Hi again everyone,

Thank you for your help in flagging CTV's cross-government request on Monday.

We expect the reporter is going to approach individual Cabinet ministers next week in the halls to ask what this means specifically for their ministries.

I've attached some KMs and high-level QA's for your Ministers to use if asked. Feel free to give me a call if you have any questions.

Morning, unfortunately fiscal restraints have meant for a decision by our Executive yesterday to postpone the full Sr leaders meeting (face-to-face). A conference call is currently being planned for the morning of Oct 16th to replace the face to face.

I understand that PSRK may be doing a tour now and wouldn't be able to participate, which is fine we will hopefully be able to have him join the meeting when we re-schedule for late spring. I also understood in chatting with Tristan yesterday that we may be able to have MDD participate via conference/video call to address the group for 15-20 minutes? Please confirm his availability from 9 am – 9:30 am?

Thanks, and let me know any questions.

Subject: Executive Message Regarding Ministry Spending

Hello everyone,

Following the release of the government's first quarter report, the Ministry of Finance has provided instructions to all ministries to meet expenditure savings targets by the end of the fiscal year (March 31, 2020). This type of direction is common for government when the overall fiscal environment demands it.

While we can be flexible in identifying savings opportunities, government's priority is to protect core services and programs in all ministries across government and to focus on cost reduction in administrative and discretionary spending areas. To be clear, this direction does not include measures that will impact existing jobs.

Our priority is to minimize the impacts on your important work. Fortunately, our ministry can largely meet our plan through specific savings and events that can be managed into future fiscal years. This helps to mitigate the impact to our ministry operations budget.

That said we must also carefully manage our expenses and discretionary spending for the remainder of this fiscal. Each division will manage to a savings plan and we will monitor them to alleviate any burden on you and the work that you are doing. This may include slowing down and prioritizing hiring, reviewing contracts, and reducing travel or other discretionary spending. As an example of our need to re-focus discretionary spending to priority core services, the Senior Leaders' meeting currently planned for mid-October will be postponed to the new fiscal year. As an alternative, we will be hosting a video call for those invitees on October 16. Details on that will be available shortly.

I appreciate your support to ensure that we can achieve our savings plan while minimizing any impact to the programs and services we provide to citizens across British Columbia. If you have any questions or concerns, please speak to your senior lead or ADM.

Sincerely,

John Allan

Hi Janet,

I'm required to send the s.12; s.13 to meet their timelines for MCJ.

Are we going to receive e-signature from MDD this morning? My understanding is that he connected with John yesterday from Quebec.

If there are any outstanding questions I'll make myself available.

Thank you,

Trish

Subject: 2019 B.C. Cabinet and First Nations Leaders' Gathering
Date: October 9, 2019 11:13:02 AM

Hi All,

A reminder that the 2019 B.C. Cabinet and First Nations Leaders' Gathering will be held on Tuesday, November 5, and Wednesday, November 6, at the Vancouver Convention Centre West. A networking reception, hosted by the Business Council of British Columbia and the British Columbia Federation of Labour, will be held on the evening of Monday, November 4, also at the Vancouver Convention Centre West. Invitations have been sent to all First Nations and Tribal Councils to participate in this year's gathering.

About The Gathering

The Gathering, co-hosted with the First Nations Leadership Council (comprised of the political executives of the BC Assembly of First Nations, the Union of BC Indian Chiefs, and the First Nations Summit) is a multi-faceted forum featuring keynotes, plenary dialogue, and one-on-one meetings with First Nations leaders and senior provincial government officials. The Gathering is designed to address issues of importance to First Nations at the community level as well as build partnerships towards the government's broader reconciliation goals.

Last year's Gathering was the largest to date with nearly 800 people attending, more than half of whom were First Nations delegates representing 168 Nations. The Gathering also accommodated 669 one-on-one meetings between provincial and Indigenous leaders.

Participation of Executive Leadership

The success of the Gathering depends on the participation of Cabinet leadership.

Cabinet Ministers are expected to be available for one-on-one meetings with Nations and to attend plenary sessions throughout the two days of the Gathering. Tables will also be reserved for you in the ballroom and First Nations will be provided with a copy of the table assignments so that informal dialogue can take place between Indigenous and government leadership throughout the Gathering. Further information regarding this year's schedule and meeting requests will be forthcoming, with key events identified to be added to your Ministers calendars.

Invitations to the Gathering

Invitations are issued to all First Nations and Tribal Councils, all members of the B.C. NDP government caucus, B.C. Green caucus members (Andrew Weaver, Sonia Furstenu, Adam Olsen) and a delegation of 10 B.C. Liberal caucus members.

In previous years, it has been customary for the Province to invite the federal Ministers of Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada (CIRNAC), and Indigenous Services Canada (ISC), as well as all federal Cabinet Ministers residing in B.C.

Due to the federal election timing and the absence of a federal Cabinet, invitations this year are extended to senior executive and regional leadership from CIRNAC, and Indigenous Services Canada.

1:1 Meetings & Follow-Up

Professional note-taking services will be provided for each minister attending the Gathering. These notes will be compiled into individual reports following the event (collated by Nation and ministry). Each First Nation participating in the Gathering will receive a copy of the notes taken in their one-on-one meetings with ministers along with a letter thanking the Nations for their attendance—resulting in one follow-up letter per participating First Nation on behalf of government). Your ministries will have the opportunity to review the notes prior to distribution. Discretion remains for ministries to continue their own organizations' post-Gathering outreach to First Nations as needed.

Participation of Indigenous Youth Interns

Interns from the Indigenous Youth Internship Program (IYIP) attended the Gathering for the first time in 2018. Their participation was received positively by everyone involved.

Your ministries have been instructed to make the necessary arrangements to support interns from the IYIP to attend the Gathering. At the event, interns are encouraged to attend one-on-one meetings with their minister/ministry. There will also be an opportunity for interns, along with community youth delegates, to have a networking meeting.

Registration Details

Each ministry is accountable for registering their ministry's delegation via the registration website at this link: <https://apps.nrs.gov.bc.ca/pub/fnlg/group/Private>.

When doing so, please consider staff support needed in keeping with measures to keep discretionary spending down.

Registration closes on October 18, 2019
