Thanks all! Sorry I went to citizen services for this info (thinking it was about who owned the land) and should have just come to you folks.

Earl, when ever this response is ready would you mind sending it to myself as well.

Thanks everyone for your work on this!

Hey Lisa,

Are you aware of this request? Citizen service no longer needs to be looped in as this falls under our Ministry and not theirs.

If you are aware of this would you mind giving me a call and we can chat next steps and if you aren't aware of this issue would you know who might be providing Citizen Services this info?

Thanks for your help.

Hi Ravi,

The program area has reached out to the Ministry of Attorney General (MAG) to review the request and provide a fulsome response that we can provide to you. The decision rests with them and ordinarily they would deal with it internally. In the meantime, an interim response has been provided below:

Hi Glen. Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

Thanks Gayle! I will arrange floor passes and check in with you folks on Monday re: timing.

I have emailed MLA Lee's assistant and will get back to you all shortly about moving the briefing. In the mean time could you please check in with Darryl, Russell, and Tyler to see what their availability is on Monday?

Thanks,

Subject: Support for minister next week

Samantha,

Support for the minster next week in the House are the following:

Bill 2 – Protection of Public Participation Act
- Russel Getz, Legal Counsel
- Darin Thompson, Legal Counsel

Bill 9 – AG Statutes Amendment Act, 2019
- Darryl Hrenyk, Legal Counsel
- Russell Getz, Legal Counsel
- Tyler Nyvall, Legal Counsel

Can you please arrange floor passes for them?

Also, given the move up of Bill 9 to the agenda next week, the opposition briefing on it will need to be moved – as I know you are aware.

Thank you,

Subject: Meeting with Chances Casino Port Alberni

Hi folks,

Minister Eby will be meeting with Gerard Janssen on Tuesday March 5th from 4:30-5pm regarding Chances Casino in Port Alberni.

If Minister Fraser is interested in attending, he is more than welcome to.

Below is the meeting request -

This is a request on behalf of the membership of Chances Casino Port Alberni for a 15 minute meeting with the Minister when the house resumes.
The object of the minister is a follow up to the correspondence previously relayed to you by Minister Scott Fraser.
To further explain, Chances Port Alberni is a community owned Gaming center that we feel should receive some relieve from the rules and regulations that were legislated.
As a community owned and operated Gaming Center we are finding it difficult to recruit and maintain a full compliment of officers on our board.
As a former MLA and member of the Legislation Committee for many years I fully understand the reasoning for the legislation, but also that amendments or changes can be made at the Order in Council stage.
I expect that the meeting will involve myself and perhaps our Chairperson Joan Hall.

Thank you for your consideration.
Gerard Janssen

Subject: RE: 2019-02-26 URGENT FW: For Action by EOD Plz: Judge Begbie Statue New Westminster court house

Research on the New West Judge Begbie statue came up with the following:

- The statue is located on City owned property, NOT provincial land but in very close proximity to the front entrance of the Court House
- Downtown New Westminster's Begbie Square is an urban park, constructed in 1981 and the statute is a landmark feature of the plaza
- Commission of statue was funded by lawyers and judges associated with the New Westminster Bar Association
- The New Westminster Bar Association is still an active organization (I did not contact them)
- The City of New West has had discussion in the past regarding the potential removal of the statue but to date have no plans to address the issue
- Provincial Protocol is silent on statue removal so would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis

Additional information

- The Law Society decided to remove Begbie from their lobby in Vancouver as a way to address “colonial symbolism” and as a commitment to the principles of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Hi Jon,
I met with Lorne earlier today regarding our response to DMO on this issue. Could you please reach out to a contact at MAG who could jump on this asap on Tuesday and come to a solution, then let me know their response so I can provide to DMO?
In the meantime I'll provide the interim response below (thank you) and let them know we'll be in touch tomorrow with further intel.
Many thanks, Judy

- The New Westminister Courthouse is a provincial government-owned property.
- The Ministry of Attorney General (MAG) acts on matters such as this in consultation with the Judiciary.
- Any decision to remove a statue rests with MAG.
- We will ask that MAG review the request and provide a response.

Hi Glen. Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

I have a constituent who applied for Rural Agency Store Liquor License in April 2018. She was told it would take 4-6 months and it is now 11 months. She was told they lost her file, then it took a long time to hear from the regional district, now they can't figure out who to talk to from the local First Nation Community. She also believes the village she lives in has not been contacted.

Do you know who I can talk about timelines? Her Business is #1108122BC Ltd.

Hello Samantha,

I am writing you in regards to a question I had about bringing my husband's vehicle into Canada and I am hoping you might be able to look into the issue. He recently received his Confirmation of Permanent Residency and is planning on Landing in May. He would like to drive his vehicle up to Canada so that he can drive it in Canada and does not have to buy a new vehicle here. s.22

We have been told by Motor Vehicle Safety that he cannot import the car because it is not from the United States and it is younger than 15 years old. I am wondering if you might be able to inquire with ICBC if they can insure a car that is from s.22 and if there is some way we are either able to import it or bring it into Canada some other way so that he can drive it in his new life here.

Thank you for your time and please let me know if you need any further information.

Kindly,

Dear s.22

I am responding to your request to Mr. Steve Thomson, MLA for Kelowna-Mission, regarding the number of individuals who are receiving a fine reduction for their disputed violation ticket, where they have been charged under Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act—failing to stop for a school bus.

The decision to grant a fine reduction is at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer. While I appreciate receiving your comments, as Attorney General, I have no authority to review a judicial decision for the purpose of determining whether it is right or wrong. Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC
Attorney General

Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC
Attorney General

Research on the New West Judge Begbie statue came up with the following:

- The statue is located on City owned property, NOT provincial land but in very close proximity to the front entrance of the Court House
- Downtown New Westminster's Begbie Square is an urban park, constructed in 1981 and the statute is a landmark feature of the plaza
- Commission of statue was funded by lawyers and judges associated with the New Westminster Bar Association
- The New Westminster Bar Association is still an active organization (I did not contact them)

- The City of New West has had discussion in the past regarding the potential removal of the statue but to date have no plans to address the issue
- Provincial Protocol is silent on statue removal so would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis

Additional information

- The Law Society decided to remove Begbie from their lobby in Vancouver as a way to address "colonial symbolism" and as a commitment to the principles of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Good morning Jenny,

We received a query on the statue of Judge Begbie at New Westminister. Our interim response is as below, but I'd like confirmation from your ministry that MAG should lead a response.

Hi Jon,
I met with Lorne earlier today regarding our response to DMO on this issue. Could you please reach out to a contact at MAG who could jump on this asap on Tuesday and come to a solution, then let me know their response so I can provide to DMO?
In the meantime I'll provide the interim response below (thank you) and let them know we'll be in touch tomorrow with further intel.
Many thanks, Judy

- The New Westminister Courthouse is a provincial government-owned property.
- The Ministry of Attorney General (MAG) acts on matters such as this in consultation with the Judiciary.
- Any decision to remove a statue rests with MAG.
- We will ask that MAG review the request and provide a response.

Hi Glen. Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

If so come back by the office today and I'll exchange your tickets for QP tickets, as you will be up in the gallery.

QP starts at 10am so come by our office between 9:30-9:45am and I'll give you your tickets and show you were to go!

Looking forward to seeing you!

Deadline Tuesday, 3:30 p.m.

Request
Is the B.C. government engaging in any work to help private cannabis stores connect with banks?

Does the province understand the optics of government stores easily attaining deals with banks while private businesses remain in the same situation they did before legalization?

Recommendation – Provide background

- One of B.C.'s goals with respect to cannabis legalization is to develop a sustainable cannabis industry that generates jobs and economic growth throughout the Province.
- Federally licensed cannabis producers and provincially licensed cannabis retailers are legitimate businesses that need access to federally regulated banking services.

- With legalization, we encourage banks proactively to review any policies and practices that may be creating barriers in this regard, and we encourage the Federal government to review banking regulations and laws that may be unintentionally creating confusion or barriers to banks offering business services.

Request
The reporter has been getting mixed responses about markups or different costs of sale on domestic B.C. wine versus imported wine. Is there a difference for either of these and if so, what is it?

Recommendation – Provide background

- The same mark up is applicable to all wine distributed through our Liquor Wholesale division – imported and domestic. The calculator/formula is below and can be found publicly in this online document: http://www.bcldb.com/files/Wholesale_Pricing_Changes-Overview.pdf.
- The current formula was established in 2015.

Wine Wholesale Calculation

Prime Cost per case (Cost per case including freight into BC)	$65.00
Domestic Charges (ie: warehouse costs, marketing, agent margin)	5.00

Hi Doug & Sheila,

Could you tell me why your government is fighting this? Do you believe what your lawyers are saying here?

"Fraser Valley resident Nicole Bell sat quietly as a lawyer representing the British Columbia government told the court that the province has no constitutional obligation to provide any more legal aid to women fleeing domestic abuse than it already does."

"Govender said she is disappointed the BC NDP government is trying to have the matter thrown out before either side has a chance to make their arguments about the matter itself.

B.C.'s Ministry of the Attorney General was not able to provide comment by the Star's deadline.

But Bell said she wasn't surprised by the government's decision. After living in hiding for five years, she said she is prepared to stay in the fight for years in order to help others like her.

"I don't want anyone to have to experience the hardships I did as a result of not having a lawyer when I needed a lawyer most." https://www.thestar.com/vancouver/2019/02/25/court-challenge-for-women-fleeing-violence-doomed-to-fail-argues-lawyer-for-bc-government.html Thanks, s.22 Nanaimo

Subject: FW: RESPONSE: Importing a Permanent Resident's Car

Hi s.22

I've talked to ICBC and they sent over some bullet –

- The rules for what vehicles are admissible for importation to Canada from the US and other countries fall under the jurisdiction of Transport Canada.

- As per their website, Transport Canada along with the Canada Border Services administer the federal Motor Vehicle Safety Act (MVSA) and the Motor Vehicle Safety Regulations (MVSR) and enforce the conditions under which new and used vehicles may be imported at CBSA points of entry. The MVSA regulates the importation of vehicles to reduce the risk of death, injury, and damage to property and the environment. More information is available at: http://www.tc.gc.ca/en/services/road/importing-vehicle.html

- Vehicles made in North America cannot be imported if they were built and certified to meet the vehicle standards of a foreign country (other than the U.S.). The vehicle would not have complied with Canadian safety standards at the time of main assembly, which is required by MVSA. The Act also does not allow these vehicles to meet Canada Motor Vehicle Safety Standards.

- Vehicles that are 15 years or older, based on the month and year of its manufacture, that belong to a regulated class of vehicle under the MVSA, and are not buses are eligible for importation.

- More information can be found here: http://www.tc.gc.ca/en/services/road/importing-vehicle/countries-other-united-states/faq.html

- This falls outside the purview of ICBC so the short answer is no, ICBC cannot insure a vehicle that is inadmissible for importation under Transport Canada's rules and the federal legislation.

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Subject: Importing a Permanent Resident's Car

Hello Samantha,

I am writing you in regards to a question I had about bringing my husband's vehicle into Canada and I am hoping you might be able to look into the issue. He recently received his Confirmation of Permanent Residency and is planning on Landing in May. He would like to drive his vehicle up to Canada so that he can drive it in Canada and does not have to buy a new vehicle here. s.22

We have been told by Motor Vehicle Safety that he cannot import the car because it is not from the United States and it is younger than 15 years old. I am wondering if you might be able to inquire with ICBC if they can insure a car that is from s.22 and if there is some way we are either able to import it or bring it into Canada some other way so that he can drive it in his new life here.

Thank you for your time and please let me know if you need any further information.

Kindly,

To save Mike the trouble, I've spoken with Nan in MLA Steve Thomson's office and explained the statistics. She was unfortunately under the impression that disputed VTs represented all VTs issued by enforcement agencies, when they in fact they only represent a 20 per cent or so fraction of the total tickets issued which are disputed.

ICBC is the authoritative source of statistics for total numbers of VTs issued, and I expect Nan may make another request of Samantha's office for the ICBC held information on total VTs issued.

Thanks
Dan

Lisa, presumably Nan means 60 not guilty since there's no 650 that I can see anywhere. If Nan knows Excel then it's very easy to determine what figures total up to the 60 not guilty figure since the total is formula driven. In any event we can follow-up with Nan. Thx.

Hi Samantha -

I have included an earlier email and an attachment which shows the number of tickets disputed regarding violation of Section 149 of the MVA. The attachment is the data base report that staff put through for us.

Would it be possible to ask for another query of the data base going from January 2018 to current month? We are still assisting our constituent who is also now working with the transportation manager of the school district and they were asking for the update.

Thanks and I look forward to hearing back from you. Sometimes when I am emailing from Maximizer as opposed to Outlook - the attachments don't come through. Please advise that you are in receipt - and if not - I will resend from Outlook. Thanks so much. Nan

I am responding to your request to Mr. Steve Thomson, MLA for Kelowna-Mission, regarding the number of individuals who are receiving a fine reduction for their disputed violation ticket, where they have been charged under Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act—failing to stop for a school bus.

The decision to grant a fine reduction is at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer. While I appreciate receiving your comments, as Attorney General, I have no authority to review a judicial decision for the purpose of determining whether it is right or wrong. Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC
Attorney General

As your supervisor your Senior MA will be conducting performance assessments for all staff in the MO and we want to make sure you are aware of the process and your role in it.

We are meeting with all employee groups (Senior MAs, EAs, ACs, AAs) in the next few days to ensure everyone is informed about the process.

If you have any questions in the meantime don't hesitate to get in touch.

If you are unable to make it on Thursday please let me know and we will make an alternate arrangement.

Thank you, and have a good weekend.

Hello All,

Thank you to those you have been able to accept an invitation to a briefing session this week.
With some Senior MAs on the LP Ministerial Assistants email list you may have received two invitations so this email will clarify.

The sessions are organized by employee group:
Tuesday – Senior MAs
Wednesday – MAs
Thursday – EAs (as part of their regularly scheduled weekly meeting)

The Senior MA session will deal with their role as both supervisor and employee so it is advised that only Senior MAs attend.
Senior MAs can attend the Wednesday MA session but it will not cover your supervisory role in this process.

We will also be holding sessions with administrative staff in the days to come, in case they are asking.

Thank you and please let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Liam,

The Minister thinks he should be able to make it back to the constit in time for the interview.

You can confirm with NPR, but maybe just preface it, saying he will be driving down from Merritt, and may need to push it back slightly if traffic is bad.

Darryl Hrenyk was wondering if:

the AG would like, and has time for, a quick briefing on the FLA amendments before committee stage. Although they are small, they are not exactly straight-forward and an ability to talk through their relationship to the implementation of the upcoming Provincial Court Family Rules may be useful.

Let me know.

I would say that we won't be going into committee until much later in the day (if we even get to it)… I would say around 5pm, but that is really just a guess. Lets touch base later today and hopefully I will have a better idea of timing.

Subject: Please end secret, unethical lobbying and unethical decision-making in politics

Hello,

I am calling on governments across Canada to end secret, unethical lobbying and unethical decision-making in politics through implementing the following measures which are supported by the Government Ethics Coalition, made up of 32 citizen groups from across Canada representing over 3 million Canadians:

1. pass a law requiring all government consultation processes to provide meaningful opportunities for citizen participation, so that the influence of lobbyists is decreased;

Make ethics rules stronger by:

1. adding a requirement to the ethics law or code that all politicians, their staff, Cabinet appointees and senior government officials (including in municipal governments) be honest at all times, including when they are speaking in the legislature or in committee;

2. adding a requirement that all these people disclose all assets and liabilities worth more than $1,000, and in most cases sell significant investments and financial interests they (and their spouses and dependents) own or, if they do not sell them, prohibit them from taking part in discussions or votes on all matters (general and specific) in which they have a direct or indirect financial interest;
3. adding a requirement that these people also disclose all work they have done in the five years before they began their public office job (including as a director of any type of organization) to ensure that it is easy to track whether they use their public official position to help private businesses or organizations that they have ties with through their past work;
4. specifically, prohibiting these people also from taking part in discussions or votes on matters in which they have an apparent conflict of interest, even if they don't have a direct financial interest, and delete the exemption that is currently in the definition of "private interest" in every political ethics law and code across Canada that states that no one can be in a conflict of interest if they are dealing with a "general application" matter or matter that affects a "broad class of persons" (because this exemption means the law/code does not apply to 99% of the decisions made);
5. requiring politicians, their staff, and all public officials to work a set minimum number of hours each week, with their required duties clearly defined, along with allowed and prohibited outside activities, all disclosed in an online searchable database, including any pay received over $1,000 for outside activities (and speaking to groups and any other appearance at any event should be something all politicians are required to do for free because their role is to be a representative of government to the broader community, and they receive a substantial benefit by speaking at such events of the opportunity to connect with voters and promote themselves and their political party);
6. increasing the post-public service restriction on taking a job with a person, company or organization that you had significant dealings with while in office to 3 years for Cabinet ministers, and to 2 years for Cabinet staff and senior government officials and opposition party leaders and critics, and to 1 year for backbench politicians, to help ensure that companies and organizations can't offer jobs as a payoff to politicians and officials for what they did while in office;
7. increasing the post-public service lobbying restriction for Cabinet ministers, their staff, Cabinet appointees and senior government officials to 3-5 years (depending on the decision-making power of the person), and for backbench politicians and senators and their staff, and junior government officials and employees to 1-4 years depending on their decision-making powers (to help close the revolving door through which these people sell their expertise and inside knowledge to private interests when they retire, are defeated in an election, or leave their position for another reason);
8. requiring all these people to report their post-public service activities to the ethics enforcement agency during the cooling-off period to ensure they are complying with the rules;
9. prohibit all these people from accepting sponsored travel (and delete any exemptions that allow for this unethical gift); and
10. enacting a general anti-avoidance provision in all ethics rules to prevent people from exploiting any loopholes.

