Dear Minister Donaldson,

On behalf of the outdoor recreation community, I would like to thank you sincerely for working with the Minister of Environment and Climate Change Strategy to stop further logging in the Skagit Valley 'Donut Hole'. We hope that your government is successful at negotiating an agreement with Imperial Metals to permanently cease mining exploration and development and that we as a province once and for all get protection for this pristine watershed from logging and mining.

The Outdoor Recreation Council of BC is a registered charity and works on behalf of more than 50 provincial and regional member organizations to protect and promote responsible outdoor recreation. Specifically we work to encourage British Columbians to actively participate in outdoor recreational activities that will enhance their physical, social and mental well-being; advocate for and facilitate access to public lands and waters for outdoor recreation; build bridges between outdoor recreation groups; and encourage the safe and responsible use of the outdoors through education programs promoting safety and outdoor ethics.

Kind regards,

To get agreement I'll be having a conference call early this afternoon that includes Steve, Trevor, Leri and DFO reps to get agreement. The messaging will be clear and action oriented. Importance: High

Good morning,

We have had the following significant media request, which I am currently working on. I have reached out to Gord to see if he is available and interested and am proposing the following.

Note: I am sending this up through the DFO approvals chain and am not sure what process you have to go through Steve/Andrea?

MEDIA REQUEST : INTERVIEWS AND VISUALS

DEADLINE: Feature story slated for Monday publication, December 9, 2019

ISSUE: Randy Shore, Environment Reporter, Vancouver Sun

(RShore@postmedia.com, 604.812.6567) is looking to do a substantive feature story update on the Big Bar Landslide. He would like to cover what has been accomplished so far, what challenges remain and the plans to improve the situation. He would also like some detail on consultations with heavy construction experts, the military and other experts the project team has sought input on, and he is interested in the role of First Nations and would like to connect with both High Bar and Canoe Creek. He is also hoping for access to recent footage/visuals.

SPOKESPERSONS:
DFO –Sarah Murdoch, Regional Director for Policy and Economic Analysis (currently on special assignment for the Big Bar response) and Al Magnan, response project lead and former term Incident Commander and Environment Unit Lead during the emergency response.

First Nations – Gord Sterritt – Joint Executive Steering Committee member and involved from the onset
BC – Steve Schell – Joint Executive Steering Committee member

As for visuals I let him know that we would not have anything from the current site until next week (I believe we are doing some drone flights) but it would be good to provide anything more recent that we have like the spider excavator and any of the heavy construction shots, large rocks now exposed, etc.

Best, Leri

Hi Allison;
I have two unrelated issues that require a bit of background:
On the Grizzly Bear hunt issue; Do we provide permits for First Nation guides to lead trophy hunts for non-First Nation clients? If so, and even if not, are these type of hunts taking place?
And,
Do we have a scan of what other provinces are charging for access to and permits for bottling of water? (What are the rates other provinces charge for permitting and access to water for the purposes?)
Thanks,
Kenn

Hi Kenn,

The 2017 platform is still online at: https://action.bcndp.ca/page/-/bcndp/docs/BC-NDP-Platform-2017.pdf

Is this what you meant?

PROTECTING OUR AIR, LAND AND WATER, CREATING JOBS:
British Columbians are proud to live in a beautiful province with clean air, land and water. We are blessed with incredible ecological diversity. It's part of who we are, and the source of economic prosperity for communities across the province—prosperity that can grow with vision and leadership. Protecting the environment and creating jobs go hand in hand. Wildlife viewing, recreational fishing and hunting, and other eco-tourism activities add 40,000 jobs to our economy every year, and that contribution is growing.

Banning the grizzly trophy hunt
British Columbia is one of the few places on earth where grizzlies still thrive. Recreational viewing of grizzlies generates significant economic activity and good jobs on the coast and in the interior. The vast majority of British Columbians believe it is wrong for these rare and threatened creatures to be shot for trophies. It's not just wrong, it's bad for the economy. The trophy hunting of grizzly bears delivers fewer jobs than wildlife viewing operations, and is opposed by most hunters.

› We will ban the grizzly bear trophy hunt.
› We will make permits for other kinds of hunting more fair for BC residents.

Protecting species at risk
There are more species at risk of going extinct in BC than anywhere else in Canada. Yet, we're one of the only provinces in the country without stand-alone species at risk legislation.

