Today I'm in Kamloops to meet with people who work on the frontlines of the overdose crisis as well as those who have struggled with mental health and addictions problems. Thank you to everyone who bravely shared their stories and perspectives with me. Your feedback will inform our approach to improving our system of care in B.C.

Subject: Heads up: Federal announcement of funding for public safety/enforcement

Raymond – please can you flag this with the minister?

The Federal Government is announcing today that it will be providing funding, as well as planning a summit, to tackle gun violence and gang activity across the country. It's earmarking up to $327.6 million over five years, and $100 million annually thereafter. It's also announcing $10 million in urgent support to B.C. to deal with the opioid overdose crisis.

From the federal release:

- The federal government is also taking action to address the opioid crisis, including:
 - Allowing officers at the border to open mail weighing 30 grams or less, in order to detain or seize, illicit substances (such as fentanyl) that may be in smaller packages;
 - Requiring any pill presses or encapsulators to be registered with Health Canada and giving officers at the border the authority to detain any unregistered pill presses or encapsulators;
 - Investing $100 million over five years, and $22.7 million ongoing, to support national measures associated with the Canadian Drugs and Substances Strategy.

- Making legislative changes to help with harm reduction, such as streamlining the application process for supervised consumption sites;
- Making naloxone available without a prescription and expediting the approval of the nasal spray version so it is now available in Canada;
- Allowing the import of medications for immediate and urgent public health needs, that are not yet authorized in Canada;
- Passing the Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act, which provides some legal protection for individuals who seek emergency help during an overdose;
- Investing in more than $350 million each year in community programming to help address the mental wellness needs of First Nations and Inuit populations.
- Providing $10 million in urgent support to the Province of British Columbia and $6 million to the Province of Alberta to assist with their responses to the overwhelming effects of the opioid crisis in these provinces. $5M will also be given to Manitoba for targeted health issues – including responding to the opioid crisis.

It was wonderful to meet and chat with you this weekend. I was the person who chatted with you and the Minister about my past role as Minister of Healthy Living in Manitoba (where I was also Minister of Addictions and Mental Health). I also gave you an envelope with my name on it and some ideas of great preventative programs which we implemented in Manitoba.

First I would love a chat to chat with you and the Minister

Second I would like to offer my time and expertise for you to use however you need it.

Please feel free to contact me by email or phone at s.22 if you or the Minister would like to chat further.

What I would like is just a comment on whether there is any consideration of implementing, if there isn't already, regulations specific to treatment centres. As well, maybe something about the centre Michelle is opening next month and the stringent rules she is proposing to help clients.

I am hoping to put a positive spin on this with the opening of the new facility here.

Background Recommendation:

Information for reporter on background

Daycare centres and residential substance use treatment centres are both licensed under the Community Care and Assisted Living Act. However, each follows different sets of regulations: daycare centres must follow Child Care Licensing Regulations, where substance use treatment centres must follow Residential Care Regulations. Regulations for residential care include (but are not limited to) admissions screening, dispute resolution, menu planning, resident and family councils, care planning and medication.

Another major difference is that daycare centres only require “care plans” if a child needs special considerations, such as medical or behavioural needs. All people in treatment centres, including adults and children, need care plans. People in treatment centres have diverse needs, and regulations need to offer protection and support in a way that makes sense depending on the facility staff, layout and the type of care being provided.

Hi Meaghan,

I spoke to Sarah and ultimately she wants the OPS to have an indoor space before Christmas. She thinks that the BC Housing is stalling their efforts to move into 58 E. Hastings and wants a call from MJD. I spoke to Matt Djonlic (E.A. to Minister Robinson) they have also been dealing with Sarah Blyth on this issue. Matt will look into the status of OPS' request in that Ministry and will let us know of any recently development.

Sarah is asking for a 5 min phone with MJD. Not sure if MJD has the time before the weekend. Anything update you have about OPS request would be appreciated. Sarah is expecting a call from our office before the weekend.

Hello Raymond,

I'm writing to follow-up on this most recent letter from s.22
s.22

On October 31st, s.22 called the office to follow up on the several emails that he had previously written to MJD. The purpose of his Oct 31st call was to request a phone call with Meaghan. Meaghan asked me to refer this to you to make the phone call, which I did that same day. (see attached email)

Before progressing this latest email from s.22 can you please confirm whether you have spoken with s.22 If so, is there any information that we should know before replying to him?

With thanks, in advance, for your prompt reply.

Most of you will have received your #BuyBC selfie signs today. In advance of Agriculture Day Nov 7th, we are asking MLAs to take a selfie with the sign and your favorite BC Product. There are suggested social media messages in the attached toolkit.

Please keep your selfie sign and bring it back to your constituency for selfie opportunities at farmers markets, local food restaurants and green grocers with BC products.

If you have not yet received your #BuyBC sign please stop by the whip's office room 243 to pick one up.

Thank you very much for your participation.

Brenda,

I'm finalizing times with the project holder, but can you find out how long Minister Darcy plans to stay? It sounds like the dance portion is 20 minutes, followed by the social skills teaching portion, for a total of approximately 45 minutes. The project holder would like to adapt the presentation to ensure that the Minister is able to see the highlights if she cannot stay for the full presentation.

