Topic

Coastal GasLink – Archaeological Impact Assessment and status of reporting.

Reporter's Questions & Suggested Response:

- I'm wondering if you could point me in the right direction to find the appropriate AIA files for the Coastal GasLink project? There are a lot of allegations flying around re: status of AIA reporting, particularly in the injunction area where Coastal GasLink is currently working and I was hoping to find the relevant documentation myself to take a look at the status of the reporting, particularly for this area in question.

s.13

- Are you able to confirm if the AIA reporting is complete for the area where work is currently taking place/in contention from the Office of the Wetsuweten?

- Also can you let me know what the requirements are related to the AIA reporting and work on site. E.g. Does this have to be complete (if it isn't already) before work can take place? What kind of work is permitted to happen prior to that filing (if it isn't complete)?

Also – Richard let us know that he does have someone to speak on camera about the positive experience they had with their declaration.

Key Messages:

- Over 99% of British Columbians will not pay the tax, but they do need to declare.
- The vast majority of people are securely declaring online in just a few minutes.
- We are targeting our resources to the times people are calling in.
- Owners can be assured that our online declaration is secure and their information is protected.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reporter Questions:

1) How many people were brought on to handle phone calls?

- We have over 150 people trained to answer calls.

2. What is the average wait time for people calling in?

- Wait times vary throughout the day.
- To make it more convenient, we also have a call back option.
- Of course, people can always securely declare online in just a few minutes.

If pressed:

- Yesterday's average wait time was 20 minutes.
- We are targeting our resources to the times people are calling in.

3) Are there answers online?

- Yes, our website, gov.bc.ca/spectax, is very comprehensive.
- Most of the answers to the questions we're getting on the phone can actually be found online.
- It's fast, easy and secure to declare online.

4) Are you concerned people say they are calling and not being able to get through for hours?

- To be clear, average wait times for people phoning in are approximately 20 minutes.
- That's why we put the call centre in place to make sure people can get the help and answers they need to complete the declaration.
- We have over 150 people trained to answer calls and we've provided a call-back option so no one needs to wait on the phone. They will not lose their place in queue.
- The vast majority of people are securely declaring online in just a few minutes.

Additional Questions:

How many declarations have you received/are complete?

- Every day, more letters are mailed to owners in municipalities where the SVT applies. We're seeing a steady stream of declarations coming in by the day.
- For most people, this is taking just a few minutes online.

- The ministry will report out on declarations received at an appropriate time later in the tax cycle when more fulsome data has been received.

How many people so far are subject to the tax?

- Over 99% of British Columbians will not pay the tax, but they do need to declare.

Why are you using a “negative billing option?”

- We aren’t negative billing. We are administering the tax as set out in legislation.
- We’ve made it quick and easy for the vast majority of British Columbians to declare online.

What about for people who have more complex questions, and need to speak to someone before they can do their declaration?

- If a residential property owner has a complex and unique situation, they will be directed to our tax policy experts when they call.
- While this may require more time, we feel its important to ensure property owners receive answers that allow them to successfully declare.

Why do people need to provide their SIN?

- Social Insurance Numbers (SINs) are an important part of Canada’s tax system and were designed for exactly this usage.
- Social Insurance Numbers (SINs) are crucial to identifying whether homeowners pay income taxes in Canada:
 - If they do, they may qualify for the principal residence exemption.
 - If they don’t, they are subject to the SVT.
- Owners can be assured that our online declaration is secure and their information is protected.

How are you protecting people’s personal information?

- We are confident the tax is fully compliant with our privacy legislation.
- Taxpayers’ confidential information is being handled safely and securely.

Subject: TMX timeline

Hi Caelie,

Geoff's asked for a forward looking TMX timeline. I've got the most recent TMX IN from your ministry (see attached and below for the ministry), but am wondering if there are any additional dates or info we should include before sending to Geoff? Let me know – thanks!

Timeline:

Trans Mountain Expansion Project (TMX) Proposal:

|-------------|--|
| 29 Nov 2016 | Federal government approved the project with 157 conditions following the original NEB review of the project. |
| 11 Jan 2016 | Provincial Environmental Assessment Certificate issued with 37 conditions. |
| 10 Aug 2017 | Province announced Thomas Berger had been secured as external counsel to government in the legal action related to the pipeline. Mr. Berger continues to provide legal advice to government on this topic. |
| 21 Aug 2017 | Thomas Berger filed an application for B.C. to intervene in the Federal Court of Appeal case. |
| Oct 2017 | Federal Court of Appeal heard arguments – there were 16 legal challenges to the NEB report and federal approval that were consolidated into the hearing. |
| 30 Jan 2018 | Province releases proposed B.C. spill regulations including restrictions on the increase of diluted bitumen (“dilbit”) transportation until the behaviour of spilled bitumen can be better understood |
| 8 Feb 2018 | Alberta bans the import of BC wine and threatens to regulate oil supplies to BC |
| 8 Apr 2018 | Kinder Morgan announced they were suspending all “non-essential” spending on TMX citing uncertainty created by actions of the B.C. government. |
| 29 May 2018 | Federal government announced they would be spending $4.5 billion to buy Trans Mountain and all of Kinder Morgan Canada's core assets. The Prime Minister continues to reiterate that the TMX is in the national interest and will be built. |
| Aug 2018 | 15 applications were consolidated in Tsleil-Waututh Nation v. Canada (Attorney General), with Tsleil-Waututh as the lead file. |
| 30 Aug 2018 | Kinder Morgan shareholders voted over 99% in favour of selling the project to the federal government. |
| 05 Dec 2018 | TMX reconsideration hearing: Province files opening statements and evidence. |
| 17 Dec 2018 | TMX reconsideration hearing: Province files requests for information from TMX and federal agencies, as well as other intervenors. |
| 11 Feb 2019 | Alberta's application to strike BC's challenge to Alberta Legislation being heard |
| 22 Jan 2019 | TMX reconsideration hearing: Province files its written argument. |
| 22 Feb 2019 | TMX reconsideration hearing: NEB to release its reconsideration report to the federal cabinet. |
| 22 May 2019 | Federal Cabinet decision (90 days from 22 Feb) |

