Name Examination Process

1 Introduction

One of the first steps for registering a corporation or other entity with the registrar is reserving the name that the entity will use. Name requests are submitted online through the Name Request Online (NRO) system. Up to three choices may be submitted, in order of preference. NRO is used for all name types, i.e. names under the acts list below. The following are the statutory authorities for naming provisions:

- Business Corporation Act (BCA)
 - Section 22 – Reservation of a name
 - Section 26 – Assumed names
 - BCA Regulations Part 3 - Names Section 7
- Society Act
 - Section 3 (3) (Refers to BCA)
- Partnership Act
 - Section 53 – Name of partnership (limited)
 - Section 81 - Registration of General Partnership
 - Section 88 – Registration of sole proprietorship
 - Section 89 - Conflicts
- Cooperative Association Act
 - Division 2 - Name
 - Section 181 – Extraprovincial Registration (Refers to Division 2)
- Financial Institutions Act

Paper Submission:

A few name requests are submitted on paper and data entered by registries staff. This process is out of scope for this procedure manual. For the purposes of this manual, assume all names are submitted online.

This procedure manual documents the decision making process for determining if a name is acceptable as well as the procedures for examining the request in COBRS.

The name examination process is used for registering a new company, changing the name of an existing company, adopting a new name when amalgamating two or more companies and restoration of a previously dissolved company.

2 Name Approval Overview

The purpose of the name approval process is to approve requested names whenever possible. However, you may have to reject a name request for the reasons described in this document; the process is somewhat subjective. If approved, the name is reserved for 56 days.

In principle, a name request must be rejected if

- It does not contain the following three components:
 - Distinctive element
 - Descriptive element
 - Corporate designation (for corporations)
- It is identical to the name of another corporation or society already registered or similar enough to confuse or mislead the public

More detailed criteria can be found in the Name Approval Detailed Description section of this document.

3 Name Examination Process Overview

As stated above, the name request is submitted in NRO. The name review/approval process is done using the COBRS mainframe system. Based on the decision entered, the appropriate letter is sent to the client and the NRO system is updated with the results.

The examination process uses three screens in COBRS:

1. Initial Screen
 - The initial screen, entitled Restriction/Condition screen lists the client's three name choices and highlights the name being considered, starting with the first choice. A name can be rejected on this screen if it does not meet the basic criteria (Distinctive / Descriptive / Corporate designation) or other criteria listed in the Name Approval Detailed Description section.
2. Name Examination Screen ("Manipulation screen")
 - This screen allows you to work with the thesaurus to search for conflicting names. You will enter search criteria, review the search results and indicate if there is a conflict.
3. Accept or Reject screen (Note: the title on this screen is also "Name Examination")
 - This screen allows you to indicate if the name is accepted or rejected, and enter any conditions that apply if accepted or enter a rejection reason if rejected.

A detailed description with screen shots can be found in the Name Examination Process section of this document.

4 Name Approval Detailed Description

4.1 Components

The following are the three components that must generally be included in a name.

The components should appear in the name in the order shown below; i.e.

Distinctive, Descriptive, Corporate Designation.

Distinctive element

- This is the most critical element of the name because it serves to differentiate names having identical or similar descriptive elements.
- Possible distinctive elements include:
 - Geographic location (e.g. Vancouver Tire Shop Ltd.)
 - Personal name (e.g. Sandell's Shoe Store Ltd.)
 - Initials (e.g. TSL Tire shop Ltd.)
 - "Coined" or made up words (e.g. Intertex Shoe Store Ltd.)

Descriptive element

- The descriptive element may describe the nature of business. It allows for the use of identical or similar distinctive elements. (E.g. Allwest Manufacturing Services Ltd., Allwest Marketing Ltd.)

Corporate designation

- Every company name must have, as the last word, the corporate designation; "Limited", "Limitee", "Incorporated", "Incorporee", or "Corporation".
- The abbreviations of these words are interchangeable with their long forms: "Ltd.", "Ltee", "Inc." and "Corp."
- A society name must have, as the last word, a word that implies societal purpose, such as "Society" or "Association", "Foundation" or "Club".
- A company may not use a word that implies societal purpose.
- A partnership, proprietorship, society or cooperative may not use a corporate designation.