› We will bring in an endangered species law and harmonize other laws to ensure they are all working towards the goal of protecting our beautiful province.
› We will work with the federal government, South Okanagan communities, and local First Nations to create a plan to protect the large number of endangered species in that area, as the federal government develops a new national park.

Investing in parks and camping
BC's parks system draws visitors from across the world, yet under Christy Clark and the BC Liberals, the number of campsites has declined, park ranger hours have been reduced, and the shortage of campsites has led to British Columbians being denied camping locations and the opportunity to truly appreciate all that BC offers.

› We will restore funding for BC parks.
› We will hire additional park rangers and conservation officers.
› We will build new campsites to catch up with current demand.
› We will put BC residents first in line for campsite bookings.

Improving wildlife management
British Columbia's biodiversity, fish and wildlife populations and the habitat upon which they depend are under threat due to lack of funding, government cuts to staff and ineffective policies.

› We will ensure dedicated funding for wildlife and habitat conservation, give wildlife and habitat priority, and engage concerned groups to work collaboratively towards short and long term plans for our wildlife resources.
› We will put all funds from hunting licenses and tags into a dedicated fund for wildlife and habitat conservation.
› We will bring people who rely on our wildlife resources together and ensure they all participate in and contribute financially to conservation.

This way we will not only ensure dedicated funding for habitat conservation but have the funds required to do the work needed.

Sustaining aquaculture and commercial and recreational fishing
BC's wild salmon are an iconic species that underpin entire ecosystems. Salmon are critical to the food, livelihoods and culture of coastal communities and First Nations.

› We will ensure that the salmon farming industry does not endanger wild salmon by implementing the recommendations of the Cohen Commission, keeping farm sites out of important salmon migration routes, and supporting research and transparent monitoring to minimize the risk of disease transfer from captive to wild fish.
› We will also provide incentives to help the aquaculture industry transition to closed containment where possible.

Hey there – wondering if the PS saw this? Good news.

Mass-timber tower would add 83 hotel rooms to Kelowna
Castanet

https://www.castanet.net/news/Kelowna/272495/Mass-timber-tower-would-add-83-hotel-rooms-to-Kelowna

By Kirk Penton

It's worked so well in Penticton they are going to give it a try in Kelowna, too.

The Ramada by Wyndham Kelowna Hotel and Conference Centre, located at the corner of Harvey Avenue and Dilworth Drive, wants to build a 12-storey tower that will feature approximately 83 new rooms.

The big difference, however, is it will be constructed with primarily mass timber.

Penticton Lakeside Resort built a six-storey addition two and a half years ago using mass timber, and now the Ramada is going to follow in its footsteps. [maz]

The system was damaged and fish have escaped; harvesting had begun and about 21,000 fish remained on site. Just how many escaped is being determined.
Local FNs and DFO were notified. They system has been secured and an investigation is underway.
We'll keep you posted re developments.

Deadline ASAP

Request
I'm looking for confirmation of what Van Sun is reporting today regarding coastal forest policy:

• "Variable fee in lieu" payment for log exports that was supposed to take effect this month (date?) is delayed six months. Can I get some numbers for this, an example of the payment amount?

• Reduction in penalties and zones for wood fibre recovery. Going from a triple fee to what, and for how long? Again I need to quantify this.

• Are there any other changes, either to Coast or Interior policy at this time?

Obviously I'm looking to file on this ASAP. A statement will be fine.

Background

Recommendation

Q1. "Variable fee in lieu" payment for log exports that was supposed to take effect this month (date?) is delayed six months. Can I get some numbers for this, an example of the payment amount?

- Here is a link to our export fee website, as well. It is comprehensive and provides background on how the fees are calculated: https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/industry/forestry/competitive-forest-industry/log-exports/step-2-bc-permit-and-export-fees/export-fees

