Hi Matt,

We've prepared a community scan for Maple Ridge for Wednesday.

The event is closed to media, but you may want to add issues Q and As on hot topics and specific concerns that could emerge in the conversation.

This will need to be finalized by 4pm tomorrow (Tuesday) for inclusion in the final package.

If you have nothing to add, just let me know and I'll proceed with the community scan on its own.

Thanks,
Cara

Hi Aileen,

We had included a list of links (Learn More) like we normally would in an NR, and the Editors stripped those out because they don't fit the format of a Statement.

The background numbers, for this same reason, won't work in this statement either.

Minister's avail is at 8:30 and the Statement is scheduled to go at 7:45am, so any media in attendance should already have it before her avail begins.

Gas Prices

Background:

- Gasoline prices in the lower mainland have hit record highs approaching 1.60/litre and the owner of www.GasBuddy.com says they could rise over $2/litre if Alberta follows through on its threat to cut off gas.
- BC has two refineries which produce about 25% of the province's gasoline consumption. The rest is imported from nearby jurisdictions (Mainly Alberta and Washington State)
- Alberta has said they do not expect to and do not want to try to use new legislation to cut gasoline shipments to BC.
- Saskatchewan has introduced legislation mirroring Alberta's and says they would use it to cut oil shipments to BC if Alberta acted first.

Message:

- I understand people's frustration about gas prices. It is one of many costs facing people and that is why we are working to make life more affordable.
- We are eliminating MSP fees, got rid of bridge tolls and we are investing in affordable housing and childcare to help people.
- Gas prices in B.C. are a result of a shortage of refining capacity in the region while we have growing demand.
- Planned shutdowns for maintenance at the Burnaby refinery and other refineries in Western Canada and Washington State have contributed to recent prices.
- We are working with our neighbours to the South to strengthen supply options and will continue to work every day to make life more affordable.

Wouldn't building the Kinder Morgan pipeline bring down prices?

- No. Alberta has been clear that building the pipeline is about exporting diluted bitumen, not shipping gasoline for use in BC.
- Nearly all of the additional pipeline capacity is already committed to shippers of diluted bitumen – that won't help gas prices.
- Industry Analysts Kent Group Ltd write:
 - "The increased capacity of the expanded line will be used to transport primarily crude and not necessarily refined product, since there are already committed shippers (of crude oil) for virtually all of the proposed expanded capacity." (April, 2018)

What is the role of Carbon Tax increases in recent gas prices?

- The recent increase in the Carbon Tax only results in a 1.1 cent increase in gasoline prices – that is not what is driving recent price increases in BC.

Hi Kirsten

Here is your draft for review.

Of note:

Statements do not normally have any "Learn More" links in them, so I've taken them out as per our standard template. I changed your headline to reflect the standard for most statements.

We've also changed the word "chaos" in the last paragraph to "system" as we're unsure "chaos" is specific enough in this context.

On approval, I'll set this up for release tomorrow at 7:45 provincewide.

Premier,

Below are the Premier's office in-province travel expenses going back to January 2016. I've excluded April-June 2017 because of the election/interregnum.

It's not uncommon for expenses incurred in one quarter to actually be posted for the subsequent quarter. That's why the July-Sept 2017 expenses appear so low – some of those were actually posted in Oct-Dec 2017.

Please let me know if you'd like anything further.

New government:

- Jan-March 2018
 - In province flights: $12,572.02
 - Other travel in province: $2,640.19
- Oct-Dec 2017

 - Other travel in province: $3,567.56
- July-Sept 2017

The issue should be resolved as there was an inadvertent duplication in the distribution list, which is now removed.

Best,

Subject: EMBC Update - April 29, 2018 as of 0700hrs

Good morning,

EMBC UPDATE – April 29, 2018 AS OF 0700 HRS – ASSESSMENT

A ridge of high pressure has brought seasonally hot temperatures across the British Columbia Interior. This has led to rapid melt of snow pack at mid-elevation (900-1500m) and the onset of the snow melt season at upper elevations. Snow melt rates observed at automated snow weather stations have grown to 10-25 mm/day at mid-elevation sites, and 0-10mm/day at upper elevations. High streamflow is being observed in many river systems fed by low-to-mid elevation terrain.

Last night, the Regional District of Central Okanagan declared a SOLE in response to landslide activity on Westside Road, near Vernon. An Evacuation Order was issued for 12 properties and residents were assisted by local emergency services. Ongoing assessments are expected today and further updates will follow. There is a 40 percent chance of showers this afternoon with the probability for rain dropping moving into next week with a mix of cloud and sun throughout the week as temperatures rise. Cache Creek also declared a State of Local Emergency due to rising flood waters. The weather office is forecasting an end to rain in the Cache Creek area this morning, although remaining cloudy today it will be sunny moving into Monday seeing temperatures rising throughout the week. On the Bonaparte River below Cache Creek flows are at 28 m³/s (2-year flow) and rising. Current hydrologic modelling is indicating the potential for flows to exceed 20-year return period flows this weekend and possibly into next week.

Flooding incidents continue to impact a number of communities across the province. An Evacuation Alert was issued for 58 properties in the Tulameen Townsite due to rising water levels in Otter Lake. The Lower Nicola Indian Band issued a BCR as well as an Evacuation Alert for Joeyask. There were a number requests for sandbags from local authorities and communities as they are either impacted by rising waters or in preparedness; Grand Forks, West Bridge, Cherry Creek near Kamloops, Bulkley Neckako Regional District, Cawston, Vernon, and Quesnel.

The PECC remained at level 1 yesterday and is expect to remain at level 1 today. Staff are on standby should there be a need to respond to regional requests for support. The Northeast PREOC and Central PREOC activated yesterday at Level 2 in support of EOC's ongoing flood response activities and are expected to activate today.

The updated Regional summaries are below.

PROVINCIAL WEATHER

An upper low moving through Washington State this morning will generate showers and alpine flurries for areas south of the Cariboo ranges. A surface low in western Saskatchewan will provide upslope enhancement to the eastern slopes of the Rockies.

Monday, there will be a chance of shower and alpine flurries for northern B.C. while temperatures rebound briefly to the mid-to-high teens for the southern interior and Cariboo ranges.

A weak front slides across the interior on Tuesday dropping daytime highs to the low double digits from the Columbias to the Purcells with high single digits for the south east corner of the province. Freezing levels will remain near 2,000 metres in the afternoon. The southern interior will see mostly clear skies for Tuesday night while clouds invade areas north of Quesnel.

Wednesday sees the freezing levels rise to 2,500 metres from the Cariboo ranges southward. South west ranges will experience freezing levels rise to near 3,000 metres. The south west interior including the Okanagan Valley as well as the western Kootenay regions will see valley temperatures return to the 20°C mark. Cariboo and central interior will see temperatures in the high teens. The Columbias will see a chance of showers with daytime temperatures in the low double digits.

The Village EPC does not feel there is need to evacuate anyone at this point. They are conducting works on and over private property. The RDM recommended they get a SOLE in place.

TNRD has reached out to Cache Creek to offer EOC support. Cache Creek has stated that they have the situation under control and do not need TNRD at this time.

TNRD will continue to be ready to support Cache Creek if or when required. Cache Creek and TNRD are not requesting FLNRORD support tonight and Water Stewardship FLNRORD will be going to Cache Creek in the morning to assess further. MOTI will be on site this evening to monitor the situation.

As of 2200hrs, DriveBC indicates that Highway 1 is currently closed in both directions at Spences Bridge because of flooding at Cache Creek. An assessment is in progress with no estimated time of opening. Local traffic is able to get to Spences Bridge or to Lillooet via Highway 12 and industrial traffic must detour via highway 5 in Hope.

Flooding in the Village of Cache Creek – Initial Report

At 2008hrs this evening, a MOTI representative provided the following flooding report for the Village of Cache Creek. MOTI is coordinating a response in concert with RCMP and the Village staff. MOTI is providing rip rap from the copper valley pit to help mitigate overland flooding damage to the fire hall and are assessing road closures but hoping to keep one lane open on Hwy 97 through town.

The Regional Duty Manager engaged the Local Authority and provided the following update:

RDM spoke with the Cache Creek EPC, TNRD and FLNRORD.

- Cache Creek has a breached culvert on Quartz Road in front of the Village Fire Hall.
- Hwy 97 has a “phenomenal” amount of water with one foot deep water in Cache Creek.
- A three foot high sandbag wall has been installed but is close to breaching.
- Water is running down hwy 1 on to hwy 97.

