Clear, understandable messaging From a clinician using plain language - and really good arguments. I think we should study it and use it.

As mentioned, below is the reach out I did to my Deputy colleagues on partnership opportunities. I think it makes the case for a focus on mental health in economic recovery in a fairly succinct way.

Subject: Economic Recovery - Mental Health

Following from the DMC discussion, I just wanted to put an offer on the table to partner/work with any ministries as they are considering proposals/ideas for economic recovery. Here is some context for the offer:

- Mental health and substance use problems have an impact on the BC economy. A recent Canadian study indicated that poor mental health costs the Canadian economy $51 billion annually in lost time and lost productivity. British Columbia's proportional share is $6.6 billion.
- Recent polling tells us that half of Canadians report a worsening of their mental health since the COVID-19 pandemic and 62 percent of British Columbians report feeling more worried than usual. The polling is also consistently showing young adults (18-24) to be the most affected.
- In response to COVID-19, the Province increased access to virtual mental health supports through an investment in existing mental health programs and launching some short term new services. Through a partnership with Canadian Mental Health Association, the BounceBack program and the Living Life to the Full program were both expanded. BounceBack provides support to individuals experiencing low mood, mild to moderate depression, anxiety, stress or worry. The Living Life to the Full program is designed to provide practical skills in coping with stress arising from life changes (for example job loss) and skills to problem solve and boost mood. Internally we have been discussing an idea of trying to find ways to create connections or linkages between these programs and employment support programs.
- As part of the overall investment noted above, we have also launched some virtual mental health supports for front-line workers to provide psychological and social supports to help front-line workers take care of their mental health and well-being. So we have some learnings here around supporting mental health in the workplace.

- We also know from previous studies following health pandemics that the impacts on mental health and substance use can continue well past the immediate pandemic and there can be medium to long-term effects on the population's mental well-being.
- All this to say that it will be important to consider how best to support individuals to be mentally healthy and productive in returning back to the workforce.

Feel free to reach out if you want to discuss any opportunities for collaboration moving forward.

Good day Judy;

Greetings again! I hope your week is off to a fine start s.22
s.22 Didn't want to bother you on the weekend as our "downtime" is really extra special right now.

Thank you for agreeing to participate in the "Rural and First Nations Health & Wellness Summit" on the 29th and 30th June. As I had pointed out in my brief note to you, the Rural Coordination Centre of BC (RCCbc) has pulled this together in short order following the Premier and Health Minister's formal announcement that a new "rural health framework" is being envisioned for British Columbia. This Summit will seek to achieve grassroots connections with many of BC's rural and indigenous communities in bringing forward perspectives to shape and drive the rural framework.

It is a tremendous opportunity for partnership indeed. As you pointed out, this is very timely given the heightened occurrence and prevalence of mental health issues related to the COVID19 pandemic and sadly, a rather alarming spike again in overdoses. Your presence and participation would bring great value linking across ministries as we think about the value of partnership in the broadest sense.

You are welcome to call me when your calendar allows. While we are both busy people, I can only imagine that your time is much more in demand. My mobile is s.22

Attached is the formal invitation to the Summit - registration is required. I have also included a draft agenda for the layout of the two days. Our planning committee team already has already had a heads up from me to expect a registration from you and your ministry. Feel free invite a key staff member or two from your ministry to join in too if that would be of value. The event is fully endorsed by BC's Joint Collaborative Committees as well as Leadership Council.

I have additionally copied in two key staff members at the RCCbc to ensure they track your registration and loop back to you as needed - Kim Williams and Anne Lesack (both copied in).

Best wishes,

Alan Ruddiman

Subject: FW: Key facts for coroner's report

For information/printing:

1. The drug supply is exceptionally toxic – way beyond what we were seeing earlier.
 - See drug alert data below and full info attached. In May alone, the average number of drug alerts issued per week almost doubled compared to the average months before (almost tripled if you just look at Jan & Feb pre-COVID) – and alerts were issued in more communities in May than in the first three months of the year combined. I think this is a good, easily graspable example to share with people about what's going on – helps illustrate the exceptional circumstances we're in & warn people.

