“Clearly we’re disappointed by the decision.

Our government takes our responsibility to defend the interests of British Columbians seriously. When it comes to protecting our environment and our economy, we will continue do ALL WE CAN within our jurisdiction.

The Province has been reviewing the conditions attached to provincial ENVIRONMENTAL CERTIFICATE as directed by the BC Court of Appeal’s decision last fall. Today’s decision provides some further context for that work.

We will continue to DO ALL WE CAN TO defend our environment, our coast and the tens of thousands of jobs that rely on them.”

Statement from Minister

VICTORIA – Minister of Environment and Climate Change Strategy George Heyman has issued the following statement:

“Clearly we’re disappointed by the decision.

“Our government takes our responsibility to defend the interests of British Columbians seriously. When it comes to protecting our coast, our environment and our economy, we will continue do all we can within our jurisdiction.

“The Province has been reviewing the conditions attached to the provincial environmental certificate as directed by the B.C. Court of Appeal’s decision last fall. Today’s decision provides some further context for that work.

“We remain concerned about the risks posed by diluted bitumen and we will continue to do all we can defend our environment, our coast and the tens of thousands of jobs that rely on them.”

Importance: High

Hi Liam / office of David Eby – this is a TV interview request for David Eby. I’m getting in touch from BNN Bloomberg, the national business TV channel. (We’ve had Mr. Eby on our channel several times in the past.)

We’re looking for his reaction to the Supreme Court’s decision on Trans Mountain:

Please feel free to provide any windows of availability he may have. We can accommodate his schedule where possible.

Hope to hear from you soon,