Up stream

- 3 excavators working in 3 different locations to help redirect water flow.
- 1 resident has a machine and is protecting his own property – he will not be able to return home tonight.

The Village EPC does not feel there is need to evacuate anyone at this point. They are conducting works on and over private property. The RDM recommended they get a SOLE in place.

TNRD has reached out to Cache Creek to offer EOC support. Cache Creek has stated that they have the situation under control and do not need TNRD at this time.

TNRD will continue to be ready to support Cache Creek if or when required. Cache Creek and TNRD are not requesting FLNRORD support tonight and Water Stewardship FLNRORD will be going to Cache Creek in the morning to assess further. MOTI will be on site this evening to monitor the situation.

Cache Creek appears to be experiencing a significant flooding issue.

This was not known when we answered the query from the Premier's office earlier today. At the time, I confirmed that Cache Creek was not experiencing flooding issues.

I am working this with Peter but we will have to send an update.

Hi all. We are coordinating a response in concert with rcmp and Village of Cach Creek staff. We are providing rip rap from copper valley pit to help save the fire hall at the request of Keir Gervais under a task number. Still assessing road closures but hoping to keep one lane open on Hwy 97 through town. Irl notified and awaiting their arrival with TCP's.

Flood Watch – Central Interior (UPGRADED)

High Streamflow Advisory – Peace (NEW) - BC Interior (MAINTAINED)

ISSUED: 11:45 PM April 27, 2018

The River Forecast Centre is upgrading to a Flood Watch for:

- Central Interior including the Nazko River, West Road River, Bonaparte River, and tributary rivers around Cache Creek, Merritt, Williams Lake, Quesnel and surrounding areas

The River Forecast Centre is issuing a High Streamflow Advisory for:

- Peace Region

The River Forecast Centre is maintaining a High Streamflow Advisory for:

- South Interior
- Boundary
- Kootenay

A ridge of high pressure has brought seasonally hot temperatures across the British Columbia Interior. This has led to rapid melt of snow pack at mid-elevation (900-1500m) and the onset of the snow melt season at upper elevations. Snow melt rates observed at automated snow weather stations have grown to 10-25 mm/day at mid-elevation sites, and 0-10mm/day at upper elevations.

Friday is forecast to be the final day of significantly hot weather, and temperatures expected to ease to closer to seasonal levels over the weekend. A low pressure system is expected to move across Washington and Oregon over the weekend, and this may bring showers across southern BC on Saturday and Sunday.

High streamflow is being observed in many river systems fed by low-to-mid elevation terrain.

These areas include:

- Okanagan - including tributaries in the Oliver, Osoyoos, Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon and surrounding areas
- Similkameen - including the Tulameen and tributaries
- Boundary - including the West Kettle River, Kettle River, Granby River and surrounding tributaries
- Kootenay - including the Moyie River and mid-elevation tributaries in the Castlegar, Trail, Salmo, Creston, Cranbrook and surrounding areas

- Peace – including tributary rivers draining plateau areas around Fort St. John, Dawson Creek and surrounding areas

In the Central Interior (Cariboo), very high flows are being observed or forecasted at gauged river locations. At the West Road River near Cinema (Water Survey of Canada gauge 08KG001), flows are estimated to be in the 280-300 m³/s range (10-year flow) and rising. On the Bonaparte River below Cache Creek (WSC 08LF002), flows are at 28 m³/s (2-year flow) and rising. Current hydrologic modelling is indicating the potential for flows to exceed 20-year return period flows on these rivers over the weekend or into next week. These are also rivers that experienced extensive forest fires within their watersheds in 2017, and this expected to increase the likelihood of flooding.

Similar high flow conditions are expected on local tributary streams throughout the Central Interior, including areas around Merritt, Cache Creek, Quesnel, Williams Lake and surrounding areas.

Snowmelt rates will increase through Friday, with on-going rises in river levels expected into the weekend. While temperatures are expected to cooling over the weekend, increasing areas contributing to snowmelt runoff and the potential for showers through the weekend indicate the likelihood that river level in affected areas will continue to rise through the weekend.

The River Forecast Centre will continue to monitor conditions and update this advisory as conditions warrant.

A High Streamflow Advisory means that river levels are rising or expected to rise rapidly, but that no major flooding is expected. Minor flooding in low-lying areas is possible.

A Flood Watch means that river levels are rising and will approach or may exceed bankfull. Flooding of areas adjacent to affected rivers may occur.

A Flood Warning means that river levels have exceeded bankfull or will exceed bankfull imminently, and that flooding of areas adjacent to the rivers affected will result.

Hi Amber,

EMBC's update for the Premier is below. It indicates no current flooding, though river levels are very high and Cache Creek Elementary students/staff have been relocated to Ashcroft.

Subject: Cache Creek Flooding and Support

Hi Mike, Liam and Don,

Sorry for the delay!

Cache Creek Situation Overview:

There is no current flooding in Cache Creek. On April 26, the Advanced Planning Unit of the PECC, in consultation with the River Forecast Centre identified that the Bonaparte River may reach a 1-in-100 year level by Tuesday which would equate to flood levels seen in 2014. Based on that information, a coordination call was initiated with Cache Creek and the Bonaparte Indian Band. They confirmed that they are seeing a rise in river flows but that they have been preparing for flooding early this year. The general feeling is that they are well prepared for a 2014 flood event. Low-lying areas that could be at risk were identified in the event that flows are higher than modelling shows, and planning is underway for timely evacuations and temporary shelter requirements by way of ESS should the need arise.

Cache Creek has organized community sandbagging events over the past weekends and intends to conduct another event this weekend. They have invited the Bonaparte Indian Band to participate.

As a precaution, Cache Creek Elementary School relocated 110 students and 14 staff to Ashcroft. There is no immediate threat to school or students but they can be expected to be relocated until freshet subsides.

EMBC has supported with 15,000 sandbags and a sandbag machine has been in place since March 23rd. No other requests for assistance have been made and regular contact is made with the communities.

Subject: Cache Creek Flooding and Support

Hi Mike, Liam and Don,

Sorry for the delay!

Cache Creek Situation Overview:

There is no current flooding in Cache Creek. On April 26, the Advanced Planning Unit of the PECC, in consultation with the River Forecast Centre identified that the Bonaparte River may reach a 1-in-100 year level by Tuesday which would equate to flood levels seen in 2014. Based on that information, a coordination call was initiated with Cache Creek and the Bonaparte Indian Band. They confirmed that they are seeing a rise in river flows but that they have been preparing for flooding early this year. The general feeling is that they are well prepared for a 2014 flood event. Low-lying areas that could be at risk were identified in the event that flows are higher than modelling shows, and planning is underway for timely evacuations and temporary shelter requirements by way of ESS should the need arise.

Cache Creek has organized community sandbagging events over the past weekends and intends to conduct another event this weekend. They have invited the Bonaparte Indian Band to participate.

As a precaution, Cache Creek Elementary School relocated 110 students and 14 staff to Ashcroft. There is no immediate threat to school or students but they can be expected to be relocated until freshet subsides.

EMBC has supported with 15,000 sandbags and a sandbag machine has been in place since March 23rd. No other requests for assistance have been made and regular contact is made with the communities.

Resources to Cache Creek:

EMBC has delivered 9,000 sandbags to Cache Creek on March 2, 2018 and a further 6,000 on April 25, 2018. EMBC also delivered a 4 Chute Sandbag machine on March 23, 2018.

No other items have been asked for from EMBC.

BC Wildfire Service has not yet received a request to deploy personnel to Cache Creek, although they are fully prepared to assist if a request is incoming (they haven't turned down a single request for flood assistance so far).

Provincial Freshet 2018 Support Overview:

Emergency Management BC is assisting local governments to respond to flooding in many areas of the Province. To date, the province has:

- Activated the Provincial Emergency Coordination Centre (PECC) on the Saanich Peninsula. The aim is to coordinate flood response efforts throughout the province.
- Activated the Provincial Regional Emergency Operations Centres (PREOC) continually in Kamloops since April 11 and periodically in Nelson to provide assistance around the clock to local governments in the central interior and south east.
- Deployed more than 1.2 million sandbags to local governments to protect homes and public infrastructure.
- Provided a total of five sandbag machines to Cache Creek, Oliver, Willowbrook and Kelowna (2).
- Deployed over 150 BC Wildfire Service fire fighters to Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and the Nooaitch Indian Band near Merritt to assist with sandbagging. Current BCWS Deployments:
 - Kaleden - One BCWS Incident Management Team (7 personnel)
 - Kelowna - 79 BCWS firefighters and 2 BCWS agency representatives
 - Oliver - 30 BCWS firefighters and 20 contract firefighters
 - Penticton - 12 BCWS firefighters
- Shipped 1 km of Gabions and just over 5 km of tiger dams to the Okanagan area.
- The River Forecast Centre and regional operations are providing water flow expertise, as well as dam safety officers, geotechnical specialists and engineers in affected areas.