4.2 Exceptions

Descriptive before Distinctive

- The descriptive component may precede the distinctive component if:
 - There is a historical precedent (e.g. Café Mexico Inc., Hotel New Hampshire Inc., Air Mill Bay Ltd.)
 - The name is readily identifiable from usage established in a foreign language or refers to a specific type of ethnic dish or service (e.g. Cucina Manila Ltd., Gelato Maria Corp., Taco Del Miguel Corp., Cantina Lugano Inc.)

Personal Names:

A first name is acceptable as the distinctive element when combined with a descriptive element (e.g. John's Shoe Store Ltd.)

Articles:

Articles, such as your, an, a, my, our, are not considered distinctive by themselves (e.g. Your Plumber Inc., Our Coffee House Ltd.) but must include a further distinctive term (e.g. Your Handy Plumber Inc., Our Little Coffee House Ltd.)

Non-company entities:

The system will not allow LTD. but it will allow LTD on a request from a proprietorship or partnership. If you see this in a request, delete the LTD and notify the submitting party.

4.3 Additional Criteria

Special Characters

- Use of special characters (e.g. *, %, #, @) not generally found in common usage as regular punctuation are not allowed.

Exception:

- Ampersand (&) is allowed

Single Word Names

- Single word names are not allowed.

Exception:

- A uniquely coined word that has been trademarked and evidence of the trademark can be presented is allowed (e.g. Harmac Ltd., Exxon Corporation)
- A coined word is considered distinctive enough, that if followed by a geographic location, it would not require a descriptive element. E.g. Altrex International Ltd. Or Altrex Canada Ltd.
- A single word that is really multiple words combined with the spaces removed, similar to a website URL, (e.g. Craftyhomes Ltd.) is acceptable if the name meets the criteria when the words are separated (e.g. Crafty Homes Ltd.)

Well Known Names

- Well known trade names and trademarks will not be allowed in a name without the written consent of the holder. (e.g. Exxon, Xerox, Coke)

Personal Names

- A person's full name is considered to be sufficiently distinctive (e.g. Bill Brown Ltd.)
- Two surnames are generally acceptable (e.g. Brown, Green Inc. or Brown & Green Inc.)
- Initial(s) with a surname are generally acceptable (e.g. J. Brown Corp. or J.D. Brown Ltd.)

Numbers

- Numbers may be used in company names, but only as the distinctive element. (e.g. 123456 Ltd.)
- A year may be used in a name
 - If it is at the beginning of the name there are no restrictions (e.g. 1910 Dog Grooming Ltd.)
 - If it is at the end of the name it must be the year of incorporation or amalgamation and it must be in brackets (e.g. Pacific Enterprises (1989) Ltd.)
- The incorporation number may be used as the name of a BC company. The accepted format is "345678 B.C. Ltd."

Trademarks:

If you think you've seen or heard a name before, on TV or in a publication, perform an Industry Canada Trademark Search (Strategis) before approving the name. This is especially true for coined terms or phrases or names that end with a geographic location.

Obvious contractions of common words (e.g. petrochem for petroleum chemical) are not considered to be coined words for the purposes of single word names.)

Numbered Companies:

A name reservation is not required for numbered companies.

English and French Names

- A company may set out its name in:
 - English form (e.g. ABC Enterprises Ltd.)
 - French form (e.g. Entreprises ABC Ltee.)
 - An English form and a French form (e.g. ABC Enterprises Ltd., in its English form and Entreprises ABC Ltee., in its French form)
 - A combined English and French form (e.g. ABC Enterprises Ltd. – Entreprises ABC Ltee.)

Combined English and French Name:

If the company uses a combined name, it must ensure that it uses its full name in all circumstances.

Extraprovincial Names

- A request by an established extraprovincial company to register in BC using the same name that is used in their home jurisdiction should be approved unless there is a direct conflict in names, i.e. an identical name.
- Federal companies must be accepted under their established name

Assumed Name:

If a name request from an applicant for extraprovincial registration gets rejected, the applicant can apply for an assumed name for use in BC.