- The fee-in-lieu of manufacture has been in place for some time. It provides revenue to government in lieu of the economic benefits that are received when logs are manufactured within the province.
- The new, variable fee-in-lieu, which reflects the economics of each stand, was applied to new BC Timber Sales licences on the Coast in July. It was originally going to also apply for all new cutting permits on the Coast, starting Dec. 15. Recognizing the many challenges facing the coastal forest industry, while it will still apply to all new BC Timber Sales licences on the Coast, its application across all permits has been delayed.
- The current fee-in-lieu, which is based on the value of logs, will remain in place for non-BC Timber Sales cutting permits until the new fee structure is implemented.
- We have also listened to concerns raised and the maximum variable fee-in-lieu on new BC Timber Sales licences has been reduced to 35% from 50%. Prior to Dec. 15, the maximum variable fee-in-lieu on new BC Timber Sales ranged from 10-50%. For more information, please visit:https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/farming-natural-resources-and-industry/forestry/log-exports/monthly-log-values/domestic_log_values_effective_dec_1_2019.pdf .
- It is our hope that by pausing this change to a variable fee-in-lieu for non-BC Timber Sales cutting permits, we can help keep some contractors working and more fibre flowing to coastal pulp mills.

Q2. Reduction in penalties and zones for wood fibre recovery. Going from a triple fee to what, and for how long? Again I need to quantify this.

- The fees associated with the fibre recovery zone as implemented in spring 2019 have not changed.
- It is the area located in the zone that has changed. The zone will be smaller based on current economic conditions.
- The revised zone will come into effect on December 23, 2019

> The Coast Fibre Recovery Zone sets out the area where it is economic to pull out residual material during or after harvest, and see it is used rather than being burned or simply wasted on site. This is one of the policy changes implemented in spring 2019 as part of Coast Revitalization, in response to feedback from industry to help create more partnerships to better use fibre.

- Flexibility was built into the design of the fibre recovery zone, the boundaries of which are based on markets, facility locations and harvest response.

- We will continue working with licensees, contractors, local and Indigenous communities and stakeholders to fine tune the balance of good stewardship and economics.

Are there any other changes, either to Coast or Interior policy at this time?

- We revise the coastal pricing system annually on Dec. 15.

- We've made some changes to have it increasingly reflect lumber demand. This change is being made based on significant analysis on how to ensure we have a robust market basis for our pricing system.

- A lumber-based system is more responsive to changes in the market.

- It will initially only apply to new cutting permits issued on the Coast, starting Dec. 15, 2019. However, by December 2020, all existing permits will be transitioned to the lumber-based model.

- Notably, stumpage rates are falling. The average rate on the Coast expected in January, the next time rates are published, is $8.82 per cubic metre. This is substantially less than January 2019 high of $18.73 per cubic metre for existing cutting permits.

If you'd like more information on how the fibre recovery zone is working, I suggest you contact Bob Lindstrom, the lead of the BC Pulp and Paper Coalition, or a Coast pulp and paper mill.

Hi Ravi, Kenn and Tristan,

Brett flagged this for you earlier.

The attached draft news release identifies the communities that are receiving Community Support Grants as part of government's efforts to support impacted mill workers in the Interior.

The mayors of Clearwater and Fort St. John have already indicated they anticipate media interest in their respective communities.

Given today's activities and possible media follow-up tomorrow, our recommendation is to get this out on Monday.

Happy to discuss direction on this one.

Subject: RE: BC Biomass to RNG Project - Williams Lake

Hi Ravi,

I wanted to reach out as I was alerted by the City of Williams Lake, that BC, FESBC was investing up to $27M in BC biomass and forestry projects, and we felt our project to convert wood waste residues, into renewable natural gas, and or (RNG), that would be sold to FortisBC, under long term, fixed price, offtake contract, where we already have an offtake letter, issued by FortisBC, and an MOU issued by City of William Lake to support our Biomass to RNG project.

How does the application process work to secure funding, as we are looking for development funding at this stage?

Look forward to your feedback.

Dear Minister Donaldson,

Please find attached a letter to you outlining recommendations that we are making with regard to the need for continued urgent attention to the Big Bar slide.

In summary, although we understand that large numbers of salmon did make it past the rock slide, the main factor that allowed passage was the drop in the water levels that occurred naturally in late August. While this was good news for a few salmon populations, the impediment to salmon migration during higher flow periods remains and continues to pose a serious migration risk for salmon in 2020. There has not been a problem like this for Fraser River salmon in the last 100 years, since the Hell's Gate rockslide in 1914. Failure to fully restore salmon passage will have serious biological, economic and socio-cultural consequences which will have repercussions for years to come.

PSF is prepared to be of assistance in levering our private sector contacts and to do all that we can to support DFO and the Province of B.C. during the relatively little time left to act in 2019.

