Hello – just a few scheduling questions for you when you have a chance

Minister is wondering if Ministry briefing can be scheduled for 2 hours moving forward and including any that have already been scheduled (May 6th) – thanks yes for sure

May 1st Issue of the Day – can we move to 730am – Meeting w MKC and MSKC has been confirmed for 8:00-9:00 for sure

And one last thing for now – wondering if you are okay with me just doing house trades where we have availability or if I need to run this by you first (if you are okay it could possible mean extra house duty on day when you are already have one or even two) – let me know your thoughts yes thank you kindly

Hi Minister,

Here is the updated letter. However, Rodney and I are unsure on how to properly spell the Nisga'a thank you. Moving forward it will be included in the template.

Dear Friends: Following protocol, I would like to acknowledge that this important occasion is taking place on the traditional territory of the Kwakiutl First Nation.

Welcome to the chiefs, elders, matriarchs, students, faculty, staff and many others who have gathered for North Island College's Mixalakwila Campus Naming Ceremony. I regret that I cannot be there in person, but I'm with you in spirit.

My name is Melanie Mark, I am Nisga'a, Gitksan, Cree and Ojibway and the Minister of Advanced Education, Skills & Training. Education has played such an important role in my life. My grandparents were profoundly impacted by residential school, my grandmother attended St. Michael's. I am the first person in my family to complete high school and graduate from college and university. As Minister, I am proud to be part of a government that is deeply committed to meaningful and lasting reconciliation, especially as it pertains to addressing inequality and lifting people up.

I understand that Mixalakwila means "making what's been dreamt about" or "dream maker." The name of this campus truly represents the dreams and aspirations of the many students who will choose to study close to home at the Mixalakwila Campus. I am confident their hard work and perseverance to find careers that bring them passion, will strengthen the community for generations to come.

Education is key to true and lasting reconciliation. Our government is committed to working together to implement the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the United Nations

Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. When we formed government in 2017, we eliminated tuition for adult upgrading and implemented a province wide program to support former youth in care to attend public colleges and universities tuition free. Last fall, we celebrated Canada's first Indigenous Law program at the University of Victoria.

Together we can make positive change. Thank you for being here today and collectively having the courage, vision and leadership to disrupt the status quo. I've been told there is no act of reconciliation that is too small. I am so proud to be in the canoe with you. Let's keep paddling together.

T'ooyaksim' N'iisim'

Hi Cindy,

I hope you are well.

We realize that this request comes at the very last minute and we are also aware that Minister Mark receives many requests to meet so I will make this brief.

Gonzalo Peralta from Languages Canada would love the occasion to meet with Minister Mark, if at all possible, on April 25th or 26th as he will be in Vancouver during this time. It would be a perfect opportunity to introduce Minister Mark to BC's Language Education Sector.

We are grateful for your time and consideration. We hope a meeting will be possible.

Kind regards,

Tara

Good afternoon Cindy,

I was hoping that I'd be able to update the address of the meeting for Thursday, April 18 at 9:30 with Minister Mark.

Unfortunately our board room will be unavailable due to auditors in our office that week, but we have secured some space at s.15 The address to s.15 s.15

If you could kindly confirm that the change of location is noted and that Minister Mark can still attend.

Thank you!

Not a problem.

Minister Mark will be meeting with the Insulators Vice President, Sustainability Coordinator, and Build Together Co-Chair, Ms. Ashley Duncan alongside retired Business Manager & current sitting member of the BC government’s Climate Solutions and Clean Growth Advisory Council, Mr. Lee Loftus.

I have contacted both today and confirmed with them, the meeting has been slotted into their calendars!

Please do not hesitate to contact me with any further inquiries.

Hi Cindy,

Thursday, April 18th at 9:30 AM works wonderfully! We are located at 233 East 11th Avenue, Vancouver V5T 2C4.

Parking around this area is hard to come by, I would advise Minister Mark to try the lane behind East 11th, there is a public parking lot right beside our building or our drive way should have room as well!

We look forward to Minister Mark's visit!

Subject: FW: AS DISCUSSED: NR quote & GL - Tuition Waiver - April 16th

As discussed.

Tuition waiver improvements see former youth in care enrolment up 326%

COQUITLAM – The number of former youth in care accessing post-secondary education and skills training through the provincial tuition waiver program has increased by 326% since government expanded the program and improved supports for young people aging out of care.

“When we expanded the tuition waiver program, and improved supports for children aging out of care – we hoped that youth in care would get the message that we believe in them and want to see them succeed,” said Premier John Horgan. “The results have been inspiring. These young people were ready for opportunity. They just needed a path to a better future.” [NOT APPROVED]

Premier Horgan and Melanie Mark, Minister of Advanced Education, Skills and Training, joined students, adult allies, faculty and staff at the Douglas College Coquitlam campus to celebrate the 806 former youth in care are pursuing post-secondary education and skills training through the provincial tuition waiver program, and encourage more young people to access it.

“Our government believes in opening doors and creating pathways for students to thrive. The Tuition Waiver program is about breaking down barriers and creating conditions that will empower former youth in care to advance their dreams in careers that they love,” said Mark. “In many cases, these young people have faced tremendous injustices and have shown tremendous resilience through their journey to graduate from highschool. I am so proud of all the students who have and will embrace this educational opportunity to write a new and positive chapter in their lives.” [NOT APPROVED]

In September 2017, Premier John Horgan announced the expansion of the tuition waiver program to all 25 public post-secondary institutions and the Native Education College. In July 2018, the program was expanded to foundation and apprenticeship training programs at 10 union-based training providers. Previously, there was no provincial standard.

In addition, government improved agreements with young adults, which provide financial supports to former youth in care who are pursuing education or life skills training, by increasing benefit amounts and eliminating breaks in coverage.

“For too long youth in care were aging out without the supports to succeed,” said Katrine Conroy, Minister of Children and Family Development. “The tuition waiver program is changing the trajectory of young people leaving care, by giving them hope, and the education and skills they need to pursue opportunity, and build a bright future.” [NOT APPROVED]

Since September 2017, 806 former youth in care have benefitted from the provincial tuition waiver program, compared to 189 youth in 2016-17 under the initial voluntary program. This is an increase of 326%.

Students are enrolled in a wide range programs throughout the province, such as social work, academic arts, nursing, pre-medical studies, trades, business administration and graphics design.

The three schools with the most students attending and receiving the provincial tuition waiver program are Vancouver Island University (93), Camosun College (90), and the University of the Fraser Valley (62). At Douglas College, 57 students are benefiting from the program.
