Hello Zahra,

Thank you for your email to the Premier's office on May 23, 2018. The Premier's office has forwarded your request to our office for consideration. I would be pleased to arrange a ½ hr meeting with your group and Minister Bains on June 12 at 1:30pm or June 13 at 1:00. I understand your issue is pay equity and proactive legislation.

Please let me know if either of these dates and/or times work and who would be attending. The meeting would probably be at the Vancouver Cabinet Office at Canada Place.

Hi Charlotte,

It was lovely to have met you at the BCCLA gala.

I am wondering if you can assist with arranging (or directing me to the right people to arrange) meetings with Minister Bains, Trevor Hughes to discuss pay equity and the importance of enacting proactive legislation. It would be good to start these discussions mid June with a view to hopefully working towards some meaningful results in the fall sitting.

Is this something you could assist with – arranging the meetings that is?

Thank you.

Hi Sue,

It looks like Minister Bains was able to pop in for the meeting yesterday in Victoria so we certainly don't need the time on Monday at his office.

The offer stands – for another time – if the Minister would like a tour of BCIT. We can coordinate with Cynthia Petrie and give him access to any of the spaces he might be interested in.

Thank you!

Hi

Here are some possible dates and times. The meeting would be held in the lower mainland, probably the Minister's constituency office. I have yet to speak with BCIT.

June 4 ½ hour 1:00-1:30pm
June 11, ½ hour from 11:30-noon
June 14, ½ hour from 11:30-noon

Tuesday, May 29th – Day of the Honey Bee – Promo toolkit

On Tuesday May 29, the Ministry of Agriculture will officially proclaim the Day of the Honey Bee on the front lawn of the B.C. Legislature. Honey bees and other native pollinators play an important role in B.C. agriculture, pollinating many of our field and greenhouse crops. Their work is vital to our quality of life as British Columbians, so let's celebrate them and raise awareness about helping honey bees and other pollinators thrive.

Here are some ideas to get the conversation started on your social channels this weekend:

- Visit a local apiary in your community, take a selfie and share it on your social channels with #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee
- Find a bee-related product at your community farmers' market, such as local honey, or beeswax candles, take a picture and share it on your social channels with #BuyBC #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee
- Snap a photo of a hard-working bee pollinating a flower this weekend (it's not hard to find them; they're everywhere this time of year!). Tag where it was taken (ie: a local park or gardens) and share through your social channels with #BeeBC #DayoftheHoneyBee

You can share these photos leading up to #DayoftheHoneyBee, or save them and engage in the digital conversation on May 29.

Facts:

- Bees play a major role in agriculture as pollinators of crops, contributing an estimated $550M to the economy in British Columbia, and over $2B in Canada.
- Honeybees are involved in the production of over $250M worth of fruit and field crops, while bumblebees are used in the greenhouse industry representing a value of near $300M per year.
- The B.C. government's apiculture program has provided free support services to B.C.'s beekeepers for over 50 years, including apiary inspections, advice and materials, and laboratory services for the diagnosis of bee diseases.
- B.C. has one of Canada's foremost apiary specialists on staff and assigned bee inspectors in 6 regions that provide free support services to BC's beekeepers.
- Recently, two new bee inspectors have been appointed to the northwest region of the province. Based on the distribution of beekeepers in that area, one is assigned to the McBride-Prince George-Vanderhoof region, and the other to the Telkwa-Smithers-Terrace region.
- The B.C. government's response to bee health issues has not changed. If there are any indications of a disease outbreak – anywhere on the Island or in B.C. – services are offered to the beekeeper.
- The B.C. government supports the Commercial Beekeeping Program at Kwantlen Polytechnic University

Hi

Both you and Trevor thought something on the mainland would work.

The folks at BCITFSA thought the Minister might like a tour and do a meeting at their site. Trevor thought June 14 and BCITFSA thought June 4. Perhaps something in between.

Heads up. We can discuss next week.

Hi Karen,

Passing along this request from West Coast LEAF to meet with Minister Bains or ADM Hughes on the topic of pay equity. Could you please just let me know when LEAF receives a response from your ministry? I track open requests from stakeholders that come to me and I don't close them until they've heard back.

Hi Charlotte,

It was lovely to have met you at the BCCLA gala.

I am wondering if you can assist with arranging (or directing me to the right people to arrange) meetings with Minster Bains, Trevor Hughes to discuss pay equity and the importance of enacting proactive legislation. It would be good to start these discussions mid June with a view to hopefully working towards some meaningful results in the fall sitting.

Is this something you could assist with – arranging the meetings that is?

Thank you.

Best,

Zahra H. Jimale, LLB
