Hi Holger and Kindry

I am reviewing District of Invermere's permit application. Kindry, there may be some remaining funding from PUDOC budget. Holger is it too late for DOI to apply for cost-sharing funds?

Thank you

No worries. Report does not have to be too detailed. Would like a report that includes the deer count information for last year and maybe the previous 4 years along with cull info summarized.

Thanks

Yes it is mentioned on the 2nd page of the permit. It is not a new requirement. Chris used to send these reports to me. He has not sent me anything since 2017. If you had time, creating a report with 2018, 2019 ,2020 info would be helpful. Basically a report that includes summary tables of count data and cull data per year

Urban Deer 2020 Annual Report

Submitted by: Kindry Luyendyk, Corporate Officer
Date: November 25, 2021

Introduction

Starting in 2014-15, the District of Invermere initiated an operational program to manage aggressive deer in targeted neighborhoods. Council directed staff to create an operational management program under an approved three (3) year permit granted from the Ministry of Forests, Lands and Natural Resources.

The program was internalized and operated with District employees who volunteered to conduct the program and attended all training. The Program was initiated in early December 2015 and ran until the middle of March 2016. All meat was delivered to a local meat cutter for processing under the requirements from the Interior Health Authority. All meat was provided to the local food bank for use in their operations within the valley community.

Invermere deer cull summary 2020

Species	Total	Adult Females	Adult Males	Juvenile Females	Juvenile Males
Mule deer	29	21	3	2	3

- No white-tailed deer captured

It is estimated that 950 lbs of meat were processed and donated to local food banks. Meat processing was shared with the District and the food bank. The District paid for the cost to gut and skin the deer for processing purposes. The cost for gutting and skinning the animals totaled $3,360. All costs associated with processing the meat were covered by the Food Bank and was not disclosed to the District. All trapping was conducted internally with unionized staff volunteers. In addition to the costs for gutting and skinning the deer, labour costs for trapping amounted to $13,200 and the cost of internal equipment is $2,160.

Traps were located in zones which have aggressive deer / human safety related issues.

Instead of using contractors we were able to use District staff to work on project.

Urban deer were counted on December 17, 2020 in town. The town is separated into 7 survey units and all units are counted at the same time so as to reduce double counting. A total of 122 mule deer were counted. This was the lower count then in 2019, however, it was later in the season then we normally count. We will be conducting urban deer counts annually.

Results and Observations

The targeted approach adopted by the District appears to have succeeded in removing the most aggressive deer within those neighborhoods. In 2019, we had some very specific aggressive deer complaints and we feel that we were successful in trapping those specific deer.

Conclusion

The program is planned to continue beginning in December 2021 with the submission of the annual permit to the Province. The program will be operated in the same manner and the District will continue to utilize our own resources to manage the deer population. This program will run in conjunction with any translocation or other permitted deer management tool.

Good Morning,

Yes, the food bank will be holding onto the meat until the results are back. Any special instructions I give my PW Foreman before we ship them tomorrow?

Irene, I did see your message about texting you. I will confirm, but I think our guys are driving them down, so I will give them your cell number.

Thank you,

Hi Cait,

I just got word that we have ended our program and they are shipping the heads out Thursday, March 3rd. Hopefully that will give enough time to let them thaw for your inspection.

Thank you Kindry. That would be great – but let's wait to ship until all of the work is completed. I will only be coming out to Cranbrook once, so I would rather wait and do all of the heads at the same time so we can get results back to you asap.

Thanks.

Does that work ok?

I am going to try to come out to sample the week of March 7th, so I would need to have the heads (thawing) in Cranbrook the week before. Would the district have a way to transport the heads to Cranbrook next week? Assuming everything would be wrapped up by then?

Thanks.

Hi Kindry,

Good news! All Invermere came back NEGATIVE for CWD, with the exception of two deer, under 1 year of age, that we were not able to test. Fawns are generally considered low risk so I don't see an issue with releasing that meat as well.

Apologies for the delay in getting the results back to you. This year we will plan better to try to reduce the turnaround time.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I look forward to working with you again this year.

Hi Cait,

I just talked with our Foreman and the deer that did not get shipped down were fawns and he is has the understanding that the Province does not need to test fawn heads. Is that correct? If this is not accurate, they have been disposed of for this year but we can change protocol for next year.

I will only be coming out to Cranbrook once, so I would rather wait and do all of the heads at the same time so we can get results back to you asap.

Thanks.

Hi Kindry,

Good news! All Invermere came back NEGATIVE for CWD, with the exception of two deer, under 1 year of age, that we were not able to test. Fawns are generally considered low risk so I don't see an issue with releasing that meat as well.

Apologies for the delay in getting the results back to you. This year we will plan better to try to reduce the turnaround time.

Hi Cait,

I just talked with our Foreman and the deer that did not get shipped down were fawns and he is has the understanding that the Province does not need to test fawn heads. Is that correct? If this is not accurate, they have been disposed of for this year but we can change protocol for next year.

Cait is planning to arrive in the EK at the end of March to sample the heads and will require the information on those completed cards. Also please complete the Appendix D when you find the time (no rush on this).