	Average # of alerts per week	# of communities where an alert was issued
Jan 2020	3.4	9
Feb 2020	2.9	6
Mar 2020	4.6	6
April 2020	5.7	15
May 2020	8	24

- "Post-mortem toxicology results suggest that there has been a greater number of cases with extreme fentanyl concentrations in May compared with previous months (concentrations exceeded 50 µg/L)." (Coroner's Report)
2. The Coroner's Office has not found hydromorphone in any of the deceased, which is a clear indication that the Risk Mitigation Guidelines are not a factor in the increase in OD Deaths.
 3. "There was no significant change in location of death in Apr-May 2020 compared to Jan-Mar 2020." While more people could well be using alone in the same location, this indicates that the primary driver of increased deaths is the toxicity of the supply.
 - "56% of illicit drug toxicity deaths occurred in private residence, 26% occurred in other residences, 15% occurred outside, and 1% occurred in other inside locations."
 4. This is a problem/crisis across the country (see recent CBC article & statement from Dr. Tam)
<https://www.cbc.ca/news/health/drug-overdoses-covid19-1.5605563>

- Strongly emphasize how much more toxic the supply is now compared to earlier and demonstrate it concretely (increase in drug alerts).
- Clearly spell out why that's the case - border closures and disruptions in illegal supply chains.
- Remind media that while there was so much more to do and the number of deaths was still unacceptable, deaths were coming down pre-COVID – the work of the Ministry, Overdose Emergency Response Centre and the collective efforts of all partners were making a difference and things were headed in the right direction. COVID changed everything. (Understand Eric will be in touch with you Jean-Marc re some initiatives Dix/DBH could consider highlighting)

Many thanks for your support,

Sarah

Subject: Recommendations to Select Standing Committee on Finance and Government Services - Budget 2021

Dear Minister Darcy,

In response to the incredibly tragic release of May's illicit drug toxicity deaths I wanted to share with you my comments on the Budget 2021 Consultations last week (<https://www.leg.bc.ca/documents-data/committees-transcripts/20200609am-Finance-Victoria-Blues> - I spoke at around 10:30am) and also my yet to be filed written submission (attached).

In summary the Phoenix Society is recommending the following:

- 1. Investment in the continuum of services for mental health and addiction, including funding for integrated, wrap-around support services that includes employment training, health care services, and affordable housing; and
- 2. Invest in lasting recovery: continuing care and better connections to housing

We have seen elevated levels of overdose for a long time now, however the difference in these past few months is that record numbers of people are dying. It is so heart-breaking and I have got to say I am growing tired of seeing treatment and recovery services left out of the conversation. We need a full continuum of supports, yet the most discussed strategies and largest voices in the province seem to think that we can get there with harm reduction alone, that all we need is safe supply and decriminalization. If anything, now more than ever we need to also enhance access to recovery supports. Then once we have people in care, we must do a better job at keeping them connected to services (even if they lapse) and if they successfully complete the program, to be properly supported to sustain recovery once they leave our residential services.

You know I am a strong proponent of harm reduction services and their place in the continuum so this is not an either/or thing for me, we need both. But the recovery community is becoming increasingly frustrated about the lack of attention for this vital part of the continuum and the role we can play in this public health emergency response. We provide services that form a very important part of the continuum of care, without providing the opportunity for recovery we are spinning tires, keeping people alive but not necessarily living.

I have also got to say I was a little disappointed in this week's Ministry statement on May's illicit drug toxicity deaths. I had heard that there was going to be a mention of supportive recovery services in the release, but somehow this was edited out and I suspect this happened even without your knowledge. This is indicative of the problem, the voice of the recovery community is not being heard at a health authority and possibly ministry level, or if there is one it is being drowned out.

This past week's news has compelled me to strengthen my voice and that of our sector. I truly believe that like with COVID-19 this is a public health emergency that we can overcome. But it will take an increased commitment from government, to ensure the necessary investments are made to our mental health and addictions continuum of care. To keep people alive and safe and to offer them hope for recovery and a brighter future.

As always I stand ready to do whatever I can to support you, your ministry and those struggling with mental health and substance use.

