Dear Michael,

I would just like to let you know what a positive experience it has been for our company, our staff, and our facility to be involved with the emergency response centre at the Save on Foods Memorial Centre in Victoria.

As you know, there were concerns at the beginning based on some negative stories we had heard through the media. We have now been involved for four months and our experience is quite the opposite. Our experience has been mostly positive, with a few issues that have come up but have been dealt with and never caused a problem. The residents have been respectful of each other, the facility, and the staff and have shown an appreciation for the care we have taken to make sure they are comfortable.

We have developed a great respect for those who have had to take shelter in this emergency response centre as they have had unfortunate circumstances in their life to bring them here. We have also developed a great respect for all those who work with these types of centres and make the effort to help those in need including yourself and all the staff at BC Housing and PHS who have been great to work with and have managed this so well. At our suggestion, we have now even started a movie night where we turn on the big screen and the sound system in the arena for the residents to enjoy a movie. This is a unique experience for them that we've never done for anyone.

It has become apparent from our experience in this short period of time that if you provide a safe place of mutual respect, it is a much more positive story compared to what you hear in the media.

We are very proud to have participated in this program and thank you for all your help in facilitating this.

I am working with local Tri-Cities activist Brad Nickason on a project called 'We've Got Issues' It is meant to be a non-partisan, citizen's forum with the intent to bring the people of the Tri-Cities together to discuss the challenges and issues we face in this region. Our original intent was to do live events at Douglas College, but in this time of COVID, we have partnered with Tri-Cities Community TV and have moved to the internet.

As such, Brad and I would like to invite you to come to discuss issues of concern to your constituents with respect to your role as Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. The final segment would be between 15 - 30 minutes and ideally we would like to videotape it in September. We will be shooting at the Evergreen Cultural Centre during the week within their working hours. Alternatively, we may be able to make arrangements to film the session at your constituency office in order to provide further flexibility.

Our goal is to be fair and balanced so we will try to have questions from all sides of the issue. However we will provide in advance an outline of the topics of discussion and examples of questions that may be asked. The objective is to inform the audience so they gain a deeper understanding of the topics at hand.

It was great to talk with you this evening about our commitment to the Surrey Skytrain. Your community has waited a long time and just as we have remained committed to building out the line even after the change in technology we continue to remain committed to seeing this project through to fruition.

I look forward to continuing our work together to bring this important transit infrastructure to your community.

Have a good evening and talk again soon.

Hi Marielle,

Thanks for your patience. Here is the list of discussion topics for our 9/24, with some background where needed. I would just keep in mind that the audience here is very general. So they might not be brushed up on a lot of these issues and that's why the questions here are fairly basic and broad, to help explain what's happening, what government is doing, etc. We're speaking to lay people (and I'm including myself in this group) that are seeing a lot of things in the news, but can't make sense of what's happening, what's being done in response, what the plan is, etc.

EARLY ELECTION

-Are we going to an early election? (or if it's called by then: Why are we going to an early election?)

MINISTRIES WORKING TOGETHER

-There are three core ministries — The Ministry of Social Development and Poverty Reduction, The Ministry of Mental Health and Addictions, and your file, The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing — that are actively working on issues like the opioids poisoning crisis, homelessness, and addiction, which, albeit related, should not be entirely conflated.

For the lay person (like myself), can you (briefly) explain how this works? i.e. Can you run down the responsibilities over the last three years of your Ministry with regard to homelessness, which includes social housing that comes with the types of wrap-around services related to the other Ministries tackling poverty, the opioids crisis, and addictions as a whole?

HOTEL PURCHASES

-Can you broadly explain the program that the BC government undertook this summer to purchase hotels and house the homeless? What's the scale (i.e. how many hotels, how many people are being housed)? Did the hotel housing come with "wrap around services" for its residents?