Ensure lobbying activities are tracked and the undue influence of lobbyists is restricted by ensuring that the lobbying law:

1. requires Ministers, their staff, Cabinet appointees and other senior government officials, members of the legislature and senators and all their staff to disclose all their contacts in an online, searchable database with anyone who communicates with them in any way about their decisions;
2. requires lobbyists to disclose how much they and their clients are spending on their campaigns (as required in 33 U.S. states);
3. requires lobbyists to disclose past work with political parties, candidates for federal public office and governments;
4. prohibits lobbyists from serving in senior positions for political parties and candidates (as prohibited by the federal Lobbyists' Code of Conduct, and by laws in Maryland and New Mexico);

5. prohibits lobbyists from doing work for government departments (such as providing advice on communications) and from having any business connections with anyone who does such work, and;
6. eliminate the corporate tax deduction for lobbying expenses.

And ensure ethics laws/codes/rules are effectively enforced by:

1. ensuring a "whistleblower" protection law exists that gives anyone the right to reports a violation of any law, policy, code, guideline etc. to a fully independent integrity commissioner who has the power and resources to fully investigate complaints, and to protect all whistleblowers from retaliation and to compensate them fully if they suffer retaliation;
2. as Ontario has for appointing provincial court judges, create an independent commission to conduct open, merit-based searches for Cabinet appointments, and to require the Cabinet to choose from a short list of candidates the commission proposes, and require approval from opposition party leaders of the appointment of all ethics, integrity or lobbying commissioners;
3. appoint all ethics, integrity and lobbying commissioners, and all government watchdogs, for fixed, multi-year, non-renewable terms with full independence and investigative powers;
4. requiring all integrity, ethics and lobbying commissioners to conduct regular, unannounced audits of the activities of the people who are covered by the law they enforce, to ensure everyone is complying with the rules;
5. requiring all integrity, ethics and lobbying commissioners to review complaints filed by the public, and rule publicly on every complaint;
6. requiring the commissioners to issue a ruling every time they give advice to anyone on how the law/code rules apply to specific situations;
7. allowing complainants to go to court if the integrity, ethics or lobbying commissioner delays an investigation an unreasonable length of time, or makes any legal or factual error in a ruling; and
8. increase penalties for violations of any ethics law or code to match the current penalties for violating the federal Lobbying Act (ie. $50,000 to $200,000 fines and jail terms of 6 months to 2 years), and loss of any severance payment, and a partial clawback of their pension payments.

Please let me know what you will do to ensure that these changes are made as soon as possible. I will be deciding which political party to vote for in the next election based on the responses I receive from representatives in each party. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
ss.22

Hello Samantha,

Janet Routledge has received this meeting request from a constituent who is active with Fair Vote. We would like to receive background information about the process for setting up terms of reference for electoral boundaries commissions. It would be very helpful to know which aspects of the process are within the jurisdiction of The Attorney General and which aspects are within the jurisdiction of Elections BC. I would appreciate it if you could also provide me with the contact information for someone within Elections BC who could talk to me or Janet about their role.

The meeting with s.22 is scheduled for 1:30PM on Friday April 5th. We would like to have this background information prior to the meeting.

Thank you for your assistance with this.

Hi Janet,

I'm concerned about the imbalance in riding populations in BC, which have become more and more extreme in recent years. I've done some reading of past Boundary Commission reports and other material that is online at Elections BC, and created the attached report which I'd like to send to Mr. Horgan, and I'd like to go over it with you as well.

Would it be possible to come in to meet with you in order to review this material?

Subject: RE: Bill 9 - additional material.

I have some bullets from the AG's second reading speech that you could use, please note he will be saying this verbatim so I would recommend changing it up a bit.

The purpose of these amendments is to improve the ability of those sections to achieve their purpose and to clarify their operation; and in so doing, to lessen the potentially time-consuming and costly need to seek court direction on the application of these sections. The amendments include provisions

s.13

The amendment will allow for decisions of a judicial officer made under the new Rules to be reviewed by a Provincial Court Judge in an expeditious manner.

Hope that is helpful.

Hi Camas,

Thanks for the quick response, I don't believe I have anything, but if there is something I would have just been cced on it, so the Deputy's office would have it and the MA's.

But I'll do a search and makes sure I don't have anything.

Hi Sam,

I think all records for this would be held with MAs, but I'm guessing Derrick may have forwarded to you due to the reference to meeting agendas. If you think you would have any agendas on this topic, I would recommend doing a quick search, but generally I just send these types of requests for operational records to the MAs.

Hope that helps, feel free to call if you have questions!

Thanks,

Hi Samantha -

I have included an earlier email and an attachment which shows the number of tickets disputed regarding violation of Section 149 of the MVA. The attachment is the data base report that staff put through for us.

Would it be possible to ask for another query of the data base going from January 2018 to current month? We are still assisting our constituent who is also now working with the transportation manager of the school district and they were asking for the update.

Thanks and I look forward to hearing back from you. Sometimes when I am emailing from Maximizer as opposed to Outlook - the attachments don't come through. Please advise that you are in receipt - and if not - I will resend from Outlook. Thanks so much. Nan

I am responding to your request to Mr. Steve Thomson, MLA for Kelowna-Mission, regarding the number of individuals who are receiving a fine reduction for their disputed violation ticket, where they have been charged under Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act—failing to stop for a school bus.

The decision to grant a fine reduction is at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer. While I appreciate receiving your comments, as Attorney General, I have no authority to review a judicial decision for the purpose of determining whether it is right or wrong. Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC

Hi Sam – I can put in a request for the data, but it is likely to take a bit to get it. It gets added to a LONG list of data requests that often come behind requests coming from AG directly and MG, RAAP related data inquiries in order for ICBC to achieve its corporate and government objectives, other ministries requesting data for public policy purposes, media requests, academic researchers etc.

I will put in the request and see if we can get an ETA on how long it will take. Just wanted to set expectations up front.

Sincerely,
Connie

Hi Nan,

I am happy to put in a request for updated data for the last year, I'm not sure if the data will be available right up to the current month, but what ever is available I will make sure gets sent directly to you.

Cheers,

Hi Samantha -

I have included an earlier email and an attachment which shows the number of tickets disputed regarding violation of Section 149 of the MVA. The attachment is the data base report that staff put through for us.

Would it be possible to ask for another query of the data base going from January 2018 to current month? We are still assisting our constituent who is also now working with the transportation manager of the school district and they were asking for the update.

Thanks and I look forward to hearing back from you. Sometimes when I am emailing from Maximizer as opposed to Outlook - the attachments don't come through. Please advise that you are in receipt - and if not - I will resend from Outlook. Thanks so much. Nan

I am responding to your request to Mr. Steve Thomson, MLA for Kelowna-Mission, regarding the number of individuals who are receiving a fine reduction for their disputed violation ticket, where they have been charged under Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act—failing to stop for a school bus.

The decision to grant a fine reduction is at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer. While I appreciate receiving your comments, as Attorney General, I have no authority to review a judicial decision for the purpose of determining whether it is right or wrong. Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC
Attorney General

Research on the New West Judge Begbie statue came up with the following:

- The statue is located on City owned property, NOT provincial land but in very close proximity to the front entrance of the Court House
- Downtown New Westminster's Begbie Square is an urban park, constructed in 1981 and the statute is a landmark feature of the plaza
- Commission of statue was funded by lawyers and judges associated with the New Westminster Bar Association
- The New Westminster Bar Association is still an active organization (I did not contact them)
- The City of New West has had discussion in the past regarding the potential removal of the statue but to date have no plans to address the issue
- Provincial Protocol is silent on statue removal so would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis

Additional information

- The Law Society decided to remove Begbie from their lobby in Vancouver as a way to address "colonial symbolism" and as a commitment to the principles of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

By copy to Earl, I ask him to follow-up with the protocol office (Earl: Heather may have a contact) to ask for advice on removal of this statue. I hope we can get a quick answer but expect it may take a few days, particularly as we'll also need to consult with judiciary.

Hi Jon,
I met with Lorne earlier today regarding our response to DMO on this issue. Could you please reach out to a contact at MAG who could jump on this asap on Tuesday and come to a solution, then let me know their response so I can provide to DMO?
In the meantime I'll provide the interim response below (thank you) and let them know we'll be in touch tomorrow with further intel.
Many thanks, Judy

- The New Westminister Courthouse is a provincial government-owned property.
- The Ministry of Attorney General (MAG) acts on matters such as this in consultation with the Judiciary.
- Any decision to remove a statue rests with MAG.
- We will ask that MAG review the request and provide a response.

Hi Glen. Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

Hi Lucinda,

As promised, here are some high-level bullets on the ICBC side of things:

- Government changed its rules regarding permitted names on BC driver licences (BCDLs), BC Identification Cards (BCIDs) and BC Services Cards (BCSCs), effective September 4, 2018.
- Customers may use their combined/hyphenated married surname on their ICBC-issued photo ID without a legal name change, provided they have the required proofing documents (e.g. a legal marriage certificate or a divorce certificate). This also applies to enhanced drivers licence and ID cards.
- A customer who wishes to add or remove their hyphen or change the order of their surname, may apply for the duplicate licence by providing appropriate linking documentation and paying the duplicate fee ($17). Name updates are free for customers updating their name on their stand-alone BC Services Card or on their BC driver's licence if it is within 6 months of its expiry.
- These changes balance our need to provide strong and secure identity management, while recognizing the practical needs of B.C. residents.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Samantha,

I have a constituent who applied for Rural Agency Store Liquor License in April 2018. She was told it would take 4-6 months and it is now 11 months. She was told they lost her file, then it took a long time to hear from the regional district, now they can't figure out who to talk to from the local First Nation Community. She also believes the village she lives in has not been contacted.

Do you know who I can talk about timelines? Her Business is #1108122BC Ltd.
Or if you have other recommendations on steps I can encourage her to take.

Thank you for your help,

Request
In a response to one of the BC Civil Forfeiture cases related to Silver International there is an allegation that the reason the case has been filed against the defendant (Hoy Pang Chan & his parents) is because it's at "the behest of and improper and abusive direction of the AGBC or by law enforcement agencies and the Plaintiff." (Response attached).

Here's the excerpt from the filing:

On or about November 29, 2018, the AGBC publicly expressed disappointment with the collapse of criminal charges against Silver International, which the AGBC stated his office only discovered upon the disclosure of such collapse in the media. The Defendant further pleads that the herein proceedings, as well as any civil forfeiture proceedings related to any investigation of Silver International, have occurred at the behest of and improper and abusive direction of the AGBC or by law enforcement agencies and the Plaintiff.

The reporter specifically asked for a response from the AG ministry, as the case names the AG.

Hi Nubwa,

Thanks for reaching out, generally speaking, law enforcement officers are responsible for enforcing the rules of the road. ICBC's former position was that issues of police enforcement, from a provincial perspective, would fall under PSSG. However, Police Services Branch (at PSSG) has told ICBC that it now falls to municipalities. PSSG owns the legislative component of this direction, so I have cced Talea, the EA from PSSG and hopefully she can provide a bit more info on the rational behind that.

Hello Samantha,

I hope this email finds you well.

Do you have any messaging on photo radars? According to a constituent of ours, having photo radars would "prevent" the amount of accidents happening due to speed and in turn the cost of claims that would be filed.

The constituent received a feedback from ICBC, stating that ICBC does not enforce or enact changes in legislation. I would suggest that you bring forward these concerns to your local municipality or local law enforcement. The constituent wasn't happy with this answer and claims that the province should be responsible and not municipalities or local law enforcements.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Kind regards,

Hi Nubwa,

Thanks for reaching out, generally speaking, law enforcement officers are responsible for enforcing the rules of the road. ICBC's former position was that issues of police enforcement, from a provincial perspective, would fall under PSSG. However, Police Services Branch (at PSSG) has told ICBC that it now falls to municipalities. PSSG owns the legislative component of this direction, so I have cced Talea, the EA from PSSG and hopefully she can provide a bit more info on the rational behind that.

Thanks,

Hello Samantha,

I hope this email finds you well.

Do you have any messaging on photo radars? According to a constituent of ours, having photo radars would "prevent" the amount of accidents happening due to speed and in turn the cost of claims that would be filed.

The constituent received a feedback from ICBC, stating that ICBC does not enforce or enact changes in legislation. I would suggest that you bring forward these concerns to your local municipality or local law enforcement. The constituent wasn't happy with this answer and claims that the province should be responsible and not municipalities or local law enforcements.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Kind regards,

Hi David;

I'm a resident of Melanie Mark's riding and have written to her as well. I'm writing to open some dialogue about an issue I see as more and more of a concern as I'm watching our region grow (as someone who was born here I believe I am qualified to call Vancouver "congested"). As a heavy driver myself (200,000kms in the last 5 years), more and more I am witnessing road users that lack the skills to safely operate a vehicle and navigate congested roadways. Their hands are on the wheel, their eyes are looking forward yet they behave in an unaware, stunned, uncertain, timid or confused manner. In many ways I would argue this is a worse condition than distracted driving as it's in the nature of the driver rather than a temporary scenario.

It is in my belief that the public must have a decision in whether unskilled drivers should be challenged / re-tested or possibly ticketed and removed from the road in the same manner distracted drivers are when observed. I don't believe the "shareholders of the province", it's mature adult taxpayers, were asked if they wanted distracted driving legislation or not - I personally know more individuals that would rather see a skills-based requirement over more policing - we are tired of additional policing and did not ask for it. It is clear that the licensing process provided by ICBC does not provide for re-testing, so as a driver's skills deteriorate they still retain the right to share the roads with others when they should not.

I would ask that this be something that is shared with other MLAs as well as the group administering ICBC. As a single taxpayer I know my voice is only one, however it is in my interest to share this with others as I know many skilled road users share the same sentiment as I do, and we would like something to change.

I appreciate your time and appreciate some feedback - thank you;

Matt,

Thank you for the quick and helpful reply - curious that none of the courthouse staff had suggested this option.

Are you able to then shed any light on why electronic filing would have a $7 fee, while faxing would be free? Is it because the courts still rely primarily on a system of paper records?

From a cost perspective, I would argue that faxing like creates more than $7 in inefficiencies strictly on the courthouse side due to its fallible and uncommon nature. For example, I have had over 10 phone calls troubleshooting with the courthouse staff to determine whether my faxes, which my girlfriend performed on my behalf at her workplace, had been successful. In 3 instances they were not successful, and there was no error message or notice on the sender-side. Again, I would contend that eliminating the need to support and troubleshoot this fallible technology would quickly pay for itself with less uncertainty, room for error, and necessitating less support and troubleshooting from courthouse staff.

There are many other areas of inefficiency which render small claims justice impractical and inaccessible. I'll cite here some that seem the most egregious, but this is hardly an exhaustive list:
- the "right" to conduct a hearing remotely by phone must be applied for an approved (through an application to the registrar) in duplicate fashion for each hearing, when the circumstances (remote residence in my case) are not changing. Why force this repetitive bureaucratic procedure? Why not simply a single ever-lasting approval, or just blanket approval for anyone who wishes to attend remotely?
- when judgement is rendered against one party, enforcement is not structured in a remotely practical way. The losing party can essentially delay or block enforcement indefinitely by simply not participating whatsoever. In my case, after a payment hearing (where the other party didn't show up), a warrant of arrest was issued by the judge. This warrant is not enforceable until the other party receives "Notice" of the warrant. The court's only mechanism for delivering notice is apparently registered mail via canada post. The other party in my case has consistently refused to accept registered mail throughout the process, thus rendering the courts completely unable to deliver notice, and leaving the warrant unenforceable, and justice to be completely stalled. The courts offer no habitual remedy for this basic passive avoidance! Courthouse staff recommended only making an application to a judge. The parameters under which a judge might take additional action are unclear ahead of time, resulting in repetitive rescheduled hearings, wasting time and money. In my case the judge required proof that the other party still lives at their address - I have hired a process server and successfully served them at this address 4 times throughout this process, and already, in past, submitted a court-approved document called a "Certificate of Service". This apparently is not enough, and now, after multiple additional phone calls to courthouse staff wasting further time and money, we have determined that the process server must be rehired to complete an additional (and seemingly redundant) document called an Affidavit of Service, sworn in front of a notary. All this because there is no standard, effective, streamlined enforcement process to overcome basic passive avoidance! I am lucky to have more time to dedicate to this lengthy process than 95% of my adult peers, but for someone working full time with a family for instance, justice would be completely inaccessible, and crooked businesses like this would be able to steal with impunity! In my view, this constitutes an outright failure of the system to provide accessible justice. Why even have a CRT or small claims court if enforcement is this ineffective? It's a waste of time.

Politically this may be considered a niche, sideline issue. It's not mainstream enough to influence elections. But justice is a fundamental part of a healthy society, and in my opinion, we in BC are falling well short.

Thanks for your consideration.

Hi there,

I'm writing your office as a new resident of the Comox Valley, in hopes that you can help me answer some questions about our justice system as my ombudsman within government.

I've recently been involved in several court cases. In particular, I have had a good experience with the new CRT, but an absolutely abysmal experience with the enforcement of a CRT order through the Provincial Small Claims Court. The amount of redundant bureaucracy is astounding and it renders justice much less accessible than it could otherwise be - opposite of progressive societal aspirations.

