Question: Action Items from MO Weekly

Wonderful Wednesday Maya!

I'm wondering if you have the three meetings below on your radar?

1. Strathcona decampment: MO would like a briefing scheduled for Minister Mark, so ADM office should be able to let you know best timing for the meeting itself and the deployment of invites. We have an IN that contains much of the background that will be required, however it will need to be updated with latest from response depending on timing of meeting. We would need Shayne, Sara, Stephanie Allen and Betty Lepps on the call. I can look at availability in all calendars for these folks.
2. Victoria decampment: MO would also like a briefing scheduled for Victoria-area MLAs regarding the decampment plan for parks including Beacon Hill and Central Park; like above, ADM office should help determine best timing for meeting and for deployment of invites. Current Information Briefing Note today contains much of the background that will be required but will need to be updated with latest from response depending on timing of meeting. We will need Heidi Hartman, Shayne and Sara on the call – I have access to all their calendars.
3. Travelodge: ADM & MO to schedule a briefing for MLA Fleming regarding the lease extension, to be staffed from BCH by Shayne, Heidi, and Sara; should aim for week of Jan. 11; background materials will be provided.
*Needs to happen before Jan 18.

Thanks,
L

Hi Launa,

I'm just following up on the request for meetings below. I'm advised that some of these meetings are urgent, in particular the meeting with MLA Fleming, which needs to happen prior to the 18th, but can be the week of Jan 11th as noted.

Can you advise if this is in the works?

Cheers,

Sue

Usually the MO provides the time and we shift to accommodate as best we can. That being said, if there is something that is impossible to reschedule on your end then that is a different matter. Good morning both,

I just got back to Vancouver and I'm following up on the meetings below and note that the Travel Lodge and Victoria meetings have been set – is the Strathcona one still pending or am I missing something as I had asked Cathy Shen to accept for me while I was in transition yesterday, however I can't find it in calendars?

Cheers,

Sue

Wonderful Wednesday Maya!
I'm wondering if you have the three meetings below on your radar?

1. Strathcona decampment: MO would like a briefing scheduled for Minister Mark, so ADM office should be able to let you know best timing for the meeting itself and the deployment of invites. We have an IN that contains much of the background that will be required, however it will need to be updated with latest from response depending on timing of meeting. We would need Shayne, Sara, Stephanie Allen and Betty Lepps on the call. I can look at availability in all calendars for these folks.
2. Victoria decampment: MO would also like a briefing scheduled for Victoria-area MLAs regarding the decampment plan for parks including Beacon Hill and Central Park; like above, ADM office should help determine best timing for meeting and for deployment of invites. Current Information Briefing Note today contains much of the background that will be required but will need to be updated with latest from response depending on timing of meeting. We will need Heidi Hartman, Shayne and Sara on the call – I have access to all their calendars.
3. Travelodge: ADM & MO to schedule a briefing for MLA Fleming regarding the lease extension, to be staffed from BCH by Shayne, Heidi, and Sara; should aim for week of Jan. 11; background materials will be provided.
*Needs to happen before Jan 18.

Thanks,
L

Hi Launa,

I'm just following up on the request for meetings below. I'm advised that some of these meetings are urgent, in particular the meeting with MLA Fleming, which needs to happen prior to the 18th, but can be the week of Jan 11th as noted.

Can you advise if this is in the works?

Cheers,

Sue

Am hoping to record a Zoom interview with Minister Eby on Monday to discuss a couple of local homelessness/housing topics in Victoria.

The first question would be for an update on where the B.C. government is at on finding enough shelter spaces for the 191-or-so homeless tenters that the city and province are trying to house by the end of March deadline. Is the government considering purchasing any more hotels or vacant sites here to accommodate that deadline?

The second related topic would be to ask about the shipping containers for the homeless proposal at the Royal Athletic Park parking lot. The city will begin deliberations on that this week, but I'm wondering if the minister has a view on that project, whether it's appropriate, whether the province can help the city in any way and what it's role might be.

Deadline ASAP

Request

That's not really what I was looking for. I can (and did) read most of that on the rtb website. I'm more interested in delays for hearings. Do you have any information on how long it is taking to get an eviction notice enforced?

I know you are limited in what you can say, but if you have anything on delays I would appreciate it

Background

This is a follow-up to a media request from January 11, 2021.

