) Where the grievance concerns a disciplinary matter, the reply shall include a report of the Step 2 meeting and the results of investigations carried out by the Employer with regard to the facts and nature of the grievance. The report shall not be introduced as evidence at any arbitration proceeding.

8.6 Failure to Act

If the President of the Union, or their designate, does not present a grievance to the next higher level within the prescribed time limits, the grievance will be deemed to have been abandoned. However, the Union shall not be deemed to have prejudiced its position on any future grievance.

8.7 Time Limits to Submit to Arbitration

Failing satisfactory settlement at Step 2, and pursuant to Article 9—Arbitration, the President, or their designate, may inform the Employer of their intention to submit the dispute to arbitration within:

(a) 30 days after the Employer's decision has been received, or
(b) 30 days after the Employer's decision was due.

8.8 Administrative Provisions

(a) Replies to grievances at Step 2 of the grievance procedure and notification to arbitrate shall be by certified mail, courier or by facsimile.

(b) Grievances, replies, and notification shall be deemed to have been presented on the date on which they were verifiably transmitted, and received on the date they were delivered to the appropriate office of the Employer or the Union.

8.9 Dismissal or Suspension Grievances

(a) In the case of a dispute arising from an employee's dismissal, rejection on probation, suspension greater than 20 days or suspension for just cause pending investigation, the grievance may be filed directly at arbitration, with a copy to the BC Public Service Agency and the Deputy Minister of the appropriate ministry, within 30 days of the date on which the dismissal, rejection on probation, or suspension occurred, or within 30 days of the employee receiving such notice.

(b) In the case of a dispute arising from other suspensions, the grievance may commence at Step 2 of the grievance procedure within 30 days of the date on which the suspension occurred, or within 30 days of the employee receiving such notice.

8.10 Deviation from Grievance Procedure

(a) The Employer agrees that, after a grievance has been initiated by the Union, the Employer's representatives will not enter into discussion or negotiation with respect to the grievance, either directly or indirectly with the aggrieved employee without the consent of the Union.

(b) In the event that, after having initiated a grievance through the grievance procedure, an employee endeavours to pursue the same grievance through any other channel, then the Union agrees that, pursuant to this article, the grievance shall be considered to have been abandoned.

(c) Where an employee has filed a complaint with the Ombudsman or the Employment Standards Branch, the grievance shall be deemed to be abandoned unless the complaint is withdrawn, in writing, within 45 days of it being filed.

(d) Notwithstanding (b) above, an employee who has filed a complaint with the Human Rights Tribunal shall not have their grievance deemed abandoned through the filing of the complaint.

8.11 Policy Grievance

(a) Where either party to this agreement disputes the application, interpretation, or alleged violation of an article of this agreement or a component agreement, the dispute shall be discussed initially with the BC Public Service Agency or the Union, as the case may be, within 60 days of the occurrence. Where no satisfactory agreement is reached, either party may submit the dispute to arbitration, as set out in Article 9—Arbitration.

(b) Unless agreed by the Principals, this article shall not be used by the Union to initiate a grievance directly affecting an employee or group of employees where such employees themselves could otherwise initiate a grievance through the grievance procedure. This provision shall not be utilized to circumvent any mandatory provision of the grievance procedure.

8.12 Technical Objections to Grievances

It is the intent of both parties to this agreement that no grievance shall be defeated merely because of a technical error other than time limitations in processing the grievance through the grievance procedure. To this end an arbitration board shall have the power to allow all necessary amendments to the grievance and the power to waive formal procedural irregularities in the processing of a grievance in order to determine the real matter in dispute and to render a decision according to equitable principles and the justice of the case.

8.13 Effective Date of Settlements

Settlements reached at any step of the grievance procedure in this article, other than Clause 8.11, shall be applied retroactively to the date of the occurrence of the action or situation which gave rise to the grievance, but not prior to the effective date of the agreement in effect at the time of the occurrence or the date set by a board of arbitration.

8.14 Amending Time Limits

The time limits fixed in this grievance procedure may be altered by mutual consent of the parties, but the same must be in writing.

ARTICLE 9 - ARBITRATION

(a) Where a difference arising between the parties relating to the interpretation, application, or administration of this agreement or a component agreement, including any question as to whether a matter is arbitrable, or where an allegation is made that a term or condition of this agreement or a component agreement has been violated, either of the parties may, after exhausting the grievance procedure in Article 8—Grievances, notify the other party within 30 days of the receipt of the reply at the second step, of its desire to submit the difference or allegations to arbitration.

(b) A submission of such a difference or allegation to arbitration shall be by certified mail or by courier to the other party. Submissions may be transmitted by facsimile, however, the sender must forward the original documents by mail within three business days of the facsimile transmission. The sender will retain a facsimile receipt to prove service.

9.2 Assignment of a Single Arbitrator

(a) When a party has requested that a grievance be submitted to an arbitration and either party has requested that a hearing date be set, an arbitrator will be assigned from the mutually agreed upon list of single arbitrators.

(b) Depending upon availability, single arbitrators shall be assigned cases on a rotating basis.

(c) The parties shall agree upon a list of arbitrators which shall be appended to this agreement. An arbitrator may be removed from the list by mutual agreement.

(d) The parties shall endeavour to develop and maintain a list of acceptable arbitrators which is gender balanced.

9.3 Three-Person Arbitration Board

(a) Notwithstanding Clause 9.2, when a single arbitrator has been appointed either party may indicate to the other party, within seven days of receipt of written notice, if it chooses to have the matter heard by a three-person arbitration board. Both parties shall then have seven days to name their appointee to the three-person board. The two appointees shall then meet to select an impartial chairperson.

(b) If either party fails to name their appointee, or the two appointees fail to agree upon a chairperson within seven days of their appointment, the appointment shall be made by the Collective Agreement Arbitration Bureau.

9.4 Board Procedure

(a) In this article the term "Board" means a single arbitrator or a three-person arbitration board.

(b) The Board may determine its own procedure in accordance with the relevant legislation and shall give full opportunity to all parties to present evidence and make representations. It shall hear and determine the difference or allegation and shall render a decision within 60 days of the conclusion of the hearing.

9.5 Decision of Board

The decision of the majority shall be the decision of the Board. Where there is no majority decision, the decision of the Chairperson shall be the decision of the Board. The decision of the Arbitration Board shall be final, binding, and enforceable on the parties. The Board shall have the power to dispose of a discharge or discipline grievance by any arrangement which it deems just and equitable. However, the Board shall not have the power to change this agreement or to alter, modify, or amend any of its provisions or the provisions of the Component Agreements.

9.6 Disagreement on Decision

Should the parties disagree as to the meaning of the Board's decision, either party may apply to the Chairperson of the Arbitration Board to reconvene the Board to clarify the decision, which it shall make every effort to do within seven days.

9.7 Expenses of Arbitration Board

Each party shall pay:

(a) The fees and expenses of the arbitrator it appoints; and
(b) One-half of the fees and expenses of the Chairperson.

9.8 Amending Time Limits

The time limits fixed in the arbitration procedure may be altered by mutual consent of the parties, but the same must be in writing.

9.9 Expedited Arbitration

(a) The parties shall meet every four months or as often as required to review outstanding grievances filed at arbitration to determine by mutual agreement those grievances suitable for this process, and shall set dates and locations for hearings of groups of grievances considered suitable for expedited arbitration.

(b) All grievances shall be considered suitable for and resolved by expedited arbitration except grievances in the nature of:

(1) dismissals;

(2) rejection on probation;

(3) suspensions in excess of 20 workdays;

(4) policy grievances;

(5) grievances requiring substantial interpretation of a provision of the Master or a Component Agreement;

(6) grievances relating to Article 14—Hours of Work of the Master Agreement;

(7) grievances requiring presentation of extrinsic evidence;

(8) grievances where a party intends to raise a preliminary objection;

(9) demotions.

By mutual agreement, a grievance falling into any of these categories may be placed into the expedited arbitration process.

(c) The parties shall mutually agree upon single arbitrators who shall be appointed to hear and resolve groups of grievances.

(d) The arbitrator shall hear the grievances and shall render a decision within two working days of such hearings. No written reasons for the decision shall be provided beyond that which the arbitrator deems appropriate to convey a decision.

(e) Arbitration awards shall be of no precedential value and shall not thereafter be referred to by the parties in respect of any other matter.

(f) All settlements of expedited arbitration cases prior to hearing shall be without prejudice.

(g) A grievance determined by either party to fall within one of the categories listed in (b) above, may be removed from the expedited arbitration process at any time prior to hearing and forwarded to a regular arbitration hearing pursuant to Clause 9.2.

(h) The parties shall equally share the cost of the fees and expenses of the arbitrator and hearing rooms.

ARTICLE 10 - DISMISSAL, SUSPENSION AND DISCIPLINE

10.1 Burden of Proof

In all cases of discipline, the burden of proof of just cause shall rest with the Employer.

10.2 Dismissal

A deputy minister or any other person authorized in accordance with the Public Service Act, may dismiss any employee for just cause. Notice of dismissal shall be in writing and shall set forth the reasons for dismissal.

10.3 Suspension

The Deputy Minister or any other person authorized in accordance with the Public Service Act may only suspend an employee for just cause. Notice of suspension shall be in writing and shall set forth the reasons for the suspension.

10.4 Dismissal and Suspension Grievance

All dismissals and suspensions will be subject to formal grievance procedure under Article 8—Grievances. A copy of the written notice of dismissal or suspension shall be forwarded to the President of the Union within five days of the action being taken.

10.5 Right to Grieve Other Disciplinary Action

(a) Disciplinary action grievable by the employee shall include:

(1) written censures;
(2) letters of reprimand;
(3) adverse reports; or
(4) adverse employee appraisals.

(b) An employee shall be given a copy of any such document placed on the employee's file which might be the basis of disciplinary action. Should an employee dispute any such entry in their file, they shall be entitled to recourse through the grievance procedure and the eventual resolution thereof shall become part of their personnel record.

(c) Upon the employee's request any such document, other than formal employee appraisals, shall be removed from the employee's file after the expiration of 18 months from the date it was issued provided there has not been a further infraction.

(d) The Employer agrees not to introduce as evidence in any hearing any document from the file of an employee, the existence of which the employee was not aware at the time of filing.

10.6 Employee Appraisal Forms

(a) Where a formal appraisal of an employee's performance is carried out, the employee shall be given sufficient opportunity to read, review and ask questions about the appraisal. Upon request, the employee will be given three working days to read and review the appraisal.

(b) The appraisal form shall provide for the employee's signature in two places, one indicating that the employee has read and accepts the appraisal, and the other indicating that the employee disagrees with the appraisal. No employee may initiate a grievance regarding the contents of an employee appraisal unless the employee has signed in the place indicating disagreement with the appraisal.

(c) An employee appraisal shall not be changed after an employee has signed it, without the knowledge of the employee, and any such changes shall be subject to the grievance procedure of this agreement.

(d) An employee shall receive a copy of their appraisal upon request.

10.7 Personnel File

An employee, or the President of the Union or their designate with the written authority of the employee, shall be entitled to review the employee's personnel file(s), both paper and, if applicable, electronic, in the office in which the file is normally kept. The employee or the President, as the case may be, shall give the Employer adequate notice prior to having access to such file(s).

Where it is not practical for the employee to review the file in the office in which it is kept, the Employer shall make arrangements to have the file delivered to a ministry office nearer to the employee's worksite, to allow the review under the supervision of a person designated by the Employer.

10.8 Right to Have Steward Present

(a) An employee shall have the right to have their steward present at any discussion with supervisory personnel which the employee believes might be the basis of disciplinary action. Where a supervisor intends to interview an employee for disciplinary purposes, the supervisor shall make every effort to notify the employee in advance of the purpose of the interview in order that the employee may contact their steward, providing that this does not result in an undue delay of the appropriate action being taken. This clause shall not apply to those discussions that are of an operational nature and do not involve disciplinary action.

(b) A steward shall have the right to consult with a staff representative of the Union and to have a local union representative present at any discussion with supervisory personnel which the steward believes might be the basis of disciplinary action against the steward, providing that this does not result in an undue delay of the appropriate action being taken.

10.9 Rejection During Probation

(a) A deputy minister or any other person authorized in accordance with the Public Service Act may reject any probationary employee for just cause. A rejection during probation shall not be considered a dismissal for the purpose of Clause 10.4. The test of just cause for rejection shall be a test of suitability of the probationary employee for continued employment in the position to which they have been appointed, provided that the factors involved in suitability could reasonably be expected to affect work performance.

(b) Where an employee feels they have been aggrieved by the decision of the Employer to reject the employee during the probationary period, they may in accordance with Article 8-Grievances, grieve the decision within 30 days of receiving the notice of rejection. Such grievance may be filed directly at arbitration in accordance with Clause 8.9(a).

10.10 Abandonment of Position

An employee who fails to report for duty for 10 consecutive workdays without informing the Employer of the reason for their absence will be presumed to have abandoned their position. An employee shall be afforded the opportunity to rebut such presumption and demonstrate that there were reasonable grounds for not having informed the Employer.

ARTICLE 11 - SENIORITY

11.1 Seniority Defined

For the purpose of this and component agreements:

(a) Service seniority shall mean the length of continuous service as a regular employee in the Public Service of British Columbia. Regular employees in the Public Service of British Columbia as of June 30, 1974, shall be credited with service seniority equivalent to their length of continuous service as a permanent employee or their length of service as a continuous temporary employee with the Employer prior to that date. Service seniority for part-time employees shall be prorated on the basis of one year's service seniority for every 1827 hours completed.

(b) Classification seniority for a regular employee shall be from that date upon which an employee is last appointed to their present classification with the status of a regular employee.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of (b) above, a regular employee who is demoted shall have time previously spent at the level to which they are demoted included in their classification seniority, other than in cases where an employee takes a voluntary demotion in accordance with Clause 12.7 or Appendix 4, Part III or is demoted through no fault of their own. In the latter cases, the employee shall have classification seniority equivalent to all time previously spent at the level to which they are demoted, together with all time spent in any higher classification within the same classification series or related series.

(d) Regular employees of BC Buildings Corporation and those employees who had been employed as regular employees in the Public Service prior to their transfer to a health authority who are appointed to regular positions in the Public Service shall be credited with service seniority equivalent to their length of service with the Crown Corporation or health authority and the Employer subject to the following conditions:

(1) the employee must successfully complete their probation period on appointment to the Public Service; and

(2) there must be no break in regular service between the two employers.

(e) Employees appointed under the Public Service Act who are not members of this bargaining unit will not be credited, for the purpose of layoff and recall, with service seniority until they have completed one year's employment after having been placed into a vacancy within this bargaining unit, except as provided in (f).

(f) Employees who left the bargaining unit to fill a position, within the Public Service, shall be immediately credited, for the purposes of layoff and recall, with their service seniority accrued within the bargaining unit. Upon completion of one year's service these employees will be credited with the remainder of their service seniority.

11.2 Seniority List

A current service seniority list for regular employees as of December 31 will be provided by the Employer to the President of the Union on or before March 31 of the following year and for March 31 by June 30, June 30 by September 30 and September 30 by December 31.

11.3 Loss of Seniority

(a) A regular employee on leave of absence without pay, other than leave of absence for an elected or appointed position in the Union, or leave granted under Article 21—Maternity, Parental and Pre-Adoption Leave, shall not accrue seniority for leave periods over 30 calendar days.

(b) A regular employee on a claim recognized by the Workers' Compensation Board shall be credited with service seniority equivalent to what they would have earned had they not been absent and had been able to work.

(c) A regular employee who is on leave of absence without pay in an elected or appointed position of the Union shall continue to accrue seniority without benefits during the leave period, provided that, upon returning, the employee shall accept the first available position in their original classification at the work location nearest their residence.

(d) An employee shall lose their seniority as a regular employee in the event that:

(1) they are discharged for just cause;

(2) subject to Clause 11.4, they voluntarily terminate their employment or abandon their position; or

(3) they are on layoff for more than one year and they do not opt for auxiliary recall pursuant to Clause 13.3(a)(4).

11.4 Re-employment

A regular employee who resigns their position and within 90 days is re-employed as a regular employee shall be granted leave of absence without pay covering those days absent and shall retain, effective the date of re-employment, all provisions and rights in relation to seniority and other fringe benefits, provided they have not withdrawn their pension benefit contributions.

11.5 Bridging of Service

If a regular employee terminates as a result of a decision to care for a dependent parent, spouse or child, and is re-employed, upon application they shall be credited with length of service accumulated at time of termination for the purposes of benefits based on service seniority. The following conditions shall apply:

(a) the employee must have been a regular employee with at least two years of service seniority at time of termination;

(b) the resignation must indicate the reason for termination;

(c) the break in service shall be for no longer than six years;

(d) the previous length of service shall not be reinstated until successful completion of the probationary period on re-employment.

Former employees who meet the conditions outlined above will have in-service status when applying for re-employment, and shall, for the purpose of the selection process, be credited with points for the years of continuous service accumulated to the effective date of termination.

ARTICLE 12 - SERVICE CAREER POLICY

12.1 Postings

(a) Vacancies of a regular nature that are to be filled, for positions in the bargaining unit, shall be posted within 30 days. Such postings shall be throughout the Public Service unless limited by the Head of the BC Public Service Agency or their designate or as specified in the Memorandum of Understanding #30—Priority Placement and Employment Equity.

(b) Eligibility lists may be established through the posting process and used to fill vacancies. When eligibility lists are established it shall be stated on the posting. Eligibility lists shall be in effect for a maximum of one year from the establishment of the list.

(c) Vacancies of a temporary nature which are known to exceed seven months shall be posted within 30 days. Such postings will normally be limited to the geographic area. In cases where a position is unique to the ministry or forms a career path for ministry employees, the opportunity may be limited to a ministry within the geographic area. In those circumstances where the posting is not limited to the geographic area, Memorandum of Understanding #3—Board and Lodging and Relocation Expenses, shall not apply. Where necessary to facilitate and support a ministry's succession planning, a deputy minister may approve payment of board and lodging in accordance with Memorandum of Understanding #3, Part I providing the posting for the temporary vacancy contains notice that this discretion will apply.

For the purpose of this clause "geographic area" shall mean that area from which persons could reasonably be expected to commute.

(d) Notices shall be posted at least 14 days prior to the closing date of the competition, except as provided for in Clauses 12.7, 12.8, Appendix 4, Part III and Article 13—Layoff and Recall.

(e) On posted competitions, an employee is ineligible for transfer or demotion from one geographic location to another within two years at the previous location. The closing date of the competition shall determine eligibility. A selection panel may waive this restriction with the approval of the applicant's deputy minister or designate. This restriction does not apply to redundant employees or to promotions.

(f) The notice of postings shall contain the following information: nature of position, qualifications, skills, whether shift work is involved, wage or salary rate or range, and where applicable, specific location. Such qualifications may not be established in an arbitrary or discriminatory manner.

(g) Where the Employer determines that it is prepared to have a particular position filled by persons possessing either specified educational requirements or equivalencies, the posting shall specify that equivalent experience is acceptable.

(h) Consistent with the Public Service Act, the Head of the BC Public Service Agency shall delegate to ministries the authority and responsibility to appoint the Chairperson of all selection panels.

(i) Temporary vacancies of not more than seven months in duration shall be filled in accordance with the provisions in the Component Agreements.

12.2 Union Observer

The President of the Union or their designate may sit as an observer on a selection panel, including panel deliberations following selection tests, for positions in the Public Service Bargaining Unit. The observer shall be a disinterested party. This clause shall not apply to excluded positions.

12.3 Selection Procedures

(a) Appointments to and from within the Public Service will be based on applying the principle of merit. The matters to be considered in determining merit shall, having regard to the nature of the duties to be performed, include the applicant's education, skills, knowledge, experience, past work performance and years of continuous service in the Public Service.

(b) The initial assessment of applicants shall be a process which appraises the knowledge, skills and abilities of eligible applicants. The weighting of these factors shall be consistently applied within job types within a classification, which have been evaluated under the selection standards project. If the highest rated qualified applicant has the most years of continuous service, this applicant shall be appointed.

(c) If the highest rated qualified applicant is not the applicant with the most years of continuous service the selection panel will determine which qualified applicants, if any, are relatively equal to this applicant. The qualified applicant who is relatively equal with the most years of continuous service shall be appointed.

(d) For the purpose of this clause "relatively equal" means candidates with:

- 10 years or more of continuous service have a point score difference of 10% or less of the points available for education, skills, knowledge, experience and past work performance;
- less than 10 years of continuous service have a point score difference of 5% or less of the points available for education, skills, knowledge, experience and past work performance.

(e) Where an eligibility list has been established pursuant to Clause 12.1(b), qualified candidates who are relatively equal to the highest ranked successful candidate shall be placed on the eligibility list in order of their years of continuous service. Other qualified candidates shall be placed on the list in order of their respective point scores.

12.4 Notification

(a) Unsuccessful employee applicants to posted positions will be notified of the name and classification of the successful employee applicant.

(b) If the successful applicant is not an employee, upon request, an unsuccessful employee applicant will receive either the name of the successful applicant or a summary of the successful applicant's qualifications, skills and experience.

12.5 Appeal Procedure

(a) An employee who is an unsuccessful applicant for an appointment to the Public Service may request from the individual responsible for the appointment an explanation of the reasons why he or she was not appointed.

(b) The responsible individual must provide an explanation as soon as practicable after receiving a request under subsection (a).

(c) An employee who has made a request under (a) above may request an inquiry into the application of Section 8(1) of the Public Service Act with respect to the appointment. Any such request must include a detailed statement specifying the grounds on which the request is made and be directed to the Deputy Minister responsible for the position.

(d) The Deputy Minister, or a person designated by the Deputy Minister, who receives an application under (c) above must inquire into the appointment and confirm the appointment or proposed appointment or direct that the appointment or proposed appointment be reconsidered.

(e) Except as provided in (g) below, an employee who is an unsuccessful applicant for an appointment to a position and who has made a request pursuant to (c) above and disagrees with the decision made in (d) above to confirm the appointment or proposed appointment may request a review of the appointment by the merit commissioner on the ground that Section 8(1) of the Public Service Act has not been complied with.

(f) A request for a review pursuant to (e) above must be in writing and may only be based upon the grounds submitted to the Deputy Minister under (c) above.

(g) The following are not subject to a review by the merit commissioner and may not form the basis of a grievance:

(i) Staffing decisions respecting positions outside the bargaining unit;
(ii) A temporary appointment of not more than seven months in duration;

(iii) An appointment of an auxiliary employee; and
(iv) A direct appointment by the Head of the BC Public Service Agency.

(h) All requests for reasons, inquiry or review and submissions must be within the time period prescribed by Regulation made pursuant to the Public Service Act.