Government Connection

- The word “Government” (in English or French) is not allowed.
- Other words that imply connection with or endorsement by any government (e.g. ministry, bureau, secretariat, commission, certified) require written consent of the government
- The use of “British Columbia”, “B.C.” or “Provincial” as the distinctive element is considered to imply connection with the Government of the Province of BC and will be approved only if there is no conflict on the register and provided the applicant obtains, and submits, written consent from Office of Protocol, Intergovernmental Relations Secretariat. (This is based on the Provincial Symbols and Honours Act) (e.g. BC Cancer Agency, The Provincial Wheelchair Sports Society)
- Use of the words, “British Columbia” and “B.C.” will be accepted without consent if they are placed at the end of a name and before the corporate designation (e.g. Pacific Warehouse Storage B.C. Ltd.)
- The use of brackets with the words “British Columbia” implies affiliation with another company incorporated elsewhere and will only be accepted with evidence of the existence of the affiliate (e.g. Pacific Warehouse Storage (B.C.) Ltd.)
- An extraprovincial company may not use BC or British Columbia in a corporate name unless it is federally incorporated and the head office is located in BC.

Federal Companies:

A name reservation is not required for federal companies.

Objectionable Names

- A name that is considered to be objectionable on public grounds is not acceptable.
- A name should be rejected if it includes a vulgar expression, obscene word or connotation, racial, physical or sexual slur.

Public Figures and Celebrities

- The use of names of public figures or celebrities cannot be accepted without the written consent of the person or persons named.

Crown or Royal Family

- A name may not imply a connection with the Crown or Royal Family; if it could be remotely construed as being connected to the Royal Family, the name should be rejected. If the descriptive element is broader in nature it should be rejected, if it is related to a specific occupation not likely to be performed by the Royal Family it can be approved (e.g. Royal Properties Ltd. or Royal Holdings Ltd. should be rejected, but Royal Plumbing Ltd. can be approved.)
- If the reference is a geographic location it can be approved (e.g. Prince George Properties Ltd. is acceptable).

Restricted Terms

- To avoid misrepresentation and confusion, a number of terms and names are prohibited or require consent from the representative body that governs the name or term.
- For professional bodies and service clubs, refer to the Restricted Word List for the most common restrictions and the consent required. The restricted Word List is maintained in the system; an extract can be found in Appendix B – Restricted Words. Appendix C – Restriction / Condition Text contains an extract from the system of the text that will be displayed if a restricted word is encountered.
- Occasionally an applicant will request a name that includes a term that is not listed but the general public would construe as a profession; in these cases the applicant needs to have consent from the applicable professional body or service club.
- The most common examples are listed below, however the list is not exhaustive as new groups or government agencies form constantly. Always ensure that a name does not imply an official affiliation that does not really exist.
 - Professional (e.g. physician, legal, massage therapist)
 - Service Clubs (e.g. Lions, Kiwanis)
 - For a name that implies an affiliation with a larger body, perform a google search to determine if the larger body exists. If it does, consent is required. If it does not, the name may be approved. (E.g. Canadian Association of Canary Fanciers – BC Branch)
 - Municipalities and Emergency Services
 - If a name implies a connection to a Municipal, provincial or emergency services organization consent is required from the City Clerk, Police Chief or Fire Chief (e.g. Victoria Police Victims Counselling)
 - Chambers of Commerce / Boards of Trade
 - These are incorporated under the Federal Board of Trade Act (administered by Industry Canada)

- If the name implies connection to a community (incorporated or not) with a population of at least 1500, the client can apply to Industry Canada for incorporation (e.g. Mill Bay Chamber of Commerce)
- If the group has a broader focus (e.g. BC Iranian Chamber of commerce) the client can register under the BC society Act.
- Financial Terms
 - The following terms, or any name that implies the operation of a trust company, credit union or insurance underwriter, require consent from the Financial Institution Commission:
 - Trust
 - Trustco
 - Deposit
 - Loan
 - Insurance
 - Life
 - Consent is not required for the following:
 - “Insurance” followed by a term such as agency, broker, services or managementNames that use one of the listed terms but do not imply operation of a trust company, etc. (e.g. Larry’s Car Loans)
 - The term “Bank” requires consent from the Federal Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions unless it refers specifically to a non-financial activity (e.g. Food Bank)
- Motorcycle / Car / Truck Manufacturer Names
 - These require consent from the appropriate manufacturer (e.g. General Motors)
 - Model names that are trademarked, if used in a name referring to a motor-related activity, also required consent of the trademark holder (e.g. Corvette, Mustang, Mini)
- Telephone Numbers
 - If a name contains what appears to be a telephone number, the applicant must obtain consent from Telus, who has authority over telephone numbers in their area codes and toll-free numbers. (e.g. 911 Dispatchers Ltd., 1-800-Hotfood Inc.)

4.4 Name Conflicts

- A name must be rejected if it is identical to the name of another corporation already registered or similar enough to confuse or mislead the public.