Reference case

|-------------|--|
| 26 Apr 2018 | Province submitted a reference question to the B.C. Court of Appeal to affirm its right to protect B.C.'s coast and inland waters from the threat of a diluted bitumen spill. The reference question seeks to confirm the scope and extent of provincial powers to regulate environmental and economic risks related to the transportation of heavy oils like diluted bitumen across the province. |
| 21 Dec 2018 | Deadline for Province and federal government to submit written arguments |
| 28 Feb 2018 | Deadline for Province and federal government to respond to each other's written arguments |

18 Mar 2019

Dave/Melissa

Attached is the desktopped version of the Phase 1 Report. It still needs some links and cross references to be added, and a change in the cover photo (who are we pulling the plug on anyway?). Melissa, as discussed, please send this to the Minister and hopefully we can arrange a telephone briefing with her next week. We are preparing a deck for a technical briefing, and David's team is working with BC Hydro on a Release, Backgrounder and Q&As which should be available today or tomorrow. Happy to discuss any of this.

On Tuesday OAG sent out embargoed copies of their report on Rate Regulated Accounting at BC Hydro that included a joint response from EMPR and BCH (I am waiting on access to their system to get a copy). OAG is intending to release the report on Feb 6. BC Hydro is preparing an IN/Q&A package which should be ready today. s.13

Wondering if I could get an update from Minister James on the plans for a rental rebate. Is it something on the horizon for this year's budget, or is she planning to retool it and/or do public consultation this year and try to tweak the idea or what? She's mentioned in the past that the goal is to still enact the rental rebate from the election platform so just looking for an update to that.

Good morning Sonja,

Yes, we included some pre-budget messaging for PJH's issues scans. I've included it below.

-Leila

Budget 2019

Background:

- On February 19, Minister James will release Budget 2019.
- While details for the budget are confidential until the official release, government has announced several items that will be part of Budget 2019, like CleanBC.

For your reference, here are the latest stats from the Real Estate Board of Greater Vancouver, which actually show that prices are moderating across all home types in the region. This is in stark contrast to the past five years before we introduced the housing plan (Feb. 2018), that saw 77% increase in prices for single-family homes in Greater Vancouver.

Board Statistics:

- The benchmark price for single family homes has decreased 8.3% over the past six months.
- The benchmark price for condos and apartments has decreased 6.6% over the past six months.
- The benchmark price for townhomes has decreased 6.2% over the past six months.

When can constituents expect the office to re-open?

And did she meet with protestors - I understand there was a sign-up sheet - following last week's rally, I believe it was Wednesday, January 30th.

And if so, what was the result of the meeting.

Hoping for comment:

What would the NDP say to people in this situation? Is it fair to be dingling these families w/ the speculation and vacancy tax when they are clearly not speculators?

Why is Belcarra not exempted from the speculation tax? The Finance minister exempted the Gulf Islands, Parksville, Lion's Bay, Harrison Hot Springs, etc. Why not Belcarra?

Also: The mayor of Belcarra, Neil Belenkie, says the tax does nothing to improve long-term rental availability in their municipality. As home owners are forced to sell, it's going to decimate property values in Belcarra and erode revenue from the municipality gets from property taxes.

Background:

- Media continues to report on the health of the Southern Resident Killer Whales. On January 11, Seattle media reported a new calf was seen swimming with K and L pods.
- There is currently a bill before the Washington State Legislature that would restrict whale watching tours. Governor Inslee supports the bill.
- If passed, the bill would establish a specific whale watching licence, thus limiting the number of touring boats. It would also introduce speed limits for tour boats and minimum distances.

Subject: latest documents

Hi Jonathan and Anne,

I am attaching the latest documents related to the Wet'suwet'en file, so you have them all in one place. This includes the final statement, shared key messages and QA on the reconciliation process, as well as an updated issues note and the overarching Wet'suwet'en QA that we have been maintaining as responses are shared with media on questions they've asked or that could come up. I will probably merge the two QAs at some point, but thought it would be better to keep them separate while the reconciliation process issue is active. I would recommend that you share all of these materials with the minister to day to ensure he is ready for media questions, as they will probably ask a lot of questions about the situation, and not just about the reconciliation process, as this will be the first time we are putting anyone out on the issue since the premier's media availability a few weeks ago.

Leila, if you have developed any messaging on this, would you mind please sharing it with me so I can make sure we're all in alignment?

Thanks,
Sarah.

Subject: latest documents

Hi Jonathan and Anne,

I am attaching the latest documents related to the Wet'suwet'en file, so you have them all in one place. This includes the final statement, shared key messages and QA on the reconciliation process, as well as an updated issues note and the overarching Wet'suwet'en QA that we have been maintaining as responses are shared with media on questions they've asked or that could come up. I will probably merge the two QAs at some point, but thought it would be better to keep them separate while the reconciliation process issue is active. I would recommend that you share all of these materials with the minister to day to ensure he is ready for media questions, as they will probably ask a lot of questions about the situation, and not just about the reconciliation process, as this will be the first time we are putting anyone out on the issue since the premier's media availability a few weeks ago.