Subject: FW: EMBC Update - April 27, 2018 as of 0700hrs

While we're waiting for EMBC's update, below is the EMBC update from this morning. Note that it's as of 7 am but it provides a good lay of the land across the province.

EMBC UPDATE – April 27, 2018 AS OF 0700 HRS – ASSESSMENT

There were no new significant incidents over the last 24-hour period.

This morning, the PECC will activate at level 2 to provide additional support to the EMBC regions. The Central PREOC remains activated today in support of local authority's freshet response. The Northeast PREOC is expected to activate today in support of EOC's activated in Dawson Creek, the Cariboo Regional District, and the Williams Lake Indian Band.

The updated Regional summaries are below.

PROVINCIAL WEATHER

One more hot day is in store for the Interior, and then the warmth comes to an end as we head into the weekend with the departure of the upper ridge into Alberta and the arrival of an upper low from the Pacific. This morning, the west coast will cool down as a stratus surge pushes cool marine air onshore. Later today, clouds will invade with onshore flow on the coast and continue into the Interior tomorrow.

Saturday, the southern offshore low pushes into southern Oregon. BC's strong ridge is more over Alberta by Saturday morning, and clouds and cooler temperatures will develop over BC. Later on Saturday, the rotating precipitation band from the southern low will bring rain to southern BC. The closer to the border you are, the more likely you'll see the rain/showers.

Sunday, the wet weather will continue for southern areas making its way even more into the Interior. A low pressure system moves from west to east along the US border bringing chance of showers for southern BC. Freezing levels fall from the Saturday high levels at 3000 metres down to 2000 metres by Sunday. On Monday, the ridge is expected to rebound with dry, seasonal weather and by Tuesday it will be strong and powerful again.

WEATHER ALERTS

A Special air quality statement remains in effect for the BC North Peace River, Bulkley Valley and The Lakes, Cariboo and Prince George.

RIVER FORECAST CENTRE

High Streamflow Advisory remains in effect for:

- Okanagan - including tributaries in the Oliver, Osoyoos, Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon and surrounding areas
- Similkameen - including the Tulameen and tributaries
- Boundary - including the West Kettle River, Kettle River, Granby River and surrounding tributaries

- Kootenay - including the Moyie River and mid-elevation tributaries in the Castlegar, Trail, Salmo, Creston, Cranbrook and surrounding areas
- Central Interior – including the Bonaparte River, Salmon River (around Falkland), West Road River, Baker Creek, and tributary flows around Merritt, Cache Creek, Quesnel, Williams Lake and surrounding areas (some of these areas have experienced extensive forest fires in 2017 which may exacerbate high flows)

Hi Matt,

We're pulling together a community scan for Surrey and Vancouver for the tour that starts on Monday.

As before, PO is requesting their materials two business days in advance – so I'm hoping to have all materials for Monday pulled together by EOD today.

I know today is a very busy day, please let me know if the deadline presents an issue (!) and we'll work something out.

Hi Aileen,

Using the work phone while travelling (data, text, call usage) will incur extra roaming costs. If you need to work while travelling, I recommend getting an add-on roaming package. You'll need Matt's approval if this is for business use.

If you need to use the phone for "personal use", we can still add the roaming package but you would need to write a cheque to GCPE for the cost.

Please find a list of roaming packages in the attachment.

Some lines and background to use with reporters:

Messages:

- Starting this month, tens of thousands of families are seeing reduced fees for child care.
- This is part of an historic, bold investment of $1 billion over three years.
- We're encouraged by the response we've received from parents, and the overall uptake from providers has been strong – a significant majority of operators have applied to join in just the first month of the program. We expect that to continue to grow.
- This kind of major initiative will always generate questions and challenges. We're speaking with providers, addressing those questions and moving forward on this historic program.

Gentlemen, attached is a new poll on BC attitudes towards wild salmon. While there are some challenges with respect to respondents interpretation of jurisdictional matters, it was in the field during the KM debate. it's worth a read. It will be made public over the next several days.

Hi Aileen,

The 2,027 is for facilities that had returned contracts and been reviewed as of April 20. Their application status is either approved, not approved, or waiting on further information.

There were 490 contracts that the team received over the last week or so but had not yet had a chance to review – these are not included in the 2,027 facilities.

Happy to discuss in more detail if you have questions.

Thank you,

Brendan

Hi Karen,

Just following up on this. The 2027 facilities representing 33,000 spaces which have applied to opt in – these contracts were received as of which date?

Were the 490 contracts which haven't been processed received after all of those contracts?

Key messages

On March 18 we said we sent out over 3,400 contracts, that includes providers who would be eligible for this program and providers who would not be eligible, such as before and after school care

The number of organizations that are estimated to be eligible are 2,850, which represents 3,300 child care centres, with a total of 50,000 spaces

We have approved 1,109 organizations representing 1,431 facilities and 22,072 spaces. That's 71% of facilities approved

At this time, we were unable to approve 56 organizations, representing 68 facilities and a total of 1,466 spaces. These organizations have the option of sending us new information if they feel that the Ministry's assessment is not accurate.

We are still working on reviewing 429 contracts representing 528 facilities, which translates into 10,258 spaces.

We also over 490 contracts recently received that we have not yet looked at, some of which will have opted in.

What we can definitely say is, as of today, 22,000 kids and their families are going to benefit from the parent reduction fee in the very first month of the program and that fee reduction applies for the entire month of April.

And that doesn't include the 10,258 spaces that we're just waiting for more information from.

Table and explanation

Govt made a commitment to respond to all applicants whose application to opt in came on or before March 27 (1,332 facilities representing 969 organizations).

Last reported publicly (April 13):

2169 organizations have returned their contracts, 1559 (72%) organizations have applied to opt in (33000 spaces)

883 Organizations received approval for some or all of the spaces (April 13)

| | Estimated Eligible | Apply to Opt in to pass on savings to parents in April | Approved of those who opted in | Not approved at this time of those who opted in | Needs additional information (incomplete application – asked for additional information, incomplete application) of those who opted in |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|---|---------------------------------------|--|---|
| Organization (contracts) | 2,850 | 1,570 | 1,109 | 56 | 429 |
| Facilities | 3,300 | 2,027 | 1,431 | 68 | 528 |
| Spaces | 50,000 | 33,796 | 22,072 | 1,466 | 10,258 |

*490 returned contracts have yet to be processed – not confirmed whether they have applied to opt in.

71% of those who applied to opt in have been approved

In terms of spaces 65% opted in

More coming in every day

I think this info would be helpful for estimates, and for conversations with reporters to help clarify that the approval and opt-in numbers we are reporting on don't include several hundred returned contracts.

Is it possible to also get an update on that 490 stat? The 490 stat was before the end of day Friday deadline – I assume it increased?

So we can say:

Subject: Consultation OOP-2018-80340 (115 pgs) Response Due: Mar 29

Hello Government Communications and Public Engagement,

The Office of the Premier received this FOI request from a Political Party:

Records of any and all emails, text messages, BBMs, slack messages, and WhatsApp messages sent from Mira Oreck.
(Date Range for Record Search: From 08/01/2017 To 08/31/2017)

They identified the attached documents as responsive records and wish to get your views on disclosure. If you need help determining harms, please contact me directly.

Your program area's response is due March 29, 2018.
IAO may take one to two business days to apply any severing.

1. Ministry Program Harms Assessment:

Please indicate which applies:

1. There are no harms in these records. They can be released in full.
2. There are harms in releasing all of these records. They should be withheld in their entirety.
3. There are harms in portions of the records. Please give details so that IAO can apply the appropriate sections of FOIPPA. Please feel free to write directly on the attached records and send back to IAO. If you are unsure of why it is harmful please call the IAO to discuss the appropriate severing.

Program Area Approval Authority:
Name, Title, Program

2. IAO's review of harms assessment and recommendations on release

Comments/Recommendations:

IAO will assess the program area's harms and recommend full release, withhold in its entirety or partial release.

