I am working on a plethora of HOBCs, which we'll need to squeeze into our mix in the next couple of weeks. Figure I'll get as many of these done as I can, so there's time to focus on other stuff in the weeks ahead. Some pretty good stories, and I want to get the Accessible BC one out sooner as it touches on bullying - which is pretty pertinent for back-to-school.

Haha. I really enjoy doing them. ^{s.22} when I was listening to one story at the Accessibility event. It's moving, and I learn something every time I attend one.

So many of the validators have a great story to tell, and getting them out there is becoming a bit of a mission. We need to tell them.

Can't leave it on the podium, or so to speak.
