Hi Roseanne,

Do we have a sense of what session days look like, or when we might know? We are trying to plan our meetings through September, and it would be helpful to know what the days look like so we can plan around things like caucus meetings, QP prep, etc.

B.C. government putting an end to the grizzly bear trophy hunt

VICTORIA – Effective November 30 this year, the B.C. government is ending grizzly bear trophy hunting throughout the province, and stopping all hunting of grizzlies in the Great Bear Rainforest, Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development Minister Doug Donaldson announced today.

“By bringing trophy hunting of grizzlies to an end, we’re delivering on our commitment to British Columbians,” said Donaldson. “This action is supported by the vast majority of people across our province.”

“In particular, we owe it to generations past and future to do all we can to protect the beauty and uniqueness of the Great Bear Rainforest. We believe the action we’re taking goes beyond the commitment to Coastal First Nations made as part of the 2016 Great Bear Rainforest agreements.”

There are an estimated 15,000 grizzly bears in British Columbia; each year, approximately 250 are taken by hunters. While the trophy hunt will end, hunting for meat will be allowed to continue.

During the fall months, Donaldson says the government will consult with First Nations and stakeholder groups to determine next steps and mechanisms as B.C. moves toward ending the trophy hunt. Additionally, the government will be moving forward with a broader consultation process on a renewed wildlife management strategy for the province.

“The key elements of that strategy will include dedicated funding for wildlife and habitat conservation and a collaborative process in developing short and long-term plans for wildlife resources,” said Donaldson.

Hi! They are still finalizing news release, that would go out today. Latest draft attached, quote included below for your review/approval.

"This is an unprecedented wildfire season that has been very challenging for all those involved, including small businesses in the impacted areas," said Donaldson. "Coming from a rural area and as minister responsible for rural development, I know the important role small businesses play in rural communities. As a government, we'll ensure we have the necessary programs in place to support recovery."