3. Ministry Executive approval for release

Comments/Recommendations:

Please indicate which applies:

1. Approved for release with no changes.
2. Approved for release with the following changes... (insert changes).
3. Not approved for release and why.

Ministry Executive (Delegated Signoff):
Name, Title

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant

- with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Thank you,

Chelsea Fern, Senior FOI Analyst
Central Agency Team

Hi!

The Vancouver Sun story is posted. I'm wondering if someone could reach out to the reporter to clarify that April numbers are not yet complete – we still have nearly 500 contracts in that haven't even been processed yet. That part is missing in the story and it is important context.

Let me know, thanks!

Ensuring the BC Natural Resources Forum Remains Non-Partisan

We have received multiple inquiries about a Press Release issued Thursday, April 12th by a newly formed organization called the Natural Resources Forum BC Society, created under the direction of MLA Mike Morris. The Society claims that they will be providing the oversight, management and operation of the BC Natural Resources Forum. This is simply not the case. The Annual BC Natural Resources Forum will continue to be guided by a 28+ member non-partisan Host Committee and managed by C3 Alliance Corp., who assumed all management and financial responsibility in 2013.

Last year, after the May 2017 Provincial election when the BC Liberals became the Official Opposition Government, long-term supporters and participants advised C3 Alliance that it was essential the Forum become non-partisan. Liberal MLA Mike Morris officially resigned as Forum Host on July 31, 2017 stating: “I confirm that I have agreed to step back from taking a lead role, in order to ensure a successful outcome for the 2018 forum.” C3 Alliance assumed the role of Host, in addition to all other responsibilities for the Forum, including confirming moderators, speakers and keynotes. To ensure broader input into the event, C3 expanded the Host Committee to include wide representation from First Nations, business and Association leaders to provide new ideas and perspectives for the 2018 Program. The 2018 Forum was highly successful, setting new records with 925 delegates, 47 speakers, 70 tradeshow booths and unprecedented interest and attendance at the five Keynote speaking events.

C3 Alliance remains firmly committed to enhancing and protecting the ongoing success of this event. This includes ensuring that the Forum remains non-partisan and free of any perceived or actual political interference. As we have always done, we will ensure that all past sponsors and exhibitors have first-right-of-refusal, and your placement on all waitlists will be honoured.

Incredible energy and participation at the BC Natural Resources Forum
Tradeshow

Updates on the 16th Annual Forum, Jan. 22-24, 2019

Planning for the 16th Annual BC Natural Resources Forum is well underway with the following advancements:

Host Committee planning:

- 28+ non-partisan representatives have agreed to continue to direct the Forum

Speakers/Moderators:

- Rick Rule, President, Sprott U.S. Holdings Inc. - confirmed as the Banquet Keynote Speaker
- Premier John Horgan invited as a Luncheon Keynote speaker (Message from the Premier)
- Resource Ministers' Breakfast – discussions underway
- Multiple applications to speak have been received (visit our Speakers webpage to apply)

Contracts and agreements confirmed or underway:

- Prince George Civic Centre booked Jan. 22-24, 2019 (and under contract for 2019 – 2023)
- Prince George hotel room blocks and key airlines agreements under development
- Tradeshow, production service providers, on-line registration, graphic designer agreements in progress

Sponsorships

- First Right of Refusal to the 2018 sponsors has been issued – a wait list for Limited and Exclusive opportunities is available at this time
- National Aboriginal Energy and Power Association will again administer

sponsorships

Trade Show

- First Right of Refusal to the 70 exhibitors will be issued by April 25th – a wait list for Trade Show booths is available at this time

Thank you to all our Sponsors and Supporters

We sincerely appreciate all the support we have received over the past 5 years as we have transformed this event from a small, regional MLA-driven Forum of less than 200 delegates in 2013 to a vibrant, respected and nationally relevant conference. The Forum contributed approximately $2 million to the Northern economy last year, which we are very proud of. Without your support, this incredible event would not be possible!

Subject: Background

This is an ultra simple version – I’m sure the Ministry would have additional detail and nuances to add. But hopefully this is helpful context for you.

Municipal Elections Financing Reform

Background:

- On April 16, a Globe and Mail article including quotes from Vision Vancouver and NPA stated that these organizations could still accept corporate and union donations without reporting them if they are accepted as operational funding.
- Elections BC confirmed to CBC that this is acceptable under the Act as it stands. Ministry staff will be investigating how to further amend the legislation to prevent this.
- The Local Elections Campaign Financing Act (LECFA) was designed to capture organizations that spend most of their time advocating for an issue, but may endorse candidates during local elections.
- To properly regulate these organizations, LECFA defines “campaign periods” and non-campaign periods. Organizations who want to campaign during elections must have separate campaign accounts, and they cannot mix money between campaign and operating accounts.
- However, LECFA treats issues-based organizations that run candidates during elections and full-time political parties the same, leading to a possible gap that allows parties to accept corporate and union donations for operational spending outside of campaign periods.
- Staff from Municipal Affairs are currently working to determine what further changes are needed to LECFA to ensure that organizations cannot accept corporate or union donations anytime during the year.

Message:

- This government believes that people should be at the heart of politics, not big money.
- British Columbians agree – and they’re happy we kept our promise to ban big money in provincial and local elections.
- The legislation we brought in last fall was designed to create a level playing field.
- I have been clear of the intent of this legislation, and I am working with staff on what changes might be needed.
- Our government is ensuring that British Columbians have the fair elections they want, free of the influence of donors with deep-pockets.

Subject: Materials for Friday

Hi All,

Wanted to connect on materials needed for the Premier ahead of Friday’s speeches to the ILWU & CUPE BC. Cara has confirmed she will send me a community scan – wanted to confirm if an issues note, backgrounder etc. are coming ahead of these 2 events as well.

I can connect with the Ministry and request updated BNs for the Premier as well.

Program staff spoke to Mark Redder at KM. The filing is for a delay in the hearings and a consolidation. The Coquitlam hearings are proceeding next week. The hearings that are delayed allow KM to work with land owners and allows the KM engineering group to work through scheduling. Below is a summary. TMP has requested the following regarding segment 6 detailed route hearings:

1. April 8, 2018, TM issued a press release, which states that it is: (1) suspending all non-essential activities and related spending on the TMEP; and (2) consulting with various stakeholders in an effort to reach agreements by May 31, 2018 that may allow the Project to proceed.
2. Given TM's April 8, 2018 press release, TM respectfully requests that the Board consolidate the written evidence processes for all segment 8 route hearings as follows:
 - a. Postpone the oral portion of Hearing Phase 1 scheduled in June 2018 and consolidate these hearings with the oral portion of Hearing Phase 2 scheduled in October 2018; and
 - b. Postpone the written evidence deadlines associated with Hearing Phase 1 and consolidate this process with the forthcoming written evidence deadlines for Hearing Phase 2.
3. Consolidating the segment 6 route hearings is fair and efficient for all parties and would minimize, or eliminate, and prejudice.
4. TM requests confirmation from the Board whether it grants the consolidation prior to the evidence deadline on April 24, 2018. If not TM will file and serve its written evidence for Hearing Phase 1 in accordance with the established deadlines.

Kinder Morgan

Background:

- The Federal Government has said they will negotiate financial arrangements with Kinder Morgan to insulate investors from risk on the project and introduce legislation to clarify federal jurisdiction.
- Alberta has indicated confidence that the federal efforts will allow the pipeline to proceed but has introduced legislation to enable them to cut gas shipments to BC if they think BC takes unanticipated actions that threaten the project.

Message:

- The people of B.C. expect us to defend our province from the devastating consequences of an oil spill on our environment, our economy and our coast.
- A single spill of diluted bitumen would threaten tens of thousands of jobs and billions of dollars of economic activity.
- We are proceeding with a reference case in court to affirm BC's right, within our jurisdiction, to defend our environment, our economy and our coast.
- Our government will continue to defend BC's interests and stand up for British Columbians.

Alberta Legislation

Background:

- Alberta tabled legislation (Preserving Canadian Prosperity Act) that would give the Energy Minister arbitrary power to control exports of natural gas, crude oil and refined products.
- Premier Notley previously described the goal to be imposing economic consequences on BC by restricting gasoline shipments to the province.
- The Premier of Saskatchewan announced his intention to bring in similar legislation.
- Section 92A (2) of the Constitution says laws "may not authorize or provide for discrimination in prices or in supplies exported to another part of Canada."