Other procedures and policies aside for the time being, I'm wondering why the court will not allow parties to communicate with the court by email? I cannot tell you how much of my time and the court's time as well has been wasted because of the requirement to use Fax as the primary communication method. Outside of these court proceedings, I hadn't sent a fax in 15 years. Nobody has a fax machine, I don't even own a printer, and faxes are prone to failure without explanation, making it very difficult to tell if communications are successful. With procedures like these, if the court was a competitive entity, it would have gone out of business long, long ago.

I am considering starting a public petition to establish grassroots support for modernization of the courts. But first, I wanted to see if someone in government could provide an explanation as to why fax and paper are preferred in 2019?

Thank you for your consideration.

Good Afternoon,

My name is s.22 from Maple Ridge BC, I have recently received a letter from ICBC regarding the suspension of my BCDL. I have gone through the submission process but only received a letter dated January the 28th of intent to prohibit on March 6th. Upon speaking with ICBC regarding the potential prohibition and the fact that the letter was received so late, they indicated I may not be ellegible for a review. Today I dropped off and filled out all the required paperwork including a letter, as well as paying my 100$ non-refundable fee. s.22

Good Afternoon, My name is s.22 from Maple Ridge BC, I have recently received a letter from ICBC regarding the suspension of my BCDL. I have gone through the submission process but only received a letter dated January the 28th of intent to prohibit on March 6th. Upon speaking with ICBC regarding the potential prohibition and the fact that the letter was received so late, they indicated I may not be ellegible for a review. Today I dropped off and filled out all the required paperwork including a letter, as well as paying my 100$ non-refundable fee. s.22 s.22

Is this suffice back to Mr. Puchmayr??

To Mr. Puchmayr

I am writing regarding your email request on February 16, 2019 related to the Judge Begbie statue located outside the New Westminster Court House. The statue is located on city-owned property and any communication regarding its potential removal would be under their jurisdiction. In addition the statue was commissioned by the New Westminster Bar Association (NWBA) and they should also be consulted. The President of the NWBA, Daniele Poulin is aware of the on-going discussion related to this matter and can be reached at 604- 525-2451. In addition any further consultation regarding its potential removal should be discussed with the Province including the Ministry of Citizen Services – Real Property Division in consultation with the Ministry of Attorney General. If you have any further questions please contact Salman Azam, EFO/CFO at 778 974 2923.

Minister Eby

- The statue is located on City owned property, NOT provincial land but in very close proximity to the front entrance of the Court House
- Downtown New Westminster's Begbie Square is an urban park, constructed in 1981 and the statute is a landmark feature of the plaza
- Commission of statue was funded by lawyers and judges associated with the New Westminster Bar Association
- The New Westminster Bar Association is still an active organization (I did not contact them)
- The City of New West has had discussion in the past regarding the potential removal of the statue but to date have no plans to address the issue
- Provincial Protocol is silent on statue removal so would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis

Research on the New West Judge Begbie statue came up with the following:

- The statue is located on City owned property, NOT provincial land but in very close proximity to the front entrance of the Court House
- Downtown New Westminster's Begbie Square is an urban park, constructed in 1981 and the statute is a landmark feature of the plaza
- Commission of statue was funded by lawyers and judges associated with the New Westminster Bar Association
- The New Westminster Bar Association is still an active organization (I did not contact them)
- The City of New West has had discussion in the past regarding the potential removal of the statue but to date have no plans to address the issue
- Provincial Protocol is silent on statue removal so would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis

Additional information

- The Law Society decided to remove Begbie from their lobby in Vancouver as a way to address "colonial symbolism" and as a commitment to the principles of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Hi Jon,

I met with Lorne earlier today regarding our response to DMO on this issue. Could you please reach out to a contact at MAG who could jump on this asap on Tuesday and come to a solution, then let me know their response so I can provide to DMO?
In the meantime I'll provide the interim response below (thank you) and let them know we'll be in touch tomorrow with further intel.
Many thanks, Judy

- The New Westminister Courthouse is a provincial government-owned property.
- The Ministry of Attorney General (MAG) acts on matters such as this in consultation with the Judiciary.
- Any decision to remove a statue rests with MAG.
- We will ask that MAG review the request and provide a response.

Hi Glen. Since the complete exoneration of the 6 Tsilhqot'in Chiefs last March by the Feds and in 2014 by the province, the presence of the Judge Begbie statue outside the New Westminster Provincial Court continues to stand in sight of where Chief Ahan was wrongfully hanged in 1864. The Tsilhqot'in Nation has visited us on many occasions, attending at the Pioneer Cemetery site at the New Westminster Sr. Secondary school and at the old New Westminster courthouse which stand directly across the street from the current court house and judge Begbies statue. They have asked me to explore the ownership of the site where the Begbie statue resides today so that we may begin a discussion on its removal. The Law society of BC removed a Judge Begbie statue from their Vancouver office in 2017 and we are looking to assist the Tsilhqot'in with the removal of the New Westminster statue as well. Let me know who owns the site outside the NW Court House please, and whom we may engage to discuss the aforementioned matter.
Thanks
Chuck

Good morning, Talea:

I have just had a constituent in the office who has an application in for a cannabis shop and I was wondering if you could find out some information for me. Spirit Leaf is the name of the business in Castlegar. They have had City approval and apparently it has gone back to the Ministry in December and they are still waiting to hear from someone to give them the go ahead. Is there any way you can check on the application and see where things are at or find out what the holdup is? Thanks for any help on this .

Subject: Minister's participation in Civil Resolution Tribunal technical briefing - Location and date options

Good afternoon Derrick, Gala, George and Samantha,

I am writing to follow up regarding the Minister’s planned participation in the upcoming CRT technical briefing at the end of the month.

As you know, the event is currently scheduled around noon in Victoria on March 28th. We have been advised there may be issues with GCPE Events support around that time due to the Premier's media availability.

CRT has advised they would be willing to host the briefing in their building in Vancouver on Friday the 29th, if that would work better for the Minister's schedule. Apparently they have a hearing room that is fairly large and well lit which would work well for that purpose.

Can you please advise whether the Minister would prefer to stick with the original plan (Victoria on the 28th) or if he would prefer to do it in Vancouver on the 29th so we can finalize details? Apparently the event needs to be discussed at the next MA pitch meeting to secure event services support. Thanks very much for your help!

Subject: For review/ approval: Minister's participation in Civil Resolution Tribunal Technical Briefing

Good afternoon, George, Derrick, Gala and Samantha:

The Civil Resolution Tribunal is planning a technical briefing during the week of March 25 – 28 in Victoria to inform media about how the CRT will handle ICBC disputes after April 1. The goal is to give media the detailed knowledge they need to report accurately on CRT/ ICBC matters, and to correct misinformation about the new program.

The CRT invites the Minister to participate in the event by providing concluding remarks and answering some questions from the media. Here is the proposed agenda:

- GCPE to send out Media advisory the day before the briefing.
- GCPE Event Services to provide audio visual services, room set up etc.
- Shannon Salter, Chair of the CRT, will lead a 30 to 40 minute technical briefing for media. Reporters will be provided with a copy of the slide deck and NR (issued by CRT or government).
- When Ms. Salter concludes her presentation, reporters will have opportunities to ask her technical questions about the new process for up to 10 minutes.
- After the Q and A concludes, Minister Eby will provide closing remarks (3 to 5 minutes). If his schedule permits, he may then choose to answer non-technical questions from the media for up to 10 minutes.
- Event concludes.

Can you kindly let me know at your earliest convenience whether the Minister is interested in attending the technical briefing during the week of March 25 - 28, and if so, what day and time would work best for him? Once we have that information we can finalize event details. Thank you very much for your help!

Hi, Samantha:

This is how I got the consent form back. In light of trying to get it out to you quickly I am just sending it as I got it.

The body of the concern is as follows:

Cannabis License:

The BC Government deemed "Spirit Leaf" fit and proper in December 2018, and the City of Castlegar gave us the official Letter of Support January 8th, 2019.

We would like to know why we have not yet received our Cannabis License from the BC Government. We are incurring daily costs:

- We have moved forward with renovations
- We are paying rent on leased space
- We have 8 people with verbal offers of employment waiting to work.

I have not dated and signed the consent form as if I printed this and scanned it back the quality would even be worse. If you need me to print it and send it back to you I can. I hope you are able to get Felix some answers.

Hi Sam and Talea,

I had a constituent come in and ask me about a police raid on a marijuana grow-op at s.22 I was wondering what action is currently being taken on this matter. Is it being prosecuted? (I don't need to know any further information if this is the case) Is it in the hands of the RCMP? How is this matter affected by the recent legalization of Marijuana? Is nothing being done? Also, if the case is not being pursued, why?

Also please let me know if you cannot answer any of these questions, or if you would like any further information.

Hi Matt,

Thank you for reaching out. This is something that is handled by the local government, municipality or regional district. They would have made the decision on the raid, and enforcing the law. I would recommend reaching out to them, or alternatively contact the RCMP directly to get further information on the specific event at[s.22]

I hope this helps. If you have any further questions, please let me know.

January 12th order #2: 6 cases were ordered but were out of stock at ContainerWorld.

January 30th order: 6 cases were ordered, product was in stock at ContainerWorld. The product was shipped overdue from ContainerWorld on February 27th. This would be the shipping issues ContainerWorld was experiencing as previously indicated by Blain. The order was automatically cancelled by the system as the PO had not been fulfilled within a timely manner.

February 13th order: 6 cases were ordered but were out of stock at ContainerWorld.

I understand that this information does not resolve the issue of the product having not arrived in time for the festival, but I am hopeful that it provides clarity for everyone involved.

Good afternoon George, Derrick, Gala and Samantha,

A CTV reporter named Jon Woodward is doing research about ICBC's material damage claims, going back several years. One of the angles he is pursuing relates to a situation in 2012 when there was apparently collusion between some ICBC estimators and certain repair shops.

ICBC's draft response to his query is below. Holly and Nicole have reviewed and have no concerns. Can you review at your earliest convenience and let me know if you approve this response or would like changes? ICBC's needs to send the response to the reporter tomorrow. Thanks for your help!

Best Regards,

Cathy

Hi Cathy,

Following up to your discussion on the weekly call, we've prepared the following response to CTV's Jon Woodward. I've included his questions and our answers below. Note: there are further questions that we're still working on but we'd like to send these to the reporter in the meantime.

It would be great to get approval on this response by tomorrow.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Lindsay

1. No. 1 Collision question. As I understand it they were originally facing a fine of $70,416. It was sent to the supplier conduct committee instead, where the fine was instead levied at $52,576. Am I understanding that correctly?

s.13

2. In 2012, six employees were fired from ICBC for sending business to certain body shops, and approving repair estimates over the phone rather than in person (https://www.richmond-news.com/news/six-sacked-at-icbc-more-could-follow-1.498170). As I understand it this was only part of the problem: they were also receiving gifts from the body shops that took various forms.

   a. Did the investigation discover those gifts? If so what forms did they take and how much were they worth?

s.13

   b. As the investigation continued were other people also fired? For what?

      Did any ICBC employees that were fired as part of the below get any severance? If so, how much?

s.13

3. What steps does ICBC take to watch for favouritism etc on an ongoing basis? Are there ongoing studies done that show certain shops getting too much business, as a flag for corrupt behaviour?

Hi Jon,

As discussed yesterday, a coms plan is being created by the AG's coms team and should be done by the end of this week or early next week. While we wait for the coms plan, please see a rough idea of the direction of consultation.

1. Scope – Based on conversations, with the AG's MO, Coms team AND Ministry staff it is suggested that an online survey be created with the 3 questions for the public to answer by both selecting options and having to opportunity to write a few sentences.

a) Do you want to change for the current system?
b) If yes, is it important to you that we stay in line with Washington, Oregon, and California.
c) Do you want to adopt Day Light Savings time all year round or standard time?

2. How – online at engage.bc.ca, as well paper copies can be will be distributed to Service BC centres, constituency offices and public libraries.
3. When – Consolation to be wrapped up by the end of June, to ensure that we meet the "couple months" time line and that the process doesn't take place over the school summer break.

Please note, the AGs MO is not fussed on the questions or structure, this is just a proposal. Second of all, it would be great to clarify that the Premier is willing to be the spokesperson on this file.

I hope this helps, please let me know if you have any follow up questions.

Hi Jon,

As discussed yesterday, a coms plan is being created by the AG's coms team and should be done by the end of this week or early next week. While we wait for the coms plan, please see a rough idea of the direction of consultation.

1. Scope – Based on conversations, with the AG's MO, Coms team and Ministry staff it is suggested that an online survey be created with the 3 questions for the public to answer, by both selecting options and by having an opportunity to write a few sentences.

a) Do you want to change the current system that alternates between standard time in the winter and daylight saving time in the summer? (Yes/no)
b) If yes, do you prefer: 1) standard time year round or 2) daylight saving time year round
c) Is it important that we align B.C.'s time with Washington, Oregon and California? (yes/no)

2. How – online at engage.bc.ca, as well paper copies can be will be distributed to Service BC centres, constituency offices and public libraries.
3. When – Consolation to be wrapped up by the end of June, to ensure that we meet the "couple months" time line and that the process doesn't take place over the school summer break.

Please note, this is just a proposal and we are very open to any changes the PO would like to see. Second of all, it would be great to clarify that the Premier is willing to be the spokesperson on this file.

I hope this helps, please let me know if you have any follow up questions.

Thanks,

Do you think it would be okay to move the CRT briefing back slightly to accommodate this event?

It will likely be fine for you folks to get back to VCO for 11:30am, but might be easiest if we make the CRT meeting at 11:45am.

Let me know what you think…

Hi Dulcy, Thea, and Nicolas!

Hope you all are doing super. I understand that Minister Eby's schedule is probably quite packed, but wanted to send out an invitation his way through you in case he is able to join us tomorrow afternoon for an event with news that will affect seniors in your community.

Minister Dix and PS Kang will be announcing an update on seniors' services in the Lower Mainland. This is an echo announcement, previously made by Premier Horgan, regarding increased funding to ensure that seniors in our community are receiving the quality care they need. Below is further details of the event:

Date: Wednesday, March 13
Time: 2pm
Location: Louis Brier Home & Hospital (1055 W 41st Ave)

It would be great to have Minister Eby there if his schedule permits. Please let me know whether or not your member can come, and as always, feel free to reach out if you folks have questions.

Warmly,

Good Afternoon, My name iss.22 from Maple Ridge BC, I have recently received a letter from ICBC regarding the suspension of my BCDL. I have gone through the submission process but only received a letter dated January the 28th of intent to prohibit on March 6th. Upon speaking with ICBC regarding the potential prohibition and the fact that the letter was received so late, they indicated I may not be ellegible for a review. Today I dropped off and filled out all the required paperwork including a letter, as well as paying my 100$ non-refundable fee.s.22

Thank you Samantha, a very knowledgeable and personal staff member, Dan called and answered all my questions.

He was suggesting that I might want to get the total number of violation tickets issues under MVA 149 because this table only deals with those tickets disputed. He said ICBC would be the custodian of that information.

Do you think you could retrieve that for me? Thanks so much,

Nan

Hi Samantha -

I have included an earlier email and an attachment which shows the number of tickets disputed regarding violation of Section 149 of the MVA. The attachment is the data base report that staff put through for us.

Would it be possible to ask for another query of the data base going from January 2018 to current month? We are still assisting our constituent who is also now working with the transportation manager of the school district and they were asking for the update.

Thanks and I look forward to hearing back from you. Sometimes when I am emailing from Maximizer as opposed to Outlook - the attachments don't come through. Please advise that you are in receipt - and if not - I will resend from Outlook. Thanks so much. Nan

I am responding to your request to Mr. Steve Thomson, MLA for Kelowna-Mission, regarding the number of individuals who are receiving a fine reduction for their disputed violation ticket, where they have been charged under Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act—failing to stop for a school bus.

The decision to grant a fine reduction is at the discretion of the presiding judicial officer. While I appreciate receiving your comments, as Attorney General, I have no authority to review a judicial decision for the purpose of determining whether it is right or wrong. Under our system of law, the judicial branch of government is separate and independent from the executive branch of government. I have two primary responsibilities to fulfill on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. First, I provide legal services, including legal advice, to the provincial government and some of its agencies. Second, I represent the Crown in all court cases involving the Government of British Columbia.

I understand that you requested the number of individuals disputing Section 149 of the Motor Vehicle Act, and of these, how many received a fine reduction. Ministry staff have provided the attached spreadsheet covering the period June 1, 2016 to January 31, 2018. As you will see, of the 69 disputes, 17 were found guilty. Of those 17 disputants found guilty, 15 received a fine reduction.

Thank you for your enquiry. I hope this information is helpful.

Yours truly,

David Eby, QC
Attorney General

Subject: RE: Constituent inquiry: s.22

Hi Amy,

Hopefully I can help clarify your understanding. s.22 vehicle was not impounded. It was recovered by police who had it towed to New West Towing for safe keeping. This is standard operating procedure for police when any vehicle is stolen. The police then notified s.22 and ICBC that the vehicle had been recovered.

s.22 did not pay for optional comprehensive insurance coverage. As a result, he was advised by the ICBC adjuster on July 24, 2018 that he would need to make arrangements with the towing company to retrieve or dispose of his vehicle and pay all associated fees. If the towing company will not release the vehicle until s.22 pays the fees associated with their services, that is an issue between s.22 and New West Towing. Unfortunately, it is a risk s.22 assumed when he decided not to purchase comprehensive insurance coverage (with ICBC or elsewhere).