12.6 Interview Expenses

An in-service applicant for a posted position who is not on leave of absence without pay and who has been called for a panel interview shall be granted leave of absence with basic pay and shall have their authorized expenses paid. An employee granted leave under this clause shall notify their supervisor as soon as they are notified of their requirement to appear for an interview.

12.7 Transfers Without Posting

(a) Lateral transfers or voluntary demotions may be granted, without posting for:

(1) compassionate or medical grounds to regular employees who have completed their probationary period;

(2) all employees who have become incapacitated by industrial injury or industrial illness.

(b) In such cases the Rehabilitation Committee established in Appendix 4, Part III shall consider any applications or requests presented to the Committee. Each request for special consideration shall be judged solely on its merit.

(c) An employee whose spouse is also an employee and who is transferred pursuant to Clause 12.8, Articles 13—Layoff and Recall, 36—Limited Employment and Privatization, or Memorandum of Understanding #10—Riverview Hospital Devolution, may be considered for a lateral transfer or voluntary demotion to available vacancies.

12.8 Relocations

(a) It is understood by the parties that, as a general policy, employees shall not be required to relocate from one geographic location to another against their will. However, the Employer and the Union recognize that in certain cases relocations may be in the interests of the Public Service and/or the employee. In such cases, an employee will receive 90 days' written notice prior to the effective date of relocation and be fully advised of the reason for their relocation, as well as the possible result of refusal to be relocated.

(b) Should a regular employee choose not to relocate, the employee shall elect prior to the date of relocation:

(1) for those employees with three or more years of service seniority:

(i) vacancy selection pursuant to Clause 13.4(c); or
(ii) early retirement pursuant to Clause 13.4(g); or
(iii) severance pay pursuant to Clause 13.4(i).

(2) For those employees with less than three years of service seniority:

(i) the options outlined in Clause 13.3.

An employee shall elect one of these options no later than 30 days prior to the effective date of relocation and should they fail to do so, they shall be deemed to have resigned and shall be paid severance pay as outlined in Clause 13.3 or 13.4(i), as applicable.

(c) When a relocation is required and there is more than one regular employee performing the transferred work within the ministry seniority block, the Employer will first attempt to effect the relocation on a voluntary basis. Where no employee from that group wishes to relocate voluntarily the least senior regular employee in the group shall be relocated and the provisions of (b) above apply.

12.9 Selection Panels

(a) Delegation to the individuals responsible for recruitment, selection and appointment shall be in accordance with the Public Service Act and Regulations pursuant thereto. It is understood that all operations under such designation are subject to the applicable auditing procedures of the merit commissioner.

(b) Disputes regarding the application of the above shall be resolved pursuant to Clause 12.5.

ARTICLE 13 - LAYOFF AND RECALL

PREAMBLE

The Employer agrees not to exercise its right to cause a layoff that results in the cessation of employment for a regular employee except as provided in this article.

13.1 Ministry Workforce Adjustment (Phase 1)

(a) The parties recognize that workforce adjustment will be necessary due to the elimination of positions resulting from a reduction in the amount of work required to be done by the Employer, reorganization, program termination or closure which impacts a number of employees.

Clauses 13.1 and 13.2 shall not apply to regular employees who are normally subject to layoff because of business cycle or seasonal work.

(b) The timeframe for Clause 13.1 placement activities is 90 days, or a lesser time frame for smaller adjustments, from the date the employee receives written notice of redundancy as mutually agreed to by the Ministry Joint Committee. Such notice will only be issued after consultation with or advice to the Ministry Joint Committee.

(c) Ministry will consult with the Union through the Ministry Joint Committee established pursuant to Article 29 respecting workforce adjustment which results in redundancy as required pursuant to (a) above. Ministry workforce adjustment activities will be guided by the following principles and procedures:

(1) Both parties recognize the need for the cooperation of all participants to facilitate the placement of regular employees.

(2) Ministries must first minimize the impact on their regular employees through the appropriate:

(i) layoff of limited term employees;

(ii) cancellation of contracts for employment agency personnel;

(iii) cancellation of personal service contracts where a surplus regular employee qualified to do the work can be placed;

(iv) where necessary, layoff of auxiliary employees;

(3) Ministries must exhaust all placement options within their own ministry prior to seeking placement of affected staff in other ministries. This will include lateral transfers and, where necessary, regular employees displacing auxiliary employees performing ongoing work.

(4) The placement process applies to junior regular employees or, where appropriate, other regular employees in the same classification and seniority block for placement into vacant positions for which they are qualified.

(5) Surplus employees will be placed through lateral transfers in their same geographic locations where such vacancies are available.

(6) Surplus employees not able to be placed through lateral transfers will be offered available comparable vacancies in their same geographic location. Where comparable placement offers are turned down by a surplus employee, they may be immediately referred to Clause 13.2 (Phase 2).

(7) Acceptance of offers made to employees pursuant to this clause is voluntary. Where an employee accepts an offer, once confirmed in writing such acceptance is final and binding upon the employee, subject to the agreement of the Employer.

13.2 Joint Workforce Adjustment Steering Committee (JWASC) (Phase 2)

(a) The parties will form a joint workforce adjustment steering committee whose purpose will be to minimize the impact on individual employees affected by redundancy.

(b) The purpose of the Steering Committee will be:

(1) to facilitate and coordinate across ministries, if necessary, the placement of surplus regular employees into existing vacancies for which they are qualified within their own or other headquarters or geographic location;

(2) to guide the placement activities of the Ministry Joint Committees established pursuant to Article 29;

(3) to maximize placement opportunities and minimize job loss of affected employees by gathering relevant information, including lists of surplus staff and vacancies; and

(4) to recommend job orientation or appropriate training.

(c) The Steering Committee will be comprised of three representatives of the Employer and three representatives of the Union. The Employer agrees that union representatives who require leave from work will not suffer any loss of basic pay for time spent on the work of the Steering Committee.

(d) The parties agree that in order to maximize the placement of surplus employees into vacant positions, training may be required over and above that provided for in the Master Agreement.

(e) The parties agree that the Committee is a proper vehicle to identify employee skills, training options, and training sources. Where the Committee determines it is advisable to provide training to assist in such placement, it shall be offered.

Any training provided pursuant to this clause will be on a cost-effective basis for the purpose of continuing a surplus employee's service with the government.

(f) The Steering Committee will be guided by the following principles:

(1) Once a regular employee is referred to the Steering Committee for placement, the Steering Committee will have three weeks to effect a placement under this process. If no placement by the Steering Committee is possible within this time frame, then the Employer may issue layoff notice and the procedures of Clause 13.3 or 13.4, as applicable, will be utilized. This time frame may be extended by mutual agreement.

Where layoff notice is issued, the three-week period may run concurrent with the notice period of 13.3(b) or 13.4(b), as applicable.

(2) JWASC shall review all referrals and:

(i) may recommend on the advisability and scope of a pre-layoff canvass;

(ii) may recommend staffing actions such as restricted competitions, underimplementation, temporary assignments or secondments;

(iii) may recommend to the Principals on the advisability of an Early Retirement Incentive Plan;

(iv) may refer employees back to the Ministry Joint Committee with recommendation;.

(v) identify employee skills, training options and training sources for surplus employees.

(3) This placement process applies to junior regular employees or where appropriate other regular employees in the classification in the seniority block for placement into vacant positions for which they are qualified.

13.3 Less Than Three Years' Service Seniority

In the event of a layoff, the following shall apply to regular employees with less than three years' service:

(a) Layoff

(1) Layoff of regular employees with less than three years' service seniority shall be in reverse order of seniority within a classification and within ministry seniority blocks as specified in Appendix 7—Seniority Blocks.

(2) (i) A regular employee designated for layoff may opt to use Clause 13.4(c)(2)(i) and (ii) providing the employee exercising such an option has the qualifications to meet the requirements of the job.

(ii) If there are no vacancies available an employee promoted from another position within the same seniority block may opt to displace the employee currently filling the position originally held by the employee designated for layoff, providing the employee exercising such a displacement option has greater seniority and is qualified and able to perform the job after a period of familiarization.

(iii) If an employee is not placed through the option of (a)(2)(ii) above, then they may opt to displace the junior employee currently filling a position within that classification originally held, providing the employee exercising this displacement option has greater seniority and is qualified and able to perform the job after a period of familiarization. This option shall be exercised only within the same seniority block and same geographic location.

(iv) The employee displaced pursuant to (ii) or (iii) shall have the options contained in (i).

(3) Upon layoff, a regular employee will have the option of displacing the most senior auxiliary employee in the ministry, within the same seniority block and going onto auxiliary recall lists within the ministry within the geographic boundaries of the seniority block.

(4) A regular employee who chooses to go onto the auxiliary recall list pursuant to this section, shall retain their regular status unless they fail to maintain 1200 hours worked at the straight-time rate within the previous 26 pay periods except as provided under Article 21—Maternity, Parental and Pre-Adoption Leave; but a regular employee recalled to auxiliary work will be considered to have auxiliary status for purposes of Clauses 15.3 and 15.4 of the Master Agreement, the vacation scheduling provisions of component agreements and notice of layoff as specified in (b) below.

Where an employee loses regular status by failing to maintain 1200 hours in 26 pay periods as referenced above, their previous regular service seniority shall be credited as auxiliary seniority for the purposes of layoff and recall only. Calculation shall be based on 1827 hours of auxiliary seniority per year of regular service seniority (pro-rated for partial years).

(5) Notwithstanding (1), (2) and (3) above, regular employees to be retained shall be qualified and able to perform the work which is available after a period of familiarization.

(b) The Employer shall notify regular employees, in writing, who are to be laid off, 20 workdays prior to the effective date of layoff. Copies of such notifications will be forwarded to the Union. If the employee has not had the opportunity to work 20 full days after notice of layoff, they shall be paid in lieu of work for that part of the 20 days during which work was not made available.

(c) An employee shall not accumulate seniority while on layoff.

(d) Providing regular status is maintained pursuant to (a)(4) above, a regular employee with service seniority of less than three years and who is laid off, will be placed on a recall list for the purposes of recall to a regular position within the ministry in the geographic location, or the geographic boundaries of the seniority block whichever is greater, from which the employee has been laid off.

(e) Recall of regular employees shall be in order of service seniority providing the employee is qualified and able to perform the work which is available after a period of familiarization. Recall to available work of six months or longer duration shall be considered to be "regular" recall under this section rather than "auxiliary" recall under Clause 31.5 or (3) above. An employee who declines an offer pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to have resigned but may, if eligible, claim early retirement.

(f) Severance Pay

(1) An employee may opt for severance pay on the date the layoff was scheduled to occur, in which case they shall be deemed to have resigned.

(2) A regular employee who has elected severance pay pursuant to this article shall be entitled to severance pay in an amount equal to three weeks' pay for every year (1827 hours at straight-time rate) of regular service seniority or major part thereof.

13.4 Layoff - Three or More Years of Service Seniority

In the event of a layoff of employees with three or more years' seniority, the following shall apply:

(a) Where the employee's position is relocated, they shall be offered the position in the new location. An employee may decline an offer pursuant to this section.

(b) The Employer shall notify employees affected by Clause 13.4, in writing, at least six weeks prior to the effective date. Copies of such notifications will be forwarded to the Union. If the employee has not had the opportunity to work their regularly scheduled shifts during the six-week period after notice of layoff, they shall be paid in lieu of work for that part of the regularly scheduled shifts during which work was not made available.

(c) An affected employee subject to layoff shall have the right to fill vacancies and to displace employees in the following manner and sequence:

(1) The employee to be laid off shall be the employee with the least service seniority in the same classification, the same ministry and same geographic location or the geographic limits of the seniority block, whichever is greater.

(2) The employee shall be placed on the basis of service seniority in accordance with (i) through (xvi) below.

	Vacancy/ Displacement	Classification	Ministry	Geographic Location
(i)	Vacancy	same	same	same
(ii)	Vacancy	comparable	same	same
(iii)	Vacancy	same	other	same
(iv)	Vacancy	comparable	other	same
(v)	Displace	same	same	same
(vi)	Displace	comparable	same	same
(vii)	Displace	same	other	same
(viii)	Displace	comparable	other	same
(ix)	Vacancy	same	same	other

(xiii)	Displace	same	same	other
(xiv)	Displace	comparable	same	other
(xv)	Displace	same	other	other
(xvi)	Displace	comparable	other	other

(3) In order to facilitate the administration of Clause 13.4(c)(2) above, an employee is required to immediately indicate if it is their intention to utilize the displacement/bumping option. The displacement/ bumping option shall be voluntary and if the option is declined by the employee it shall not count as a job offer pursuant to this section. Should an employee wish to displace/bump, the Employer will identify the least senior employee within the classification, ministry, headquarters or geographic locations.

(4) For purposes of this clause, an employee may only displace a junior employee with less than three years' seniority.

(5) "Comparable" includes a job with a salary range not more than four grid levels below the employee's original classification. For employees whose salary range has been reduced in the previous three years due to a layoff, comparable shall include grid levels up to their previous classification.

(6) Notwithstanding (2) above, an employee may choose to take the options available to employees with less than three years' seniority as outlined in Clause 13.3, rather than the options available to an employee with three or more years' service seniority.

(7) In the event that an employee is not placed pursuant to any of the above options they shall claim Section 6 above or early retirement or severance pay.

(d) Job offers pursuant to (c) above:

(1) If an employee refuses one job offer in the same classification and the same geographic location, they will be deemed to have resigned but may, if eligible, claim early retirement.

(2) If an employee refuses one job offer in a different classification in the same geographic location, and with a salary or maximum step pay range the same as their existing position, they shall claim early retirement or severance pay as outlined in Clause 13.4(i).

(3) If an employee refuses a maximum of two job offers in a different geographic location or with a salary or maximum step pay range comparable to their existing position they shall claim early retirement or severance pay as outlined in Clause 13.4(i).

(4) An employee who fails to elect between early retirement or severance pay in (2) and (3) above shall be paid severance pay as outlined in Clause 13.4(i).

(e) In all cases, the regular employee must possess the qualifications as determined by the Joint Committee, to perform the work available.

(f) Retraining and Adjustment Period

(1) Employees who assume a new position pursuant to this article will receive job orientation, including, where deemed appropriate by the Joint Committee, current in-service training, and shall be allowed a reasonable time to familiarize themselves with their new duties.

(2) In those circumstances where an employee is being placed in a regular vacancy, the Joint Committee shall also consider other training where it is complementary to current in-service training.

(3) Employees involved in training under this section shall receive their basic pay for the period of training, the cost of tuition and the cost of course-related materials.

(g) Early Retirement

A regular employee who is age 55 years or older and is entitled to receive a pension under the Public Service Pension Plan Rules, as of the effective date of layoff, and who has opted for and is entitled to severance pay pursuant to this article shall, upon application, be entitled to purchase all or part of any eligible service for which no contributions were made, as permitted by the Public Service Pension Plan Rules.

(h) Pay Out of Sick Leave

When an employee age 55 or older opts for severance pay or early retirement, they will also qualify in accordance with the Master Agreement, for an amount equal to 50% of accumulated sick leave credits on the date of severance or retirement.

(i) Severance Pay

Prior to the expiry of the Notice of Layoff, or within 30 days of refusing job offers in accordance with Clause 13.4(d), a regular employee with greater seniority than three years will be entitled to resign with severance pay based upon three weeks current salary for each year (1827 hours at straight-time rate) of regular service seniority or major part thereof.

The employee will not receive an amount greater than 12 months current salary.

(j) Subject to Clause 13.4(d), employees shall remain at work and on pay until the steps under Clause 13.4(c)(2) are completed provided the employee:

(1) has co-operated in the placement process; and
(2) has opted for displacement; and
(3) has not opted to use Clause 13.4(c)(6).

The above provisions of paragraph (j) do not apply to employees who receive a layoff notice resulting from a seasonal reduction in the amount of work required to be done by the Employer.

(k) Employees who relocate pursuant to Clause 13.4 shall be entitled to relocation expenses in accordance with Clause 27.16.

13.5 Joint Committee

(a) A joint committee shall be constituted to provide for continuing consultation and cooperation between the parties with respect to the relocation, training and placement of employees who have three or more years of seniority and who are subject to layoff.

(b) (1) The Joint Committee shall consist of five representatives, two appointed by the Union, two appointed by the Employer, and a chairperson.

(2) The Chairperson shall be appointed jointly by the parties.

(3) The Committee shall meet as required during working hours and leave without loss of pay shall be granted to committee members. Minutes shall be taken of all meetings and copies of such minutes shall be provided to the Employer and the Union.

(c) The Union and the Employer representatives on the Committee shall have the authority to waive by mutual agreement any portion of Article 13 where it is considered by them to be fair and equitable, provided such waiver is also with agreement of the employee who is seeking placement via the Joint Committee.

(d) The Employer will make available to the Committee a monthly list of vacant positions by ministry and geographic location and a list of the employees issued notices, laid off, retired, received severance pay, or placed pursuant to Article 13, by classification, ministry and geographic location.

(e) The Joint Committee shall establish a schedule of comparable classifications.

(f) The Chairperson of the Committee shall, at the request of either party, sit as an arbitrator over all disputes pertaining to the application or interpretation of Article 13 after the parties have reviewed and attempted to resolve the dispute.

(g) The Employer agrees to supply the Joint Committee with as much notice as possible of expected employees to be designated for layoff.

For the purposes of this clause, and where the Committee considers it appropriate, the following definition of "comparable" may be used to effect a placement:

"comparable" includes a job with a salary range not more than four grid levels below or one grid level above the employee's original classification.

Where this definition is used, an employee shall not utilize the displacement/bumping options to obtain a promotion.

ARTICLE 14 - HOURS OF WORK

14.1 Hours of Work

The annual hours of work exclusive of meal periods taken away from the workstation but including paid holidays will be 1827, which is equivalent to an average of 35 hours per week. The 1827 annual hours means that all work schedules will be based on that figure. Due to varying lengths of the calendar and work years and the varying times that employees may begin and end their work schedules, an employee will be required to work an average of 1827 hours.

14.2 Work Schedules

(a) Component agreements shall establish shift patterns, length of scheduled workdays and, where appropriate, averaging periods to meet the annual hours of work.

(b) The Employer shall determine, pursuant to the appropriate statutory authority, when various services are provided (hours of operation), the classifications of positions and the numbers of employees required to provide the services.

(c) The Employer's designate and the union steward at the local level will establish work schedules based upon the shift patterns and hours of work clauses in the relevant component agreement and the provisions of this article including the following:

(1) if either party wishes a change to existing work schedules it shall provide the other party with the earliest possible advance notice in writing;

(2) if a change is requested only at the local level, the notice shall be given to the appropriate union steward or designated employer representative. If a change is requested which involves more than one worksite, notice shall be given to the President of the Union or designated ministry official;

(3) the parties shall have 14 days, from the date notice is given to reach agreement on work schedules;

(4) if the parties are unable to reach agreement within 14 days either party may refer the matter to an Hours of Work Umpire on the appropriate form through the Union or the BC Public Service Agency.

(d) The Employer and the Union shall agree on a list of persons designated as "Hours of Work Umpires" who shall resolve hours of work disputes in accordance with the provisions of the Master and Component Agreements.

(e) (1) The Umpire shall have 14 days, which may be extended by mutual agreement of the principals by a further seven days, in which to bring in a decision.

(2) The Umpire shall base their decision on work schedule information in the relevant Component Agreement and the criteria to be applied in this section. The Umpire may consider a work schedule proposed by either party, however only work schedules which are consistent with the relevant Component Agreement may be considered.

(3) The party requesting a change from what has been previously agreed to shall bear the onus for justifying the change.

(4) In coming to a decision, the Umpire shall abide by the following rules:

(i) the decision must not be retroactive;

(ii) the hours of work schedule awarded shall not contain scheduled overtime;

(iii) the decision must not interpret the Master or Component collective agreements except for the provisions of Clauses 14.2(e)(4) and 14.2(f).

(f) The parties recognize that in reaching mutual agreement on work schedules, or where the Umpire is determining a schedule in accordance with the provisions of this article the following will also apply:

(1) work schedules shall meet the hours of operation and shall consider unusual or seasonal demands and functionally linked work groups within and without the bargaining unit;

(2) work schedule changes, within existing hours of operation, must not result in increased cost to the Employer and where possible shall result in decreased cost to the Employer and/or improved efficiency and/or improved service to the public. The onus of proof shall be on the Employer to prove decreased cost;

(3) consideration shall also be given to employee preferences, fairness and equity.

(g) (1) In the event there is a dispute between the parties at the local level, the Employer may implement, on an interim basis, a new or changed work schedule by giving 14 days' notice, providing the length of workday is not increased beyond nine hours and providing the change is necessary because of an introduction of a new program or a change to the hours of operation. However, under extenuating circumstances the 14 days' notice may be concurrent with the period of notice in (c)(3) above.

(2) Where the proposed change is within existing hours of operation, no change shall be made without mutual agreement or an umpire's decision.

(h) Either party may grieve an Hours of Work Umpire decision made pursuant to Clause 14.2 on the grounds that the award contravenes the requirements of Clause 14.2(e) or Clause 14.2(f). The grievance may be filed to a mutually agreed upon Hours of Work Arbitrator within 14 days of the receipt of the Umpire's award. The Hours of Work Arbitrator shall render a decision within 14 days of the conclusion of the hearing.

(i) If any of the provisions of this article are in conflict with, or are restricted by, any provision of a component agreement, the provisions of this article will apply.

14.3 Conversion of Hours

(a) Lieu days - where an employee is granted a lieu day pursuant to Clauses 17.3 or 17.4, the time off granted will be seven hours per lieu day for a full-time employee and prorated for a part-time employee.

(c) Designated paid holidays - where an employee is granted a designated paid holiday pursuant to Article 17—Paid Holidays, the time off granted will be seven hours per designated paid holiday for a full-time employee and prorated for a part-time employee. Where the scheduled workday exceeds seven hours, the resulting difference shall be included in the work schedules established pursuant to Clause 14.2.

14.4 Rest Periods

All employees shall have two, 15-minute rest periods in each work period in excess of six hours, one rest period to be granted before and one after the meal period. Employees working a shift of three and one-half hours, but not more than six hours, shall receive one rest period during such a shift. Rest periods shall not begin until one hour after the commencement of work or not later than one hour before either the meal period or the end of the shift. Rest periods shall be taken without loss of pay to the employees.

14.5 Stand-by Provisions

(a) Where regular employees are required to stand by to be called for duty under conditions which restrict their normal off-duty activities, they shall be compensated at straight-time in the proportion of one hour's pay for each three hours standing by. An employee designated for stand-by shall be immediately available for duty during the period of stand-by at a known telephone number. No stand-by payment shall be made if an employee is unable to be contacted or to report for duty when required. The provisions of this clause do not apply to part-time employees who are not assigned a regular work schedule and who are normally required to work whenever called.