Exception

- If a name is similar, but not identical, the proposed name may be accepted on the condition that the applicant obtain written consent from the existing company.

It displays the original name requested, an indication of how many names were requested and which one you are looking at, the submitting party and client names as well as any additional information included with the request (from the Additional Information field in NRO). As you examine the requested names and either accept or reject the name, the results of your examination, for each of the three requested names, will be displayed on this screen.

5.2.1 NAME EXAMINATION SEARCH TECHNIQUES

The system will search for existing names on the corporate register that match whatever is in the Requested Name field. You control the search by manipulating the name prior to searching. You can use whatever portion of the name you think is appropriate. The key to an effective search is to reduce the search criteria in a proposed name to its most meaningful terms to minimize the number of pages of results. The system will return potential matches; it is up to you to decide if there is something in the name that makes it distinct.

The system will search phonetically, i.e. it will search for terms that sound the same as the entered term (e.g. It treats “C” and “K” as if they were the same).

Try to focus on the distinctive element and eliminate the descriptive term whenever possible. For example, if the requested name is “Giant Eagle Construction Ltd.”, search for “Giant Eagle”, not “Giant” or “Eagle” or “Construction”. This will also return descriptive terms that are not listed in the thesaurus but should be considered a conflict (e.g. La Traviata Trattoria Ltd. Vs. La Traviata Spaghetti House Inc.)

A Wildcard (%) can be used anywhere in the name, when searching. The system will search for names that match the entered characters, with any characters in the position of the wildcard character. (E.g. plumb% will return plumber, plumbing, plumbed.)

A Truncation () character can be used to limit the search to the characters entered, any names that match the entered characters but have more characters following the entered characters will not be returned. (E.g. PLU will not return plumb, plumber, plumbing, plumbed)

Thesaurus

The system’s Thesaurus groups words that are similar in sound or similar in meaning. If you enter one of the terms in a grouping, the system will search using all of the terms in the grouping. (Refer to Appendix A – Thesaurus for an extract of the thesaurus from the system)

Example 1 - Grouping 1 includes the following based on sound:

- AERO
- AIRO
- AROW
- ERO

If you search for AERO, the system will search for all the terms in the grouping. Note how a minimal number of characters are included.

Tip:

Holdings, Enterprises and Ventures are three generic descriptions that can be used. They do not conflict with each other.

Tip:

You can use multiple wildcards (%) or truncations () in a search, but not a combination of the two.*

Use truncation () when searching initials with vowels.*

Duplicate Letters:

The system search function ignores duplicate letters in a word (e.g. arrow and arow are considered the same)

Case:

The system search function is not case sensitive (e.g. Aero is the same as aero)

Name Examination Process

Example 2 – Grouping 6 includes the following based on meaning:

- ACCEPT
- ASET
- CAPTIAL
- CAPITOL
- CREDIT
- EQUIT
- FINANCE
- FUND
- INVEST
- LOAN
- MORTGAG
- MUTUALFUND
- SECURIT

Final Consonant:

Thesaurus entries usually end in a consonant, e.g. buil, const, develop, to capture variations of a name.

Again, if you enter one of these terms the system will search for all of them.

The following screen shot shows one page of the results from searching for “mine”.

- Common geographic terms (e.g. Canadian, Great Western, Vancouver Island, etc.)
- Common Surnames (e.g. Smith, Turner, etc.)
- Common Initials (e.g. A.B.C. or D.O.G. (the system will invoke the thesaurus for dog))

Introduction

In order to register a BC company extraprovincially in Alberta (AB) and/or Saskatchewan (SK) under the New West Partnership Trade Agreement (NWPTA), clients must first apply for their name in each jurisdiction they wish to register in (unless the client's BC company is a numbered company, or the client uses an assumed numbered name to register extraprovincially). A company can choose to register extraprovincially at any point; however, by requesting extraprovincial name(s) at the same time as requesting a BC name, a client increases their chances of the company names being consistent across all jurisdictions. BC Registry Services (Registries) is able to facilitate an AB NUANS/SK name reservation if they are submitted at the same time the client applies for their name in BC. This procedure outlines how Registries staff facilitate AB/SK name requests, but does not address the BC name request process in detail. For complete instructions on how a BC company name is reserved, refer to: procedure coming soon.