As mentioned previously, ICBC cannot waive payment of the outstanding insurance premium amount because his policy is still active, and ICBC remains at risk to pay a claim under the policy, even if the licence plates are no longer attached to his vehicle. The longer the policy remains active, the more money he will owe on the insurance. As set out in the payment plan terms and conditions, if a customer misses two consecutive monthly payments, the payment plan account defaults and is closed. The outstanding balance becomes due and payable in full. Defaulting on the payment plan does not cancel the insurance policy.

Regrettably, it appears that inaction on s.22 part has put him in a difficult spot. Perhaps he could contact New West Towing and try to arrange to obtain the plates off of his vehicle so that his outstanding debt with ICBC does not continue to accrue?

Once he obtains his plates from his vehicle and returns them to ICBC, Customer Relations can request a review of s.22 s.22 case, to see if Underwriting would consider approving a backdate. If Underwriting declines to allow the cancellation to be backdated, s.22 will have to pay for the insurance up to the date his policy is cancelled, which is why it is imperative that he cancel it as soon as possible. If he is unable to return the plates, he can complete a Lost/Stolen Plate declaration (MV1103) at the Autoplan broker and provide the police file number he has for the theft of the vehicle.

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Sincerely,
Connie

Hi Connie,

I have a few more questions for you. Am I correct in my understanding that s.22 requires the order of release from ICBC in order to get the car out of impound? And s.22 is unable to receive the release as long as he has the outstanding insurance, yes? I am hoping that there may be some kind of relief under which he is able to get the order of release in the meantime under the understanding that he will be then be canceling his insurance and applying for a backdate. As a person on assistance, s.22 is unable to pay the s.22 but is unable to get the plates in order to cancel it as long as the car is stuck in impound. So I am sure you can appreciate the difficult situation this puts my constituent in.

Subject: RE: Constituent inquiry: s.22

Hi Amy,

I've had our team here provide me with the details regarding s.22 claim and can advise of the following:

In order to cancel any insurance policy, the following requirements must be met and are legally required:

- The licence plates must be returned;
- The insurance and registration documents must be returned; and
- An application for cancellation must be completed.

Until these requirements are met, policies remain active and ICBC is at risk to pay a claim. Autoplan insurance policies provide coverage, such as Third Party Liability, Accident Benefits, and Underinsured Motorist Protection. These non-vehicle related coverages are still available to the policyholder, whether or not the plates are attached to a vehicle.

There has been no contact from s.22 to ICBC since that time. ICBC cannot waive payment of the outstanding amount. His policy is still active and ICBC remains at risk to pay a claim under the policy, even if the licence plates are no longer attached to the vehicle. The longer the policy remains active, the more money he will owe on the insurance. As set out in the payment plan terms and conditions, if a customer misses two consecutive monthly payments, the payment plan account defaults and is closed. The outstanding balance becomes due and payable in full. Payment plan terms and the agreement are found on the reverse side of insurance documents. Defaulting on the payment plan does not cancel the insurance policy.

ICBC Customer Relations will request a review of s.22 case, by Underwriting to see if they would consider approving a backdate. If Underwriting declines to allow the cancellation to be backdated, s.22 will have to pay for the insurance up to the date his policy is cancelled, which is why it is imperative that he cancel it as soon as possible. If he is unable to return the plates, he can complete a Lost/Stolen Plate declaration (MV1103) at the Autoplan broker and provide the police file number he has for the theft of the vehicle.

The Vehicle Impoundment Order of Release form applies to vehicles impounded under RoadSafetyBC's Vehicle Impoundment Program (VIP). This does not apply to s.22 situation as his vehicle was not impounded under the VIP. It was towed by police after recovered stolen and burnt which is standard procedure. However, it is likely the towing company required payment of the towing and storage fees before they would release his vehicle or his licence plates, and in July 2018, he was advised by the claims adjuster that he had no coverage for those charges.

I hope this helps clarify the steps needed to cancel his insurance policy. Please note: ICBC can't look into backdating a cancellation of a policy until the requirements to cancel - listed at the beginning of the email have been met.

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Connie

Hi Jon,

As discussed yesterday, a coms plan is being created by the AG's coms team and should be done by the end of this week or early next week. While we wait for the coms plan, please see a rough idea of the direction of consultation.

1. Scope – Based on conversations, with the AG's MO, Coms team and Ministry staff it is suggested that an online survey be created with the 3 questions for the public to answer, by both selecting options and by having an opportunity to write a few sentences.

a) Do you want to change the current system that alternates between standard time in the winter and daylight saving time in the summer? (Yes/no)
b) If yes, do you prefer: 1) standard time year round or 2) daylight saving time year round
c) Is it important that we align B.C.'s time with Washington, Oregon and California? (yes/no)

2. How – online at engage.bc.ca, as well paper copies can be will be distributed to Service BC centres, constituency offices and public libraries.
3. When – Consolation to be wrapped up by the end of June, to ensure that we meet the "couple months" time line and that the process doesn't take place over the school summer break.

Please note, this is just a proposal and we are very open to any changes the PO would like to see. Second of all, it would be great to clarify that the Premier is willing to be the spokesperson on this file.

I hope this helps, please let me know if you have any follow up questions.

Hi Sam,
s.22

I have a question surrounding a case that Gabe may have talked to you about a couple months ago.

s.22 was barred from all casinos for a year [s.22]
s.22 Then a couple days later he was told he was barred for the incident from the BCLC. Then he appealed the case, and was in no way contacted. Then received a note saying his trial had occurred and he was still barred. s.22 was not told his appeal was being reviewed and then was not invited to tell his own story. s.22 is very upset with how this has all been handled.
Do you have any suggestions?

Thanks,

Amelia Hill

Hello –

While I am unable to discuss the specifics of [s.22] situation due to privacy issues, I can confirm that BCLC responded to [s.22] on December 14, 2018. Absent further authorization from s.22 I cannot comment on the specifics but can advise that there are no further steps that need to be undertaken at this time.

Hello,
I am contacting you from the office of MLA George Chow. I hope you had a good holiday season. I am requesting information on s.22 being barred from your casinos after his incident with Parq Casino. s.22 notifies me that he has been told numerous times that he will be receiving updates on his case but they never come. I have also been told that Parq casino acknowledged that mistake of the dealer and sided with s.22 Can you tell me why exactly he is still barred, and why he is not receiving updates? What also still needs to be done?
Thank you very much for your assistance,

Subject: Constituent with Trouble Getting ID

Hi Sam,

We have a constituent who is a Canadian citizen (born in Comox) in our riding who is new to living here and has no identification other than their birth certificate. They are employed and working but cannot get a bank card, a license, or health care card.

This is seriously affecting their ability to live their life. There is an option with ICBC to do an attestation but the constituent doesn't have a doctor, as many British Columbians, and hasn't known an employee in the government or non-profit sector for 6 months as they are gainfully employed and haven't required other support from the Government.

We're looking for a way to provide ID for our constituent so that they can get access to the services they need and live their life.

Any information or support would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Will you send a long a consent form and then I will have ICBC look into your constituents case directly. Generic info won't be that helpful as the response would just fall back to needing to find someone who qualifies as an attestor.

Hi Samantha,

David has asked me to ask you to assist with the request below from a constituent. Bob Stowe is requesting use of BC Place to be granted to him by the Ministry of Tourism, Arts & Culture. Are you able to pass on his request to Ministry staff?

Thank you,

Subject: following up re conversation regarding 50th anniversary Greenpeace Benefit Concert plans

Dear David,

I'm writing to follow up on our conversation on December 10th at a riding fundraiser in Vancouver (I was introduced by Neil Chantler).

I explained that my sister Barbara and I, Greenpeace Canada, and Greenpeace International, are working on a Greenpeace Benefit concert, to be held on or around October 16, 2020, the 50th anniversary of the Amchitka Concert that my late father Irving Stowe organized, and which kick-started Greenpeace.

We have not settled on a venue yet; this will depend on the acts we can secure. However, we think there is a strong possibility we will be able to fill BC Place, which is owned and operated by PavCo, a Crown corporation under the Ministry of Tourism, Arts & Culture, which is under Lisa Beare's direction.

You had offered to broker an introduction to Ms. Beare so that we could discuss further. Ideally we would like to hold a reservation for BC Place on Friday October 16, 2020, without a deposit, and we would also like to explore the possibility of reducing or eliminating the rental fee for BC Place, in consideration of the fact that Greenpeace, the world's largest and most successful environmental organization, was founded in BC.

Given that a 50th anniversary concert to celebrate the founding of Greenpeace will be a significant media event, we expect it will result in considerable publicity worldwide, and will draw attention to Vancouver and British Columbia as a tourist destination. Furthermore, the concert will undoubtedly attract visitors from afar, resulting in significant tourism revenue.

Thanks kindly in advance for taking the time to read and respond.

Warm regards,

- Bob Stowe

Hi Samantha,

I am hoping you can help me forward this e-mail to the Attorney General for review and response. MLA Stilwell's constituent, s.22 has some suggestions about ICBC. If a response could please be sent directly to s.22 at s.22 and Cc'ed to MLA Stilwell, that would be greatly appreciated.

I am amazed at the recent issues at ICBC that leads everyone I have spoken with to come to the conclusion that the BC government should shed itself on the car insurance. The billon dollars a year loss could be going to health care , education , or much needed social housing. Leave the insurance business to private insurers and not expect BC taxpayers to keep on shouldering it.
My car insurance doubled moving from Alberta to BC.

I have two quick solutions that might be presented to ICBC.

1) Mandatory winter tires. There are way too many cars on the road with less than adequate tires for winter driving. Winter tires have softer rubber and adhere to snow and ice differently than summer tires. Putting 5000k on a winter tire saves 5000k on the summer set !!
Less accidents, less claims, less drawn out law suits and less first responders which is another expense again.

2) Vehicle Inspections
I have a 2000 Chrysler Sebring that is in showroom condition and well maintained. Not once in four years of living here has ICBC asked me to get a safety inspection on this 19 year old car. They take my money and send me on my way. If I was to show up in this province with a new vehicle that was bought in Alberta 2 months ago I would have to have a vehicle inspection.
From what I see on the ramps in our service center, there should be inspections on cars that are over 5 years old before they can be insured. RCMP should be able to rate tire thread wear on the side of the road an respond accordingly

That is because he moderates that debate and must be seen to be non-partisan. ICBC is one of those issues that can be discussed in the House, and that makes this topic tricky for us.

As I re-read your letter, your concerns seem to fall into these areas:

- Lack of competition from other insurance companies due to government monopoly
- High costs for drivers to purchase insurance, due to this monopoly
- These high costs add to other high costs experienced by those living in Vancouver and the Lower Mainland
- Lack of meaningful transparency, accountability and auditing practices
- The sense that ICBC is seen as a money maker for government, which may discourage them from moving to a more competitive model that would be more affordable for the public

Is that a good summary of your concerns?

If so, I can format a short piece to send on to the Attorney General on your behalf. If you would like me to do that, please provide me your name, full mailing address plus postal code and phone number, to facilitate further contact.

Warm thanks,

It seems as though there is a consensus in BC that ICBC needs to go. It's mismanaged to the point that if any other company were run like it, it would have declared bankruptcy years ago. No one else I've talked to has ever heard of an insurance company owned by the government that has a monopoly on the market that is for profit (leading down a pathway of a whole other set of problems). ICBC does not answer to anyone, or if they do, audit may as well be non-existant, considering they're allowed to have a projected 10 million dollar deficit and not get looked into. On top of all that, the rates that ICBC imposes are adding to an outrageous cost of living, even if you have a good driving record.
The only reason I can see why ICBC is still around is because the government is making a profit. Rather than releasing residents of BC from the "reign of ICBC" and privatizing insurance, the government keeps them to take advantage of their profits.

Thank you,

I'm happy send this over to ICBC for a direct reply so your constituent can have that in writing from ICBC? Let me know if that would be easier.

I have a constituent whose Quebec license was taken in order for him to get a BC one. He was given a paper version and has to renew this every 2 months. Because of him losing his pr card and having to apply for it's replacement, he has no primary id that he can use to apply for the plastic card version. Potential Driving Prohibition
Message
Good Afternoon, My name is s.22 from Maple Ridge BC, I have recently received a letter from ICBC regarding the suspension of my BCDL. I have gone through the submission process but only received a letter dated January the 28th of intent to prohibit on March 6th. Upon speaking with ICBC regarding the potential prohibition and the fact that the letter was received so late, they indicated I may not be ellegible for a review. Today I dropped off and filled out all the required paperwork including a letter, as well as paying my 100$ non-refundable fee.s.22 s.22 s.22 I am writing this letter to you in hopes you can provide some guidance or advice on how to proceed or potentially help with this situation. Can you please call me at your earliest convenience, s.22 Regards,s.22

Hello everyone ☺

I hope this finds you all having a fabulous Monday.

I am popping in this afternoon as I just received a call from our Events Team letting us know that there is an Nowruz celebration tomorrow evening that your MLA may want to attend. Event details are below, please note that the Premier is attending ☺

Details are:

When: March 19 (tomorrow) from 5:30 to 8:30. The Premier will be attending between 7-8:30 with speeches happening approx.. 7:25pm.
Where: Coquitlam Town Centre Park.

Celebration details: This is an open air event, with tents, vendors, etc, and, of course, fire jumping.

Organizer's website is: https://tcics.com/

If your MLA is attending please notify Marlene Behrens at marlene.behrens@gov.bc.ca

Have a great day, kim

Subject: Some background information - daylight savings

Hey Sam,

Hey Sam,

I just wanted to send you some of the background information on daylight savings that we have had over the past couple of years.

The first time we received a note on the issue of daylight savings time was in November 2017. I've attached it to this email.

Then in 2018 – there was a resolution passed at UBCM:

B147Daylight Savings Time

Whereas daylight savings time no longer serves a vital function in today's connected economy, the practice costing more to sustain today than the actualized savings historically achieved through its implementation;And whereas there is a measurable impact to the health and safety of the general public each time daylight savings time changes are implemented (twice a year):Therefore be it resolved that UBCM petition the Province of British Columbia to abandon the practice of Daylight Savings Time and implement a single time zone province wide.Endorsed by the North Central Local Government AssociationUBCM Resolutions Committee recommendation:No RecommendationUBCM Resolutions Committee comments:The Resolutions Committee notes that the UBCM membership has endorsed 2017-B129, which requested that UBCM petition, the provincial government to consult with the people of BC with a view to abolishing Daylight Savings Time.Prior to the 2017 resolution the membership did not endorse 2016-B140, which requested the provincial government consider discontinuing the annual time change within the Province of BC.Since the 2017 resolution only asked the Province to consult about potentially eliminating daylight savings time, and not specifically asking for its elimination; and since a similar resolution was not endorsed in 2016, the Committee is offering no recommendation to allow debate to happen on this issue.

http://www.victoriabuzz.com/2018/09/bc-municipal-leaders-vote-to-end-daylight-savings-time/

There was an updated note that came after the UBCM resolution – I've attached that to this email as well.

Finally, there was updated note after California voted for Prop 7. See attached.

Probably all stuff you have – but thought I would pass it along anywasy!

Best,
Kelly

Hi Samantha,

I apologize as I just received your email now (I've been having some issues with my email/network connection).

We are only able to provide information regarding a liquor licences (including dormancy) to the licensee. This is not public information.

If the constituent is simply looking for general information regarding liquor licence dormancy, we can provide that.

Hello Sam,

We had someone come in to our office today wanting to know when a liquor license for a local establishment went into dormancy. They were told that they need to have permission from the licensee in order to submit a FOI request for this information however this individual feels like it should be publicly available.

Are you able to find out the process for me? I am including Nic on this email [s.22] and therefore unable to act on whatever information you unearth! I will provide Nic with the details of the licensee separately in case it is something you can look into yourself.

Subject: following up re conversation regarding 50th anniversary Greenpeace Benefit Concert plans

Dear David,

I'm writing to follow up on our conversation on December 10th at a riding fundraiser in Vancouver (I was introduced by Neil Chantler).

I explained that my sister Barbara and I, Greenpeace Canada, and Greenpeace International, are working on a Greenpeace Benefit concert, to be held on or around October 16, 2020, the 50th anniversary of the Amchitka Concert that my late father Irving Stowe organized, and which kick-started Greenpeace.

We have not settled on a venue yet; this will depend on the acts we can secure. However, we think there is a strong possibility we will be able to fill BC Place, which is owned and operated by PavCo, a Crown corporation under the Ministry of Tourism, Arts & Culture, which is under Lisa Beare's direction.

You had offered to broker an introduction to Ms. Beare so that we could discuss further. Ideally we would like to hold a reservation for BC Place on Friday October 16, 2020, without a deposit, and we would also like to explore the possibility of reducing or eliminating the rental fee for BC Place, in consideration of the fact that Greenpeace, the world's largest and most successful environmental organization, was founded in BC.

Given that a 50th anniversary concert to celebrate the founding of Greenpeace will be a significant media event, we expect it will result in considerable publicity worldwide, and will draw attention to Vancouver and British Columbia as a tourist destination. Furthermore, the concert will undoubtedly attract visitors from afar, resulting in significant tourism revenue.

Thanks kindly in advance for taking the time to read and respond.

Warm regards,

- Bob Stowe

Hi Mable,

I was wondering if the NDP government and the Minister of Transportation would consider amending the current Motor Vehicle Act to permit electric scooters and skateboards to be operated without the current requirement of registration and insurance?

The last time the MVA was amended to allow for motor assisted cycles was in 2002, and technology has really made progress to allow for smaller and more portable devices for use as transport.

While motor assisted cycles are great, the city that we live in is rife with bicycle theft and I don't feel comfortable commuting and leaving my cycle locked up. Hence electric skateboards and scooters would be a great portable solution.