(b) Regular employees on stand-by in a relief operation, such as a staffing pool, shall be compensated one day's basic pay for 12 hours' standing by. Where the time spent on stand-by is followed by a full shift being worked, employees shall be compensated at the straight-time rate in the proportion of one hour's pay for each four hours of standing by in addition to their normal day's pay with a minimum of one hour's stand-by.

(c) Employees required to stand by under (a) above will not be required to stand by on two consecutive weekends or two consecutive designated paid holidays, except by mutual agreement. This provision will not apply in emergency situations.

14.6 Meal Periods

The scheduling and length of meal periods shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Component Agreement.

14.7 Points of Assembly and Work Start Times

(a) Where a work unit is staffed by employees who are members of more than one component and where there is a work dependency between such employees, the start time shall be established for the members of the Component having the largest representation in the work unit.

(b) If one or more of the Components in the work unit has a point of assembly negotiated in a component agreement and there is a work dependency between such employees, then the point of assembly for all employees in the work unit shall be as negotiated for the members of the Component having the largest representation in the work unit.

14.8 Flextime

(a) For the purpose of this agreement, flextime means the hours worked by an employee, or a group of employees, who are given authority to:

(1) choose their starting and finishing times; and

(2) choose their length of workday within a stated maximum number of hours, subject to meeting the required annual hours of work in accordance with this agreement, through a specified averaging period which shall be determined at the Component level.

(b) The full-time employee on flextime who has a day of absence, whether with or without pay, will be deemed to be absent for seven hours, providing at least seven hours are required to complete the averaging period. If less than seven hours are required to complete the averaging period, such number of hours will be deemed to be hours of absence.

(d) Employees covered by flextime and/or modified workweek agreements who, by their own volition, choose to begin their shift at a time which would qualify them for a shift premium shall not be entitled to the premium. Employees who are required to begin their shift at a time which would qualify them for a shift premium in accordance with the above provisions shall receive the appropriate premium.

(c) In the event that an employee's work schedule or shift is changed without five days advance notice and the change results from causes other than defined in (b) above, the employee shall receive a premium at the applicable overtime rate for work performed on the first shift to which they changed, except that if the change results from no fault of the Employer they shall not receive a premium at overtime rates but shall receive the premium defined under (b) above.

15.4 Short Changeover Premium

(a) If shifts are scheduled so that there are not 24 hours between the start of an employee's shift and the start of their next shift, a premium calculated at the overtime rates will be paid for hours worked on the succeeding shift within the 24-hour period.

(b) Where an employee exercises seniority rights to work shifts, one of which falls within the 24-hour period from the start of the previous shift, the employee shall not be entitled to claim the premium rate referred to in (a) above.

(2) the employee does not control the duration of the overtime worked.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Employer and the Union recognize that the nature of the work carried out by persons in some classifications is such that it may not be possible for the employee to obtain prior authorization for the necessary overtime work. In such cases the employee shall use their discretion in working the overtime and the Employer shall be considered to have authorized the overtime in advance. However, the Employer reserves the right, subject to the grievance procedure, to determine the legitimacy of the overtime claimed. In order to facilitate a fair and reasonable administration of the clause, the ministry will draw up regulations defining the circumstances under which an employee may undertake overtime work without prior authorization. Copies of these regulations will be supplied to the Ministry Joint Committee.

(c) The method of compensation for overtime shall be in accordance with the Component Agreement.

The parties recognize that an employee's privacy and reputation must be recognized and protected. Accordingly, information gathered to establish suitability for work assignments which include contact with vulnerable individuals is to be treated with confidentiality to the fullest extent compatible with meeting the government's responsibility of safeguarding vulnerable people.

Vulnerable people includes adults with physical/mental disabilities, and includes children.

(e) Upon the decision of the Deputy Minister that an employee is not cleared for work with vulnerable people, the employee shall be given 20 workdays' notice of removal from the assignment. Such employees shall have the options outlined in Article 13. During the notice period the employee shall be assigned duties which do not involve vulnerable people or will be paid in lieu of work.

APPENDIX 4 -
SHORT AND LONG TERM DISABILITY

Part I - Short Term Illness and Injury Plan

1.1 Eligibility

(a) Regular employees shall be covered by the Short Term Illness and Injury Plan upon completion of six months of active service with the Employer.

(b) Regular employees with less than six months of service who are unable to work because of illness or injury are entitled to six days coverage at 75% pay in any one calendar year.

(c) Regular employees with three months but less than six months of service will be entitled to 15 weeks (75 workdays) of coverage, consisting of the above six days, or what remains of the six days entitlement, at 75% pay, and the remainder of the 15 weeks at two-thirds of pay, not to exceed a maximum weekly benefit of $413 or the Employment Insurance maximum weekly sickness benefit, whichever is higher.

(d) (1) Notwithstanding (a), (b) and (c) above, where a regular employee is on a claim recognized by the Workers' Compensation Board while the employee was on the Employer's business, they shall be entitled to leave with pay up to 130 days for any one claim in lieu of benefits as outlined in Section 1.2.

(2) Employer and employee contributions and deductions for pension benefits and employment insurance during the period of absence will comply with statutory requirements.

(3) During the leave period, the employee will receive net take-home pay equal to wage loss benefits (inclusive of any earnings over and above basic pay) as calculated by the WCB, less any voluntary deductions and those employee deductions referenced in (2) above.

(4) If net take-home pay as calculated in (3) above is less than the employee would receive if they had continued to work, the Employer will top up so there is no difference in net take-home pay.

(5) The compensation payable by the Workers' Compensation Board shall be remitted to the Employer.

(e) Pay for a regular part-time employee under this plan shall be based on their part-time percentage of full-time employment at date of present appointment.

1.2 Short Term Plan Benefit

(a) In the event an employee is unable to work because of illness or injury they will be entitled to a benefit of 75% of pay for a period not to exceed six months from date of absence (Short Term Plan Period).

(b) The 75% benefit may be supplemented at the rate of 25% of actual duration of absence due to illness or injury by the use of the following in descending order:

(1) Accumulated sick leave credit under the old sick leave plan;
(2) Compensatory Time Off (CTO);
(3) Banked Earned Time Off (ETO), excepting where scheduled in a shift schedule;
(4) Vacation entitlement.

1.3 Recurring Disabilities

(a) Employees who return to work after being absent because of illness or injury, and within 15 consecutive scheduled days of work again become unable to work because of the same illness or injury are considered to still be within the original Short Term Plan period as defined in Section 1.2(a).

(b) Employees who return to work after being absent because of illness or injury and within 15 consecutive scheduled workdays again become unable to work because of a new illness or injury unrelated to the illness or injury that caused the previous absence shall be entitled to a further six months of benefits under this plan.

(c) Employees who return to work after being absent because of illness or injury, and after working 15 or more consecutive scheduled days of work, again become unable to work because of the same illness or injury will be entitled to a further six month period of benefits under this plan, except as provided in (d) below, where the Short Term Plan period shall continue to be as defined in Section 1.2(a).

(d) Where an employee is returning to work after a period of illness or injury and where the Rehabilitation Committee has approved such return on a trial basis for assessment and/or rehabilitation purposes, the Short Term Plan period shall continue to be as defined in Section 1.2(a). Such trial period must be approved during the period the employee is receiving short term benefits, however, the end of the trial period can go beyond the Short Term Plan benefit period.

(e) Employees who return to work after a period of illness or injury and who do not work the same number of hours that were scheduled prior to the illness or injury shall receive pro-rated benefits under this plan, however, not beyond six calendar months from the initial date of absence as defined in Section 1.2(a), if absence is due to the same illness or injury.

1.4 Doctor's Certificate of Inability to Work

The Employer may require an employee who is unable to work because of illness or injury to provide a statement from:

(a) a medical practitioner qualified to practice in the province of BC; or

(b) where necessary, from a medical practitioner licensed to practice in the province of Alberta or the Yukon; or

(c) the consulting physician to whom the employee is referred by the medical practitioner in (a) or (b) above, providing medical evidence of the employee's inability to work in any of the following circumstances:

(1) where it appears that a pattern of consistent or frequent absence from work is developing;

(2) where the employee has been absent for six consecutive scheduled days of work;

(3) where at least 30 days have elapsed since the last statement was obtained and the employee has been in receipt of plan benefits throughout that period.

With the exception of the STO2 and doctor's certificates referenced above, where the Employer requires a medical assessment from the employee's physician specifying the employee's employment limitations and/or capabilities, the employee will be reimbursed, upon production of receipt, for 50% of the cost of the medical assessment.

Benefits will cease to be paid when an employee fails to provide satisfactory evidence of medical disability during the benefit period.

1.5 Integration With Other Disability Income

Short term benefits will be reduced by all other disability income benefits to which the absent employee is entitled except disability income which was being received prior to the illness or injury resulting in the employee being absent from work and which is unrelated to the illness or injury causing the current absence and the ¼ day accumulation that is being used to supplement the plan, pursuant to Section 1.2(b). Other disability income benefits will include:

(a) any amount the absent employee receives from any group insurance, wage continuation or pension plan of the Employer;

(b) any amount of disability income provided by any compulsory act or law, except employment insurance sickness benefits and WCB benefits payable in accordance with Section 1.1(d);

(c) any periodic benefit payment from the Canada or Quebec Pension Plan or other social security plan of any country.

Notwithstanding the above, in the case of ICBC Weekly Indemnity payments or, in the case of personal insurance coverage integration will apply to the extent that the combination of Plan benefits and ICBC Weekly Indemnity payments, or personal insurance disability income benefits exceed either:

(1) 100% of pay; or

(2) the applicable benefit percentage of the individual's average total monthly income in the 12-month period immediately preceding commencement of the disability, whichever is the greater. Where this provision is to apply, the employee will be required to provide satisfactory evidence of their total monthly income.

Notwithstanding the above, where an employee makes a successful wage loss claim against a third party for an injury for which the employee received or would receive STIIP benefits, the Employer will be entitled to recover or decrease Plan benefits by an amount equal to the amount that Plan benefits in combination with the wage loss claim paid exceed 100% of pay.

This section does not apply to a war disability pension paid under an Act of the Governments of Canada or other Commonwealth countries.

1.6 Benefits Not Paid During Certain Periods

Benefits will not be paid when an employee is:

(a) receiving designated paid holiday pay;

(b) engaged in an occupation for wage or profit;

(c) on strike or is locked out unless the strike or lockout occurred after the illness or injury resulting in the employee being absent from work;

(d) serving a prison sentence;

(e) on suspension without pay;

(f) on paid absence in the period immediately preceding retirement;

(g) on any leave of absence without pay.

Notwithstanding (g) above, where an illness or injury occurs during a period of approved:

(1) educational leave;
(2) general leave of absence not exceeding 30 days;
(3) maternity leave, parental leave, or adoption leave

which prevents the employee from returning to work on the scheduled date of return, the Short Term Plan will be effective from the date of disability due to illness or injury and benefits will be paid for the balance of the six-month period remaining from the scheduled date of return to work.

(h) not actively engaged in a treatment program where the employee's physician determines it to be appropriate to be involved in such a program. An employee shall be afforded the opportunity to demonstrate there were reasonable grounds for not being engaged in a treatment program.

1.7 Employee to Inform Employer

The employee shall inform the Employer as soon as possible of their inability to report to work because of illness or injury. The employee shall inform the Employer of the date of return to duty, in advance of that date, in order that relief scheduled for that employee can be notified.

1.8 Entitlement

For the purpose of calculating six days per calendar year, one day shall be considered to be one day regardless of the regularly scheduled workday. Calculation for part-time employees and partial days will be on a pro-rated basis.

1.9 EIC Premium

The parties agree that the complete premium reduction from Human Resources Development Canada Insurance Commission accruing through the improved illness and injury plan will be returned to the Employer.

1.10 Benefits Upon Layoff or Separation

(a) Subject to (b) and (c) below, regular employees who have completed three months of service and who are receiving benefits pursuant to Section 1.1(c), 1.1(d), or 1.2 shall continue to receive such benefits upon layoff or separation until the termination of the illness or until the maximum benefit entitlement has been granted, whichever comes first, if the notice of layoff or separation is given after the commencement of the illness for which the benefits are being paid.

(b) In the event that layoff or separation notice was given prior to the commencement of the illness, benefits will cease on the effective date of the layoff or separation only if the illness commenced within two months of the effective date of the layoff or separation.

(c) Benefits will continue to be paid in accordance with (a) above for which notice of layoff or separation was given prior to the commencement of the illness and if the illness commenced more than two months before the effective date of the layoff or separation.

The maximum six-month period identified in Appendix 4, Part 1 shall be a maximum seven-month period for auxiliary employees who qualify for benefits pursuant to Master Agreement 31.12.

Part II - Long Term Disability Plan

2.1 Eligibility

(a) (1) Regular full-time employees shall be covered by the Long Term Disability Plan upon completion of six months active employment with the Employer. To be covered by the Plan, a regular part-time employee must be working in a position that requires at least half-time work on a regularly scheduled basis, and must have completed six months active service in such a position.

(2) Where an employee is converted from auxiliary to regular status, plan coverage shall commence the earlier of (a)(1) above, or upon the completion of six months of full-time, unbroken employment from the date the employee qualified for Short Term Illness and Injury Plan benefits under Clause 31.12.

(b) An employee who is not actively at work because of illness or injury on the workday coincident with, or immediately preceding, the date they would otherwise have become eligible for coverage under the Plan will not be eligible for coverage until the date the employee returns to active employment.

(c) Coverage in the plan is a condition of employment.

2.2 Long Term Disability Benefit

In the event an employee, while covered under this plan, becomes totally disabled as a result of an accident or a sickness, then, after the employee has been totally disabled for six months, including periods approved in Sections 1.3(a) and (c), they shall be eligible to receive a monthly benefit as follows:

(a) While the employee has a sick bank balance to be used on a day-for-day basis, full monthly earnings will continue until the sick bank is exhausted, and Section 2.6 will not apply.

(b) When an employee has no sick bank, or after it is exhausted, the employee shall receive a monthly benefit equal to the sum of:

(1) 70% of the first $2,300.00 of monthly earnings; and

(2) 50% of the monthly earnings above $2,300.00.

For the purposes of the above, earnings shall mean basic monthly earnings as at the date of disability as determined by the Employer.

The basic monthly earnings as at the date of disability shall be the salary in effect for the last month of the Short Term Plan period, or equivalent six-month period, taking into consideration any retroactive adjustments. The date of disability for determining the commencement of the first 25 months of disability shall be the day following the last month of the Short Term Plan period, or an equivalent six-month period.

(c) The Long Term Disability benefit payment will be made as long as an employee remains totally disabled in accordance with Section 2.3, and will cease on the date the employee recovers, or at the end of the month in which the employee reaches age 65, or resigns or dies, whichever occurs first.

(d) An employee in receipt of long term disability benefits will be considered an employee for pension benefits and will continue to be covered by group life, extended health, dental and medical plans. Employees will not be covered by any other portion of a collective agreement but will retain the right of access to a rehabilitation committee established thereunder and will retain seniority rights should they return to employment within nine months following cessation of benefits. A temporary assignment or auxiliary appointment will not disqualify an employee from the nine month access period.

(e) When an employee is in receipt of the benefit described in (b) above, contributions required for benefit plans in (d) above and contributions for pension benefits will be waived by the Employer.

(f) An employee engaged in rehabilitative employment with the Employer and who is receiving partial Long Term Disability benefit payments will have contributions required for benefit plans in (d) above and contributions for pension benefits waived by the Employer, except that pension benefit contributions shall be deducted from any salary received from the Employer to cover the period of rehabilitative employment.

2.3 Total Disability

(a) Total disability, as used in this plan, means the complete inability because of an accident or sickness of a covered employee to perform all the duties of their own occupation for the first 25 months of disability except where accommodation has been made which enables an employee to work:

(1) in their own occupation, or

(2) in a job other than their own occupation.

Where accommodation has been made which enables an employee to return to work they will not be considered totally disabled and the rate of pay shall be the rate for the job.

If the rate of pay for this job is less than the rate of pay of the employee at the date of disability, the employee's salary will be protected in accordance with Clause 27.7(a) at the employee's basic rate at the date of disability.

After the first 25 months of total disability, where accommodation has been made that enables an employee to return to a job other than their own occupation, the employee will not be considered totally disabled and their basic rate shall be the basic rate for the job or 75% of the basic rate of their own occupation, whichever is greater.

After the first 25 months of total disability, employees able by reason of education, training or experience to perform the duties of a gainful occupation for which the rate of pay is not less than 75% of the current rate of pay of their regular occupation at date of disability will not be considered totally disabled and will therefore not be eligible for benefits under this Long Term Disability Plan.

(b) Total disabilities resulting from mental or nervous disorders are covered by the Plan in the same manner as total disabilities resulting from accidents or other sicknesses, except that an employee who is totally disabled as a result of a mental or nervous disorder and who has received 25 months of Long Term Disability Plan benefit payments must be confined to a hospital or mental institution, or where they are at home, under the direct care and supervision of a medical doctor, in order to continue to be eligible for benefit payments.

During a period of total disability an employee must be under the regular and personal care of a legally qualified doctor of medicine.

(c) (1) If an employee becomes totally disabled and during this period of total disability engages in rehabilitative employment, where they are unable to perform the principle duties of their previous classification, the employee may earn in combination with benefits from this plan up to 100% of their earnings at the date of disability. In the event that income from rehabilitative employment and the benefit paid under this plan exceed 100% of the employee's earnings at date of disability, the benefit from this plan will be further reduced by the excess amount.

(2) If an employee is able to perform the principle duties of the position they are placed into on rehabilitative employment, the employee may earn, in combination with benefits from this plan, up to 100% of their earnings at the date of disability or the position's current rate of pay, whichever is greater.

"Rehabilitative employment" shall mean any occupation or employment for wage or profit or any course or training that entitles the disabled employee to an allowance, provided such rehabilitative employment has the approval of the employee's doctor and the Employer.

The rehabilitative employment of a disabled employee will continue until such time as the employee's earnings from rehabilitative employment reach 100% of the employee's earnings at the date of disability but in no event for more than 25 months from the date benefit payments commence.

If earnings are received by an employee during a period of total disability and if such earnings are derived from employment which has not been approved of as rehabilitative employment by their doctor and the Employer, then the regular monthly benefit from the Plan will be reduced by 100% of such earnings.

(3) In the event that an employee has been classified as totally disabled for all occupations and engages in approved rehabilitative employment, the provisions of (1) and (2) above apply except that the rehabilitative employment may continue for 25 months from the date rehabilitative employment commenced.

(4) In the case where rehabilitative employment has been approved while an employee is receiving a benefit under the provisions of Section 2.2(a), the provisions of Section 2.3(c)(1) shall not apply until the employee is receiving a benefit under Section 2.2(b).

2.4 Exclusions from Coverage

The Long Term Disability Plan does not cover total disabilities resulting from:

(a) war, insurrection, rebellion, or service in the Armed Forces of any country after the commencement of this plan;

(b) voluntary participation in a riot or civil commotion except while an employee is in the course of performing the duties of their regular occupation;

(c) intentionally self-inflicted injuries or illness.

2.5 Pre-existing Conditions

An employee shall not be entitled to Long Term Disability benefits from this plan if their total disability resulted from an accident, sickness or mental or nervous disorder with respect to which medical treatment, services or supplies were received in the 90-day period prior to the date of hire unless they have completed 12 consecutive months of service after the date of hire during which time they have not been absent from work due to the aforementioned accident, sickness or mental or nervous disorder with respect to which medical treatment, services or supplies were received. This clause does not apply to present employees who have been continuously employed since April 1, 1987.

2.6 Integration With Other Disability Income

In the event a totally disabled employee is entitled to any other income as a result of the same accident, sickness, mental or nervous disorder that caused them to be eligible to receive benefits from this plan, the benefits from this plan will be reduced by 100% of such other disability income.

Other disability income shall include, but not necessarily be limited to:

(a) any amount payable under the Workers Compensation Act or Law or any other legislation of similar purpose; and

(b) any amount the disabled employee receives from any group insurance, wage continuation or pension plan of the Employer that provides disability or retirement income; and

(c) any amount of disability income provided by any compulsory act or law; and

(d) any periodic primary benefit payment from the Canada or Quebec Pension Plans or other similar social security plan of any country to which the disabled employee is entitled or to which they would be entitled if their application for such a benefit were approved; and

(e) any amount of disability income provided by any group or association disability plan to which the disabled employee might belong or subscribe.

The amount by which the disability benefit from this plan is reduced by other disability income will normally be the amount to which the disabled employee is entitled upon becoming first eligible for such other disability income. Future increases in such other disability income resulting from increases in the Canadian Consumer Price Index or similar indexing arrangements will not further reduce the benefit from this plan.

Notwithstanding the above, in the case of ICBC Weekly Indemnity payments or, in the case of personal insurance coverage, integration will apply to the extent that the combination of Plan benefits and ICBC Weekly Indemnity payments or, personal insurance disability income benefits exceed either:

(1) 100% of basic pay; or

(2) the applicable benefit percentage of the individual average total monthly income in the 12-month period immediately preceding commencement of the disability, whichever is the greater. Where this provision is to apply the employee will be required to provide satisfactory evidence of their total monthly income.

Notwithstanding the above, where an employee makes a successful wage loss claim against a third party for an injury for which the employee received or would receive LTD benefits, the Employer will be entitled to recover or decrease Plan benefits by an amount equal to the amount that Plan benefits in combination with the wage loss claim paid exceed 100% of pay subject to the following:

(1) The amount of plan benefit recovered or decreased will be reduced limited to the legal fees attributed to the Employer's share of total claim recovery.

(2) The existence of an action commenced by or on behalf of an employee does not preclude the Employer from joining the employee's action or commencing an action on its own behalf respecting the benefits paid.

(3) Where the Employer or the employee intends to commence or join such an action, they shall advise the other in writing of that intention.

This section does not apply to a war disability pension paid under an Act of the Governments of Canada or other Commonwealth countries.

2.7 Successive Disabilities

(a) If, following a period of total disability with respect to which benefits are paid from this plan, an employee returns to work on a full-time basis for a continuous period of six months or more, any subsequent total disability suffered by that employee, whether related to the preceding disability or not, shall be considered a new disability and the disabled employee shall be entitled to benefit payments in accordance with the provisions of this plan.

(b) In the event the period during which such an employee has returned to work is less than six months and the employee again suffers a total disability and that is related to the preceding disability, the subsequent disability shall be deemed a continuation of the preceding disability, and the disabled employee shall be entitled to benefit payments in accordance with the provisions of this plan as though they had not returned to work.

