NEWS RELEASE

Education funding model review focuses on more equitable services for students

VICTORIA - As the next phase of renewing the Province's education funding model, B.C.'s Minister of Education is asking parents, teachers, support staff, school administrators and others to help shape the path forward to make education funding work better for students in the classroom.

This follows release of the final report from the independent review panel on education funding.

Rob Fleming, Minister of Education, said the panel's report has identified challenges with the current education funding model, which is resulting in inequities in education services and programs, especially for students with special needs and vulnerable students. In Phase 2, the B.C. government's education partners will form working groups to provide advice on how to move forward on the key themes raised in the report.

"We want to make sure all students are getting the supports they need no matter where they live. I want to thank the panel for helping define the challenges and identify paths forward," said Fleming. "Now it's up to all of us who care about students to deliver solutions. Given the scope of the recommendations, we now need to work with our partners to better understand the benefits for students, parents, educators and school districts. It's critical we get this right for our kids."

The working groups will be formed in January 2019 to engage further on the key areas and themes identified in the report: inclusive education, distributed learning, adult education, financial management, accountability.

The working groups will provide advice to the minister on how to best move forward on the recommendations in order to make the funding model work better for students. They will assess the implications of the recommendations made by the panel and look at how the ministry can maximize dollars invested in the classroom to improve services, drive better outcomes and make sure rural and remote districts, as well as the fast-growing districts, get the resources they need.

The working groups will include representation by all education partners including teachers, parents, school administrators, support staff, trustees, superintendents, the First Nations Education Steering Committee and inclusive education groups. The groups will report back in the fall of 2019. No changes will be made to the existing funding model for the 2019-20 school year.

"The challenge to us all is to deliver a better funding model that allows for all classrooms across British Columbia to be the best they can be for the individual learning needs of every student," said Fleming, who adds the current funding model was imposed in 2002, with no consultation.

Reviewing the K-12 education funding model, with a view to ensuring equitable access for students, is a shared priority between government and the B.C. Green caucus and is part of the Confidence and Supply Agreement.

Quotes:

Chris Trumpy, chair of the independent review panel -

"This review has been an educational process for the panel and we would like to thank all of those participants that provided feedback. Our recommendations reflect what we heard from Boards of Education, school district staff, partner groups and individuals about what's not working with the current funding system and what needs to change. The report provides a path forward for government to improve chances for all students, support greater accountability for how resources are used and strengthen the overall management of the K-12 public education system."

Paul Faoro, president, CUPE BC -

"We are very pleased the education minister followed through on an election commitment to review the current funding model and doing so with input from all stakeholders. The review on education funding was desperately needed, especially since the last review was completed 16 years ago. Our union looks forward to participating on the working groups in the coming months to develop a path forward to provide a better, stable and sustainable school system for students and our 31,000 members in British Columbia."

Glen Hansman, president, BC Teachers' Federation -

"Teachers across B.C. have been eagerly waiting for the education funding model review report. I am thankful to the minister for outlining the next phase that allows for more consultation and collaboration. The entire education community needs to have an informed conversation about these recommendations, and I welcome the opportunity to do so over the coming year. I hope that the process will lead to changes that enhance both services to students and teachers' working conditions, regardless of where they live and work in our province."

Andrea Sinclair, president, B.C. Confederation of Parent Advisory Councils -

"Parents have long been asking for greater equity in educational programs and services for all students, and greater accountability for how resources are used towards improving student outcomes. We are pleased to see such a strong focus on equity and accountability in this report. These were key elements of our submission to the panel and reflect what parents are seeking. This is a positive first step toward the creation of a new funding model that puts students' needs first and foremost."

Karla Verschoor, executive director, Inclusion BC -

"Inclusion BC was encouraged to see the new funding model recommendations framed through an equity lens with an emphasis on accountability and transparency. We look forward to continuing our work with the Ministry of Education to ensure that any new funding model and inclusive education policies are woven together to produce better outcomes for all students. Inclusion BC will continue to advocate for strong, publicly funded schools, with educators and parents who are well-equipped to implement best practices in inclusive education and to work collaboratively to support quality learning for all students."

Gordon Swan, president, B.C. School Trustees Association -

"The B.C. School Trustees Association is appreciative that the provincial government upheld the commitment to review the public education funding model and release the funding model review panel report. We look forward to further consultation with government and our membership regarding how best to proceed towards modernizing the current funding model."

Sonia Furstenau, Green Party caucus spokesperson for education, and MLA for Cowichan Valley -

"It is essential that we better facilitate equitable and accessible education for all B.C. students, regardless of their diverse abilities or geographic locations. Our caucus is pleased that this report is available for further consultation and review, and we look forward to engaging with government and stakeholders to produce the best possible education outcomes for students."