Message:

- Alberta has been clear that they don't want to, and don't expect to try to use this legislation.
- The fact is, they can't use this legislation to target British Columbians because to do so would be entirely unconstitutional. And they know it.
- The Constitution is very clear that you can't discriminate in supplying energy to another province.
- We don't expect them to try to invoke these extreme measures, but we are prepared to defend British Columbians with the full force of the law.

We are now at 178 no opt-in surveys, an increase of 36 from the previous report. I have updated and attached the report. I included all the verbatims, but have placed the new ones ahead of the older ones and highlighted them. A reminder is scheduled to go out this morning – I will double check with the programmer to see that this happens.

Hi all,

Attached is the first summary report. It took some time to put together. Subsequent ones should be faster.

For Q2, I have only broken it out by Family vs. Group for now and you will see that the reasons are amazingly consistent across the two. Future reports can have other breaks, but sample sizes are too low for analysis by region or more detailed care types at this point.

I have included all the open-ends. I could use some advice on future reports in this regard. Should I include all verbatims, or just new ones since the prior report (the former will result in a huge report)?

And, what if anything do you need over the weekend?

A lot of frustration and confusion throughout the comments. And when people check off most of the reasons (as they have done here), instead of just one or two, that usually means they are unhappy with the overall idea and are not about to change their point of view if one or two things small things change.

Thanks Krista. I actually just looked at the FOI again. The meetings mentioned on page 22 were not attended by me - they appear to be IGRS exec meetings. It appears this may be confused with other meetings. I've added Jackie here to bring it to her attention.

Hello ,

Please note that page 94 of the attached file refers to an attachment. Although it is not included in the attached file due to the size (approximately 4000 pages), we request that GCP provide their harms view on the email attachment.

The Office of the Premier received this FOI request from Political Party:

All records on providing subsidies for political parties. (Date Range for Record Search: From 09/01/2017 To 01/25/2018)

They identified the attached document(s) as responsive records and wish to get your views on disclosure. If you need help determining harms, please see the attached harms assessment or contact me directly.

We request we receive your program area's response including your executive sign off by April 30, 2018. If you require more time, please advise.

If you are not able to respond by this date, we are required to continue processing this file without your recommendations.

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and

- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Subject: Consultation OOP-2018-81661

Hello GCPE,

OOP received this FOI request from a Political Party:

Any advice, excluding legal advice, obtained by the government about new regulations re: Kinder Morgan pipeline expansion as mentioned in this article: <https://globalnews.ca/news/4004127/kinder-morgan-pipeline-john-horgan/> (Date Range for Record Search: From 07/18/2017 To 03/07/2018)

They identified the attached document(s) as responsive records and wish to get your views on disclosure. If you need help determining harms, please see the attached harms assessment or contact me directly.

Your program area's response is due April 30th, 2018

IAO may take one to two business days to apply any severing.

If you are not able to respond by this date, we are required to continue processing this file without your recommendations. Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

I'm pretty sure the only things this bill would do are 1) set a dangerous precedent 2) fail to pass any challenge before the NEB 3) cause chaos for Alberta shippers, refiners, traders, etc. in the interim

Andrew Leach @andrew_leach 39m39 minutes ago

The first challenge to this legislation will come from the railroads _assembly.ab.ca/ISYS/LADDAR_fi_____. They'll win. The next challenge should come from Kinder Morgan, Enbridge, or TRP. They'll win. The next challenge should come from shippers, traders, refiners, etc. They'll win.

Export restrictions will be required whenever the Minister says so. And can be withheld for any reason the Minister wants. That is... concerning.

Hi Matt,

Apologies - just remembered to touch base with you on this.

Are there any issue notes forthcoming for tomorrow for PREM events (Coquitlam - housing hub; Victoria - AVICC speech)?

Danielle can work up a couple Qs specific to AVICC that she can send your way, if that's helpful.

We are working on a made-in-BC plan that will ensure modern options for people to get where they need to go, and protect jobs that currently exist.

This two part plan will create a level playing field for all service providers and ensure there is safety and choice for consumers.

Phase one of our plan starts later this Spring.

It will address concerns around the taxi industry, and help to modernize the industry to ensure it's ready for the introduction of ride-hailing legislation in the fall.

And it will address the gap in service that currently exists for consumers while we put together that legislation.

Because we've heard the concerns from people about a need for more service and modern options.

Phase two will see legislation introduced in the fall session.

We're going to set a level playing field that works for British Columbians and we welcome any company that follows the rules.

Subject: Consultation OOP-2018-81299 (5 pgs) Response Due: April 5

Hello Government Communications and Public Engagement,
The Office of the Premier received this FOI request from Media:
Regarding the Premier's Dec. 7, 2017 South Asian Media Roundtable: A list of the names and affiliations of all participants; Copies of invitations to the participants; Briefing notes about the participants and items to be discussed; A copy of the transcript of the media roundtable; Handwritten notes from the media roundtable; And the recording of the media roundtable.
They identified the attached documents as responsive records and wish to get your views on disclosure. If you need help determining harms, please contact me directly. Please note that OOP advised Matt Hannah might be the appropriate person to consult with on these records.

Your program area's response is due April 5, 2018.
IAO may take one to two business days to apply any severing.

1. Ministry Program Harms Assessment:

Please indicate which applies:

- 1. There are no harms in these records. They can be released in full.*
- 2. There are harms in releasing all of these records. They should be withheld in their entirety.*
- 3. There are harms in portions of the records. Please give details so that IAO can apply the appropriate sections of FOIPPA. Please feel free to write directly on* the attached records and send back to IAO. If you are unsure of why it is harmful please call the IAO to discuss the appropriate severing.

Program Area Approval Authority:

Name, Title, Program

2. IAO's review of harms assessment and recommendations on release

Comments/Recommendations:

IAO will assess the program area's harms and recommend full release, withhold in its entirety or partial release.

3. Ministry Executive approval for release

Comments/Recommendations:

Please indicate which applies:

- 1. Approved for release with no changes.*
- 2. Approved for release with the following changes... (insert changes).*
- 3. Not approved for release and why.*

Ministry Executive (Delegated Signoff):

Name, Title

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant
- with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Thank you,

Chelsea Fern, Senior FOI Analyst

Hi,

A QA and NR are attached for approval for the Europe Trip Wrap news release.

I've spoken with the Corporate Calendar folks at GCPE HQ and they've informed the best time for this to go out is 11am on Monday. it's tentatively slated for release at that time. Let me know if that time works for this to go out.

Subject: RE: Polak questions lack of transparency around Education Minister's European tour

Hi,
Please see these revised responses.
Thanks, Craig

Possible responses:

Statement from Minister Rob Fleming on the trip to Europe:

We are taking action to fill the urgent need for more French teachers by working with some of our European partners to recruit more French-speaking teachers to B.C. Almost 3,700 teachers have been hired in B.C. over the last year, and school districts and the BC Public School Employers' Association are working hard to hire more French teachers. I have heard from parents and teachers all over B.C. that we need more French teachers in our classrooms to meet the growing French-student population and we are working to meet this demand. This is a great opportunity to promote further collaboration to help us in attracting French teachers to B.C. This lays the groundwork to leverage B.C.'s strong education system to benefit our students here at home.

Information on background from the Ministry of Education:

- The Ministry will be covering the costs of all Ministry personal, as well as for the VSB's Suzanne Hoffman, who was vital in assisting with B.C.'s curriculum implementation.
- She will be helping get the word out that B.C. and the VSB need French teachers.

- The VSB will be covering the costs for Adrian Keough. Adrian speaks fluent French and can assist with outreach.
- Travel costs for the president of the BCTF are being paid for by the BCTF.
- It is important to note that the majority of the cost to government will be fully recovered by the B.C. Offshore School Program.

