Subject: Announcement

Hey Amber,

Wanted to give you the heads up that we are hoping to make a provincial announcement on Friday regarding funding for the Investing in Canada Infrastructure Program - CCR and RNC first intake. Part of that announcement will be a grant to the T'Sou-ke First Nation (information below). The grant will be part of the backgrounder that is distributed, and I wanted to check in and see if PJH would be interesting in doing a "spotlight" event with the Nation and a federal representative. We haven't started planning anything yet, but have signaled to Ottawa that this will be a special event for us and that timing will be subject to the Premier's schedule.

Can you please have a look and see if this is something PJH would be interested in? Always happy to chat more if there are questions.

			T Pro
T'Sou-ke First Nation	T'Sou-ke Nation Community Complex and Health Centre	T'Sou-ke First Nation (T'SN) is a member of the Naut'sa mawt Tribal Council and Coast Salish Nation. The project will construct a 10,370 sq ft, 1.5 level combined community complex and health centre including community hall, health centre, kitchen, outdoor patio. There is a wide range of users, such as baby groups, massage yoga, health administration and elders' circles. The First Nations Health Authority (FNHA) is aware of the need for a facility of this kind and has pledged $2.2M to the project.

Thanks Adam.

The T'Sou-ke project will be in the background as part of the overall announcement for the island, but the Huu-ay-aht will be the one mentioned in the NR.

Thank you for confirming the participants. May I also confirm, are the quotes in the NR coming from MCK and MMM? Or will it be the reps on the Zoom calls?

Hi Jayne –

Federal reps are updated inline. Also, for T'Souke, to be clear, it will be included in the announced list, but that we would do a spotlight event when the Premier is available. Correct?

Subject: INFC Communications: Confirm Announcement details for ICIP: CCR-RNC projects

Hello Jayne:

I received a call this afternoon from Infrastructure Canada Communications who confirmed our understanding that there will be four regional NRs on June 17 – North, Interior, Mainland and Island – each featuring one CCR project and one RNC project. They will draft over the weekend and send for review with updated backgrounders.

Virtual events: They tell me the Province is to lead on these events and arrange logistics as we would for on-the-ground events.

- While their preference is that we hold all regional events on Wed. June 17, they are agreeable to holding them over two days –Wed. & Fri. Thursday is a blackout day.
- They suggest using FaceBook Live, if that's our preference, as Ministers McKenna and Monsef are both familiar with it.
- Province is to host the events and bring in the federal representative.
- They don't mind if we lead the northern event from Victoria or Vancouver.
- Media Advisory: A Federal MA and Provincial MA targeting local media to go out for all events

Finally, below is the list of projects to highlight that we agreed on this morning. I have also forwarded to our federal comms contacts:

North

- s.13 CCR
- Taku River Tlingit First Nation and Atlin-Area New Wastewater Treatment Facility RNC

Island

- Craigflower Hall Community Centre, Highland Games Association CCR
- Ladysmith Arts and Heritage Hub RNC

Interior

- Nelson Civic Centre CCR

- Lillooet Recreation Centre RNC

Lower Mainland

- North Delta Track Facility CCR
- Xwu'nekw [Whoo-Nay-Oak] Park Sea Dike at Mamquam Blind Channel Squamish RNC

Hi Jayne

Attached is the joint NR with Translink on the Maple Meadows Bike Parkade expansion and a QA.

I have added a quote for PS MA and made tracked my suggested edits to the NR.

Translink plans to send this on Friday, June 26, 2020 at 10:00 a.m.

The Feds are providing a quote but have not shown interest in it being joint.

Translink is hoping to get any edits back to body by noon tomorrow. They can wait for the quote until end of day tomorrow.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Megan

Dear Food Banks BC,

I wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your $50,000.00 contribution to AIDS Vancouver to help our clients with food security during Covid-19.

I have attached our report complete with a breakdown of the names of sister agencies and others we were able to assist with food provisions. I have also attached letters of thanks from the various agencies.

Overall, we were able to provide much needed groceries to over 1524 people living with HIV and their families all over the Lower Mainland.

This is simply an amazing story. Thank you once again for your incredible help with this and also thanks to the B.C. Gaming Commission for making this happen.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Brian

Subject: Media scrums during session

Hi everyone,

Please see the following details regarding how scrums are set up to function during session and please pass this information to your communications shops.