(c) Should such an employee suffer a subsequent disability that is unrelated to the previous disability and, provided the period during which the employee returned to work is longer than one month, the subsequent disability shall be considered a new disability and the employee shall be entitled to benefit payments in accordance with the provisions of this plan. If the period during which the employee returned to work is one month or less, the subsequent disability shall be deemed a continuation of the preceding disability and the disabled employee shall be entitled to benefit payments in accordance with the provisions of this plan.

(d) Limitation of benefits for successive disabilities in (b) and (c) above must be determined within one year from the date of absence due to successive disability.

2.8 Cessation of Benefits

An employee shall cease to be eligible for benefits of this plan at the earliest of the following dates:

(a) at the end of the month in which the employee reaches their 65th birthday (60th birthday for correctional centre employees);

(b) on the date of commencement of paid absence prior to retirement;

(c) on the date of termination of employment with the Employer.

Benefits will not be paid when an employee is serving a prison sentence.

Cessation of active employment as a regular employee shall be considered termination of employment except when an employee is on authorized leave of absence with or without pay.

2.9 Leave of Absence

Employees on leave of absence without pay may opt to retain coverage under the plan and shall pay the full premium, except when on approved Maternity Leave. Coverage will be permitted for a period of 18 months of absence without pay except that if the leave is for educational purposes the maximum period will be extended to two years. If an employee on leave of absence without pay or with partial pay, who has elected coverage under this plan, becomes disabled, benefits under this plan will be based upon monthly earnings immediately prior to the current leave of absence.

2.10 Benefits Upon Plan Termination

In the event this Long Term Disability Plan is terminated, the benefit payments shall continue to be paid in accordance with the provisions of this plan to disabled employees who became disabled while covered by this plan prior to its termination.

2.11 Contributions

The cost of this plan will be borne by the Employer.

2.12 Waiver of Contributions

Employee contributions to this plan shall be waived with respect to disabled employees during the time such an employee is in receipt of disability benefit payments from this plan.

2.13 Claims

(a) Long Term Disability claims will be adjudicated and paid by a claims-paying agent to be appointed by the Employer. In the event a covered employee disputes the decision of the claims-paying agent regarding a claim for benefits under this plan, the employee may arrange to have their claim reviewed by a claims review committee composed of three medical doctors; one designated by the claimant, one by the Employer, and a third agreed to by the first two. Written notice of a disputed claim or an appeal under this plan shall be sent to the Plan Administrator.

(b) (1) Written notice of an appeal must be submitted to the Plan Administrator within 60 days from the date the claims-paying agent rejected the claim. Due to extenuating circumstances, the time frame may be extended by the Plan Administrator.

(2) Where the claims-paying agent denies benefits due to insufficient medical evidence being provided, an employee will have 60 days in which to provide satisfactory medical evidence to support their claim.

In such circumstances the 60-day appeal period in (1) above will not commence until the claims paying agent renders its decision based on the medical evidence provided.

Where the employee fails to provide further satisfactory medical evidence within the 60-day period, the claim will be deemed to have been denied and the appeal period in (1) above shall commence.

(c) The expenses incurred by a claims review committee will be paid by the Plan.

(d) Where an employee has disputed the decision of the claims-paying agent and is awaiting the outcome of a review or an appeal, the employee will be considered to be on leave of absence without pay during the portion of the waiting period when they are not receiving pay or benefit allowance. During the waiting period an employee will continue to be covered by group life, extended health, dental and medical plans.

(e) LTD benefits received will be reduced by the same amount of benefits received for the same period under the Employment and Assistance Act and/or the Employment and Assistance for Persons with Disabilities Act (referenced in this section as the "Acts"), except where the benefits received for that period under these Acts are repaid to government. Where the employee has been deemed eligible for benefits under these Acts, which benefits exceed the LTD benefits level, LTD benefits will not be subject to reduction for that additional amount.

2.14 Physical Examination

The Employer, at its own expense, shall have the right and be given the opportunity to have a medical doctor appointed by the Employer examine, as often as it may reasonably require, any employee whose injury, sickness, mental or nervous disorder is the basis of claim upon this plan.

2.15 Canadian Currency

All monies payable to or from this plan shall be payable in Canada in Canadian currency.

2.16 Administration

The Employer will be the administrator of the Plan. All questions arising as to the interpretation of this plan shall be subject to the grievance and arbitration procedures in Articles 8 and 9 of the Master Agreement.

2.17 Implementation by Regulation

The provisions of this plan shall become part of a memorandum of agreement between the parties and will be implemented by regulation.

2.18 Benefit Level

Persons receiving benefits shall receive the same increases to their benefit level as do the employees covered by the terms and conditions of this collective agreement receive in wage increases.

Part III - Rehabilitation

Rehabilitation Committee

(1) It is the intent of both parties to encourage and facilitate the early return to gainful employment of employees who have been ill or injured. To this end, a rehabilitation committee will be established as follows:

(a) The Committee shall consist of five members, two appointed by the Employer, two appointed by the Union and a mutually agreed upon chairperson. A secretary shall be appointed to assist in the administration of the Committee.

(b) The Committee shall review cases of regular employees who have completed their initial probationary period and are no longer capable of performing the duties of their own occupation due to illness or injury. Such employees shall make application for rehabilitation pursuant to Appendix 4, Part III—Rehabilitation.

(c) The Committee shall also review cases of all employees who have become incapacitated through industrial injury or illness. Following the review of such cases the Committee, taking into account the best interests of the employee and the Employer, shall make recommendations to the Head of the BC Public Service Agency.

(d) The Committee shall also review cases of regular employees who have completed their initial probationary period who request a transfer on compassionate grounds. Following the review of such cases, the Committee, taking into account the best interests of the employee and the Employer, shall make recommendations to the Head of the BC Public Service Agency.

(e) Where the Committee is unable to decide upon recommendations for a particular case, the matter shall be referred to the Bargaining Principals for final disposition.

(f) The Rehabilitation Committee shall meet not less than once a month during working hours, and leave without loss of pay shall be granted to committee members. Minutes of all meetings shall be taken by the secretary and copies shall be provided to the Employer and the Union.

(g) Members of the Committee are committed to maintain confidentiality of medical and other information received in their capacity as committee members.

(2) In the event that a regular employee becomes incapacitated through accident or sickness and they are unable to perform all the duties of their own occupation, the following shall apply:

(a) For the purpose of this section, incapacity shall mean where the employee is unable to perform all the duties of their own occupation as defined in Section 2.3(a) of the Long Term Disability Plan.

(b) Where the employee meets the definition in (a) above, the Employer shall provide the employee with an application for alternative suitable employment (P7). An employee who fails to:

(1) sign the application form;

(2) make themselves reasonably available and co-operate with a reasonable rehabilitation/return to work process consistent with Rehabilitation Committee Principles;

(3) actively engage in a treatment program where the employee's physician determines it to be appropriate to be involved in such a program shall have benefits suspended.

Prior to having benefits suspended, an employee shall be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that there were reasonable grounds for failing to meet the above obligations.

(c) The application shall be completed and returned to the ministry who shall within 10 workdays forward the application to the secretary. The Committee members shall be provided with copies of the application.

(d) The Rehabilitation Committee will, based on the information, coordinate the necessary medical and/or vocational assessments and determine the following:

(1) if the application is properly before the Committee;

(2) based on the assessment, determine whether the employee is immediately capable of performing modified, alternative or rehabilitative employment;

(3) if no to (2) above the Committee may, based on the assessments, implement the necessary training to place the employee in alternative or rehabilitative employment;

(4) In considering modified, alternative or rehabilitative employment, the Committee may provide advice and make recommendations to the ministry to return the incapacitated employee to work considering the following accommodations:

(i) modification of the duties of the employee's job;
(ii) flexibility in scheduling hours of work within existing hours of operation;
(iii) provision of technical or mechanical aids.

(5) where the employee is considered capable of performing alternative employment or once the rehabilitative employment is considered to be successful, and the employee is therefore able to perform the duties of a gainful occupation, they shall be subject to Article 13 — Layoff and Recall of the Master Agreement excluding displacement options pursuant to Clauses 13.3 and 13.4(c)(2).

(e) (1) An employee in receipt of STIIP benefits, whose prognosis for return to work exceeds eight weeks, may be referred to the Rehabilitation Committee if the Occupational Health and Rehabilitation determines it is medically appropriate to do so.

(2) In those cases where a return to their own occupation is unlikely, employees may be referred, by either party to the Rehabilitation Committee while on STIIP. In such cases, Part III (2)(c), and (d) will apply.

(f) Where an employee has a physical occupational illness or injury, the ministry will, where feasible, accommodate the employee's incapacity so as to avoid a time loss illness or injury. Where a time loss illness or injury occurs, the compensation payable shall be in accordance with the applicable terms of Appendix 4.

(g) Where the ministry has concerns with a recommendation made in accordance with (d)(4) above, the concern will be reviewed with the Rehabilitation Committee.

INFORMATION APPENDIX I

Re: Advance Payment of Group Life Benefits

The guidelines regarding payment of group life benefits for terminally ill employees pursuant to Clause 25.2 are as follows:

1. Death must be "expected" within 24 months. The employee's attending physician will be required to provide sufficient medical information, including the employee's diagnosis and prognosis, to allow the group life insurance carrier to assess the life expectancy.

2. Requests for advance payments must be in writing.

3. Authorization from the Employer must be submitted with the employee's request.

4. The amount of the payment will be 50% of the life insurance coverage, subject to a maximum of $50,000.

5. A signed release will be obtained from the insured employee prior to payment being made. A release is not required from designated revocable beneficiaries as they have no legal rights to life insurance proceeds until after the insured's death. Situations involving irrevocable beneficiaries or divorce judgments will require special releases.

INFORMATION APPENDIX II

Re: Flexible Work Arrangements Policy Directive 6.1

1. PURPOSE

The objective of this policy is to provide parameters and guidance regarding flexible working arrangements, specifically telework and job sharing. Additional flexible work arrangements such as flextime, modified workweek and deferred salary leave are available as detailed in relevant guidelines and collective agreements.

2. GOAL

This policy supports the BC Public Service's goal of a flexible and motivating work environment.

3. APPLICATION AND SCOPE

This policy applies to regular employees covered by the Public Service Act.

4. PRINCIPLES

The government is committed to flexible work arrangements that are advantageous to both the Employer and employees. It supports collaborative and participative processes that encourage flexibility, innovation, work/life balance and the enhancement of productivity and organizational success.

5. MANDATORY REQUIREMENTS

5.1 General

Flexible work arrangements are not appropriate for all regular employees. They are neither an obligation nor a right. Participation in flexible work arrangements is voluntary and is not a condition of employment.

5.2 Telework

Telework is a working arrangement where employees work away from their official workplace for a portion of their regular workweek. Either the employee or the Employer may initiate flexible work arrangements. Telework arrangements usually involve employees working at their homes, but the employee's point of assembly, headquarters or geographic location continues to be the official workplace, regardless of where they may work on a particular day.

Telework Arrangements

Prior to approving a telework agreement, managers are to:

- determine that the telework arrangement will meet the provisions of this policy and relevant collective agreements (if applicable);

- establish that teleworking is operationally feasible and it makes sense, from an operational perspective, to have the work done at the teleworkplace;
- ensure that services and/or productivity are maintained or improved;
- determine that no additional net costs will be generated and upfront costs can be recouped over a reasonable period;
- establish that the teleworkplace meets all requirements of WCB Industrial Health and Safety Regulations; and,
- include an inventory of all ministry assets provided by the Employer and ensure it is updated as required. Telework equipment, supplies and furniture remain the property of the Employer and must be returned if the telework arrangement or employment is terminated.

On entering into a telework agreement, employees will agree to:

- maintain the teleworkplace (such as homeowner or tenant insurance, heat and hydro);
- provide dedicated office space for use during teleworking days and maintain the office space in a clean, professional and safe condition;
- allow joint teleworkplace visits by ministry personnel and union representatives (including local occupational health and safety committee members), upon reasonable notice;
- secure and protect the property, documents and information belonging to the Employer. Employees will not be liable for loss or damage to such property or information except where the employee has failed to take reasonable precautions to secure it, or where the loss or damage is the result of a wilful act by the employee or a member of their family;
- follow safe work practises and ensure prompt notification to appropriate ministry personnel of any job related accidents that occur at the teleworkplace; and,
- ensure that any meetings with clients are not held in the employee's teleworkplace.

5.3 Job Sharing

Job Share is an arrangement between two employees (partners) who perform the duties of a position previously performed by one full-time employee. Job Share situations are not promotional opportunities; therefore half of a job share cannot be posted or advertised as a promotional opportunity.

Partners in a job share proposal must both be qualified for the position and at the same level, or a higher classification than the position to be shared. The partners are appointed to and paid at the classification level of the shared position.

Job Share arrangements are at the discretion of the excluded manager responsible for the position. Job Share arrangements can be considered where one of the partners proposing the job share already occupies the full-time position under consideration, or where two partners propose to share a vacant position that is at a classification level that is the same or lower than the partners' current positions.

Job Share arrangements may be approved on a trial basis for a three month period to enable all the parties to assess whether the job share arrangement is suitable.

Initiation of Job Share Arrangements

Job Sharing proposals must be submitted in writing to the excluded manager for approval and must include the following:

- identification of the partners and the position to be shared, including classification levels;
- a written statement signed by both partners requesting part-time employment to job share as outlined in the proposal;

- information on the qualifications and experience of the proposed partners;
- a description of how job duties and responsibilities will be shared and workload priorities determined on an on-going basis;
- a proposal on how extended absences may be covered;
- details on arrangements to communicate necessary information to each other, clients, colleagues and the supervisor; and
- preferred start date and work schedules (subject to relevant collective agreements, if applicable).

If approved, the job share proposal is confirmed in writing and becomes the job share agreement. The job sharing partners are then appointed as part-time employees and are subject to the applicable policies (eg., Recruitment, Selection and Appointment, Lateral Transfer and Demotion). Benefits are in accordance with those approved for part-time employees. Most benefits are pro-rated based on the number of hours the partner works; some benefits are paid in full to both partners.

The appointment letter should address the terms and conditions of employment and the agreed to terms of the job share arrangement. If the ministry intends to increase either partner's hours of work due to operational requirements or as the result of the extended absence of the other partner, it must be stated in the appointment letter.

Acceptance of the appointment must be in writing.

Changes to Job Share Arrangements

Changes to job share arrangements may be initiated by either the Employer or the employee. All changes must be in writing and approved by the responsible excluded manager.

If the appointment letter states that the employee's hours may be increased, this is not meant to be a permanent change in hours unless requested by the employee and approved by the excluded manager, nor is it meant to limit the excluded manager's responsibility to determine how operational requirements will be met on each occasion. Partners will give as much notice as possible of an extended absence or change to a job share arrangement so the supervisor can give adequate notice before increasing a partner's hours of work.

Termination of Job Share Arrangements

The job share arrangement may be terminated, in writing, by either the Employer or the employee.

The Employer may terminate a job sharing arrangement for bona fide operational reasons.

If the Employer terminates the job sharing agreement:

- it is the Employer's responsibility to find part-time work for employees who do not wish regular full-time work. This may include a new job share arrangement if there is a suitable vacant position and the supervisor/manager of that position agrees.

If either partner terminates the job share arrangement:

- the remaining partner may request to fill the position full-time;
- the remaining partner may find another job share partner (through solicitation of interest or the Job Share Registry) and develop a new job share proposal for approval by the excluded manager;
- the excluded manager has the option of creating two part-time positions and posting one of them (half a job share cannot be posted as a promotional opportunity). In this case, the manager would not have the ability to increase the remaining part-time employee's hours to cover extended absences without the employee's agreement; and,
- the Employer will endeavour to find a suitable position for the remaining job sharing partner; however; the onus is on the remaining employee to find alternative employment.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #1
Re: Employment Security

1. During the term of this memorandum of understanding the Employer agrees not to exercise its right to cause a layoff which results in the cessation of employment for an employee in the Public Service Bargaining Unit who has regular status as of April 1, 2010.

2. This memorandum does not apply to regular employees who are normally subject to layoff because of business cycle or seasonal work.

3. In order for the Employer to satisfy the provision of point 1 above, the Union recognizes that workforce adjustment activity will be necessary whether due to reorganization, program termination, relocation, closures, etc.

4. JWASC will coordinate such workforce adjustment activity in accordance with its mandate as outlined in Clause 13.2.

5. In order to facilitate the Employer's commitment and workforce adjustment measures necessary as a result of this commitment, it is agreed that, following the application of Phase 1 (Clause 13.1):

- A regular employee with less than three years service seniority who refuses one reasonable offer of continued employment will be deemed to have resigned.

- A regular employee with three or more years service seniority who refuses an offer of continued employment at the same classification level and same geographic location will be deemed to have resigned.

- A regular employee with three or more years service seniority who refuses one offer of continued employment in a different classification (with the same maximum salary) in the same geographic location, will be deemed to have resigned with applicable severance pay.

- A regular employee with three or more years service seniority who refuses two job offers in a different geographic location or with a comparable pay range will be deemed to have resigned with applicable severance pay.

6. The determination of employees to be subject to workforce adjustment will be consistent with the seniority provisions of Article 13.

7. Greater than three year regulars are entitled to displace less than three year regulars pursuant to Article 13. Employees who do not immediately exercise their option to displace will not be covered by the security provisions of this memorandum and Clause 13.4 shall apply. Less than three year regulars are entitled to the auxiliary recall option in lieu of a reasonable offer of continued employment.

8. Regular employees with more than three years service seniority who are placed pursuant to this memorandum shall have their salary protected pursuant to Clause 27.7 of the Master Agreement.

9. The Chairperson of the Article 13 Joint Committee shall, at the request of either party, sit as an arbitrator over all disputes pertaining to the application or interpretation of this memorandum of understanding after the parties have reviewed and attempted to resolve the dispute.

10. The provisions of Article 13 shall be subject to the provisions of this memorandum of understanding.

11. This memorandum remains in force and effect for the term of the 15th Master Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #2
Re: The Authority of the Article 13 Joint Committee

The structure of the layoff and recall/employment security provisions of the Master Agreement are such that those regular employees with three or more years of service seniority have stronger security than regular employees with less than three years seniority. Likewise, all regular employees have stronger security than auxiliary employees.

Consistent with the above, the parties acknowledge that the Article 13 Joint Committee may need to exercise its discretion as provided for in Clause 13.5(c) in order to maintain the employment of regular employees over auxiliary employees, including regulars with less than three years seniority.

This letter will be effective from the date of ratification until the expiration of the 15th Master Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #3
Re: Board and Lodging and Relocation Expenses

Definitions

For the purpose of these regulations:

"stationary employees" are employees who occupy positions that require them to:

(a) carry out their duties on a day-to-day basis at their headquarters; and/or

(b) travel from their headquarters for short periods of time; and/or

(c) travel from their headquarters more or less on a continuous basis, but whose assignments are of sufficiently short duration so that temporary headquarters cannot be practically assigned;

"mobile employees" are those that occupy positions requiring assignment to a "temporary" headquarters for a significant period of time for each specific project and who are required to carry out their duties on a day-to-day basis from their assigned temporary headquarters; these employees are usually required to change their temporary headquarters on a continual basis and would not be domiciled at a permanent headquarters;

"field status employees" are those who are normally required to work away from their point of assembly and who, on a day-to-day basis, do not work in an office, institution, plant, or other similar fixed location which is their normal point of assembly;

"seasonal field employees" are those employees who occupy positions which permit them to be normally domiciled at their permanent headquarters but who are assigned field duties on a seasonal basis, returning to their permanent headquarters when not working in the field;

"permanent camp" is a camp which will be established and occupied continuously for more than one year;

"seasonal camp" is a camp that will be established and occupied less than five months and is usually comprised of tents and, where feasible, trailers;

"fly or sub-base camp" is a camp that will be established and occupied on a very temporary basis, is mobile in nature, and is generally isolated with very restricted access;

"local hire" is a person who is hired or is domiciled within 80 kilometers of the job site by means of the shortest road route;

"travel status" with respect to an employee means absence of the employee from the employee's designated headquarters or geographic location on government business with the approval of the Employer, but travel status does not apply to employees temporarily assigned to a position outside of the designated headquarters or to field status employees;

"headquarters or geographic location" is that area within a radius of 32 kilometers where employees ordinarily perform their duties. When employees are relocated, the headquarters area may be redefined where exceptional circumstances such as unusual road conditions exist;

"dependents" for the purpose of definition, dependents are spouse, dependent children and anyone for whom the employee claims exemption on Federal Income Tax returns;

"private dwelling house" refers to the single family residence of the employee on a reasonable amount of property required to support such a house, owned by the employee and/or the spouse, and for which evidence of title can be provided. "House", "residence" and "property" refer solely to the property occupied as the principal residence of the employee at the time of relocation, including mobile homes.

"reasonable amount of property" where an employee elects to purchase a dwelling house on a piece of property that would not be considered a "reasonable amount" (ie., hobby farm, etc.), the following formula shall be used to determine the value of the private dwelling house for legal fee reimbursement purposes:

(a) value of an average serviced lot in or close to the nearest town;
(b) assessed value of actual house on site;
(c) total added value in (a) and (b).

Part I - Board and Lodging Regulations

1.1 Board and Lodging Allowances

(a) Local Hire:

No board and lodging will be supplied or no living allowance will be paid to persons hired locally for a project. Should such persons be transferred to another project where the distance involved requires the persons to reside away from their original point of domicile, then board and lodging allowances will apply.

(b) Employees at Their Headquarters:

No board and lodging will be supplied, or living allowance or meals and/or accommodation paid to employees while at their permanent place of residence or to "stationary" or "seasonal field" employees while at their permanent headquarters, except as specifically authorized by the Master Agreement or any component agreement.

(c) Travel Status:

The following class of employees, under the stated conditions, shall be entitled to the current meal allowance and accommodation reimbursement, or the current private accommodation allowance in lieu of accommodation reimbursement:

(1) "stationary" employees who are required to travel away from their permanent headquarters up to a maximum of 60 days at one location on a continuous basis;

(2) "mobile" employees who are required to travel away from their temporary headquarters, or, who are moving from one assigned temporary headquarters to another, and for a period up to 30 days at the beginning of each assignment to enable them to arrange suitable longer term accommodation;

(3) "seasonal field" employees who are required to travel away from their permanent headquarters up to a maximum of 60 days at one location on a continuous basis, or, who are required to travel away from their assigned temporary headquarters for short periods up to a maximum of 30 days at one location on a continuous basis, or, who are moving from one assigned temporary headquarters to another, for a period up to 30 days at the beginning of each assignment to enable them to arrange suitable longer term accommodation, or until the Employer makes other arrangements such as providing board and lodging using community services or camp facilities;

(4) Notwithstanding any provisions contained in (c)(1), (2), or (3) above, travel status will not apply where the Employer decides to provide for or supplies free board and lodging.