Hello Keir,

My apologies for not responding sooner to your email. It has been a heartbreaking and very intense week. I really appreciate your thoughtful letter - and your powerful submission to the Finance Committee. I look forward to speaking with you directly about it soon and I have asked Matt to arrange a time for us to talk. The House is back in session next week so it won't happen right away - but very soon for sure!

Thanks, Keir.

Hi Minister,

I have a few things I would like to bring up with you!

1. Your government issued laptop – will you please be sure to bring it to Victoria when you come on Sunday (I've put a reminder in your calendar already). You will need it for Caucus meetings. We have purchased a headset with mic for you so it will be ready for you to use on Monday.
 2. We were advised today that Thursdays and Friday will be virtual sittings only – no one in the House. Do you think you will be returning to Vancouver on Wednesday evenings? Or will you stay in Vic for the Thursday and Fridays?
 3. Vacation – the PO made contact today about vacation and about how everyone needs to work together and they are hoping Members will keep their vacation plans down to two weeks.

We were wondering if there is any general messaging or themes from Government for this year's National Indigenous Peoples Day, or anything that Judy should avoid saying in her greeting?

Dear Ministers/Committee Members:

As we return to the legislature, you will note appropriate protocols and measures to ensure physical distancing throughout the building have been implemented, including room capacity limits. At this time, the capacity for cabinet chambers is 14 (including staff).

The Premier's Office is working to develop a rota system to ensure those wishing to attend in person will have an opportunity to do so, while prioritizing attendance in person for those who are presenting items.

To support physical distancing measures for Cabinet and Cabinet Committee meetings held in chambers, please identify whether you have a preference to attend in-person in chambers, by video conference (from your office), or no preference.

For those who wish to attend in chambers, we will communicate with your office on a weekly basis to confirm whether we can accommodate your attendance in person.

The process for requesting leave remains unchanged.

Please respond to this email noting your preference on attendance.

Thank you,
Zita

Subject: FW: Background Information - OD

Hi Geoff,

Please find attached and below background information in advance of our meeting on Wednesday, the purpose of which is to discuss (1) the significant increase in overdose deaths in recent months, and (2) the status of the implementation of the Risk Mitigation Guidelines (i.e. referred to by some as 'safe supply'). A more detailed backgrounder will follow tomorrow with more specific numbers around services during the pandemic. Here is a link to an overview of the guideline for ease of reference of needed. <https://www.bccsu.ca/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Overview-COVID-19-Risk-Mitigation-Interim-Guidance-v2.pdf>

As you are aware, there has been a significant increase in overdose deaths in March and April 2020. The illicit drug toxicity death totals for March and April 2020, 112 and 117 deaths respectively, mark the first time B.C. has recorded over 100 illicit drug toxicity deaths in back-to-back months since November and December 2018.

These numbers also reflect a reversal of the trend that was occurring in 2019. There were 981 suspected drug toxicity deaths in 2019. This was a 36% decrease over the number of deaths seen in 2018 (1,543). The evidence shows that what we were doing was working - expansion of OPS', expansion of access to Opioid Agonist Therapy treatment, increased access to Naloxone kits, advertising campaign encouraging people not to use alone and to check their drugs whenever possible. There was still more work to be done, as these numbers were still significantly higher than before the public health emergency was declared in 2016. (2015 – 529), but that work was (and still is) ongoing. However, then we were struck with the global pandemic and numbers of OD deaths started to rise, not just in BC but right across the country.

May is likely to have the highest number of deaths ever recorded in one month in British Columbia at approx. 170 deaths.

There are a number of reasons for this:

- Increased toxicity of drugs – The regular flow of drugs over the border has been dramatically affected by border closures, resulting in drugs being cut with a variety of highly toxic substances.
 - it is important to note that the Coroner's office has not found hydromorphone in any of the deceased, which is a clear indication that the Risk Mitigation Guidelines that have facilitated the prescribing of 'safe supply' are NOT a factor in the increase in OD Deaths.*
- Decreased use of OPS/SCS's – due to social distancing measures, most OPS/SCS's have had to reduce their capacity to accommodate the orders from the PHO. This includes increased wait times for use, reduced hours of operation etc....
- Inhalation – Inhalation has become increasingly common as a form of consumption. It is more difficult to reverse an overdose, and naloxone does not work as well.