Thank you for your time.

Subject: MAG-2019-91215 Call for Records Due March 20

Good morning everyone,

The MO has received the following FOI request from an Individual:

- Calendar entries, agendas, telephone records showing phone call dates and times, notes, or any other records related to the Attorney General or any staff member in his ministry meeting with Fred Pinnock and records of what was discussed at those meetings.
- Any emails or any other records including hand written notes, of the Attorney General, deputy attorney general, associate deputy minister or any assistant deputy minister, ministerial assistant or executive assistant in the Attorney General's office where Fred Pinnock is mentioned.
- Any record related to the cost or funds expended by government on obtaining legal advice or representation for Fred Pinnock (Date Range for Record Search: From 07/01/2018 To 02/28/2019).

All MAs, Sam, Tanera and the Minister should complete a search for this request.

If you do not have records, please let me know as soon as possible. If you will have over 200 pages of records, or require over three hours search time, please let me know by March 14th, as the Ministry may be in a position to issue a fee estimate. Otherwise, please send records no later than March 20th. Submitting records outside of this ten-day window puts the request at risk of going overdue.

If you have any questions about how this request should be interpreted or need more time to gather records, please contact me immediately.

Thank you!

Hello Sam,

I hope all is well with you in the AG Office. Please see the note below from s.22 He is requesting a meeting with the Minister to discuss ICBC legislation. Although he is not a constituent of VPG he came by our Community Office and asked to speak to David in his capacity as the AG.

Thank you,

Hello Nicholas.

I hope this finds you well. As you may remember I came to visit you at Mr. Eby's constituent office on March 7 Thursday with a view to arranging a meeting with Mr Eby.

At this time you suggested that you would be able to facilitate a meeting with myself and the Attorney General in his downtown offices. Specifically I would appreciate a discussion to help me understand and clarify the practicality and nuances of the newly proposed legislation concerning ICBC.

More directly, I would like to talk about the following components of the legislation: 1) The practicality and application of the tribunal process (CRT I believe) 2) The practicality and application of the assessment process by certified physicians (RAC' s (?). 3) The rationale underlying legislation limiting citizen access to the law courts as a method of fairly resolving disputes with ICBC.

However, I must stress I am seeking clarity to the suggested changes in an institution which has served and provided a sense of security to our British Columbia community for many years.

I would like to have this meeting prior to the April 1 implementation date if possible.

Best regards

Hi Samantha,

I hope you are having a good afternoon! I have been advised the CRT Technical Briefing is now set for Friday, March 29th, at VCO. I understand the Minister wants to arrive to speak at the end of the CRT Chair's presentation. Can you please advise what is his best "window" for attending this event? That will allow us to lock down the final detail: timing. Thanks very much for your help!

Hi Cathy,

It's not ideal, it should be held at the CRT, VCO or the Legislature.

I have asked the constit office to move around their schedule on Friday march 29th to accommodate this tec briefing…

Please let me know if they can do it at the CRT office or potentially VCO (I have no idea if it's available or set up to do a tec briefing) on March 29th between 11-12pm and if not it may need to be done on March 28th at the Legislature.

Okay thanks Samantha. I have just been advised that the CRT room that was originally "tagged" for this event was actually pre-booked by another party and has poor internet capability. It appears CRT has found another location – a briefing room at the Human Rights Tribunal Office at 605 Robson. I am awaiting confirmation re: time and room availability. Could that location potentially work for the Minister?

Good afternoon Derrick, Gala, George and Samantha,

I am writing to follow up regarding the Minister's planned participation in the upcoming CRT technical briefing at the end of the month.

As you know, the event is currently scheduled around noon in Victoria on March 28th. We have been advised there may be issues with GCPE Events support around that time due to the Premier's media availability.

CRT has advised they would be willing to host the briefing in their building in Vancouver on Friday the 29th, if that would work better for the Minister's schedule. Apparently they have a hearing room that is fairly large and well lit which would work well for that purpose.

Can you please advise whether the Minister would prefer to stick with the original plan (Victoria on the 28th) or if he would prefer to do it in Vancouver on the 29th so we can finalize details? Apparently the event needs to be discussed at the next MA pitch meeting to secure event services support. Thanks very much for your help!

Subject: For review/ approval: Minister's participation in Civil Resolution Tribunal Technical Briefing

Good afternoon, George, Derrick, Gala and Samantha:

The Civil Resolution Tribunal is planning a technical briefing during the week of March 25 – 28 in Victoria to inform media about how the CRT will handle ICBC disputes after April 1. The goal is to give media the detailed knowledge they need to report accurately on CRT/ ICBC matters, and to correct misinformation about the new program.

The CRT invites the Minister to participate in the event by providing concluding remarks and answering some questions from the media. Here is the proposed agenda:

- GCPE to send out Media advisory the day before the briefing.
- GCPE Event Services to provide audio visual services, room set up etc.
- Shannon Salter, Chair of the CRT, will lead a 30 to 40 minute technical briefing for media. Reporters will be provided with a copy of the slide deck and NR (issued by CRT or government).
- When Ms. Salter concludes her presentation, reporters will have opportunities to ask her technical questions about the new process for up to 10 minutes.
- After the Q and A concludes, Minister Eby will provide closing remarks (3 to 5 minutes). If his schedule permits, he may then choose to answer non-technical questions from the media for up to 10 minutes.
- Event concludes.

Can you kindly let me know at your earliest convenience whether the Minister is interested in attending the technical briefing during the week of March 25 - 28, and if so, what day and time would work best for him? Once we have that information we can finalize event details. Thank you very much for your help!

Hi Samantha,

I have a constituent who applied for Rural Agency Store Liquor License in April 2018. She was told it would take 4-6 months and it is now 11 months. She was told they lost her file, then it took a long time to hear from the regional district, now they can't figure out who to talk to from the local First Nation Community. She also believes the village she lives in has not been contacted.

Do you know who I can talk about timelines? Her Business is #1108122BC Ltd.
Or if you have other recommendations on steps I can encourage her to take.

Hello Harry,

My name is Brad Shane and I am a small business owner originally from Ontario and now living in Newton (approx. 140th and 78th) and running a business with approx. 12 vehicles in Surrey. Words cannot express how unhappy I am with my ICBC fleet insurance rates for my business and on a personal level our rates are almost double what they were in Ontario before we moved here a little over 2 years ago. I want to know specifically what your plan is to get this under control, as far as I can see the average person is footing the bill for a combination or large government bureaucracy and people beating the system and making people that follow the laws pay for it. In my opinion letting the open market do what it is designed to do would solve this issue, as I already mentioned both me and my wife saw a substantial increase in our rates when we arrived in BC, and a fairly substantial one around 35-40% increase the day we got here. To even get it in that range my wife had to raise her deductible to $2500, which it was $500 in Ontario with State Farm Insurance. This is a classic case of government not being able to do what the open market driven by competition can. So let me ask again….

1. What is your specific plan to solve this ICBC issue rate?
2. Do you support finally killing off ICBC and letting the open market take over?
3. If not, how do you plan to help a small business owner like me getting killed by ICBC fleet rates?

I would like to clarify we have never spoken to each other and I truly hope this is an opportunity to connect, the answers I receive in this email may determine who I vote for in the next election.

Thank you for your consideration,

Brad Shane

Hi Sam,

I have received the 2018 Labour Relations Board Annual Report which must be tabled by the AG as soon as practicable. I have uploaded the Annual Report, speaking notes and memo to clerk here on the sharepoint for reference.

Once I receive six hard copies from the LRB, I will deliver them to your office so you can arrange a tabling date with the House Leader's office.

Thanks!

Subject: Labour Relations Board Annual Report/ MISC Bill

Hi Will,

Can the AG please table the 2018 Labour Relations Board Annual Report on Monday afternoon?

Also the Misc Bill with AVED, ENV, FIN, and PSSG will be lead by the AG's office. The AG will present 1st, 2nd, 3rd reading and then I will facilitate organizing the various ministries for Committee.

Can you please provide me the Bill number when you know it and let me know when 1st reading and second reading will take place. Also I am happy to set up the briefing for the opposition parties and organize the timing for committee stage so feel free to let the MA's from those Ministry know to contact me for assistance.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Hi all,

CSB has proposed 1-3 p.m. on June 18 as the date for the Surrey Courthouse media walkthrough. Does that date work for the AG? If so, CSB will confirm with the Judiciary and begin planning.

FYI, CITZ's ADM, DM, and MO are all on board for that date, too.

Hi Sam,

If we can carve out a 1/2 hour I can review the performance assessment process again in person. Perhaps after the Mental Health 101 session. I'll bring documents to the meeting.

Thank you,
Maura

Please let me know if you have any concerns with that.

Second, we still haven't received the documents from the HR skype session a few weeks ago (I know a few edits were being made), would it be possible to get those documents next week and carve out some time to go over them in person?

Thanks for putting this together folks.

Good morning Derrick and Sam,

The MO has received the following FOI request from a Political Party:

Records of any and all emails, text messages, BBMs, slack messages, and WhatsApp messages – excluding attachments – sent from the Minister/Minister of State. (Date for Record Search: From 02/01/2019 To 02/28/2019)

Please send this on to the Minister for a search.

If you do not have records, please let me know as soon as possible. If you will have over 200 pages of records, or require over three hours search time, please let me know by March 27th, as the Ministry may be in a position to issue a fee estimate. Otherwise, please send records no later than April 2nd. Submitting records outside of this ten-day window puts the request at risk of going overdue.

If you have any questions or need more time to gather records, please contact me immediately.

Hello Sam,
I hope you are doing well! It is sooooo cold here. I am hoping it is more mild in Victoria.

I have a constituent who has come in and is very concerned about the fact that her ex s.22 has been evading the law.

She went through Legal Aid and had the judge award her s.22 a month.

Since this time she believes her ex has made the payment once.
She is very grateful for all the assistance she has received from every level of government to assist her and her kids.

However she is very upset because she has done all she can to follow the expectations of the law, and feels like those same laws are not being held against her Ex. She has worked with FMEP and as she pointed out to me if an individual owes more than $3,000 they are not to be given a passport or be able to renew their license. Yet at this time he has renewed his license and is on vacation s.22 He currently owes her s.22 supposedly.

She is heavily disheartened by the fact she feels there is no enforcement, and that her ex is laughing in the face of the law.

Her name: s.22
His name: s.22
Her kids are s.22
s.22

I have included her consent.

Please let me know any suggestions you have.

2 requests:

- CTV – Money laundering
- CBC – Casino workers

Reporter
Jon Woodward, Reporter
CTV News (BC)
Jon.Woodward@bellmedia.ca
604-351-1831

Deadline ASAP

Request
Instead of an interview, CTV has asked if the ministry can provide the answers to the following three questions:

1) Why was the shooting victim included in this report?
2) Did it have any connection to who fired Schalk and Van der Graaf?
3) What was the response after being warned of this?

Background
This is a follow-up to a media request from March 20, 2019.

REQUEST:
CTV would like to schedule a pre-taped on-camera interview with Minister Eby to discuss the federal budget/money laundering, a shooting death (Birinder Kahngura, Sept. 2014) linked to money laundering by government documents they've obtained, and a 2010 BCLC letter that says BCLC considered the high cash transactions not money laundering because gamblers were losing money. CTV wants to know if BCLC has changed its definition of "money laundering worthy of investigation."

The interview would be 10-15 minutes with Jon Woodward. CTV is able to send a camera to the minister's location at 1 p.m.

Recommendation – Provide background

1) Why was the shooting victim included in this report? (Both PSSG and Doug Scott have approved this response)

- The Ministry cannot comment on this matter.

2) Did it have any connection to who fired Schalk and Van der Graaf?

- Details of any termination of employment within the BC Public Service is considered private personal information. The Ministry will not provide comment.

3) What was the response after being warned of this?

- No further action was required by GPEB.

Reporter
Paisley Woodward, Producer
CBC British Columbia
paisley.woodward@cbc.ca
604-662-6838

Deadline ASAP

Request
The reporter would like to know how many casino workers there are in B.C. that are registered with GPEB, exclusive of bingo and community gaming centres.

Recommendation – provide background

- There are 8,602 Gaming workers and Ancillary Services employees in casinos registered with the Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch.

Subject: RE: Briefing note on Legal Aid

Hi folks,

There is a little bit of new info you can share with your Minister.

In regards to Mr. Maclaren's report on Legal Aid

- The ministry has been carefully reviewing Mr. Maclaren's recommendations before determining next steps.
- Our government is committed to making key improvements to legal aid in B.C. but it will take time and we want to be sure we get it right

In regards to the Association of Legal Aid Lawyers (ALL) ask for increased funding for legal aid, or they are considering withdrawing their services, they could provide:

- Ministry staff are continuing to have discussions with ALL in an effort to prevent a withdrawal of services.
- Ministry staff are also in discussions with the Legal Services Society to identify actions that can be taken to minimize the impact of a service withdrawal on clients in the event it occurs.
- Government has increased funding to the Legal Services Society by $26 million dollars over three years (2018/19 – 2020/21) to support the provision of criminal, family and civil legal aid services.
- This is the most significant lift since 2002 when the former government reduced funding by nearly 40%.
- The 2019 budget provides opportunity for us to do more. For example, we have funding for a network of legal aid clinics across the province that will provide poverty law services for people.

Hope this helps.

Hi Samantha,

MLA Michelle Mungall asked me to get a briefing note on changes to Legal Aid our government is bringing forward. She said she remembered a presentation by the Hon. David Eby about this recently but couldn't remember the specifics.

I have found the attached backgrounder on legal aid reform that was sent around in December but am wondering if there is anything further or any key points or messaging you can share with me.

Hello Sam,
I hope you are doing well! It is sooooo cold here. I am hoping it is more mild in Victoria.

I have a constituent who has come in and is very concerned about the fact that her ex s.22 has been evading the law.

She went through Legal Aid and had the judge award her s.22 a month.
Since this time she believes her ex has made the payment once.
She is very grateful for all the assistance she has received from every level of government to assist her and her kids.

However she is very upset because she has done all she can to follow the expectations of the law, and feels like those same laws are not being held against her Ex. She has worked with FMEP and as she pointed out to me if an individual owes more than $3,000 they are not to be given a passport or be able to renew their license. Yet at this time he has renewed his license and is on vacation s.22 He currently owes her s.22 supposedly.

Her name: s.22
His name: s.22
s.22

I have included her consent.

Please let me know any suggestions you have.

This is accurate. I'll come and speak with you in order of speakers in a few minutes.

Two reports I believe are being tabled today. One from Transportation and one from AG. Please follow up with them on the nature of those reports. Thanks!

Subject: Bella Coola Update

Hi Sam,

Thanks for taking my call this morning related to Bella Coola. Appreciate Derrick reaching out to MLA Rice's office and I'm glad to hear there isn't any active chatter in the community thus far. As discussed, ICBC has started making calls to individuals potentially impacted (e.g. expiring licences) in the month of April. Simultaneously, we are actively working with Service BC (SBC) to ensure that service is maintained to the best of our ability in the immediate term, and to find a more definitive timeline that we may be to communicate to MLA Rice and individuals in the community about when services will be restored back to normal.

I will continue to update you. I have a MLA Factsheet for MLA Rice, however, as meetings are ongoing with SBC, things are changing hourly and I'd like to ensure she has to the most up-to-date information for when the appointed agent closes up on Thursday. I propose that I forward to you the status and updated MLA factsheet, end of day tomorrow for you to pass along for her and her staff.

Please let me know if you have any concerns with that approach.

Sincerely,
Connie

I'm not going to see Mr. Eby before Friday. Is there any way you could give him heads-up that this event is on for Friday (March 29th)? Looking at the profile of event, does he need any further information or talking points?

He knew it was possible that it would come together, but we were looking at April 5th, and then all came together last minute a bit sooner due to student schedules.

Subject: AMS event Friday

Christine,

Please find event introduction and summary. More soon, but I thought this would help for a start.

Event Host: UBC AMS and Political Science Students Association

Context: End of school year event and social, coffee and ice cream. Bowinn is a UBC Alumna (Sauder) and David is local MLA. As local MLA, he does a few events a year with the AMS (student govt), addressing topics that students are interested in discussing in context of provincial govt.

Location: AMS Nest (Student Union and hub of student organizations). Please note that there is currently traffic redirection in the area due to construction (on the student housing that this govt. facilitated).

Timeline: 2:50PM Eby/Ma arrive, 3PM start, 4PM finish. Awaiting further detailed timeline of event from campus organizers.

Remarks: Elizabeth Garvie, UBC AMS external affairs vp/Christina Illnichi govt affairs (introduction & moderator), David Eby (local MLA), and Bowinn Ma (Parl Sec). 3-5 minutes from Bowinn on work on transportation in general.

Issues likely to arise:

*Broadway corridor transportation project is underway, with stop at Arbutus and includes increased B line service to UBC https://engage.gov.bc.ca/broadwaysubway/.

*There is talk of UBC Millenium line extension, which is popular on campus and endorsed by both student govt and University President Santa Ono (not funded yet by provincial govt, listening mode) https://www.ubyssey.ca/news/ubc-subway-opposed-west-side-residents/. https://skytrain.ubc.ca/op-ed-extending-skytrain-to-ubc-would-encourage-economic-growth-and-prosperity-throughout-the-region/

*UBC is also a hub for active transport modalities: https://sustain.ubc.ca/get-involved/take-actions-tips/commute-sustainably. Might want to encourage students to get involved with active consultation: https://engage.gov.bc.ca/govtogetherbc/consultation/active-transportation/.