Leila, if you have developed any messaging on this, would you mind please sharing it with me so I can make sure we're all in alignment?

Thanks,
Sarah.

This is to let you know that this afternoon Coastal GasLink was issued a warning letter by the OGC respecting notifications. This is now posted on the OGC website at the link below in the last bullet. GCPE is updating the IN.

- OGC issued a Warning Letter to CGL at 2:39 MT;
- CGL failed to provide required notification (48 hours) prior to construction start at Camp 9a (Notice was filed 24 -48 hours after construction start at 7:49 am on 24 January);
- Commission was subsequently told by CGL that activities on the site started January 22nd.
- Warning Letters may be issued where non-compliance is identified but very low risk - they are intended to provide a company with the opportunity to correct behavior.
- The Commission issues approximately 12 Warning Letters each year (average over last 5 years). They are posted on the Commission Website here (<https://bcogc.ca/industry-zone/compliance-enforcement>);

Topic

Wanting to speak with someone about compliance and enforcement process and understand context for companies that are out of compliance with their permits—what is “acceptable” and what’s outside of the norm?

This request was precipitated by the CGL investigation but more for background than for specific information. In the meantime, the Commission has completed its investigation and posted a warning letter that went to CGL earlier today and is posted on its website.

Article 32 of the UN Declaration says governments must obtain free prior and informed consent from Indigenous peoples before moving ahead with projects. Does the new reconciliation process mean you've recognized the OW's title, and does this mean the project could be stopped?

How does your government plan to obtain the OW's consent for this project?

Good morning Chair Sperling:

Just a heads-up that we received a response from Canada on our request for robust worker/community supports to mitigate any socio-economic impacts of additional caribou recovery measures in the Peace Region. The Province of BC feels that the letter falls short of what is required to provide certainty to workers/communities potentially impacted by the Partnership Agreement. As such, we are going to postpone community engagement - originally scheduled for next week - while we undertake further work with the Government of Canada. We will in touch shortly in the next week or so. We have also updated West Moberly and Saulneau First Nations.

Regards, Mark

Hi all,

Robyn and I connected this afternoon on QP prep and following up on that conversation, I'm sending a list of QP topics myself and the MO came up with mid-January.

Also – attached to this email are the draft QP notes for your review.

Please note the renter's rebate note is a shared note with MAH, and was drafted by my co-worker Sarena, who has the housing file, and MAH's MO. Similarly, the gaming revenue note is shared with MIRR.

I'll have draft notes for each of these topics on the list for you by end of day Sunday.

Thanks,

Hi Katie,

In the past, we've often had the attached a economic indicators factsheet and kept it regularly updated. I recognize staff are very busy, but we will need to update the number before QP starts next week. Would it be possible to get an update by Friday or Saturday?

Thanks,

Robyn

Hi Melissa and Scott,

Just wanted to put this one on your radar.

Program have informed us that Woodfibre and Squamish FN are looking to sign agreements at 2 p.m Friday, February 15, 2019.

They do not want a ceremony/event. Woodfibre, Fortis and likely Squamish FN will be issuing media releases about the agreements.

I have flagged for MIRR GCPE and discussions are ongoing regarding communications approach/actions.

Thanks,

Glen

Yeah, that would be the only one that I think would come up.

Be aware that there were questions from media that came up about how Murray Rankin would be able to fit this in while also doing his work as a sitting MP, and also whether this is an indication that he may not be running again. Those came up for Murray, so not sure if they would or not for the premier, but thought I'd flag.

Thanks,

Just wondering what specific environment and land use policies the APF was expecting from this process.

Hello Ladies,

I have in the calendar QP Preps on Mondays and Wednesdays at 12:30 pm and Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9:00 am for Session. I have had to change a couple of them, so please see the below.

QP Prep for Feb. 13th will now be on Feb. 12th at 3:30 pm
QP Prep for Feb. 14th will now be at 8:30 am

Now, we do have one in the calendar at 9 am on Throne Speech day, but there will no question period that day, so it's not really required, unless you both would like to still keep that one?

Wanted to flag this with you – potential PMB from the Opposition on housing measures. Something MCJ could be asked about by reporters too.

Specifically MLA Wilkinson said: "If we were able to advance legislation - and the NDP have [previously] blocked it - we would put in a condo pre-sale flipping tax to stop people from flipping paper contracts on condos and to drive speculation out of the market."

I am inquiring about the settlement provided to Evan Southern, under OIC 207 from 2017, for $73,777. Mr. Southern had worked as chief of staff for the Attorney General from July 2012 to June 2014 and director of issues management in the Office of the Premier from June 2014 to November 2015. However, he left the B.C. public service to become the director of operations for the BC Liberal Party from December 2015 to July 2017. Why was Mr. Southern provided a settlement worth $73,777 in July of 2017, when the government changed, after having not worked in the B.C. public service since November of 2015?

Response – on BG:

The employee was employed by the government in the public service as Director of Issues Management in the Office of the Premier in July of 2017. Public service employees whose employment concludes without cause and without notice are entitled to severance in compliance with the Employment Termination Standards regulation.

Subject: KM/QA

Folks,

Here is our first cut at the KM/QA. Lots of work to be done on the A's (we haven't seen TBS' QA yet, for example) but I think we've got a great start here.

If I could make a request for people to prioritize, it would be great to nail down the KMs (which I'm hoping to keep to 6-8 MAX) sooner rather than later – even first, before we tackle the QA. That way we can populate the A's with some messages...