We look forward to hearing back from you as soon as possible.

Sincerely,
Mike

Hi, did you receive this invitation from Woodforce?

Woodforce has added 5 workers as of now, with more expected in the new year. It's a good opportunity for the Minister to promote our messaging re: value-added processing and using fibre/waste to make other wood products (in this case making dimensional lumber from wood scrap).

I spoke with the president of Woodtone, a company that specializes in value-added wood products. They are expanding their workforce and this past spring they invited the minister to come out and tour the operation. There was no response from the minister or his department.

I am seeking comment, especially in light of the current forestry woes.
I am also including a link to an earlier story I did on the company.

Just wondering if the minister would accept their invitation to tour the facility? If this is something he would consider?

Hello Lisa,

As this is an NRR, IAO will need a small amount of rationale for why the records were found in previous FOI mentioned in this FOI, but were no longer available for the current FOI.

Does rationale below accurately capture your records search?
Are there any changes you'd like me to make to the wording?

The Call for records was sent to the Minister's Office. The Minister's Office staff checked their records for the emails and attachments from January 4, 2019 and January 15, 2019 as noted in the FOI request, and no responsive records were found. The emails from January 4, 2019 and January 15, 2019 were deleted as transitory records.

Chris

For Monday, would it be possible to get the list of First Nation contacts that Mowi has communicated with on the Robertson farm escape?

I've been asked for this so that the province can cross-check with our own lists and make sure we're not missing anyone going forward.

Thanks,

Hi Kenn.
FYI there was a fire overnight Thursday-Friday at Mowi's Robertson Island site near Port Hardy.
The system was damaged and fish have escaped; harvesting had begun and about 21,000 fish remained on site. Just how many escaped is being determined.
Local FNs and DFO were notified. They system has been secured and an investigation is underway.
We'll keep you posted re developments.
Let me know if you or Minister Donaldson want a further briefing.

Hi Nicholas,

Hope you are well. I want to thank you and Minister Qualtrough for taking the time to have a conversation with Parliamentary Secretary Ravi Kahlon to discuss the challenges facing communities impacted by mill closures and curtailments in British Columbia.

Here are some of the points that PS. Kahlon asked that I share with you:

- As workers and communities are facing immediate challenges, BC would welcome additional support from the Government of Canada so we can jointly provide urgently needed support for workers and communities, specifically:
    - Retention of small businesses continues to be a challenge in rural communities, especially those impacted by mill closures and curtailments. Additional federal funding for federal initiatives that provide small business loans, support services, and retention and expansion advisory services is needed.
    - Flexibility with the federal work-share program (such as extending the number of weeks, and allowing more occurrences of an employer to re-apply to the program).
    - Flexibility with EI, for instance not delaying EI benefits due to severance being allocated (or reduced EI due to severance).

- Minister Donaldson and PS Kahlon have requested working with industry and labour to identify adjustments to EI eligibility to address the unique needs of forest sector workers. This remains a request to the federal government. Affected communities are seeking extended EI benefits for workers impacted by the unique economic circumstances caused by closures and curtailments. Extending EI benefits will allow workers to stay in their home communities, rather than forcing them to relocate in search of work elsewhere.

My understanding from the call was that Minister Qualtrough and PS. Kahlon agreed to touch base in the New Year and work to organize a round table discussion on these topics between Minister Qualtrough, O'Reagan, PS Kahlon, Minister Donaldson, as well invite some stakeholders. I'm going to be starting holidays on December 27th, so I have copied my colleagues Tim Renneberg (Senior Ministerial Assistant) and Tristan Jones (Executive Assistant) who will be able to work with you on the next steps in the New Year, as I am away until the end of January.

I'm in the office on Monday, so don't hesitate to call/text or e-mail.

Wishing you and your family a happy holiday!

Subject: CKNW: Blackwell - federal forestry support

CKNW (Vancouver)

23-Dec-2019 16:01

Quoted: Terry Schintz, Merlin Blackwell

Terry Schintz: The provincial government's giving $875,000 to BC communities hit hard by mill closures. One of those is Clearwater, which is getting $100,000.

The mayor, Merlin Blackwell, says he's happy the province is stepping up, but he wonders what the feds are doing.

Merlin Blackwell: The federal government needs to step. We're done with the election games -- it's time to get to work. If this was manufacturing in Ontario or fisheries on the East Coast, the federal government would have been here as a partner in the solution to this crisis.

