July 31, 2018

Dear Minister Beare,

We are writing to express our support for the Rio Theatre's request for a property transfer tax (PTT) exemption.

As you know, the Rio Theatre is a valued cultural hub in Vancouver. Arts and culture spaces are essential to the vibrancy and vitality of our communities and they have been increasingly under threat due to the affordability crisis. The Rio is a unique, iconic Vancouver landmark that also employs many members of the arts community.

The City of Vancouver announced today that it is providing a grant of $375,000. We believe that given the cultural contribution of the Rio to British Columbia, a PTT exemption is an appropriate way for the provincial government to do its part to protect and support this vital cultural space.

The campaign to save the Rio has been a genuine grassroots community effort, with members of the community investing in the theatre for as little as $1,000. Due to this private investment, the Rio sale is not qualified for the PTT exemption that is normally awarded to registered charities. However, the Hollywood Arts Foundation is a registered charity and is a part owner of the property on which the theatre resides. Additionally, the grant money from the City of Vancouver the funding provided by the City is conditional upon the theatre remaining an arts and culture space for 10 years. The province could get the same assurance that the PTT exemption.

We hope you will seriously consider the Rio's proposal. We would welcome any further opportunity to discuss how we can work together to support the arts in B.C.

Sincerely,

Andrew Weaver, Leader, B.C. Green Party

Weaver welcomes results of first quarterly report

VICTORIA, B.C. – Andrew Weaver welcomed the results of the first quarterly report, released today.

"The first quarterly report shows that B.C. continues to be on strong economic footing", said Andrew Weaver, leader of the B.C. Green Party.

"So far in its term, this government has shown a willingness to tackle the financial problems it inherited, such as at ICBC and BC Hydro, while beginning to act on joint commitments outlined in our Confidence and Supply Agreement (CASA).

"Key parts of this government's economic agenda came from CASA, including the focus on innovation in creating a diversified 21st century economy. Key B.C. Green initiatives embedded in CASA included establishing the Emerging Economy Task Force, which will advise government on how to respond to the changing nature of business over the next 10-25 years, and the Innovation Commissioner, who is advocating for our emerging tech sector.

"Going forward, government needs to continue to nurture the diversification of our economy, in order to create prosperity for British Columbians as the climate changes and the global economy shifts. The forthcoming clean growth strategy is a key means to accomplish this outcome."

Hi both,

Just initiating a follow-up meeting on the benefit company legislation. FIN suggested the week of Dec 10th for the next follow up, because of travel next week.

If we can't fit in a meeting the week of Dec 3rd, I'm wondering if we might want to do either a first meeting at the end of this week, or two meetings the week of the 10th. s.22 and then we have Christmas, so if we want a substantial start before Christmas we might need to stack a couple meetings earlier in the month.

Thanks!
Sarah

B.C. eliminates operating debt, surplus grows in second quarter

VICTORIA – British Columbia is operating debt-free for the first time in more than 40 years, according to the Province's Second Quarterly Report.

"When we formed government, we committed to do things differently. We promised British Columbians that we would take on the big challenges in our province from the housing crisis to child care," said Carole James, Minister of Finance. "Today's results show that our plan is working and that investing in people pays dividends. We're tackling our province's major challenges head on and, at the same time, eliminating B.C.'s operating debt for the first time in over 40 years."

While the B.C. government continues to make record-level capital investments in affordable housing, schools and hospitals, debt affordability has improved this quarter and the province's debt-to-GDP ratio is at its lowest point since the 2008 financial crisis.

As B.C.'s real estate market continues to moderate, the Province forecasts that property transfer tax revenues will decline by an additional $150 million. The decline in real estate revenue is offset by higher-than-expected personal and corporate income tax revenue.

At the end of the second quarter, ICBC's forecast decreased by a further $206 million. Government is responding to the ongoing risk ICBC poses to the fiscal plan and the moderation in the housing market by increasing the forecast allowance by $600 million. Overall, government's projected surplus is $1.35 billion for the 2018-19 fiscal year.

Private sector economists are predicting stable economic growth and expect B.C. to rank among the top of provincial rankings in 2018. B.C. is projected to lead Canada in gross domestic product (GDP) growth in 2019, with 2.4% growth expected.

Hi Debbie and Jessica –

Geoff's asked that we arrange a time for Evan Pivnick and the Green Caucus staff for a meeting re: LNG in the week of August 13.

Could I ask your help to look for a meeting slot that would work for 1 hour with Geoff that week that could also work for Rob Gillezeau? Geoff would like Rob to attend as support. I'll then work to confirm that time with the Green Caucus. The meeting would be in Geoff's office.

Hi all,

Happy to have a meeting on the 9th, but I haven't yet gotten the amendments from the drafter – she's planning to send them to me at some point today. In the interest of getting them to Finance with a few days' notice, should we maybe have the meeting on Wednesday the 10th or Thursday the 11th instead? Up to you, I just think it will be more productive if they've had a chance to go through the proposed house amendments first.

Also, we have some pick up from the bar association from volunteers willing to do a review. I have a deadline of getting their review done by the 19th Oct – could we possibly schedule an additional meeting with FIN staff for the 19th or 22nd to go over any comments/suggestions they have?

Following up on your request for a meeting with Rob and FIN staff leads on b-corps, Rob was hoping to find a time in the following window:

- Tuesday Oct 9th: 11:30am – 4:00pm

Could you please let me know if there's a time in there that would work for you (and your drafter if you'd like her to attend)? I was thinking 45 mins but let me know if more or less is best.

I've let Rob know you'll try to bring some material ahead of time if possible for his team to review.

Hi Sarah and Negin,

Sarah is hoping to schedule a follow up meeting with FIN staff regarding B-Corps for some time next week. Sarah will aim to provide materials in advance for FIN staff review and consideration.

Negin – would you be able to work with Rob and the team to identify a couple of likely time slots that might be convenient? I think one hour would work well. Sarah can then confirm on her end.

Thank you so much!

Hi Negin,

At our last meeting with FIN staff, Rob and Green Caucus staff, we agreed to try to hold two additional meetings over the next few weeks to get a bit of a head start on the new year. GC staff will be away starting the week of December 17, which leaves us with only a few options. GC staff have committed to booking rooms for these meetings once we can identify times.

Could I please ask your help to identify possible availabilities for FIN on the following dates, listed here in order of preference for GC staff:

- Preference one: One meeting week of Dec 3rd, and one meeting week of Dec 10th
 - FIN staff have already indicated this is likely too difficult to schedule^{s.22}
- Preference two: One meeting this week on Friday morning (Dec 30), and one meeting week of the Dec 10th
- Preference three: Two meetings on the week of Dec 10th (ideally not on back-to-back days)

Rob has indicated someone from the MO should attend each of these meetings and he would try if he could, but would send a delegate if he's not able to attend himself.

Please give me a ring if you have any questions – thank you for your help!