Name Requests Not Required when Using a Numbered Name:

Numbered BC companies and companies who choose to use their BC incorporation number as an assumed extraprovincial name do not require name searches to register extraprovincially in AB/SK.

The service described in this procedure is only available to clients who are creating a new BC company or applying for a change of name to an existing BC company that is extraprovincially registered in AB/SK already. The names must be requested using the Registries Names Requests Online Application (NRO). By using this service, clients will be provided with the opportunity to have Registries staff facilitate their name requests in all 3 jurisdictions.

If a client is registering an existing BC company extraprovincially in AB/SK, Registries cannot facilitate the extraprovincial name request. Under these circumstances, the client must arrange for their own AB/SK name requests prior to registering in AB/SK. Clients can also facilitate their own AB/SK name requests for a new BC company as well; however, they will be required to register extraprovincially in a separate transaction from their BC incorporation, amalgamation, or continuation in.

For more information on registering extraprovincially in AB/SK, refer to: Corporations – Registering BC Companies Extraprovincially \(NWPTA\). For more information on changing the name of an existing BC company that is extraprovincially registered in AB/SK, refer to: Corporations – Maintaining Extraprovincial Registrations \(NWPTA\).

While there are no filing fees required to register extraprovincially under the NWPTA, clients must pay the name request fees for each jurisdiction. Registries staff forward AB name requests to Dye & Durham for completion using the NUANS system. SK name requests are submitted directly by Registries staff to the SK online corporate registry system. When name searches are facilitated by Registries, the AB NUANS fee is $32.00 and the SK name reservation fee is $50.00. These fees are in addition to the $30.00 (+ $1.50 service fee) BC name request fee. If the BC name request is rejected, Registries staff will advise the client by email and any collected AB/SK name request fees will be automatically credited by NRO. If the BC name request is approved, the fees associated with the AB/SK name requests will be automatically processed. The fees associated with the BC name request are used whether or not the name is approved or rejected. If the BC name is approved and the name is not available in AB/SK, an assumed name can be applied for at no additional charge to the client.

Processing Refunds:

If a BC name request is rejected, and the request contained a request for AB/SK names, NRO will automatically credit the client's BCOOnline account or credit card with the fees for the AB/SK name searches.

Hard Copy Name Requests:

When name requests are submitted to Registries using a NR form, staff manually enter the information into NRO. This form does not contain a specific field for asking Registries to facilitate AB/SK name requests. This type of request would need to be explicitly outlined in the Additional Information field or on a separate sheet.

- f) Send the email.

Definition of Opinion

Letters:

Name requests are not officially approved in AB. Instead, a NUANS Report and opinion letter are provided to the client, outlining exact name matches as well as any other possible conflicts that could cause confusion. Ultimately, it is the client's decision to either use the name or select a new/assumed name.

Responsibility to Inform Clients of Actual or Possible Name Conflicts:

Registries staff is not responsible for interpreting the results of AB/SK name requests. If the results included actual or possible name conflicts, staff simply forward the attachments onto the client who will review the documents and determine if a new search or an assumed name will be required.

5. Update NRO with Name Search Results

Important: Name search results for AB are entered into NRO, regardless of the outcome. If a name conflict exists for SK, a Reservation Number and Expiry Date of Reservation will not be issued; therefore, cannot be entered into NRO. When this occurs, step (5) can be disregarded for the jurisdiction of SK pending instructions from the client, or the SK Corporate Registry (i.e.: adoption of an assumed name, re-application for a new name, etc.).

- a) Open NRO from the Staff All Services Menu in an internet browser and navigate to the Status of Your Name Approval Requests screen (see steps 1 a – d).

NAME APPROVAL REQUEST INSTRUCTIONS

IMPORTANT – READ CAREFULLY

RESEARCH YOUR CHOICES!

The Names Examiner searches the Corporate Register only. This register includes the names of corporations incorporated or registered extraprovincially in British Columbia. It does not include names of British Columbia firms, trademarks or corporations registered outside British Columbia. If you want to ensure your name is not used outside of British Columbia, you could also access the Trademarks database at www.strategis.gc.ca, or you may wish to search other jurisdictions in Canada. Most public business and trademark registers in Canada are reflected in the NUANS database, which may be searched for a fee through private search firms.

The approval of any name is at the discretion of the Registrar. You are paying for three choices. Do not commit to any name before it is approved. Provide three choices for each company you wish to name, in descending order of preference. Check them out for potential conflicts through telephone listings, business directories and other publications.

