Hi Minister,

No problem at all. Just to check, would you still like staff assistance with this event? If so, I'll coordinate with Joan for direction (it'll likely be that I'll either fly over with you or Joan may drive back to Vancouver early on Thursday and meet you there).

Thanks! –Riley.

I recall that you mentioned s.22 would pick you up from the event tomorrow night in Vancouver. It looks as though the award portion of the night wraps up around 9:45pm, so I think any time after that would work for s.22 to get you.

A quick note to let you know that s.22 so I have booked both you and Riley on a later Helijet flight and have worked with the organizers to have you speak a little later on in the evening. You will arrive to the event around 7:30pm, have dinner and speak at approximately 9:00pm. Agenda and details are in your calendar, but do let me know if you have any questions.

This would be the closing of that loop. Thank you for forwarding on. Lia will add this to her list of event invites/meeting requests to go through with Joan and yourself in a scheduling meeting.

We have met a number of times through my work with Inventa both pre public life in the advertising world, but also more recently with the work Inventa does for the BC Government. As you might recall we ran the LNG conference last week for the Ministry of Natural Gas Development and we run the FIND YOUR FIT tour for the Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Skills Training.

But today I reaching out to you on my charity side for KidSport. I think Michelle Stilwell may have mentioned the Gift of Sport event on Dec 14th but I wanted to send you a formal invitation in hopes you might be able to attend. Your Ministry has been amazing at supporting KidSport BC and I would love to welcome you to our Vancouver event to thank you personally and to give you a sense of the great work we are doing in Vancouver.

Dear Peter,

I would like to formally invite you to join us for an elegant evening of inspiring stories, entertainment, and holiday spirit all to benefit families in need through KidSport. At KidSport Vancouver, we believe that no kid should be left on the sidelines and all should be given the opportunity to experience the positive benefits of organized sports. KidSport provides support to children by removing financial barriers that would otherwise prevent them from playing organized sport.

The KidSport Vancouver "Gift of Sport" event is on Monday December 14th and we hope you can be our guest.

Monday, 14 December 2015 From 6:30 PM to 9:30 PM
Stanley Park Pavilion
610 Pipeline Road in Stanley Park

We have confirmed some amazing sponsors for the evening such as Deloitte, Absolute Software and Canaccord Genuity and also hope to have 250 business and community leaders in Vancouver in attendance. The event will also have Olympians and sport ambassadors as well as KidSport grant recipient families sharing their stories with the audience. The evening will also feature a great silent and live auction to help raise even more money for KidSport Vancouver.

Good Afternoon Minister,

First let me thank you for having given me so much of your time during my previous visit to BC. You will remember that at that time I promised I would be returning toward the end of October. And that visit is now upon us. As you will know by now, we are hosting a reception the evening of October 26th at the Royal BC Museum (invitation attached). I hope that I will see you there. We have many special guests attending but of particular interest is world renowned recording artist Bryan Adams. It will be a very enjoyable night.

As a follow up to our previous discussion, I am writing to see if we can have a brief meeting when I am in Victoria next week, October 26 - 28. As promised during our last discussion, we have some preliminary recommendations we'd like to discuss with you.

If your schedule accommodates (or if your Chief of Staff or Deputy are available), it would be great if we could connect for a short update meeting to brief you on the study we are undertaking and the opportunities that exist for the music industry in BC. We look forward to hearing from you and hopefully meeting. We will also be following up with your office to check availability.

Thank you again for your interest in music!

Graham

Peter, as per our conversation about setting up a meeting between yourself and Komoks First Nations next Monday. If you are able and willing, please have your staff contact my LA Brianna Green and see if I can cover your house duty later in the day if that would free up some time for you to meet with Chief and council. They would need no more than 30 minutes and Brianna should have a briefing note. s.13

Many thanks,

I have been speaking with the organizer of the BC Wheelchair Tennis Championships, and she's hoping that you may be able to arrive between 1:30 and 2:00pm now instead. Hi Kellie

I just wanted to clarify -- there was a comment this morning that the property tax increase was "up to the mayors". It did not seem key to interrupt the conversation – but just for MPF reference – the 3% is in fact in the Act, so TransLink increases its revenue by this amount without any additional approvals from the Mayors. Hope this makes sense!
Thx

Investment plan calculations of property taxes

196 (1) Subject to subsection (2), each investment plan must,

(a) for the first applicable year, reflect, as the total revenue that may be raised by the authority from property taxes in that applicable year, the total property tax revenue contemplated for that applicable year by the strategic plan that is in effect in the investment plan preparation year, and

(b) for each subsequent applicable year, reflect, as the total revenue that may be raised by the authority from property taxes in that applicable year, an amount that is not greater than the sum of

(i) 103% of the total revenue contemplated to be raised from standard property taxes in the preceding applicable year, and

(ii) $18 million.