We'll be sending this to TBS simultaneously for checks so please track your changes so we can stay on top of version control!

Ta,

Katie Robb

Most recent note attached. The latest development is social media discussions about a supporter finding several arrowheads on the proposed 9A site

CLAIMS OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL ARTIFACTS FOUND AT SITE:

- On February 13, 2019, government agencies and the Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development received a complaint from the Dark House/Unist'ot'en.
- The complaint says that Unist'ot'en members have found evidence of cultural use at the site, two arrowheads.
- In response to the complaint, an Oil and Gas Operations Officer and senior archaeologist from the BC Oil and Gas Commission, along with appropriate archeological support staff from the Archaeology Branch, will travel to the area on February 15, to conduct a site visit under the Oil and Gas Activities Act.
- We understand Coastal GasLink has voluntarily stopped work and are sending an archeologist to the site.
- We are keeping a close watch on the situation

Hi Tim and Leila,

Confirming one of you will be at the lock-up volunteer orientation today at 3pm? Would be great to have one of you there to give an issues overview - so we can make sure the issues summary that goes to the Minister all goes smoothly...

Subject: Media request - Thom Barker - Interior News - Unist'ot'en - 15 Feb 19
Importance: High

Hi all,

We have received the following media request – suggest BC Oil and Gas Commission respond using the approved bullets. Please let us know how you want to proceed.

Reporter: Thom Barker, Interior News

Deadline: ASAP

Request: The Unist'ot'en tweeted last night that Coastal GasLink has stopped work due to a "Significant Archaeological Finding"

They say company is in violation of its permit and has reported to gov., insist a proper archaeological assessment has not been completed, and demanding government issue work stoppage etc. etc.

Full release:

<https://twitter.com/UnistotenCamp/status/1096303873436741634/photo/1>

Suggested response: BC Oil and Gas Commission respond.

- On February 13, 2019, government agencies and the Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development received a complaint from the Dark House/Unist'ot'en.
- The complaint says that Unist'ot'en members have found evidence of cultural use at the site, two arrowheads.
- In response to the complaint, an Oil and Gas Operations Officer and senior archaeologist from the BC Oil and Gas Commission, along with appropriate archeological support staff from the Archaeology

Branch, will travel to the area on February 15, to conduct a site visit under the Oil and Gas Activities Act.

- We understand Coastal GasLink has voluntarily stopped work and are sending an archeologist to the site.
- We are keeping a close watch on the situation to ensure the appropriate course of action is taken.
- We expect Coastal GasLink to operate in compliance with all conditions and requirements set out in its environmental assessment certificate and related permits.

Hi all – wondering if you could take a look at this caribou section for PJH's issue scan and let me know if you have any changes. Thanks!

Background:

- Opposition MLAs have expressed concerns that an agreement could have an effect economically (tourism, forestry, mining) and recreationally and that the process has lacked transparency.
- Ministers Heyman and Donaldson held a meeting with local mayors and other key stakeholders at the Natural Resource Forum.

Subject: Media Request - CBC Online - Unist'ot'en archaeological claims - 15 Feb 19

Importance: High

Hi Melissa, Scott and Leila,

FLNR sent this one our way. Suggest OGC respond as outlined below.

Reporter: Maryse Zeidler, CBC News Vancouver, 604 662-6806, s.22

cell, Maryse.zeidler@cbc.ca

Request: Hoping to get reaction from Doug Donaldson on the Unist'ot'en claim that they found archaeological artifacts on a Coastal GasLink work site.

Suggested Response: OGC respond as lead agency

- We take this seriously. We can confirm an Archaeological Impact Assessment (AIA) report was reviewed and accepted by the Province's archaeology branch in Sept. 2016, and that Coastal GasLink has met the requirements of its OGC permit and determined they are in compliance.
- It is the Commission's expectation that permit holders (Coastal GasLink) take responsibility and are accountable for the protection and management of heritage resources. The AIA work was completed before construction began.
- On February 13, 2019, government agencies and the Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development received a complaint from the Dark House/Unist'ot'en.
- The complaint says that Unist'ot'en members have found evidence of cultural use at the site, two arrowheads.
- In response to the complaint, an Oil and Gas Operations Officer and senior archaeologist from the BC Oil and Gas Commission, along with appropriate archeological support staff from the Archaeology Branch, will travel to the area on February 15, to conduct a site visit under the Oil and Gas Activities Act.
- We understand Coastal GasLink has voluntarily stopped work and are sending an archeologist to the site. This is in compliance with their permit, which has a condition to stop work on the possibility of a chance find.
- We are keeping a close watch on the situation to ensure the appropriate course of action is taken.
- We expect Coastal GasLink to operate in compliance with all conditions and requirements set out in its environmental assessment certificate and related permits.

Subject: validating Initiatives

I think the Minister could reference the “validating initiatives “ on the Clean BC Message Frame document

This is the biggest investment in Climate Change actions in BC’s history.

Making all new car sales zero emission by 2040

Improving fuel standards

Retrofitting publicly owned/ social housing units – making them more energy efficient and affordable

Working with industry to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and invest in innovative technologies

Measuring and reporting on progress to achieve targets.

A new approach and new investments – one plan.

Caelie,

The Compliance and Enforcement branch has completed the inspection report with respect to its recent inspection on CGL and found two non-compliances (consistent with our preliminary findings). Two orders and a warning are being issued as outlined below. The Certificate Holder is being notified followed by the complainants later today. All will be posted on Friday on the website but it is possible this will be public after the complainants have been notified. The order with respect to Condition 23 will have some operational impact on CGL but the extent of it will depend on their planned activity and the impact on the trapline.

