Hi there ,

Yes, Aug 24th works from 12:45PM – 2PM for Minister James.

I'm not sure about every two weeks at this time. It depends on how the House schedule/House Duty schedule reads. Maybe we should wait until that schedule has been nailed down?

Hello all. Following from today's Consultation Committee meeting: the members would like to meet during the week of Aug 21: Thurs Aug 24 at 12:45 PM – 2 PM if possible. If not, then any other time that week. (One hour plus the 15 minute pre-meeting)

Can you let me know of possible dates and times for Ministers Heyman and James that week – I will then contact the Green Caucus to confirm.

Going forward – the Committee would like to meet every 2 weeks. If any of you have an insight into the schedule during session, or would like to propose a regular date/time for these meetings, that would be great. Members would like to start building these dates into their calendars, if possible.

Many thanks,

Donna

Hi Donna,
Attached is the feedback from the BC Green Caucus on the climate advisory group, for Minister Heyman.
Best wishes,
Taylor

Climate Committee Parameters

Initial BC Green caucus feedback

Key Values and Concerns

- The title of a climate committee is critical as it sets expectations for the committee's role. For example, "climate advisory" group or panel is more appropriate and representative than "climate leadership team."
- It is not appropriate to task a climate advisory group with the development of specific, high level policy recommendations. This role can effectively and efficiently be filled by the public service and ministry.
- A climate advisory group should be made up of representatives from a broad array of sectors. Within their area of expertise, committee members should take a high level, evidence-based perspective and should not prescribe specific policy measures. The advisory group should not be comprised of advocates.
- The climate advisory group could act as conduits between stakeholders and government. The climate advisory group could provide feedback as to what they expect the impact/benefit/drawback of certain policy proposals to be on their representative group. They could highlight sector-specific issues and opportunities.
- A climate advisory group could be assigned a mandate to provide advice on the creation of interim targets that lead to a larger goal, such as the 2030 emission reduction target deadline.
- The work of a climate advisory group should not unduly delay government climate action.

Hi all,

The pre meeting today at 12:45PM will take place in Minister James' office, Room 153. This will ensure there is time for discussions to take place without the other members of the consultation committee going to the meeting room early and walking in on the pre meeting.

Thank you.