(2) If it is proposed to increase the amount of standard property tax revenue that the authority may realize in any applicable year to an amount that is greater than the amount determined in accordance with subsection (1), the investment plan must set out the additional amount of standard property tax revenue that is proposed for that applicable year.

(3) Subject to section 16 (3), the authority must not, for any applicable year, assess property taxes in such a way that the total amount of revenue raised by the authority from property taxes in that year is greater than the total revenue amount reflected for that year in the strategic plan.

FACTSHEET

November 2015

Ministry of Children and Family Development

Adoption Awareness Month

The Government of British Columbia has proclaimed November as Adoption Awareness Month. The Ministry of Children and Family Development is taking this month-long opportunity to raise awareness about children and youth in care who are waiting for an adoptive home, and to recognize adoption as a valued way to build a family.

Key Facts:

- Children and youth in the permanent care of B.C.'s Ministry of Children and Family Development may be placed for adoption through the ministry.
- Permanent care mainly occurs when the courts have determined that the child or youth cannot return to the care of their birth parent(s). For these children and youth, the ministry makes plans for permanency. These plans can include:
 - Adoption, including foster caregiver adoption.
 - Transfer of custody: this transfers custody of the child or youth to someone with whom they have a strong connection.
 - Ensuring a child or youth has lifelong connections with significant adults in their lives if adoption or other permanency options are not in the child or youth's best interest.
- During the past 10 years, an average of approximately 270 children have been adopted annually. Last year, 273 children and youth in care of the ministry found permanent homes. Still, more than 1,000 children and youth in permanent care are waiting for adoption.
- Potential adoptive parents come from diverse backgrounds and have a range of life experiences. Anyone 19 and over who is interested in providing a loving, nurturing home may be eligible to adopt.
- Many of the children and youth waiting for adoption are school age. They may be siblings who need to stay together. Some may have special placement needs due to difficult early childhood experiences, prenatal exposure to alcohol or drugs, learning delays or other developmental challenges.
- The ministry strives to place children and youth with families that preserve the child or youth's ethnic and cultural heritage. As culture is essential to a child or youth's positive identity formation and preservation, adoptive parents who reflect British Columbia's cultural diversity and adoptive parents who are willing to maintain lifelong connections with the child or youth's cultural community are needed.

- In September 2015, Grand Chief Ed John was appointed senior advisor on Aboriginal child welfare to the Minister of Children and Family Development. His role will be to assist – including through the development of stronger permanency plans – in finding forever families for more Aboriginal youth in care through adoption, guardianship or other options that may be more appropriate in First Nations communities.
- The number of Aboriginal children and youth being placed with Aboriginal families is encouraging and was approximately 53 per cent last year – up from 27 per cent in 2000.
- In 2008, the Cowichan Tribes on Vancouver Island became the first delegated Aboriginal child and family service agency to handle adoptions in British Columbia. They have since held two cultural adoption ceremonies and completed adoptions for 20 children and youth in their community.
- The ministry works with community partners, including the Adoptive Families Association of BC, to increase the number of adoptions for children in government care. The ministry funds the association to help recruit new parents and provide both pre- and post-adoptive support for adoptive parents and children.

Post-Adoption Assistance Program:

- B.C.'s Post-Adoption Assistance Program provides financial support to adoptive families to help them meet the unique needs of their adopted children and youth with special needs.
- The program makes adoption possible for many families that, otherwise, would not have the financial means to give a child or youth a home and family.
- The Post-Adoption Assistance Program supported approximately 1,200 families in British Columbia with a budget of over $19 million for 2014-15 – up from $2 million in 2000-01.

Adoption Reunion Registry:

- B.C.'s Adoption Reunion Registry has been in operation since 1991, and is legislated to provide search services for eligible people in B.C. and help them explore adoption reunion possibilities.
- The registry is available to adopted adults, birth parents, siblings and relatives of an adopted adult and the children or grandchildren of a deceased adopted adult. Adoptees that are searching or being searched for must be at least 19 years of age.
- Since 1991, approximately 17,800 applications for searches have been filed with the registry, resulting in approximately 5,900 searches connecting people together.
- The registry can be contacted in the Victoria area at 250 387-3660 or toll-free within North America at 1 877 387-3660. The website can be found at www.mcf.gov.bc.ca/adoption/reunion/index.htm

Adoption Awareness Month – November 2015

Key Messages:

- There are more than 1,000 children waiting for the stability and care of an adoptive family, including teenagers, those with special needs and siblings.
- That's why we've partnered with the Adoptive Families Association of BC – we are working to find those 1,000 families.
- The 1000FamiliesBC campaign is our ongoing, joint effort to connect waiting children with caring families. Waiting children deserve love, respect and acceptance just like you and me.
- This year, we are placing special emphasis on the 350 older kids and teens in care waiting for their forever families.
- All children need the love and security of a caring family. No child is unadoptable and no one is excluded from trying to adopt.
- You don't need to be the perfect parent to adopt, and marital status and sexual orientation don't matter.
- Adoption is about love and a lifelong commitment to making a difference in a child's life.
- If you're looking to build your family, visit 1000familiesbc.com or call 1 877 ADOPT- 07.