An IN is attached. We have been coordinating with our regulatory partners across government and they are aware of this activity.

If you have questions just let me know.

- The inspection report concludes that the company was out of compliance with:
 - Condition 1 requiring a compliance self report to be filed as of January 31st, 2019
 - Warning issued: The company has since filed its self report on February 7th, 2019.
 - Condition 17 requiring site habitat assessment surveys for red and blue listed plants for all locations
 - The company self reported that 15 sites have not had a completed survey
 - Order issued: Requiring locations to be marked and not undertake construction activities within 200 m of the locations

- Condition 23 requiring 6 months notice to registered trap line #609T023 (10 individuals)
 - Order issued: requiring notice be given immediately and that all activities within the registered trapline that may adversely affect the use of the trapline cease until the earliest of:
 - 6 months after construction commenced within the registered trapline on January 23, 2019;
 - An earlier date as agreed by the registered trapline holders
 - such time as trapping can no longer occur based on seasonal restrictions
 - The purpose of the notice is to ensure that tenure holders, including registered trapline holders, are made aware of when and how project activities that may impact their activities and can take measures to adjust their activities accordingly

I am writing a story on the revised revenue estimates for cannabis sales and was hoping you can tell me:

- 1) How much revenue did B.C. receive from its share of the federal excise tax on cannabis sales this fiscal year (2018/2019)? This seems to show that revenues were about $53-million less than expected.
- 2) Why were revenues so much lower than expected?
- 3) What is the exact amount of revenue expected from B.C.'s share of the federal excise tax on cannabis this upcoming fiscal year and the two following fiscal years?
- 4) What is the exact amount of revenue B.C. expects from PST on cannabis sales this upcoming fiscal year and the following two years?

I am writing a story on the revised revenue estimates for cannabis sales and was hoping you can tell me:

- 1) How much revenue did B.C. receive from its share of the federal excise tax on cannabis sales this fiscal year (2018/2019)? This seems to show that revenues were about $53-million less than expected.
- 2) Why were revenues so much lower than expected?
- 3) What is the exact amount of revenue expected from B.C.'s share of the federal excise tax on cannabis this upcoming fiscal year and the two following fiscal years?
- 4) What is the exact amount of revenue B.C. expects from PST on cannabis sales this upcoming fiscal year and the following two years?

Subject: Heads up: Coastal Gaslink Compliance Activity

Caelie,

The Compliance and Enforcement branch has completed the inspection report with respect to its recent inspection on CGL and found two non-compliances (consistent with our preliminary findings). Two orders and a warning are being issued as outlined below. The Certificate Holder is being notified followed by the complainants later today. All will be posted on Friday on the website but it is possible this will be public after the complainants have been notified. The order with respect to Condition 23 will have some operational impact on CGL but the extent of it will depend on their planned activity and the impact on the trapline.

An IN is attached. We have been coordinating with our regulatory partners across government and they are aware of this activity.

If you have questions just let me know.

- The inspection report concludes that the company was out of compliance with:
 - Condition 1 requiring a compliance self report to be filed as of January 31st, 2019
 - Warning issued: The company has since filed its self report on February 7th, 2019.
 - Condition 17 requiring site habitat assessment surveys for red and blue listed plants for all locations
 - The company self reported that 15 sites have not had a completed survey
 - Order issued: Requiring locations to be marked and not undertake construction activities within 200 m of the locations
 - Condition 23 requiring 6 months notice to registered trap line #609T023 (10 individuals)
 - Order issued: requiring notice be given immediately and that all activities within the registered trapline that may adversely affect the use of the trapline cease until the earliest of:
 - 6 months after construction commenced within the registered trapline on January 23, 2019;
 - An earlier date as agreed by the registered trapline holders
 - such time as trapping can no longer occur based on seasonal restrictions
 - The purpose of the notice is to ensure that tenure holders, including registered trapline holders, are made aware of when and how project activities that may impact their activities and can take measures to adjust their activities accordingly

I am going to do a story looking at B.C. student loans – I would like to do an interview on the record with someone who can discuss the overall situation with me. It doesn't have to be today but if that's possible, that would work for me. Would you line that up for me? I've been on the B.C. Student loan website and am interested in such things as number of individual loans, numbers and values of defaults, typical loan amounts and terms. Also, if someone owes interest on a loan – is that eliminated now? How much has the province forgiven under programs to assist people who are having difficulty paying them back? If the government has a report on the status of student loans that might answer a lot of these questions.

Background

This is a follow-up to a media request from February 19, 2019.

REQUEST:

Would you tell us how many individual B.C. student loans exist?

If you have the total value that would be appreciated.

Also, we are hoping to find out how many are normally approved per year.

This is, of course, for our budget coverage today.

On the Student Loans request from TC, think the answer to the 2nd question, think we should take out “Yes” as it is not clear to me that they aren’t asking “will interest that has accrued already be eliminated”. The rest of the answer works.

- 1) How much revenue did B.C. receive from its share of the federal excise tax on cannabis sales this fiscal year (2018/2019)? If I read page 92 of the budget document correctly, it appears to say only $15-million was brought in this fiscal year from the excise tax revenue? But this figure also encapsulates the Disaster Financial Assistance Arrangements.
- 2) What is the exact amount of revenue estimated to come from B.C.'s share of the federal excise tax on cannabis this upcoming fiscal year (2019/2020) and FY 2020/2021 and 2021/2022.
- 3) Why did the ministry group this year's share of the federal excise tax with the federal Disaster Financial Assistance Arrangements when last year's budget was much clearer?
 - a. Here is how this revenue was accounted for in last year's budget:

3) BC has spent more than the $101 million during every wildfire season since 2011. Why doesn't the budget accurately reflect the realistic costs of fire seasons in BC? Will another significant fire season throw the budget out of balance?