Quick Facts:

- * The K-12 public education system in B.C. serves nearly 560,000 full-time equivalent (FTE) students.
- * They are supported through over $5.7 billion in operating funding provided for school districts by the Ministry of Education.
- * Enrolment has increased by more than 26,000 FTE students in the last four years and is projected to grow by another 15,000 over the next three years.
- * In February 2018, the Minister of Education appointed an independent review panel to look at the current funding model and to move B.C.'s public-school system to a better, stable and sustainable model.

- * The panel met with all 60 school districts and heard from over 350 education stakeholders. The final report makes 22 recommendations for a new funding system.

- * In October 2018, the Minister of Education appointed an implementation advisory committee comprised of education experts, to provide advice and help guide government in the next steps of the funding model review.

Print ad:

- In first sentence, replace the words after Speculation and Vacancy tax with “ with information about how to register a declaration.”
- Second sentence, has both the symbol % and the word percent. I don’t have a preference. Just need to choose one.

Facebook ad:

- January 28 wrong date. I think January 21 is correct. Would be on the timeline Richelle sent.

Radio ad:

- First sentence needs to change. I like the first line of the Explainer Video script so something more like that would be better.
- 5th paragraph, third sentence, change to: “But you do have to declare regardless.” Or “ But you do have to register regardless.” If we want to keep consistent with the insert.

Hi,

Just spoke to Donna Sanford in the CASA office yes, it should be included. Usually we pull language from the Agreement itself. I'm going to do that, send it over to Donna for review, and then fire it off to you. Sound like a plan?

Hi Heather, Veronica has been told we should have a CASA boilerplate for this NR . Can you pls confirm that's the case and if so, what should we put to fill in the blank - improved education services?

Delivering _____ is a shared priority between government and the B.C. Green Party caucus, and is part of the Confidence and Supply Agreement.

Thanks again

Hi, Heather.

Wondering if you could help us make the right contact with the folks on the TAX side who are implementing the Speculation Tax?

A group came and met with our Financial Services/Tax group several months ago, however we are not sure if they are the right contacts on the operational side. Our City folks would appreciate being able to connect directly with the people who are delivering your program.

If you could pass on the appropriate contact information, that would be very much appreciated.

Heather – I'm wondering if there is value to having the GCPE Editors do a copy edit on the insert now that it is mostly landed? People caught so many small typos and grammar fixes last night, I'm thinking it might be useful. But I'm not sure where the insert is in approvals, or how (little) time we have left. Thoughts?

Middle Inside panel

1. Second paragraph, second sentence. Change to: Owners of properties with long-term tenants are also exempt.
2. Last section, last sentence: Remove take quiz call to action.

Agree.

I prefer the second version. It is simpler and reflects the fact that it is the owner that is exempt ( as opposed to the property).

Hi Corinna and Veronica,

Robb is wondering if we can move the release of the report to December 19. There is another announcement happening on December 18 and there is a preference not to have them happen on the same day.

Let me know if this is a possibility.

Hi Kathryn – as discussed... a small, but I think useful, change from the ED of Tax Policy, Richard Purnell.

Middle panel in the brochure – in the white highlighted text –

His issue is that the words “register” on the front of the brochure are not linked the word “declaration”, causing confusion between the two...

I believe his is correct. His suggested change is:

To claim your exemption you must register by completing a declaration online.

Hope this is helpful. Insert is with the DM now for final look-see and sign off. Not on tone, just accuracy and she knows that Richard has approved, that MO and PO have seen as well - sg

Hi all, I heard a rumour that our usual 2:00pm Friday meeting might need to take place at 3:00pm today – is that correct and does that work for everyone?

Please confirm and we'll adjust the room booking if it's available. Sounds like not many are available at 2:00pm, and both s.22

This is to review and code the new entries in CC.

Many thanks,
Robyn

Hi Robyn and Rob,

We have gone back to agency with the changes/feedback we discussed yesterday. They should have a new version of the insert and of the presentation by mid afternoon tomorrow.

I'm wondering if you want me to come over to present to the Minister late tomorrow afternoon or if you prefer to set something up on Monday.

FYI – PO has signed off on creative concept.

