Subject: For Direction: Granville Escalator Video shoot story board info and timing

Hi Jayne,

Please find attached the storyboard for the Granville escalator social media video shoot.

If PS Ma is available to participate, she would be in the shots (for example riding the new escalator) while TransLink subject matter explaining the project to ensure social distancing.

At the end PS MA would also make a statement welcoming customer back to the station.

TransLink is hoping to shoot the video Monday or Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday morning would be the last opportunity to shoot the video ahead of the release Thursday. It should only take about an hour.

Please let me know if PS MA would like to participate and if there is a timing preference.

Thanks,
Megan

Hi PS Ma,

Please see the request from TransLink below. Let me know what you think.

Nanaimo Bus Exchange – TransLink is planning an NR for Thursday and some social media with a short video on the station artwork. They have tweeted about the bike lane at the exchange opening recently, so they would like to tween something from PS Ma this week. They suggest if she could do a video of herself saying something similar to what she did for Granville escalators then they would tweet that via the @TransLinkNews account. Their suggestion is a 30-sec video of her saying a few words about the benefits of the station for the people of Vancouver and how the station upgrades better serve riders and the community. If this works, GCPE will draft a script and help coordinate access to the station based on PS Ma's availability. Given that this is going out Thursday, this will have to be a quick turnaround.