(d) Board and Lodging:

The following class of employees, when not on travel status, and under the conditions stated, shall be entitled to board and lodging supplied by the Employer in either employer-operated camps or by means of local community services:

(1) "stationary" employees assigned to a temporary headquarters;
(2) "mobile" employees assigned to a temporary headquarters;
(3) "seasonal field" employees assigned to a temporary headquarters.

(e) Per Diem Living Allowance:

The per diem living allowance is intended to cover only those living costs which are considered over and above normal for those employees whose positions require mobility or require that the employee live in the field thereby making it impractical to establish a relatively permanent residence or reside at their permanent residence.

(1) Where employees would otherwise be entitled to travel status under Subsection (c) or board and lodging supplied under (d) above, employees may elect a per diem living allowance in lieu of travel status or board and lodging supplied, in which case employees shall be responsible to find and pay for their own accommodation and make and pay for their own board arrangements; however, where the Employer establishes a camp, employees will be obligated to receive board and lodging using camp facilities at the Employer's option.

(2) The election of the per diem allowance by employees shall not result in greater transportation costs to the Employer than would have resulted if board and lodging was supplied by the Employer.

(3) Where employees are entitled, the per diem living allowance will be $35.50 per day for each calendar day in the month. This will be paid via the payroll (subject to income tax) one month in arrears to enable the pay offices to calculate the correct entitlement. This allowance will be paid for the periods employed on the job and will include days of rest, statutory and declared holidays, short term illness and injury absence, approved WCB leave with pay, other approved leave of absence with or without pay for periods up to five days. Without limiting or extending the provisions of this section, the per diem allowances will not be payable during the following periods:

(i) non-approved unpaid absences from the job including abutting weekends;

(ii) unpaid WCB leave and unpaid absence due to illness or injury in excess of five days, except that where such conditions occur and the employee remains at the job area, then board and lodgings will be supplied by the Employer, but not beyond the period of hire or 20 days, whichever is the lesser;

(iii) while on educational leave with or without pay;

(iv) termination pay for vacation and pre-retirement leave upon retirement;

(v) while employees are away from the job under Clause 13.3(b) and Clauses 13.5(a) to (f) of the Environmental, Technical and Operational Component Agreement, Clause 14.1 of the Administrative Services Component Agreement, and any similar clause under any of the other component agreements;

(vi) while employees are moving from one job site to another or from one headquarters to another and on travel status.

(4) Where employees have elected free board and lodging it is understood and agreed that 50% of the per diem living allowance will be payable where the Employer is unable to supply board but lodging is supplied.

(5) Where employees have elected the per diem allowance, it is understood and agreed that, in the following situations, 50% of the per diem allowance will be payable where the employee and the Employer mutually agree that it is necessary to retain employees' accommodation at designated headquarters, and in such cases the Employer's agreement shall not be unreasonably withheld:

(i) where employees are temporarily assigned away from designated headquarters and are on travel status or supplied with free board and lodging;

(ii) where employees are on annual holidays, banked holidays, or compensatory time off with pay; for the purposes of calculating the allowance, holiday, or compensatory time off will be considered to commence on the first working day off the job, and will end the day before the employee's return to work;

(iii) where employees are on leave with pay for union business;

(iv) where employees are in receipt of STIIP in excess of five consecutive days, on approved WCB leave with pay in excess of five consecutive days or on other approved leaves of absence with or without pay for periods in excess of five consecutive days.

Where the employee and Employer do not find it necessary to retain accommodation at the employee's headquarters under the circumstances outlined in this section, then no per diem allowance is payable.

(6) It is understood that the Employer will advise employees in advance as to what type of board and lodging facilities are or will be made available, and employees will advise in writing if requested, prior to final arrangements being made, whether or not they wish to accept board and lodging supplied or elect the per diem living allowance. The decision reached will remain in effect for the duration of the project, except that changes may be made by mutual agreement.

(7) Where employees have elected the per diem living allowance, it is understood and agreed that the Employer will be required to provide sufficient notice in writing of the termination date of the project to enable employees to avoid possible duplication of accommodation payments. In the event the project terminates earlier than the notice date given, employees shall be entitled, upon production of receipts, to any duplication accommodation costs incurred directly resulting from the insufficient notice. Where the project terminates later than the notice date given, employees shall be entitled, upon production of receipt, to any abnormal increase of costs in accommodation, or any duplication of accommodation costs, directly resulting from extending the termination date of the project. This would not include normal increases in rent that may be experienced during the extended period.

1.2 Moving of Trailers and Household Effects

It is understood and agreed that it is necessary for some "mobile", "seasonal field", and "stationary" employees to move from one assignment to another to carry out their normal duties. In these cases, the regular relocation expenses will not apply, instead, the Employer shall be responsible for arranging and paying for the moving of an employee's single wide mobile trailer or home up to the maximum width allowed on the highway with a permit, and one vehicle, and/or household effects.

1.3 Type of Accommodation

It is agreed and understood that where the Employer supplies lodging using community services whenever possible, the employee will be entitled to single accommodation, and the sharing of a room with other employees will not be required except under unusual circumstances, such as where sufficient accommodation is not available. Where employees are sharing accommodation with persons other than employees entitled to lodging, or where an employee chooses to use accommodation in excess of single accommodation, the employee will be responsible for all lodging costs in excess of the single accommodation rate.

1.4 Permanent Camp

Where a "stationary" employee's permanent headquarters is at a permanent camp, the employee will be required to pay for board and lodging supplied. The rate will be $230 per month or proportion thereof for a partial month. Where lodging only is supplied, the rate will be $70 per month or $2.35 per day. Where board only is supplied, the rate will be $156 per month, or $5.20 per day, or $1.75 per meal. This regulation, however, will not alter any existing arrangements whereby the employee bids on a posted competition with the proviso that free board and lodging would be supplied at the permanent headquarters.

Part II - Relocation Expenses

2.1 Policy

(a) Relocation expenses will apply:

(1) to regular employees and to auxiliary employees who qualify pursuant to Clause 31.2 who have to move from one headquarters or geographic location to another after completing their probation period and after winning an in-service competition where the position is permanently located at another headquarters or geographic location;

(2) to employees who have to move from one headquarters or geographic location to another at the Employer's request to fill a position which is permanently located at another headquarters or geographic location.

(b) Relocation expenses will not apply, but instead the applicable travelling, living and moving expenses provided under the Treasury Board Order on Board and Lodging will apply to the following groups of employees who will not be considered to be on relocation:

Any time beyond specified time may be charged against the employee's annual vacation credits, however, expenses will not be payable. (b) Travelling Expenses Moving to New Location

The Employer shall provide reimbursement of travel expenses incurred during relocation for employees and dependents, for the actual travel time, plus accommodation and meals up to seven days at the new location when employees are unable to move into the new accommodation. The above allowances will be in accordance with the current Treasury Board Order on Travel Expenses.

After the first seven days has expired at the new location and the employee can establish to the satisfaction of the Employer that there is no suitable housing available, then:

2.5 Moving of Mobile Homes

(a) On relocation, an employee who owns a mobile home may opt to have their mobile home moved by the Employer in either of the following circumstances:

(1) where the employee's new headquarters area is on the list of isolated areas, providing no suitable accommodation is available; or

(2) where an employee is living in a mobile home which was moved to its present location by the Employer, and the employee's headquarters prior to the impending relocation is named on the list of isolated locations.

(b) Where an employee's mobile home is moved by the Employer under this section then the Employer shall also arrange and pay for the following:

(1) moving of single wide mobile trailer or home up to the maximum width allowed on the highway with a permit including any skirting, cabanas or attachments. Where mobile homes in excess of the above are involved, the Employer will pay:

(i) the equivalent cost of moving a single wide mobile trailer or home up to the maximum width allowed on highways with a permit; or

(ii) the real estate and legal fees involved in selling the extra wide trailer up to a maximum of $5,000;

The memorandum of understanding will be in force and effect for the term of the 15th Master Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #5
Re: Privatization and Alternative Service Delivery (ASD)

This memorandum of understanding pertains to contracts for ASD initiatives pursuant to Memorandum of Understanding #6 and contracts which have been minuted as a privatization pursuant to Article 36 of the Master Agreement which expire and are re-tendered during the term of the 15th Master Agreement. Such offers shall be made in order of seniority to staff currently performing the work of the available positions.

This memorandum of understanding will remain in effect for the term of the 15th Master Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #6
Re: Alternative Service Delivery (ASD)

This will confirm our agreement regarding the Government of BC's Alternative Service Delivery (ASD) initiatives.

These initiatives concern programs and staff which are predominantly in the Greater Victoria area. For these initiatives it is agreed that:

1. The parties recognize that these employees should be encouraged to accept employment with the successful bidder and that those employees requiring placement within the Employer's operations should co-operate fully to have their placement concluded as expeditiously as possible.

2. Where incumbent staff are employed by the successful bidder, the bidder may apply to the Public Service Pension Plan (PSPP) for enrolment as an employer in the PSPP.

3. Employees who are not employed by the successful bidder will be covered by Master Agreement Article 36.

4. Should any employee not have their placement resolved within 60 days, either party may refer the employee's placement to the Joint Committee pursuant to Article 36. In the circumstance of an ASD initiative within the Capital Regional District (CRD), the Joint Committee may only require placement of an employee into a position within the employee's headquarters.

5. Where Section 35 of the Labour Relations Code applies, the successful proponent will recognize the existing union certification and meet with the Union prior to the transfer of the program for the purpose of consolidating the current Master and applicable component agreements into one amended agreement which is relevant to the sector. If an extension of the term of the agreement is required, the parties shall agree on appropriate amendments including compensation. It is agreed that a desired outcome is an agreement with at least two years duration from the date of disposition of the program to expiry of the agreement.

6. Where no employees accept employment with the successful bidder and the employees have exhausted their rights under the collective agreement, the Union will refrain from pursuing a declaration of successor status.

7. Employees in these program areas are eligible for the Early Retirement Incentive Plan (ERIP) and Voluntary Departure Program (VDP) as outlined in this memorandum of understanding for a two-month period prior to the anticipated disposition date of the program(s) of the ASD initiative.

8. An employee receiving severance payment shall repay the payment if employed or contracted by the successful bidder or re-employed or contracted by the province during the period equivalent to the severance pay.

D. Timing

These programs will be made available prior to the disposition date for the ASD initiative. The Employer may establish reasonable timeframes for employees to exercise their options to retire or sever under these voluntary programs. The employees last day at work under ERIP, last day on pay under VDP must be no later than the effective date of disposition. An option elected under this clause is irrevocable for 90 days or other period as agreed by the Privatization Impact Review Committee.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #10
Re: Riverview Hospital Devolution Intersectoral Labour Adjustment Plan

A. Preamble

As a result of the devolution of Riverview Hospital bed capacity to health authorities, Riverview patients will be relocated to facilities operated by health authorities.

As patients are relocated from Riverview Hospital, existing Riverview positions utilized to support those patients will become redundant. Recognizing that there are limited opportunities in the Public Service for Riverview Hospital employees should their positions become redundant, it is the objective of the parties to this memorandum to maximize opportunities for continued employment for current regular Riverview employees who are declared surplus or to find acceptable voluntary alternatives.

B. Pre-Labour Adjustment

The Riverview Joint Committee established under Article 29 shall work to provide continuing cooperation and consultation at the local level in providing training and preparing employees for employment opportunities and fashioning reasonable local solutions to problems arising from the downsizing.

The parties shall create effective communication mechanisms to assist employees in making choices during the placement processes and to make current accurate information available.

The Article 29 Committee shall work cooperatively:

(1) to ensure training funds are equitably distributed and training opportunities are not unreasonably withheld;

(2) to assist in the identification of placement opportunities for regular employees and to facilitate the placement of employees as the opportunities arise.

C. Labour Adjustment Process

The parties to this MOU agree that for the term of the 15th Master Agreement, the following process will apply to Riverview Hospital regular employees, where applicable:

(1) The ERIP/VDP program as attached is to be made available to regular employees of Riverview/Forensic Psychiatric Services Commission, to facilitate placement of Riverview Hospital employees subject to approval based on operational requirements.

(2) Consistent with the principles and processes outlined in the Riverview Redevelopment Location (RRL) Memorandum of Agreement, Riverview employees may be offered comparable employment opportunities with a health authority.

(3) Should a surplus employee be offered a comparable position with a health authority, and refuses the offer, or does not apply on a comparable position, the surplus employee will be placed into a public service position in accordance with Article 13.

(4) In the event no placement is made in the Public Service, the surplus employee will be offered an available comparable position in a health authority within a 50 km radius of Riverview Hospital for which the employee is qualified. Should the employee decline the offer, the employee will be deemed to have resigned from the Public Service with severance. Employees who are placed in health authorities where an offer is made under this section, will retain "superior benefits" entitlements where the receiving collective agreement provides less than equivalent terms compared to the Public Service in respect of pension, wage compensation and health and welfare benefits.

D. Employment Security

(1) Notwithstanding C(4) above, the provisions of Memorandum of Understanding #1 (Employment Security) shall apply to Riverview employees until the devolution of Riverview Hospital bed capacity is complete.

(2) Despite D(1) above regular employees with less than three years service seniority as a regular who where converted to regular status with an initial letter of appointment specifying that they were hired for the specific purpose of Riverview Hospital downsizing and were subject to layoff when operationally required will be laid off. However, such employees may choose the options available as outlined in Clause 13.3

E. Return to the Public Service

The parties agree to apply the following provisions to employees who accept an offer of continued employment with a health authority as a direct result of the Riverview Hospital devolution:

(1) I*n-Service Status*:

A regular employee shall be recognized as having in-service status for the purpose of applying on postings for regular positions in government. This in-service status will be recognized for a period of two years after the effective date of the appointment to a health authority position.

(2) Seniority Reinstatement:

If re-employment occurs pursuant to (1) above, employees shall retain seniority earned while as a member of the Public Service Bargaining Unit, and shall be credited with seniority earned with a health authority for the purposes of layoff and recall and other seniority related provisions.

(3) Benefit Entitlement:

If re-employment occurs pursuant to (1) above, employment will be deemed continuous for purposes of benefit entitlement under Article 25.

(4) Reversal of Process:

If, within a five-year period after date of disposition, Riverview is returned to the province, in whole or in part, employees engaged in the returning operation, who were employed by the province at the time of disposition, will be returned to the province.

3. Voluntary Departure Program (VDP)

(a) A VDP is available to eligible employees who are not able to retire under ERIP because they are not 55 years of age or do not have sufficient pre-retirement leave to reach their 55th birthday.

(b) For employees meeting the above criteria, and subject to Riverview Hospital approval based on operational requirements, the VDP shall provide for a lump sum payment of three weeks of base pay for every year (1827 hours at straight-time rate) of service seniority, or major part thereof, as a regular employee to a maximum of 12 months base pay.

4. Timing

Riverview Hospital will consult with the Union with respect to the timing, location and duration of the ERIP and VDP programs. Riverview Hospital may establish reasonable timeframes for employees to exercise their options to retire or sever under these voluntary programs. The employee's last day at work prior to pension or pre-retirement leave under ERIP, on pay under VDP will be as determined by Riverview Hospital but in any event, no later than expiry of the Agreement.

Security and Transfer Provisions

5. In Service Status

(a) A regular employee who transfers to an authority will be recognized as having in-service status for the purpose of applying on postings for regular positions in the province. This in-service status will be recognized for a period of two years after the effective date of the transfer of that employee. For the purpose of such application only, their employment with the Employer will be deemed to have continued uninterrupted. During the two years, transferred employees will receive credit for their years of continuous service with the province prior to transfer for purposes of public service job competitions.

(b) Where an employee has applied on a position as provided in (a) above, their years of continuous service in the Public Service to the date at transfer from the Public Service shall be considered as provided by Article 12.3—Selection Procedure of the Thirteenth Master Agreement.

6. In negotiating the consolidated agreements referred to in Section 4, the authorities will agree to incorporate access to employment with other authorities on an inter-authority basis, subject to the cultural and program requirements of aboriginal authorities. Access to employment will include inter-authority in-service recognition for posted positions, transfers and vacancies on labour adjustment.

7. In the application of Section 6, an employee who is hired into a vacant position with an authority and who was employed by another authority at the time of hire will be credited with the employee's continuous service with the predecessor community living, regional or aboriginal authority, including previous continuous service with government for the purpose of seniority-related provisions of the collective agreement applying to an authority, including layoff and recall.

Application of Article 36

9. MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #12
Re: Joint Advisory Committee

1. There shall be a joint advisory committee which shall consist of two representatives appointed by the Employer and two representatives appointed by the Union. The Employer and the Union may each appoint one alternate committee member. The purpose of the Committee shall be to consider and make recommendations to the bargaining principals on all matters related to the effective administration of the Short Term Illness and Injury Plan and Long Term Disability Plan and the Rehabilitation Committee to consider and make recommendations to the Bargaining Principals on any questions which may arise related to interpretation or application of the wording of Appendix 4.

2. The Joint Advisory Committee will make recommendations concerning the Rehabilitation Committee in order to:

- improve access to the rehabilitation process for employees incapacitated for their own occupation through illness or injury;

- improve rehabilitation programs to return employees to their own or other occupations as soon as possible;

- identify and address systemic causes of illness and injury and consequent STIIP/LTD usage.

(b) Clearly establish responsibility for case management with the Committee providing advice and recommendations as required. Such recommendations may include:

- improved placement options for those employees who are capable of performing alternative employment, in addition to the recommendations identified in Appendix 4, Part III (2)(d)(4).

Disability Case Management representatives are to be designated as Employer representatives to the Committee.

(c) Ensure sharing of all information pertinent to a case with the parties involved (union, employer, Occupational Health and Rehabilitation, insurance carrier).

Develop confidentiality standards specific to the process and consistent with the current legislation to protect the privacy of information shared.

(d) Review current forms used for STIIP and LTD and Rehabilitation in order to make them simpler and more effective and/or eliminate duplication.

3. The parties share a desire to minimize health risks and improve absenteeism rates due to illness and injury and agree to jointly explore programs and processes to obtain that goal. Therefore the Joint Advisory Committee shall:

(a) review and make recommendations to the Bargaining Principals regarding ministries and/or branches and regions within ministries where implementation of a program modelled on the Employee Assistance and Health Promotion Program (piloted by Region 2 of the Ministry of Social Development and Economic Security) or other similar programs, may be reasonably expected to have a positive impact on employee health and absenteeism rates; and

(b) review and make recommendations to the Bargaining Principals regarding establishment or modification of musculoskeletal and other injury and illness prevention programs in areas where the incidence of such injury warrants further prevention activity.

(c) review and make recommendations to the Bargaining Principals on an earlier and consistently applied adjudication of benefits during the STIIP period by the LTD benefit carrier under a mutually agreed plan.

The Joint Advisory Committee shall consult with the Provincial Joint Occupational Health and Safety Committee, the Rehabilitation Committee and/or Ministry Joint Committees, as appropriate.

4. It is the parties' joint interest to:

(a) ensure appropriate and consistent adjudication of claims for STIIP;

(b) ensure that requests for additional information on STO2 forms are limited to instances where the information is objectively incomplete; and

(c) promote opportunities for voluntary rehabilitation initiatives that enable earlier return.

During the term of this agreement, the parties will jointly explore a process by which the above objectives may be achieved.

Where STIIP benefits have been denied and/or management is not accepting doctors' certificates which the Union believes are adequate and meet the criteria for information required consistent with the mutually agreed STO2, Part B Instruction Form, and where in the Union's view this demonstrates an abuse of process, a union director and the ADM, Employee Relations Division will expeditiously address the issue.

This is not intended to circumvent the grievance process outlined in the collective agreement.

(b) (1) Where a complaint of bullying between peers is brought to the attention of the Employer, it will be investigated by the appropriate supervisor or manager and, if substantiated, appropriate action will be taken to remedy the complaint. For the purpose of this memorandum of understanding "peers" refers to employees who are not in a reporting relationship where one employee is supervised by the other.

(2) If the disposition of the complaint is disputed by the complainant or respondent, either one of them may pursue the matter further with the excluded manager with jurisdiction for the worksite.

(3) The excluded manager will investigate this matter and, if substantiated, take appropriate action to resolve the complaint.

(4) A steward may be utilized to assist members at any point in this procedure.

(5) If the disposition of the complaint is still disputed by either employee, the complaint may be referred to the Public Service Agency or the Union for resolution by the Bargaining Principals. Their decision regarding the complaint will be final and binding.

(6) Any decision or action taken in response to a bullying complaint is not subject to the grievance or arbitration procedures of Articles 8 and 9 of the Master Agreement.

(7) Clauses 1.7, 1.8, 1.9 and 32.15 of the Master Agreement do not apply to this process.

This memorandum remains in force and effect for the term of the 15th Master Agreement.

The parties share a common interest in developing mechanisms to further facilitate the joint training initiatives specified in Articles 1 and 22. To progress in this area the parties will establish a joint union/management training steering committee.

The purpose of the Committee is to provide support for joint training initiatives and advice on program content, delivery mechanisms and implementation as appropriate. The Committee will be comprised of three members appointed by the Union and three members appointed by the Employer and will be co-chaired.

The role of the Committee in joint training initiatives is as follows:

- to support and assist in carrying out training needs identification as required;
- to provide input and advice on specific training proposals and initiatives;
- to review current and planned joint training initiatives and provide advice on implementation issues;
- to promote and support joint training initiatives;
- to review program evaluations and make recommendations on changes to the joint programs;
- to participate in training programs, as appropriate;
- with specific regard to Article 29, the Committee will develop a training program for members of ministry joint committees dealing with the role of such committees, conflict resolution, consensus building, joint problem solving, agenda development, minute recording and other issues mutually agreed to by the Committee.

The Committee will meet within 60 days of the signing of this agreement and thereafter as required.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #29
Re: Stewards at Step 2 of the Grievance Procedure

The parties agree to the following provisions concerning the number of stewards, their jurisdiction and mandate at Step 2 of the grievance procedure:

1. The Union is entitled to at least one steward per worksite to represent employees at Step 2 of the grievance procedure. The parties may agree to additional stewards in large worksites or worksites with shift operations.

2. In the absence of a steward, another steward at the worksite will represent the employee at Step 2.

3. Where there is no steward at the worksite, another steward within the same ministry administrative management area will represent the employee at Step 2.

4. Where the steward within the same ministry administrative management area is outside of the grievor's geographic headquarters, another steward within the geographic headquarters may be used. It is understood that the use of this provision will be limited as much as possible and that any problems related to the administration of this provision will be referred to the joint committee in (8) below for resolution.

