Message: As a valued partner of Kinsight, I wish to share with you a message from Tess Huntly, our Director of Adult Services.

For more than 65 years, Kinsight has been providing care and support for individuals in our communities.

One of our services is shared living, through which Kinsight establishes contracts with qualified individuals, who provide shared living services in their homes.

The health and safety and the individuals we serve is our top priority, and we take the trust that has been placed in us to provide care and support very seriously – as it has been throughout our 65-years of providing support in our communities.

As you may have seen or heard through the media, RCMP have now laid charges relating to the death of a shared living resident who passed away in October, 2018 while in the care of a shared living provider. Charges have been filed against both Kinsight and the shared living provider.

This is the first time in our 65-year history that the death of an individual receiving our services has result in a police investigation and criminal charges. Kinsight has cooperated fully with the authorities investigating this death.

We are confident that all care and safety provisions for those we serve, are being met.

Our thoughts are with the family and we have expressed our condolences and offered our support.

As a valued partner to Kinsight, I wanted to reach out to you personally to ensure you were aware of this matter.

Sincerely,

Tess Huntly,

Director of Adult Services

Please see the e-mail below.

We have contracts with this agency in the North Fraser Service Delivery Area, though this circumstance involves adult services only and occurred in 2018. It appears criminal charges are now being laid against the agency and the shared living provider.

I am flagging this in the event you require any information from us; this had not come to my attention previously.

If you can also provide the name of a contact in GSPE as per the Director of Operation's request, that would be appreciated.

Please see the e-mail below.

We have contracts with this agency in the North Fraser Service Delivery Area, though this circumstance involves adult services only and occurred in 2018. It appears criminal charges are now being laid against the agency and the shared living provider.

I am flagging this in the event you require any information from us; this had not come to my attention previously.

If you can also provide the name of a contact in GSPE as per the Director of Operation's request, that would be appreciated.

Message: As a valued partner of Kinsight, I wish to share with you a message from Tess Huntly, our Director of Adult Services.

For more than 65 years, Kinsight has been providing care and support for individuals in our communities.

One of our services is shared living, through which Kinsight establishes contracts with qualified individuals, who provide shared living services in their homes.

The health and safety and the individuals we serve is our top priority, and we take the trust that has been placed in us to provide care and support very seriously – as it has been throughout our 65-years of providing support in our communities.

As you may have seen or heard through the media, RCMP have now laid charges relating to the death of a shared living resident who passed away in October, 2018 while in the care of a shared living provider. Charges have been filed against both Kinsight and the shared living provider.

This is the first time in our 65-year history that the death of an individual receiving our services has result in a police investigation and criminal charges. Kinsight has cooperated fully with the authorities investigating this death.

We are confident that all care and safety provisions for those we serve, are being met.

Our thoughts are with the family and we have expressed our condolences and offered our support.

As a valued partner to Kinsight, I wanted to reach out to you personally to ensure you were aware of this matter.

Sincerely,

Tess Huntly,

Director of Adult Services

Sorry Nadine I was on the PCS community of practice call and hadn't realized you called.

I do not have any information other than the note below from Kinsight Executive Director Christine Scott. I assume there was something in the press that made the agency decide to issue their communication.

I can follow up if needed with Service Delivery if that is needed.

The first time that I heard about this investigation and charges was this email. However, since this was sent to me there have been several news releases. It appears that the newspaper received this information and started reporting before we received the Kinsight communication.

The charges are related to a 54 year old individual (name not released). The agency was charged with failing to provide the necessities of life and they are required to appear in court on March 9. News articles indicate the investigation was 15 months long and very extensive and the individual died due to starvation.

Message: As a valued partner of Kinsight, I wish to share with you a message from Tess Huntly, our Director of Adult Services.

For more than 65 years, Kinsight has been providing care and support for individuals in our communities.

One of our services is shared living, through which Kinsight establishes contracts with qualified individuals, who provide shared living services in their homes.

