APPENDIX C PROCEDURES

AMMENDED (May 18, 2017) PERMIT VI16-227313

PROCEDURES:

1. Investigation and confirmation

- 1.1 The Wildlife Specialists will investigate complaints respecting occurrences of alleged predation, injury or harassment of livestock by predators as soon as possible.
- 1.2 The Program Coordinator will provide the Oversight Committee with information on the start date, location nature, and completion date of all mitigation activities.
- 1.3 No control action may be taken unless the predator attack is a verified predation event and documented in the Verification Report (Appendix E). A predator feeding on dead livestock is not evidence of a predator attack.
- 1.4 In situations where predator harassment, injury or attack cannot be verified, or in the absence of other substantiating evidence, a Verification Report Form describing the losses and all relevant circumstances must filled out by Wildlife Specialist and maintained on file by the permit holder. However, no predator mitigation action may be taken in this circumstance.
- 1.5 BC Parks must be notified where the predation occurrence or response to an occurrence is within the boundaries of a park, protected area, or conservancy. A Park Use Permit is required to trap animals in a park, recreation area or conservancy. Any control action undertaken within the boundaries of a provincial park or protected area must have prior approval from the BC Parks Regional Manager.

2. Prevention

- 2.1 In situations where, in the opinion of the Program Coordinator, it has been determined that faulty or negligent husbandry practices encouraged harassment, injury, or death of livestock by predators; Wildlife Specialists must not take actions to remove predators. Records of occurrences of faulty husbandry practices (e.g. exposed carcasses, remote and uncontrolled calving grounds, or malnutrition of livestock) must be maintained by the permit holder and must be included in the Verifications (Appendix E) and Mitigation Reports (Appendix F).
- 2.2 A minimum, all producers that experience a verified predation event must be provided the most up-to-date information on husbandry practices (best management practices) by Wildlife Specialists, or other qualified personnel, to educate and inform ranchers/farmers on management and planning techniques to prevent or minimise potential wildlife predation on livestock. By March 31 of each year of the period of the permit, the Program Coordinator must submit to the Oversight Committee, copies of the information or documentation on husbandry practices that he intends to distribute to livestock producers.

3. Authority for Predator Control Actions

- 3.1 Control of the offending predator(s) under authority of this permit must be undertaken only by the designated Wildlife Specialists.
- 3.2 The Wildlife Specialists must comply with all provincial regulations regarding Compulsory Reporting and Compulsory Inspection of killed wildlife.
- 3.3 All wildlife killed under the activities authorized by this permit will remain the property of the Crown and must be surrendered to the Crown (if requested) or handled and then disposed of within 24 hours of being killed.
- 3.4 Handling (when not surrendered to the Crown):

- 3.4.1 All wolf carcasses must be destroyed by having the skull crushed and the hide slashed. The slash should extend along the back (dorsal side) of the animal starting from the area between the ears to the base of the tail and the slash must go completely through the hide.
- 3.4.2 All coyote carcasses must be destroyed by having the hide slashed. The slash should extend along the back (dorsal side) of the animal starting from the area between the ears to the base of the tail and the slash must go completely through the hide.
- 3.4.3 The slash must be documented with an electronic image which must then be appended to the Mitigation Report.
- 3.4.4 The Wildlife Specialist and the producer that is involved will confirm that the hides and skulls have been destroyed through their signatures on the Mitigation Report.
- 3.5 Disposal (when not surrendered to the Crown):
 - 3.5.1 After handling, as per the instructions in section 3.4, wolf and coyote carcasses should be disposed of through natural decomposition, through destruction in accordance with community by-laws and practices (e.g. sanitary landfill or incineration), or through burial or composting on private land in accordance with community by-laws and practices, and in a manner that is compliant with all environmental legislation and consistent with all Best Management Practices.
 - 3.5.2 If carcasses are disposed of through natural decomposition, they should be distributed and dispersed on Crown land and well away from private property, hiking trails and other areas where people congregate.
 - 3.5.3 If carcasses are disposed of through natural decomposition, their disposal locations (e.g. UTM coordinates or description of location) must be reported by the Program Coordinator by email to the COS Sergeant that is responsible for the "area", as identified in Appendix G.
 - 3.5.4 In special circumstances where government wishes to retain carcasses for use, it will communicate this to the Program Coordinator and specific arrangements for handling, transportation and surrender will be made.

