message: Hi,

I am located in s.22 and have filed a police report regarding a dating website located in Vancouver called Plenty of Fish. They say that I need a court order to reveal the "source"/person behind my harrassment case. Are you able to help? Privacy policy seems to be the issue.

Thank you

Dear s.22 :

Thank you for your recent email where you ask how to obtain a court order to reveal the "source"/person behind your harassment case.

Unfortunately, it would not be possible to directly answer your question without considering the specific facts of your case and formulating a legal opinion. We are not in a position to provide this type of advice.

However, we can refer you to the Justice Access Centre's Self-help and Information Service which maintains a very informative website with legal information for self-represented litigants at the following address:

<http://www.supremecourtselfhelp.bc.ca>. In particular, you may be interested in the online guidebooks on their website at:

<http://www.supremecourtselfhelp.bc.ca/self-help.htm>.

The Supreme Court of British Columbia's website provides information packages for self-represented litigants at:

http://courts.gov.bc.ca/supreme\_court/self-represented\_litigants/info\_packages.aspx.

In addition, we would like to refer you to Part 2-1 of the Supreme Court Civil Rules which govern choosing the correct form of proceeding at: http://www.bclaws.ca/EPLibraries/bclaws\_new/document/ID/freeside/168\_2009\_00.

Before proceeding with your lawsuit, you may wish to seek legal advice from a lawyer in private practice. If you do not currently have a lawyer to represent you, you may wish to call the Lawyer Referral Service in Vancouver at 604-687-3221. The service, provided by the Canadian Bar Association, can refer you to a lawyer who will confer with you for up to 30 minutes for a nominal fee. Further information is available on their website located at:

http://www.cba.org/BC/Public\_Media/main/lawyer\_referral.aspx.

Your email to the ministry is appreciated. We hope this information is helpful.

Dear s.22 :

Your email of February 2, 2014, has been forwarded to the Criminal Justice Branch for a response. The Criminal Justice Branch is responsible for the conduct and supervision of criminal prosecutions in British Columbia.

The Ministry of Justice cannot provide you with legal advice in regards to the matter you have addressed in your correspondence.

However, if you have reason to believe an individual has committed a crime against you, the proper course of action is for you to report such allegations to the police. It is the role of the police, in the independent exercise of their discretion, to conduct an investigation into alleged criminal wrongdoing.

If the police determine that there is sufficient evidence to warrant a criminal charge, they may forward a report to Crown Counsel requesting that a charge be approved. Crown Counsel review the report and decide whether there is a substantial likelihood of conviction on the evidence and whether a prosecution is required in the public interest. If this test is met, a prosecution is then initiated.

If you have not already contacted victim services, you may wish to contact VictimLINK, a service available to victims of crime in British Columbia, providing help and information 24-hours-a-day. It is accessible from anywhere in the province, and can be accessed by telephone at 1-800-563-0808, or through their website: www.victimlinkbc.ca/.

If you would like to know what legal options, if any, may be open to you, you may wish to seek advice from an independent lawyer in that regard. The Lawyer Referral Service is provided by the Canadian Bar Association, and can refer you to a lawyer in your area who will meet with you for up to 30 minutes for a fee of $25 plus applicable taxes. This service can be reached by calling: 1-800-663-1919. Information about the Lawyer Referral Service is available from the Canadian Bar Association website at:

www.cba.org/BC/Initiatives/main/lawyer\_Referral.aspx

We hope this information is of assistance.

Sincerely,

Office of the Assistant Deputy Attorney General
Criminal Justice Branch
Ministry of Justice

Dear s.22

Thank you for your webmail of July 8, 2014, in which you request advice for the legal problem you are having or a referral to someone who can provide advice. I have been asked to respond to your email.

The ministry does not give legal advice or represent individuals outside of government, and does not make referrals to specific members of the legal profession.

I am able to direct you to the Canadian Bar Association British Columbia Branch, which provides a lawyer referral services where members of the public can consult with a lawyer for up to 30 minutes for a fee of $25 plus taxes. You can learn more about this service at:

Lawyer Referral Service
Canadian Bar Association, British Columbia Branch
10th Floor, 845 Cambie Street
Vancouver, BC V6B 5T3
Toll-free telephone: 1-800-663-1919
Website: www.cbabc.org/For-the-Public/Lawyer-Referral-Service

I regret that I cannot be of further assistance, but I hope you find the above information helpful.

Sincerely,

James Deitch
Executive Director
Criminal Justice and Legal Access Policy Division

I checked the Ministry of Justice responsibility list on-line and they were listed. I guess it is out of date. Please redirect to whoever is in Criminal Justice Branch. Thank you.

Hi Doris,

Thanks for advising. Katherine Dann and Clif Prowse are with Legal Services Branch; is that the branch you think this should be redirected to, or to Criminal Justice Branch?

Kim

Hi Kim,

This inquiry is about obtaining evidence for a criminal case in the US. This is not covered by the Hague service convention that our office administers. Is it possible to have this inquiry redirected to the Criminal Justice Branch? I have both Katherine Dann and Clif Prowse listed as being responsible for criminal matters in our Ministry.

I believe that this inquiry will ultimately be redirected to the International Assistance Group in Ottawa, but I think the redirection should come from the Criminal Justice Group. If you feel otherwise, just let us know, and we will try to provide a response. But, like I said, it is not our area of expertise.

Please advise.

Thanks,
Doris