-Andrew Wilkinson said that these hotel purchases are "wreaking havoc on the neighbourhood" referring to Yaletown specifically, while MLA Todd Stone described the purchases in Victoria as "a failure at every level". They're saying that vulnerable people are just being warehoused, small businesses have been facing negative impacts such as theft, property damage, and threats. And the characterization has been that this is a quick fix without ANY wrap-around services. Can you respond to both BC Liberal concerns and concerns made by small businesses in those areas about these hotel purchases?

-Setting aside the BC Liberals, there are increasing news reports in Vancouver and Victoria about residents feeling unsafe, some being threatened; property crime including break-ins directly related to homeless folks... Allegedly, even former residents of hotels are leaving because they feel unsafe. Can you explain to me what is happening in these areas, what supports are being put in not only to help the vulnerable population but also to ensure safety of other residents, and how your government has dealt with these issues?

BC LIBERAL CLAIMS

-The BC Liberals claim that while the BC NDP promised to build 114,000 units of housing over ten years, only 2,963 units of affordable have been built. In the wake of the revelation that BC only received $7-million of the federal government's $1.4 billion in funding for affordable housing, MLA Todd Stone has said "To hear NDP Housing Minister Selina Robinson criticize the federal government for not following through on its housing promises as we watch the homeless crisis worsen in cities throughout the province is especially hypocritical, given the minister has utterly failed to fulfill her own government's promises to British Columbians for the last three years". What's your response to this?

TMH

-On our last episode together (June 2019), you made a very compelling case for Temporary Modular Housing, how it's been successful, and how some of the challenges at certain TMH sites were due to rushed decampments (Nanaimo / Maple Ridge). How are the sites at Nanaimo and Maple Ridge (both sites) looking now a year+ after we spoke?

-How many TMH projects are now up and running (how many people are housed)? How many TMH projects are in the pipeline?

STRATA INSURANCE

-As a condo owner, all I know that is that my strata insurance is going up BY A LOT. Why is this happening and will the BC government intervene?

-How soon will this help me as a condo owner?

LAURIE THRONESS

-How do you feel about Laurie Throness being in the BC Liberal Caucus, and is this personal for you?

PERSONAL

-Even in quasi-virtual Question Periods, I still see that you are a target for jeering and heckling, often being drowned out. Is this just the theatrics of parliamentarianism, or does it go too far sometimes? Do you, personally, feel targeted?

(if we have time)

-I recently learned that 20+ years ago, you were a surrogate mother! What a gift to give one of your friends. There are obviously so many pressing issues right now, but has the BC Government looked at making fertility treatments, egg-freezing, and surrogacy easier in the future? (I covered "infertility"/policy in general in an episode last year). With people having children later in life, LGBTQ-couples, this will become an increasingly important issue for folks?

Hi Marielle,

Thanks for your email.

The topics will be sent out over the weekend. I know I promised late-Friday, but due to some of my own scheduling changes, I'll need the weekend. From what I can foresee: Focus on supportive/TMH housing, strata insurance, housing being made more affordable in Vancouver/Victoria, claims made by BC Liberals, and the impending election. But by Monday morning, you will have the list of topics/areas I want to cover.

Thanks for your cooperation - so looking forward to the 24th.

Hi Marielle,

Yes, it will be 1-on-1.
The length of the interview will be about 60 mins.

It will be a pre-record, so if we record on 9/25 as scheduled, the podcast will be posted on Monday 9/28.

Basically, it's the same format I recorded with Selina last year except this time (I think she went 75 mins last time?), we're doing it over Zoom, not in-person.

Hi Marielle,

Yes, we are all set!

1/ Please contact me at ^{s.22} (text/call) in case there are any issues on the day of recording.