See further details below (including parking).

Dulcy

Hi Dulcy!

For next Friday it would be great if David and Bowinn could arrive before 2:50 so we have a moment to get setup before students arrive at 3pm. Our event will be upstairs in the Nest so I would be happy to meet them at the entrance and walk them up because the building can be a bit confusing to navigate. If they are driving to campus I would suggest they park in the North Parkade due to construction the street parking around the Nest is very limited right now. Please let me know if you need a more detailed logistical breakdown and I can make a timeline or brief for the event.

Both are welcome to have 3-5 minutes for opening remarks, please let me know if they want more time or need access to a projector. After the remarks we are going to have open discussion with students focused of course on transit. We will be filtering questions to stay on topic.

My plan was for David to be able to speak to the riding specific needs and goals, and for Bowinn to speak on TransLink plans and broader transportation questions.

I am so appreciative of your help and can't wait for next Friday!

The Sun would like to get a photo of the minister for this weekend's ICBC feature. Rob Shaw did an interview with the AG last week. The Sun would like to get the minister in a parking lot surrounded by cars - either the government lot across the road from the premier's wing at the legislature, or the MLA lot behind the building.

The Sun would like to get the photo either Thursday at noon or tomorrow after 6 p.m. once the legislature adjourns. It would take 5-10 minutes.

Hello,

I am calling on governments across Canada to end secret, unethical lobbying and unethical decision-making in politics through implementing the following measures which are supported by the Government Ethics Coalition, made up of 32 citizen groups from across Canada representing over 3 million Canadians:

1. pass a law requiring all government consultation processes to provide meaningful opportunities for citizen participation, so that the influence of lobbyists is decreased;

Make ethics rules stronger by:

1. adding a requirement to the ethics law or code that all politicians, their staff, Cabinet appointees and senior government officials (including in municipal governments) be honest at all times, including when they are speaking in the legislature or in committee;
2. adding a requirement that all these people disclose all assets and liabilities worth more than $1,000, and in most cases sell significant investments and financial interests they (and their spouses and dependents) own or, if they do not sell them, prohibit them from taking part in discussions or votes on all matters (general and specific) in which they have a direct or indirect financial interest;
3. adding a requirement that these people also disclose all work they have done in the five years before they began their public office job (including as a director of any type of organization) to ensure that it is easy to track whether they use their public official position to help private businesses or organizations that they have ties with through their past work;
4. specifically, prohibiting these people also from taking part in discussions or votes on matters in which they have an apparent conflict of interest, even if they don't have a direct financial interest, and delete the exemption that is currently in the definition of "private interest" in every political ethics law and code across Canada that states that no one can be in a conflict of interest if they are dealing with a "general application" matter or matter that affects a "broad class of persons" (because this exemption means the law/code does not apply to 99% of the decisions made);
5. requiring politicians, their staff, and all public officials to work a set minimum number of hours each week, with their required duties clearly defined, along with allowed and prohibited outside activities, all disclosed in an online searchable database, including any pay received over $1,000 for outside activities (and speaking to groups and any other appearance at any event should be something all politicians are required to do for free because their role is to be a representative of government to the broader community, and they receive a substantial benefit by speaking at such events of the opportunity to connect with voters and promote themselves and their political party);
6. increasing the post-public service restriction on taking a job with a person, company or organization that you had significant dealings with while in office to 3 years for Cabinet ministers, and to 2 years for Cabinet staff and senior government officials and opposition party leaders and critics, and to 1 year for backbench politicians, to help ensure that companies and organizations can't offer jobs as a payoff to politicians and officials for what they did while in office;
7. increasing the post-public service lobbying restriction for Cabinet ministers, their staff, Cabinet appointees and senior government officials to 3-5 years (depending on the decision-making power of the person), and for backbench politicians and senators and their staff, and junior government officials and employees to 1-4 years depending on their decision-making powers (to help close the revolving door through which these people sell their expertise and inside knowledge to private interests when they retire, are defeated in an election, or leave their position for another reason);
8. requiring all these people to report their post-public service activities to the ethics enforcement agency during the cooling-off period to ensure they are complying with the rules;
9. prohibit all these people from accepting sponsored travel (and delete any exemptions that allow for this unethical gift); and
10. enacting a general anti-avoidance provision in all ethics rules to prevent people from exploiting any loopholes.

Ensure lobbying activities are tracked and the undue influence of lobbyists is restricted by ensuring that the lobbying law:

1. requires Ministers, their staff, Cabinet appointees and other senior government officials, members of the legislature and senators and all their staff to disclose all their contacts in an online, searchable database with anyone who communicates with them in any way about their decisions;
2. requires lobbyists to disclose how much they and their clients are spending on their campaigns (as required in 33 U.S. states);
3. requires lobbyists to disclose past work with political parties, candidates for federal public office and governments;
4. prohibits lobbyists from serving in senior positions for political parties and candidates (as prohibited by the federal Lobbyists' Code of Conduct, and by laws in Maryland and New Mexico);
5. prohibits lobbyists from doing work for government departments (such as providing advice on communications) and from having any business connections with anyone who does such work, and;
6. eliminate the corporate tax deduction for lobbying expenses.

And ensure ethics laws/codes/rules are effectively enforced by:

1. ensuring a "whistleblower" protection law exists that gives anyone the right to reports a violation of any law, policy, code, guideline etc. to a fully independent integrity commissioner who has the power and resources to fully investigate complaints, and to protect all whistleblowers from retaliation and to compensate them fully if they suffer retaliation;
2. as Ontario has for appointing provincial court judges, create an independent commission to conduct open, merit-based searches for Cabinet appointments, and to require the Cabinet to choose from a short list of candidates the commission proposes, and require approval from opposition party leaders of the appointment of all ethics, integrity or lobbying commissioners;
3. appoint all ethics, integrity and lobbying commissioners, and all government watchdogs, for fixed, multi-year, non-renewable terms with full independence and investigative powers;
4. requiring all integrity, ethics and lobbying commissioners to conduct regular, unannounced audits of the activities of the people who are covered by the law they enforce, to ensure everyone is complying with the rules;
5. requiring all integrity, ethics and lobbying commissioners to review complaints filed by the public, and rule publicly on every complaint;
6. requiring the commissioners to issue a ruling every time they give advice to anyone on how the law/code rules apply to specific situations;
7. allowing complainants to go to court if the integrity, ethics or lobbying commissioner delays an investigation an unreasonable length of time, or makes any legal or factual error in a ruling; and
8. increase penalties for violations of any ethics law or code to match the current penalties for violating the federal Lobbying Act (ie. $50,000 to $200,000 fines and jail terms of 6 months to 2 years), and loss of any severance payment, and a partial clawback of their pension payments.

Please let me know what you will do to ensure that these changes are made as soon as possible. I will be deciding which political party to vote for in the next election based on the responses I receive from representatives in each party. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

s.22

I have always been curious as to why it is deemed that CHILDREN of "16" should be getting a beginning license. Clearly, they are not mature enough or liquid enough to either own, operate or understand what driving is. To them, it is just a "fun" thing. Well, to most. No longer do we have roads that are safe, roads that perhaps a new driver could actually navigate. Now, we have aggressive drivers of all ages, anxious teenagers that have minimal self control over road issues and themselves, and not to forget the parents; that pay for all their kids mistakes, insurance, tickets etc etc etc... So why, when the voting age is 18, the drinking age is 19.....is the driving age 16 (with and then without a chaperon). My guess is the government gets LOTS of revenue from the parents of these children that make their driving mistakes over a period of three years. Just put the dam age to 19, when some maturity and responsibility may kick in. You will see a decrease in "adolescent" accidents and fatalities if they are NOT driving..... a 2000 pound machine which they have no clue how to maneuver. Don't even think about putting the voting age to 16; a colossal waste of time. For the one percent that may be involved? You can bet they are not the one percent of indulged 16 year old children that live on the bank of Mommy and Daddy. Think about it!! Would you or do you feel safe with our teenager of 16 driving? Do you have one? I had three.

In conclusion, it amazes me that no one ever mentions raising the age of driving. Driving is a privilege : NOT A RIGHT.....

There will be ice cream and coffee. Cristina Ilnitchi and Eliz. Garvie will introduce and moderate.

Hi Dulcy!

For next Friday it would be great if David and Bowinn could arrive before 2:50 so we have a moment to get setup before students arrive at 3pm. Our event will be upstairs in the Nest so I would be happy to meet them at the entrance and walk them up because the building can be a bit confusing to navigate. If they are driving to campus I would suggest they park in the North Parkade due to construction the street parking around the Nest is very limited right now. Please let me know if you need a more detailed logistical breakdown and I can make a timeline or brief for the event.

Both are welcome to have 3-5 minutes for opening remarks, please let me know if they want more time or need access to a projector. After the remarks we are going to have open discussion with students focused of course on transit. We will be filtering questions to stay on topic.

We invited Councilor Boyle but she is unfortunately busy Friday. If you think Penny would add to the conversation we would be happy to have her. I think having more voices at the table is always valuable but I know students are really keen to speak with David and Bowinn.

My plan was for David to be able to speak to the riding specific needs and goals, and for Bowinn to speak on TransLink plans and broader transportation questions.

I am so appreciative of your help and can't wait for next Friday!

When the leg is in session, everyone comes back on Fridays only to do everything they need to do for their ridings, and it has been super hard to pin down a person on this. Elizabeth,

I double checked with David and he really feels that he can't speak to the subject, even framed in this way. He will make himself available for almost any other kind of event you can arrange, but he will have to pass on electoral reform. If you want two MLAs, one for and one against, we can help you find them. There are the academics who worked on this issue as well—I'm sure you know Max Cameron.

Sorry about that. He is really bending over backwards to make sure that he is neutral and is perceived as such.

Wrt referendum event: David is in Vancouver on Friday November 9th for part of the day, then Friday November 23rd. He can do some weekends (Sat/Sun) as well. What is your timing for the event? I know he'll want to do it, while avoiding anything that could possibly be seen as intervening on behalf of any outcome, and maybe discussing process of creating ballot is a good way to do that.

Hi Dulcy!

Thank you for reaching out. We would love the opportunity to have more regular meetings with David/all of your team and get students connected to their MLA.

Those ideas are great and we would love to collaborate on some initiatives that we're starting up in the fall – especially with educating students on the referendum (from the perspective of creating the ballot). If it's helpful, I can write up a quick proposal for some of these projects and send them your way to see if they're feasible for David?

Many thanks,
Cristina

Cristina,

Just wanted to close the loop following your meeting with David.

I would love to make sure that you (and other undergrads) have regular opportunities to meet with David (and us), either up at UBC or here in our office at Broadway and Bayswater in Kitsilano.

Here in the constit. office, we are governance rather than partisan in our focus, and David's position as the administrator for referendum means that we can only provide general information about proportional representation referendum that is coming up. These restrictions notwithstanding, there is a lot we can do together, as we can serve as a general resource for UBC undergrads who want to spend time with David and are interested in policy. We have lots of volunteers from high school and university who come in and help us to table at a variety of events, from farmers' markets to community fairs, help us in the office, and just generally do things with David when he's in town.

Here are some easy ways we can work together. Would love to brainstorm more:

1) Create policy forums and/or meet and greets with David and undergrads—ice cream and ICBC? Talk subway to UBC and coffee? Money laundering and donuts? Volunteer together to do a beach clean at Wreck Beach or work at the UBC farm? Career chat about govt/nonprofit/law? Meet other MLAs with David like the Min. of Advanced Ed or Min. Technology or Min. Environment? Scheduling occasional "office hours" up at UBC for students/faculty/staff?

2) Serve as a general resource for UBC undergrads who want to spend time with David and are interested in policy. We have lots of volunteers from high school and university who come in and help us to table at a variety of events, from farmers' markets to community fairs, help us in the office, and just generally do things with David when he's in town.
3) Make students aware of internship programs and summer programs at the BC legislature
4) Make students aware of voting guidelines and opportunities. A recent UBC graduate has started a nonprofit initiative called "buddy up to vote", linking experienced voters with newbies, and she might be a good resource to table with as well—very creative and energetic. Again, nonpartisan just good GOTV.

All the best,
Dulcy

Good afternoon Amelia,

The Ministry has looked into file below and provided the following:

- The FMEP is currently enforcing s.22 Vancouver Provincial Court order made on s.22 under which the payor is ordered to pay s.22 each month for support s.22
- Since enrollment the program has put an attachment to any federal funds which may be paid out to the payor; denied the payor a Canadian passport, made several attachments to possible sources of income, made reports to the credit reporting bureau and have an interception in place for any federal funds. We have completed several searches for assets and sources of income. We received some payments in 2016 and 2017, but nothing since. There are over s.22 in arrears on the file.

Hello Sam,
I hope you are doing well! It is sooooo cold here. I am hoping it is more mild in Victoria.

I have a constituent who has come in and is very concerned about the fact that her ex who she has s.22 has been evading the law.

She went through Legal Aid and had the judge award her s.22 a month.
Since this time she believes her ex has made the payment once.
She is very grateful for all the assistance she has received from every level of government to assist her and her kids.

However she is very upset because she has done all she can to follow the expectations of the law, and feels like those same laws are not being held against her Ex. She has worked with FMEP and as she pointed out to me if an individual owes more than $3,000 they are not to be given a passport or be able to renew their license. Yet at this time he has renewed his license and is on vacations.22 He currently owes her s.22 supposedly.

Her name: s.22
His name: s.22
s.22

I have included her consent.

Please let me know any suggestions you have.
Thanks,

Hi Samantha: Further to our telephone chat this morning, I am following up with this email as requested. The Nation has been receiving several referrals from Lawyers, Probation, correctional facilities, and Crown (court ordered) to provide beds, addiction/mental health services and supervision for Aboriginal clients that are on bail, awaiting trial, on house arrest or who are returning from a correctional facility. We currently are managing 7 cases.

These clients have the following charges:

1. Theft and Possession of Stolen Property
2. Obstruction of Justice
3. Assault with a Weapon (Scissors)
4. Drug Breaches

It is anticipated that these numbers will increase given the number of calls we receive. Unfortunately, the current placement is not ideal given that it is a recovery facility. Ideally, the Nation would need a separate facility to meet the demand without disrupting current programing for our recovery and aftercare clients. The Nation is very pleased to provide this service given their work towards establishing an Aboriginal Community Based Justice System here in the East Kootenay. However, resources pose challenges in that the majority of these justice clients require 24/7 supervision and should not be co-located with other non-justice clients. The associated costs are prohibitive under these circumstances.

My research would suggest that it costs $117,000 per year per inmate in federal institutions. That translates to $320.55 per day. In consideration of cost savings to the Government, referrals to the Ktunaxa Nation could assist in reducing those costs. That said, the Nation would need sufficient funds to provide the staff, supervision and services necessary to meet the needs of the client and to discourage recidivism. Looking at the current state (7 justice clients x $117,000 = $819,000) that is not being dispersed. That's a savings of $2,243.84 per day to the System. However, this is non-sustainable for the Ktunaxa Nation without additional resources. Sadly, these referrals would return to the Justice System which is not only expensive; some of these clients do not need to be in federal institutions – they need the kind of services that the Ktunaxa Nation provides in order to avoid re-offending and strive for wellness.

The Ktunaxa Nation can offer services that support recovery such as (but not limited to):

1. Life Skills
    a. budgeting for daily living
    b. shopping with a budget
    c. meal preparation
    d. skills for daily living
2. Social Work Support
    a. Positive Choices
    b. Guidance
    c. Resource Development
    d. System Navigation and Advocacy
3. Clinical Counselling
    a. Drugs and Alcohol
    b. Trauma
    c. Anger Management
4. Re-connection to Family, Community and Culture
5. Education and Employment Services
    a. Upgrading
    b. Skill development
    c. Resumes
    d. Job Search
    e. Mentorships
6. Nurse and Nurse Practitioner
    a. Physical Health
    b. Mental Health and Addictions
    c. Vaccinations
    d. Disease Control
    e. HIV/AIDS
    f. HEP A, B, and C
    g. Chronic Pain Management
7. Probation and Parole Services
8. Native Court Worker Services
9. Detox Services
10. Recovery Services
11. Treatment Services

12. Justice Culture Camps
13. Healing/Sentencing Circles

And so much more.

The Ktunaxa Nation is asking what resources might be accessible to formalize a program to meet this demand. Thank you for taking the time to consider.

Respectfully,

Shannon GH

Hi Sam,

We have a constituent who is a Canadian citizen (born in Comox) in our riding who is new to living here and has no identification other than their birth certificate. They are employed and working but cannot get a bank card, a license, or health care card.

This is seriously affecting their ability to live their life. There is an option with ICBC to do an attestation but the constituent doesn't have a doctor, as many British Columbians, and hasn't known an employee in the government or non-profit sector for 6 months as they are gainfully employed and haven't required other support from the Government.

We're looking for a way to provide ID for our constituent so that they can get access to the services they need and live their life.

Any information or support would be greatly appreciated.

Will you send a long a consent form and then I will have ICBC look into your constituents case directly. Generic info won't be that helpful as the response would just fall back to needing to find someone who qualifies as an attestor.

Subject: Constituent with Trouble Getting ID

Hi Sam,

We have a constituent who is a Canadian citizen (born in Comox) in our riding who is new to living here and has no identification other than their birth certificate. They are employed and working but cannot get a bank card, a license, or health care card.

This is seriously affecting their ability to live their life. There is an option with ICBC to do an attestation but the constituent doesn't have a doctor, as many British Columbians, and hasn't known an employee in the government or non-profit sector for 6 months as they are gainfully employed and haven't required other support from the Government.