Itinerary:

Tuesday April 3 – Paris

- Canadian Bilingual School of Paris Visit
- Meeting with French National Ministry of Education Officials
- Meeting with French Academies with partnerships with B.C. school districts
- Canadian Embassy briefing

Wednesday April 4 – Brussels

- Meeting with Canadian Embassy Officials
- Meetings and Lunch with Canadian Ambassador for Belgium
- Meeting with the Minister of Higher Education, Research and Media of the Fédération Wallonie-Bruxelles
- Meet with Belgian government officials

Thursday April 5 – The Hague

- Meeting with Belgian Ministry for Culture and Science – Policy Discussion
- Meeting with Teacher Training Institute – Leiden, University Officials and Dutch Government Representative
- Meeting with Canada’s Ambassador to Netherlands & Embassy Officials

Friday April 6 – Amsterdam

- Primary School Visit – will discuss curriculum modernization
- Meeting with Amsterdam City Council
- Meeting with Minister of Education for the Netherlands

Hello, here is a reminder of what the Table of Contents was for last year's policy binder re: OoP estimates. I am hoping we might have fewer issues in this spring's binder – however, we will also be adding the IGR issues into this binder so it may not be the slim binder I was hoping for. This week, I hope we can discuss the policy docs that will be needed.

(FYI - there will be 2 binders, not 3. The policy binder will be the first binder; the second will be the binder from the Ministry of Finance Corporate Services – our expenditure information. MoF staff take the lead on preparing that binder.)

Will the moratorium on fish farms in the North Coast going to be lifted?

Name, Title

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Hi Kirsten,
We've drafted up this childcare post and below graphic for the weekend. Let us know if you have any edits and we'll slot it in for Saturday.

BC Gov TW

It's not too late for your licensed child care provider to opt in to our child care ~~reduction fee~~ fee reduction initiative for families with children up to kindergarten age. We've extended the deadline for child care providers to opt in to April's fee reduction until April 20, 2018.

BC Gov FB

We're reducing child care fees for families with children up to kindergarten age, who go to licensed child care and whose providers opt in.

To ensure the maximum number of families receive benefits next month, we've extended the deadline for child care providers to opt in to April's fee reduction until April 20, 2018.

Hey Matt – I saw an email chain about some of the concerns raised by program around quoting the providers – I saw they question of letting them know they are being quoted addressed, but didn't see if we had acknowledged the concern that we ought to check internally first that they had, in fact, applied to the program; and that they are organizations in good standing with the ministry.

Just wanted to flag that – if we're not going to wait for the checks (which will delay the release) that at least we acknowledge and are comfortable with the risk associated with shining a light on these orgs before being sure they're in good standing.

Will leave it with you.

Mike

Of 3,444 contracts 2,106 or 61% have been returned.
1,336 contracts have been processed into base pay – representing 44,586 spaces:

- 757 group contracts – 40,698 spaces
- 579 family contracts – 3,888 spaces

1,150 organizations have applied to opt in – 86% (this is the group we are now committed to adjudicating by EOD March 31):

- 669 group
- 481 family

Of those 1,150 organizations who have applied to opt-in 290 or 25% have been approved:

- 275 family have been approved
- 15 group organizations (these have multiple facilities – will have the breakdown in the morning)

If spaces are needed I can try to have those pulled tomorrow or have Maim calculate another approximation.

We have to continually remember this process and data is being conducted manually so subdividing the approval data into spaces and org types is time consuming until we get to the end of the adjudication process.

Status: will provide fiscal 2016/2017 stats and costs.
Response:

The billing is standard and set provincially. At last check, this is what I had, but you may want to check with MOH to see if these rates have changed.

Non-residents are required to make a pre-payment deposit of $7,500 for a vaginal birth and $13,000 for a caesarean birth. Non-residents are also required to pay for any hospital stay costs, including medical care, for the mother or baby. Every pregnancy and labour is different and the cost of prenatal, labour and delivery care will be different for each woman. It is important to note that the $7,500 and $13,000 figures are deposits – they are not the fees for the birth. Costs for the care received by mother and baby are different in each case – and billings for those cases would reflect that.

Here are the numbers of non-resident births at Richmond Hospital. Note: They are based on payee information. For example: the 384 number includes 5 Canadians who are private pay.

Thanks – can we find out the discrepancy between those stats and these ones reported by Richmond News? Is it non-resident versus non-Canadian?

There were 379 births to non-residents in Richmond, according to Vancouver Coastal Health's 2016-2017 fiscal year records. By comparison, from 2004 to 2010 the hospital helped birth, on average, 18 new Canadians per year from non-resident mothers.

Request

Looking to understand how health authorities report non-resident births to Vital Statistics. He has numbers from VCH for Richmond Hospital, but those are double the numbers that Stats Can has for the entire province, so would like to understand what the process is.

Also looking to see if we have province-wide numbers for 2016/17.

Filing story online today, but looking to get info from us to add by Tuesday, to make it in the Thursday edition of the paper.

Background

Recommendation

The process to report a non-resident birth to Vital Statistics is a two-part process.

1. A "Notice of Birth" is filed by the hospital when the child is born. This is Vital Statistics' primary source of truth. The mother's residential address is on this document. The hospital completes this document and submits it to Vital Statistics.
2. The parents file a "Birth Registration", which has the name of the child as well as the parents'.

Below is the number of births where the mother is not a BC resident based on the residential address provided.

| | 2013/2014 | 2014/2015 | 2015/2016 | 2016/2017 |
|-----------------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Total non-Canadian births in B.C. | 77 | 87 | 78 | 111 |

Please note that this also includes surrogacies of which there were about 48 last year. This is often a case of same-sex people from other countries contracting with a person in Canada to carry the child.

Below are the numbers of non-resident births for the fiscal year of 2016/2017, broken out by health authority. This is based on the number of births where the mother is not a B.C. resident based on the residential address provided.

| Health Authority | 2016/2017 |
|-------------------|-----------|
| Interior | 4 |
| Fraser | 27 |
| Vancouver Coastal | 66 |
| Vancouver Island | 12 |
| Northern | 2 |
| Total | 111 |

We recognize that our numbers may be different than those provided by the health authorities and we are working to determine those differences in reporting, however this is what we can provide at this time.

Subject: Process for the coming week re CC

Hi folks,

Mira and I just had a chat to scope out this week-long period while Evan and I are both away. Here's how we'd like things to work around CC:

- s.13 we think it best to limit the leadership team so as to make any decisions and efforts required flow more smoothly. So I'd like to suggest that Karen, Mira and Matt form the core team for this period. Of course, they will work in full cooperation with Niki and Paula as needed re communication tactics.
- It will be great if JJ, Marg and ministry coms staff provide any support they can to turn coms materials around asap.
- FYI, over the coming days, Mira will be working on an outreach strategy focusing on how we reach people and engage champions in public and internal coms; I will be working on a broader coms plan supporting and leveraging that work, including rollout of sustaining activities.

Thanks so much everyone for coming together on this. As Mira just described to me, this is more a slow burn than an all-out issue, but we need to be very precise and focused in our direction in dealing with this.

Thanks,

Robb

Pitt council takes action in wake of Murray sentencing

Pitt Meadows city council will lobby Victoria for legislative changes to allow municipalities to force councillors out of office when they have been convicted of serious offences. Former Pitt Meadows councillor David Murray was sentenced to nine months in jail on Wednesday for a sexual assault that occurred 26 years ago against a girl who was 13 or 14 years old at the time. Even after his conviction last fall, council had no authority to have him removed from office. Murray resigned at the end of January. (Maple ridge News, Mar. 22)

Mayor and ARMS President press for fishway on Alouette River

Maple Ridge Mayor Nicole Read and President of the Alouette River Management Society (ARMS), Ken Stewart, are going to Victoria in March to make their case for a fishway on the Alouette River. When B.C. Hydro built the Alouette dam in 1928, sockeye were cut off from the lake, leaving the sockeye that had been trapped inside, becoming landlocked kokanee. A fish passageway would allow returning Alouette sockeye to get back to the lake to spawn but also re-connect other species of salmon, such as chinook, chum, coho and pink. ARMS proposed building a fishway in 2010, but needs B.C. Hydro funding to pay for the project, which would cost at least $3 million. (Maple Ridge News, Mar. 1)

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Childcare Rollout

Background:

- Some childcare providers have been raising concerns about the government's childcare fee reduction program.
- Some providers have been saying they will not opt in to the program.
- The Vancouver Sun ran an editorial criticizing the design and roll out of the plan.
- Minister of State Chen will be extending the April deadline from March 27th until either April 13th or April 20th. This will be announced Monday morning.

Message:

- We're hearing from thousands of parents and childcare providers who are excited about this program. More are opting in every day.
- We're also hearing that some providers have additional questions that need to be answered.
- That's why we're extending the deadline for operators to opt-in. Operators now have more time to opt-in for parents to receive the fee reduction for April.
- This is a bold initiative to make life more affordable for young families, and it's understandable that operators have questions about these significant changes.
- We're very encouraged by the strong support the program has been receiving overall from parents and operators.