2/ We suggest waiting for the Zoom invite 10-15 mins beforehand the recording, just because the studio has had issues with invites sent in advance. I'm not technical so I can't comment, but we had issues in the past. Generally, though we are using this room below. I would still suggest providing us with the best email(s) to send out the invite 10-15 mins before the scheduled time (so like, 1:45pm-1:50pm on 9/25 for the 2pm recording)

Topic: This is Vancolour

^{s.15; s.17}

3/ The photo needs to be decent resolution. Higher resolution is better. Please don't send the same one we used last year (<https://www.thisisvancolour.com/blog/2019/6/12/41-bc-housing-minister-selina-robinson-bc-ndp>)

Ideally, if you can send me 1-3 photos so I can choose the most suitable one.

4/ Any updated government data/statistics you can provide on the TMH program, homelessness in BC - ideally, summary sheets

I'll send out the list of Discussion Topics by late-Friday, September 18, if that's okay. Obviously, if there's an election announcement within that week, then some topics will change.

Subject: This is VANCOLOUR podcast recording: September 25th at 2:00pm

[EXTERNAL] This email came from an external source. Only open attachments or links that you are expecting from a known sender.

Hi Craig,

I hope this email finds you well. I spoke with Minister Robinson about her returning to the This is VANCOLOUR podcast for a podcast recording on Friday September 25 at 2:00pm.

She advised me to be in touch with you to confirm it in her calendar.

We will be recording over Zoom. So a few notes:

- Please confirm recording date.

- We will send the Zoom invite over email about 15 mins prior to recording time (so at about 1:45pm on 9/25). Can you confirm the best email address to send the Zoom link to?

- As a courtesy, I will send Discussion Topics 5-7 days before recording. Last time Minister Robinson was on the program, we did a pretty comprehensive review of TMH. This time, I'd like to cover a wide array of political and personal topics.

- Can you send me 1-3 promo photos of Minister Robinson that I can use for social media purposes?

If you have any comments or questions, please don't hesitate to let me know. Otherwise, I look forward to your feedback on the above.

Thank you!

Hi Minister – here is the NR for the 5 CHF projects being announced on Monday morning. Quote:

“The Community Housing Fund is about just that – community. Through this program we are working with our partners to build thousands of new homes that are affordable for a mix of people, from growing families to seniors on fixed incomes,” said Selina Robinson, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. “After the previous government ignored the housing crisis, these new homes are another step forward in delivering the urgently-needed housing that people deserve. We also know there is much more to do, and will continue to build safe, secure and affordable homes for people in B.C.”

Hi there,

Please see the below media request from Graeme Wood from Glacier Media.

While we are recommending to provide him with public info as you will note in the backgrounder we've drafted below, we also recommend that he speak with a subject matter expert to make sense of the data.

That being said, we're recommending on setting up an interview with Sean Grant, Director for Local Government Infrastructure & Finance, on background (staying away from policy analysis to ensure the information is clear). The reporter is hoping to do the interview before EOD tomorrow so we'd like to set up the interview for 1pm tomorrow as that time works well for Sean.

Here is the page the reporter is interested in, particularly schedule 304:
<https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/governments/local-governments/facts-framework/statistics/statistics>

Let us know your thoughts and comfort level of Sean doing the interview on background and providing the additional background below.

Request

I have questions around the SOFI reports from local governments.

Although the schedule seems to have changed in recent time. Basically I want to understand the difference between net financial assets and reserves.

Typically total reserves are a bit less than net assets. What constitutes the difference? -- (many things I imagine)

I also want to know what the legally binding mechanisms are for reserves. Some cities will me they are obliged to use them for certain uses. But I believe this is only bylaw. Are councils not able to change bylaws to free up money (divert reserves elsewhere, say if they want to abandon a capital project)? I imagine so but want to confirm.

Just to reiterate, I am looking at comparing reserves to operating expenses as a measure of financial stability. Fort St. John SOFI indicates this is a good metric for example.

But what I do not quite understand is whether and how a city could move reserves to operations. i.e. How long could a city survive if situations got worse? Well if it spends 700 million Annually but has just 100 in reserves that city is not as well prepared as one that spends 700 but has 700 socked away. Some cities say they can dip in but others say they cant without repaying. Is that repayment a simple matter of bylaw? And so in a real emergency can bylaws simply not change or the ministry can override to "raid the piggy bank" so to speak?