5. The mandate of the steward at Step 2 is to:

   (a) Present the grievance at Step 2.

   (b) Conduct the Step 2 meeting with the Step 2 designate. Where it is not feasible for the steward and Step 2 designate to meet personally, the Step 2 meeting may be conducted by phone.

   (c) Attempt to conclude the grievance at Step 2. It is understood that settlements reached in this process are without prejudice to the positions of either party respecting the issue in dispute.

6. When a steward is required to leave their worksite to present grievances at Step 2, permission to leave their work shall be obtained as required by Clause 2.6(c).

7. Nothing in this memorandum is meant to prevent or discourage the settlement of grievances at Step 1 of the grievance procedure.

8. There shall be a joint committee established to monitor the progress and administration of this memorandum with the goal of improving its operation, resolving problems or disputes, and gathering and sharing of relevant information. The Committee shall be comprised of two representatives of the Union and two representatives of the Employer.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #30
Re: Priority Placement and Employment Equity

The parties support the recruitment and development of a well qualified and efficient public service that is representative of the diversity of the people of British Columbia and the training and development of employees to foster career development and advancement.

The parties will cooperate in the identification and removal of barriers which restrict or inhibit people from being employed, advanced or trained in the Public Service.

Some examples of typical barriers are:

- discriminatory attitudes or behaviour such as bias, stereotyping and harassment by co-workers, supervisors and managers;
- failure to appreciate cultural differences because of a lack of familiarity with the cultural values of the designated groups or the group's lack of familiarity with the cultural values of the Public Service;
- lack of information about opportunities for employment, training, special projects or promotions, etc.;
- physical barriers such as workplaces, facilities, jobs and tools that may need to be adapted for use by individuals from the designated groups;

- systemic barriers such as employment policies, practices and systems which have an adverse impact on designated groups. An example of a systemic barrier is a qualification statement requiring years of experience rather than specifying the type and depth of experience that is needed.

In order to meet the above objectives and those in Section 2 of the Public Service Act and to redress existing employment imbalances and disadvantages ministries may use remedial measures such as:

- providing career counselling, mentorship programs, internship training opportunities or other developmental opportunities to employees;
- outreach recruitment (including outreach to other ministries) encouraging members of designated groups to apply for jobs in the Public Service, providing them with information on employment opportunities, how to apply for positions, how to prepare for interviews, etc.

Where the application of remedial measures outlined above do not meet the objectives of the Act, the Head of the BC Public Service Agency or their designate may, after consulting with the President of the B.C. Government and Service Employees' Union or their designate, in respect to a vacancy or class of vacancies in the Public Service Bargaining Unit, identify that applicants to a posting be:

(a) limited to employees covered by Clauses 12.9, 13.3, 13.4, Article 36 and/or MOU #10;

(b) limited to employees to encourage career development and advancement;

(c) limited to employees of a stated occupational group, position level or organizational unit;

(d) limited to employees in a stated geographical area or locale.

Where the application of remedial measures outlined above do not meet the objectives of the Act, the Head of the BC Public Service Agency, or their designate, and the President of the B.C. Government and Service Employees' Union or their designate may mutually agree to limit or give preference in a manner intended to achieve employment equity objectives.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #31
Re: Regular Part-time Employees

The parties acknowledge that as a general principle throughout government service regular part-time employees should have access to increased hours of work opportunities up to full-time hours prior to auxiliary employees.

In view of the above, the parties agree to renew pilot project(s) where regular part-time employees will be given the opportunity to accept work beyond their regular part-time schedule at Oak Bay Lodge Continuing Care Society, Broadmead Care Society and other facilities or programs, by mutual agreement.

The parties also agree to establish a joint committee to monitor the implementation and success of the pilot project(s), which shall utilize the following approach:

(1) Regular part-time employees, with the agreement of the Employer, may specify that they wish to opt for temporary increased hours of work opportunities.

(2) Such agreements identified in (1) above shall be in writing and be effective for a six-month period commencing April 1, 2001.

(3) Where it is known for at least a week in advance that such temporary increased hours of work opportunity is available, the Employer, subject to operational requirements, will pre-schedule regular part-time employees on the basis of service seniority, prior to auxiliary employees, provided:

(a) Opportunities for additional work assignments must be for at least a full block within a cycle (eg., five shifts on a 5:2 pattern; four shifts on a 4:3 pattern);

(b) The maximum biweekly hours shall not exceed the regular full-time hours of a full-time employee in the same work unit;

(c) There shall be no increased cost to the Employer, including but not limited to premiums or penalties attributed to going on or coming off the temporary increased hours of work schedule;

(d) Work assigned/offered must be within the same classification in which the regular part-time employee usually works as a regular part-time employee;

(e) Part-time employees whose part-time status is derived from a job share agreement shall not be entitled to increase their hours under this arrangement, except by mutual agreement.

(f) Lost work opportunities resulting from part-time regular employees accepting an increased hours of work opportunity or reverting to their part-time position following completion of the additional work assignment shall not be the Employer's responsibility.

(g) Employees working a full-time schedule for any period in excess of two calendar weeks and who are subsequently unable to report for work due to illness or injury during the period of scheduled full-time work, and are entitled to benefits pursuant to Appendix 4, will have their STIIP benefit calculated on the basis of the full-time work. This calculation based upon full-time work will continue for the duration of the scheduled full-time employment and thereafter revert to a benefit based upon the employee's part-time appointment.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #32
Re: Scheduling of Earned Time Off and Vacation on Lay-off

Auxiliary employees who have earned time off (ETO) will have their earned time off scheduled as time off commencing at the effective date of lay-off.

Auxiliary employees may, on request, also schedule earned vacation credit commencing at the effective date of lay-off. In such cases, the provisions of Clause 18.5 of the Master Agreement shall not apply.

The auxiliary employee will not be subject to recall during the period of the scheduled earned time off or vacation.

Employees on scheduled ETO or vacation past the effective date of lay-off will not be grounds for a claim from another employee that he or she has been laid off out of order of seniority or that the employee had not been recalled in order of seniority.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #33
Re: Gainsharing

The parties acknowledge that suggestions for gainsharing improvements may arise or be negotiated at any time during the life of this agreement to provide additional (one-time, or ongoing) payments. Where such initiatives are identified, the Master Bargaining Principals will meet to review the proposal and consider whether it should be included within the scope of this memorandum.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #34
Re: Joint Committee for Expedited Classification Appeals

The parties agree to a pilot project that would replace Clauses 28.2 and 28.4(a)(2)—Expedited Adjudication with this MOU regarding a joint committee for Expedited Classification Appeals.

(a) A joint committee shall be constituted to provide an alternate dispute resolution mechanism with respect to Article 28, the Public Service Job Evaluation Plan (PSJEP) and the proper classification of employees. This committee will also function as the Joint Technical Working Committee pursuant to Clause 28.2 for the duration of the pilot project.

(b) The Joint Committee meetings will review the classification documentation, discuss the merits of the classification appeal and attempt to resolve the matter through the application of the PSJEP.

(c) Committee Composition

(1) The Joint Committee shall consist of seven representatives, three appointed by the Union, three appointed by the Employer, and a chairperson.

(2) The Chairperson shall be appointed jointly by the parties.

(3) The Chairperson of the Committee shall, at the request of either party, sit as a mediator/arbitrator over all disputes pertaining to the application or interpretation of Article 28 and the PSJEP after the parties have reviewed and attempted to resolve the dispute.

(d) The parties agree to a one year classification appeal moratorium placed on any position(s) where the Chair and/or the Joint Committee have rendered a decision, unless there are significant changes to the job duties.

(e) The parties agree that representatives who form part of the Joint Committee will receive job evaluation training prior to participating on this committee.

(f) Joint Committee Procedure

(1) The Union will be provided an opportunity to attend the Clause 28.3(c) "joint on-site" which results in the Employer issuing a detailed classification rationale through application of the PSJEP based on information obtained during the joint on-site review. The job description of record and the organization chart will accompany the rationale.

(2) The Employer's Step C response will include the following:

- An evaluation for each of the 13 factors, including the rationalization explaining why a benchmark is comparable;
- In circumstances where a degree definition has multiple definitions, identification of the single definition that applies.
- In circumstances where factors contain multiple activities, identification of the activity or activities chosen.

(3) No later than four weeks prior to the Joint Committee meeting, the Union will provide to the Joint Committee a written evaluation rationale that will contain the following:

- Factor(s) in dispute, including the degree definition and where applicable, the activity;
- Reference to benchmarks rationalizing why a benchmark is comparable;

- In circumstances, where a degree definition has multiple definitions, the Union will identify the definition or definition(s) that they believe apply;
- In circumstances where factors contain multiple activities, the Union will identify the activity or activities chosen.

(4) The Committee will meet every month or as often as required to review outstanding classification appeals filed at Clause 28.3(e) for expedited adjudication.

(g) Joint Committee decisions shall be of no precedential value and shall not thereafter be referred to by the parties in respect of any other matter.

Process

(1) Where a decision has been reached to close a retail store consistent with understandings between the parties, the LDB will notify the Union Committee representatives in writing.

(2) The Joint Committee will convene within 14 days of the notice of the store closure.

(3) The Committee, in the event of a planned Signature Store opening, will agree on an appropriate human resource approach to minimize impact on employees working in the affected stores. The Committee will implement labour realignment options such as:

(a) Temporary assignments
(b) Realignment of Recall Areas consistent with RS&W Clause 12.3(h)
(c) Transfer of vacancies
(d) Collective agreement modifications to facilitate appropriate labour realignment options.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING #39

(1) All signature stores will open for business on Sunday to enhance employment opportunities and maximize operational efficiency.

(2) Except where not possible (ie) termination of a lease, the consolidation of stores into a signature store will not occur until the signature store opens for business. Where it is not possible, the LDB will advise the Joint Committee as soon as it is known. In this case, the Joint Committee will implement reasonable measures to mitigate any reduction in work available.

(3) Where two stores are combined into a signature store, the affected recall areas will be realigned as per Clause 12.3(h) of the RS&W Component Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT between
The Province of British Columbia as represented by the BC Public Service Agency and the
B.C. Government and Service Employees' Union

Re: Sale of the Liquor Distribution Branch (LDB)
Warehouses and Distribution System

In recognition of the February 21, 2012 announcement pertaining to the sale of the LDB warehouses and distribution system, the parties agree that the following provisions will apply in the event the proposed sale occurs:

1. All Distribution Centre and Wholesale Customer Centre employees in the RS&W Component employed at the Vancouver and Kamloops distribution centres and Stores 100 and 231 whose job is made redundant by the sale will be offered employment with the successful bidder. Auxiliary employees hired after March 31, 2012 will be designated as special project employees as per Clause 31.5(d), ie., transitional employment up to the date of completion of the sale to the successful proponent. If any auxiliary special project employee is employed for more than two years prior to the completion of the sale to the successful proponent, they will be retroactively considered an auxiliary employee in all respects pursuant to Article 31 as of the start date of their employment.

2. The new operator will be required to structure their business to be eligible for participation in the Public Service Pension Plan (PSPP).

3. The new operator will apply to the PSPP to become a participating employer in the pension plan.

4. The successful proponent will recognize the existing union certification and meet with the Union prior to the transfer of the program for the purpose of consolidating the current Master and applicable component agreements into one amended agreement which is relevant to the sector. If an extension of the term of the agreement is required, the parties shall agree on appropriate amendments including compensation. It is agreed that a desired outcome is an agreement with at least two years duration from the date of disposition of the program to expiry of the agreement.

5. The parties recognize that employees should be encouraged to accept employment with the successful bidder and that those employees requiring placement within the Employer's operations should cooperate fully to have their placement concluded as expeditiously as possible.

6. Any employee who accepts an offer of employment with the new operator will be covered by MOU 9 and Clauses 36.2 and 36.3, with the exception of Clause 36.2(c)(6).

7. The employer will offer early retirement and voluntary departure programs as outlined in Appendix A for any employee adversely affected.

8. Employees who are not employed by the successful bidder will be covered by Master Agreement Article 36.

9. An employee receiving severance payment shall repay the payment if employed or contracted by the successful bidder or re-employed or contracted by the Province during the period equivalent to the severance pay.

10. Where the provisions of Master Agreement Article 36 modify or are in conflict with the terms of this memorandum of agreement, the terms of this memorandum of agreement will prevail.

11. This memorandum of agreement comes into force and effect April 1, 2012.

Amendment 4

NRFP addition and correction

The NRFP did not include response guideline in section 8.2.3 for the current evaluation criterion item (h) Compliance with provincial and federal policy and regulatory framework. The response guideline for the above criterion is:

> Compliance with provincial and federal policy and regulatory framework.
> Proponents should indicate ability to comply with provincial and federal policy and regulations.

Note that on review of the response guideline the numbering for section 8.2.3 is missing the letter (d). There is no missing text only a skipped letter.

Joint Venture Clarification

We received a question regarding the definition of "joint venture", as set out in the Declaration, Section 5, Schedule A2 and Section 1.11 of the NRFP.

> For clarity, a joint venture for the purposes of this NRFP is where more than one legal entity signs the same declaration or submits a proposal. The Province's requirement is that only one legal entity may sign the Declaration, submit a Proposal in response to this NRFP and sign the Agreement.
> However, as stated in this NRFP, the Province intends to conduct a more rigorous due diligence examination with respect to the corporate capacity of the Proponent to perform the Distribution Services.

Evaluators for Distribution of Liquor Project

The suggested names of the evaluation committee were disclosed at the industry information session on May 9th, 2012. At least one Proponent has asked for the names after the meeting.

5. Bette-Jo Hughes – Assistant Deputy Minister, Service BC, Ministry of Labour, Citizens' Services and Open Government
6. Richard Poutney - Executive Lead, Strategic Partnerships Office, Ministry of Labour, Citizens' Services and Open Government

Proponents are not to communicate with any person with a view to influencing preferred treatment in the NRFP process (including but not limited to the lobbying of decision makers involved in the NRFP process).

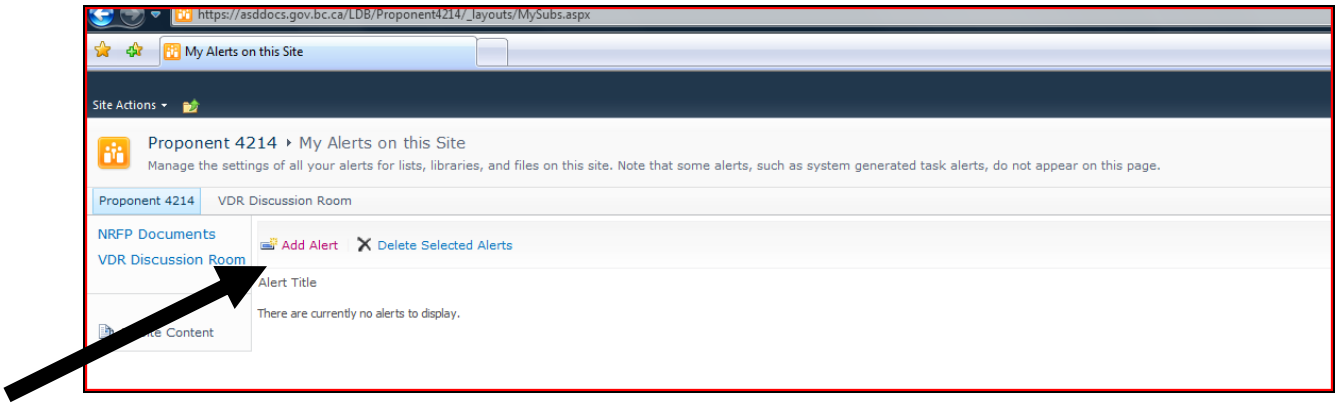
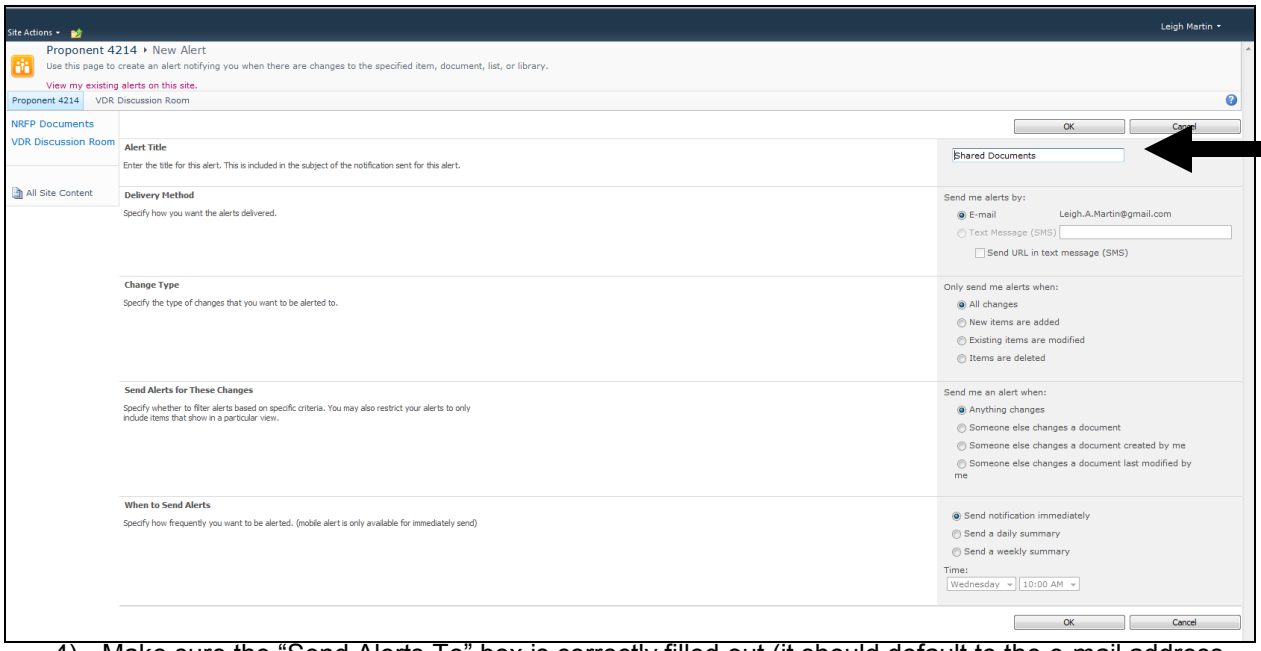
Creating an “Alert” in SharePoint

What is an Alert?

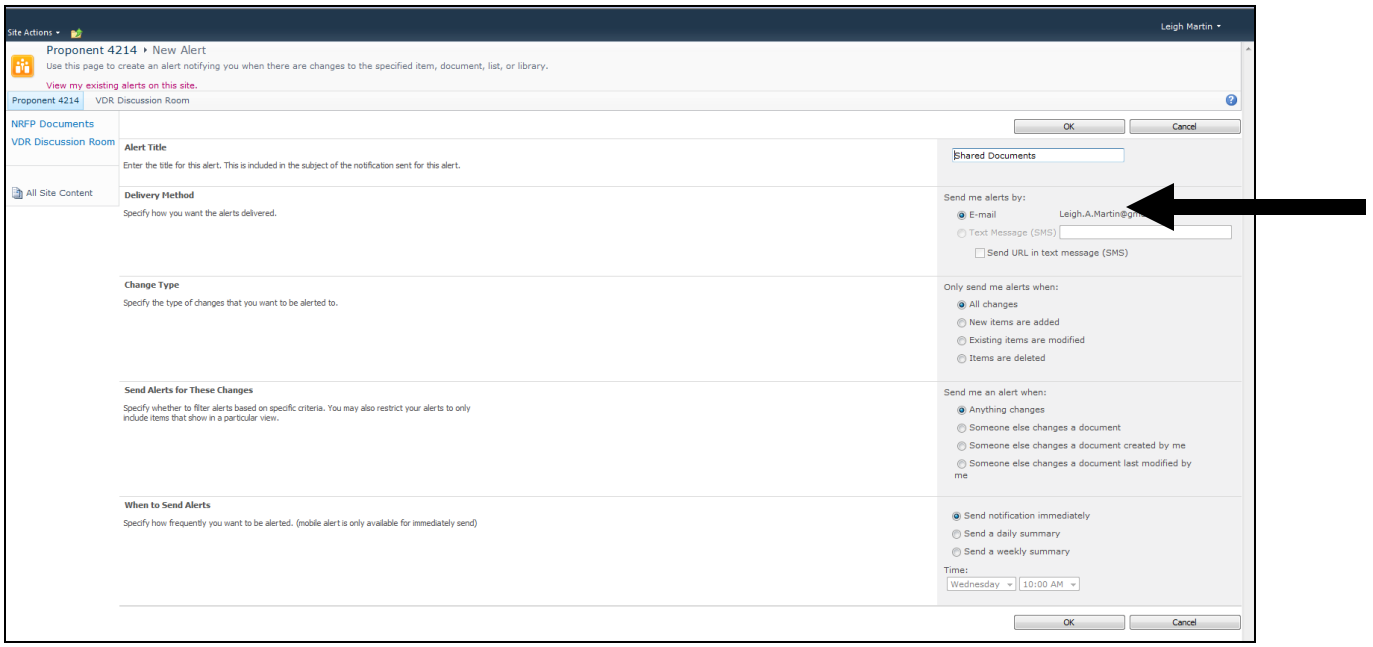


An Alert is an e-mail that is sent to your e-mail box to notify you when new documents are added or existing ones are changed. You can have them sent immediately when an item is changed or have them sent in “batches” on particular days or at specified times.