Subject: Spec tax insert

Kathryn's notes:

- Font needs to be adjusted to be more accessible
- Emoticons need to stand out more
- Map needs to say Metro Vancouver and address the CRD issue (see notes below)
- Change B.C. to BC

Comments from MO: (Notes by Sue, comments from Finn in red)

- graphics are sterile – more people, community, life possible?
  - Maybe make houses different shapes? Add more people? Couple cars. A bus? Kind of hard since Van's EHT is exactly this.
- Language, inside panel far right – “turn empty homes into good housing for people”
  - We'll see what Gibbs says about this 😊
  - Update: Gibbs says yes!
- Map of CRD – not included in tax?
  - Greater Victoria Area was suggested by Robyn and I like it
- Overall tone needs to be warmer and more positive
- Possibly a deeper colour for the front cover would address warmth
  - Not sure I agree this will work/achieve more warmth
- Condos need to look less boxy/institutional and more like condos
  - Again challenge is distinguishing from Van
- Word declaration – does not anchor well
  - In that they agreed to going with Register in the main message, as opposed to being married to declare
- Use active verb for tag line: Making Housing More Affordable
  - Also said contrast would be good if possible but I think we have all agreed on Making Housing More Affordable

Hi Heather – as discussed here are the notes from this morning:

- Comment from Gibbs: Font inside the brochure may need to be stronger – hard for some to read
- Comments from MO:
  - graphics are sterile – more people, community, life possible?
  - Language, inside panel far right – “turn empty homes into good housing for people” Removal of the word “rental”
  - Map of CRD – not included in tax?
  - Overall tone needs to be warmer and more positive
  - Possibly a deeper colour for the front cover would address warmth

- Condos need to look less boxy/institutional and more like condos
- Word declaration – does not anchor well
- Use active verb for tag line: Making Housing More Affordable

Next Steps:

1. GCPE Exec to seek approval with Premier's Office
2. Following this...Heather to seek approval with MO
3. Sue to ensure at this stage that DM FIN is informed.

Hope this helps. SG

Subject: Budget 2019: Security Protocol for our graphics team: Feb 11-19

Hi Folks,

During the period we work on Budget materials (expected to be Feb 11 – 19) certain security measures are taken to ensure confidentiality and security of budget data and information is maintained while in our custody. There is a long history and evolution of different security measures taken to protect the production of budget materials, usually overseen by the Finance communications director of the day. Currently, we do not work with, or have access to, the main content of the budget documents, though we are usually provided with certain data for PowerPoint presentations, a highlights document, Budget website and sundry graphs and charts. The following is the basic list of actions GCPE Graphics will take to meet this responsibility. Additional measures (such as securing the whole floor) can be taken as necessary per executive direction.

GCPE Graphic Communications' Security Protocol

s.15

GCPE Graphic Communications has worked on numerous confidential or embargoed documents requiring actionable security measures. Following is a list of basic security protocols that will be activated (between Feb 11-19) , and may supplemented with additional, broader security measures by arrangement.

Actions:

- Access to s.15 will be kept closed at all times and locked when no one is in the room.
- No one is able to see designers' screens from the interior hallways or exterior windows. Glass in the s.15 may also be covered to restrict sight.
- A no access sign will be posted on the door of s.15
- All active working and related files may be kept on a secure encrypted external hard drive or designated secure server with restricted-access. The external hard drive will be disconnected and locked away at the end of every day.
- Absolutely no information will be put in an email. If information must be transferred to another workstation, then a secure encrypted USB stick will be used.

- Whenever away from the workstation, designer will log off; all documentation will be locked up; and door will be locked.
- Custodial services' access to s.15 will be restricted during security protocol period.

Hi Heather,

Can you please adjust the amount for the Vancouver hotel to $182.12? Other than that everything looks good.

Thank you,

Good afternoon Heather,

Sonja asked me to share two Budget 2019 related items with you.

Firstly – a copy of the Critical Path document that shows only the deadlines for communication documents/product. Please find that attached.

She also asked that I provide to you some guides as to how many 50-pg booklets should be printed.

Find below the document printing numbers we used for Budget 2018. There are two approaches I suggest that could occur with the booklet. I have outlined below which stakeholders would be reached with the recommended numbers below.

Happy to discuss.

Good afternoon Heather,

Thanks for your patience – Maximus – who will be providing the phone support for taxpayers for speculation and vacancy tax declaration period will be to provide assistance in Tagalog.

My program lead provided me the complete language list so we can see all of the languages they support.

Hi folks,

Just checking in about the calendar meeting we cancelled on Friday, and as a result the one we didn't have today. Do we want to reschedule for tomorrow? Erin said she was only aware of one pitch, and it was withdrawn apparently. Not sure if any more came into Sage.

Let me know what you think.

Meetings are on an ad hoc basis at the moment. None currently scheduled. I will make sure you are on the invite list for the next one.

As for the process, I'm still learning myself. But happy to get some folks together to discuss.

Good morning you two –

Just checking in re: the budget

I have just had a chance to start reviewing the critical path we keep and it says there is a central budget meeting that you coordinate Heather?

Are there dates I/we need to know on this?

Also, if I could get an overview on how the budget process works that would be great! It was much different when was here previously.

Many thanks - SG