Important to note:

- 1- 1x1 interviews remain the preference. We will not set up a scrum for a single reporter.
- 2- MAs should not be accompanying Ministers in the hallways
- 3- These logistics are subject (and expected) to change as session progresses.

Agreement with Press Gallery:

The Legislative Gallery will be provided access to ministers before and after Caucus meetings. Based on the legislative schedule reporters will submit requests on who they would like to speak to 45 minutes before the meeting is to begin. The requests will be sent to George Smith and Lindsay Byers.

Ministers will be expected to arrive at the designated area near the Legislative Library (past the blue curtain) 15 minutes before caucus begins. These scrums will last up to 8 minutes (maximum) and moderated by GCPE. The questions will be fielded by press gallery members via a conference call phone system. Gallery members will work together to determine an order of asking questions and provide our list to the moderator. Based on timing, ministers will also be available in-between the end of caucus and before Question Period.

There will be one pool camera and ideally one pool reporter to aid with the recording and questioning. Other members of the Gallery will not attend these availabilities in person. Ministers who are not at the Legislature will be available to reporters via video conferencing or over the phone. Details to be worked out on those logistics.

These availabilities will not be broadcast live except with explicit permission to do so.

Hi Jayne,

TransLink will be sending out tweets today on the soft opening of both Lonsdale Quay and Nanaimo St. exchanges to buses because it's the summer schedule change for drivers. The upgrades to the exchange are not yet complete and won't be until late July. TL will send out tweets alerting customers of the change to boarding, but there will still be noticeable changes coming in late July to announce.

Ps Ma may want to retweet or share a photo in her own tweet as well.

Megan

Dear Mr. Kahlon,

I read with interest about your new assignment to lead the expansion of mass timber construction.

Greater Victoria Housing Society is proposing to build a 12 to 15 storey affordable rental housing project in Colwood using mass timber. I have attached an architectural rendering – we are in the rezoning process in the City of Colwood.

As you are likely aware, there is still a need for information and research to ensure communities feel confident about this building material, but we are excited to show leadership in the affordable housing sector.

I would love to tell you more about our project and discuss some of the issues we face.

If you have time for a (virtual) meeting we would appreciate some of your time.

All the best,

Hi Molly,

Thank you for providing me with this information.

I had a look at the updated RTB website. I am very concerned that the messaging is not yet clear enough for tenants who have received eviction notices. The opening header on the RTB website states that "the state of emergency in British Columbia will continue until further notice and all special orders remain in effect". Tenants have previously understood that no evictions would take place during the state of emergency, and likely to think that this is still the case. While the next header notes that "some pandemic restrictions have been lifted", it is not clear that this includes a significant change to the eviction moratorium unless the link is followed.

Could the RTB highlight that most eviction notices are now valid, using plain language, in the header of the website?

Thanks so much,

Emily

Subject: FOR ATTENTION | IBN #254817: Proposed Mass Timber Building in Colwood

Good afternoon, the above-noted information briefing note has been uploaded to the WebDAV for Minister's attention.

Issue: Request received for a site-specific regulation (SSR) to authorize construction of a 15-storey mass timber building.

SUMMARY:

- The Greater Victoria Housing Society (GVHS) is proposing to build a 15-storey mass timber building at 1901 Jerome Rd in Colwood with over 100 affordable housing units for low to moderate income seniors and families.

- A site-specific regulation is needed to authorize its construction as the BC Building Code (the Code) does not currently allow mass timber buildings over 12 storeys in height.
- The proponent aims to showcase how affordable, highly energy efficient and low carbon construction projects can be delivered using mass timber construction systems.
- Ministerial approval to enact the regulation will be sought at a later date if the proponent can demonstrate the proposal meets sufficient standards for building performance and safety.

Hi Craig and Molly, this year's Georgie Awards will be a virtual event, starting Friday, June 26th at 6:30 p.m.

Neil Moody, CEO of the Canadian Home Builders' Association of BC, advised that they are heading in a new direction for the awards for this year only. Given the current environment, they have moved to a fully pre-produced gala awards show. Based on advice from their production team, the MC will be presenting all the Georgie awards and coordinating program elements.

