Immediate action needs to happen ASAP!!

According to BC government website:

Wildlife Act -

Anyone who kills or harms an endangered or threatened species will receive penalties – conviction could mean a fine of $500,000 and three years in jail

Habitats for endangered or threatened species can be protected as Critical Wildlife Habitats in Wildlife Management Areas

<https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/environment/plants-animals-ecosystems/species-ecosystems-at-risk/legislation>

Looks like we need to turn the whole area of the last remaining Old Growth of Southern Vancouver Island like Fairy Creek and surrounding areas, into "Critical Wildlife Habitat" as of today.

Please, for the future of our planet, act immediately.

This article was just posted today - scientists have now confirmed identification of endangered marbled murrelet species within Fairy Creek watershed and surrounding forests. What action can we expect to see from both federal and provincial governments now? Why does BC still not have species at risk legislation? This was a campaign promise of the BCNDP government in 2017.