The health and safety and the individuals we serve is our top priority, and we take the trust that has been placed in us to provide care and support very seriously – as it has been throughout our 65-years of providing support in our communities.

As you may have seen or heard through the media, RCMP have now laid charges relating to the death of a shared living resident who passed away in October, 2018 while in the care of a shared living provider. Charges have been filed against both Kinsight and the shared living provider.

This is the first time in our 65-year history that the death of an individual receiving our services has result in a police investigation and criminal charges. Kinsight has cooperated fully with the authorities investigating this death.

We are confident that all care and safety provisions for those we serve, are being met.

Our thoughts are with the family and we have expressed our condolences and offered our support.

As a valued partner to Kinsight, I wanted to reach out to you personally to ensure you were aware of this matter.

Sincerely,

Tess Huntly,

Director of Adult Services

Thank you Debbie.

Based on the article in the Vancouver Sun, the caregiver has been charged with criminal negligence causing death, and failing to perform a legal duty to provide necessities.

Kinsight is also charged with failing to perform a legal duty to provide necessities. Both the caregiver and the director of Kinsight are expected to appear in court March 9.

I assume Teresa D. is aware, and I will let our ADM know that.

Nadine, Service Delivery is in discussion with Alex Scheiber and I assume Teresa Dobmeier has been apprised. I am not sure I will hear back from anyone in Service Delivery this afternoon for further information.

I would also assume that GSPE has been contacted, though I do not know who our contact is to confirm that – Abbi will know as her team is typically who makes that contact.

Please let me know what further I can do from this end today.

Sorry Nadine I was on the PCS community of practice call and hadn't realized you called.

I do not have any information other than the note below from Kinsight Executive Director Christine Scott. I assume there was something in the press that made the agency decide to issue their communication.

I can follow up if needed with Service Delivery if that is needed.

Please see the e-mail below.

We have contracts with this agency in the North Fraser Service Delivery Area, though this circumstance involves adult services only and occurred in 2018. It appears criminal charges are now being laid against the agency and the shared living provider.

I am flagging this in the event you require any information from us; this had not come to my attention previously.

If you can also provide the name of a contact in GSPE as per the Director of Operation's request, that would be appreciated.

Message: As a valued partner of Kinsight, I wish to share with you a message from Tess Huntly, our Director of Adult Services.

For more than 65 years, Kinsight has been providing care and support for individuals in our communities.

One of our services is shared living, through which Kinsight establishes contracts with qualified individuals, who provide shared living services in their homes.

The health and safety and the individuals we serve is our top priority, and we take the trust that has been placed in us to provide care and support very seriously – as it has been throughout our 65-years of providing support in our communities.

As you may have seen or heard through the media, RCMP have now laid charges relating to the death of a shared living resident who passed away in October, 2018 while in the care of a shared living provider. Charges have been filed against both Kinsight and the shared living provider.

This is the first time in our 65-year history that the death of an individual receiving our services has result in a police investigation and criminal charges. Kinsight has cooperated fully with the authorities investigating this death.

We are confident that all care and safety provisions for those we serve, are being met.

Our thoughts are with the family and we have expressed our condolences and offered our support.

As a valued partner to Kinsight, I wanted to reach out to you personally to ensure you were aware of this matter.

Sincerely,

Tess Huntly,

Director of Adult Services

Please note also that in addition to the service contracts outlined below, there is a contract in place with Jeff Treloar's team for infrastructure: rental and maintenance $75K annually, if this needs to be factored in. Contract no. is R012000148.

Based on my e-mail this morning from Service Delivery, I understand there is discussion occurring with Teresa Dobmeier and GCPE re any action that may be required related to current contracts. I am assuming you are aware of this; please let me know if you need anything further.

Thanks.

Nadine, I just heard back from Service Delivery, EDS Debbie Samija.

Debbie indicated she alerted Alex and given there are no residential services for 0 to 19 there was no follow up required. Alex is working with GCPE.

As per my note below, please let me know of anything further I can provide today.