Neil Moody said that they very much look forward to the Minister participating in the Georgie Awards in 2021 when they once again hope to have an opportunity to celebrate with industry at an in-person awards gala.

We'll follow up to find out the winner of the new Provincial Award for Excellence in Housing Affordability.

Can you advise if you know what Minister's preference is from a timing perspective for s.12; to be brought forward to an upcoming cabinet committee ? I have been liaising with Cabinet Operations and they are still finalizing legislative items and recommend this to be brought forward to s.12; s.13 as we have narrowed our scope and minimal drafting will be required. The next scheduled s.12; s.13 and would not give us enough time to bring this forward to s.12; s.13 in advance of this date.

We have a briefing scheduled with MSR on s.12; but staff were hoping to get this on the schedule with Cab Ops in the interim, but I want to ensure that MO/MSR are on board before scheduling anything.

Hello Christina,

Circling back regarding BCH's upcoming Digital SAM Town Hall on Monday, June 15th. You should have the meeting invites for the dry-run and actual live event with login details. If Minister or Molly have any issues logging in, please call BCH support staff, Adriana at 604.439.4785. She will be on standby to assist.

Molly had shared that Minister may be interested and available to take a couple questions after her remarks? Can you please confirm and we will work it into our agenda? It will likely only be two questions.

We have 260 employees confirmed to join the Digital SAM Town Hall and we are excited to have Minister join.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Rhonda

Hi Christine,

Thanks for the chat just now.

As mentioned, we'd like to set up a test run to ensure Minister and Molly are able to connect into our internal MS Teams Live Event. We will need to create BCH accounts with login and passwords for both Minister and Molly and would like to book 5-10 minutes in their calendars to do a test run before the June 15th employee town hall.

Can you please let me know what times work best for Minister and Molly?

Thank you very much,

Hi Molly,

We are planning the next digital town hall for BC Housing employees, and as discussed would like to extend an invitation to the Minister to join for a few minutes at the beginning. The town halls will be held on either June 9 or 11 starting at 2:00 pm. I have included the draft proposal below, which has some more details on the plan for the event.

The team hopes to finalise the date next week. If the Minister is interested and available to join at one of these times, let me know which date would be best and we can work around that.

Stay well.

Thanks Alycia! This is very interesting. I'm wondering if you have, and would mind sharing, the raw cross-tab data. It would be helpful for us to be able to see things like, of the people who are experiencing a slow down in business, what type of business they are (home builders, renovators, professional services, etc.), or what parts of the province are experiencing the biggest slow down in permit times.

If you're not able to share that data I can draft a list of questions that it would be helpful to understand.

On your last point, is CHBA thinking of doing an educational/promotional campaign on how safely the sector is operating, or anything like that?

Subject: Survey Update from CHBA BC

Hi to you both,

We surveyed our members in late May and have data to share! If I can pull anything else from our data directly that may help, please advise. We connected with renovators, builders and suppliers and had input from all areas of the province.

Here are some highlights that pertain to MAH:

- As of March 15th, approximately 50% of respondents found that permit approval timelines have increased in length, 39% have found the length to remain unchanged and 11% have seen a decrease in approval length. (We expected there would be an increase, but helped to see the magnitude. Also good to see there are some areas where there is no increase.)
- We are concerned that 45% are seeing supply chain issues, and that these are for all types of products. Anything from PPE, to cabinets, to labour, to tile. This is something we will be closely watching.
- Our respondents (150) overwhelmingly found (69%) that their level of business following March 15, 2020 had seen a decrease. An additional concern we are watching from this is that the true decline could be expected in the coming 6-12 months, according to our qualitative comments, as they finish up existing projects. This would unfortunately happen when existing federal programs and subsidies are expected to end.
- We received a number of suggestions for how we can help, including financial incentives for consumers but also many different ideas related to simply building confidence that new homes and renovations can be done safely so existing projects may proceed.

You can view our complete overview with this link: <https://chbabc.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/06/COVID-19-Economic-Impact-Survey-Analysis.pdf>

Request

I'm wondering if Minister Robinson is available for an interview about the issue of leaseholds and what some leaseholders say is a gap in the legislation that leaves them vulnerable. I've been told that residents of Orchard House in James Bay have been in touch with the ministry asking for help as they face a situation where the property management company that owns the building is levying large special assessment costs to the leasehold owners which has caused one leaseholder named Hugh Trenchard to launch two lawsuits.