Have a look at some of the different responses I've got from cities when asking about reserves and repayment requirements:

Recommendation – Interview on background with ministry subject-matter expert Sean Grant and sending background info to reporter

Background information for reporter:

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing collects the Statements of Financial Information (SOFI) Reports from local governments on behalf of the Ministry of Finance. This information is available at:

<https://www.civicinfo.bc.ca/documents-lg-and-civicinfo?cx=004358636584211606110%3Acdkt9f7ecxg&cof=FORID%3A10&ie=UTF-8&q=sofi+2019&sa=Search> or via the Legislative Library.

Looking at the amounts for Statutory Reserves doesn't provide a lot of information. Schedule 304 includes the amounts for Statutory Reserves, at this link: https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/british-columbians-our-governments/local-governments/finance/local-government-statistics/schedule304_2018.xls.

In order to see the cash position of the local government, please refer to Schedule 301, Financial Assets, available here: https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/british-columbians-our-governments/local-governments/finance/local-government-statistics/schedule301_2018.xls.

Hi Minister,

Threshold Housing Society is holding a virtual event to celebrate the organization's 30th anniversary this Saturday. When we reviewed the event invite you agreed to send a video in lieu of attending, so Darren has pulled together details on BC Housing's work with Threshold and a draft script for you to shoot a quick video (attached). If you could send me the video by tomorrow afternoon that would be much appreciated.

Hi Jayne,

MLA Eby and his office were notified of the Area D Plan when it initially went out on public consultation (Plan + covering letter delivered directly to MLA community office on 2019-12-11 and subsequently a tour was given of the Plan area back in January). From what we can see of calendars, the last briefing for Area D Plan was back in January (Jan 10, 2020) at the constituency office followed by a tour of the plan

There is also a media type request from Nancy Furness. We could schedule it on a constit day. Let me know your thoughts:

I am working with local Tri-Cities activist Brad Nickason on a project called 'We've Got Issues' It is meant to be a non-partisan, citizen's forum with the intent to bring the people of the Tri-Cities together to discuss the challenges and issues we face in this region. Our original intent was to do live events at Douglas College, but in this time of COVID, we have partnered with Tri-Cities Community TV and have moved to the internet.

As such, Brad and I would like to invite you to come to discuss issues of concern to your constituents with respect to your role as Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. The final segment would be between 15 - 30 minutes and ideally we would like to videotape it in September. We will be shooting at the Evergreen Cultural Centre during the week within their working hours. Alternatively, we may be able to make arrangements to film the session at your constituency office in order to provide further flexibility.

Our goal is to be fair and balanced so we will try to have questions from all sides of the issue. However we will provide in advance an outline of the topics of discussion and examples of questions that may be asked. The objective is to inform the audience so they gain a deeper understanding of the topics at hand.

 - Resolutions pulled from a Block for individual consideration will be Referred to Executive, and not considered during Convention.
- If there is time remaining, individual consideration of No Recommendation resolutions will begin. They will be considered in the order in which they appear in the Resolutions Book.
 - Amendments to No Recommendation resolutions will not be considered.
 - Once the three hour time period has ended, any No Recommendation resolutions that were not considered will be referred to the UBCM Executive for consideration following Convention, as per past practice.

*Note: proposed amendments to the SR Resolutions and motions to remove a resolution from a Block, should be submitted via email to: UBCM Executive, c/o Jamee Justason, Resolutions & Policy Analyst.

Additional Special Resolution

The UBCM Executive identified an additional priority issue for 2020, and will be bringing forward an additional Special Resolution for consideration by elected delegates. Special Resolution 11 is titled Police Act Review.

