No concerns. Usually it's a much smaller meeting.

Hi PS Glumac,

I'd like to flag to you that there are currently 41 registered (now 42, with you included), for the PNWER Winter meeting.

Do you have any concerns with this turnout? If not, IGRS will proceed with preparing necessary materials for you at the meeting.

Best,

Alyson

Morning,

I've attached a document sent by JABC on their impact on students, for you to get more information.

With your speaking notes, we'd provide further background on the org. From what I hear, they anticipate quite a bit of media pick-up on this event and it is quite a well-known org.

Okay to accept?

Hi Alyson and Torey,

Minister Ralston was confirmed to speak at this event on December 5th here in Victoria but will now be travelling out of province on Ministerial business. He would like to defer this to PS Glumac. Lori from GCPE has been working on the SN for MBR and I have let her know that we will now be providing regrets and deferring to PSG.

Thank you,

Parliamentary Secretary,

Please find attached for your approval the revised draft PNWER statement on steel and aluminum tariffs that was discussed during yesterday's Executive Committee meeting. We have left the tracked changes in for ease of reference.

This revised version has now been reviewed and approved by our Assoc. DM, Pierrette Maranda. If you would like any additional edits made before I send it to Brandon Hardenbrook of PNWER, please let me know. As you will recall, PNWER requested feedback from each of the jurisdictions on this draft statement by end of business today.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Nicole,

Great to meet in Whitehorse @ PNWER today. Thanks for suggesting we schedule a follow-up with Mr. Glumac.

Looks like the legislature is sitting next week so I could be in Victoria (best days are Tues-Thurs but flexible) or alternatively in Vancouver if other engagements take the PS there instead.

Next window for me would either be late December or early January (so hopefully we can make next week work!).

Thanks!

Ben

BACKGROUND:

I've co-founded 2 venture-backed tech startups in Silicon Valley including Clearbanc which raised \$92M last week.

Now I'm building PROOF to digitize approvals within Government. The Yukon Cabinet is using our platform and we're expanding govt-wide (already live in 2 departments).

We're opening an office soon in Victoria and would love to connect.

I would like to introduce you by email to Dr. Deepak Kaura, Chief Medical Officer of 1QBit, a leading quantum computing software company headquartered in Vancouver.

I suggested that Deepak meet with you because you are the Parliamentary Secretary for Technology and Chair of the Select Standing Committee on Health in the BC Legislature and Deepak is looking at using quantum computing to analyze health data.

Thank you so much.

Hi Rick,

Just got a call from the Speaker's office about a lunch event that is occurring Wed, Dec 5th – same day as the TechWorks event. It will be at noon in the building and is to acknowledge Guy Black's work to commemorate Korean War veterans.

If you want to go I'd need to get you on an earlier Helijet and we'd potentially have to move the PNWER call. But hey, then you'd be coming for more than one event!

Let me know your thoughts, included some info about Guy Black below.

Guy Black

Port Moody, British Columbia

<image001.jpg>

Mr. Black is a Canadian Forces Veteran (Reserves) who volunteers considerable time to commemoration within the Veteran community. In 2008, he was instrumental in organizing the largest Korean War Commemorative event which was held at the Burnaby Village Museum in Burnaby, British Columbia.

Mr. Black also successfully arranged for free admission to the Burnaby Village Museum that same day. In the past, free admission was only permitted on Canada Day, so this was a triumph. In previous years, Mr. Black made arrangements for smaller but similar ceremonies in the City of Port Moody, where he organized several commemorative events attracting thousands of visitors, including displays of period military vehicles and artefacts. Mr. Black arranged for more than 25 groups and organizations to setup displays and participate. He had pipe bands and open and closing ceremonies which made the events an overwhelming success. Mr. Black also arranged for Veterans, dignitaries and VIPs to be transported in period, military vehicles from the museum to an event in Burnaby Central Park at the new Korea Monument which was unveiled in 2007. Mr. Black was also successful in lobbying the Provincial Government to proclaim July 27th as Korea Veterans Day in British Columbia and was the author of the proclamation.