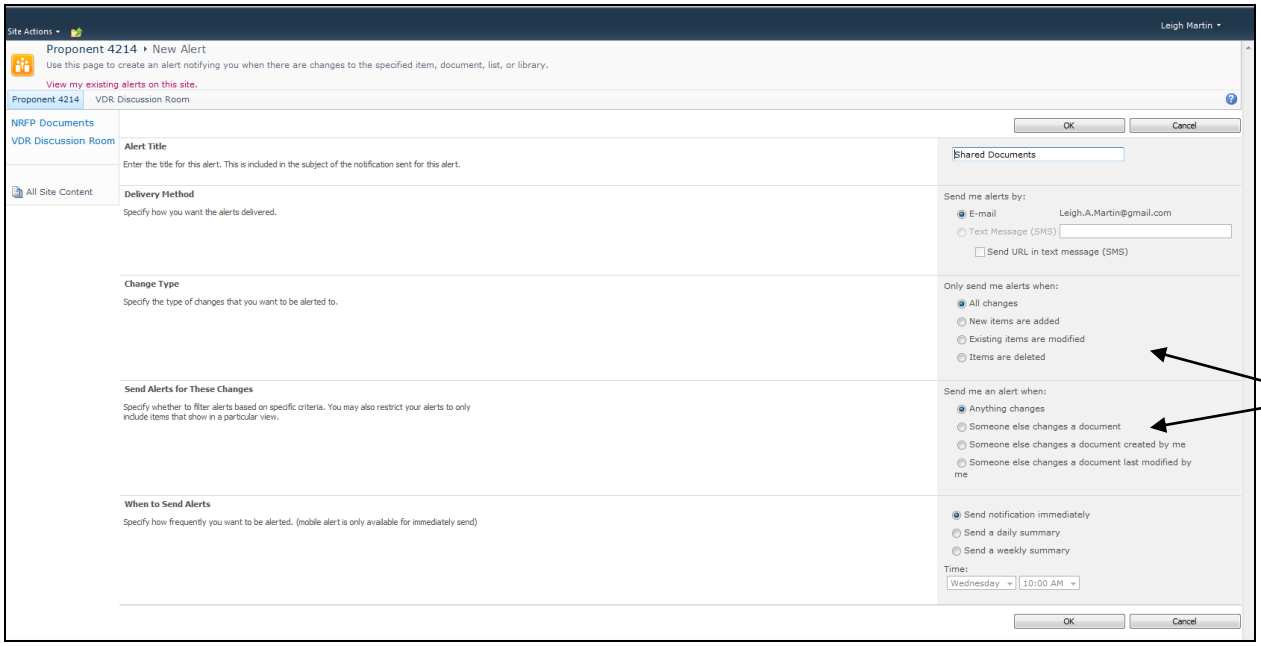
How to set up an Alert:



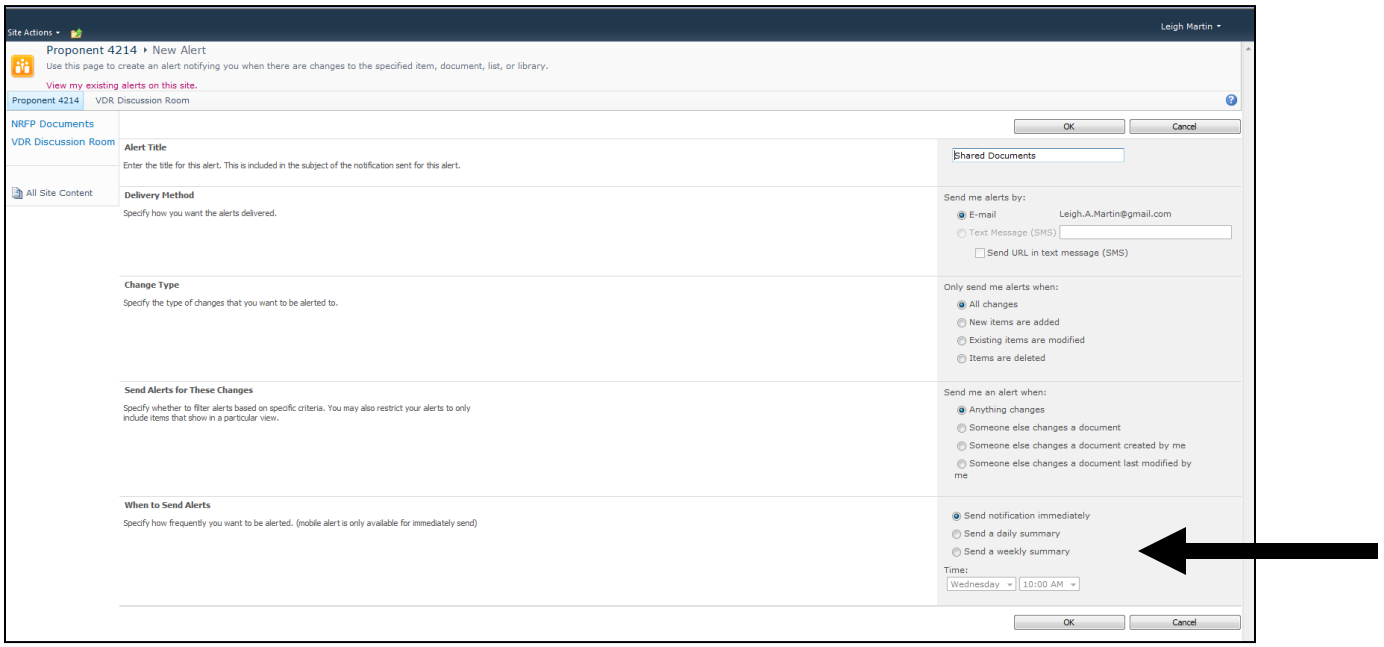
1) From the home page, click on the “Page Tab”, then click on “Alert Me”, then “Manage my alerts”



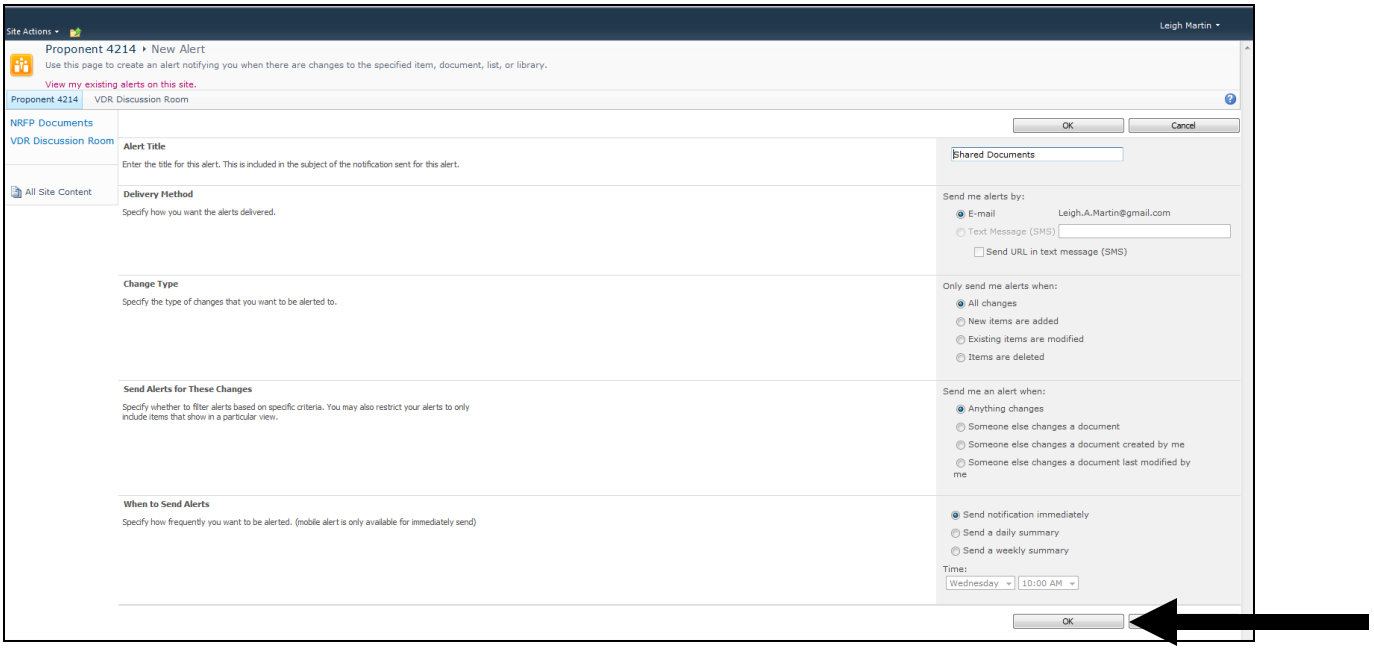
2) Next click on “Add Alert” and on the following page chose “shared documents” and click ok.



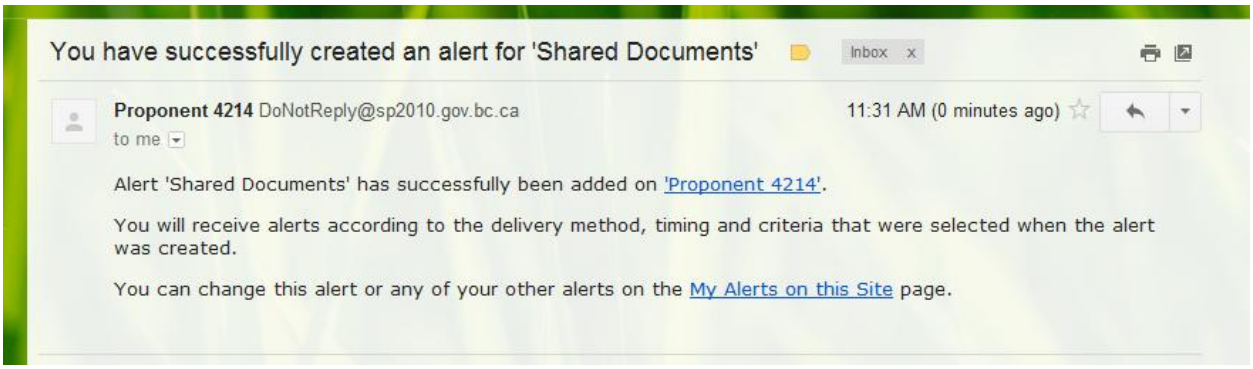
3) Change the “Alert Title” to a word or phrase that will let you know why you have received the alert.



4) Make sure the “Send Alerts To” box is correctly filled out (it should default to the e-mail address you used when signing up for your bceid)



5) Complete the “Change Type” and “Send Alerts for These Changes” areas to specify what you want to be notified about.



6) Fill out the “When to Send Alerts” option to control how often you will receive alerts.

8) After completing this alert request you should receive an e-mail indicating that the request was successfully created.

9) When an item is added/changed according to your alert specifications, you will receive an e-mail indicating that a change/update has been made. The alert will include basic information such as the name that you set for that alert (so you can differentiate between alerts if you set up more than one), the name of the document, etc.

Distribution of Liquor Project - Proponent's Meeting

Vancouver, BC

(MEETING COMMENCED AT 9:02 A.M.)

MR. AGERUP: Little bit of agenda. It's a rough agenda depending how fast we go through the presentation and questions. There will be three presentations. After that we'll do a tour of the ~~building, of the~~ warehouses, and we come back here afterwards. We can only take two people from each proponent on the tour because of the ~~it's~~ limited number of people we can take out in the warehouse.

Is a flexible agenda okay with you or are you waiting for someone coming? Anyone having problems, shout now. Okay. Good.

We're also doing a transcription of this meeting. So the transcription notes will be posted in your VDR. ~~And~~ Kari is our transcriber. ~~And i~~It's important that when we ask questions, that you don't speak on top of each other. ~~And s~~Speaking slowly and clearly helps; okay? ~~So~~ I'll go through this stage of the process. It's all in the documents, but it's good to hear again. If you have any questions, feel free to ask, interrupt, put up your hand. Today is for you guys. So the more clarity we can provide today, the better it is for everyone. So feel free to forward thoughts. So right now we are technically before stage 1 in the process. You have access to the VDR. There's 140 some documents to read. We have the proponents meeting here today with the site tour. If there's interest, we also provide a site tour of the Kamloops facility. And also the Q and A process. You can send us questions. We'll respond in writing. So that goes on throughout the process.

Stage 1 start with the submission of the proposal, which is on June 29th, and you can choose either to send paper copies, six copies, or use BC Bid for electronic submission. If you choose to use BC Bid, you have to register before. It usually takes 24 hours to activate the account. It's a good idea to test send a document sometime before the closing date. And also submitting Excel spreadsheets. Frank will talk a little bit the financial model. Password protect them and send the password separately to me.

So in stage 1 we're looking at your proposal. And there's an opportunity, if you missed something, to fix it. So you have a week to get back to us. For example, you missed ~~to~~ submitting the financial model or you didn't sign it. That's okay. We can rectify that in this process. You all signed the declaration. And the first step for us internal is a government reference check. This is a policy requirement.

We need to look at any contract you've had with the government for the last three years over 1 million in value. ~~And t~~That goes through internal financial officers process. And that's also if -- there's a pass/fail result from that. ~~And i~~If you for some reason would fail, there's an opportunity to rectify that as well. If you haven't had any contract with the government in excess of a million over last three years, you automatically pass. So that's good for you. The next step is, like I mentioned, we review the proposals and make sure that everything is there. And if not, we can fix it, let you know, and you have seven days to submit the full proposal. Any questions on this? Am I talking too fast? Okay.

Stage 2 starts with a reference check and then the evaluation. So the reference check is references that you submit new proposal. And it's more of a business reference check rather than the first policy one. Evaluation ends with a ranking of all the proponents, and up to the top three will be deemed short listed proponents invited to next stage. There's three. So that's the first evaluation. Then there's stage 3, the proposal refinement process. And basically it starts with a feedback session where we go through your proposal and how we read it and how we evaluate it and where we saw room for improvement, overkill and, yeah, other opportunities.

After that we have a process where you can interactive, you can meet with us, you can ask questions, you can clarify. And it ends with a best and final offer, a new proposal or [indiscernible] the delta of the two. And that's the ones evaluated. And after that evaluation there will be one selected proponent that goes into the stage 4. Okay. So stage 2 and 3 you have the evaluation criteria. Just want to point out that the criteria are the same, but the way things are slightly different between the two stages. So stage 4 is the negotiation of an agreement with the selected proponent and then execution of the agreement.

When you put it all together it looks something like this. This is the graph probably seen in the NRFP where you have stage 1 and 2, first evaluation, refinement, evaluation. Then we come out with one selected proponent. It goes through the due diligence and negotiations and contracts. And we have up until July 20th to do the first two stages.

Then we have a long stretch over the summer for the proposal refinement up to top three. And then we expect to be done with an agreement before March 1st, 2013. And I added this line because it's basically a snippet from our internal calendar, but I want to point out between July and beginning of September there's not much activity. So if you plan vacation, that's a good time to plan your vacation. We will have a skeleton crew ready to answer any questions, but yeah, otherwise it's little bit slower.

So that's pretty much what I'm going to say about the process. Just highlight it, internalise it, look it up, think about it again. If you have any questions, send them in or look at NRFP process. Fairly well laid out there. Before I hand over to Roger, I'm just going to mention that the tour to proponent will end back here. I think it will take about 45 minutes. I will come with you. When we walkthrough the building, it's better if you can save the questions -- save them when we're back here so we can do the transcribe again. If you have questions for something specific in the warehouse, we'll gather around so everyone can hear it so everyone has the same information.

MR. POUTNEY: Pelle, at the risk of drawing people's attention to something maybe nobody noticed, there was an error in the percentages on the evaluations. It's correct in the NRFP.

MR. AGERUP: Okay. Look at the NRFP. I'll make sure that gets right. And no photos through the tour. We don't have ~~information~~ permission for that. Next one. Just so you know, you can ask questions here. You can ask questions at the tour. You can send questions in e-mails. And we also have a couple of questions that we'll cover here that were sent to us before this meeting. Should we cover these now or do you want to do them after?

MR. BISSOONDATT: Afterwards.

MR. AGERUP: After you? Okay. We'll do it after you. All right. So I'm going to hand over to Roger.

MR. BISSOONDATT: Okay. What I'll cover off today is really just talking a bit about the NRFP, talk about the project itself, the distribution of liquor project~~,. and t~~Then give you a bit of an overview of the liquor distribution branch, the supply chain, talk about the current supply chain, how it is today, ~~and~~ then ~~in terms of~~ a brief review in terms of how we think it may work in the future or ~~--~~ it may be in the future, and then talk about the liquor warehouse/agent stocking program.

The reason why I've outlined it this way is because I do recognize that some of you might be very familiar with the liquor business in BC and some of you may not be. So for those who are very familiar with the liquor business, a lot of the information, you will be very familiar with it. ~~; h~~However, for those of you who are not, I'm hoping that at least it communicates to you in terms of the importance of some of the things we have to deal with, because the liquor industry, is ~~it's~~ quite unique in Canada, ~~and~~ some of the regulations ~~that are~~ surrounding liquor, how it's done in Canada, and in particular BC.

So there are some fundamental assumptions going into this project itself. ~~And~~ ~~g~~Government will always want to regulate access to beverage alcohol in its ~~jurisdiction~~ jurisdiction. ~~because t~~Through the Importation of Intoxicating Liquor Act, that responsibility ~~is something that~~ has been handed down to the provincial government by the federal government in terms of how liquor is brought into the province.

Government will always want to guarantee the revenue stream. The revenue stream is extremely important to government. The government wants to make sure that its revenue is protected. We need to make sure that the collection of revenue is done, and we want to continue to be the wholesaler of record for the beverage of alcohol in the province.

Government recognizes that the private sector will play a role in liquor distribution. Certainly in terms of retail it is ~~in terms~~ already done ~~so~~. So government is looking at it in terms of increasing the private sector role in liquor distribution.

Decisions on markup and the price of product are completely independent of the options chosen. There are concerns about ~~in terms of~~ pricing, but pricing is a separate issue from this project itself. That is something that will be dealt with separately.

Government will always want to have the option of modifying its involvement in liquor distribution in the province. That's something government will always want to have the ability to do.

So what are the goals and expected benefits of this project? We want to contract with a cost effective private sector provider and potentially the sale of the operational assets. I'll talk about this little later on in my presentation. We want to achieve the following supply chain performance: service delivery to GLS and wholesale customers that is predictable, cost effective, efficient and meets industry norms for key performance indicators, and a logistical model that lowers the overall supply chain cost to the province. We're looking at cost effectiveness and efficiency. We're not looking for someone to replicate what we have right now. We want you to bring to the table creative options so that we can have a better solution and the labour relations solution is important.

The province has signed a memorandum of agreement with the BCGEU, our union. So certainly that needs to be taken into consideration in the proposal. So what we're looking at is to develop creative proposals that I mentioned in terms of what are the options for the removal of the LDB warehouses, which is Vancouver and Kamloops, and the wholesale distribution operations from existing beverage alcohol sales and supply process. And that's where we're talking about the wholesale customer centres.

We have two wholesale customer centre: one in Vancouver and one in Victoria. As Pelle mentioned, at the end of stage 1 we have up to three top ranked proponents who will move forward into stage 2~~3~~ of the process. So that will be based on the evaluation committee coming up to three proponents that can go to stage 3 so we can advance to the next level. So the NRFP scope includes the following:

Warehouse replenishment. That is bringing product into the province so that the warehouses are continually replenished. That is working with the suppliers and agent to make sure that the products are there when we need it.

Product receiving and storage is the receiving of the product. There is custom clearance process and ~~. T~~there's excise clearance which needs to take place. I'll talk about that later on in the presentation. Certainly the receiving of the product and storage of the product and t~~. T~~he assembly of the product are included. When the product is ordered and is ready for shipping~~,~~, including the assembly of that product, that's all the service provider's responsibility.

The order processing. We're looking for the service provider to take the orders from the wholesale customers. When I refer to wholesale customers, I mean all of the wholesale customers plus the government liquor stores, because for this purpose we're looking at government liquor stores as wholesale customers. So we're looking at a distribution to both the GLS and wholesale customers. So just make sure you understand it's not just other wholesale customers. It includes ~~A~~all of the government liquor stores. As I mentioned before, we are looking for creative options to optimise the beverage alcohol supply chain. So we're looking to you to come forward with options. ~~And t~~That's why the NRFP has been written very broadly: so it gives you the option to come in with some flexible options for us. Of course the labour relations issue with the memorandum of agreement with the BCGEU is ~~. It's~~ important.

Operational assets. These are assets that are used in the day-to-day operations of the distribution centre. If you do wish to submit a proposal to purchase the assets, you can certainly do so; however, they would not be used as part of the evaluation in stage 1 and 2 and 3. So, when we get to stage 4 and we're looking at the negotiation, then that will be taken into consideration. But for you become~~ing~~ in up to ~~the~~ top three short list, that would not be taken into consideration, but it's giving you the option if you'd like to purchase the operational assets that we do have, it is there so you can make an offer for it.

Out of scope. Out of scope are~~at~~ government liquor stores. The government will continue to operate its liquor stores and the wholesale business within the liquor store will still function as ~~like~~ the government liquor store will continue to do. Beer and BC wine. ~~And~~ we talk about it in terms of BC manufacturers; however, BC manufacturers also distribute some imported beer. Actually, a lot of the imported beer. Most of the imported beer. But imported beer is such that the way in which it's set up can be distributed by multiple streams. ~~i~~In BC is the manufacturer of beer and wine can ~~, they~~ distribute their product in the province. However, some of the manufacturers, as I mentioned, they do distribute imported beer. However, if the agent or supplier for that imported product would like to move to the service provider, they certainly have the ability to do so. When I refer to "out of scope," we're saying that these are the things that are not mandated. Let me clarify. There are things that are definitely out of scope for the NRFP. So we're not looking for proposal on that.

Customs and excise clearance. As I mentioned, the LDB is the importer of record for beverage of alcohol in the province. There is a relationship we do have with CRA, and we have to do the custom clearance for that product. So as the importer of record and have the responsibility for the customs clearance, we are going to retain that function.

~~And t~~The sale of the Vancouver and Kamloops distribution centre real estate. That is outside of this NRFP. That's going to be a separate process that's going to take place. So that is not included as part of this NRFP.

I'm not going to go through all of it [the ~~disgram~~diagram] because it is in the NRFP so that you can have a look at it, but this effectively is the flow of products in the province. We have essentially three different types of products: imported products, we have domestic products, which is non-BC products, and BC-produced products. W~~H~~e have differentiated domestic products as ~~are~~ products that are produced in Canada, but not in BC, just so that we can try and keep that as clear as possible as to what is BC products and what is products that's produced outside of BC. The products actually can flow into an independent warehouse or they can flow directly into the distribution branch warehouses. For the BC manufacturer, the product that's manufactured by them and the imported products that they do carry in the case of beer, they can directly distribute it or they can send ~~-- it can come~~it directly to the LDB distribution centres. The product that goes into the independent warehouse, ~~that~~ can come to the LDB distribution centre or for imported beer can be directly distributed to either government liquor store or to the wholesale customers. All of the other imported product, spirits and wine, comes into the LDB distribution centre.

So essentially what we're looking at is we're looking at this area here plus this area here and that. So as I indicated, the ministry/LDB will retain being the importer of record, policy and regulations. We do keep that because it's part of our mandate. Custom and excise clearance will be done by us and the collection and remittance of revenue. In order for the government to protect its revenue, government will be collecting the revenue from the wholesale customers. Once we get that, then we would allocate the funds for the payment of the suppliers or the payment of the service provider, whatever is due to the federal government. So the collection of the revenue is going to be done by the LDB.

