Subject: Stakeholders list

Good morning, Sarena:

Here is what I use for the stakeholders list. This list has evolved over the years depending on her critic role and she still likes to send the cards to all of them. Some years she will decide she no longer wants to send the card to a particular organization or individual> There are two sheets. One is for orgs that have names positions etc. and the other one is just more of a local nature without positions.

Hopefully this makes sense to you. If you are confused just give me a call. Just to let you know though we are on a conference call until 10 am. But feel free to call after that on our private line S.17

Cheers, I hope you have a fab day!

Hope all is well in DM world!
I don't know if you know it is child welfare media day, but my university student newspaper was invited to participate and so I was invited to write a piece.
Anyways, I thought this is something you might want to read, and maybe share cause you do!

Hi Edena,

I wanted to provide some information to the Minister about an upcoming announcement. The Trust and BC Housing are entering into a partnership to provide $28M ($14M each) to create 225 new affordable housing units.

Attached is a draft news release which is currently with the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. Also attached is our internal briefing note.

We are aiming to announce this as soon as we receive feedback from the Minister responsible for housing.

If you or the Minister have any questions, please let me know.