We're looking for a way to provide ID for our constituent so that they can get access to the services they need and live their life.

Any information or support would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

From the reporter:

"That doesn't answer my question -- you have TNO and you would see the transcript for A-G Eby's appearance on the Jon McComb Show, where he indicated that the luxury cars and horse racing portions would be released first and the rest later.
Did A-G Eby wrongly read his briefing note? Will there be a phased release of the second German report?"

Background
This is a follow-up to a media request from March 25, 2019.

REQUEST:
The reporter heard Minister Eby on the Jon McComb show and would like to confirm:
1) Will the second German report be released in phases, with the horse racing and car sections being released separately, before the real estate section?
2) What is the schedule for public release? Late June?

RESPONSE:
Provided Background
• Dr. German will submit his second report to government on March 31. As we learned from the first report, the information included is often complex and will require a period of review before it can be made public. We expect that the report will be publicly available before summer. After initial review, if there is information we can provide in advance, independently of the full report, we will make every effort to do so.

Recommendation – provide background

- As mentioned in our initial response, Dr. German's second report will be submitted to Government on March 31st. The report will then require a review by government before details are released. There are no plans for a phased release.
- The Attorney General was correct in his interview in that if appropriate he may choose to release details related to horse racing and luxury cars in advance of the full report, if it makes sense and does not require the content of the full report. This will be decided following a review of the findings.

The reporter is working on a story about the new filing against Paul King Jin. For over a year, the reporter has questioned the Justice Branch media spokesman about why Mr. Jin's court services online criminal record is sealed. Currently, the reporter claims that BCLC is "hiding behind Jin's privacy rights on my application for documents." The reporter would like to know:

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?
2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?
3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

Recommendation – Provide background

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?

- The decision to apply a publication ban and/or a sealing order to a court record is made by a judge to protect the identity of the victim(s).
- When a publication ban or seal is made on a file, the file may not be visible on Court Services Online.
- The case file information may be available to the public or media who attend to make an inquiry at the Court Registry, subject to any other ban that may be ordered, providing the record or document is available to the public or media as set out in the Court's records access policies.

2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?

- The Ministry cannot comment on criminal investigations.

3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

- There is zero tolerance for criminal activity in casinos.
- Should service providers suspect criminal activity, they must contact police and report it to BCLC and GPEB.
- Casino service providers must adhere to all applicable laws, including employment laws and provide a safe and secure workplace.
- The Ministry cannot address questions about Mr. Jin's presence in China or any ongoing criminal investigations.

Deadline ASAP

News 1130 is working on a story about three former employees at Parq casino who were fired last year and arrested by police. They would like to schedule a pre-taped radio interview with Minister Eby to discuss the firings and the cause of them. If no one is available to speak, they will accept background or a statement addressing:

1/ How did it come to the attention of Casino managers or others who reported this issue that a scheme was going on?
2/ What was the time period over which the offences occurred?
3/ Has the province requested any protocol changes in the wake of these allegations?
4/ How does "88 casino workers were cited for improper conduct, seventy-nine were fired" between 2016 and 2018 compare to previous years' data?
5/ Is this investigation ongoing?
6/ What is the biggest concern that has risen out of these allegations/incidents?

The interview would be 7-8 minutes with journalist Ash Kelly.

Recommendation – provide background

1) How did it come to the attention of Casino managers or others who reported this issue that a scheme was going on?

These matters were identified by casino surveillance and security staff, who alerted Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch (GPEB) investigators. GPEB referred the incidents to police for their investigation or follow-up. As these investigations have been passed to the Vancouver Police Department, they are more appropriately placed to respond to any further questions on this matter.

2) What was the time period over which the offences occurred?

These incidents occurred in 2018.

3) Has the province requested any protocol changes in the wake of these allegations?

GPEB has increased its presence at lower mainland casinos as a result of Dr. Peter German's December 2017 recommendation that government regulators have a presence on-site and are available to service providers throughout the day and during peak hours. With an increased presence in lower mainland casinos, GPEB is able to be on-site in casinos to proactively investigate incidents in real-time.

4) How does "88 casino workers were cited for improper conduct, seventy-nine were fired" between 2016 and 2018 compare to previous years' data?

GPEB created the record referenced in the FOI request for the applicant, as GPEB didn't initially have those records in the format the applicant requested. If you would like data from previous years, you may wish to submit a FOI request.

5) Is this investigation ongoing?

There was an input error in the report received through FOI. For the three gaming workers whose registration was cancelled for termination related to Cheat at Play, rather than "Charged by Police," the report should have stated that GPEB referred the incidents to police for their investigation or follow-up. In cases referred to police, GPEB is available for support and further assistance as needed. As these investigations have been passed to the Vancouver Police Department, they are more appropriately placed to respond to any further questions on this matter.

6) What is the biggest concern that has risen out of these allegations/incidents?

These allegations or incidents of cheat at play are of concern to GPEB. Our enhanced presence in casinos will assist in prevention and will allow for immediate action/assistance to casino staff and police of jurisdiction when there are allegations of wrongdoing.

The interview would be 8-10 minutes. He will accept a statement if an interview cannot be scheduled. He has also reached out to ICBC for comment.

Recommendation – Provide background

- Creating an appropriate insurance framework for the new ride hailing industry in B.C. is a complex task and we are taking the time to get it right.
- Government introduced and passed the comprehensive Passenger Transportation Amendment Act in fall 2018 to enable ride hailing in B.C.
- We are now working along with the Ministries of Transportation and Infrastructure, Public Safety and Solicitor General, and Municipal Affairs, on the regulatory framework to support the industry, and we are working in partnership with ICBC to develop the right insurance product for this market.
- The insurance product will be similar to what is offered in other jurisdictions including those with private insurers. ICBC will deliver a blanket insurance certificate, that we anticipate will be usage-based.
- Once the supporting regulatory framework is in place, ICBC will make an application to the BC Utilities Commission so that it will be ready to offer an insurance product to the ride hailing industry in B.C. for fall 2019.

> The BC OIC appointing "Legislative Counsel" was BC OIC 0528-1919. This OIC appointed Avard Vernon Pineo as the first Legislative Counsel.

Avard's name was on 3 other OICs in 1919: two memo's attached to OICs (i.e. 1411-1919 and 1571-1919) and an org chart for the "department of the Attorney-General".
Over the next 10 years, "Legislative Counsel" appeared on 23 different OICs. The vast majority of these OICs were salary raises for Pineo. A 1928 org chart for the Department of Attorney General confirmed that as of that year, no other Legislative Counsel had been appointed.
In 1926 he was also temporarily appointed Deputy Registrar of Companies for a period over that summer while the Registrar was unavailable (presumably on vacation, given the dates).
The first BC OIC to mention "Legislative Counsel" was BC OIC 0335-1919. This OIC "Estimates of sums required for the service of the Province for the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1920." The estimates included $4200 for the salary of a new position by the name of "Legislative Counsel".
OIC 1645/1919 identified Miss N. Grist as the Clerk and Stenographer to Legislative Counsel.

(it's interesting to see the Estimates and structure of government back in 1919 from the OIC links above)

I should also mention that Mr. Pineo was also one of the founding members of the Uniform Law Conference of Canada 100 years ago last year.
From the beginning, the BC Office of Legislative Counsel has always been an active, respected and significant contributor to leading legislative initiatives in this country.
I couldn't be more proud of this institution.

Please join me and the office on April 1.

Very best,
Corinne

The reporter is working on a story about the new filing against Paul King Jin. For over a year, the reporter has questioned the Justice Branch media spokesman about why Mr. Jin's court services online criminal record is sealed. Currently, the reporter claims that BCLC is "hiding behind Jin's privacy rights on my application for documents." The reporter would like to know:

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?
2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?
3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

Recommendation – Provide background

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?

- The decision to apply a publication ban and/or a sealing order to a court record is made by a judge to protect the identity of the victim(s).
- When a publication ban or seal is made on a file, the file may not be visible on Court Services Online.
- The case file information may be available to the public or media who attend to make an inquiry at the Court Registry, subject to any other ban that may be ordered, providing the record or document is available to the public or media as set out in the Court's records access policies.

2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?

- The Ministry cannot comment on criminal investigations.

3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

- There is zero tolerance for criminal activity in casinos.
- Should service providers suspect criminal activity, they must contact police and report it to BCLC and GPEB.
- Casino service providers must adhere to all applicable laws, including employment laws and provide a safe and secure workplace.
- The Ministry cannot address questions about Mr. Jin's presence in China or any ongoing criminal investigations.

I have always been curious as to why it is deemed that CHILDREN of "16" should be getting a beginning license. Clearly, they are not mature enough or liquid enough to either own, operate or understand what driving is. To them, it is just a "fun" thing. Well, to most. No longer do we have roads that are safe, roads that perhaps a new driver could actually navigate. Now, we have aggressive drivers of all ages, anxious teenagers that have minimal self control over road issues and themselves, and not to forget the parents; that pay for all their kids mistakes, insurance, tickets etc etc etc... So why, when the voting age is 18, the drinking age is 19.....is the driving age 16 (with and then without a chaperon). My guess is the government gets LOTS of revenue from the parents of these children that make their driving mistakes over a period of three years. Just put the dam age to 19, when some maturity and responsibility may kick in. You will see a decrease in "adolescent" accidents and fatalities if they are NOT driving..... a 2000 pound machine which they have no clue how to maneuver. Don't even think about putting the voting age to 16; a colossal waste of time. For the one percent that may be involved? You can bet they are not the one percent of indulged 16 year old children that live on the bank of Mommy and Daddy. Think about it!! Would you or do you feel safe with our teenager of 16 driving? Do you have one? I had three. In conclusion, it amazes me that no one ever mentions raising the age of driving. Driving is a privilege : NOT A RIGHT.....

It's not ideal, it should be held at the CRT, VCO or the Legislature.

I have asked the constit office to move around their schedule on Friday march 29th to accommodate this tec briefing…

Please let me know if they can do it at the CRT office or potentially VCO (I have no idea if it's available or set up to do a tec briefing) on March 29th between 11-12pm and if not it may need to be done on March 28th at the Legislature.

Okay thanks Samantha. I have just been advised that the CRT room that was originally "tagged" for this event was actually pre-booked by another party and has poor internet capability. It appears CRT has found another location – a briefing room at the Human Rights Tribunal Office at 605 Robson. I am awaiting confirmation re: time and room availability. Could that location potentially work for the Minister?

Subject: Minister's participation in Civil Resolution Tribunal technical briefing - Location and date options

Good afternoon Derrick, Gala, George and Samantha,

I am writing to follow up regarding the Minister's planned participation in the upcoming CRT technical briefing at the end of the month.

As you know, the event is currently scheduled around noon in Victoria on March 28th. We have been advised there may be issues with GCPE Events support around that time due to the Premier's media availability.

CRT has advised they would be willing to host the briefing in their building in Vancouver on Friday the 29th, if that would work better for the Minister's schedule. Apparently they have a hearing room that is fairly large and well lit which would work well for that purpose.

Can you please advise whether the Minister would prefer to stick with the original plan (Victoria on the 28th) or if he would prefer to do it in Vancouver on the 29th so we can finalize details? Apparently the event needs to be discussed at the next MA pitch meeting to secure event services support. Thanks very much for your help!

Subject: For review/ approval: Minister's participation in Civil Resolution Tribunal Technical Briefing

Good afternoon, George, Derrick, Gala and Samantha:

The Civil Resolution Tribunal is planning a technical briefing during the week of March 25 – 28 in Victoria to inform media about how the CRT will handle ICBC disputes after April 1. The goal is to give media the detailed knowledge they need to report accurately on CRT/ ICBC matters, and to correct misinformation about the new program.

The CRT invites the Minister to participate in the event by providing concluding remarks and answering some questions from the media. Here is the proposed agenda:

- GCPE to send out Media advisory the day before the briefing.
- GCPE Event Services to provide audio visual services, room set up etc.
- Shannon Salter, Chair of the CRT, will lead a 30 to 40 minute technical briefing for media. Reporters will be provided with a copy of the slide deck and NR (issued by CRT or government).
- When Ms. Salter concludes her presentation, reporters will have opportunities to ask her technical questions about the new process for up to 10 minutes.
- After the Q and A concludes, Minister Eby will provide closing remarks (3 to 5 minutes). If his schedule permits, he may then choose to answer non-technical questions from the media for up to 10 minutes.
- Event concludes.

Can you kindly let me know at your earliest convenience whether the Minister is interested in attending the technical briefing during the week of March 25 - 28, and if so, what day and time would work best for him? Once we have that information we can finalize event details. Thank you very much for your help!

Hi Sam,

The attached shows both versions that Graphics sent over this morning. I think the checklist version works, but it's not as engaging. If we went with the text version I think we could easily change it from 'doc' to 'park', as discussed:

Hi Mom! Just taking your newest granddaughter to the park. What are you up to?

Wonderful. I'm on my way to the lawyer's office – updating my will to include her

Wow, that's fantastic! Etc…

The IB that I've drafted is centred on the high number of parents in B.C. who don't have a will, despite having children under 18, so I think this could tie in. Open to suggestions from the Minister though!

Thanks,
Leah

Hi Sam,

I spoke with JSB, and I think the consensus is that GCPE will distribute the poster digitally on the website and with social media posts and JSB will distribute the poster digitally to stakeholders (which they can print as needed). While we've mailed out posters in the past for stakeholders to post on bulletin boards and walls, we don't think that would be any more effective than sharing a digital copy. If JSB receives a lot of complaints from stakeholders about a lack of hard copies, we can reconsider this approach in the future.

Is your team okay with this?

Records that the Ministry of Attorney General provided to the reporter in a recent FOI release show that three dealers at the Parq casino lost their jobs in 2018 for "collusion"/cheating at play. Players were paid chips to which they weren't entitled. The amounts were between $37,000 and $43,000. The records provided by the Ministry of Attorney General state the dealers were "charged by police". The reporter would like to know:

1) Where were the charges laid?
2) When were they laid?
3) Against whom were the charges laid?
4) How long was the improper activity going on for? we've been told it is unlikely that the chips were provided all in one go but would have been slipped to the players over time.

Recommendation – Provide background

There was an input error in the report received through FOI. For the three gaming workers whose registration was cancelled for termination related to Cheat at Play, rather than "Charged by Police," the report should have stated that GPEB referred the incidents to police for their investigation or follow-up. In cases referred to police, GPEB is available for support and further assistance as needed. As these investigations have been passed to the Vancouver Police Department, they are more appropriately placed to respond to any further questions on this matter.

The reporter is working on a story about the new filing against Paul King Jin. For over a year, the reporter has questioned the Justice Branch media spokesman about why Mr. Jin's court services online criminal record is sealed. Currently, the reporter claims that BCLC is "hiding behind Jin's privacy rights on my application for documents." The reporter would like to know:

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?
2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?

3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

Recommendation – Provide background

1) Why is his record on things like sexual assault sealed?

- The decision to apply a publication ban and/or a sealing order to a court record is made by a judge to protect the identity of the victim(s).
- When a publication ban or seal is made on a file, the file may not be visible on Court Services Online.
- The case file information may be available to the public or media who attend to make an inquiry at the Court Registry, subject to any other ban that may be ordered, providing the record or document is available to the public or media as set out in the Court's records access policies.

2) I know that vulnerable workers in Richmond casinos have alleged they have been sexually assaulted and this individual had access to employees in the casino before and after he was banned. Did any of the predatory criminal cases against Mr. Jin involve casino employees?

- The Ministry cannot comment on criminal investigations.

3) Employees continue to allege to me that gangsters are allowed to threaten and mishandle them.These allegations go back to about 1997/98, when the NDP government expanded betting limits for baccarat, to $500 limits, and the Big Circle Boys started to frequent Richmond and Vancouver casinos. Its believed Mr. Jin is subject of the JIGIT investigation but he is in China and has been allowed to escape the reach of the law in B.C., is that the case?

- There is zero tolerance for criminal activity in casinos.
- Should service providers suspect criminal activity, they must contact police and report it to BCLC and GPEB.
- Casino service providers must adhere to all applicable laws, including employment laws and provide a safe and secure workplace.
- The Ministry cannot address questions about Mr. Jin's presence in China or any ongoing criminal investigations.

Hi Carole,

I hope it is OK to request that this email be elevated to our urgent matter/issues. The reason why we are elevating the issue is because the matter will be heard at City Council next week.

The Board of the Victoria Chinatown Care Society wanted me to share this letter with you. We recognize that the liquor license is managed by the Province. While the City may or may not endorse this liquor license, we felt it was more appropriate to share our position with your office (as our local MLA) in hopes they can request the applicant to be revisit the request they are making. The request appears to be aggressive and ground breaking in the number of seats and hours of operations.

Our position represents s.22 It would be inherently inconsistent to have a license that operates up to 2am with such proximity. Nevertheless, we are open to any mitigating items that could address the issues.

We hope you will be able to forward this to the appropriate Minister for this issue.

Sincerely,

- Service BC (SBC) has confirmed that they will have a staff member in the Bella Coola office on April 2nd. However, staffing will remain fluid until SBC can get someone permanently hired/trained.
- Testing with systems is still required, so the first week will be somewhat interrupted. We are hopeful that the office will be fully operational (pending staffing) by the following week.

