Melissa, thanks for your time this morning. AS discussed, I would like you to assist PS Glumac in moving forward the concept of the Burrard Thermal site owned by BC Hydro for a tech hub. The Premier has taken an interest in this idea and raised with the chair of BCX Hydro. The goal would be a process to invite potential tenants to establish on that site. Thanks for your help

Subject: Thank you for speaking at the PNWER Summit!

Hello,

Thank you for speaking in the Climate Change and Economic Development Session at the 2019 Pacific NorthWest Economic Region Annual Summit in Saskatoon. We heard great feedback from the audience and your expertise contributed to constructive dialogue among participants. We at PNWER hope that your Summit experience was as rewarding and worthwhile as it was for the Summit attendees.

We hope to see your continued involvement with PNWER's energy working groups and activities. PNWER is more than one meeting. We conduct research, host policy tours, organize webinars and share policy around the region throughout the year. Please let us know if you wish to remain involved. You are invited to join the Economic Leadership Forum in Seattle, Nov. 17-19 where we will have a significant energy/infrastructure track or the 2020 Annual Summit in Big Sky, Montana July 19-23.

Over the next year PNWER staff, Executive Officers, co-chairs, and working group members will be addressing the following action items and you are invited to continue your participation with PNWER as we move this region forward.

Energy and Environment Working Group Action Items

1. Continue to support PNWER Roadmap to Ultra-Low Energy and Resilient Buildings. Develop private-public stakeholder networks in each jurisdiction. Release building synergies research at Seattle Economic Leadership Forum in November 17-19, 2019.
2. The PNWER Secretariat will continue to maintain and update annually an inventory of carbon policies in PNWER jurisdictions as a resource.
3. Finding: It was noted that energy storage companies in the PNWER region that are either developing or manufacturing energy storage technology should be cataloged.
4. Finding: It was noted that Indigenous Services Canada should collaborate with Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation to promote high performance homes.
5. Finding: It was identified that the Energy and Environment Working Group should collaborate with Energy Working Group to examine east-west transmission capacity.
6. Finding: It was identified that the Energy and Environment Working Group should work with PNWER Mining Working groups to catalog critical mineral inventories within the region with the idea of being able to foster a cluster for collaboration.

Energy Working Group Action Items

1. Action item: More education and training opportunities during PNWER Summit for industry to educate policy makers about best practices, technological advancement and successful policies in other jurisdictions, combined with a survey of membership before meeting to identify weaknesses in understanding by legislators to fine tune the education received. Within this format, allow for local jurisdictions and industries a chance to inform legislators about the impact of the decisions they are making. This would provide an opportunity to enhance the Legislative Energy Horizons Institute (LEHI) program.

In the upcoming week, PNWER staff will be uploading speaker power points on the PNWER Summit website to make them accessible to Summit attendees and PNWER website visitors. Please let us know if you do not prefer to have us publish your material. Session Proceedings, photos, video, news articles and other material will also be uploaded online.

You can still showcase your Summit involvement by means of social media through the use of #PNWER. If you would like PNWER to publicize your participation, please send a suggested social media text our way accompanied with any photos you may have.

Lastly, Nate Weigel at PNWER, cc'ed here, will be taking over the Energy Portfolio at PNWER as s.22
It was a pleasure working with you all.

Dear Mr. Glumac,

Pleasure to meet you. My name is Julie Strilesky, I am the Director of Government Relations for Portable Electric, a company based in Vancouver, Canada that manufactures clean, silent, portable battery-electric power locally to replace gas and diesel generators across a range of industries, including film, events and construction. Allow me to introduce our CEO Mark Rabin, who is copied on this email.

Our products are currently in use across the world - from Canada to the UK, to Singapore and California. We have recently powered the James Bond film in Europe and are powering about 300 local events in 2019.

We know a great deal of action is being taken at the local level to address climate change, air quality and the impacts to human health, and we are inspired to see the climate leadership you are demonstrating. We are setting important goals because we know what is at stake, we aim to surpass 10,000 tonnes of GHG reductions, and are planning to achieve more significant reductions as we manufacture our larger units with more power.

Karen Tam Wu from Pembina suggested I contact you. Given your role as Parliamentary Secretary for Technology, your involvement with economic development and past work with UBCM, we would value your advice as we plan to play a leading role in cleantech innovation in Canada and expand our export business.

Would you be available to connect? You are welcome to a tour of our facility in East Vancouver, or wherever is most convenient for you.

We look forward to hearing from you,

Julie

Subject: Thank you for speaking during PNWER's Annual Summit

We appreciate your involvement!

Dear Rick Glumac,

Thank you for speaking at the PNWER 29th Annual Summit in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan! Hundreds of participants from across the region joined us in Saskatoon and feedback has been overwhelmingly positive.

We appreciate the information you provided during our working group sessions. Events like the Summit are successful because of people like yourself sharing your knowledge and expertise. You played a major role in expanding people's thinking on important issues. The leadership of PNWER, is committed to working with you to ensure we complete the action items from the working group sessions. We appreciate your involvement so that our work remains relevant, effective, and timely.

As part of this effort to expand regional knowledge, PNWER has published working group presentations, proceedings, keynote videos, photos and news coverage at pnwer.org/2019-summit. Our team formatted all presentation materials as PDFs and removed speakers notes before posting them online. If you do not want your presentation shared online please email Steve@pnwer.org.

Action items were developed in each of our working groups to ensure we do not lose the momentum gained during the Summit. Resources, including action items, presentations, and media links are available at www.pnwer.org. We also hope you can take a few minutes to provide feedback on your experience during this brief survey

In addition, we would personally like to invite you to join us for the Economic Leadership Forum this November 17 – 19 in Seattle, WA. This event presents the opportunity to take a more in-depth look at some of the issues that came to the forefront during the Summit with the core group of PNWER leaders and stakeholders. Also, now is the time to mark your calendar for the PNWER 30th Annual Summit, which will be held in Big Sky, Montana July 19 – 23, 2020.

Lastly, we would appreciate any input, ideas or comments you may have that will help PNWER be more effective in our work. Please contact Steve Myers at (206) 443-7723 or by email at steve@pnwer.org with any suggestions.

Once again, thank you for making the PNWER 29th Annual Summit a great success!

Sincerely,

Hi Alyson,

I work at the BC Federation of Labour. We are interested in setting up a meeting with Rick Glumac to discuss work conditions in the tech sector with a specific focus on the animation sector. I would like to set up a meeting with our president and secretary treasurer, Laird Cronk and Sussanne Skidmore. We would also like to have Phil Klapwyk, President of IATSE, and Vanessa Kelly, a director with the Art Babbitt Appreciation Society, in attendance. Phil and Vanessa work directly with and represent people in the industry. They will be able to provide a first hand perspective on the challenges faced by these workers.

Calendars are a bit tight for all of us, but I am hoping we can book something on October 16, 17 or 18th. A meeting in Vancouver/Port Moody is easiest for our group if that can be accommodated.

Let me know if any of those dates are possible.

Thank you so much for looking into this!

That's fantastic! Thank you so much.

Speaking notes are being prepared through the Ministry of Energy Mines and I've included Andrew Cuddy here who will be able to follow up with us both once they're available. Andrew can you please share the SNs and extra info to MLA Glumac directly once they're available?

Thanks again and talk soon,