<https://www.timescolonist.com/news/local/james-bay-condo-owner-challenges-hefty-building-repair-bills-1.1308543>

One lessee also sent a letter to the Rental Housing Task Force in an attempt to raise this issue, as leaseholders aren't covered under the RTA. One of their requests is that disputes between leaseholders and property owners be settled through the civil resolution tribunal rather than the courts.

<https://orchardhouseleaseholder.files.wordpress.com/2018/04/ltr-to-rental-housing-task-force.pdf>

I'm wondering if Minister Robinson can speak about the issue of leasehold, do they fall between the cracks of residential tenancy law and strata/condo law and if so, what can be done about this issue to protect leaseholders?

Recommendation (Background from Ministry)

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing is aware of the issues long-term leaseholders face.

Long-term residential leasehold arrangements are made under private contracts with the building owners and because of this status are not governed by the Strata Property Act or the Residential Tenancy Act. The majority of the leaseholds in the province were created in the early 1970s and there are only about 20 of these buildings. Most of the buildings were created prior to B.C.'s strata legislation or were rental buildings converted to leasehold that chose not to become stratas. We are not aware of any buildings under leasehold agreements built in recent decades.

The Province has taken steps to increase consumer protection for purchasers of leasehold units, such as requiring developers to obtain a signed disclosure statement from prospective purchasers. Real estate agents are also required to be more knowledgeable about leasehold agreements in order to obtain licensing.

Any disputes between building owners and leaseholders must be dealt with through the courts.

Government continues to monitor this issue and encourage representatives of leasehold building owners to increase transparency and communication with leaseholders.

Dear Minister,

We discussed the issue of Redwood Mews' renovation with regard to energy efficiency and billing deficiencies in late February and you suggested that I forward, with copies to your MO staff, the information received in our Vancouver- Fairview constituency office. I held off doing so as the state of provincial emergency related to Covid understandably took priority and your ministry and BC Housing have been working hard in response.

Now however seems like an appropriate time to bring this back to your attention, both as we enter phase 2 and as our government is preparing new energy efficiency initiative and demonstration projects, in part through B.C. Housing. I want to stress that our office and I have enjoyed a positive relationship with Shane Ramsay, s.13
s.13

Pasted below is the summary document prepared by constituency staff in March. Residents in a letter to Shane Ramsey have requested assistance in having B.C. Hydro perform an energy performance assessment so identified deficiencies can be fully rectified. s.13

Your assistance in this regard will be much appreciated, best regards

George Heyman

Redwood Mews Summary

Redwood Mews, a BC Housing owned and operated building, recently completed an extensive renovation between Fall 2018 and Summer 2019. Redwood Mews was built in 1976 and the original envelope had reached the end of its service life as evidenced by active water ingress and inefficient insulating value. To resolve these issues, a full building envelope remediation project commenced. The approximately $4 million project included roof replacement, mechanical upgrades and security upgrades to CPTED principles. Another reason for the building envelope remediation was due to the excessive moisture within the units. The new building envelope system includes new energy efficient triple-paned windows and sliding doors, air sealed walls, 6" of exterior insulation, new attic insulation, and bathroom and kitchen fans.

In February 2019, tenants began contacting the Vancouver Fairview constituency office with concerns about increased hydro bills and the insulation of their units. Concerns were also raised about the lack of properly sealed doors and the presence of large gaps under the doors. Constituency staff contacted BC Housing and the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing throughout spring and summer 2019 to share concerns they were hearing from tenants.

In August 2019, MLA George Heyman wrote a letter to Shayne Ramsay outlining the concerns about building energy efficiency and associated hydro bill costs (attached).

In October 2019, several tenants wrote and signed a letter to the Ministry of Municipal Affairs & Housing (attached).

