

BC Corrections - Inmate Television Services Calendar Year 2012

Please note that Inmate Televisions and Television Services are paid for by the Inmate Benefit Fund (IBF). Each correctional centre maintains an IBF which is operated under the trusteeship of the warden and through consultation with the inmate advisory committee.

The fund provides for expenditures not financed by public funds and which can be used for both the collective and individual benefit and welfare of all incarcerated individuals in adult custody centres.

Income to the IBF is derived from operation of a canteen, sale of hobby and craft items, commissions from telephones and vending machines, interest earned on bank accounts maintained for the inmate trust fund and the benefit fund, donations received from inmate work programs and the community, proceeds of sale of abandoned inmate effects, and organized income-producing activities, other than programs approved for inclusion in the inmate work program. Under the trusteeship of the warden, the director, business and finance (DBF), at each centre is the person responsible for the accounting of the IBF.

FMCC & FRCC inmate television services are currently provided via 12 satellite receivers and can only deliver 12 channels to serviced outlets.

Additional information:

On behalf of the Inmate Benefit Fund, in December 2012, BC Corrections negotiated a provincial agreement with a television service provider for inmate television services. The new inmate television services agreement includes a retroactive commencement date of April 1, 2012.

The retroactive commencement date of the inmate television services agreement will result in a reconciliation process between the parties and as a result the financial information provided is subject to change.
