We're finalizing the graphics for a poster and a slide to communicate the new multi-lingual phone line for the Employment Standards Branch services. We're trying to get the slide to Services BC by end of day today so they can add it to their January line up of slides that rotate on screens in their offices across the province.

We wanted you to have a quick look to make sure it all looks good from your end. What do you think? Trevor and Danine are taking a final look right now.