The Vancouver – Fairview constituency office has received multiple hydro bills from tenants that demonstrate the issue. The bills attached are from winter 2019 to present. Bills from long term tenants show that electricity usage has increased year over year s.22

s.22 Bills from new tenants demonstrate inordinately high bills in recent months s.22

Tenants have been told they would receive compensation for increased bills during the renovation months (Fall 2018 – Spring 2019). While tenants would like to receive compensation, they ultimately are looking to address the source of the problem so they can live comfortably and do not continue to have inordinately high hydro bills. As can be seen in bills from winter 2019/2020, their hydro bills continue to be high, despite the renovations being complete for several months.

Hi Jayne,

Thanks for all this information, I've passed it on to the constituent. They are making an emergency application to the RTB.

Do you know if the RTB awards financial compensation to tenants beyond damage or loss of property in a situation like this?
Or is it solely administrative penalties that are paid to the government?

As for shelter: unfortunately, the only family shelter spaces available to them appear to be in downtown Vancouver. They are reluctant to re-locate there s.22 They are still looking for market rental but there are very few available, but not having a reference from their previous landlord isn't helping. They've also been looking at motel accommodations, but these are snapped up faster than they can apply. We're trying the 2 outreach services providers to see if they have any accommodations available. One doesn't have anything available and I'm waiting to hear back from the other.

Thanks, Paul

Subject: RE: Eviction issue

Hi Paul – here is what I've heard back from staff.

The first piece, on the eviction:

The Landlord is not allowed to seize any personal property or prevent the Tenants' access to their personal property unless the Landlord has a court order or the Tenants have abandoned the rental unit.

It is first recommended that the tenant and landlord try to work this out.

1. The tenant should speak with the landlord to try to resolve this.
2. The tenant should write (they will need it for evidence) asking for their property and offer a time/date to retrieve it. It's a good idea to send any written communication in a way that can be confirmed, like faxing or using registered mail – remembering to keep a copy. Put any agreements the tenant and the landlord make in writing and make sure they both sign them and keep copies.
3. If the landlord is unreasonable, the tenants can Request for an Order for a Landlord to Return Personal Property and/or Request for a Monetary Order for Damage or Loss through dispute resolution as it seems the landlord kept the belongings unlawfully. It's important to remember that the tenant must have evidence to support their claim.

The landlord may claim that they abandoned the property. If a tenant doesn't claim their abandoned items from the landlord within 60 days from the date they were considered abandoned, the landlord must follow a specific process for getting rid of the items. The landlord is required to give proper notice before getting rid of a tenant's personal items if the value of the items is worth $500 or more.

Generally, the landlord must store the items in a safe place for 60 days to allow the tenant a chance to claim them. However, the landlord can choose to get rid of the items in an appropriate manner if the:

- Items are worth less than $500
- Cost of removing or storing the items is more than the items are worth
- Storage of the items would be unsanitary or unsafe

B.C. laws set out the rights and responsibilities of parties in tenancy agreements and outline what needs to happen when items are left behind (Residential Tenancy Regulation - Abandonment).

Please have the tenants contact the Residential Tenancy Branch if they are unsure about the law, the application process or have questions about the past tenancy. Learn more about the law.

The second piece, on the supports with follow up questions at the bottom:

Please tell them to check the family shelters on our website and also to contact outreach services – all the info is available from our homelessness services page.

I'm afraid we don't have emergency housing except for shelters. I'd encourage them to investigate all those options (above) as extensively as they can. Some outreach providers may have rent supps available, but I suspect that may not help due to the pandemic – many landlords are hesitant to show or tenant vacancies right now. A rent supp could be used for a hotel/motel however.

Do we know anything about where they are located, what their financial situation is, and whether there are any health issues or disabilities? I wonder if they already have an application for housing?

All the best,
Jayne

Hi Jayne,

I just spoke to the constituent and have a few more details:

The landlord has now removed their property from the garage and has put it in a storage locker in s.22 They are concerned about being charged for the storage fees.

They would prefer to be housed s.22
s.22

In addition, they have applied for the BC Emergency Benefit for Workers (they're receiving CERB), but are being told that they need valid BC ID and proof of tenancy. His wallet with all his ID and their copy of the tenancy agreement is in the storage locker.

They're continuing to pursue market rentals, but are finding there is a lot of competition and of course they cannot provide a reference from their previous landlord.

They called the RTB yesterday, and were told to call TRAC. TRAC said they weren't sure why the RTB suggested calling them as there wasn't anything they could do to help them.