REQUEST:

I'm working on a story about a dispute between a landlord selling a home and a tenant unwilling to vacate the property. The closing date on the home is January 31, and it appears the dispute won't be resolved until well after that. The current owner is being told it may be March before a hearing can be scheduled. I am trying to track down details of the backlog at the RTB for eviction hearings and for direct orders for removal. How long does it take to get an eviction hearing/or a direct removal order? I would also like to know if this sort of dispute is tracked. How often do tenants hold up sales of properties?

A woman who has tenants who weren't paying rent and it was going through the RTB but she couldn't afford the mortgage with the renters not paying so she was selling the house. The tenants made it difficult to get realtors and appraisers in, so a hearing has been scheduled for removal. From what reporter understands the hearing won't be until March but the closure on the sale is the end of the month. So the owner's concerned that this will affect the sale of her house. It's a whole house rental. And the buyers are buying it for their own use and intend to live in it.

Reporter thinks there are instances where a direct removal can be issued and there may be issues with COVID right now so it can't be done right now, and hearing is taking much longer than usual because of the pandemic.

Largely this is a story about bad tenants who are making this woman's life really hard but reporter would like to know if there's a larger issue with tenants not complying with orders or if there is a backlog of the RTB being able to deal with troublesome tenants or landlords.

RESPONSE:

Provided Background

- While the Residential Tenancy Branch (RTB) is unable to comment on specific cases, generally speaking when a tenanted home is sold the tenant is not evicted. Rather, the tenancy would be ported from one landlord to the next.
- However, in instances in which the new owner intends to use the rented space for their own use (or the use of a close relative), the new owners must provide two months' notice to the tenant before the eviction can take place.
- In many cases, displaced tenants would also be eligible for financial compensation paid by the landlord.
- The ban on issuing evictions for non-payment of rent ended August 18, 2020. This means that tenants must pay rent in full on the day it is due or they can be evicted.
- A landlord may issue a Notice to End Tenancy for unpaid rent or utilities if:
 - o The tenant failed to pay rent that was due before March 18, 2020; or
 - o The tenant fails to pay full rent due after August 17, 2020 (for most renters that would be September 1, 2020)
- A landlord must not issue a Notice to End Tenancy for unpaid rent or utilities that came due during the specified period of March 18, 2020 to August 17, 2020 unless the landlord has given the tenant a repayment plan for the unpaid amount and the tenant has defaulted on the repayment plan.
- If a resolution between the tenant and landlord cannot be reached, they may contact the RTB to schedule a hearing.
- The current waiting time to schedule such a hearing is approximately 13 weeks.

Recommendation – provide background

- Because RTB is only responsible for hearing disputes and rendering decisions (and not enforcement), we are unable to provide the data requested.
- We can confirm that wait times for hearings average 13 weeks and that decisions are rendered within 30 days.
- Once a decision is rendered it is the responsibility of the applicant to proceed with enforcement.

Request

Has BC Housing re-approached the owners of the Travel Lodge on the Gorge about purchasing their hotel at the expiry of the lease?

Recommendation – BCH to provide background

- BC Housing has not approached the owners of the Travelodge about purchasing the hotel at the end of the current lease agreement, which expires at the end of March.

Background

This is a follow-up to a media request from January 12, 2021.

REQUEST:

I was wondering if there is an update on the Save On Foods Memorial Centre being used to house the homeless? I'm also wondering if BC Housing is looking to purchase any more hotels to provide housing for the homeless?

RESPONSE:

Provided Background

BCH responded:

- Currently, BC Housing is exploring with GSL Group the potential to re-activate the Save-on-Foods Memorial Centre as a temporary shelter. However, we cannot at this time confirm if this site will be available for future temporary shelter use.
- The arena is one piece of a larger strategy we are working on. We are committed to finding solutions to bring more vulnerable people inside and out of the cold in partnership with the City of Victoria, Island Health, Victoria Police and others through the Community Wellness Alliance Working group.

Thanks for setting up the brief meeting for Wednesday aft. This email is unrelated to that meeting but I'm passing along some information I said I'd get for the Minister. Please see below.

Shayne Ramsay knows our police chief and can follow up with him directly with any questions. Our chief believes that this deployment will help the minister to achieve his objectives in the neighbourhood for the remainder of the year.

Hi Maya,

I had a quick chat with Gala about this...

If you can send this to Tanera and I weekly for information, we will forward to Derrick/Gala/Thea for their information.

I think if there are any action items, please specifically advise so we can note for MAs.

Does that work?

Hi Nicole and Tanera, I've asked that BC Housing put together a weekly list of meeting requests that stem out of AG briefings and updates that Sara Goldvine, VP Communications - BC Housing sends, I understand that Derrick/Gala have asked for Sara to send the updates directly.