4) This online wildfire season averages chart doesn't show the 2018 numbers, how much was spent total during the 2018 wildfire season? What contingencies or reserves did the province use to fund the additional costs?

5) Fire seasons are only expected to increase in severity and frequency, what new measures is the province taking to reduce the risk of wildfire?

8) I have another question about the budget page 92 updated financial forecast changes. Can you confirm the last column is cost overruns, so the Forests Ministry's firefighting costs were $551 million over budget. Extra emergency program costs associated with floods and wildfires added $308 million. That's a combined overrun of $859 million.

Is there a projected figure for what the various demand-side taxes (the increase in the foreign buyers tax, the expanding of its scope, and the taxing of empty or under-utilized homes) will collect?
2. When the minister says housing starts are expected to drop by almost 30 per cent by 2023, is this statement referring specifically to market housing? Could the minister comment on the relationship between supply of housing and anticipated population growth? Would a drop by almost 30 per cent bring the two closer together?
3. Is the forecast for a 30 per cent drop in housing starts based on developers not approving projects as fast as they were?
4. And is this drop an intended / welcomed outcome because of the gap between population growth in Vancouver and housing units on the market/in the pipeline?
5. The development industry always says adding supply is crucial for making housing more affordable. Is there a reply from the ministry?

Whereas: "People who declare LESS than 50% of their total combined household income for the year on Canadian income tax returns may pay tax at the highest rate and may not be entitled to all exemptions. "

Hi all – just a heads up that Vaughn Palmer is working on a column for Friday with an Indigenous/reconciliation focus. He has been asking me to confirm or clarify a number of technical questions related to the gaming revenue sharing, our ministry's budget increase, and the wording from the concrete actions on the UNDRIP legislation, as well as indicating he will be using content from what I sent him last week on the UNDRIP legislation and its relation/similarity to C-262.

Hi Paul and Brian,

We are pulling together a number of key messages and background documents for our ministers' upcoming mission to Japan and South Korea (March 16-22, 2019).

I've attached some documents we have on hand from the CleanBC launch, but wanted to check that these are current before uploading them for our program team's use. Soonest would be great (early next week), as the program team is already beginning to assemble briefing / meeting notes for our ministers. These will be used as source information for briefings as well as fodder for speeches we'll be writing.

Anything with an external bent (e.g. how the CleanBC plan will help us develop partnerships with other jurisdictions or make us more competitive in the cleantech space) would be great to have, if you have anything on hand.

Thanks so much, and don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Hope

Importance: High

All,

Attached is a draft communications plan focused on CGL and the provincial government's role as the regulator. Note I used GCPE's 'project specific' template for the plan.

I note some aspects of the plan will require engagement with other communications shops, including the digital team. I have a call in with digital to get an understanding of who manages @ComplianceBC . I'm suggesting we utilize it as part of the attached plan.

Also attached is the latest IN specific to the OGC's recent site inspection after a complaint was submitted about two lithic stone tools being found on the Camp 9A site. I understand the EAO is still in the process of their inspection related to other compliance complaints. The communications plan attached includes messaging I believe speaks to that subject – an IN is still in production.

Subject: Update: Williston Reservoir - Spring 2019 Operations

Hi

Attached is our most recent water level forecast for the Williston Reservoir that was released late yesterday. As you will recall, we issued the last forecast in January having committed to regular updates.

We briefed the three forest companies yesterday and will be updating the District of Mackenzie Council later today, and hold a public information session tonight.

Tomorrow we will be presenting the attached deck to the Peace Williston Advisory Committee which will be in Mackenzie. The Committee is an advisory body to the BC Hydro Board of Directors. It usually meets four times annually, rotating among communities in the Peace region. The PWAC currently has 13 members, many of whom are local government elected officials. Three Chiefs from First Nations in the region also sit as members. The PWAC discusses issues related to BC Hydro's Peace River operations as they impact communities and it sets aside time at each meeting to learn about BC Hydro operations, capital projects and occasionally to tour related energy industry facilities.

Our previous Issues Note (last fall) has been updated and is attached.

Please call if you have questions,

Lawrence

A tremendous thank you to staff who have played a leading role in supporting our government since the start and have been integral to helping launch new policies and programs that will define our government for years to come.

Starting today, Chantille Viaud will join Minister of State Chen's Office as Senior MA and Will Maartman will join Minister Farnworth's Office as Senior MA, primarily assisting him in his Government House Leader role.

Melissa Farrance is appointed to the role of Ministerial Assistant in Minister Fleming's Office, effective today as well.

Next week Liam Lawson will join Minister James' Office as a Senior MA. Kelly Sather is appointed to Senior MA in Minister Heyman's Office.
Eveline Xia will be joining the team in Minister Robinson's office as a Ministerial Assistant.

Request

Would either the Minister of Forests or the Minister of Environment care to offer some fresh comment on the collaborative process with DFO on the Interior Fraser Sockeye, now that my story is published?
(<http://www.pressreader.com/canada/vancouver-sun/20190225/281535112276235>)

What were your expectations for this collaboration and were they met?

Is the DFO process for producing scientific advice fair and transparent?

What are your specific frustrations with that process?