They are looking for a place but are having difficulty finding anything because of COVID. Income doesn't seem to be the problem, so BC Housing doesn't seem to be a solution.

Hello Armin,

I hope you are well, too. Ed passed along your email for me to respond. Your response is consistent with what we had understood the process to be.

I wanted to update you on the status of these sites:

- CHF Funding - the original email sent between you and Burnaby staff indicated that the City would apply for CHF funding. As we are now close to selecting a project sponsor, it would be the sponsor who will apply.
- CMHC Funding - since the original email, we have applied for and received CMHC seed funding towards a portion of the City's costs, and CMHC has indicated that a portion of funding will be reserved for the project sponsor's costs.
- BC Housing Review of Project Sponsors - we are nearing the end of our internal review of the proposals received in response to our call, for four of the sites. We will be reaching out to you soon for your assistance in reviewing our preferred project sponsor.

It is great to see these sites move forward and to see the progress we are making together in advancing the goals of the MOU.

Hi Ed,

I hope you are well as we navigate through these unprecedented times. Reason for my note is that I wanted to follow up on the letter from Mayor Hurley to Minister Robinson in which he makes reference to the City of Burnaby not having to apply to the CHF RFP which was released on May 27th, 2020. In our numerous discussions with staff we confirmed that the City would be responsible for submitting proposals to the call for the City sites referenced in the MOU, which I have attached. While the MOU is not explicit that the City would need to apply to the RFP, we made reference to the Provinces 30 Point Plan and that the projects would need to reflect the Building BC program requirements.

It was in the staff discussions between my self, Karin Hung and Johannes Schumann where we conferred the City would be responsible for submitting proposals under the 2020 CHF call, email attached. Please note, since these discussions the Province has decided to have 2 closing dates, one in September for projects that meet the shovel ready criteria and the second for projects without an accelerated schedule. It is also my understanding that the City has either applied or will be applying for CMHC Seed funding to help with the cost of putting in the submissions. We have advised the City we are happy to participate in the City RFP reviews and provide the references you are seeking with respect to the applicant's capacity.

In closing, we are excited to work in partnership with the City on these sites. As always, please do not hesitate contacting me if you need.

Subject: RE: Housing HUB projects with school districts

Hi Dulcy – that would be great if they want to build housing!

The fund that just opened is the Community Housing Fund <https://www.bchousing.org/projects-partners/Building-BC/CHF>. Projects through this fund are mixed income, with 20% of the homes for people with very low incomes, 50% are rent-geared-to-income for households up to $64,000, and then 30% are below market for up to $74,000.

HousingHub is a different program that brings together land owners with for-profit developers to build below market rental housing.

The School District could explore both programs, but if they're looking to provide affordable homes for low and middle income people, CHF is the way to go. It does require proponents to be a non-profit organization, Indigenous organization, First Nations, non-profit housing co-operative or municipal housing provider that is wholly government-owned and controlled, so I'm not sure if the SD could apply on their own. There's a great example in Victoria of a partnership between the SD and others: <https://www.timescolonist.com/news/local/154-unit-42-million-fernwood-affordable-housing-project-nears-ok-1.24073234>

I'd suggest they start by talking to James and Naomi from BC Housing:

Molly,

Would it be sending our school district on a fool's errand to suggest that if they are considering using some underutilized school land for housing projects of some kind, they should collaborate with Housing HUB? That funding stream just reopened on May 27th, correct? Has any other school district taken advantage of this funding stream?

Thanks for any wisdom.

That said, I agree - need the time to organize communications.

Can we also get an update on what stakeholder outreach BCH has done, to residents, businesses, and neighbours?

Also, Molly, can you please make sure both MLAs in the area have a heads up on this?

Thanks all - calls.22 of anything erupts that needs urgent response before end of today.

See you tomorrow,
Craig

Hi there,

Flagging this Vancouver hotel tour and interview request that came in to BCH earlier today.

BCH is checking in with staff and partners to see which hotel might be the best to feature and whether the society is comfortable with the request.

They don't have a hotel identified yet and won't have the proposal ready for today, but will update us as soon as they have a pitch together.

Let us know if you have any recommendations in the meantime, if not, expect that we'll get back to you as soon as BCH has the proposal ready.

