My understanding is even if Min Falcon is successful at getting a net-zero contract, labour costs will still increase significantly each year due mainly to increased benefits costs and employees moving up pay grades.

Would you have an estimate of how much more it costs the gov't each year for its employees...excluding any pay raises negotiated through a collective agreement?

1. BCPSEA and BCTF will work with the Board to designate essential service levels for the BCTF bargaining unit;
2. BCTF members may initiate job action beyond Phase 1 up to and including a complete withdrawal from all duties including instructional duties for a maximum of three consecutive instructional days (the "Initial Expanded Job Action")

after providing BCPSEA with notice of not less than two school days:

3. For the remainder of the instructional days during the calendar week in which the initial Expanded Job Action ends, BCTF members must perform at least duties as contemplated under Phase 1;
4. Following the initial Expanded Job Action, on an interim basis during the designation process, BCTF members may withdraw from all duties including instructional duties for one out of five instructional days in each calendar week following the week in which the initial Expanded Job Action ends (the "Continuing Job Action");
5. BCTF will provide notice of not less than two school days to BCPSEA and employers of any Continuing Job Action beyond Phase 1 it intends to undertake;
6. During any job action, BCTF members will not picket, block access or egress or otherwise restrict or cause to be restricted in any way, the full and complete access to schools by members of all support unions or impede the operation of other employers who occupy the same premises as schools or school districts;
7. No job action by BCTF members beyond that contemplated in this interim order may be undertaken except with the express authorization of the Board;
8. This interim order will be reviewed on a weekly basis commencing at the beginning of the week of March 12, 2012 and may be varied, modified or amended as the circumstances require and the Board finds to be appropriate;
9. Any issue relating to the application or interpretation of this interim order will be raised as soon as possible and will be dealt with by the Board as expeditiously as possible.

Hope this helps. My guys have sent along through Athana's group as well. The list focuses on the stuff already in the hopper. My guys will flesh out the dates on the newly announced projects as well.

Hey, is there a list of schools and their timelines for construction, RFP's etc?

Thanks,

Neil

Hi, Alisha:

Sorry....forgot that Neil was invited to this meeting....should have had his name in the list of attendees in the subject line. Will Neil be attending in person? Now that the meeting is over the lunch hour I will have to provide catering services.

Thanks,

Hi Lisa, I would be happy to meet with you during that week. Any day but Monday would work. My assistant Alisha can work something out with you.

Thanks,

Neil

Dear Neil,

My name is Lisa Fratpietro and I work in a development and alumni engagement capacity here at UBC. Bruce Young was most helpful in providing information to you about our event in the fall with Mr. Martin. I was so pleased that you were able to attend. I will be traveling to Victoria the week of March 5th and I'm wondering if we could possibly meet for lunch or at another convenient time? I should be in Victoria for a few days and am currently confirming a number of meetings. We are working to connect with our alumni to solicit feedback and to let them know a little more about what is happening here at UBC and to develop meaningful connections in the community. I know that your time is precious and I would be most appreciative to be able to have the opportunity to meet with you.

With my best,

Lisa