We'd also retain compliance auditing. As a service provider, you'll be handling the products in the province. Whenever any product comes into the Province of BC, we have what we call “notional title”, which means to say the province is entitled to the markup of that product when it's sold in the province. So we'll be looking at it from the point of view in terms of making sure revenue is protected ~~--~~from the compliance audit side, to make sure that the product in BC is properly accounted for so that if there's any revenue slippages, that could be accounted for.

The operation of the GLS. I've put 195 there. Because in a lot of publication we see from the LDB we talk about 197. The 197 includes the two wholesale customer centre. So those two wholesale customer centres are part of this NRFP. That's the reason why I'm showing 195 there. And the contract management office of the distribution services. Certainly we'll be looking after the management of that contract with the service provider. So that's it in terms of the project itself.

So what I'll try to do now is just go through a bit of an overview of the LDB itself so you have some familiarity with the business that we are in. As I indicated before, F~~f~~ederal legislation gives each province in Canada the authority to be the importer of record. We are the importer of record for any beverage of alcohol that's coming into the province. We import, wholesale, distribute, retail and regulate beverage alcohol through the Liquor Distribution Act. The LDB is a branch of the Ministry of Energy and Mines, and we have more than 3,500 employees, both full- and part-time employees. The previous fiscal year, '10/11, our net income was $890 million. The final figures for '11/12 are being finalized right now, and the audit will be completed in the next couple of weeks.

For the current supply chain. This gives you sort of a snapshot as to the wholesale customers and the warehouses and also where the product comes from. So we get products from Canadian manufacturers, foreign manufacturers. We don't get from U-brews and U-vins and home based beer and wine, but this is all of the beverage alcohol -- the sources of beverage alcohol in the province. What we're concerned about is the Canadian manufacturers and the foreign manufacturers. Those flow into either LDB warehouse and private bonded warehouse, and then they can either be sold to the licensees, the LRSes, which is ~~ the~~ commonly ~~pany~~ known as the beer and wine stores. We have private manufacturing stores and duty free stores and we have rural agency stores. And of course we have the LDB stores. Because it's a current model, I'm showing ~~ll show~~ the 197, which includes the wholesale customer centres. Then of course all of the products eventually makes its way to the consumer in BC.

We have the liquor policies and procedures, which is jointly between LDB and liquor control and licensing, our sister branch in Victoria. The licensing, regulation and enforcement, that is done by liquor control and licensing. And we have the revenue administration, which is what we do. Then over all of that, it's government's role.

So based on the '10/11 figures, our current distribution process [diagram]. What I've done is broken this down in terms of the three main product categories, beer, wine and spirits, and the volume that's going through. I use volume because you're more interested in volumes rather than the value of it. So when you look at beer, beer has 272.5 million litres in 2011, wine is 86 million litres and spirits 24 million litres. Beer, the majority of it is directly delivered. Wine, direct deliveries to the stores, but they also have deliveries through the LDB, ~~--~~ the total volume of wine is 22 percent of the 382 million litres. And spirits, all spirits flow through the LDB warehouses. None of the spirits are directly delivered. So this is sort of a snapshot in terms of the percentages. And this is based on volume for the BC wine, other domestic product, which is non-BC, and imported products.

The flow based in percentages in fiscal '10/11, how it actually flows down, the sum of all of these is 100 percent, and then it flows down into either the LDB distribution centre or the import warehouse. From there it flows down either to the LDB retail, which is the government store, or to the private sector, retailers and licensees, which eventually flows down to the final customers. So this gives you a sort of a snapshot in terms of where the volume flows from it coming in from the suppliers in BC all the way down to the retail customers. So the future supply chain. Down here is the current model.

The current model is the LDB acts as a regulator, a buyer, a warehouser, a revenue collector, distributor and a retailer/wholesaler, which is our government liquor stores. In the future LDB would not be involved in warehousing or distribution of beverage alcohol. We'll continue to be the importer and wholesaler of record and to ensure the protection of government revenue. The LDB will continue to be the regulator of beverage alcohol in the province and will continue to be a retailer and service wholesale customers in our stores. So essentially going from here to this, being a regulator, buyer, revenue collector and a retailer/wholesaler. There is a difference between the buyer here and the buyer there, though. The buyer here, we purchase our products when it comes into our LDB warehouses. Over here we're looking at purchasing ~~e~~ the product immediately before it's sold to the wholesale customers. So there is a difference in terms of the ownership of the product.

So this is the same slide we saw~~ee~~ before. And I mentioned really what you're looking at is this area here is what is included in NRFP. There may be portions of this in terms of the imported package there { BC manufacturers], imported beer, that could move across there depending on what the supplier or agent decides to do with imported beer.

What I'd like to do now is ~~let's~~ go through the agent stocking program. ~~And t~~The agent stocking program itself, it's how you bring imported products into the province. There are provincial regulations and federal regulations surrounding that. As I mentioned before, the Importation of Intoxicating Liquor Act gives the province the authority to collect markup. Once it hits the boundaries of the province, the province gets notional title to the product. We also have the Customs Act and the Excise Act. And of course you have GST, which is common ~~at the counter~~ to any business. Certainly when you look at the Customs Act and the Excise Act, it is the way in which products are cleared not only in BC, but in Canada, and the regulations around it. It's very unique to liquor. So I thought it might be helpful to just go through it so everybody gets some appreciation for what the process is.

This essentially is a snapshot as to how product flows into BC [diagram]. ~~What I'll do is w~~We have numbers in each one of them, and I'll go through each one of the different numbers. So we've shown the agent, the LDB, the supplier. And this is the warehouse itself having a sufferance bond and excise warehouse. And you have the LDB warehouse, which also has an excise warehouse and then pre-store for delivery. That's before it's shipped out to the wholesale customers. And of course you have the supplier or agent here in terms of the relationship with the LDB. In Canada in order to deal with beverage alcohol, you need to have bonded warehouses ~~--~~especially if it's imported product, you need to have a customs licence, you need to have a sufferance licence and an excise licence. There are different implications for each one of those, which I'll try and explain as I go through the slides.

So the first phase of it is the LDB issuing a requisition to import the product to the supplier. So the supplier gets that. That's when the supplier can ship the product into BC. Once the product comes into BC -- this is for wine and spirits. I will deal with beer separately because beer is treated differently. Beer is not included in the Excise Act. It's included in the Customs Act. So right now for our purposes I'll be speaking about wine and spirit products. So wine and spirit products comes into Canada and ~~-- comes~~ into BC and it goes into a sufferance bond. ~~And t~~The regulations around it is different for each one. ~~Wine has to be cleared within 45 days. Has to clear customs within 45 days.~~ The sufferance bond is essentially a custom bonded warehouse, but it's a temporary custom bonded warehouse. Wine has to be cleared within 45 days to move into an excise warehouse. Spirit has to be cleared within 21 days to move into the excise warehouse. So in doing the custom clearance, the LDB does the custom clearance, and we pay the custom duties and the GST on it. Right now we do not pay HST on it because for commercial imports, HST does not apply. Commercial imports ~~is~~ only GST applies. So in the future model when we do go to PST and GST, that will not change because it will only be GST. So as I mentioned, it goes from the sufferance bond into the excise warehouse where it's excise tax deferred. So you've paid the customs duties, but you still have the excise taxes which have not been paid, and that's why it's in an excise warehouse. CRA does allow you to co-mingle products, be it in the sufferance or excise or custom bonded warehouse, on the condition that you have a fully locatable warehouse. So you have to demonstrate if you do have a fully locatable warehouse where you can say which products are at what stage of the process. And that is something you would need to speak with CRA to get the agreement on. So once it go from sufferance to excise, LDB has paid the custom duties and the GST, we bill back to the agent the custom duties and GST because the agent owns that product. When the product comes through here, it's either the agent or what we call the distributor owns the product. The LDB does not own the product. We have notional title for markup purposes, but we do not own the product. So the LDB bills the agent back for the custom duties and GST. ~~And t~~The reason for that is because since the agent owns the product, any ITC down the road, the agent is the one who can claim for it. The LDB can't claim for it. So the GST that's billed back to the agent, they can claim that as an imput credit.

Then for this one here, when the LDB requires the product for sale, the LDB will issue a purchase order to the agent. In a lot of cases the warehouser actually acts for the agent. So we issue a purchase order to the agent for the transfer of products from the agent stocking warehouse into the LDB warehouse. The LDB warehouse is also an excise warehouse. So it's an excise-to-excise transfer. So the product travels within the excise regime. ~~So~~The excise taxes isn't due at that point in time; however, there is a responsibility as an excise order in terms of the reporting to CRA to make sure those products are properly accounted for. So once it's transferred here, at this point in time under the current system, the LDB purchases the product. So the LDB purchases the product, and that's where we pay the agent and supplier for the product. The product is now in the LDB warehouse. So once we receive orders from wholesale customers or we are shipping ~~selling~~ to our government liquor stores, it's assembled for pre-store delivery. At this point in time the product is ready to be moved. At this point in time we do the excise clearance for that product so we can pay the excise taxes to the federal government. So that's it from the agent's stocking program in terms of wine and spirits.

In the case of beer, most of the processes are the same except for here. All of these other things are the same. Here that doesn't happen because we don't bill back the custom duties to the supplier agent. With beer, because beer is not included in the Excise Act, beer goes into a custom bonded warehouse. Once it goes into custom bonded warehouse, it stays there. It's still treated as being outside of Canada.

When the LDB needs that product to be shipped to a wholesale customer, either to one of the licensees or to our government liquor store, we issue what we call a Release Purchase Order to the warehouse or the agent stocking program warehouser and they transfer the product from the custom bonded warehouse to what we call a Retail Accounting Centre (RAC). The retail accounting centre is like a virtual store set up within the warehouse ~~re~~ whereby we purchase the product just prior to it leaving the custom bonded warehouse. The reason why we do it just prior to leaving the custom bonded warehouse is because we're buying it essentially out of the province / country, so we don't have to deal with the GST issues.

So we buy it and it comes into the retail accounting centre, and then from there the product will flow to the LDB warehouse, the government liquor store or ~~,~~ the wholesale customer. And that takes place on the sale of the product. When it's transferred by the custom bonded warehouse to the retail accounting centre, that's when we pay the supplier or the agent for the product.

I hope that was sort of helpful in terms of going through the agent stocking program just to give you a feel for what is involved with handling of imported products in the province. I'll turn it back over to Pelle.

MR. AGERUP: Okay. So any questions? That's crystal clear to everyone? Excellent. Frank, are you ready to do yours?

MR. CATALA: Hi, everybody. I have about a tenth of the slides that Roger did. I'm sure you're glad to hear that. I'm going to take you through some of the details about what's required in the financial submissions for this NRFP. So I'll take you through some of the background so you understand what you need to submit. The financial submission essentially asks proponents to take into account in their response several aspects. Roger has touched some of them. There's two key areas.

There's the broad objectives that are in section 3.2 of the NRFP. And Roger already covered them in his slide 5 of his presentation. And then there's what I describe as the financial objectives, which are described in section 5.5 of the NRFP. And I've laid them out here so I can take you through them. If you have any questions around them, I'll address them.

So specifically since we're looking at entering into a long term services agreement here with a Successful Proponent, we're looking for deals that demonstrate value for money. This is still a public sector business. The government is very much involved. So that's a necessity of this type of arrangement. We also need to have financial transparency into the services prices you will be proposing and the cost drivers. Being a long term deal, we know things are going to change over time, so we need to understand how we're going to work together to make adjustments going forward.

Pricing certainty over the short term and visibility into future years. Again the world changes, it's a fact of life, and we need to be able to -- these are services to the industry, to wholesale buyers and Canadians. We need to make sure they know what the price of your services are. Number 4 touches on some aspects that Roger already hit. We're looking for cost savings over time, innovation, your ideas of how over the long term you can do this better and improve on an ongoing basis. Flexibility to handle scale. There could be more products of this type. There could be less products. We don't know, but we need to see your expertise in this area and how your financial model addresses that.

Risk management. We want to see that you understand the risks involved in moving these products, storing them, and how you're going to handle that. We are coming to the private sector to deliver these services from end to end, so we want to understand the investments you're going to make, how you're going to deploy your capital to support the services you're providing. We need to have an understanding of that. And obviously there's the services aspect of this. We want to see equal or better service over time. And again you've got to think of these over the 10-year term, which is how we're asking the proposals to come in. A 10-year deal is what we are looking in your responses. So we will be looking in the way you describe and propose your financial model how you address all these aspects. That's one of the key parts of the issue you should be considering in your submission.

Next slide. Okay. So in terms of what you're going to submit, there's two main parts to the submission. The first part, I think of it as qualitative. The second part more financial and quantitative.

So the first part -- you would have to refer to section 8.2.8.1 of the NRFP -- is we're going to ask you to describe the model, the financial. There's about five key questions with sub-components. We want good descriptions of how you're going to price these services, how you're going to deal with taking over the services at the beginning, handing potentially the services at the end of the 10 year. Please refer to those questions and give us wholesome responses in that area. The second area is the numbers, the pricing. This is where you're going to come forth and give us your prices for the proposed services. And we prepared an appendix K to, I guess, structure the submission.

Now, in proposing your prices, we are asking that you take into account a series of normalizing assumptions that are listed in section 8.2.8.2 of the NRFP. To be clear, don't break those assumptions. You may look at them. You may say they are not realistic, but they're essentially simplifying modelling assumptions so we can have relatively comparable solutions here. That's something that I ask all submissions to really stick to. That's why we call them normalizing modelling assumptions in the document.

So now I'm going to jump to describing what appendix K is about. So I'm hoping all of you had a chance to look at appendix K. And what I'm presenting here essentially is just the table of contents so I can take you through all the different components. It is a spreadsheet. It's a series of worksheets that have been prepared. I ask that you look at the first two items, the instructions and -- the introduction and the general instructions. There will be some descriptions of how this has been structured and how you need to follow certain aspects, where to put information, where not to put information. Some of the key things to note here -- and there are more instructions in there, but the key ones, and Pelle already touched it, please, when you submit this, password protect this and give that password only to Pelle.

The second one is really to make life easier when it comes to gathering all this information is do not change the structure. You can add rows to it, but do not delete columns, hide, protect, lock anything. It's a bit of an administrative instruction, but just don't mess around with it. You'll see areas where you're allowed to put rows and additional information. It's not really meant -- this template is not really meant to constrain you from providing information. It's really a structure for submitting the pricing and the services. And you'll see that there's colour coding in there. The blue cells are for you to enter your information. There's other colours in there where there's instructions and headings that have been provided for you. Just stay out of anything that's not blue.

Now I'll go into some of the other worksheets so you understand the components that are being requested there. So the way this has been structured really -- the way to think about it is really trying to get to a services catalogue type of document. So the first worksheet really has to do about services being provided to suppliers and agents. What we're asking here is for you to fully describe all the proposed services to these industry players along with the associated price for those services. And the data that we're really looking for here obviously is a description, service name, full description, assumptions around that service, if there are size, weight, volume constraints, all those aspects that could be associated with service, this is where you need to describe that. Obviously the pricing. And you'll see we do ask for some pricing components within each category.

The second worksheet is for the wholesale customers. And government liquor stores are one of these wholesale customers. Again same structure, but now it's for the wholesale customer. We're looking for the same type of information: the service name, the full description, the assumptions, the billing units. And again what's very important, understanding any constraints/assumptions that limit these services. At the same time you're not being limited to giving us -- as an example, you could have base services with add-ons that would kick in depending on different features of what might be ordered and how the service is delivered to a wholesale buyer or an agent. So this is really the place where you would list your entire services complement.

The third one touches on the investment and the capital plan. Here we want to see -- we want you to tell us about how you're going to be deploying your capital, in what areas, full descriptions, the assumptions that you're making, and again the amounts you're looking to recover and the recovery method, is this something that you're looking for -- is the recovery method within the services prices, is the recovery method in some other means you're looking for to recover your investment. This is the area where you need to describe that fully for us.

The last one touches on scale and volumes. We don't know the growth we're going to have across -- 10 years is a long time. So we're asking for just some early indicators of how prices would change as volumes change. So there's two scenarios that are described in that worksheet. Look at them. And we're really looking for percentage changes relative to the proposed prices against those volume changes to give us a sense of how scale would impact your pricing model. Those are the key components of that appendix. Glad to field any questions on that. That's the end of the slides.

MR. AGERUP: Stick to the blue fields.

MR. CATALA: Stick to the blue cells. That's the take-away.

MR. AGERUP: We're moving along a little bit too fast here, but that's okay. We had a few questions that came in beforehand. We could walk through them. So the first question was within the NRFP. In the NRFP there are several references to inventory replenishment, and what is the government's expectation? The answer is supplier and agents working with the service provider. They will determine inventory demand and forecasting. The supplier and agents will own the inventory. Is that crystal clear? Good. Now is the time to ask questions. If you have any questions, feel free to -- we have all the experts here.

Second question. What role would the proponent play regarding this expectation? And the answer is the service provider will work with suppliers and the agents to make it work. For warehouse replenishment, what role will the proponent provide other than the processing purchase order requests from suppliers and agents? I think that's covered in the first two questions. Is that right, Roger?

MR. BISSOONDATT: Yes.

MR. AGERUP: Next question was is the government expecting any regulatory changes to occur over the next five years. And this team, we're not aware of any changes that are planned, but change happens. So there's nothing in the pipeline that we know about.

Who will pay for delivery charges for GLS and for non-GLS? And that's little bit up to you. It depends on the responses we receive from you what you propose in your proposals.

And in section 4.3.2.1, the second paragraph, what will the role of BC LDB's purchasing department be in the future? And the answer is that the LDB will still need to purchase the product immediately before sale to wholesale customers.

In section 5.2.3.1, in the new model will the government continue to cover the credit card fees for sales to wholesale customers? And this is outside of the scope of the NRFP.

Next question. What is VDC parts and IC operations as noted within appendix E.7? Is that wrong? Is that wrong? So, Roger, you will take that away?

MR. BISSOONDATT: Ken, are you here?

MR. McDONNELL: Yeah. The VDC parts is what -- covers a few areas in distribution centre. That is a lot of our wholesale non-stock picks, bottle picks, recoup area for damages. So that's all covered under what we call parts. In other terms, it could be a split case portion of our business, but it also includes some full-case picks in our parts department for wholesale customers who may order some bottles, some cases. All of those orders we process in what we call our parts department. Our other department is full-case pick, which is just pure full-case picks, primarily GLS or large wholesale customers. The other question here is IC operations. That's our inventory control. So that includes -- they do have a responsibility for what we call in our terms replenishment, which is separate from purchasing's replenishment process. That is basically taking reserve inventory, making sure they're located in pick slots to make sure there's orders ready to be picked before the pick process starts. So that's a replenishment in pick zones, plus our inventory control. Any inventory adjustments, cycle counting, anything to do that affects our inventory accounts is under the IC patrol.

MR. AGERUP: All right. And the third one here is please define the role and responsibility of the contract management office. That will be clarified during the negotiation process. And then we've already done this part. So we're done with the presentations. So we're a little bit ahead of schedule, that's okay, unless there's questions now that you have we can answer here. If there are no questions, we'll move on and go for the tour.

Those of you who are not going on the tour, you can stay here. The washrooms, double right around the corner. And there's a cafeteria that you passed on your way in. And we also have some coffee and muffins here. So I think we're just 45 minutes-ish and then we'll come back and we'll finish off with any questions from the tour and anything you've been thinking of while we were gone, and that's it.

MR. BISSOONDATT: Did anyone want to ask any questions before the tour?

AUDIENCE MEMBER: We can take notes?

MR. AGERUP: You can take notes, yeah. No pictures.

MR. McDONNELL: Okay. Couple of issues we have to address before we go down to the warehouse. WorkSafe BC says we have to have steel toes. We've got toe caps. If you have leather shoes, we can put the steel toe caps on. It sounds like a herd of something when we travel, but bear with us. We'll let you take them off as soon as we're off the warehouse floor. Now, there may be some people on the tour that are wearing steel toes and won't need the toe caps. That's fine. And I have vests here. We all have to wear high visibility vests when we go through the building. So I've got those outside for everybody. So grab yourself a vest for those that are taking part in the tour. Toe caps, there's actually three sizes, but for the most part, they'll fit any shoes.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: They work for pointed shoes?

MR. McDONNELL: They'll be a little loose, but they'll work. They don't work on high heels. High heels are a problem because of the attachment. So I've got the vests and toe caps out here, so we'll kind of herd you out here.

(MEETING RECESSED AT 9:59 A.M.)

(MEETING RECONVENED AT 11:02 A.M.)

MR. AGERUP: We're talking about the storage of GLS -- government liquor store equipment. And so is that in scope or out of scope?

MR. BISSOONDATT: I think it would be out of scope because they were done separately because it's going to be our group of stores. So the storage of the image and the stuff we need for the day-to-day running of the stores, that will be our scope.

MR. AGERUP: And then there was a question regarding the contracts over 1 million over the last three years. And that's BC only. So it's not the whole Canada. And question, Donna. The stats that you were delivering downstairs, is that all available in the VDR?

MS. MOHN: Yes, it is.

MR. AGERUP: Okay. Good. Is there any other question that came up that I didn't cover downstairs? Or do you have any questions from the tour that you wanted to ask now? Any questions from the presentation, NRFP? All crystal clear. Okay. So you still have the purchasing@gov.bc.ca you can contact for any questions, concerns. Other than that, it's ending early. Any questions/comments? Yeah, question here. Go ahead.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: There was some files that were not accessible yesterday.

MR. AGERUP: Okay. Talk to Leigh.

MS. MARTIN: In the VDR, do you know if it was an Excel document?

AUDIENCE MEMBER: Yes, it was.

MS. MARTIN: And were you opening it in Chrome or Firefox?

AUDIENCE MEMBER: No.

MS. MARTIN: Okay. If anyone is having trouble with that, we've kind of got to work around it. It's sort of a weird thing. But yeah, I can let you know how to do it.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: It was just a couple.

MS. MARTIN: Yeah. It was probably an Excel document.

MR. AGERUP: At the back.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: If we ask a question, does it go to the group?

MR. PELLE: If it's a good question for the whole group, we like to share it with the whole group. If you have a confidential question, list it as confidential, we'll consider it. In the stage 3, it's one on one. Excellent.

MR. BISSOONDATT: Presentations are going to be posted on the --

MR. AGERUP: Presentations will be posted. There's a mistake on the percentage in one of the slide. I'll fix that before we post it. The transcription will be posted in your VDRs – in every proponent's VDR.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: Is there a list of proponents?

MR. AGERUP: We will make the list of proponents public, yeah.

AUDIENCE MEMBER: "Public" meaning within --

MR. AGERUP: We post it on BC Bid, the list of proponents, probably today or tomorrow. Okay? No more? Last chance. Okay. It's seven past 11:00. That concludes the proponents meeting. Thank you very much for coming.

MR. BISSOONDATT: Thank you very much.