If you aren't happy with the advice being offered by DFO to senior ministers, what can be done now to address that?

Recommendation

Reiterate previous response: The Government of BC looks forward to continue working with the Government of Canada to inform evidence-based decision-making intended to inform the protection and recovery of species at risk.

Subject: Acidic Spill - Trail - Update #1

Update #1

More information regarding spill amount, substance, and response.

- An estimated 2,168 cubic metres of acidic material was released into the Columbia River.
- The spilled substance has a pH of less than 4. Lower values are more acidic. For comparison: freshwater has a pH of 7 and sulphuric acid 1.
- Washington State emergency and environmental officials have been briefed.
- Downstream water sampling is expected this afternoon.

Further updates anticipated.

Initial Report - Tue 2019-02-26 7:30

There is an ongoing spill of an acidic solution at a Teck fertilizer operation in Trail. Details for your awareness:

Incident: An unknown amount of acidic solution has been released, and some material has entered the Columbia River. The spill continues, but is being diverted to a holding reservoir.

Timeline: The dangerous goods release was reported this morning at 06:00 and upgraded to a DGIR code 2 by the Ministry of Environment at 06:48

Location: Teck fertilizer operation, near Trail.

Response: The Teck plant is in the process of being shut down. An investigation into damage and cause of spill will follow.

Media: No media observed at this time.

Further updates are anticipated.

Approximate location of incident:

Good morning,

- Have been advised of a release of acidic solution at the Teck Trail fertilizer operations. Material was initially entering the Columbia River at 14 m3 per minute but has been diverted into an on site reservoir.
- Plant has been shutdown for investigation of cause of the spill.
- Initial estimate of volume released into the water is 2,168.3 m3.
- Initial water samples indicate pH is <4 (acidic as water is 7pH)
- Expect further river samples by 1200h.
- Notifications include: Environment Canada and Washington State EPA. In process of confirming local authority and First Nations notifications.

Updates will be provided as further information becomes available.

Okay with this as a proposed response? Brent Jang just called to say he's filing another story today, so he's looking for this in a hurry.

Proposed statement from Ministry of Indigenous Relations and Reconciliation:

Wet'suwet'en governance structure is an internal matter for the Nation to speak to. It is not for government to speak for the Nation. It is up to each Nation themselves to decide who speaks for their Nation, and how those decisions are made internally. Our government remains committed to moving forward with reconciliation with the Wet'suwet'en.

Thanks
Sarah.

Deadline Today

Request

What are the B.C. NDP government's plans, if any, to meet with the Wet'suwet'en Matrilineal Coalition?
I am wondering whether Scott Fraser and/or John Horgan have any plans to meet with WMC?

We continue to be available to meet at a staff level.

s.13

Gloria George, Theresa Tait-Day and Darlene Glaim are the original WMC directors, and they told me that the Office of the Wet'suwet'en and hereditary chiefs have shunned them for supporting Coastal GasLink (the three Wet'suwet'en women have been stripped of their hereditary titles, according to Unist'ot'en supporters).

WMC wrote a letter to the Premier dated Sept. 17, 2018, to introduce the group, and asked for a meeting with the Premier in the spirit of collaboration.
What is the status of that?

Can we pull up the response to that letter?

The previous BC Liberal government recognized the three women as genuine Wet'suwet'en Nation hereditary leaders, but I am wondering whether the BC NDP government also sees them as legitimate hereditary leaders or not?

Can the B.C. government comment on the latest filings by Michael Lee Ross, who includes an affidavit by Warner Naziel and I have a copy of that affidavit. Mr. Naziel seeks to discredit the Wet'suwet'en Matrilineal Coalition (WMC), and I am wondering whether the B.C. NDP government recognizes WMC as a legitimate group? The previous BC Liberal government and John Rustad recognized WMC as legitimate.

Warner Naziel and others seeking to discredit WMC note that it received $30,000 each from CGL and the previous BC Liberal government.
What funding did the B.C. government (current and previous) and CGL provide to the Office of the Wet'suwet'en and Dark House?

We should pull the list of efforts made to engage as well as the funding provided.

How did these negotiations come about? Who approached who first? Did the nations approach the province, or vice versa?

- The Province, BC Hydro and the Nations recognize the importance of seeking to resolve disputes through collaborative processes.
- A dialogue between the parties in the fall of 2018 created the possibility of a negotiated pathway to resolution.

Does this mean that the province is reconsidering Site C, or that there will be some sort of settlement with the nations?

- No, BC is not reconsidering Site C. This does not impact planned construction timelines.
- If successful, the parties would reach an agreement that would reset the relationship and settle the on-going litigation regarding Site C.

What format will the negotiations take?

- These are confidential negotiations and we can't comment on the format and structure of the negotiations.

Is there a limit to how much any settlement would be, based on the Site C budget?

- Given the early stage of the negotiations, the scope of any potential agreement remains to be seen and will be informed by an assessment of the issues involved.

What are the B.C. NDP government's plans, if any, to meet with the Wet'suwet'en Matrilineal Coalition?
I am wondering whether Scott Fraser and/or John Horgan have any plans to meet with WMC?

Our government remains committed to moving forward with reconciliation with the Wet'suwet'en Nation. The Province and the Office of the Wet'suwet'en have agreed to explore a path forward, nation-to-nation, to meaningfully advance reconciliation. These discussions are a historic opportunity to support the Nation's self-determination and self-governance.

The Premier and Minister Fraser will be attending a bahtlats hosted by the Wet'suwet'en in the coming weeks as the first formal step. This community feast is an established governance and decision-making process under Wet'suwet'en hereditary leadership protocols.