Also, it is worth passing on that approximately half of the school (around 300 people), including teachers, will be in attendance. And, it was in the event proposal, but we just want to highlight again that there will be no media in attendance.

Thank-you!

Hello,

<https://globalnews.ca/news/3878596/they-give-out-flu-shots-now-could-pharmacists->

one-day-test-your-drugs/

It's about fentanyl strips and the idea that it could be extended for use in pharmacies. There's a lot of question around this – ieit's a business, it's around the general public.

Can I have the health minister on what she thinks.

I've reached out to the pharmacy association as well for comment. Thank You.
I'll take Judy as early as she's available – I'm the 6am reporter...so anytime will do!

Thank You,

Hi Meaghan, Anna,
Just so we are all on the same page, Corporate Operations had some clarification questions which were sent to IAO (and Marilyn responded). CO is currently pulling together records that they have.

Please note the clarification below when completing your search. Tks, Patty

<!--[if !supportLists]-->1) <!--[endif]-->
>Correspondence received from NDP MLA and/or MLA office staff.
<!--[if !supportLists]-->2) <!--[endif]-->If the original correspondence came in via email – they only want the email (not any attachments) and of course if the correspondence originally came in via mail/hard copy from the MLAs office, then that would be a responsive record as well.
<!--[if !supportLists]-->3) <!--[endif]-->All correspondence is to be included, doesn't matter what the topic/subject is.

Records are due by November 22.

Hope all this makes sense! Patty

Good Morning Patty,

Please see my response this time in green.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->1) <!--[endif]-->
>Correspondence received from the 'MLA directly' or from the "MLA office"
It's correspondence both the MLA and MLA office staff. – perfect

<!--[if !supportLists]-->2) <!--[endif]-->Most correspondence (letters/requests) comes in by email... does the applicant want all emails and the letters attached? Or just the letters/request?
Applicant is seeking letters and e-mail but the attachments are not to be included either. – quite often the email says "see attached letter" - do we include the email with attached letter OR are you talking about attachments with the letter ie consent forms etc. etc.
I confirmed with the applicant they are only wanting the e-mail. Not the attachment. So even if the e-mail just say.."please see attached" they are ok with that.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->3) <!--[endif]--
>Correspondence includes ?? ie letters, mtg requests, information bullets... etc? what does the applicant mean by "correspondence" - anything and everything??
Letters and e-mails - however, everything comes in via email so do we include emails with a meeting request and emails with information bullets, etc
Yes please include meeting requests and e-mails with information bullets etc.

Any further questions let me know.

We hadn't contemplated that she would have a role – she would be invited as a guest. We currently have six speakers because there are so many partners, which is a lot of speakers, and Mayor Robertson has to leave the event by 9:25am, so the speaking portion needs to be kept pretty short. That said, if it is a significant issue, we can strategize on that.

Here is the full package, with the exception of the social media, as discussed. Will send that as soon as we get the release link.

Can you please ensure the minister has a print out of the new itinerary for tomorrow, as there were some adjustments due to shifts in the First Nations pieces. It is both a stand-alone document and embedded in the first several pages of the speaking notes document. All the new stuff has been highlighted.

Please note the premier's speaking notes are in draft – we don't have a copy of the final – but including them so the minister has an idea of what he will say. MC notes and validator's notes also included.

Thanks
Sarah.

Subject: Two interviews today

Hi Sarah - I know your minister has been out on her announcement today. Just FYI Clayton has done an interview with CBC Vancouver and spoke only on the law enforcement side of getting drugs off the streets. He's doing another interview at 4:05 on CBC Victoria's talk show. Quick transcript from the Vancouver interview:

<!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Law enforcement very much engaged in the harm reduction aspect - province quick to get naloxone kits out to police, police have definitely embraced the harm reduction approach.

- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Poison in the drug system - coming in from outside of the country - focused law enforcement needs to be involved. We have provided significant funding to CFSEU - additional money go after fentanyl traffickers. We are talking about those who prey on vulnerable not talking about going after the users or those suffering from addiction - going after those who are in for profit selling this poison on the streets.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->RCMP strategy is to work cooperatively with national and internationally - working with china now to see if they can put a dent in Fentanyl and analogues - working with partners in the U.S. - with CBSA - mail centres - borders. We're providing funding for protection equipment and they are working at the street level.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->China is believed to be main source based on info from police - but cannot assume there is no domestic production - but majority from china. Rise in interdiction at mail centres - also use of dark web - and more traditional ways to bring drugs that been battling for years.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->In some ways this has been an enormous game changer for police and law enforcement world-wide. It is the toxicity - the fact that it is easily concealable - high profit margin - created somewhat perfect storm for law enforcement. We won't arrest our way out of this but a high-level pressure on the networks that are bringing into this country needs to be maintained and police need the tools to do that.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Early on in this would have said Feds a little slow in waking up to this crisis but I can tell you now that they are very much at the table in terms of law enforcement capacity - RCMP nat and international, CBSA, various gov't departments. Minister Farnworth has also asked us to look at provincial legislation such as pill press legislation - we aren't going to leave any stone and we are seeing a very high level of collaboration from the federal government now. But there are significant challenges in interdicting this.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->Q about legalization of all drugs? The police enforce the laws that are on the books...police will work with the law as it is on the books today.
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->• <!--[endif]-->There is an argument to be made to increase the availability of treatment options - the police - particularly Van PD have been clear they'd like to see treatment more readily available on demand. Minister of Health and Addictions has been working on that - Perry Kendell has been working on that -

Since it's ministry related I'm copying in Debbie so she can work on booking the meeting and liaising with our DMO. I'm thinking Doug or Neilane should be there given the rank of those attending. We should also advise Minister Farnsworth's team. I'll let Liam and Veronica know.

