No, I'll speak from the heart. Can you ask Torey to schedule? I can only attend if it's on March 8th, not March 9th

Hey, just wanted to make you aware of this. I'd like to be a guest speaker - he wanted me to tell my story of starting with an electronics engineering degree and working on Shrek 2 and all that. Let me know if there are any issues.

Thx,

Hi Rick,

Thank you for visiting the VEX Robotics Competition this weekend at Heritage Woods Secondary.

s.22 I also very much enjoyed our conversation, particularly about how following your passion has taken you to so many interesting opportunities in your career.

I think you've got a message that could really resonate with the students at the robotics competition in Victoria, and we have a few opportunities for guest speakers to provide a bit of inspiration and encouragement to kids about the opportunities that arise from education, hard work, and really throwing your heart and soul into doing something that excites you. Being able to touch on some of the cool technology being developed here in BC would also be nice... there are some very exciting opportunities here.

I have cc.ed this message to Ian Koscielski. You may have met Ian at the event last year, he is the Regional Director and will be able to confirm details and find a time that works well.

Thanks again for your interest and enthusiasm!

Jason

P.S. If you've got some friends in Victoria who have an engineering or business background and would be interested in being a judge for the competition it is a really fun way to get involved and get to meet the teams in person. Judges have a working dinner on the evening of Thursday, March 7, then full days of volunteering on Friday and Saturday, March 8/9. I'd be happy to pass along more information.

Hey Rick,

Would you rather do 9am on next Friday – which might be impossible since you have meetings in your constit office at 10am. Caitlin would have to rearrange. Or would you be fine to do 5pm that evening, Friday, March 8th?

Thanks,

Hi Torey,

Yes the 8th works perfectly for us. We have two times that we generally have speakers that day, in the morning during opening ceremonies, which start at 9 AM. Or in the afternoon around 5:00 PM. I know PS Glumac had the chance to see the event last year so either slot will work and he would be the second speaker for either of those times. Morning with a video from Graham Lee who is the venue sponsor and in the evening with MP Murray Rankin - Victoria.

Let me know which would work better for PS Glumac's schedule.

Thanks,

Ian Koscielski