Gloria George, Theresa Tait-Day and Darlene Glaim are the original WMC directors, and they told me that the Office of the Wet'suwet'en and hereditary chiefs have shunned them for supporting Coastal GasLink (the three Wet'suwet'en women have been stripped of their hereditary titles, according to Unist'ot'en supporters).

WMC wrote a letter to the Premier dated Sept. 17, 2018, to introduce the group, and asked for a meeting with the Premier in the spirit of collaboration.

What is the status of that?

The letter was received. Ministry officials have met with the Matrilineal Coalition as recently as October. The policy of the ministry is to meet with all interested and affected parties.

The government-to-government relationship the Province is now embarking on is with the Office of the Wet'suwet'en. The Premier and Minister Fraser will be attending a bahtlats hosted by the Wet'suwet'en in the coming weeks as the first formal step. The previous BC Liberal government recognized the three women as genuine Wet'suwet'en Nation hereditary leaders, but I am wondering whether the BC NDP government also sees them as legitimate hereditary leaders or not?

The Province is not taking a position around which individuals in the Wet'suwet'en Nation hold hereditary names. This is a complex internal matter for the Wet'suwet'en Nation to resolve.

The Province is committed to advancing reconciliation with the Wet'suwet'en Nation.

Can the B.C. government comment on the latest filings by Michael Lee Ross, who includes an affidavit by Warner Naziel and I have a copy of that affidavit. Mr. Naziel seeks to discredit the Wet'suwet'en Matrilineal Coalition (WMC), and I am wondering whether the B.C. NDP government recognizes WMC as a legitimate group? The previous BC Liberal government and John Rustad recognized WMC as legitimate.

The Province is not taking a formal position as to which individuals in the Nation hold hereditary titles. Wet'suwet'en governance structure is an internal matter for the Nation to speak to. It is not our place to speak for the Nation. First Nations determine for themselves who speaks for their Nation – that is by very definition self-determination.

Warner Naziel and others seeking to discredit WMC note that it received $30,000 each from CGL and the previous BC Liberal government.

What funding did the B.C. government (current and previous) and CGL provide to the Office of the Wet'suwet'en and Dark House?

To discuss...

OW (excluding ESI):

- August 2017 – on: $1,117,000
- FYs 15, 16, 17: $236,000

ESI funding through OW can not be broken down into pre and post August amounts at this time, but totals $541,550

WMC (from MIRR and IFE only)

- August 2017 – on : $0
- From April 2014- August 2017: $116,000

What are the B.C. NDP government's plans, if any, to meet with the Wet'suwet'en Matrilineal Coalition?
I am wondering whether Scott Fraser and/or John Horgan have any plans to meet with WMC?

Our government remains committed to moving forward with reconciliation with the Wet'suwet'en Nation. The Province and the Office of the Wet'suwet'en have agreed to explore a path forward, nation-to-nation, to meaningfully advance reconciliation. These discussions are a historic opportunity to support the Nation's self-determination and self-governance.

The Premier and Minister Fraser will be attending a bahtlats hosted by the Wet'suwet'en in the coming weeks as the first formal step. This community feast is an established governance and decision-making process under Wet'suwet'en hereditary leadership protocols.

Gloria George, Theresa Tait-Day and Darlene Glaim are the original WMC directors, and they told me that the Office of the Wet'suwet'en and hereditary chiefs have shunned them for supporting Coastal GasLink (the three Wet'suwet'en women have been stripped of their hereditary titles, according to Unist'ot'en supporters).

WMC wrote a letter to the Premier dated Sept. 17, 2018, to introduce the group, and asked for a meeting with the Premier in the spirit of collaboration.

What is the status of that?

The letter was received. Ministry officials have met with the Matrilineal Coalition as recently as October. The policy of the ministry is to meet with all interested and affected parties.

The government-to-government relationship the Province is now embarking on is with the Office of the Wet'suwet'en. The Premier and Minister Fraser will be attending a bahtlats hosted by the Wet'suwet'en in the coming weeks as the first formal step. Budget 2019 – Taxes

Background:

- The Opposition has claimed that the government has introduced or increased 19 taxes. Budget 2019 has no new tax measures that increase provincial revenues.
- The Opposition has falsely claimed government has increased personal income taxes on the basis that total PIT revenues increased with economic growth. The only change to personal income taxes made by the current government was to reverse the tax cut for individuals with income above $150,000 (approximately the top 2% of earners) in Budget Update 2017.

Budget 2019 – Jobs

Background:

- The Opposition and some business groups have been critical of government's approach to economic development, saying there are no supports for businesses or job growth.

Message:

Economic Statistics (only if you think your minister might be interested)

- Private sector forecasters expect that BC's real GDP growth will be the fastest in Canada for the next two years.
- In the past year, BC has added 61,900 jobs. [Statcan, Jan 2019]
 - 20,800 full time jobs. [Statcan, Jan 2019]
 - 64,800 private sector jobs. [Statcan, Jan 2019]
- We have had the lowest unemployment rate in Canada for 17 months in a row. [4.7 %, Labour Force Statistics, Jan 2019].
- In 2018, BC saw the highest wage growth in a decade. [+4.1% Labour Force Statistics, Jan 2019].
- We are among the top provinces for wage growth over the last 12 months. [Labour Force Statistics, Jan 2019]
- Year-to-date compared to last year exports are up 7.3%. [Jan-Nov 2018 vs Jan-Nov 2017]
- In 2018, the total value of BC building permits increased 22% compared to 2017. [MFIN Feb 2019]