I assumed the invite list was the same as the previous calls but I guess you were missed. If there are any spontaneous calls in future I'll double check that everyone is invited. Sorry about that!

B.C. Green Caucus releases letter to LNG Canada clarifying position on government's LNG approach

VICTORIA, B.C. – The B.C. Green Caucus released a letter sent to LNG Canada clarifying the Caucus' position on the government's proposed LNG regulations. The letter, sent on Monday March 19, came after the Caucus was made aware of the details of the government's proposed LNG regime. The letter is intended to give industry maximum clarity, as the minority government requires the B.C. Green Caucus' votes for general stability and to pass legislation.

"There are significant opportunities to grow B.C.'s economy while meeting our climate targets," said Andrew Weaver, leader of the B.C. Green Party. "For instance, the supercluster funding announced last month is expected to generate 50,000 jobs and $15 billion in economic activity in B.C. in the next 10 years. Future development must fit within our climate targets, and the numbers on LNG simply don't add up."

The B.C. Green Caucus does not support extending the proposed measures to support existing Emissions Intensive Trade Exposed (EITE) industries as currently conceived to prospective LNG companies - a policy that would in effect freeze the carbon tax at $30/tonne for certain facilities. CASA commits government to extend the carbon tax to fugitive emissions, and the Caucus expects that this will include the natural gas industry. Further, the Caucus is concerned that increasing B.C.'s emissions through LNG developments will place an undue burden on existing industries and the public to reduce their emissions beyond what is already required.

Hello Mike,

Our folks don't have info on the report or the NR right now, but they're trying to see if they can get an advance copy.

There were some media pieces on this in 2016 and last year:

<http://www.metronews.ca/news/vancouver/2016/10/21/report-landlords-who-break-privacy-rules.html>

<https://www.straight.com/news/954816/bc-privacy-commissioner-shine-light-landlords-demanding-excessive-amounts-tenants>

<http://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/british-columbia/privacy-commissioner-landlord-information-1.4261256>

We had a media request on this in August last here and this was our response:

Request

Reporter is doing an article on the problems some prospective tenants are having in finding rental accommodations and the abuse of information gathering by some landlords. Has your organization had an increase in complaints about this issue?

What if anything can prospective tenants do, given that they may not be able to say anything without losing their opportunity to rent a space.

RESPONSE

- The Office of the Privacy Commissioner handles all such complaints. B.C.'s Residential Tenancy Act does not apply to these situations. When the Residential Tenancy Branch receives complaints regarding privacy concerns, they are immediately directed to the Office of Privacy Commissioner. For more information please visit: <https://www.oipc.bc.ca/guidance-documents/1456>

- Our government has made a commitment to make changes that provide stronger protection for renters in B.C. and we are looking at a variety of potential improvements.
- Part of our work right now is looking at the role of rent control and ensuring there is adequate protection in place for tenants and landlords.
- B.C.'s allowable rent increase is two per cent plus inflation, annually.
- The cap is in place to provide for predictable, transparent and manageable rent increases to the benefit of landlords and tenants. Unfortunately, some landlords have been using a loophole in the fixed-term tenancy rules to increase rents above the limit.
- We need to close that loophole to ensure that it does not allow landlords to unfairly raise rents at the end of a short fixed term lease even though the same tenant remains in place.
- Staff have been directed to prepare options to close the loophole and strengthen protection for renters in our province.
- Our government is also working on providing additional support to the Residential Tenancy Branch so they can be more effective for both renters and for landlords.

Our updated draft lines would be:

- We know that not enough has been done to help renters in B.C. and that too many people in our province cannot afford housing.
- It's disturbing to see that some landlords are exploiting low vacancy rates and violating personal privacy.
- As part of improving affordability and housing security for British Columbians, we are providing stronger protection for renters.
- It is important to me and this government that tenants are able to live without the fear of unfair evictions or exploitation.
- That is why we are working on greater protection for renters at risk of unfairly losing their home due to renovations or demolitions.
- This builds on the other steps we have taken to protect renters, including closing the fixed-term lease loophole and eliminating the geographic rent increase clause.
- At the heart of this issue is the issue of supply in a tight rental market.
- As part of Budget 2018, we will invest more than $1.8 billion over the next 10 years to build more rental housing for British Columbians, including seniors and families.

Providers typically bill per month, on a prorated basis so that the monthly payment is the same each month.

So,

Monthly rate = (Daily fee x (Number of business days open in the year / 12 months))

Example: Base Rate (77.32 x (261/12)) Equals $1681.71 prorated payment per month

CCOF will reduce the daily rate in order to achieve the $350 per month reduction. Government will smooth out the daily rate to ensure $350 per month if an operator has reduced business days (for example, a Jewish childcare with additional holidays in the yearly schedule).

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and
- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

Thank you,

Debra Graves, Senior FOI Analyst

STATEMENT

Statement from Minister of Jobs, Trade and Technology on pulp and paper tariffs

VICTORIA - Bruce Ralston, Minister of Jobs, Trade and Technology, has issued the following statement, after a preliminary decision by the United States Department of Commerce to apply an anti-dumping duty of 22.16% on Catalyst Paper's and Kruger Products' uncoated groundwood paper exports to the United States.

With preliminary countervailing duties already in place, Catalyst and Kruger are now facing combined duties of 28.25% and 32.09%, respectively.

"Today, people working at Catalyst mills in Port Alberni, Powell River and Crofton are receiving the news of yet another unfair decision by the U.S. against B.C.'s newsprint industry, and their communities.

"B.C. is extremely disappointed that the current U.S. administration has, once again, made the decision to impose unfair tariffs, this time on B.C. newsprint producers.

"Workers in Catalyst mills can be sure that the Government of British Columbia will be standing shoulder to shoulder with them. We will fight for their jobs, their industry and their communities.

"We will not be bullied. We will not be pushed around. We will work closely with Catalyst and the federal government to fight this preliminary decision by the U.S. Department of Commerce, and demand that B.C. is treated fairly by its largest trading partner.

"People in B.C. can count on this government to fight for their jobs and their industries whenever they are threatened."

- We are confident in our right to protect BC's environment, economy and coast from the consequences of a diluted bitumen spill.
- And we are retaining expert legal counsel to ready a reference and confirm our rights in court.
- Alberta reacted by targeting BC businesses with disproportionate and unlawful trade measures but have since backed off.
- We've been clear from the start that the appropriate place to resolve this is in the courts.
- I see no reason for Alberta to introduce new unfair trade measures to target British Columbian businesses and individuals.
- We have said all along that we will defend BC's interests and we are confident that the Courts will confirm we have the jurisdiction to do so.

Hi Vaughn,

There's a comment attributed to me in your column today that I didn't make. Neither I nor anyone at the BCTF has given an estimate of $70 million being a funding shortfall for school districts. We have raised concerns about a possible shortfall, but I believe that the $70 million estimate comes from Vancouver School Board chair Janet Fraser, not me.

I was asked about her estimate in a CKNW interview. But it is not my estimate, nor is it a number that the BCTF is circulating.

Here is a letter that the VSB is circulating: <http://www.vsb.bc.ca/district-news/board-chair-writes-ministers-finance-and-education-lay-out-concerns-about-employer-hea>

School districts struggled with MSP in the past when the BC Liberal government would increase the rate and not fund the difference. So what I have been emphasizing in the interviews that I've done is that we need to see the new government to fund the difference between the old MSP and the new payroll tax. The key here for the government to act fast and provide the certainty to school districts the extra cost (if any) will be covered.

There's a reason why this needs to be sorted out sooner rather than later. Next week, the ministry of education will tell school districts what their block funding grant will be for the 2018/2019 school year – which includes six months of 2019 when there is the 50% MSP rate and the new Employers Health Tax. Boards of Education will be setting their budgets, as required by law, by April 30 of this year. So, there is only about six weeks to get this sorted out.

While we appreciate that the move from the MSP to the Employers Health Tax while have implications across all public services, given the timing of Boards of Education approving budgets for the 2018/2019 school year, it is important for government to provide the certainty school districts need to keep improving after so many years of BC Liberal cuts.

Hi Karen- please approve the response below to this question that we've received from the New York Times re Istuary. Approved by Trevor. Thanks, M

Question: Is the Ministry of Labour, or the Employment Standards Branch, also seeking to recover unpaid wages from the sale of Sun's residential properties in BC?

