Hi Katharina

I think the next step is to work with Ministry of Health and/or Health Canada on the scientific understanding of raw milk and food safety. We don't really need more info on policy or legal issues until that aspect is resolved.

Thanks,

Dear Mr. Mack,

Would be possible for one or both of our microbiology and policy consultants whom you met in February, Dr. Joanne Whitehead and/or Bryony Lake, to meet with Ministry policy staff to discuss issues surrounding herdsharing and fresh milk? There was additional material relevant to policy development and legal issues that they did not have time to present at the February meeting, and they could answer any questions that your staff might have.

Sincerely yours,

Ms. Katharina Dittus,