Special Resolution 11 was not included in the Resolutions Book, as it was just approved by the Executive at their pre-Convention meeting on Sunday, September 20th. UBCM Executive Policies authorize the Executive to bring forward Special Resolutions at any time during the Convention. Due to the significance of this issue, the Executive Committee considers SR11 to be a priority, and is seeking member direction and support through this Special Resolution.

In addition to appearing in this edition of the Convention Bulletin, a copy was emailed to every Convention registrant. SR11 will also be posted to the Virtual Convention platform. The Police Act Review SR11 will be considered during the resolutions session immediately following consideration of SR10.

Read SR11 now.

Contact Jamee Justason, Resolutions & Policy Analyst with any questions about Special Resolution 11.

UBCM Preliminary Budget

UBCM's preliminary budget for 2020/21 is available for members to view on the website. Actuals for the year ending May 31, 2020 are also provided for comparison. The budget will be presented at the UBCM AGM on September 22nd beginning at 9:30 am.

Managing Your Profile

Delegates have the option to manage their profile in the Convention platform. In the blue bar on the left hand side of the screen is a link to "My Profile". Clicking that link gives delegates the option to make their profile public or private, turn off push notifications and emails, upload a photo and bio, and link to their twitter handle and website. Delegates can control how they appear, and how they can be contacted.

Using the Event App

The Ambulance Paramedics of BC are sponsoring an Event App to make navigating this year's convention even easier. With the App, delegates will be able to experience the convention directly from their mobile device. Personal schedules can be added to the App, and it is a convenient place to read session descriptions, message other delegates, check out the sponsors and exhibitors, and view notifications. There are installation instructions on the UBCM website explaining how to set up the Event App on an Android or Apple device.

Navigating the UBCM Convention

The 2020 UBCM Convention will take place online, September 22-24. This bulletin contains information on how to access and participate in Convention online.

Convention Platform

The online home of the UBCM Convention will be a website. Attendees will access it by using a web browser. The website uses a platform called PheedLoop, that enables us to bring together live-streaming of plenary sessions and workshops; voting during the AGM, elections for Executive positions, and the resolutions session; live chats with exhibitors and other attendees; and general information about Convention.

A menu on the left side of the Convention platform will give attendees access to different parts of the UBCM Convention. Here is a description of the menu options.

Lobby - the main starting point for the Convention platform

Live Program - view the Convention program and click on a session to view the live-stream, or if the session is not currently live, see the session description

Tradeshow - view and interact with exhibitors

Elections - view candidate videos, biographies, and information about voting

Virtual Lounge - chat and interact with other attendees

Event App - learn how to use the Event App to access Convention

Voting

Attendees who are voting delegates* will use a specific section of the Convention platform to input their votes. During the AGM and the resolutions session, votes on motions or resolutions will occur as they arise for debate. Voting for Executive positions will occur during the time set in the Convention program.

* Anyone may register to attend the UBCM Convention; however, only elected officials from a UBCM member First Nation or local government are eligible to vote during the AGM, the elections for Executive positions, and the resolutions session. These elected officials, when registered to attend Convention, are "voting delegates".

Debate

During the resolutions session, debate will take place by telephone. Voting delegates wishing to introduce a resolution (if they are the sponsor) or speak to a resolution, will be instructed to call a toll-free number. An operator will ask for the caller's Convention credentials and place the caller in a queue, where the caller will wait for the Chair to invite them to speak on a resolution.

Note: before calling the toll-free number to debate a resolution, voting delegates must mute their computer audio. This is due to a significant and noticeable delay between the audio that the caller will hear over the phone, and the audio that will be live-streaming on the Convention platform.

Login & Password

Each registrant should watch for an email on Friday, September 18 that will provide them with a login and password for Convention, and a link to the Convention platform. Attendees will use this login and password to access the Convention platform.

Over the course of Convention, if the web browser is closed, or the computer is shut down, attendees may be prompted to enter their login and password again the next time they try to access the Convention platform. So please keep the login and password handy during Convention!

Voting delegates will also use their login and password in a specific section of the Convention platform to access voting.