Secondary Messages:

- We are thankful to all the adoptive families who provide the emotional, physical and financial stability that all children deserve.
- Adoption social workers work tirelessly to find loving homes for B.C.'s waiting children and deserve our gratitude.
- Understandably, the change adoption brings can be an emotional time for both the adoptive families and the adoptive child. You can help adoptive families by lending an ear and offering encouraging words and actions of support.

Today We Are Grateful Because:

- ☐ It's pasta Tuesday
- ☐ We had a picnic at the beach
- ☒ We became a family

Are you interested in adopting a child? Every child deserves a loving and committed permanent family. At any given time, B.C. has over 1,000 children waiting to be adopted.

Potential adoptive parents come from diverse backgrounds but they all have one thing in common: a desire to grow their family.

Hi Minister,

I have confirmed with George Chayka that you will be attending the BC Lions Skills Summit event on November 8th in the morning. The question of whether you will say a few words is still up in the air, and I have given the GCPE ladies a heads up on this for now. Confirmed with George that Minister Bond and Minister Stilwell are also attending, and PCC along with a couple other Ministers are still tentative.

Please let me know if you need anything else at this time.

Province of British Columbia
A Proclamation

ELIZABETH THE SECOND, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom,
Canada and Her other Realms and Territories, Queen, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith

To all to whom these presents shall come – Greeting

WHEREAS developing and maintaining a highly skilled workforce is vital to British Columbia's economic prosperity, and

WHEREAS the province wants to celebrate and recognize Apprenticeships and the positive impact they have on individuals, businesses and the economy, and

WHEREAS the continued success of the apprenticeship system requires an awareness of the relevance and importance of the apprenticeship system, which can only be maintained through ongoing collaboration among employers, employees, industry, labour, training providers, the government and the public;

NOW KNOW YE THAT We do by these presents proclaim and declare that November 2 to 6, 2015, shall be known as in the Province of British Columbia.

"Apprenticeship Recognition Week"

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent and the Great Seal of Our Province to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, The Honourable Judith Guichon, Lieutenant Governor of Our Province of British Columbia, in Our City of Victoria, in Our Province, this twenty-third day of July, two thousand fifteen and in the sixty-fourth year of Our Reign.

Apprenticeship Recognition Week Promotional Toolkit

Promoting Apprenticeship Recognition Week is easy. You can:

- ☐ Visit a local business in your community that employs apprentices throughout the week of November 2-6 and thank them for supporting the apprenticeship system of training.
- ☐ Tweet about your visit
- ☐ Post pictures of your visit and tag it #apprentices on Twitter
- ☐ Present B.C.'s Proclamation of Apprenticeship Week to a local employer of apprentices
- ☐ Write to your local paper to recognize the importance of apprenticeships in B.C.
- ☐ Call your local media to talk about the benefits of employing apprentices.

Apprenticeship Key Messages:

- We are expecting a wide range of job openings in various occupations and 44% of these openings will be skilled trades and technical occupations.
- We need to ensure that British Columbians have the skills they need to be first in line for these jobs, and apprenticeships is one of the best ways we can help them get on that path.
- The B.C. government has proclaimed November 2-6 as Apprenticeship Recognition Week in B.C. to celebrate B.C. apprentices and their employers who are supporting them every step of the way.
- Employers are central to apprenticeship, and we want to recognize the employer sponsors throughout the province who are hiring, training and giving our youth a chance to succeed in the future.
- We need more employers to step up and become sponsors, and we will continue to work with the ITA, industry stakeholders and other provinces to create more apprenticeships for British Columbians.
- We want to encourage B.C. apprentices and youth who are considering a career in skilled trades, to participate in apprenticeship programs, which will greatly expand their career opportunities in the future across B.C. and Canada.

Key apprenticeship statistics:

- This year marks the 80th anniversary of the Apprenticeship Act in B.C., since the Act came into effect in 1935 and brought apprenticeship under the provincial government oversight.
- The B.C. government invests more than $94 million annually in industry training through the Industry Training Authority (ITA).
- The Industry Training Authority (ITA) leads and coordinates British Columbia's skilled trades system by working with employers, employees, industry, labour, training providers and government to issue credentials, manage apprenticeships, set program standards and increase opportunities in the trades.
- ITA provides more than 100 apprenticeship training programs in BC, including almost 50 Red Seal trades.

Apprenticeship Recognition Week Promotional Toolkit

- There are currently more than 38,000 registered apprentices in the industry training system (including youth), and more than 9,958 registered employer sponsors of apprentices in B.C.
- ITA awarded over 7,500 Certificates of Qualification ('tickets') to journeypersons in B.C. last year.
- Since 2004, the ITA has issued a total of over 66,000 Certificates of Qualification to journeypersons in B.C.
