Minister Holiday Message 2018

To: ENV ALL

Re: Happy Holidays and Best Wishes!

2018 is soon giving way to a new year and I want to thank you all for the hard work and dedication you demonstrate year round. My ministry office staff and I are so very grateful for your commitment to the people of BC every day, and for all you do to make our jobs easier.

It has been an exciting year. All of you have shown great enthusiasm and determination as together our ministry achieved many important accomplishments and introduced very significant changes in legislation and policy. I am excited to see what 2019 will bring.

I sincerely hope you enjoy this holiday season spending time with your friends, family and loved ones.

I wish you all very happy holidays and a great new year!

Caelie, as discussed, here is the draft holiday message from Minister to staff (Mark has reviewed/approved). If you can review and edit as you/MGH like and send back to me, I will arrange for this to come from Mark obo Minister.

Eveline, as discussed yesterday, we're good if the MO is not comfortable including a team pic. 😊

Hi Minister,

For tomorrow's Clean Communities Fund announcement in Surrey, we need you to approve this quote (and the NR is attached):

"Through the CleanBC Communities Fund, we're making sure that people across B.C. can benefit from clean energy infrastructure and efficiency upgrades," said George Heyman, Minister of Environment and Climate Change Strategy. "Investing in community-owned projects helps all British Columbians to use less fossil fuels, while generating new economic activity, new jobs, and building our clean energy sector."

Slight edits below:

Dear (Stakeholder)

I would like to thank you for your thoughtful contribution to the development of CleanBC, our plan to reduce climate pollution while creating diverse economic opportunities right across the province.

When we first set out to address this important challenge, my priority was to make sure this plan was relevant to the people who call B.C. home, and that it was geared toward making their lives better and more affordable, now and into the future.

I greatly appreciate you taking the time to offer your thoughts, and am proud that CleanBC really does reflect input received from thousands of British Columbians.

We released CleanBC on December 5th. If you have not yet read the plan I invite you to do so here (hyperlink:cleanbc.gov.bc.ca). CleanBC describes how over the next decade and beyond, we must and will grow the use of clean and renewable energy in how we move around, heat our homes, and fuel industry – setting us on the path to meet our legislated climate goals and providing an effective blueprint to build a stronger economy, while adapting to the impacts we are already feeling.

Last week I presented CleanBC to a global audience, at the United Nations COP24 climate change conference in Katowice, Poland. Delegates at COP24, many of them influential in the global fight against climate change, were truly impressed with the commitment of British Columbians to take meaningful climate action and mobilize our skilled workers, natural resources, and booming technology sector.

Our work is already underway, and we are making the most of it to benefit people and communities across this province – from rural and remote B.C. to Indigenous communities and our growing urban centres.

CleanBC will continue to evolve over the coming months as we identify additional ways to reduce emissions and create opportunities for public input on these next steps in 2019. As further initiatives and scoping documents are released, I encourage you to visit our engagement site (hyperlink: https://engage.gov.bc.ca/cleangrowthfuture/) and share your views with us.

Thank you again for helping us to chart a path towards a cleaner, brighter, more responsible future.

Hi Kirsten;

I checked with Charlotte in Cab ops yesterday, and she said it's currently still scheduled to be in Victoria, as they also have a P&A meeting that day in Victoria. She advised that if there is a location change they would not know until the week of Jan. 7th.

Please feel free to follow up again then if you'd like!

Hi Debbie,

Sorry to bother you with this – MGH has asked me to find out if Cabinet on January 30th is still scheduled to take place that morning in Chambers.

I was looking to ask Cab Ops, but as they are closed I am hoping someone in the PO might know.

Recommendation

- The federal and provincial governments are actively discussing all aspects of caribou recovery and are mindful of community concerns and the need for more information
- Treaty 8 First Nations have Constitutionally protected rights to hunt caribou and, as a result, both governments have been working with the Nations on caribou recovery
- Public engagement, including public meetings will occur early in the new year

Dear Jon,

I'm just writing a quick note on my return from COP 24 to say that it was great to see Arcteryx represented and part of the first ever Businesses for B.C.'s Clean Economy lunch. I was pleased to part of the event.

The role that you and other forward-thinking leaders are playing to build a strong, innovative, and low carbon economic future is a critical component of our CleanBC plan. Our twinned approach to climate action and economic planning was well received at all the speaking opportunities I had in Katowice this past week.

Thank you for all of the work you're doing to play a role in building a low carbon future. Please feel free to stay in touch as we each further develop our plans.

All the best,
George