Request

I've reached out to VPD, Mayor Kennedy Stewart's office, various Vancouver city councillors, local antipoverty advocates, a couple of new residents at the Holiday Inn and Safer Vancouver, a newly formed coalition of concerned West End and Yaletown residents.

Just to note: the answers to some of questions are already in the public record, but I've included them because I want to confirm, for example, that groups like Atira are involved in operating the hotels in Vancouver.

- 1) When did BC Housing begin moving people from Oppenheimer Park into hotels? When were the last people moved in?
- 2) How many people in Vancouver have officially received housing through this plan? Is the number still 261?
- 3) Why did the province choose not to consult community members in the West End and Yaletown where the hotels are located?
- 4) Have staff at the hotels been trained to work with vulnerable people who may suffer from mental health issues and use substances? Have peer support workers been brought in?
- 5) Can you confirm that supervised injection sites have been set up in these hotels, including the Howard Johnson?
- 6) I understand this new housing is temporary. What is the timeline for this? Will other housing be secured for folks now in the hotels?
- 7) Did BC Housing focus exclusively on Oppenheimer Park residents? If so, why were more vulnerable (older, health-deficient) homeless people neglected?
- 8) Is BC Housing still trying to secure emergency housing for homeless residents in Vancouver or those now camped near CRAB Park? Do you have numbers to share regarding this? I believe BC Housing hoped to house significantly more than 261 people in Vancouver?
- 9) How many people refused housing when offered? Why? (Pets? Not wanting to be separated from partners?)

Hi Allegra,

We haven't received this directly or from MAH that I can see. Perhaps its in their queue to ask us about. In reviewing the incoming however, this also isn't something SDPR can speak to. It's not about the vulnerable people or what government is doing to protect them at this time. This is about MAH consultations on housing decisions and public safety overall. Neither of those issues are ones that we can speak to.

Cheers,

Greg

s.22 Oppenheimer residence at the Howard Johnson on Granville Street. I am appalled that the neighbourhood community was not consulted with the decision to re-locate the Oppenheimer residents so close to our neighbourhoods. Please dont mistake this for not having compassion for those residents as i do believe they need to be kept safe during this pandemic as well. However, the surrounding area was NOT prepared and precautions and communication was not properly put in place. While i understand we are within a pandemic - This was executed extremely poorly and disrespectfully.

We've seen a SIGNIFICANT increase in disturbances from syringes all over the area, parks, sidewalks; verbal altercations; human fecal matter; litter and most significantly visible and public drug use and injection. WE NO LONGER FEEL SAFE IN OUR HOMES. There are FAMILIES that live in the area with young children. Children who play in Emery Barnes park and walk on those sidewalks. While i was going to remain silent since this was temporary, im now told this is going to be a permanent move. This will change the community to an extreme end and significantly impact not only our property value, but our maintenance fees since the residents will now need to pay for additional security, and hazardous material clean up.

A new location needs to be found - this CANNOT be permanent. The community has already been put under immense financial duress and this is compounding the situation even more.

I understand that this is under the jurisdiction of the COV and BC Housing, but we need provincial intervention. The way this was executed was totally unacceptable. Our community policing unit has even advised they had limited information.

Can you please let our neighbourhood know what is going to be done?

I eagerly await your response.

Thank you.

Hi there,

Please see the below decampment interview request from Wendy Stueck at Globe and Mail that came in to BCH this morning.

Please let us know if you would like to book an interview for MSS, MSR, Shayne Ramsay or if you want another form of a response.

The interview/response isn't due until 2pm tomorrow so we have some time.

Let us know you'd like to proceed with this one.

Thanks,

I'm working on a story about the province helping people move from tent cities into housing in Vancouver and Victoria. As you likely know, there are some neighbourhood concerns over that process in Victoria - where people feel the province has ignored a 2018 moratorium on supportive housing in the neighbourhood and isn't living up to commitments for services for people who have been recently moved. I'm trying to get at the broader context, including what happens to these folks if/when the pandemic is over or becomes less worrisome.

Is Shayne Ramsay available to speak to this - ideally, today or tomorrow before 2 pm Pacific?

Also - if these questions are better put to the minister - would you please forward to your colleagues there and let me know?