Schintz: The mayor in Clinton, Susan Swan, says the $100,000 they're getting is more than enough. Several pulp and sawmills have closed around the province this year and thousands are out of work. [xrz, maz, forr]

Subject: Follow-up to our meeting on Dec 11

Dear Minister Donaldson,

Thank you for taking the time out of your busy schedule to meet with Karl English, Chair of the Fraser River Sturgeon Conservation Society (FRSCS) and I on December 11th.

I am pleased that we had some time to continue our ongoing dialogue about the status of the Fraser River White Sturgeon, the issues that they face and the solutions that the FRSCS are striving to achieve.

One of the most urgent priorities that we have been focusing on over the last year is the significant threat the Nechako Sturgeon Hatchery presents to the endangered upper/mid-Fraser River White Sturgeon by the release of artificially cultured fish.

As you know, these endangered fish cannot withstand additional competition represented by migrating Nechako Hatchery fish, given the limited habitat and carrying capacity that exists in the Fraser River today.

There are currently migrating Nechako Hatchery fish at a 4 to 1 ratio of hatchery to wild sturgeon, (based on preliminary sampling) at the confluence of the Chilcotin River, well below Williams Lake.

We are pleading with the Provincial Government to take decisive action to immediately terminate the release of any cultured Nechako Hatchery fish and initiate an intensive monitoring and assessment program for sturgeon from Hell's Gate to the Upper Fraser River watershed. This will determine the status of the fish, detect any migrated Nechako Hatchery fish and allow us to remove any hatchery fish encountered, as previously agreed upon as a condition of the initial construction of the Hatchery when these concerns were actively presented.

We also discussed our request to the Province of BC to recognize the significant role the FRSCS currently plays in monitoring and assessing the sturgeon population in the Lower Fraser River, and to support the Society's aspirations to extend this excellence to the entire Fraser

River watershed.

Finally, we discussed our request to you for long-term sustainable funding of the FRSCS monitoring and assessment program, so that we can continue implement a world class program that would report annually on the status of the stock for the entire Fraser River.

We also acknowledged your Ministries need to continue to gain more internal capacity and support, to fulfill your roles and responsibilities as the agency responsible overall for Fraser River White Sturgeon. Our aspirations are to be able to work with a strong and effective Government partner.

We are committed to continue to meet with your Ministry officials between now and the middle of February to finalize these outcomes and to prepare a final submission to you and the Premier for consideration. My office will reach out to your team to set up a meeting or phone call for the middle of February to brief you on results and recommendations.

We thank you for your time on this important issue in support of the last wild white sturgeon population on the planet, which exists in the Fraser River.

Please accept my best wishes to you and your family for the holidays!

Sincerely,

Rick

Hi Tim, I hope you had a nice Christmas and will have a Happy New Year.

Steve Marks of Beach Buoy C.L. Leisure Rentals, my constituent in Cultus Lake, has approached me with a problem; he has s.22 operated the marina at the Lake for many years but it appears he now must cease that practice according to the attached letter.

I wonder if I could have a briefing from Ministry employee Donna Myketa about this. s.22 s.22 . It also appears that no fuel can be sold at the site, which would make the operation of a marina impossible.

It is important that this matter be resolved prior to the boating season.

Sheila could find a good time for a briefing; thanks in advance for your consideration.

BC Wildfire Service were deployed to Australia.
• Last week, six additional BCWS members were sent to Queensland.
• On Dec. 30, one person was sent to New South Wales.
• The deployment for the first seven people concludes on Jan. 7. They will be replaced by four BCWS members, who will leave on Jan. 4.

2. Would it be possible to speak to one of then by end of day Jan 1 2020 ?
• Unfortunately, we do not have the contact information for the outgoing BCWS member.

3. What can your government say about the Australians who arrived in BC to fight fires in recent years?

Minister Doug Donaldson stated during the first deployment of BC Wildfire Service personnel on Dec 3, 2019:

"This is the first time since 2009 that Australia has asked for firefighting support from Canada. During British Columbia's devasting 2017 and 2018 wildfire seasons, Australian fire personnel responded to our calls for assistance through the Canadian Interagency Forest Fire Centre. We greatly appreciated their assistance during those difficult years, and we welcome the opportunity to help out our Australian friends now."