4. Predator control

- 4.1 Killing by shooting, trapping, snaring, or hunting with dogs are the only control measures that may be applied to remove wolves and coyotes. Lethal predator control must be conducted in the most humane way possible.
- 4.2 Killing (neck) snares may be used between December 1st and March 31st only.
- 4.3 All non-killing traps that are set must be checked on a schedule of not less than once every 24 hours when on private land and every 72 hours when on Crown land.
- 4.4 All killing traps must be inspected not less than once every 14 days.
- 4.5 The use of poisons is strictly prohibited.
- 4.6 Mitigation activities may take place only following a verified predation event involving the harassment, attacks or kills of beef and dairy cattle or sheep caused by wolves or coyotes and when, in the opinion of the Wildlife Specialist, the success of control action is probable. All control actions must be directed to the effective removal of the offending predators while taking precautions to minimise harm or risk to members of the public, non-target animals, and the environment.
- 4.7 The presence of predators in grazing areas or on private land is not a reason to take predator control action.
- 4.8 All incidental captures and outcomes (i.e. killed by trap, euthanized or released) must be recorded in the Mitigation Report Forms and reported by the Program Coordinator to the Oversight Committee in the Quarterly Reports.
- 4.9 All incidental captures that involve a non-target animal that is still alive must be reported immediately by the Wildlife Specialist to the permit holder (Program Coordinator) who will immediately contact and seek direction from the COS representative who sits on the Oversight Committee. The permit holder (Program Coordinator) will then relay the direction to the Wildlife Specialist that is contending with the incidental capture. At the discretion of the COS representative, instructions that cover usual circumstances may be provided in advance, and in writing, to the permit holder (Program Coordinator).

- 4.10 If the verification procedure reveals that a pack of wolves (or coyotes) was responsible for harassment or an attack or kill on livestock then the Wildlife Specialist will attempt to kill all members of that pack. Following the removal of all wolves or coyotes reasonably suspected of having been involved in a verified predation event, all mitigation activities must cease in an area unless a verified predation event re-occurs.
- 4.11 Following a verified predation event, a post-event mitigation period of 60 days is allowed for the Wildlife Specialist to undertake mitigation (control) activities and remove the predatory animals that the wildlife specialist reasonably believes were involved in the verified predation event.
- 4.12 Following a verified predation event, the post event mitigation period may be extended to as much as six months if the Conservation Officer Service representative that sits on the Oversight Committee agrees to the extension and if the rationale and agreement are documented and made available to all members of the Oversight Committee.
- 4.13 Following a verified predation event, mitigation activities may occur within 500 metres of the verified harassment, attack or kill. In specific verified predation events, this distance may be increased if the Conservation Officer Service representative that sits on the Oversight Committee agrees to the increase and if the rationale and agreement are documented and made available to all members of the Oversight Committee.
- 4.14 Wildlife Specialists, when operating under the direction of the Regional Manager, are authorized to transport and dispose of wildlife, or parts of wildlife, that are killed by activities that are authorized under this permit.
- 4.15 The permit holder (Program Coordinator) must notify the COS, at the "area" level (see Appendix G), when any mitigation works on Crown land commences and must provide information on the location of mitigation activities (UTM coordinates) and the techniques that will be employed. The Program Coordinator must also notify the COS, at the zone level, that mitigation activities on Crown land have ceased immediately after the mitigation report has been completed and the file has been closed by the Program Coordinator.
- 4.16 The Wildlife Specialists will ensure that, when setting traps on Crown land, signage is placed prominently along roadways and public trails in order to alert the public that trapping, for the purposes of wildlife control, is occurring in the area. The signs must be placed within 1 kilometre of the sets and signs must cover all reasonable approaches.
- 4.17 When operating on Crown land the permit holder will attempt to notify the holder(s) of the registered trapline(s) on which permitted control measures will occur. The permit holder will maintain a record of these discussions or will document the reasons why such contact was not practicable under the circumstances.

5. Wildlife Specialists

- 5.1 Wildlife Specialists under this permit may investigate and verify all alleged incidences of livestock predation, injury or harassment; determine the responsible predator; promote application of current prevention measures by producers; and apply mitigation strategies where warranted.
- 5.2 Wildlife Specialists under this permit may carry out predator control measures on wolf and coyote, and must be proficient in all aspects of predator control including appropriate, humane and up-to-date lethal and non-lethal wildlife control.
