Dear Minister Darcy & Matt,

I hope you are well. Such a treat to have the glorious weather...would be nice to be outside!

Wanted to provide a quick update to our request for funding from the Ministry (original submission attached).

Progress re partnerships: I met with the Canadian Mentoring Partnership (CMP). Although they are Big Brother Big Sister (BBBS) focused, their mandate is: a coalition of organizations that provide youth mentoring. Our goal is to build sector capacity to expand access to mentoring across Canada. Our work is focused in four areas: research, technology, public education and development of regional networks. s.22

s.22, I know the key people at CMP, so they have been generous with their time. Their IT person has provided initial insight re technology, and will be talking further with the s.21

New technology a top 2020 priority: In early January, my four colleagues and I completed goal setting for 2020-2021. A new digital platform arose as a top priority – s.21

It's getting worse: Anxiety amongst those with eating disorders seems to be on the rise, and we are dealing with an increasing number of deeply troubled individuals. We don't have a wait list for Online Peer Support (OPS) fortunately. However, we do have wait lists for Personal Recovery Space (PRS) and Hand in Hand. We are doing our best to recruit, train, and support volunteers as fast as possible, while ensuring we retain the integrity of the program. s.21

s.21

Hearing it from others: Here is part of a transcript from a February OPS Chat. It highlights the need for new technology, and also illustrates the value of OPS.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“I’m not a fan of the lag, it’s worse on my phone than on my laptop”

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“There are so many different chat sites, you’d think they’d find one that works better” (this person also uses a chat room called “depression-chat-rooms.org” – it’s different than ours, in that it has no moderators)

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“I like being able to rant and connect with like-minded people who understand the overwhelming anxiety around food”

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“I like that you have a trained moderator here who will guide conversations and help with suggestions – it’s unlike all the other supports out there”

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“I really like it here, it reminds me of group therapy. When you’re dealing with a battle that goes on in your own head, it helps to have other voices of reason”

<!--[if !supportLists]-->● <!--[endif]-->“We’ve got to show them that people are using this service and it’s worth their while to invest in it”

Other Funder?: We have a strong relationship with a foundation that focuses on one-time project funding. As with the Ministry, this groups want comfort that the initiative will be sustained through other means. s.13; s.21
s.13; s.21

GBA+: ADM Melanie Stewart very kindly gave a GBA+ presentation – via zoom – to our board and staff in January. It was extremely well received. In fact, I shared with Melanie an instant result from a senior executive on our board, who after the presentation was completing a form and let me know how upset he was by the suggestion that someone might be non-conforming: “male, female or Gender variant/non-conforming”. A whole new level of awareness.

If there is anything I can do to support our funding submission, please let me know. I’m so hopeful this will work out. Thank you so much for your support.

Please find attached the Updated Acting Minister list to reference when requested Minister's Vacations.

I also wanted to include a refresher on the process for booking Vacations.

Please follow the process below when seeking confirmation of Minister's vacations:

- Once you receive dates from your Minister, check dates with your 1st Acting Minister's AC, and 2nd if necessary, to confirm that they are able to provide back up. Please note, vacation requests are on a first come, first serve basis, so unless the Minister being asked to be backup has official business or extenuating circumstances, the request takes precedence.
- Once you've confirmed backup Minister is available, submit dates and confirmation of Acting Minister via email to Danny Loubert in the PO and copy Debbie Wade and Vanessa Geary.

- Danny will review with Amber Hockin and send confirmation within one week.

TO: MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY
CC: CAUCUS STAFF AND MINISTERIAL STAFF

Dear Members –

I am pleased to inform you that we have received the first shipment of the new fifth edition of Parliamentary Practice in British Columbia, the procedural authority of choice in our Legislative Assembly. I invite Members who have not already received a copy of the new edition to stop by the Office of the Clerk (Room 221) to pick up their copy. We anticipate that additional copies for caucuses will be available in early March.

The fifth edition differs from earlier editions, which were organized numerically by Standing Order. The fifth edition is organized into 18 thematic chapters, with the Standing Orders, Practice Recommendations and pertinent excerpts from statutes featured throughout the supporting text. Content and commentary are significantly expanded, including new text on the roles and work of Members, the foundational elements of parliamentary procedure, voting and divisions, the legislative process, financial procedures and parliamentary privilege.

While the Legislative Assembly's procedural operations are the focus of this book, there is also some insight into the administrative operations of the Assembly and the machinery that supports the work of elected representatives and the work of the democratic institution of Parliament. More comprehensive content, numbered sections, callouts with key information, an improved index and a modern design are hallmarks of this edition.

It is my hope that these elements make the content more user-friendly and accessible to Members and all British Columbians.

Please stay tuned for an announcement of a formal 'book launch' event in early March – we hope to see you there.

Best regards,
Kate

Really hope you set up a meeting between Melinda and Judy as soon as possible...and then a time when I could connect with Judy around my meeting with Steven Brown....all of this is important in terms of both end of year funding but also the line

item allocations for 2020-21

Please call me if any of this is confusing and/or you need more detail...and please let me know when Judy can meet with Melinda

Hi Taryn,

I was not aware that the City was planning any sort of announcement today. There some calls made at the political level, but I don't know the details of these.

Our process today is to send emails / letters to all applicants — successful and unsuccessful. We do have a website that lists funded projects, but this gets updated only once a Contribution Agreement is signed, which takes a few weeks to prepare.

I expect all 26 projects will be announced one way or the other in the coming weeks/months. In the past some of these have been done jointly with the PT but these are usually coordinated by the Minister's Offices. We will certainly flag your interest and be happy to keep you up to date.

I've included Jen to help with any follow today because I'm in DC and not so easily accessible.

Subject: SUAP Funding Update

Dear Taryn,

I am pleased to provide you with an update on funding through Health Canada's Substance Use and Addictions Program (SUAP).

As you know, SUAP launched an anticipatory call for proposals (CFP) on July 17, 2019. Response to this CFP was overwhelming – by the end of the proposal period at the end of September, Health Canada received 239 proposals representing over $350 million in potential funding opportunities.

These decisions were arrived at through a robust evaluation process that included review from a range of federal subject-matter specialists with input solicited from officials from a number of provinces (including British Columbia), an external advisory body, and people with lived and living experience.

Special consideration was given to a number of factors including:

- Support from provincial officials for projects in their jurisdiction.

- Ensuring an optimal balance of projects funded across the country.
- Evidence of a demonstrated need.
- Meaningful representation of projects reflecting Indigenous needs.

s.17 However, SUAP is looking into other funding mechanisms to support this initiative. Similarly, an additional 11 proposals from BC were found to have significant merit and are being retained for future funding consideration. This includes the remaining four proposals in stream 2 that received support from the BC Ministries of Health and Mental Health and Addictions.

It is anticipated that SUAP will notify both success and unsuccessful applicants on Thursday, February 20. Subsequently, SUAP will follow up with stream 2 applicants to ensure that the conditions outlined in Minister Darcy's letter of support are addressed.

Should you have any questions or wish to discuss, please do not hesitate to contact me.