Note: in order to vote, each voting delegate must log in individually to the Convention platform and voting section. Their vote will only be counted if they are logged in as an individual voting delegate.

Technology Required

To participate fully in the UBCM Convention online, each attendee should have:

- a computer or tablet, with a web browser, and the capability for audio output (speakers or headphones)
- high-speed Internet connection
- or voting delegates, a telephone (can be either landline or mobile) if they wish to introduce or speak to a resolution

Viewing Convention as a Group

Some local governments may be arranging for elected officials to come together - appropriately distanced - in a board room or council chambers to view sessions at Convention. This should work well, as long as voting delegates remember the following:

- In order to vote, delegates must each use a separate computer or tablet to log in to the Convention platform. They can mute the audio on their own computer/tablet, using it only for voting, while continuing to view the Convention session with the group on the larger screen.
- During resolutions debate, voting delegates who wish to speak to a resolution should leave the group and move to a separate space to call the toll free number. Otherwise, the delay between the phone audio and the Convention platform audio will make it difficult for everyone to follow, hear, and participate in the debate.

Help & Troubleshooting

During Convention, for assistance troubleshooting any issues that registrants might have accessing Convention, there are several options.

While logged in to the Convention platform, for immediate assistance:

Detailed Convention Program Available

The full convention program is now available to download from the UBCM website. This program includes descriptions of all the workshops, and sets out the timing and speakers. There is also information on the trade show exhibitors, the delegates lounge, 2020 sponsors, and on how delegates can get support during the convention.

Community Excellence Awards Ceremony

The winners of this year's Community Excellence Awards will be announced in a ceremony starting at 1:20 pm on Wednesday, September 23rd. The awards recognize and celebrate UBCM members that have implemented projects and programs demonstrating excellence in meeting the purposes of local government in BC. This year there will be videos of each of the short-listed nominees so delegates will be able to have a look at the best projects from across the province.

Introducing Pheedloop

UBCM Executive and staff are looking forward to sharing the 2020 convention platform with delegates from September 22-24.

This is a new approach for connecting with each other, and members are really going to enjoy the experience. The platform is designed to be user friendly and easy to navigate. It has all the components that delegates are used to seeing at UBCM in one convenient virtual package.

There will be a second bulletin going out next week with all the "how to" instructions for signing in to the platform, navigating the rooms, voting for resolutions, and getting any technical support needed through phone or on-line chat. Next week's bulletin will also let delegates know when they will be receiving the emails with their credentials to log in to the convention and the voting system. Today's bulletin is to give an overview of what the virtual experience will look like at the 2020 UBCM Convention.

A delegate arrives at the Convention by signing in with their unique credentials and entering the virtual lobby. This is going to be the hub of the Convention. The lobby is the home base delegates will keep coming back to, and where they can see all the options available to them. You do not need to download the platform to participate in the Convention, it is URL based.

Last Day Today to Register

Online registration for the UBCM Convention is closing today, September 11th at 4:00 pm. This will be the last chance for members to get access to the great lineup of sessions that has been developed with speakers including renowned author Margaret Atwood; Dr. Bonnie Henry, Provincial

Health Officer; the Honourable Janet Austin, OBC, Lieutenant Governor of BC; the Honourable John Horgan, Premier of BC; the Honourable Selina Robinson, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing; and Isobel Mackenzie, BC Seniors Advocate.

Members need to register separately to fully participate in the Convention. Only registered delegates will be able to engage with presenters in the sessions, and to vote on the policy resolutions and for the election of their representatives.

Convention Program

The 2020 program is available to view on the website at Convention Program. Follow the links to read more details about the individual sessions. There are timely topics to help members navigate the challenges their communities are facing. Workshops have been developed on: Confronting Systemic Racism in Canada; Supporting Communities Responding to Homeless Encampments; Rebuilding Public Transit; Economic Recovery: Building Back Better and Stronger; Seniors Homes: What Has the Pandemic Taught Us? and The New Now: Life After Covid.

