Hi Joey,

Do you know if we have any background material on the Expert Panel on the Future of Housing Supply and Affordability that we could share with MAH? Gord Enemark is asking, as his Deputy is meeting with CMHC next week so wants to be properly briefed.

Thanks,

David

Hi Gord and Avery,

Peter is wondering if we have someone sitting on/knowledgeable about the Expert Panel on the Future of Housing Supply and Affordability (<https://www.fin.gc.ca/n19/19-021-eng.asp>). It sounds like Min Finance received a letter and he is drafting a response and has general questions on the Panel (who sits on it, timelines, how it receives submissions, etc).

Thanks,
Jacob

September, and it would be great to connect. I'll let you know once my schedule firms up for travel dates, and in the meantime I'm looking forward to reading your report and recommendations in detail.

Take care, and hope your summer is going well.

Hey Craig,

I hope and trust you are well and that you have been able to get a bit of a break over the summer.

I wanted to send over a report we released last week focused on measures the federal government could take to improve housing availability and affordability. The report acknowledges the work done to date through the National Housing Strategy, especially the low cost loans. We styled many of the recommendations to the federally announced Expert Panel on the future of housing affordability.

Let me know if you are in town, perhaps alongside a cabinet meeting, it would be good to connect.

Dear Minister James and Minister Robinson,

The Greater Vancouver Board of Trade respectfully submits to the Expert Panel on the Future of Housing Supply and Affordability, its report entitled More Homes, More Choices, which explores how the federal government can help improve housing affordability and availability in our region. The report and a backgrounder are enclosed.

Thank you for considering these proposed recommendations as additional tools to address housing affordability and availability in the Greater Vancouver region.

Sincerely,

The Greater Vancouver Board of Trade