Occasionally this office will reject all three of your choices. If that happens, it will be necessary for you to complete another Name Approval form with three more choices and submit it to this office with another reservation fee.

GENERAL

This form is used for the approval of all corporate and business names in British Columbia.

The first step in incorporation (company, society, cooperative association, financial institution) or registration of firms (partnership, proprietorship) or extraprovincial companies, is the approval of the name through the Name Reservation Section of the Corporate Registry.

Once your name is approved, it is reserved for you for a period of 56 calendar days. Any renewals of the reservation period will require payment of another reservation fee.

If you need assistance call our help telephone number 1 877 526-1526.

Once your name is reserved, the next step is to submit the necessary information to incorporate a company or society, register a proprietorship, partnership or limited partnership or register a foreign entity as an extraprovincial company.

Please go to the Corporate Registry's website for information on how to incorporate or register, as well as information on other services provided by the Corporate Registry.

The website address is: www.bcregistryservices.gov.bc.ca

Approval of a name by the Registrar for either a corporation or a firm does not provide a proprietary right or interest in the name under any circumstances. It is intended solely to protect the public interest by:

- preventing names of corporations which are so similar as to confuse or mislead; and
- providing a record which allows the public to determine which individuals are associated with a corporation or firm name.

A corporation or a firm name may be registered under the same name as another firm. As a result there are many duplications of firms names, however, a firm or a corporation name will not be accepted if it can be confused with another corporate name.

FIRM NAMES (partnership, proprietorship, limited partnerships, limited liability partnership)

Registration of a firm does not provide any protection for that name and does not mean that the name will be available if you decide to incorporate a company using this name.

Fees

The payment of fees in advance is a mandatory requirement of doing all business with the Corporate Registry office. The fee to submit a Name Request to the Corporate Registry by mail is $30.00

Applicants are urged to consult the current Fee Schedule. Payment of the wrong amount is a common cause for the rejection of name requests. Cheques and money orders are to be made payable to the Minister of Finance.

PRIORITY SERVICE

Names are processed in the order of time of receipt. Upon request and on payment of an additional fee, an application will be processed in priority to others, normally within 24 hours of receipt.

PROCESS

This form allows you to make a maximum of three choices, in order of preference, for each name approval. If you wish to have more than one name approved, you must complete an additional form and pay another fee. Your first choice for a name may be approved, if available, and held for a period of 56 calendar days. Any renewals of the reservation period will require payment of another reservation fee. Your 2nd and 3rd choices are not examined unless the initial choice of name is not available. Regardless of whether your three choices are all examined or not, the full fee is charged.

A name approval request may be made on this form, or in writing with the same information as is required on this form.

You can apply for your name in the following ways:

NAME COMPONENTS

In assessing names, the Registrar's staff analyze them according to their constituent components. The form of name acceptable in principle consists of a distinctive element, followed by a descriptive element and ending with a corporate designation (if applicable).

e.g. ABC Manufacturing Ltd.

DISTINCTIVE ELEMENT

The distinctive element serves to differentiate names having identical or similar descriptive elements, and for that reason, is the most important element to be examined in the name.

Names such as "Tire Shop Ltd." and "Shoe Store Ltd." lack an appropriate distinctive element and would be rejected for that reason.

They would be acceptable, if prefixed with an additional distinctive element (e.g. coined word, geographical location or personal name) that would distinguish them from all the other tire shops and shoe stores.

e.g. Vancouver Tire Shop Ltd. Sandell's Shoe Store Ltd.

Coined and made-up words are acceptable distinctive elements, provided they do not conflict with others already registered.

e.g. Intertex Enterprises Ltd. Fabuform Diet Centre Ltd.

A uniquely coined word, used in addition to a geographical location (e.g. Altrex Canada Ltd.), is normally considered sufficiently distinctive by itself that a descriptive element is not usually required.

DESCRIPTIVE ELEMENT

The descriptive element is useful in describing the nature of the business as well as expanding the options available. It allows for use of identical or similar distinctive elements, which might be desirable in developing a particular presence in the marketplace.

e.g. Victoria Brake Shop Ltd. Victoria Stationery Ltd.

CORPORATE DESIGNATION

Incorporating companies must have as the last word in the name, the corporate designation, "Limited", "Limitee", "Incorporated", "Incorporee" or "Corporation".