Response: Yes, the Employment Standards Branch is seeking to recover wages through collections actions against Mr.Sun's residential holdings, including registering a judgment against a residential property registered in Mr. Sun's name.

Question:

Has ESB found that Istuary owed additional wages, from August-October? If so what is the total amount owed? (meaning the $2.9 +?)

Response:

The Employment Standards Branch is investigating complaints filed by the employees for outstanding wages that may be owed from August 26 to October 25, 2017, and intends to issue a decision on this wage-recovery period by April.

I need to request leave from Caucus today for Minister Conroy as Cabinet has run long and there is an urgent meeting she needs to have before QP. Sorry if this isn't the official way to request leave from Caucus! I'm trying to find the template but it's lost in my email and I just needed to get this requested ASAP.

Hi again, Matt.

So I'm advised that different ministries will tend to get signoff in different formats. The one sent to you is considered the final copy. FOI program says that resource sector tends to confirm their approvals via email rather than the pdf with approval signature. For this file in particular, that is the final sign off. I'm attaching the approval email that completes it.

When the FOI people don't hear anything back and they're under time constraints, the process tends to be submitting for sign off noting that there's an outstanding response, ie consultation with another ministry. The ministry has an option of waiting for that response and perhaps going overdue with the file. The ministry's executive might call the other ministry and encourage them to proceed quickly in order to get it moving. They can also just proceed without their feedback.

I'm told there isn't anything on file showing FLNRO responded in this case but there may be responses in the central mailbox. They're taking a look to see if there's anything that can be found there. Sometimes the system lags behind.

Hope this helps

INFORMATION NOTE

Cliff # 139345
Date: March 1, 2018

PREPARED FOR: Fazil Mihlar, Deputy Minister, Ministry of Jobs, Trade and Technology

ISSUE: Update on US Section 232 Investigations of Aluminum and Steel Imports

BACKGROUND:

- On March 1, President Trump announced that he had decided to apply a 25 percent tariff on foreign steel imports and a 10 percent tariff on aluminum imports.
- In April, 2017 the US launched two separate Section 232 (Trade Expansion Act) national security investigations into whether steel and aluminum imports threaten American economic security and military preparedness. The investigation may ultimately result in tariffs or quotas for these products.

- Commerce released its steel and aluminum reports on February 16, 2018. The reports include a range of remedial options for President Trump's consideration including significant country specific and global tariffs and quotas (see attachment). Exemptions on economic or security interests to the US are also put forward in the report as options.
- Canada is the top supplier of steel and aluminum to the US. B.C.'s exports to the U.S. of the aluminum products in question were valued at $597 million in 2017. Aluminum is also an important value added industry for B.C. B.C. exports of the investigated steel products were $79 million in 2017.
- Rio Tinto is one of B.C.'s biggest aluminum producers, employing over 1,000 people. According to Rio Tinto, about 60% of the Kitimat plant's product goes to the US.
- Canada made formal submissions to both investigations. Both submissions highlighted the mutual benefits derived from the Canada-US steel and aluminum industries, and complementarity of the two countries' national defence industries.
- Given timelines and the prolonged interregnum period, B.C. was unable to make its own submission to the investigations. However, B.C. was in contact with GAC on its submissions and has since been in contact with Rio Tinto.

DISCUSSION:

- On March 1, ADM Hammond spoke with Blair Dickerson, Vice President of Rio Tinto. s.13,s.16
s.13,s.16
- Major industry leaders from both the US and Canada have also expressed concerns about the potential harm of remedial measures given the interdependencies of the steel and aluminum industries. US Commerce Secretary Ross has publicly stated: "If there's any affirmative action that comes out, there probably will be either a domestic legal challenge and/or a WTO challenge. So we obviously have that very much in mind."
- The US has reportedly provided various levels of assurances to its allies that they will be excluded from any remedial trade measures resulting from the investigations. On July 14, Prime Minister Trudeau stated he heard "directly" from President Trump that he does not think Canada should be subject to tariffs that could result from the ongoing Section 232 investigations. On the other hand, South Korea, which is a key US security ally, has been singled out for possible exceptionally high tariffs on its steel exports to the US.

- President Trump's March 1 announcement appears to indicate that the US will apply tariffs on all steel and aluminum imports but this has not been confirmed.
- Given the president's statement, the current trade climate, and the unpredictability of US actions under President Trump, B.C. cannot rule out the possibility of tariffs or other measures on Canadian steel and aluminum exports to the US.
- s.13,s.16

NEXT STEPS:

- Staff continue to monitor the investigations and will provide updates as required, including working with GCPE on any necessary messaging.

Appendix 1 Suggested responses:

- We are aware of the US's announcement that it will impose new tariffs for imported steel and aluminum.
- It's not yet clear whether Canada will be subjected to these tariffs and we are watching the situation closely.
- We are committed to fighting for workers, industry and our communities.
- The steel and aluminum industry is an important contributor to B.C.'s economy, and the Province will take appropriate actions to advocate for fair treatment of this industry in international markets.
- We will continue to work closely with the Government of Canada and the industry in responding to the US's actions.
- If these tariffs go forward, we're prepared to work with the federal government to vigorously defend our steel and aluminum industry against unfair US decisions by supporting Canadian appeals under the North American Free Trade Agreement and the World Trade Organization.

Appendix 2: B.C.'s exports of subject steel and aluminum products

B.C. subject merchandise exports to the US (2017):

- Based on the Government of Canada's Trade Data Online, B.C.'s unwrought aluminum exports to the US were $533.7 million in 2017. This places B.C. second amongst provinces behind Quebec in total exports to the US.
- B.C.'s exports of unwrought aluminum to the rest of the world at $609 million were slightly more than exports to the US.
- B.C.'s exports of the other (wrought) aluminum products included in the investigation were $63.4 million in 2017, making the total subject aluminum product exports nearly $600 million.
- Of the wrought aluminum exports the majority was in aluminum bars and rods ($44 million)
- B.C.'s exports to the US of the steel products included in the investigation were $78.8 million 2017.
- Rio Tinto Alcan reports that 60 percent of aluminum imported to the US comes from Canada and of that 80 percent is from Quebec and British Columbia.
- Approximately 1000 jobs are linked to aluminum exports, however the total number of steel export related jobs is being confirmed.

B.C. subject merchandise imports from the US (2017):

- B.C.'s unwrought aluminum imports from the US were $122.5 million in 2017.
- B.C.'s imports of the other (wrought) aluminum products included in the investigation were $162.8 million in 2017, making the total subject aluminum product imports roughly $285.3 million.
- B.C.'s subject steel product imports from the US were $416.9 million 2017.

Section 232 report recommendations:

US Department of Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross has recommended President Trump choose one of three options to deal with what his department called the "national security threat" that imported steel and aluminum represents:

- Option 1: Tariffs of 24 per cent on all steel and 7.7 per cent on aluminum imports from all countries.
- Options 2: Tariffs of 53 per cent on steel imports from 12 countries, including Brazil, China and Russia, and tariffs of 23.6 per cent on aluminum imports from China, Hong Kong, Russia, Venezuela and Vietnam. Under this option, the United States would also impose a quota limiting all other countries to the aluminum and steel they exported to the United States last year.
- Option 3: A quota on steel and aluminum imports from everywhere, limiting each country to 63 per cent of the steel and 86.7 per cent of the aluminum they shipped to the U.S. last year.

Premier's Chinese-Canadian Advisory Committee

Background:

- On February 23rd, government announced the Premier's Chinese-Canadian Advisory Committee.
- Some media reported that members of the committee were not aware of their appointments at the time of the government announcement.
- Fred Mah told media he didn't know anything before he was appointed. As a result of a miscommunication, he thought he was being considered for the committee, not being appointed.
- Media have questions about the makeup and role of the committee.

What's the goal and purpose of the committee?

- Our government is committed to making life better and more affordable for people from all parts of the community and walks of life.
- It's essential that we hear the voices of Chinese-Canadians as we do that work.
- This committee of respected community leaders will help ensure that the voices of Chinese-Canadians are heard clearly in our government.

How long is their term? How often will they meet? Who will be the chair? What will their work involve?

- The purpose of the committee is to hear from leaders in the Chinese-Canadian community, and we want their input on these questions as well.
- The first step is calling the committee together. We expect to have the first meeting within the next month.
- At that meeting, we will discuss how the committee will function to ensure the voices of Chinese-Canadians are heard in our government.

- s.13

Do the members of the committee get paid?

- These are volunteer positions.