In a virtual world, members won't have to miss out when two great sessions are on at the same time. Each session will be recorded and available to delegates (24 - 48 hours after it was live). Delegates can go back and watch the other session when it's convenient. Delegates also don't have to select which workshops they want to go to in advance, all the options are clearly laid out and available with a click of the mouse. No need to rush between buildings or search for the right location.

For those who like to plan, there is an option to set up a custom session schedule for themselves. The platform will send reminders when workshops they selected are starting.

Resolutions

When it's time for the Resolutions Debate on Wednesday, registered delegates will have the chance to have their voices heard - literally. After they enter the Resolutions session on the Pheedloop platform, elected officials who wish to speak to a resolution will call a toll-free number, and give their credentials. They enter a queue for their turn to speak, which is the same process as lining up behind a Pro or Con microphone. When it's their turn at the mic, they will have the opportunity to tell other members why the resolutions on the floor should be supported or defeated. Other members in the Resolutions Session will hear the speeches in real time. Further information for voting members will be shared in a future Bulletin.

Delegates Lounge

Before joining a session, a delegate might want to connect with their colleagues from other regions. They can send a direct message to select delegates inviting them to drop by the delegate lounge sponsored by Young Anderson. In the lounge they'll be able to connect and network with whoever else has stopped in.

Another option available to delegates is to set up a forum or group chat around topics of interest. A few members could get together and start their own group chat to catch up on similar projects they are working on, and share their learnings and experiences. They can invite other members, or perhaps ask a representative from one of the sponsors or exhibitors in the Exhibitor Showcase to come join and share their technical expertise.

Exhibitor Showcase

Delegates can also drop by the Exhibitor Showcase and visit the "booths" in the trade show. There will be representatives at the booths from a wide range of companies with products and services of interest to local governments. There will be opportunities to share documents, schedule follow up calls and demos, and to chat one on one with the exhibitors either through text or to request a live video chat! All this is within the single Pheedloop platform.

Convention Support

UBCM members have shown themselves to be leaders in coping with the challenges that the pandemic has created, and are up to the challenge of learning new ways of coming together virtually at a convention.

The UBCM Convention is being supported by a professional company who has been hosting virtual events for many years. During the event delegates will have access to a support team who has seen it all, and who can help navigate the platform to make the Convention almost as enjoyable and educational an experience as the in-person version. They just can't provide any coffee or refreshments!

The UBCM Executive is looking forward to hosting members at the first virtual convention in the association's long history. It's another milestone in finding new ways to support and advocate for local governments across BC.

The UBCM Convention Bulletin is a service provided to all registrants, as well as to staff who are organizing the attendance of elected officials, in advance of the UBCM Convention. Subject: NEW - Sept. 16th Treasury Board Meeting

Importance: High

Good Afternoon,

Please be advised we have a newly scheduled Treasury Board meeting on September 16th from 8:00am – 9:00am. There will be seats available in both Chambers and VCO, with Skype calling as an option (SEE BELOW). If you could please indicate your respective official's attendance intentions (Skype/Chambers/VCO) by responding to this email by end of day tomorrow, September 11th, it would be appreciated. Given the capacity restrictions, any seats that remain available in Chambers/VCO will be allocated to others once the Board's attendance is finalized.

For those members calling in by Skype, the calling details are listed below. Ensure you include the number which your member will be dialing in from as this is the only identifier on the screen for staff to reconcile who is being admitted onto the call.

Material for this meeting will be provided to Members on September 15, 2020.

Please note the changes in red below:

Hi Minister,

Threshold Housing Society is holding a virtual event to celebrate the organization's 30th anniversary this Saturday. When we reviewed the event invite you agreed to send a video in lieu of attending, so Darren has pulled together details on BC Housing's work with Threshold and a draft script for you to shoot a quick video (attached). If you could send me the video by tomorrow afternoon that would be much appreciated.

Thanks!