I wanted to see if this could help us – maybe this is something that you could confirm on your end. Let me know what works I'm easy going.

Hi Derrick,

Thanks for setting up the brief meeting for Wednesday aft. This email is unrelated to that meeting but I'm passing along some information I said I'd get for the Minister. Please see below.

Shayne Ramsay knows our police chief and can follow up with him directly with any questions. Our chief believes that this deployment will help the minister to achieve his objectives in the neighbourhood for the remainder of the year.

Talk soon!

One of our news editors is hearing that gov has inked a deal with the operators of the Save-on-Foods Memorial Centre to re-open it as a homeless sheltering place. Minister Eby and I chatted about this possibility a couple of weeks ago, in the story about the gov being interested in a new hotel/residential building purchase. Wondering if either the ministry can confirm this deal for the arena is a go, and/or the minister is available to speak about it today?

"Everyone recognizes the urgent need for safe and secure homes for people experiencing homelessness in Victoria and throughout the Capital Regional District," said David Eby, Attorney General and Minister Responsible for Housing. "We are making real progress on short- and long-term housing solutions to address Victoria's encampments by the end of March, and new housing opening will allow us to close the Travelodge by the end of the year. Sending Travelodge residents out to join encampments by closing this temporary facility prematurely is simply not an option, instead our plan is that the residents of the Travelodge will be out of this temporary accommodation by the end of the year and into permanent, supportive units." NOT APPROVED

February 10, 2021

Dear Neighbour,

We wanted to inform you the Province is extending the lease for the Travelodge hotel, located at 123 Gorge Road East, Victoria, until December 31, 2021. We appreciate this is a change to our original plan to stop using the hotel when the lease was due to expire on March 31, 2021. This step is necessary to ensure that the over 90 current residents staying at the hotel are not displaced onto the street.

We want to reassure you that no new residents will move into the facility after the end of March and all residents will be transitioned to other housing options by the end of the year.

The Victoria Cool Aid Society will continue to operate the hotel as part of the lease extension, and the current Community Advisory Committee will remain active. We remain committed to working with the community to reduce any impacts on the neighbourhood. The health and safety of the building's residents is being improved through new fire upgrades and BC Housing is supporting these initiatives, including exterior clean-ups and landscape upgrades. The existing Travelodge resident clean teams will continue their work to help ensure the neighbourhood is clean.

BC Housing will continue to work closely with the City of Victoria and other community partners to investigate housing options as part of the ongoing housing strategy. Most recently, the Save-on-Foods Memorial Centre (SOFMC) temporary shelter was reactivated in partnership with GSL, providing 45-beds. The SOFMC is part of a partnership commitment to offer current campers in Victoria indoor spaces by March 31, 2021, in order to close encampments in the city's parks, including Cecilia Ravine. As these new spaces open, people experiencing homelessness will be offered housing options that meet their needs.

If you have any questions, please contact us at: communityrelations@bchousing.org

Sincerely,

BC Housing

Doing a story on lack of any cold weather emergency shelters in Qualicum Beach and Parksville (Oceanside region) on Vancouver Island. Mayor of Parksville has suggested it is BC Housing's responsibility and that hasn't been done. Wondering if we could speak to this and clarify process of establishing a shelter within a community.

Suggested Response: BCH provide background

Emergency Weather Response (EWR) shelters are a partnership initiative that is driven by the community. There are currently no EWR spaces in Parksville or Qualicum Beach. There are many reasons why a community may not have an EWR, including limited non-profit capacity and reduced space capacity due to COVID-19 and physical distancing requirements.

However, BC Housing has secured 16 Emergency Response Centre spots in Parksville. These are leased spaces in a hotel where people who are experiencing or at-risk of homelessness can access shelter and physically distance during the pandemic.

The Province and BC Housing recognize the additional need for shelter spaces and will continue to work with community partners in the Oceanside community to find additional housing options. The homelessness crisis is a complex issue that requires coordinated solutions involving all levels of government.

"We are looking into the issue of homelessness in Parksville and Qualicum Beach, and the lack of shelter options available for the community experiencing homelessness there.

I'm wondering if BC Housing can provide a statement as to what work the province has been doing in the community to ensure people have adequate shelter, where there are cold-weather shelter beds available in the Parksville-Qualicum beach area, and whether or not the availability of shelter beds meets the demand. I'm also curious about how many people you estimate to be unhoused in the area.

I'm also aware that Parksville Mayor Ed Mayne has been insistent that cold weather shelters and supportive housing is solely the province's jurisdiction, so if you can respond to that, that would be great.