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Sincerely,
Connie

Subject: Legal Aid Denial RE s.22

Good afternoon,

s.22

- s.22 has a very convoluted case which she was promised Legal Aid for
- She was apparently working with s.22 at some point (possibly in addition to?)
- She reports that she is initially granted access, but upon seeing the complexity of the case the lawyers refer her to other sources of assistance
- She now has nobody helping her and her court date is approaching
- She has already called all of the resources our office could provide, including local advocates and legal counsel through the Thompson Rivers University

Is there anything else that can be done for s.22

Thank you for your attention to this,

He feels that his civil rights were violated as he was not allowed bail. Apparently his first court hearing was via video conferencing and he claims that the court appointed duty council was totally underrepresented him.

He claims that he s.22 was painfully shackled in the back of the cruiser, was stripped searched and that he was not provided any relief for his serious back issues while in custody.

- Toronto Star – Estate law

Reporter
Moira Welsh, Reporter
Toronto Star
mwelsh@thestar.ca
416-869-4073

Deadline Thursday, March 28, 2019 2:00 PM

Request
The reporter is trying to get accurate information concerning a change to B.C.'s estate laws. She has been told that in B.C., marriage no longer means that a previous will is automatically revoked, meaning the new spouse is no longer automatically allowed to gain access to a lifetime of accumulated wealth.

Can the ministry confirm that this is accurate?

Recommendation – Provide background

- This is not new, the change was made when the Wills, Estates and Succession Act was brought into force on March 31, 2014.
- The previous Wills Act specified that a will was revoked by the marriage of a person who made the will. The Wills, Estates and Succession Act no longer includes marriage as a factor that will revoke a will.
- This change was made because lawyers practicing in the areas advised that many people were unaware of this rule revoking their will and that wills were inadvertently revoked (and careful estate plans giving assets to parents, siblings and other close family members undone) with the result being that the spouse could take all of the estate on intestacy (where there were no children).
- While the spouse no longer automatically receives the deceased's wealth (or a share of that wealth) if there is a will that preceded the marriage that was not updated, spouses are well protected by other provisions in the Wills, Estates and Succession Act. Division 6 of Part 4 of the Wills, Estates and Succession Act allows a spouse to apply to vary a will if they are not adequately provided for. In addition, under the common law for long term relationships the spouse may have "resulting trust" claims against assets in the deceased's name that were accumulated during the marriage (essentially an argument that the marriage lowered the cost of living for the deceased, which, in turn allowed the assets to be accumulated).

- Ultimately it was thought that these protections were sufficient to protect the spouse and that the harm caused by inadvertent revocation of wills outweighed the benefit of automatically allowing spouses to acquire the deceased's estate through the laws of intestacy.
- Part of Make a Will Week (April 7-13, 2019) is not only encouraging people to make a will, but to remind them to update their wills when there has been a life event (marriage, birth of a child, etc.) to prevent disputes and the necessity of a spouse having to apply to court to vary a will (when the named beneficiaries in the will are unwilling to recognize the spouses claim and negotiate a fair distribution).

Subject: MAG-2019-91215 Call for Records Due March 20

Good morning everyone,

The MO has received the following FOI request from an Individual:

- Calendar entries, agendas, telephone records showing phone call dates and times, notes, or any other records related to the Attorney General or any staff member in his ministry meeting with Fred Pinnock and records of what was discussed at those meetings.
- Any emails or any other records including hand written notes, of the Attorney General, deputy attorney general, associate deputy minister or any assistant deputy minister, ministerial assistant or executive assistant in the Attorney General's office where Fred Pinnock is mentioned.
- Any record related to the cost or funds expended by government on obtaining legal advice or representation for Fred Pinnock (Date Range for Record Search: From 07/01/2018 To 02/28/2019).

All MAs, Sam, Tanera and the Minister should complete a search for this request.

If you do not have records, please let me know as soon as possible. If you will have over 200 pages of records, or require over three hours search time, please let me know by March 14th, as the Ministry may be in a position to issue a fee estimate. Otherwise, please send records no later than March 20th. Submitting records outside of this ten-day window puts the request at risk of going overdue.

If you have any questions about how this request should be interpreted or need more time to gather records, please contact me immediately.

Thank you!

Hi Carole,

I hope it is OK to request that this email be elevated to our urgent matter/issues. The reason why we are elevating the issue is because the matter will be heard at City Council next week.

The Board of the Victoria Chinatown Care Society wanted me to share this letter with you. We recognize that the liquor license is managed by the Province. While the City may or may not endorse this liquor license, we felt it was more appropriate to share our position with your office (as our local MLA) in hopes they can request the applicant to be revisit the request they are making. The request appears to be aggressive and ground breaking in the number of seats and hours of operations.

Our position represents s.22 It would be inherently inconsistent to have a license that operates up to 2am with such proximity. Nevertheless, we are open to any mitigating items that could address the issues.

We hope you will be able to forward this to the appropriate Minister for this issue.

Sincerely,

Hi Sam,

The attached shows both versions that Graphics sent over this morning. I think the checklist version works, but it's not as engaging. If we went with the text version I think we could easily change it from 'doc' to 'park', as discussed:

Hi Mom! Just taking your newest granddaughter to the park. What are you up to?

Wonderful. I'm on my way to the lawyer's office – updating my will to include her

Wow, that's fantastic! Etc…

The IB that I've drafted is centred on the high number of parents in B.C. who don't have a will, despite having children under 18, so I think this could tie in. Open to suggestions from the Minister though!

Thanks,
Leah

Hi Sam,

I spoke with JSB, and I think the consensus is that GCPE will distribute the poster digitally on the website and with social media posts and JSB will distribute the poster digitally to stakeholders (which they can print as needed). While we've mailed out posters in the past for stakeholders to post on bulletin boards and walls, we don't think that would be any more effective than sharing a digital copy. If JSB receives a lot of complaints from stakeholders about a lack of hard copies, we can reconsider this approach in the future.

Is your team okay with this?

Subject: FOI fee
Attachments: 171019 Estimate_FOI_OCC-2017-73375.docx; FW: FOI request

Please see below –

I have discussed the letters with IAO, and have been advised that s.22 does not currently have any open files, or any outstanding fees. However, she has been working with journalist s.22 who is a constituent of Minister Eby, and has been granted fee waivers for previous requests. s.22 has most recently requested s.22 for which Coroners Service has issued a fee, totalling $1128 (the request and a breakdown of the estimated time to produce the records are attached). The request number for this file is OCC-2017-73375.

s.22 has requested a fee waiver, which was denied. He then requested an OIPC review of the Ministry's decision not to waive the fee. The OIPC, under file reference F17-73070, did advise that the applicant could not demonstrate that the records related to a matter of public interest (s. 75(5)(b) of FIPPA), nor did he show that he could not afford the fee (s. 75(5)(5)(a) of FIPPA). The file was then closed at the OIPC.

IAO also advised that Coroners offered to work with the applicant to narrow the request in order to reduce or eliminate the fee, which did not seem to be of interest to the applicant at that time. Should s.22 wish to work with the Ministry to reduce the amount of time needed to compile the data, the best course of action would be to open a new request and re-open the conversation with Coroners as to the best way to reduce/eliminate the fee, as the OIPC has already ruled that releasing the requested data is not a matter of public interest.

The Minister likes the new one you sent, please go with the to do list version. And it is fine to not send out printed versions of this, just electronic.

Also, can you please ensure constituency offices are on the stakeholder list.

Thanks for your help on this!

Hi Sam,

The attached shows both versions that Graphics sent over this morning. I think the checklist version works, but it's not as engaging. If we went with the text version I think we could easily change it from 'doc' to 'park', as discussed:

Hi Mom! Just taking your newest granddaughter to the park. What are you up to?

Wonderful. I'm on my way to the lawyer's office – updating my will to include her

Wow, that's fantastic! Etc…

The IB that I've drafted is centred on the high number of parents in B.C. who don't have a will, despite having children under 18, so I think this could tie in. Open to suggestions from the Minister though!

Thanks,
Leah

Hi Sam,

I spoke with JSB, and I think the consensus is that GCPE will distribute the poster digitally on the website and with social media posts and JSB will distribute the poster digitally to stakeholders (which they can print as needed). While we've mailed out posters in the past for stakeholders to post on bulletin boards and walls, we don't think that would be any more effective than sharing a digital copy. If JSB receives a lot of complaints from stakeholders about a lack of hard copies, we can reconsider this approach in the future.

Is your team okay with this?

Hello Amanda,

Felix Belczyk has applied for a license for the Spirit Leaf, near Castlegar BC. It has the approval of the City of Castlegar, and has been waiting for a final response since January 8, 2019. They have had some conversation with Tanya Frey at the LCRB but are wondering if there is anything else that can be done? And in addition if there is a sense of when the license will be issued. The concern is mainly the monetary cost of waiting and not being able to pay staff, needing to pay for rent and for the potential of losing staff if they are unable to start soon.

Please let me know any information that you have at your earliest convenience, and thank you for your time on this!

GOOD MORNING MR. STONE AND STAFF.

A writing to your office regarding office hours for the ICBC Drivers Licence that is on Concordia Way..

These hours are a hardship to families that need to renew Drivers Licences and to take tests for licence renewal.

Why is it we have such restricted hours. Could it not be looked at that at least one office could be open to accommodate persons and families that need these services. T deal with any oof the above issues p person must take time from there job to get these. If you have a hourly job you miss work time to fit renewing or obtaining a licence.

After reseach, discoved that Alberta has staggered times to help with this problem.

Would there be any discussion within you office to see if something could be done to look at this.

Hi everyone,

The MO has received the following FOI request from Media:

Regarding the Jan. 16, 2019 call with Marvin Storrow, as mentioned in A-G Eby's calendar, I seek the agenda, minutes, briefing note, presentation material, handwritten notes, transcript, and recording of the call.

All MAs and the Minister should complete a search for this request. Sam, Tanera, and Nicole – please advise if you have any meeting materials for this request.

If you do not have records, please let me know as soon as possible. If you will have over 200 pages of records, or require over three hours search time, please let me know by April 2nd, as the Ministry may be in a position to issue a fee estimate. Otherwise, please send records no later than April 8th. Submitting records outside of this ten-day window puts the request at risk of going overdue.

If you have any questions about how this request should be interpreted or need more time to gather records, please contact me immediately.

Hi Holly and Chris,

Looking to pass along some info to Zussman. Can you send me info on the following things:

1. The total number current BC supreme court accident files
   As of February 28, 2019 there were 39,180 ICBC-related motor vehicle accident files with the BC Supreme Court.
2. The total number that will be going to the CRT

Note none of those current files with the BC Supreme Court will move to the CRT. However, with the CRT taking new minor injury MVI matters fewer will be filed with the BCSC. It is anticipated in the first year the number will be 10,000. After that, it is expected to range from 10,000 – 30,000. This will include decisions around who is responsible for the crash and damage amounts for all injury claims below a threshold that does not exceed $50,000, entitlement to receive Accident Benefits claimed, and determination that an injury is a minor injury.

3. A list of Benefit changes, including the original values and new values after the changes

If possible could I get this by end of the day?

Hi Amelia,

In follow up to your phone call yesterday. Staff have provided the following:

"The payor's Canadian passport was cancelled some time ago. If he is traveling with a passport, it is not a Canadian one.

With respect to his driver's license, we will deny a renewal or cancel a DL if we can determine that a pastor has the ability to pay, but is refusing to do so. We do not cancel or refuse the break if we have information that confirms that the pay or does not have an ability to pay support. "

Thank you,
Shanna

Good afternoon Amelia,

The Ministry has looked into file below and provided the following:

- The FMEP is currently enforcing s.22 Vancouver Provincial Court order made on December 7, 2015 under which the payor is ordered to pay s.22 each month for support for s.22
- Since enrollment the program has put an attachment to any federal funds which may be paid out to the payor; denied the payor a Canadian passport, made several attachments to possible sources of income, made reports to the credit reporting bureau and have an interception in place for any federal funds. We have completed several searches for assets and sources of income. We received some payments in 2016 and 2017, but nothing since. There are over s.22 in arrears on the file.

Thank you,

Subject: FMEP

Hello Sam,
I hope you are doing well! It is sooooo cold here. I am hoping it is more mild in Victoria.

I have a constituent who has come in and is very concerned about the fact that her ex s.22 has been evading the law.

She went through Legal Aid and had the judge award her s.22 a month.
Since this time she believes her ex has made the payment once.
She is very grateful for all the assistance she has received from every level of government to assist her and her kids.

However she is very upset because she has done all she can to follow the expectations of the law, and feels like those same laws are not being held against her Ex. She has worked with FMEP and as she pointed out to me if an individual owes more than $3,000 they are not to be given a passport or be able to renew their license. Yet at this time he has renewed his license and is on vacation s.22 He currently owes her s.22 supposedly.

She is heavily disheartened by the fact she feels there is no enforcement, and that her ex is laughing in the face of the law.

Her name s.22
His name: s.22
s.22

I have included her consent.

Please let me know any suggestions you have.
Thanks,

Amelia Hill

Hi Rob and Liam,

Zussman requested the info below after his interview with MDE today, would you folks mind sending it along to him. FYI – this info has come from Holly and Chris, but if you think anyone else should see this before it goes to Zussman, feel free. Please try and get this out tomorrow morning. Thanks!

1. The total number current BC supreme court accident files –
   As of February 28, 2019 there were 39,180 ICBC-related motor vehicle accident files with the BC Supreme Court.

2. The total number that will be going to the CRT –

   Note none of those current files with the BC Supreme Court will move to the CRT. However, with the CRT taking new minor injury MVI matters fewer will be filed with the BCSC. It is anticipated in the first year the number will be 10,000. After that, it is expected to range from 10,000 – 30,000. This will include decisions around who is responsible for the crash and damage amounts for all injury claims below a threshold that does not exceed $50,000, entitlement to receive Accident Benefits claimed, and determination that an injury is a minor injury.

3. A list of Benefit changes, including the original values and new values after the changes –

   In addition to the doubling of overall Accident Benefits to $300,000, that came into effect January 2018, those injured in a crash will see even more improvements beginning April 1 which will make ICBC's Accident Benefits the most generous amongst those in other tort-based systems across Canada. ICBC will also pay more for treatments and cover more types of treatments for both new and existing claims starting April 1, 2019 – including acupuncture, chiropractic care, clinical counselling, psychology, kinesiology, registered massage therapy, occupational therapy and physiotherapy. The provincial government has also updated how much ICBC will cover for treatments so customers should no longer be out-of-pocket for expenses. The fees had remained unchanged since 1991. Going forward, the amounts will be adjusted according to the Consumer Price Index and reviewed every five years.

   Below are the changes in Accident Benefits with current versus new, including value changes.

Hello Amanda,

Felix Belczyk has applied for a license for the Spirit Leaf, near Castlegar BC. It has the approval of the City of Castlegar, and has been waiting for a final response since January 8, 2019. They have had some conversation with Tanya Frey at the LCRB but are wondering if there is anything else that can be done? And in addition if there is a sense of when the license will be issued. The concern is mainly the monetary cost of waiting and not being able to pay staff, needing to pay for rent and for the potential of losing staff if they are unable to start soon.

Please let me know any information that you have at your earliest convenience, and thank you for your time on this!

GOOD MORNING MR. STONE AND STAFF.

A writing to your office regarding office hours for the ICBC Drivers Licence that is on Concordia Way..

These hours are a hardship to families that need to renew Drivers Licences and to take tests for licence renewal.

Why is it we have such restricted hours. Could it not be looked at that at least one office could be open to accommodate persons and families that need these services. T deal with any oof the above issues p person must take time from there job to get these. If you have a hourly job you miss work time to fit renewing or obtaining a licence.

After reseach, discoved that Alberta has staggered times to help with this problem.

Would there be any discussion within you office to see if something could be done to look at this.

Nope! Just a little less detail, more MLA appropriate. I have informed Jen Rice.

Email from Connie on Wednesday -

I just wanted to touch base on Bella Coola and provide you with the latest update. Things are progressing/changing rapidly, so they could shift again, but here's where we're at as of today:

- The team is working to have the office set up and ready for Tuesday April 2nd.
- Service BC (SBC) has confirmed that they will have a staff member in the Bella Coola office on April 2nd. However, staffing will remain fluid until SBC can get someone permanently hired/trained.
- Testing with systems is still required, so the first week will be somewhat interrupted. We are hopeful that the office will be fully operational (pending staffing) by the following week.

Subject: Budget ask re ICBC TNS DL costs

Hi Sam,

As part of a comprehensive MOTI budget submission on taxi/TNS funding requirements, ICBC identified the following DL FTE costs:

Fiscal Year	2019/20	2020/21	2021/22	2022/23
DL FTE Costs	$116,000	$92,000	$46,000	$46,000
FTEs	1.6	1.25	0.5	0.5

TBS did not provide incremental funding to MOTI for an MOU with ICBC for these incremental costs as it is unclear whether the change in service level could be considered a program change or a significant incremental cost under the 2003 MOU between ICBC and government. The budget in 2019/20 for non-insurance services recovered from ratepayers through Basic insurance is $133 million, so the program cost increase is insignificant. It is also my understanding that ICBC had already hired new DL staff to managed increased demand so funding was not a barrier.

ICBC also identified $140K in insurance system changes that are appropriately captured as insurance costs to be recovered against ratepayers, which was not part of the budget ask.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks - Holly

DEFINITION OF MINOR INJURY

- Minor injuries that are subject to the limit on pain and suffering include: sprains, strains, general aches and pains, cuts, bruises, road rash, minor whiplash, pain in your jaw joint and in the muscles that control jaw movement, concussions and mental health conditions that impact your daily life for fewer than 16 weeks.

Can you clarify if this sentence is correct or if the 16 weeks needs to apply to short term mental health and not concussions?

Daily life is impact to school, work or perform activities of daily living.

Thank you,