As requested, I have also included an Issues Note about SUAP. This is an overview of the projects that were successful in their applications to Health Canada's Substance Use and Addiction Program (SUAP), three other potential projects that the federal government is considering funding, and the MySafe project that the feds are currently reviewing.

I have also attached a document that includes links to some recent articles that have been written about the Risk Mitigation Guidelines, a.k.a Safe Supply and some that also speak to decriminalization. Media coverage has been relatively limited, but you'll note that across the province coverage of the guidelines has been positive and focused on calls for it's expansion/faster roll out.

Lastly, you'll find attached a transcript of an interview with Dr. Megan Hill, a family physician in Kelowna who has been prescribing safe drugs supplies in the Interior Health region. I have included it because she describes her experience with the guidelines and their potential impact in a way that is quite clear.

I've been texting with Kulpreet Singh from SAYMHA tonight. It's their first anniversary and I was going to go to an event with them this June that is of course not happening.

But we've talked about having a virtual mtg with them, which I would love to do. Not in the next 2 or 3 weeks, but before the end of July for sure.

I will share Kulpreet's contact info if you don't have it.

Thx!

It's important to find out more detail than that. What is the time period for the (what looks like a $140 million spend on MHA strategy & OD crisis? What specific commitments Have they made within that $100 million for MHA strategy? Same for OD response. Not sure how it gets to $180 Million.

Thx

Hi Minister and team,

I have attached for your review and approval the News Release, QA and first reading Speaking Notes for review and approval. It has been reviewed/ approved by Nick/ Neilane and team.

A few things to note

- We will need the quote in the NR approved so we can get the NR into the system as soon as possible. Since we are waiting until Minister stands up in the house to release the NR, it would be helpful for us to know the time that will be happening, Kelly/Karin, can you find out?
- The QA is 15 pages and intended for us to share with other Ministries, that is why it is as extensive as it is. We can amend and adjust the size for any media interviews that you do in the coming days/ weeks

Thanks all,

Eric

Perhaps I misunderstood.....but I thought you were referring to a document summarizing the submissions that had come in from Ministries to Don Wright.

Subject: Memo: COVID-19 Recovery Measures

Dear colleagues,

I want to thank you and your staff for your ongoing work to support British Columbians during these unprecedented times.

As a follow up to our recent Cabinet discussions, I am sending you a memo and attachments with instructions for submitting COVID-19 re-start and recovery proposals for consideration by Cabinet, as part of our COVID-19 Economic Recovery Framework. The attached documents will also be provided to your Deputy Ministers within the hour.

As we move towards the next phase of recovery, I look forward to further discussions in July as we begin the process of evaluating proposals.

Warm regards,
Carole

Minister – here are instructions that should sort out the syncing issue of your calendar.
Pls try the instructions listed under the sync issue first. It should work. If for some reason it doesn't then try the instructions under Two.

Hi Yvette,

MINCAL Sync issue

There are known issues with having a secondary calendar.

This is normally one of 2 issues, (#1) Sync Issue OR (#2) Password Issue and has to be re-entered.

ONE – Sync Issue

Go to Settings -> Passwords & accounts -> Select the appropriate mailbox entry. The calendar should be switched "ON"

Tap to turn "OFF"

Tap on “Delete from My iPhone”

Copyright

- Wait for 1 minute
- Then Turn the switch back ON by “Calendars”
- It may take a 10-15 minutes for the calendar to refresh from the server, depending on signal strength and number of entries.
- Check calendar.

IF that does not work:

TWO

Go to Settings -> Passwords & accounts -> Select the minal entry

Under [Exchange] tap on the minal email address: XXXXXXXXXX@gov.bc.ca (ENSURE this is the email address)

You should see some login details.

Enter your Password ^{s.22}

Tap Done – if needed. You should see checkmarks by all if successful.

Go to Calendar and it should start syncing again.
