Since then, this team has been combined with both BC Stats and Data BC in the Integrated Data Division of the Ministry of Jobs, Trade and Technology. In order to

I am writing to request your participation on a Deputy Board that will offer continued advice and direction to this initiative. While much was accomplished over the last year there is more work to do, work that requires both your input and your leadership. This initiative is one that reaches across all of government, into crowns and agencies, into universities and into the private sector and it needs guidance, leadership and innovation from people such as you.

In advance of a first meeting, I would offer Hayden Lansdell (hayden.lansdell@gov.bc.ca) up to provide you a more in-depth briefing on the work that has already been done as well as the plan moving forward. Dear Scott

It was great to see you yesterday in Kelowna and once again, congratulations on your appointment as Deputy Minister. What a fantastic opportunity for you - and for the province. Linda and I would welcome the chance to talk with you about some of the work we have been doing within BC and increasingly how that is connected with international initiatives.

I know you have little or no time to read so won't flood you with unwanted information. A conversation would probably be much more efficient. I have however, attached, a paper that was published in Australia late last year that describes our work with the networks in BC.

We will look forward to meeting with you whenever that may be possible.

All the very best,

Scott,

Thanks for these updates – I know how difficult it can be to maintain this type of regular communication to all staff, but I can assure you that these notes are appreciated by everyone in the ministry.

We haven't met in person yet, as I was in CMEC meetings in Eastern Canada when you first arrived, s.22 . I imagine that Ramona has filled you in on my portfolio, but I am accountable for K-12 Partner Relations (mainly with the BCSTA, BCSSA, BCPVPA, BCCPAC, and BCASBO), Intergovernmental Relations, Public Libraries, Literacy, and a variety of special projects including teacher professional development and leadership development for K-12.

I look forward to attending the 15-minute block of weekly ExCom meetings, but more importantly, am looking to working together on important files and gear up for what will surely be a busy fall season!

Over the past week Executive and I have continued to brief the Minister and meet with a variety of stakeholders. The meetings have gone well and it has been great to reconnect with those in the education sector. I am looking forward to next week's BCSSA Summer Academy after which I'll report back to you on key themes of the event and what I hear from superintendents.

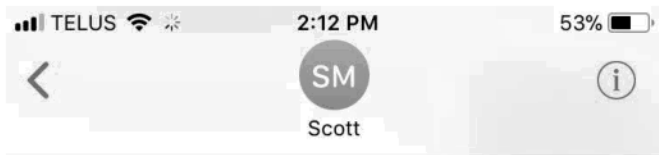

I am happy to provide you an update on staffing. Effective September 5, 2017, I am pleased to announce the appointment of Reg Bawa, Assistant Deputy Minister and Executive Financial Officer. Reg will join the ministry to lead both the Capital and Resource Management & Corporate Services divisions; re-profiled as the Resource Management and Executive Financial Office division.

Reg is a highly regarded public servant who brings exceptional experience and expertise to the role. Reg is coming to us from the Ministry of Children and Family Development where he was ADM & EFO of Finance & Corporate Services. Reg has been in the public service for 25 years; starting in 1992 with the Ministry of Finance, Superannuation Commission and progressing to Executive Director, Banking & Cash Management Branch with the Provincial Treasury prior to the Ministry of Children and Family Development. Reg's other career stops have included the Office of the Comptroller General, Provincial Treasury, Service BC, Provincial Revenue and most interesting – in the Ministry of Education as Director of Funding and Compliance. His experience also includes building effective relationships and leading and implementing corporate projects. Please join me in welcoming Reg back to the ministry!

Keith Godin and Shanna Mason will continue to lead the respective divisions until September 5, 2017.
