Subject: October 27 conference - Minster - Sue Hammell

Hello Leila, there is a conference in Vancouver on Friday October 27 that Minister Fraser will be invited to this week, it is being planned by Sue Hammell and others. Several cabinet Ministers will be attending as I understand. I will let Sue tell you about the request for Minister Fraser but what I said I would reach out to you and see if you, Minister or someone in the Ministry can recommend a Lawyer or other professional who is First Nations and can join the opening panel to talk about the Horgan mandate. Please give me a call if you can,

Kind regards

Lori

Hello,

I wonder if Minister Mungall and Minister Fraser would be available to comment on their scheduled appearances as keynote speakers at the Oct. 27 conference in Vancouver being organized by their former caucus-mate, Sue Hammell?

The website says this event has a minimum $245 admission fee, so it meets the definition of "cash for access."

I'm working with Lori Winstanley on a recommended response. Below is with her for consideration:

Elected officials in B.C. – and most jurisdictions around the world – are asked to speak at conferences on any number of issues and challenges that public officials are elected to help solve. Professionally organized conferences provide a platform for public and constructive dialogue. Conference fees in both the public and private sector are common practice to help pay the cost of the venue, food, organization, and promotion of a conference.

How much are they being paid to appear?

How much will the province pay for tickets and sponsorship of this event?

Is the event organizer being charged fair market value for rental of the Vancouver Convention Centre, which is a public-owned facility?

Hello Chris,

Leila Farmer gave me your contact information to pass on a media request.

Bob Macken(?) from the breaker.news left a message on our machine this afternoon. He wanted to speak to MLA Fraser on his decision not to speak at the Composite Public Affairs Conference in Vancouver in late October.

As I do MLA Fraser's scheduling and I knew nothing of this event, I have assumed it was a decision made through his ministry office, therefore I am passing it onto you.

If you need any additional information you can call me at the office 250-720-4515 or on my cell 250-731-1047.

Cheers,