Debbie can you reach out and look for a time the week of Dec 5th when she's back in the lower mainland? It might work best to host at Vancouver Cabinet office as I'm assuming MMF might want to attend.

Many thanks,

Subject: RE: Metro Vancouver EA Meeting Tomorrow?

Hi everyone,

It was great to see many of you over the weekend. I know there was some talk of getting another Metro Van EA check-in/meeting in soon. Thought I'd spearhead this and see if we can all meet again before our Ministers are back with us in our respective constituencies.

I can host the next one. We've got a nice big boardroom here at the Whalley office. Plus, I think we're reasonably accessible for everyone in Metro Vancouver – just minutes from the Patullo and Port Mann Bridges.

I'd suggest one of the following dates: November 21, 28 or 30 at 11 AM? (QP is at 10 AM on each of those days so you're additionally welcome to come early and watch that here)

If you can make any of the 3 dates, just reply with 'ALL' and if you can make it for only one or two, then specify which ones. I think that would help me the best in narrowing down a date that works for us all. Thanks!

Sincerely,
Ramesh

Hi Team,

Now that multiple people are booking time into her calendar MJD has suggested we have a call on Tuesday or Wed to discuss how we can prioritize her meetings and ensure she isn't getting over-scheduled.

We now have the constituency, the minister's office in Victoria, the EA in New West, the Ministry of MHA, caucus, the legislature and communications all vying for her time so would love to hear your ideas about how to preserve some space for emerging issues while not overloading her calendar.

Debbie could you find time for yourself, Raymond, Anna, Laura and I to have a call Tuesday or Wednesday? Sarah not sure if you'd like to join as well from a communications lens?

I'll ask Layne how other offices are managing but if you have any insights please bring them to the call. All ideas welcome!

Hello Raymond:

I am writing further to our meeting last Friday Nov 10th with Minister Judy Darcy and yourself on behalf of the Pediatric Cancers Survivorship Society of BC. In summary, the Pediatric Cancers Survivorship Society of BC (PCSSBC) is extremely concerned about the delivery of direct medical and coordinated care for complex care patients suffering from late effects of childhood cancer treatments. The need for affordable housing for this population as they age and parents are no longer able to care for their adult children needs to be addressed.

As requested following are a few points in moving our issues forward:

- Assist with scheduling a meeting with the Minister of Health Adrian Dix
- Assist with determining who can assist with housing needs

On a separate note, Wilfred raised a request with Judy for an introduction to Minister Bruce Ralston in regards to economic development in the Boston Bar region.

Any assistance you can provide would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you kindly for meeting with Wilfred and I on behalf of PCSSBC.

Best regards,

A colleague just advised that a further discount can be obtained by requesting an e-way account from Staples. I have just emailed Staples for this and will order the printer as soon as this account is established.

I will forward the purchase confirmation once bought, so that you know that the printer is on its way.

Subject: URGENT - Letters of Greetings

Hello Raymond,

I appreciate that you and the Minister have had a busy morning and am following up on the two Letters of Greeting that I sent to you this morning and that you confirmed that you had received.

As these both need to be sent out in final version by 2p.m. this afternoon, can you please reply as a matter of urgency, to confirm that you will be able to meet the 2p.m deadline to reply with any changes that the Minister would like.

If this will not be possible, we will have to rely on our Communications team to finalize the Letters of Greeting and send them out to the two organizations awaiting their receipt.

What I would like is just a comment on whether there is any consideration of implementing, if there isn't already, regulations specific to treatment centres. As well, maybe something about the centre Michelle is opening next month and the stringent rules she is proposing to help clients.

I am hoping to put a positive spin on this with the opening of the new facility here.

Background Recommendation:

Information for reporter on background

Daycare centres and residential substance use treatment centres are both licensed under the Community Care and Assisted Living Act. However, each follows different sets of regulations: daycare centres must follow Child Care Licensing Regulations, where substance use treatment centres must follow Residential Care Regulations. Regulations for residential care include (but are not limited to) admissions screening, dispute resolution, menu planning, resident and family councils, care planning and medication.

Another major difference is that daycare centres only require "care plans" if a child needs special considerations, such as medical or behavioural needs. All people in treatment centres, including adults and children, need care plans. People in treatment centres have diverse needs, and regulations need to offer protection and support in a way that makes sense depending on the facility staff, layout and the type of care being provided.