For all purposes, using the abbreviations of these words (e.g. "Ltd.", "Ltee.", "Inc." or "Corp.") is acceptable.

Extrajurisdictional companies may have "Limited Liability Company" or "LLC." as the last word in their name.

The corporate designation is not applicable to a firm name, society or cooperative name.

Firm names for partnerships and proprietorships cannot use "Ltd.", "Inc." or "Corp." in their names, but they may use "Company" or "Co."

Firm names for limited partnerships must use "Limited Partnership" at the end of the name.

Firm names for limited liability partnerships must use "Limited Liability Partnership" or "LLP" at the end of the name.

Societies should have the designation "Society" or "Association" as the last word in their name. Companies are precluded from the use of these words in their names.

Cooperatives should use the word "Cooperative" in their name and may also use "Association", "Society", "Union" and "Exchange".

SINGLE WORD NAMES

Single word names (such as International Limited) are normally not sufficiently distinct from other names containing the same word and generally will not be approved.

An exception may be allowed if the proposed, single-word name contains a coined word that has been trademarked and evidence of the trademark is presented with the name request. Each case will be determined on its merits.

Obvious contractions of common words (e.g. Petrochem, being a contraction of petroleum and chemical) are not considered to be coined words for the purposes of single-word names.

NUMBER NAMES

Numerals may be used in company names as the distinctive element. A year may be used in a name provided that it is the year of incorporation, amalgamation, change of name, or registration.

e.g. 123456 Enterprises Ltd. Pacific Enterprises (1997) Ltd.

The incorporation number may be used as the name of a British Columbia company. The accepted format is "345678 B.C. Ltd.".

A name reservation or fee is not required for B.C. companies using just their incorporation number. The name will be given according to the next available number at the time of incorporation.

Numbered companies from other jurisdictions, continuing into British Columbia and wishing to retain their numbered names, will be required to conform with the name requirements of this province.

PERSONAL NAMES

In most cases, a natural person's full name will be considered to be sufficiently distinctive and therefore acceptable.

e.g. Bill Brown Ltd. John Smith Inc.

Two surnames, or initials with a surname, are normally accepted.

e.g. Brown, Green Inc. J.R. Black Corp.

WELL KNOWN NAMES

Names, which include well known trade names and trademarks, will not be allowed without the advance written consent of the holder.

e.g. Exxon, Xerox, Coke

EXTRAJURISDICTIONAL NAMES

Special consideration will be given to established extrajurisdictional companies applying for registration in the province, provided there is not a direct conflict in names.

SPECIAL CHARACTERS

The use of special characters (such as % or *) should be avoided in corporate and business names.

Some special characters may not be recognized by computer, will not print accurately and may not be allowed.

The "©" symbol will not be approved in a name under any circumstances.

NO SUGGESTION OF GOVERNMENT CONNECTION

The word "government" (in either its English or French form) will not be allowed. Other words which might imply connection with, or endorsement by, any government require written consent of that government. Examples of other words which imply government connection are "ministry", "bureau", "secretariat", "commission" and "certified".

The use of "British Columbia" or "BC" as the distinctive element in any name is considered to imply connection with the Government of the Province of British Columbia. Use will be accepted only on the written consent of that government, usually obtained from the Protocol Office, Intergovernmental Relations Secretariat, after the name has been approved by the Registrar.

Use of the words "British Columbia" and "BC" will be accepted without consent, if they are placed at the end of a name and before the corporate designation.

e.g. Pacific Warehouse Storage BC Ltd.

NO SUGGESTION OF CONNECTION WITH CROWN OR ROYAL FAMILY

A name which suggests or implies a connection with the Crown, any living member of the Royal family, or endorsement by the Crown or Royal family will not be accepted without the written consent from the appropriate authority after the name has been approved by the Registrar.

e.g. Prince Charles Tea Room Ltd.

This does not apply to references in a name to geographical locations such as Prince George, Prince Rupert and references to New Westminster as the Royal City.

The use of the words "Crown" or "Royal" in combination with another word(s) that does not imply connection with the Crown or Royal family may be allowed.

e.g. Triple Crown Painting Ltd. Royal Star Holdings Ltd.

OBJECTIONABLE NAMES

Names that are considered to be objectionable on public grounds will not be accepted.

A name will not be approved if it includes a vulgar expression, obscene word or connotation, racial, physical or sexual slur.

The use of names of public figures will not be accepted without the advance written consent of the person named.
