Dear Bob Zhang:

Thank you for reaching out to the BC Government and your offer to assist during the COVID-19 pandemic. It is heartening to see British Columbians pulling together and offering to help in their communities during these unprecedented times.

The BC Government has been receiving offers of support and donations from a wide range of business and community stakeholders since the onset of this pandemic.

I am pleased to confirm that BC now has a dedicated online platform, the COVID-19 Supply Hub, that will provide a single point of entry to triage and prioritize the thousands of offers and donations for essential supplies from business and other organizations.

The initial focus of the COVID-19 Supply Hub will be sourcing supplies for the health-care system and front-line workers, although the BC Government is also accepting offers for other essentials, like cleaning supplies.

If you are able to offer support or supplies in these critical areas, we would encourage you to access the COVID-19 Supply Hub at the following link to submit your offer: www.gov.bc.ca/supplyhub.

I am sure you have heard the message that “we are all in this together.” Your willingness to assist echoes this statement and we are grateful for you reaching out.

Sincerely,

Rick Glumac
Parliamentary Secretary

Hi Alyson & Cindy,

We have an opportunity for a quote from PSG in the attached NR re: the Technology Impact Awards. Challenge is it is a tight turnaround. Any chance of getting his quote approved by end of today? Highlighted in the attached for easy reference and copied below.

"B.C.'s tech sector is built on the strength, perseverance and passion of tech trailblazers," said Rick Glumac, Parliamentary Secretary for Technology. "I continue to be impressed by the caliber of people driving our tech sector forward and delivering solutions that help make lives better for people throughout British Columbia and around the world."

Thanks,

Lori
